The best way to be with your Spirit is to forgive, forgive, because then your thoughts will go away. I mean, here there are people with superego, but as soon as you remove their superego, they get into ego very fast, I've seen it. I mean, they are really basically egos, actually, as if, from the horse they have fallen for a while and as soon as you take them away, then lift them, they just jump onto the horse again, it's like that.

So one has to be very careful about this point. Now when you meditate, how much time, again, you are thinking? All this meticulousness, if you try, then again you are thinking. You just take the proper place to sit down, keep the photograph before you and just feel your vibrations, where are you catching? Alright. Then you know how to remove your catches. Without thinking, try to do that. Then say the mantras on different Chakras, wherever you are catching, first of all. First of all ascertain them [which are catching], need not say all the mantras. Only say the mantras in that part, with your heart. Remove your baddhas with your hand and movement, as you know that and it would work out.

[Baby starts crying.] You can take her out now because it's very congested now for children, she'll be better off. Too much for her to face.

The less you think, the faster you move with your realisation. This is the blessings of Indians. That's why you can ask Ray what he has to say about Sahaja Yoga. They don't think much. Now see My cook whom I wanted to teach cooking. In one month he learned: how to cook very well. But I can tell you I cannot teach you people for six months. Even I don't know if I can teach you that much even in one year.

Because very few things will go into the brain and then come to the hand is also difficult. You discuss anything, say, planning of the room, everybody will be arguing without thinking that, “Just receive the thing, let's see what it is” everybody will start arguing. In the same way, if you have to learn how to be a Spirit, do not argue it out. Do not think about it. Just try to become, to become, you have to become.

Now I have understood, [what] your basic problem is: that everything you want to sort out with your brain and don't want to use your hands and that's why the inertia is setting in.

People are becoming lethargic, you see. Unless and until you move physically, how the inertia is going to go out? Not through your brain.

So reduce your thinking. Do not try to sort out things through your thinking. It will give you a serenity, a kind of a peaceful existence. While talking to each other better to whisper, talk slowly. In My presence, you shouldn't shout and talk loudly [but] in a very whispering way, it's a silence in which you are here. Normally, people talk as if, say, I am just a housewife or something.

One should understand that's not the way to talk, because then you are missing the point, you see? You are playing with My Māyā, which you should not come into. Try to [do that with] each other also. Because you are saints. Do not quarrel and argue. Reduce your arguments to minimum and minimum.

Moreover, find out all the ways by which your mind goes out and stop it. Try to stop that, because now your mind has thought for at least seven lives ahead. You don't need any more thinking, you have done enough. Whatever brain God has given you, you have so much bashed it, that now better leave it alone and don't think. Then the inspiration will come to you from within. And when the inspiration will be coming, then you will find it will be very different; it will be very beautiful, absolutely beautiful it will be.

I think if you read Zen, I am not saying go and read [because] immediately you will buy ten books and start reading! For heaven's sake, don't! I am just telling you that if you read Zen, you won't understand, normally. People won't understand. They'll just describe like a little flower standing, lonely, alone in the woodlands. They go see and enjoy it and see that identification of loneliness that: God is alone, He has no companion, He cannot share. But you cannot. You will think about it, put words on it and make something nonsense out of it. But they'll enjoy, just enjoy. They'll make a pattern out of some stones and some sand and I have seen all Americans and all other people who go there, they say, “What is this? What is this? What is this?" It is a pattern to neutralise your thoughts, that you go into thoughtless awareness, you just see the pattern without thinking. You try to see, at least, My face, without thinking which My face, itself, makes you thoughtless. If you watch My face, it makes you thoughtless.

So, you watch My face without thinking. On the photograph you can watch My face without thinking and it will work out. Try to make yourself thoughtless. That's the first stage you have not achieved and you jump onto that. For no rhyme and reason, you jump onto that thought business. This is the only quality difference between you and Indians. They do not think about it, they just imbibe. Have you seen a child being nursed? It doesn't think, it's just sucking and enjoying. What they say is to take attention inside, but if you tell anybody here they will say, “We are pulling our inside attention!" With your brain you will be trying all tricks and doing nothing. Is to silence yourself, silence your mind and a serene atmosphere is there which you feel around, which I feel very much in India. Here, also, sometimes it sets in within you, during Pūjā time and all that. At the Pūjā time, now it's much better [but] before they used to quarrel, early in the morning, before Pūjā a big quarrel is on and then the Pūjā would start and I wouldn't know what to do with that kind of a Pūjā! And, the main thing is that we have to be one with our Selves. Without knowing the Ātmā, you cannot know God. You have to know your Spirit. Once that beautiful personality is developed within you, people will know that you are Spirit.

If you think less, every work you will do will be good. I have seen, you ask somebody to connect one, say, pipe to another pipe, they cannot. There will be leakage, there will be some problem, because you are not connecting it without thinking. You see Douglas has that, now, capacity: he doesn't think. You have seen how much he has improved. He doesn't think much, he just does and that's why he's come up in Sahaja Yoga. Though he had gone down very much, he knows that very well. But how, by not thinking, he has come up! You people are over-developed so try to stop your brain acting any more and just make it humbler. All these, you see, ideas of hippism and all that, is actually the consciousness, awareness, of this over-developed mind. But just by wearing dresses, or living like hippies, or by taking drugs, you cannot stop this brain thinking. Sahaja Yoga is the only way and balancing yourself.

Also, there are many other things which help you. For example, physical things, you must learn dieting. What diet is needed for that, what exercise is needed for what kind of a thing. Get to it! Now I am going away for a month, you have to work it out. Actually, unless and until you impress others whom you are addressing or whom you are going to meet with that kind of love and that kind of serenity, nobody is going to believe! Secondly, what impresses people the most? Do you know that? What does it impress, even if it is false, impresses people very much? Simplicity. Simplicity of character, of talking of dressing up, simplicity. Even, say, if you are a dandily dressed person, people know you are dandily dressed. Even if you are say wearing a jean and making a thing as if you do not care for a suit and all that, still you are trying to impose something. But if you just wear a normal, simple dress, you dress up in a simple way, absolutely in a normal way, people are amazed at you: how can you be that normal, simple? And the second thing that impresses people is what you have sacrificed for Sahaja Yoga or for anything that you are doing. How much you are dedicated yourself. Not what you have achieved out of it, but what you have sacrificed. That's very important. This second point is very important: what you have sacrificed.

You see, if you read what Indians write or even you people write and all that is there that: Mother has all the comfort of Her own, She has a family of Her own, She has Her grandchildren, but She's still, She's so much interested in us. She comes here and She doesn't mind anything and She sacrifices all Her time all Her enjoyment for us. She enjoys our company, She wants to be with us. I have many ways by which people get impressed, but you people: try to sacrifice something out of you.

While, you have noticed that some of you have been really parasitic. This is another thing which people will be shocked [about]! The Gurus also, obviously, they do not show. In the beginning they will show that they are very sacrificing, they have sacrificed their families, they are wearing a kashaya vastra [monks' clothes], they have become a Sādhu and they have given up everything. All these Llamas have impressed people with that! Of course that's falsehood, we are not going to take to falsehood. But in our life, if we are sacrificing, doing things for others, every time if you weigh how much they have done...

So for example, if I start weighing, “How much the English people have worked out Sahaja Yoga compared to others?" And then I start paying you according to what you have done, giving you that much time as it should be given to you, immediately My work will not give Me satisfaction. I can't, I'm too sincere, I'm too genuine, I just cannot get out of My genuineness or sincerity, I just cannot. You people have that much freedom, I don't have any of these [freedoms], this is My nature, I just can't help it. Whether you come up or not, till the last breath of My life I'll work hard on you, but to make it easier for Me and enjoyable for you, you must try to work in a way where there's no thinking. You cannot understand Me through thinking can you? How far can you go with thinking? Only you'll go mad! So just don't think about it. Develop serenity within you. And no superiority complex is needed. You have got realisation, others will also get it. Maybe others may be better than you are today.

You will see that dignity and serenity coming in to you once you realise that you are the Spirit.

Realisation never means that, from your brain. You see, with my brain if I `realise' that I'm the queen of England, I cannot become! I have to realise within me, means it must actualise within me that I am the queen. It's an actualisation, it's not just thinking, just believing into something. It is the nature, the very nature, it should become because actually you are the Spirit, your nature is the Spirit. You are nothing but the Spirit.

The time has come for all the manifestation of the Spirit and all these superficial and silly, stupid things that you are doing through your brain: drop it out! Do not waste your energy. There isn't much time left.

And with this I would like to bless you all that you develop that serenity within you and that affection and honour and respect for yourself and become that. The way I honour you honour yourself and love yourself and understand yourself.

May God bless you all.

In India they'll say, “Suck in the vibrations." Now you will say, “Well, how to suck?" Just become thoughtless, it will go in! Just become thoughtless it will go in. Just try to be thoughtless, you'll imbibe it. If the thoughts are coming from ego, just tell them, `Be humble, be humble, be humble,' and they'll disappear. Because your brain cannot suggest anything to you, sensible. Only your Spirit can manifest.

Just tell your mind, `Be humble.' The this relativity will go away that you have to be unique, you are some higher soul and something. All that is nonsense. You have to be the Whole, you have to be in the center.

You see, what happens is that you are in a center, moving in this direction, alright? Like that. In the center. And once you try to go to anything extraordinary you go like a tangent outside. You see, you keep to the centrifugal force or I can say the centripetal force. There's also a centrifugal force acting. Now when you try to go out, anywhere, try to do something exceptional or better and all that and try to show off or in anyway you try to come out from the whole, you just go like a tangent: and in such a big way that you are amazed how you are left out! And such people then go out of circulation.

Better now. Don't think! But some people do not even soak there feet in the water, do not even meditate. I mean, I don't know how they are Sahaja Yogis, I just can't understand. Every day you must soak your feet in the water! Every morning you must beat yourself with shoes. This is a ritual of Sahaja Yoga. But if you do not do it you should not also be killing yourself for that but if you have a chance do it, because that's how you cleanse.

That's a part. Not by thinking that I've done soaking of my feet! I was amazed that some people just do not soak their feet even do not meditate at all, don't do anything. And they are supposed to be Sahaja Yogis. You see, Sahaja Yogis are to be decided by the Divine, not by if you become `members' of Sahaja Yoga [that] you become Sahaja Yogis. It is to be decided by Divine.

People think that, whatever we do, we are Sahaja Yogis. You do not become Sahaja Yogis at all, those who do not meditate. This is our way of life. You see, as in Islamic rules there are that there are Shariat is. Shariat means the style of life. This is our way of life, is to keep ourselves cleansed, how we cleanse ourself, this is bathing ourselves, our, all those things that are filthy within us to take them out and do it. That's the main thing. Then you'll be amazed that you won't be wasting your energy in, say, doing your work. You'll be doing your work much better because you are wasting all your energy through your brains.

Then I don't have to give explanations, once you become the Spirit. You just enjoy. Alright? It's good now, it's working out let it settle down, let your attention be on the Spirit.

Hmm. Just watch. Āgñyā is too much. Can you take from My Āgñyā, right. Thinking you see, is the main point is: too much! Will you go into a [UNCLEAR] or something. Better thing would be.

Gone up to here. It's stuck here! You see, your thinking is reducing now. Try to watch your thoughts. Hold each other's hands and one hand should be outside. Should be left loose one hand. And what you can do is to hold her hand, one hand and one hand... Good. Better, thinking is going down.

Āgñyā is so sticky.

You can't open the door here is it? Yes, you try to open. What sort of arrangements they have made here? This is all thinking process! Open the door, it's quite warm today, very warm, open it! What has happened to Cooley, why is he getting into such a big ego?

Sahaja Yogi: He could have come earlier but he's trying to...

Shri Mataji: I know, he's trying to avoid Me now. You see, this is the problem. He has ego and you have ego too. You were having a fight? You don't join hands with him, he'll be alright. He has been neglecting his work. If you are not properly working, why will people accept you? You must show more sincerity about work and involvement into it. If you do not think you will do it better. Cooley never used to do that. Now suddenly, I don't know what has happened to him. He has started thinking too much.

Don has really not done good to him. Don, please try to now be kind to him and bring him round, alright? He's a very old Sahaja Yogi and he should not be just gone out of the circulation.

If you don't work... you see, if you are a good worker then anybody would think, nobody would allow you to get out. On the contrary they'll say, “Please work for us." But if you are a bad worker they'll find ways and methods of throwing you out. Same in Sahaja Yoga. If you are genuine, you are simple. God knows [that] you are alright, you'll be there. If not He'll thrown you out. He knows everything. You'll go out. You'll be amazed how you'll be thrown out.

You are not to fight with each other. And try to understand that unless and until you work with complete devotion [and] dedication nobody's going to accept you for any work whatsoever. All those people who have come up, even in work field, have been doing things properly. If you try to pull him out John, you are his friend.

Try to help each other by telling, `Don't lose temper, don't get angry, everything will be alright. Take it easy.' On the contrary if one person says [to] another one things, another one says at a louder voice.

You all have not yet know your self-esteem, that's the main point is. You see, because, if you are born say in a royal family, you would have had some sort of a self-esteem which was artificial. Now you are not born in that kind of family, you are normal people ordinary families.

So what? You can be born anywhere.

Christ was born in a manger.

So what? He never lost his self-esteem. How can Sahaja Yogis fight for like this? I didn't like it, tell Cooley and be sober down and be humble. Don't take the laws of God into your hands. Do not fight. Alright? Where is Peter? Where is he gone? All ego. Where is he, Peter?

Sahaja Yogi: He's gone upstairs Mother for something or other.

Shri Mataji: Just call him. Get him here. Very egoistical fellow. He'll get out of the circulation very soon. At the time when people are meditating what is he doing upstairs? And he wants to be the leader of the people! Peter Pierce: Yes Mother?

Shri Mataji: Sit down and hold the hands of people! And you must soak your feet every day and when you are meditating... you better sit here. And all those who have to be Sahaja Yogis and have to live in this ashram have to soak there feet every night and have to meditate! Because your egos pass from each other. It's contamination, complete contamination. Try to humble down. Now take it. Let it pass out. Such a lot of ego you can't imagine. See. See that? `Huk, huk, huk, huk' it's going on! You just say that, `Mother, you are our ego. You are the ego.' I am, you are not. You don't do anything. That will solve the problem. “We don't do anything, You do everything” you say like that otherwise it will not.

Be humble. And that's why there are no emotions, nothing. Just talk, talk, talk, talk, talk! No feelings, nothing comes up. Be humble! Be humble in your heart.

Ah, it's stuck up all here. See? Somebody come in I don't know. It's all hot. See? See that? Sickening, absolutely. And that's how you catch then Ekādaśha Rudra. You know, when ego develops too much you become Ekādaśha Rudra problem and that's the thing which sets in the real place for cancer.

Now don't worry and think that... when I said `cancer' everybody starts thinking, “Have I got?" None of you can have! You see, I know what you think all the time: real foolish things, nothing sensible! If you get cancer, do you think I'll rest in peace? Hmm, see? See how much ego and useless activity and the smoke of this horrible ego in the brain.

Such a lot, still sticking on.

See your liver is nourished.

What you have to surrender is your ego, means your thinking. If you are thinking open your eyes and say `I forgive, I forgive.' You see, to neutralise your thoughts, use mantras. `Oh Mother, I forgive' even if you take My name is sufficient, it can take out your... Taking My name is very good, helps you a lot.

Hmmm, taking My name is the best way of killing your ego I think! Aha, I can see now! You see? In the subtle way everybody thinks that, “Mātājī is also like us, so why take Her name?" Take My name, you finish your ego very nicely on that I tell you. I am not [like you], I am very different, absolutely a different person. I'm telling you again and again: don't be illusioned by Me. You see? I am really an illusion, complete illusion for you, you cannot understand Me. Just take My name and it will work out. Better? Still sticking on here! Now it's better, isn't it. Aah, better? All the heat going out. It's better. Eyesights will improve.

Now on the left, it's coming more on the left. Hmm God bless you.

Just one thing you [should] do: to see that you don't think. Is it very cold outside?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: Are you sure? Phillip, when is Bala going to Singapore? Phillip: I'm not sure Mother.

Shri Mataji: You find out. Alright? Tell him to give Me a phone before I leave because I have to give him addresses of people whom he has to meet in Singapore.

Phillip: Yes.

Shri Mataji: Because I'll go away on Thursday. Tell him to come and see Me before that.

Phillip: Before this Thursday?

Shri Mataji: Hmmm.

Phillip: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: Means must be Wednesday or something if he can come. Hā. See? It's clearing out.

Better? Do not condemn yourself you see, there should be cheerfulness that it's clearing out...

Contents: 1980-09-08*, Public Program, The Dangers We Face, Caxton Hall, London, UK

This has been the month of warnings somehow, because certain things I've been seeing in people how it happens and, how people get into problems, how our inner being is disturbed and why sometimes Sahaja Yoga fails within you. One must understand the dangers we face as human beings.

No doubt you are the highest of this creation, no doubt. For you this Universe was created, for you this Earth was created, no doubt. And today you are at a situation where you have to get out of this illusion.

The time has come, everything is right. But on a tree if you notice the most delicate stage is that of a flower. Flower is the most delicate thing. The roots are tough, extremely tough: they penetrate through the land, hardest possible land; they go through different rocks and find their ways. But when it comes to the flower stage, it's a very, very, delicate stage: though the whole creation just waits for that time. The whole tree works it out and the tree creates that beautiful flower. It's waiting for that time, that blossom time, when the flowers have to become the fruit. Now that is the time, that precarious time, that beautiful time, that fantastic, dynamic time is. But we do not know how delicate it is and that's how, we really play too much with ourselves.

Before realisation, you have seen people who have come to Me who had terrible mental problems; who were mentally deranged people absolutely, epileptic and of serious type. They got cured, they got their realisation, they settled back. You have seen people with cancer, with blood cancer, all kinds of physical troubles: they got their blessings, they got their realisation, they have settled back. You have seen people from very false Gurus who have damaged their being completely, who have been mesmerized, who have been absolutely misled and lynched and have been made into you can say just cabbages. Such people also came to Sahaja Yoga and tried and prospered.

But again it's the flower stage one must not forget and that is the time one has to be very careful.

At the blossom time only, imagine, the times are so precarious that the gardener has to worry that there should not be a hailstorm! And all the Satanic forces have worked up in their fullest form, with their greatest strength, with all their tricks and methods, to curb down the progress of this creation into its fruitful happening. At such [a] precarious time one has to be very aware of all the dangers that we can face.

The greatest danger comes to people when, after getting realisation also, they do not have faith in Sahaja Yoga. It's the greatest danger, because that's your anchorage, that's the way you are saved. Say if there's a boat, which comes for your rescue and you are drowning and it rescues you, you see it, you can feel it. Those who have not felt, alright, but those who have felt it, you come off the boat and then you do not believe in the boat, you do not have faith in boat, that's the greatest danger you face.

People have faith in all kinds of nonsense very easily, but to believe that you have found the Reality, to believe that you can be saved, is very difficult for people who are all the time drowned and are threatened and frightened. Because the habit is formed to be always drowned, harassed, haunted, by fears.

So that habit doesn't go and that comes over and you feel frightened and you lose faith in Sahaja Yoga. Whether you have faith in it or not, it works. It works on people who do not even have faith.

Today only I received a very interesting letter from India and a man who is suppose to be something big there. He told Me he read an advertisement about Me, that Mātājī is going to give realisation through Kuṇḍalinī awakening and he just came just to make fun of the whole thing, to the program. And there he felt that I was just befooling people, it is not possible, he sat with a very skeptical ideas. But his Kuṇḍalinī rose and he felt the Cool Breeze and he felt that calm and everything, he was amazed. I don't remember, he relays that I came to him and he said, “Mother you are so kind. Despite the fact I came with this kind of idea you gave me realisation." Because Indians know what realisation means, here people even don't know that, so the situation is much worse. They know that realisation means Cool Breeze, it means you must get Cool Breeze flowing from you. They know it, you do not know that.

So the situation becomes much worse here, that the faith in Sahaja Yoga goes.

Now this is not blind faith. This is the faith. One is blind faith and another is the faith, means that you have now seen it and now you have faith in it. It's not like people, many I have seen many people saying, “I believe" and “I believe" and “I believe” out of what? Is a thing that you have felt, experienced, you have had it and then you believe it. Of course you are not obliging anybody by having faith, that's one thing. It's the grace of God that has really been kind, extremely gracious, to grant this to you. By that you do not oblige God or anybody, nor Me. But despite that, it's time. What grace, what grace, what beauty, what love. It happens.

But this faith does not settle down. Now the reasons for that are many, but is a very dangerous thing.

You can rationalise it. I've seen people who go away, then again come back and they said, “Mother we are sorry, I mean we were, we just doubted You, went away this that, I started thinking about it and I spoilt it and I lost it and I said `oh it was just temporary,' I went away." Why not, once you get realisation settle down with it for a while? Why not see for yourself what it is? All the Gurus who take money and have made a money making proposition out of God, which is absolutely against God, anti-Christ and anti all that is Divine, people stick onto them much more, like leeches.

One thing of course there is that they mesmerize, there is no freedom, you cannot get out of them, one thing, I agree. But the second is the money. They get involved with them because they have paid for it and they have to stick onto it, because they have paid for it. And so many people have told Me Mother you better take money from everybody who comes in and they will stick on. I mean this is going too far.

I have too much respect for humanity. I respect you too much, I do not think you could be that low, I cannot think and those who are that low cannot get realisation also perhaps. Maybe if you get it it's not worth it you see. We do not light lamps in paper bags, do we? People have to be of some calibre to get realisation.

But the faith, faith in Sahaja Yoga is the only way you can rise and understand and move and grow with it. The faith has to be so great that nothing should disturb you. Look at these flowers sometimes, how delicate they are. And it rains and sometimes it's too sunny, especially in London. You don't know what sort of a climate it is, it's a funny climate absolutely! But the flower to stand up to that, because they have faith in the tree on which they are born. That's the strength-giving thing. And to know it, fully, so that you love it more and more and imbibe within you more, is the only way you can really establish yourself firmly into the strength of the Divine Power.

The understanding of Sahaja Yoga is not mental I told you yesterday, is not mental understanding.

You cannot understand it through brains. If you try to understand it through brains you get away from it. Because you cannot explain how it works out. It's a miraculous thing, it's a mystery. It's a mystery.

God is a mystery for man, will remain a mystery to a point, but he [man] can become His power. He can become an instrument of His power.

So you cannot comprehend the complete thing through your brains.

You cannot even comprehend a little bit through your brains. Only thing is when you see it happening, you see it working out, the effects of that experience which are put on your brain, that gives you faith.

How do you have faith in a man? Say there is a man who is very astute, straightforward. You give him ten pounds. He spends nine pounds three pence, returns the rest to you. Then you give some more money. Again he does the same way; he returns all the money that is due. By mistake he forgets, he again comes and says, “This is it." So you develop that faith in him. It has not come out of your intellectual understanding of the man. A man may be very good, maybe a very great cheat, could be a `very fine' gentleman, very well dressed. Mostly I have seen sometimes when I see these pictures where they show the bank robber especially the gentleman is absolutely top class. He wears beautiful lined dresses you see, he walks with an umbrella, straight forward and he's absolutely, you can see his face and I mean it's chiseled completely: beautiful figure and extremely innocent face and all that he puts it out very well. That's why he can befool you. He can befool people very well and he can get things out of them.

But, in Sahaja Yoga, when you start feeling it, seeing it, how it works, when you saw this man, seeing the way he works you have no faith in him anymore. You start seeing how Sahaja Yoga works and then you have faith in it. And that is faith, that is not reasoning. Actually by reasoning you have achieved nothing so far if you see it properly. For example, you see, all scientific laws, were discovered, were seen, were felt. Even if something comes into my mind by thinking, it could be just an imagination unless and until I see [that] it works. Anything that does not work out doesn't become a law for us.

So for Sahaja Yoga you have to see it. But not with the idea that, `Let me see if it works or not,' that's not the way, but just the seeing of it and understanding it. If you sit down and reason out, Sahaja Yoga, you will be lost in wilderness absolutely! But how it works? I'll give you a very simple example. We have got the gentleman here, he wrote a thesis. I don't know how many years he was working with it. He could not get through it. He had not even made a bond out of it. It's a very material style of understanding but still.

So he came to Me and he said, “Mother now I leave it at your feet and I surrender it to You.

Do whatever you please." So I looked at it. He said, “Are you not going to read it?" I said, “No need to read." I just put a little bandhan on it; put My hand there, finished, that's all. That's all I did. By next year he was a doctor, he was. How it happens? Today we received another letter from Portugal. There was one fellow, whom we had sent all the articles, everything, but he had certain problems with his sister and mother and all that, so he didn't want to do much of Sahaja Yoga. And was another one, who wanted to do it. And he writes to Me saying that, “I received everything. I don't know. He does not know my address. How it has come to me I don't know.

Who has dropped it in my house? I do not know how it has come to me; the address was of that fellow." And that gentleman who has this address, does not know his address. It's that mysterious. There are angels. God has many hands, many eyes. He's God Almighty, He's very powerful.

So after Sahaja Yoga you cannot comprehend Him. You can only see Him at work and you can see His laws working out and you can see it works out.

A simple thing there's a gentlemen sitting here, now you put your hand on that. There was another case, very recently it happened, one gentlemen came to Me and asked Me, “Why everybody is asking about my father? What's the matter?" I said, “Really? They're all asking about your father?" I went further to tell him about his father and he was surprised. “How do you know?" I said, “I just know." “But” he said, “how did they all know that there was something wrong with my father?" I said, “There is a way of finding out. Everybody, even a little child knows it, something wrong with your father." So when he put his hands toward that gentleman the right Heart was catching, everybody's right Heart. This is fathers.

So he asked what's wrong with your father? Now see the mystery. You see Sahaja Yogis also take it for granted. See the mystery, the alertness of the vibrations, just think of it, how they work it out, that you just extend the hands at somebody and the vibrations tell you this gentleman is catching the right Heart. The Mother has told you that it means the father's problem, but that decoding I have done, but what about these? These vibrations they look so silent. Do they think? How do they tell about anyone who may not be here, present. You can tell. And if Sahaja Yogis just start telling about that person that, “This has happened, that has happened and this person has got this and that person has got that." Sitting down here! It's a tremendous dynamic force which is working it out. But if you have no faith, then the same vibrations know that you have no faith: They know you out and out, absolutely out and out, They know you too well. It is They only who play around with you and put you into problems, so that you realise that you have been trying to cheat yourself. You are cheating your own Spirit. You are not truthful to yours Self and it would be like taking a dagger and putting it through and being very happy, `Oh how I have cheated myself.' It's that foolish and stupid I tell you. They know you too well. And they just take you round and put you into a problem to realise that, `Do not cheat anymore!' These dangers are there for all the people who get realisation.

And the another realisation one should have, when you see others around here, the kind of people that come in. All kinds of people have come. And when you start judging them also you should know that if you become like that, you will also have the same problem, even after realisation possibly. For example some people start suddenly sulking in Sahaja Yoga, say, after realisation, for nothing at all. They should be, very aware of it immediately give it up and become cheerful. Is there a negative force pulling them down to sulk? First sign of being a Sahaja Yogi is to have a very cheerful disposition. Look at the flowers, look at them. Have you ever seen any flower which is not dead [that's] not cheerful? If they are even at the fag end of their life, they'll try to cheer you. That is the first sign and all such signs should be expressed, not artificially, but really spontaneously, from within.

And nothing should disturb you which is trivial, useless. If you have faith in Sahaja Yoga, then you must know you are here for a tremendous work of human emancipation. You have a very great responsibility.

You represent that part of creation which is the most important, the most vital. And if you fail it, it's absolutely fatal also.

All this works out in such a manner, that it builds up tremendous sense of security within you, that you know you are standing on the Truth. Hold it with both your hands; you'll grow on it. You'll enjoy yourself. Life will be so much better, much more beautiful. And it is only through you the whole world is going to be saved.

So strengthen yourself, strengthen your arms and strengthen your feet. The faith is the strength of Sahaja Yoga, not the brainwaves that you have about it.

Of course you need it sometimes to argue with some intellectuals, you see, as I've told Gregoire to write the last two chapters for all these `Rock of Gibraltars'. But, for you the greatest thing is the faith, to enjoy it, because you have seen it, you have known it, you have found it. It is with you! You are the master of it! It is at your service and so beautiful, so loving, so kind.

Maybe today is the last day, I'm here. I'm going now. I may not be here for one and a half months or so. I hope so, I'll be back, by the 17th of October or so. Whatever it is, even if I am away or anything, Sahaja Yoga exists everywhere. Within you it is working, without you it is working, everywhere it is working.

So you see for yourself. To see it you have to go and see people and meet them and talk to them and find it out how it works.

And develop that faith that gives you the sense of security. There are so many ways of cleansing yourself, which you know, you can find out. Meet each other. As many times as you can, call each other for tea, meet each other, go around England. I was thinking when I'm out it would be better that you go round to different centers, meet people, get organized, get more people. Tell them, talk to them about it and do something.

But they'll judge you by your faith. And when you have found out the Reality, the faith should be much greater than any of these fanatics have, any of these nonsensical people have. But for faith, you must have the quality. Only people of quality can have that kind of faith, not ordinary people. They'll fall off. All the flowers do not get transformed into the fruit state. You are transformed into fruit state, but all the fruits do not come up to their maturity, because they lack faith, the strength.

Gather up your strength. It's all behind you, it is within you, it's around you. Everywhere there is light, within and without. Try to work it out properly. Do not condemn yourself or condemn others, but know that you are something that you are standing on the Truth. And you are in for the Kingdom of God, which is promised to you, which you are in already walking in that. You are settled in there, just enjoy that beauty.

May God bless you all.

Is there any water for Me? Water? Now I would like to know how many new people are there, and, yes, just come forward those who are new and we'll have a look at them. Those who have come for the first time please come in and then I would suggest, that those who come for the first time, must, “please come” must get to it, you see? It's a serious matter, you see, it's not just a shopping center. It's not Guru shopping. It is your own shopping I should say, it's your own being.

So take to it seriously and work it out properly. Ask others. Not that in any way they are higher or lower. Only thing, they got their realisation before you came to Me.

So it's alright, doesn't matter, they'll tell you what is to be done.

In Sahaja Yoga there is no restriction, there is no compulsion, there is no membership as I told you.

There is no way of aligning you with Sahaja Yoga, no nothing. It's your freedom, complete freedom. Your freedom is to be worshipped and to be respected if you have to achieve the highest of the highest. You have to be absolutely free because that is the complete freedom you have to achieve.

So nobody is going to force you to do anything or compel you to do anything. No! You are left alone to yourself.

No doubt there is a Kuṇḍalinī within you which rises and there is in every human a possibility of achieving realisation. Every human being should receive realisation. But it's a real work; it's living work and living work takes time. If you people are of that calibre, you will become great fruits of this creation.

I will work as much as I can to keep you up there, all My level best. I've worked very hard and I'll always work and all of them are willing to help you out. They have no problem. You too become like them, very soon.

Now about Kuṇḍalinī I must have spoken I don't know how many times and there are lots of tapes with us. It's all again intellectual feat, you see? Let's see if the light is there, let us see the light, then we'll talk about it, isn't it? I mean if I have to put the lights on I have to just press the button. That's what it is really, because it's all built in. Once it happens to you then you ask Me about the engineering, it's better, than to have the headache before and then the light.

So let's work it out that way, then later on you can go through, you can find out for yourself how it works, what is the system that works it out, what is God's plan for us, everything. Gradually you see it for yourself that this is the baptism that is promised to you, this is the real rebirth that has been prophesized before, this is the time that is promised that somebody will come and do this job for you. And it is here, that you receive it.

No religion is to be condemned because they are different steps in your growth, but, you should know what is real and what is unreal, that's very important. Once you learn this science of God's ways, then you start talking about it. Before that you just see for yourself. Be just witnesses and achieve something out of it and make the best.

May God bless you all.

Now let's have the feet like that straight, just like that. Just like that, yes. And put your hands towards Me. For anything small just do not get disturbed. Keep your eyes shut. If you can put your hands on the lap it's alright, because you'll be comfortable. Be comfortable! If you have any discomfort in the stomach or anything tightness you can loosen it and it's for your comfort only. I want you to be comfortable. That one thing is that you should be comfortable bodily. Though the Kuṇḍalinī's such a sweet thing, She's your Mother and She rises without giving any trouble.

Now close your eyes. Just close your eyes. Everyone.

AANK KE BAND KAR LIJIYE [Close your eyes]. Now there are some centers within us, they might get a little obstructed, supposing you feel guilty for nothing at all, I mean there's nothing to feel guilty you see? You are facing somebody who is love, so how can you feel guilty before such a person who is just love? So have no guilt of any kind. Then you have to forgive. You have to forgive all the people. Not to bear any bitterness just now, just forgive, because by bearing that bitterness you really embitter yourself, you do not torture the other person. And lastly you have to ask for forgiveness, if you have done any mistake by ignorance or anything. You just ask for simple forgiveness.

All the obstructions can be overcome by the rising Kuṇḍalinī, She does that. Just relax. It will happen by itself, you are not to do anything. Keep your attention absolutely loose, if there are thoughts, let them come, don't worry, they will stop themselves. You don't have to stop them. Do not put in any effort, just leave it alone. It will work out. It will just rise and work it out. You just leave it alone.

Suddenly the thoughts stop. But you are aware, you are not sleeping, you are not in a trance or anything you are absolutely aware, but you reach a point where there are no thoughts. But do not try to do that. Do not try to do that. And when the Kuṇḍalinī pierces the Fontanelle bone area, the Tālu, you start getting Cool Breeze in the hands. In both the hands you start getting Cool Breeze and also from your head, you start getting Cool Breeze. First a hot breeze I think and then the Cool Breeze, for many people it happens like that, doesn't matter.

Good you see, you can feel it on his head, here. You have a breathing trouble have you? Do you have a breathing problem normally? Do you have any breathing problem? Hmm? No just don't breathe, just leave it alone. Just... Don't you think it is too much breathing or is it automatically it happens? Happening automatically. This ever happens before?

Seeker: No.

Shri Mataji: It never happened before you say? Hmm? You have been to some Guru or someone? You'll be all right. It will work out. You're all right. You'll be all right. Is he, is he all right? Are you all right? How are you feeling?

Seeker: I'm feeling hot on the right.

Shri Mataji: Eh? Can you sit there? Would be better nearby. Let's look at her. Just look after her.

Just sit down. You're all right. Now what about her? Can you see? After [UNCLEAR] your vibrations will be all right. Cooley can you see the vibrations of this gentleman. What about these Indians up front can you see there vibrations? This gentleman, this gentleman, there are two ladies there. Are you all right now better? Good. Just can you come up and tie up the Kuṇḍalinī? Come and help, tie her up. No, just proceed. [UNCLEAR] heart, center Heart. Keep your eyes open. You have done some breathing for exercises? No? You have not been to any Guru or spiritualist or anyone? You never get this trouble normally? No? Come here. I'll just talk to you and it will be all right. Come here can you come here please? Just come here. Just get up, by Me, come. Come down. Come forward; come forward sit, come here sit down. Can you sit on the ground? All right. Be comfortable. You have been to any Guru shop? Then what is the sense of insecurity you have? You have some sense of insecurity, what is it? You are not well? You had some mental troubles? Did you? You have? What is the problem? Tell Me. Have you got some [UNCLEAR] with you? You are not well?

Seeker: I'm fine.

Shri Mataji: You are all right?

Seeker: I'm fine.

Shri Mataji: Keep good health. What work do you do? Hmm? Can you feel it? No, what work do you do? Tell Me. What work do you do? No work?

Seeker: I do nothing.

Shri Mataji: Do nothing?

Seeker: Nothing.

Shri Mataji: Why? Your working off dole, just hold it, hold it in your hands, you don't do any work at all? You never get this? You're not well?

Seeker: No.

Contents: 1980-09-21*, Public Program, Day 1, Aston Concorde Hotel, Nice, France

I'm very sorry I do not know French language but Marie will be able to translate.

Today we have assembled here to know about our evolution. We have to know what we have to become after the human stage. Human life is not the end of evolution. We have not yet found out our meaning.

The scientist have to ask a question: why we have made human being from amoeba stage.

In fact there is within us a great source by which the human seeking comes in.

Sometimes we are not even sure as to what we are seeking. But is exists as a kind of a dissatisfaction within us. In the modern times there are so many seekers of truth. I find them in every country, in every race, in every so-called religion. They are not satisfied with themselves. If they are satisfied they are frivolous or naive people. If they are not satisfied there is some reason which they do not know why they are not.

Sometimes they reach a confusion thinking their existence is futile. It is absurd...

Translator: [UNCLEAR].

... [UNCLEAR to think that way] because if you follow your evolution you have been slowly, gradually evolving into something. After all everything in our body has a function.

In the nature nothing is wasted. Then our process of evolution which is a living process must be having some purpose. Without purpose nature has not taken so much care, so many years to make us beautiful human beings.

I'm here to tell you that you have a very great purpose in life and that you are to be bestowed your power of your Spirit which resides in your heart. This has to happen to all of you. You are seeking this. You are seeking your Spirit. You are trying to bring your Spirit into your consciousness, into your awareness. This is your second birth. This is your baptism which is actualisation, not just a lecture or a brain cleaning. It's a happening that has to take place within you.

If this happening takes place within you or not is to be seen. But first I will tell you logically how this happening has to be effortless.

We have evolved to human stage absolutely spontaneously. For becoming human beings we need not read any books or stand on our heads. We have taken for granted our human stage. It has happened to us without doing any efforts, without thinking about it without planning about it.

So, if this is a living process of evolution we are going to get it effortlessly. For example you cannot pay for it. It is absolutely absurd. How much do you pay for a seed to be sprouted? And whom do you pay? Nature has prepared the seed in such a way that it sprouts by itself.

So it is absolutely spontaneous which means Sahaja. Saha means `with' ja means `born'. It is born with you. The living process is built in you as everything that has to be manifested by the seed is built in it. The seed becomes the root then the shoot. Then it becomes the branches and the leaves and the flowers and the fruits.

You cannot say at what time exactly the flower becomes the fruit. You cannot specify the time. At the most you can say the season or the blossom time. I feel the blossom time has come.

Yesterday in Spain eighty per cent people got their Realisation; it might be between eighty or hundred.

Actually I did not know anybody in Spain. From London we sent the advertisement in a hotel and the people came as bees coming to the flowers and they got their Realisation without any trouble. In two days there were eighty people. It is most remarkable how the [UNCLEAR plane/brain] of this living process is acting. Even in Paris now we have, Paris and Lille, we have lots of people who have got Realisation and why not in Nice? Now I will tell you how this process takes place. When I'm telling you about this you should not take Me for granted, but you must have an open mind about it. Though this knowledge is known to you through scriptures it is very vague. It is mystical. You don't understand the mystery.

Even in the Bible it is written that “I will appear before you like tongues of flames." Also there is a mention quite a lot of “Tree of Life" and “Water of Life." Now I will tell you here what exists within us: these are all the subtle energies that are acting within us.

With your naked eyes you can only see the gross. Our germinating force lies in this triangular bone called as sacrum. This one is called in Sanskrit language as Kuṇḍalinī. You can see with your naked eyes the pulsation of this Kuṇḍalinī when Sahaja Yoga takes place. The awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī also you can see as the rising of the energy you can see it. Not in all people. People if they are simple, not so complicated, then the Kuṇḍalinī rises just like a jet.

But if there are problems on these centers which are subtle then Kuṇḍalinī takes time. When there are obstructions you see the Kuṇḍalinī hitting the centers to get out. That is how you see Her pulsation.

Ultimately you feel the pulsation here in the fontanelle bone area and then the Kuṇḍalinī breaks through this area.

Then you start feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands first. This is the enlightened energy of your Spirit.

This has been described very elaborately in Indian scriptures, because in India there is no organized religion of any kind. People go into meditative areas like some forests or hills or mountains.

Since ancient times the knowledge about Kuṇḍalinī was available in India, much more clearly than anywhere in any scripture. Maybe people understood it better there. The knowledge was kept a secret for quite some time till Shañkarāchārya, Ādi Shañkarāchārya, the first Shañkarāchārya came on this earth.

He also has not given all the details about Kuṇḍalinī but he has just given the names of various centers.

So the people started making research in Kuṇḍalinī, but as I told you that you cannot put in effort: like if there is one light enlightened it can enlighten many lights the Kuṇḍalinī can be only awakened by an enlightened person.

[Translation problem, Shri Mataji repeats:] As an enlightened light can enlighten many lights...

It cannot be enlightened by something that is not enlightened. This is the basic ignorance of people.

That is why all the religions have failed because those who were teaching religions were not enlightened beings: they ha no authority from God. They were not connected with God. Unless and until you are connected with the mains how are you working it out? For example if your telephone is not connected: can you telephone? You cannot get connection in a theological college nor you can do some course about it or purchase it in the market: it is something so living like the flower becoming a fruit. This was the mistake of many people who called themselves as Tāntrikas in India. When they started moving with their efforts, they moved in the beginning on the right or the left side.

On the left hand side resides our collective Subconscious: all that is dead resides in that area. I was surprised the other day in e BBC people described cancer very [UNCLEAR], because cancer can be only cured by Sahaja Yoga. We have cured cancer but, of course, our job is not to cure. But as a by product of Self-realisation you get cured completely.

The other day the BBC people said that they have found some sort of protein matter which has [UNCLEAR forms/many forms] are invading from your being from some areas unknown so far. These invaders actually trigger the process of cancer. About them I'll tell you tomorrow.

Now we have programs here for three days. I hope you'll make it convenient to come every day and learn about it.

On the right hand side exists the area of collective Supraconscious. But on top here exists the area of collective consciousness. The seat of the Spirit is on top of the fontanelle bone area here. The Spirit exists in your heart. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises and pierces through these centers through here, the Spirit gets enlightened.

Actually Spirit is an enlightened light and your attention is spread on this area just like the sarī like that. The Kuṇḍalinī [UNCLEAR raises] from down below and pierces it at the fontanelle bone area. The Spirit enlightens the attention. Spirit is enjoying itself, by itself. Its enjoyment comes into your attention and you also start enjoying but because Spirit is collectively conscious you become collectively conscious.

The becoming is the important thing, not the blah, blah, blah of it. There are such big big books meaning nothing. Do you mean to say those who have not read books are not going to get their Realisation? If this is a universal phenomena books should not delimit it.

The Kuṇḍalinī when it rises She indicates the problems that are in you. She is your Mother. She has only you as Her child. She has no other child and She loves you very, very much. She follows you all your lives and in this life also and She knows your problems like a tape recorder: She is coiled together in three and a half coils. Like many threads you can say put in a rope.

You can see this green area [UNCLEAR of which we have said]: this is the gap which is between our consciousness and the Spirit. The center you see there green is the center through which we seek. This center started when we were amoeba and we started seeking our food. When the seeking became subtler and subtler you've reached a state where you wanted to seek the power and the money and then your emotional enjoyment. But when it became the subtlest you started seeking the Spirit because ultimately you have to become the Spirit.

It is natural to be animals but it is also natural to ascend. Ascending towards the Spirit one finds a big gap. This gap is filled with Kuṇḍalinī awakening. Now this Kuṇḍalinī is placed in all of you so the whole world has the hope of becoming the Spirit. But people are not seeking in the true way. They don't understand how to seek. They're more attracted towards circuses and fake people who try to befool them.

One should know that you cannot pay for this happening of Kuṇḍalinī. God doesn't understand your money: French Francs! So once you understand that it's a genuine process which takes place and has to take place in everyone then you approach Sahaja Yoga with a different attitude: the attitude of a seeker.

We have within us these seven centers which are shown here. They are all within [UNCLEAR us/using] and asserting themselves. These are all subtle centers but they manifest themselves as gross plexuses within us. I do not want to give you the list of all the physical plexuses that medical people know of but we have got papers and books which you can see and you can understand them very well, but vertically they represent our evolution. They're the milestones of our evolution and all these are adorned by deities.

These deities are incarnations who came on this earth to save human beings. There are two types of basic in incarnations. One: the incarnations which are born out of the primordial Masters. In Koran they are called as [UNCLEAR Kaitambars] because they're prophets. In Indian language they are called as Gurus. Now, we should call them only as Sad Gurus because there's such a big [UNCLEAR] of these mushroom Gurus that it is better to separate them.

The ones who are realised Souls. They may not be incarnations of the primordial master but they should be at least realised Souls. There are many Gurus who are realised Souls.

The other day I met a priest who is a disciple of some Guru in India and he told Me that he's having a Guru in India, he wrote the name of the Guru and then should he talk to Me or not? See His Guru is a realised Soul [UNCLEAR] because he was giving vibrations. I told him: “He's a realised Soul, he's My son, why shouldn't you come." Then I said that at the most you will become My grandson. And grandsons are more dearer than your son. Then he told Me that his Guru had already told about Me to him and that he had told that I was the universal Mother and I had to give enlightenment to the whole word.

In Spain one young gentleman came very early to the program and he said Mother I've come to help you. And I said: “You see, the girl who has come from Switzerland doesn't know very good Spanish language and she doesn't know how to translate.

So, will you translate?" “Yes” he said he will. And he translated very well. When he sat down for his Realisation he got his vibrations very fast [UNCLEAR].

He came and told Me: “Mother, I have a Guru whose name is such and such. He lives somewhere near Himālayas." I said: “He's a realised Soul." He said that “He told Me that Mother will be coming to Spain and you must go and help Her." But they don't want to come out themselves.

Some of them told Me: “Human beings can never understand us. They will crucify us so we want to keep away from them. You give them some light then we will talk to them later. [UNCLEAR] we'll get crucified." But I've met many like that. For example you might have heard the name of Mascaro who has translated Gītā and other Upanishadas. He lives very near Cambridge. I went to see him. He is about seventy five years old. He is very great, very great. He gave Me a rose and he had prepared some nice sweets for Me. He was so sweet to offer them. For five minutes I couldn't talk to him, My eyes were filled with tears. I asked him: “What do you Me want to do Mascaro for you?" He said “Mother, give them light, please give them light." He said that Kṛiṣhṇa has said that “Those who cannot see can never see. They are seekers but they fall in the trap [UNCLEAR] to something wrong." He wrote a very beautiful poem-like letter to Me requesting Me to give light. He has a friend who has got a Nobel price for producing some sort of a reactor or something. He said: “When he has no eyes, he cannot see. He cannot feel the reactor of God that emits this All-pervading Power of His love, which is so very dynamic and beautiful." It thinks, it organizes, it cooperates. The best of all is love, but you cannot feel it. For example if I say there is music on here and there are lots of pictures going on. If I put a television here then you will realise what I'm saying is it true. In the same way this has to happen to you. As long as it has not happened to you why should you believe Me? But it has to happen. The time has come. This the Last Judgment.

How God is going to judge you? Only by raising your Kuṇḍalinī: you yourself start feeling the problems within you of these centers. You start judging yourself. As you grow you understand how these centers are working in you and in others.

As soon as you get your Realisation you start feeling the cool Breeze flowing from your hands. But these fingertips where all the sympathetic centers are there get enlightened. For example one, two three, four, five, six, seven centers are there. They actually get enlightened. Even a realised Soul, maybe a child can feel. Just putting hands towards a person you can feel his centers, where are the problems. You can feel it as numbness, you can feel it as little tickling, or maybe little heat. Ultimately you feel it like Cool Breeze.

When you start feeling it as a Cool Breeze then know that this is the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost.

That is how you are going to know whether you are realised or not. You are going to know what is wrong with yourself. This is Self-realisation. But also you know about others. The energy starts flowing through you and you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī yourself. You can give Realisation to others.

In India we have an Indian gentleman who has given Realisation to ten thousand people. Marie knows him. He has done it in Indian villages because city people are very materialistic. They pose to be very cynical and subtle and, they pose like that, very subtle, but in heart they are not. They are impressed by fake people more. They don't want the reality.

I also go in Indian villages more. Most of these fake ones are working in the cities, but now most of them are been found out gradually. Indians are spiritually very sensitive. They cannot understand a holy man takes money from people and lives like a parasite. These are not parasites, they are living like lords.

One has to understand a person who is a holy person is holy in his privacy.

The Kuṇḍalinī awakening takes place because God loves you very much, that He wants you to enter into the Kingdom, that He wants that you are the ones who are really chosen by Him. He is a father who is ocean of compassion and bliss and He wants to give all His powers to you. You have to receive Him with humility and achieve your Realisation.

Sahaja Yoga is not meant for frivolous people. I started My work in London only with six sincere people. I worked on them for four years. Now we have thousands of them. But those who are [GAP] Translator: Il faut qu'elle travaille trfies dur... [She has to work very hard...]

Shri Mataji: But after Realisation you yourself will start working hard giving it to others. You get drunk in the beauty of your being and you do not want to do it alone. You want to share it. You feel very selfish to just enjoy yourself. And that's how you spread light.

Christ has said “You do not enlighten the light to put it under the table." When you become enlightened you give and you become a witness of the play of God's love.

Now, before starting the program of Realisation I have to make a very humble request to you. Now I know French people very well. They feel guilty for nothing at all. They have made themselves miserable with this idea of guilt.

I'm talking of the ocean of love. This [UNCLEAR] of your so-called guilt, mythical one, can be washed out by this ocean. This guilt is very destroying. You do not destroy others with it but you destroy yourself. I can see that Spirit in you twinkling like a diamond. I want you to get that. Throw away these clouds of guilt and be cheerful. I'm sure it's going to work out.

May God bless you! On the first day if you have any questions I would like to answer but if there are not, better to get it.

You came very late...

Question: Is it possible for a woman to awaken Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: Ah! Who else? [UNCLEAR]. A man cannot have so much patience as the Mother has. Woman is the Shakti, the Holy Ghost is a woman, your mother was a woman. The woman is the power. By condemning women here you have really condemned [UNCLEAR society]... She is the power of man but if you ill treat her and do not respect her she also becomes disrespectable. Say, supposing today in My place there would have been Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. What He would have done? He would have used His Samara Shakti, He has the power to kill. He would have killed all of them, all these fake Gurus, He would have finished them off. With the Gurus so many of My children would have been killed too. This is a very delicate work. You have to have tremendous patience. They are children: you are not to get angry with them. He can't do it. He's there to help Me out and out but it's the work of a Mother.

Who gives you the birth? Father or the Mother? I'm talking of the rebirth. Your mother is only your Kuṇḍalinī. She can only give you birth. Men [UNCLEAR may not/they think no] end of themselves but can they produce children. You have to be children to enter into the Kingdom of God. This is a funny idea to that women cannot do God's work. This is a kind of a funny racialism I think. On the contrary they do it best. You can see that, I will show you. I've not only raised the Kuṇḍalinī of people but I've given Realisation to thousands. You need tremendous patience, love that is patience. And the only, only, joy is to se your children getting their Realisation. You need that tenderness and kindness.

There is a gentleman whom I know who is a Guru, he is a realised Soul. He lives in a very high mountain in the state of Maharashtra. I went to see him. He was of course very good to Me but very harsh on the Sahaja Yogis. He asked them: “How many of you are going to give their life for Mother?" I said: “What do you mean? I don't want their life. I want to give them life." He told Me that: “If somebody troubles You, send him over to me. After all I'm their elder brother." I did not know he was such a hard fellow. I sent him one man who was really troubling Me for nothing at all. I told him you go and see the Guru. He was very impressed that the Guru has called him. Because Mother you always take for granted. About after fifteen days this man came with both his legs broken and hands broken, [UNCLEAR hanged] by two people, just brought like that. I saw him the tears started falling down. I said: “What has happened?" He begged of Me: “Mother never send me to that Guru." I said: “What happened?" He told Me a horrible story. He said: “This Guru, I went and told him against You." I said: “What did you say against Me?" “I told him that Mother gives Realisation to every Dick, Tom and Harry. She should discriminate about it." So the Guru said that: “Do you think that you have more wisdom that She has?" And then he said: “Now you go and sleep." He lives on a mountain. His both hands and feet are incapacitated because he lives in the water and he moves about on a tiger, everything ferocious.

See, He told Me that the tiger came and pushed him in the ditch down below. He fell down twenty feet. He broke both his legs and his hands and for two days he didn't get any food. Third day he got some bread tied to a string pushed it down, the Guru. He gave him that food and he said: “Unless and until you promised that you will never say a word against Mother I will not take you out." And then poor man was [UNCLEAR picked up]. He told this man: “Hang your legs in your neck and go in a swinging way to Her. She's the only one who will look after you." The real Gurus are very strict people. They cannot be bought by money. You have to have complete dedication to them.

Another doctor who was troubling Me too much, I sent him to another Guru. After one month he came down absolutely thinned down. Now I asked him: “What happened?" He said: “I had to go and wash a temple of Shiva which was about a mile on a steep rock, every day twice." And he did it.

I asked his Guru: “Why did you do such a horrible thing to him?" So he said: “Donkey must be treated like a donkey." They are horrible. They think that's the only way to make you learn the lesson. I told them: “Give them Realisation." They themselves will know. The Kuṇḍalinī will itself tell you.

The other day I met a lady from Switzerland whom I had given Realisation. She had met Me only once and had her Realisation and she said that “Kuṇḍalinī says me everything. If I try to do wrong things She comes and hits me here. If I talk too much it comes and [UNCLEAR touches] me here. If I eat food with people who are very egoistical I get pain in the stomach and diarrhea." It's very interesting.

So understand that Kuṇḍalinī is a woman. She's the Shakti, She's your Mother, She understands Me better than you people understand Her. Or Me, also She understands Me.

So do not have the idea of racialism. All these people who are also realised Souls and Gurus are also My children.

Sometimes I'l tell you later about them.

Any other question? Question [in French]: Pour faire monter la Kuṇḍalinī est-ce qu'un travail de purification n'est pas indispensable avant? [Shouldn't here be a purification work before the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī?]

Shri Mataji: Purification? Maybe with some, maybe, I don't know, but with Me there is no need.

Because here if you have ocean of cleansing power [UNCLEAR it has just washed it all]. You can suck all their Karmas and all their sin so-called and your Kuṇḍalinī itself will help you. You haven't done anything wrong. That's what power is. Power is of Divine Love which is tremendous and dynamic. All right? You have to get off your shoes please because the Mother Earth help us. Put your shoes back in the backside, behind you and put your hands towards Me. Because I told you these are the centers of the sympathetic nervous system. Tomorrow I will tell you elaborately how it works. As I've told you that you cannot think about it. But do not try to stop your thinking. Kuṇḍalinī will spontaneously rise and when She will cross this center She will make you thoughtlessly aware. She will make you absolutely thoughtless but you will be aware, much more alert. You will listen to Me.

Then the second stage is that the Kuṇḍalinī pierces the fontanelle bone area. At that time you start feeling the Cool Breeze. But maybe in between these two things, these two happenings, you may feel little hot sometimes or maybe little little tinkling but doesn't matter. I will work it out and then I will teach you how to work it out yourselves. You have to become the masters of Kuṇḍalinī technique which is a living technique. There is no other technique to awaken Kuṇḍalinī.

All right let's put your hands and close your eyes, close your eyes. Now do not bother about others or look at others. It will happen to most of you if you are in a receptive mood to receive the power. Do not deny and again do not feel guilty. You can say: `Mother, I'm not guilty thrice.' This has worked wonders in Paris, so please say: `Mother, I'm not guilty at all.' Second thing you have to do is to forgive others, just forgive. Say that thrice:

`Mother, I forgive all of them about whom I've felt hurt, those who have hurt me. I forgive all of them.' Please, say it thrice. Just forgive. That's very important. Once you start forgiving a great center in your Āgñyā opens where resides the deity of Christ. Just forgive. Even when you don't forgive, what do you do is to destroy yourself.

Those who have hurt you are not destroyed.

So please say that `first of all I forgive myself.' Again and again you forgive yourself and you forgive others. That will help a lot.

Unless and until we forgive ourselves how can God forgive you? We have to have self esteem. We have to ask for forgiveness from God. Please ask thrice, it will work out. But if you are an adamant type God is not going fall at your feet. You have to be humble and meek to enter into the Kingdom of God. By adamants, like a child who is obstinate you loose your own Spirit.

This is all freely available, but if you close your nose and your mouth and don't breathe, you die. This kind of obstinacy is sheer stupidity. We have to have wise people in Sahaja Yoga not stuck up people.

Let's put both your hands towards Me and close your eyes. Close your eyes. Please pay attention to yourself, to your heart. Now, you have to ask for your Self-realisation. Ask for it thrice. If you do not ask it will not work out. [Pause.] [Shri Mataji repeats a Mantra in a low voice:] [UNCLEAR sākṣhāt Śhrī Mahāviṣhṇu].

You are feeling again guilty. Now, please do not feel guilty. I've told you that nothing is to be washed there, it's absolutely clear. Do not feel guilty, just say: `I'm not guilty.' Keep your attention absolutely free. Do not concentrate at any point, just leave it free. Keep your eyes shut.

Ha! Are you feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands? Don't be intense, just relax, relax, relax. It just works, it's living process, it will just work, nothing to be intense about it. Have patience with yourself.

[Addressing Sahaja Yogis:] What is the trouble? Left Viśhuddhi? Or right? Or both? It's left. You are still feeling guilty that's why the left Viśhuddhi is catching. Say that `I'm not guilty, Mother, I'm not guilty.' That will help Me and help you. Ha! When you start feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands you'll also start feeling that coming out of your fontanelle bone area. You can feel it yourself [UNCLEAR] just put your hands. It's there, just feel it.

Now try and feel in your hands. You've got it. Feeling the Cool Breeze now? This is a subtle thing so you have to be little subtler. Try feeling it, try to feel it. Do not deny it.

You just watch Me without thinking. Put your hands towards Me. Most of you have felt it, have you? Now, it's nice I'm here for three days and three days will establish you fully. As the first outset the Kuṇḍalinī sees Me She shoots [UNCLEAR down].

There's a difference in the pattern of realisation between East and West because the Indians know what to expect. They just settle down with it. But in West people start thinking about it. [UNCLEAR].

Again tomorrow they'll come saying that you've lost your vibrations. Nothing to be worried about, because Kuṇḍalinī goes back to look after your problems. But we'll give you a way of establishing with it in the night.

Marie has done the photography that didn't turn out very well but doesn't matter you can use My photograph. She will tell you how to do it. Take from us a photograph. She will give you the photograph and tell you how to use it and also she has got some papers. But in any case I'll see their.....

Now, first I want to tell you what happened where I went and how we got lots of Sahaja Yogis all over.

That's a very good. The first thing was, I went to Lille, where you know Cathy is doing the organizing.

She's a very sensible person and her father is somehow a little bit opposed to Sahaja Yoga, but mother is not. And she called Me to her place for lunch.

And when I went to her house the mother was suffering from arthritis and things like that and I cured her and she got realisation. That convinced the mother very much and she was very happy.

Then in the evening she had booked a hall in Lille and to our amazement we had lots of people. We were surprised that how about sixty people or sixty-five people were there in the hall. And among them were some very, very nice people. One of the friends of Cathy, her mother came and they got their realisation so fast in Lille that I was surprised. And there we met husband and wife who had been with TM. Very sensible people, both of them were really very sensible. When I explained to them what was Sahaja Yoga they didn't get their realisation but they understood that there was something great about it.

So they said, “All right, we are coming with you to Paris." And one lady had come from Belgium. I took her also and we went to Paris. They have their father's house there, they stayed in their father's house. And these two were wonderful people and they followed us even to Orleans.

But in Paris the advertisement did not appear for two days. But these people had put some posters.

We got about seventy-five people on the first day. And in that we got a priest also there. Out of that at least eighty per cent got realisation. They again came second day and came third day. And the third day, it was in the paper, so there was a bigger crowd, much bigger crowd and it was a much bigger hall. And about eighty persons have got realisation there who are really very good. And they have decided to start a good center in Paris. Even in Lille now the center has started because these husband and wife are going to start a center there.

Then I went to, you must have heard about, Chartres. It's a very beautiful church there. Went to see that church; it was very beautiful. Very good vibrations from that place. And then we went to Orleans where we were just informed a hall to be booked for us and we had then one advertisement. Only on one advertisement there were about seventy people. And practically everybody got realisation. Except for some TMs they are good and as usual they are very funny, but they went away. And we had another gentleman who came in his orange robe, who has... he says he has taken a Sannyāsa and he has some technique and this and that, but Marie said there is no technique for Sahaja Yoga, there is [UNCLEAR no/a] technique of God. And then he and one or two with him, they went away. But so many people got realisation and they offered their houses or their centers and all that. But the hall... the man who was organizing the hall, he said that he just charges six pounds per meeting.

So why should we have another hall? And so we decided to have the hall there.

It was done by a girl who came from Australia, her name was Annie. She had met Warren there because she knew him before, but Warren didn't tell him [her] about what had happened. When she came back she wrote to him that, “I saw such a tremendous change in you, I didn't understand how you got this change." He was so settled down and so detached from things and very different, otherwise so particular about every details and things like that. All that had vanished and you had become such a relaxed man and your attention was somebody else. How did it happen? Then he wrote to her, “It is Sahaja Yoga, you go and see Gregoire." And Gregoire gave her realisation.

Then she went and saw Marie and Marie confirmed it and the whole thing became all right. Now, Marie is a person who has really done such a lot, such a lot and all out she went to do everything that is possible. Then from there I came back to Paris and then I flew to Madrid. We had two programs in Madrid. Actually, Gavin had sent her one advertisement, which appeared and a second never appeared, only the one appeared there. And when I reached there I was wondering how many people would be there.

There were about hundred and twenty people in the hall and we didn't know what to do. It was so suffocatingly crowded we did not know what to do. But we found out fifty per cent of them were frivolous people. They were saying, “We don't believe in God” and they were talking, “We don't believe in Christ." “This Catholicism we are against” and all sorts of things, [UNCLEAR you see/they said]. And the fifty percent got realisation. And they were very, I mean they were reactionary, they said, “How could God be there if there is so much poverty?" This, that nonsense they were talking.

But that day the girl who came from Switzerland, her name was Miriam, she's also a Catholic and she had problems because of that. And another was Elaine; she's another very intelligent girl, something like Gregoire's [UNCLEAR daughter], extremely brilliant girl and she could see the point very well and she was so clever. She said, “Only I got it once and the Kuṇḍalinī is now doing everything for me, She goes up, She teaches me and whenever I do wrong, She comes down and She teaches me, She gives me [UNCLEAR faith], She's so kind to me." She's so sensitive, I was so amazed at her.

Another person was Miriam, who was little bit suffering with this Catholicism sort of thing. And then I brought her round, I brought this one lady round but she could not translate. And people started helping her to translate. One of the gentlemen was sitting there, I said, “All right, why don't you come and translate?" He came forward and he was like a professor, in the way he started translating Me, as if he knew Sahaja Yoga very well.

Beautiful translation. He got his realisation, he went away.

Next day we had to shift to another hall, a very big hall, very beautiful hall and all that. Then when we went to the bigger hall, you'll be amazed, there must be at least ninety people or maybe a hundred people in that hall, second day and all very sensible and nice people. They didn't have all these things and so attentive, so attentive to My lecture. But the first thing that happened when I went to Paris was something very remarkable [UNCLEAR] which was [UNCLEAR repeated] again here. This priest came to see Me and he said that he couldn't get his realisation.

So he wrote a letter to Me, that “Mother, I have a secret Guru, in [UNCLEAR Rameshwaram], he's name is such and such. When I go there, I stay with him and I cannot get realisation, I don't know why." So I told him, “There should be no problem because your Guru is a realised Soul." I could see vibration-wise.

Then he told Me, “Yes, he told me that She's the Mother, She's going to emancipate the whole world and you just can get your emancipation through Her." And this was really energy-giving. I was so happy to hear that people are now recognizing, these Gurus are recognizing and they are understanding My value.

And I've never seen this fellow before.

The same thing was repeated in the second program of Madrid, where this gentleman appeared on the scene. I've forgotten his name, but Maria has all the names [UNCLEAR]. And he just came in the beginning of the hall, he sat there. He took charge of the whole place and he said, “Mother, I'm going to translate You." And he used Spanish and English very well. He stood up and he translated Me, he looked after everyone, extremely wise and sensible fellow.

And I asked him, “How are you here?" He said, “I've come to do this work, Mother, specially." And he told Me, “My Guru's name is Swāmī Rām and he lives on the Himālayas, he doesn't go out anywhere." I said, “He's a realised Soul, I know, he's a realised Soul." Then he didn't talk to Me but he talked to these girls. He said that, “My Guru has told me that She's Her Holiness. She'll come to Madrid, you go and help Her. That's why I waited for Mother to come." So, such a help is coming to us now.

Now I want to know what our London Sahaja Yogis specially are going to do about themselves. That is a very important matter because I find the progress is very slow. Extremely slow, vibration-wise is not much progress. Even [UNCLEAR Greg's] doesn't have good vibrations. I saw him, I was surprised, he's lost his vibrations quite a lot. And same with Peter I would say, they were quite bad. And this is something I can't understand, what's happening to them.

So it may be that you people feel guilty, or do some sort of a nonsense of your mind and you go on thinking or I don't know what you are doing. You have to improve in your vibrations. I think Harry is the only person who has improved, very much.

So what are you doing? Sitting and sulking and thinking and putting your mind into something nonsensical? Paying more attention to something like food? Is it? That, “What food should we eat, what should we have for food?" You must know if you are staying in an ashram, ashram is a training. What is the training you have to have? Let us see now. Is not to how to manage food, is to how to manage yourself.

The main thing is you have to see where is your attention. What are you doing about your attention? Are you putting it to food and all these nonsensical things and money and finances and this and that? If that is so, it is not going to help you. “We should have this for food, we should have that for food." Now I have found out that Western people waste so much of their energy in decision-making. And what are the decisions you have made, so far? Like, what food should we have? What does it become ultimately, all the food that you decide to eat? Same about our lives. When we think and try to plan our lives, what do we make out of it? What is the ultimate result of our life? We should think. Because of this ego-orientation this decision-making is there. I'm amazed how this decision-making about food has started.

Actually ashram is the place where you should try to control your attention and deny things. That's why people used to fast. If that extreme is not there, this extreme is also not good, is to think, what are you going to eat today, what are you going to eat tomorrow, what are we going to have for food. I think, best thing is you better fast every evening, that's the better idea. It's the best idea is that you all fast, so that there is no attention about food.

And what a thing to waste about? And there is a quarrel on, “And this much money saved, that has happened, that..." You forget about money and forget about all these. You have to improve your vibrations. In the ashram you have not come here to find a convenience. I have told you before and today again. We have to improve our vibrations, our relations with each other.

Now another thing I want to tell you, nobody should talk to each other saying, `Mother says so.' I think you stop all your meetings, that's a better idea. `Mother said so, Mother said so.' I never say to anyone. If I have to say, I say it directly. Nobody should use this phrase. I'm requesting all of you. `Mother said so.' I am very public and I say everything public.

So, nobody should pass words to anyone saying, `Mother said so.' And whatever is in Sahaja Yoga is already quite a lot. Learn from that. You don't start teaching new things. Because you will act as mediums and bhoots will act through you. And you will become real mediums of real Satanic forces.

Last time I was quite harsh about it, I said to you that these things are to be seen in a proper perspective. What I find there is no prudence in it; there is no prudence of any kind. You fight among yourselves. Doesn't matter if somebody says something to you. All right? Just bear it up. In Sahaja Yoga you have to learn how to bear it up. How much you can bear from others. Nothing is going to be lost. I'll give you a very simple example, [UNCLEAR Toman] had a friend, Mani and he got jealous of [UNCLEAR Toman], very jealous. When he started finding faults with him, he complained Me about him, against him, “This happened, that happened." He was a very dominating man, he was a lecturer and all that and he used to think no end of himself. I told him that, “You do not fuss about things, it's not good, you are a very fussy person, you better keep quiet. And you try to bear it up." But he would not listen. This happened about, say, three years back. And last time I met him, I told him that, “Now you will be in for trouble if you don't stop this nonsense of your fighting." What does it matter? You do your best. How much have you born, what have you done? You have got the example of Christ. How much sweetness are you pouring to others? Everybody trying to show their knowledge of Sahaja Yoga. Best way is to articulate among yourselves the spirit of love. Instead of everybody becoming a great leader, is better you lead yourself and that will help you. Now same thing happened with this Man and he would not listen to Me till the end. I mean, before Me he was like a cow and when I came away, he was a bull. Every time he did that and his attention was so badly spoiled, I told him, “Look after your vibrations." [UNCLEAR He was not bothered], he was trying to show off and today his letter has come, he's got leukemia.

In Sahaja Yoga one should never get any cancer, is out of question. But one gets it because of your attention. People have been cured of leukemia. Why they are getting leukemia? It happens. If your attention is not correct, you will get it. Today his letter has come that he has got leukemia.

So to show temper, if you get angry, anything is against you. Try to love each other, just bear it up. And do not be agitated too much and do not demand. The humblest are going to enter into the Kingdom of God. The meek people are going to enter into the Kingdom of God. Not the ones who are very particular about something and who take decisions.

Please take decision-making at zero, `I do not take any decision. I will not take any decision. Let Mother take the decision.' This is the way you can do it. Now, everywhere Sahaja Yoga is coming up, people are understanding. You have to discipline yourselves; there is no idea of discipline. You try to disciplining others and nothing about yourselves. Everything that is living is disciplined. See on a tree how the leaves spread, how they discipline themselves and how they arrange themselves. Is there any fight going on? First of all, decision-making about food should be zero. Please stop all the meetings, I think that is also another ego trips going on. All the ego trips, meetings, what do you achieve? This. Better not have any more meetings, better all sit down and quietly meditate within [UNCLEAR] and work it out, [UNCLEAR properly]. Your vibrations should be all right, that's the main point. And do not deceive yourselves. You have to grow! There should be [UNCLEAR prudence] that you have to grow, nobody else has to grow. You are the losers. Who is the loser? Now, Mister Paul went there and I don't know what happened, he went there, stayed with Tomal.

Now, Tomal has given realisation to ten thousand people. And Mister Paul thinks no end of himself, he thinks of him he is a very great guy and he can do anything. He went and said, “Why do you have a servant in the house, you are enjoying yourself, your servant is working like this” and he fought with them.

And he came away, misbehaving. What does he think of himself? It's a very, very bad manners.

I never knew that you are to be told that when you go to somebody's house, the guest, if you are a guest, somebody's house, you are not to behave like this. And he quarreled and fought and came away.

Now, what are we to say? They have written to say that he quarreled very much. He is so much elder to you. Apart from that, in Sahaja Yoga he is senior to you. That is the thing: no sense of respect.

I think you have to take up things much more seriously. I have seen also, people laugh at others, all of you, suddenly start laughing, suddenly. Must develop your dignity. You must develop your dignity. Even when you talk to Me I have seen, “hehehe” like that you laugh and then say something. That's not the way to talk to Me, it's also wrong. If your dignity is not all right you are not going to get deeper into it.

Now, better stop all meetings and all these things. For what? For arranging food? Is it a hotel here? Just arranging somebody's food is whatever you get, just eat and don't say anything about the food.

Some do not want to cook, some want to cook. What is this? Everybody should be forward there, “Yes, I will cook, I'll do, I'll learn." Nobody has this desire, “I will do. I will do." Labour saving, money saving, all kinds of devices. It is not good for you. It's not proper for you. You just see your own selfishness. You have to grow in Sahaja Yoga; you have to become great in Sahaja Yoga. You are not to waste yourself.

And when I say something, you think I'm saying about somebody else. You just put it to yourself, the same question and ask yourself, “Where am I?" That's the way you are going to improve and you don't know how much work I want you to do when I go away from here. But I am sure, I cannot send you anywhere, you create problems. Mister Paul went there and he's... and everybody is shocked at him. That he doesn't even have proper manners. This quarrelsomeness is one thing should be avoided.

Anybody who is quarrelsome is not a Sahaja Yogi. You are not to quarrel for anything; even if somebody beats you, even if somebody slaps you on one side, you turn the other. That is Sahaja Yoga. Don't forget your teachings. If somebody slaps you on right side, you turn your left side to that person. And the one who is a trouble-maker should be branded as that.

Who fusses, who troubles, who makes, “This should be done, that should be done” he should be treated like that. You must also try to give Me some joy and happiness. Or always must you give Me headaches? I would request you now to give Me less headaches, otherwise I will never come to London. What I hear, somebody fighting with someone, something happening with someone, I don't like it.

Now, another thing I have to tell you is this that I was thinking that if you people feel all right, your vibrations are all right, if you are settled down, if you really become Gurus, Guru means dignity, humility, meekness, understanding, lovable nature, all these things must be developed in you, you cannot suddenly become like that. In that case you should decide to go to various places in England and also outside. I have arranged for that. For example now TM people, they can act as mediums, even now. You can see that, it does happen, you have to be very careful about it. You will become mediums of Satanic forces.

And you have to be very, very careful, extremely careful about it. I have talked to people... Now you have to save all the TM people, I have already arranged that. There are two places in Paris who want you to go down there and talk to them. I have also asked people in Nice, they are very anxious. There are people in Madrid who want to arrange a program where you can talk about it.

Now look at how negativity, this thing, works out. Bart went to Paris and he told one Ceylonese gentleman is against [UNCLEAR Me/it]. He said that, “He's not giving me my money, he's not paid for me, he told me lies that I'll give you so much money, he did not give me any money and this and that." When I was talking about it, he came out with a thing, “Is that the same Peter Pears who was a cook?" I said, “Cook? He's not a cook." He said, “Yes, Bart told me about him." I said, “He's not a cook, he was the head of the thing and all that." He said, “No, but Bart told me that money was not given and..." “How do you know Bart?" He said, “He's my old friend” this and that...

Now, I could not say much against him, but I said, “Why did Bart tell you like this? He never even met Me." He said, `He's a very shy person, he did not want to meet, but he was telling me that Sahaja Yogis are horrible people, Mother believes them, She's too simple. And they are not worth believing. They are all very horrid and they are extremely dominating and all such things Bart has told." I said, “Bart should come and see Me. If he had told Me I would have corrected these things. And, all right” I said, “he went into bankruptcy, he went into trouble and that's how he did not get his money, but he should have told Me." Why didn't he tell Me about it? That, “I am going away” he never told Me. He went away. Now he has no business to talk against Sahaja Yogis.

And I received another letter from these, one of the hippies who had come to our program. Who says that, “Mother You are Sahaja Yogi in... You are all right but Your Sahaja Yogis, we cannot bear them.

They are very dominating, they think of no ends of themselves. When they talk to us, they talk in such a way, `Do this, do that.' " All such a letter he has written. And he says that, “We would all have liked to come in but we don't like this kind of people trying to dominate us and they are very intellectualizing and...", all sorts of things. They have written about it.

Now, this is what it is.

So the secret of Sahaja Yoga failing in England is: Sahaja Yogis are not Mātājī Nirmalā Devī. You must know that you represent Me. Try to imbibe some of My qualities. Do I ever complain about food? Some of My qualities. You must show patience. Now, the best way would be to pray. Prayer is [a] very great thing for Sahaja Yogis. Pray with your heart.

First of all, you must ask for strength from Mother. `Give me strength so that I be genuine, I won't deceive myself.' You are deceiving yourselves, morning till evening. `Give me strength that I face myself and say it with my heart that I try to improve myself.' Because these are defects which are not your own, they are outside. If they fall off, you'll feel all right, you'll be perfect. Now, then you should ask for forgiveness, pray for forgiveness. There should be prayer, said that, `Forgive me because I have been ignorant, I did not know what to do, I have done mistakes, so You please forgive me.' That is the first thing one has to ask, is the forgiveness.

Then second thing you ask for is, `Give me a sweet tongue. A method by which I become communicative with others, others respect me, they like me, they like my presence. Give me strength. Give me love, give me that beauty of culture, beauty of understanding that everybody loves me, wants me.' Ask for that. In the prayer you ask that, `Oh Lord, give me the sense of security of my Spirit, so that I do not feel insecure, by which I trouble others, or get angry. Give me sense of my own dignity, so that I do not feel that I am belittled or somebody has littled me.' If you are at a higher position nobody can belittle you. It's only you belittled by your foolishness and doubtfulness.

Ask for strength that, `Give me my witness state, give me satisfaction.' Ask from Me satisfaction.

`Let me feel my satisfaction from what I have. Whatever I have, whatever I eat, everything, take out my attention away from all these things.' You know that your attention is in the stomach and those who are very much interested in food will get liver, in any case, whatever you may try. `In anything like this, wherever my attention is going, please give me strength to pull it back. Chitta Nirodh. Teach me how to avoid things that tempt me, that take away my attention, take away my thoughts. Give me witness state by which I see the whole drama. Let me never spite others and criticise others. Let me see my mistakes, not others. Let me see why people are not happy with me. Give me strength to have a very sweet tongue and a sweet nature so that others like my company, they enjoy my company. Let me be like a flower and not like a thorn.' You have to pray. All these prayers are going to help you. Then ask for the greatest prayer which [UNCLEAR reduces wrath] that, `Please keep me away from ego that gives me ideas that I'm superior to others, I'm better than others, or in any way it takes away my meekness and my humility. Give me natural humility by which I can penetrate into the hearts of people.' Just you have to bend your head and you go up to your heart. You have to bend your head. Just to bend your head and there is your heart where resides the Spirit. Be with it. If you are any way hurting your ego, or you are hurting somebody's ego, it's just the same. You'll behave in the same manner, in the same egoistical manner.

So try to understand that these things have to go away.

The best is to pray and ask for help. Prayer is a very big thing, but with your heart pray that, `God give us strength and that growth that we can please our Mother sometimes. We want to please our Mother, we want to see Her happy.' The only thing that really will really gives Me happiness is that the way I love you, you love each other.

In the meetings you must discuss how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī, what is the problem, what Chakras are catching, then it's all right. But not these meetings, “How much money to be spent, how to go, how to collect” and all this nonsense. Do not waste your energies on that.

But that doesn't mean that some people should not take at all any interest in cooking, should not do this... Everybody should try to do as much as possible. People are so lethargic.

You see their brain starts working. If you start working with your hands, you will be surprised your thoughts will stop. Use your hands. Your thoughts will be much less. Try to do some things with your hands. Try to do, whatever is possible, whatever you want to do. Try to do it for your own training, not because somebody else is not doing or somebody else is doing it. You just do it because of your training, try to do your level best, you'll enjoy, you just sing songs and do it yourself, you don't worry.

If I started worrying that nobody does anything for Sahaja Yoga, why should I do? What will happen? I, may give every excuse to get out of it. Everybody must do some handwork. It's compulsory.

Something you must do. Get up suddenly. Let's see who gets up first? Gets the plates serves the people, looks after others, gives the food to others. Try to go out of yourself. Selfishness has to be controlled. Self-centeredness has to be finished. Self-indulgences are to be taken away.

How do you do it? Pray, get the strength and act. Otherwise you will end up with prayer only. You get the strength and do it. Try to give away things. This you should decide because Navarātri is coming now. It's a very big day and Sahaja Yogis have to be prepared for that day. It's a very big privilege for you people that Navarātri is coming and there is going to be a Pūjā of Navarātri. But one thing is compulsory that you all should improve yourself and try to be there where a son of the Mother is sitting. Be mild. Be sweet. Create an atmosphere of congeniality. There should be congenial feeling, loving care for each other.

If you are fighting with someone you should say that, `Oh Lord, how could I have an enemy? Why did I fight? Please give me strength so that I should have no enemy, so that I do not see any enemy in anyone.

So give me power that I forgive them, so that You can forgive me.' If you can just say these two things, you can get rid of your thoughts.

Last of all you have to pray that, `Mother, we should recognize our Mother. That She has come within us. We are very fortunate and we know who She is. Please give us strength so that we recognize Her and imbibe that recognition in our life. It is not only recognition, but imbibe.' I think in certain things Gregoire is very good. He was saying, “In the church when we go, we never talk loudly, we just talk in hush. How could we talk loudly in the presence of Mother, when She is in the house, how can we, it's a temple? How can we talk loudly when She is around?" I was really surprised how Gregoire could see that point. [UNCLEAR He said,] “She's a living temple and how could we do that?" Now, before going I want to tell you also [UNCLEAR] you have to prepare now for the Pūjā. The first thing that is to be done: prepare yourself. I would like to see you in good vibrations and good conditions.

For you, you get some sugar, you need some sugar for yourself. Markus, take lot of sugar, take, say, one kilo every day, minimum. Have you got here some sugar with you? Bring it; I'll vibrate it for you.

Now, about this work also I have told you that you put up this wall as it is in any dilapidated way you want to put it up, but put it up. Because later on they will not have any objection that the wall was not so high. Just do it because I've told you, it will help you So, just put it up, up to eight feet and then the rest of it you try to clear it out. I would like Alan to make all these things before I come back. It's 17th, I'll be back, there is lot of time.

So find out what things are needed.

You do it the way you want to, you have to do it. Before I go I would like to have the size of that one.

It has to be [UNCLEAR prepared... to the] Sahaja Yogis to make one. And also I would like to know, what we have to do about it, how we have to organize it and how you are going to get the money and how we are going to work it out.

So all this has to be done in a way that is very congenial and friendly.

And one should not ask for, say, thirty p and forty p, a thing, but on the whole money should be used properly. Even a single Pai out of this money should not be wasted, nor should be misused, nor should be [UNCLEAR]. That is very important.

Because, if that is done it will have an effect on all of you, specially the ones who do it. Now, you have a case of leukaemia here, very clear.

So I do not want you people to have any suffering because, actually, Sahaja Yoga helps you. But if you leave Sahaja Yoga then you fall into the trap of the Satans. The Satans are around you.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It's working out. My attention is working it out, but it throws you out also, you go out of circulation, so be careful. There is no use just worrying and being anxious. You see this is a very typical European-style thinking. Now you are very anxious, you are very worried, you know, you are pessimistic, this, that. Do all that and achieve what? Nothing.

Now I must tell you about French, I have understood them very well. Now, what they are doing it's very interesting. I mean, that doesn't mean that English are all absolutely all right, they are also very much the same style.

So [UNCLEAR] but the French, what the French have done is to decide that the existence is futile. That they have got some sort of a... they had there some philosopher who told them that existence is futile.

So they said, “Oh, then what's the use, this life is futile, you see, then why worry about anything and why..." So they are very anxious always, very unhappy people. They said that, if a person says that he is [UNCLEAR very] happy, then they think he is naive. He doesn't know that he is in for hell and his life is futile, he has no character. How can he say that a person is happy? Because by saying “he is happy" that means he is naive, he doesn't understand the life's problems and he's trying to avoid and he is a foolish man.

So they had to have a person who has got all his cheeks both inside, who is drawn out. He has to be somebody who looks like nothing on earth.

[Aside:] It's not such a good sugar [UNCLEAR cane] for you, it should be white. Mix it up with that. This is much hotter and fish you should never eat. That's it. You can add white to it and eat it.

Now, so they are very unhappy people and they are all the time, “Hahhhch, hahhch, hih." I said, what's this? They said, “This is character." If you have character you have to be unhappy person. Otherwise, if you are happy, then you are naive, you don't understand that the whole world is going to fall off, that Kalki is coming. You should all sit with them, face like that. It's quite funny, isn't it? I said, “It's all right” but when they do this, why do they indulge into all these nonsensical things? Like every street has got at least ten prostitutes, when you walk along. [UNCLEAR About thirty places] you find ten prostitutes standing. They don't mind prostitution, after all life is futile. [UNCLEAR So what is to be done]? They are very unhappy people. They all will be very unhappy, anxious; they are extremely anxious, unhappy. They are the most miserable people. I said, that's how Victor Hugo wrote `Les miserables'. All of them are just here, you see and that's how they are the most difficult.

People don't understand French. When they talk, their sarcasm is horrid, their laughter is horrid, their jokes are horrid. And whatever they do, they just bite you. The reason is, the life is futile.

So what does it matter if you bite someone or you cut somebody's throat. Anything is all right, if it has a character.

Now the whole thing has reached to such a futility that bank robber, I saw here... I told you the story about the bank robber, has become the big hero now there. There are stories written after him, there are poems written, now there are some pop singers who are singing his praise. I've no place in a society [UNCLEAR like that].

So this is French and English also think that French are very great, we should be like that, very miserable people, absolutely looking like nothing on earth.

So this is the French tradition and French style, but I put them right. I made them smile, laugh aloud and enjoy themselves. If I could trigger them, why not the lethargic friends here? I said, it's very nice. I say Europe is the liver. Europe is liver of the Universe, where they drink the most. India is the Kuṇḍalinī, where there is no seeking. England is the heart, which is lethargic. God save this Universe.

And lethargic to such an extent that they do not even have energy to organize their food and organize their things. In small, small things they go on fighting. I wished they were a little lethargic about fighting.

But the French have started laughing, they have given up their anxieties, they are loving each other. Only our lethargy is horrible.

The whole fight is about how to save money and how to save labor. Nobody is going to die if they work hard.

So please work hard. I've been telling you that do something.

Something can be done, if you don't get anything you go and hit your head, but do something. Do not sit down, like that, it's no good.

Just start doing something with your hands because your brains are working, hands are not working, there is no balance. And the brains that work, you know what they are working it out? So what's the use of allowing this brain to work. Make your hands work.

For example now, here is Malcolm. His brain is now growing this way. He should not use his brain, but his hands.

Like the servant in My house is our feet, say, I'm the hands, My husband is the head. We all work in that unison, together. When we are like that there is no problem that servants are needed, wife is needed and the head of the family is needed. Because we are doing our own work, so there is no need to bother about it. But supposing everybody is only using the brain and the rest of it is useless, then what about the rest? Who is going to do it? Because you are not integrated with the whole. Because you are not integrated with your society, not with your family. You are only integrated with yourself, if you are, I'm also not very sure about that.

But you can only work out your hands and your head.

So best thing is that all of us should do some work.

Some work must be done.

Every one of you should [UNCLEAR serve] to stop the brain. You see, when the brain starts thinking, start cleaning, painting something, get something. Why not painting? Get something, do something, try to do some work. As soon as your brain starts working, start doing some work. All right? That's the way you can stop thinking of your brain, which is very important.

Because what this brain is going to take you to I don't know.

H.G. Wells has written certain things about it, but he also did not know that brain development can take us to such madness that you can't imagine.

Now, the only example is that we came back and we met two, three people who came and went away.

They were about My age, some were sixty, some were sixty-five. They all came in the bus [UNCLEAR and start] talking, very loudly.

So I asked, “What is he talking?" “He is talking about last war." “To whom?" “He is talking to himself." Very loudly. And what [UNCLEAR nonsense] he is talking. And another fellow came in, he started talking about something else, “... and Marlene must know” and all that, he started talking. Of My age, imagine. I said, “He's talking so loudly, nobody says anything [UNCLEAR to him. That is unexpected here]." The third person came in, he says, “See, this is all expected, you see, we help everyone, we don't mind, we are very tolerant." I said, “You are tolerant, but why don't you see you'll become the same tomorrow." Because your brain is working. Now the tape is going back. And when they get into the bus and they are shouting at the top of their voices and everybody thinks that there's somebody [UNCLEAR worthful] and it's all right, it doesn't matter, take it. And this is what is going to happen to us also.

If you start thinking, now, what about your machine of thinking? You are already... frenchy character is there. What [UNCLEAR]. Still on, thinking? Doesn't stop.

Forgive everyone, forgive your mother, forgive your father, forgive all of them. First forgive, say, `I forgive.' Then say, `Mother, I forgive everyone.' Today we were very lucky, I must say. You should see the sarīs, so wonderful. She gave us forty two pounds less, can you imagine, for the sarī? Such a beautiful one you can't imagine. I wanted because this Pūjā has been done here and it will be seen all over and I wanted to get a good sarī. In any case your name should not be bad. And she reduced forty two pounds for the sarī, can you imagine how things work out. I'll send it to Italy, for someone. Tomorrow you can see it.

How are you now, better? He is all right. He is a very happy person, that's the main thing. You have to be a cheerful and a happy person. If you are an irritable person, you can never feel all right. How many are cheerful? Count your blessings. The best way to be happy is to count your blessings. Count them.

How much God has given you. First of all your realisation.

Count your blessings. Then you will be cheerful. Thank God. Thanksgiving is not there. If you start thanking Me, it will be a good idea. Just start thinking what has happened to you. Just thank Me. It will make you very cheerful and happy. Just start thinking about what you were and what you are, just start. Thanksgiving is not there. Know it for sure. That's the first thing one should do is to thank. All your gloom will vanish. I feel very happy.

So, you will have to keep some days when you will have to travel to these places. Paris, you will have to go to Paris and you will have to go to Lille and maybe Madrid because these people are spread out very well. People are selling their furniture and everything. They are selling in Lille. All their furniture they are selling, they are [UNCLEAR horrible people].

There's a very sweet child, just like [UNCLEAR bumbles/crumble] with these two persons. She's just a saint, she's so much [UNCLEAR opposing] and all that. Now she's all right. Estella is her name.

Justine is the name of the lady. I don't remember the name of the man but he's a very great musician.

He met a very big pianist who plays in the churches. He got his realisation too, in Munich. He found a very nice person in Munich, his name is Philip. And his mother and his whole family came, father and sister and everybody got realisation. He's willing to call people at his residence. We have to send books and things there. You had sent some books to My house, I did not know. I didn't take them with Me.

But now I think we'll have to take some books to Germany, perhaps. And we'll need some more papers and photographs.

... and he talked about the tour, how successful it was, I wish you could have heard it before I started this lecture of Mine today. But yesterday I was talking about two things, which we have to do in England, which one should understand, you see. Because every country has its own problems and we do absorb the problems. [UNCLEAR Left hamari aur kar. Left hand, ha]. [Point your left hand towards Me, point your right hand outwards].

Now the thing is our work is spreading very fast and people are taking to it. In Europe I find the land is much more fertile, surprisingly and once people get realisation they become fantastic, I mean they think it's something that they have been expecting and they understand Sahaj Yoga much better than we understand here. Though your Kuṇḍalinīs rise very high, I've seen that, but the progress is not that all right.

Now Ray has been to India, he'll tell you how, what sort of people we have in India and how they have progressed themselves. Now as I said the main problem of our country is lethargy and lethargy is something we have to overcome somehow and this lethargy is a, actually a Satanic force. It's not lethargy only of the matter that comes from material domination on the Spirit, but it is really Satanic because it stops your progress and is to be avoided. And to get out of it one has to be really alert about it, how it crawls onto you. Kṛiṣhṇa has put, the worst vice in the whole world is `ālasya', means lethargy. “Aalasyso Bījayate", everything comes out of ālasya. According to Him, first the lethargy comes in and because of lethargy we get into vices and then we go to the right side also because of lethargy. Because just to avoid the lethargy we go to the right side too much.

So according to Him everything starts with lethargy and then the person loses the essence of life through lethargy and this is our special quality and that is our real problem, is the lethargy.

Because Sahaj Yoga is a thing where we say there is `akriya'. We don't have to do anything. It is effortless. Everything works out effortless, spontaneously.

So we think that everything is going to work out for us spontaneously. Only the Kuṇḍalinī Jāgruti is spontaneous for the first time, not for the second time, only for the first time. That is I have to do it or My photograph has to do it. But afterwards you have to work, you have to keep your Kuṇḍalinī aoat. You have to understand what are your problems, what are you getting into. I mean, individually every one of you is a masterpiece, individually. Because of lethargy you are clouded.

Secondly because of lethargy you are secluded, lethargy gives you also ego. Because anything that challenges lethargy you get on top of that person, you don't like such a person. But the lethargy also those do not have are the people their attention is not on spiritual development. Theirs is as I told you yesterday, on other things, which are not important to spiritual life. We pay so much attention to other things than to our spiritual life. Why is it? Why is it we pay more attention to material things, to material comforts, to material achievements, to material obsessions? Why? You must think about it. And why not to our spiritual ascent? The reason is we have been identified with matter. We have been going through that circle. We thought that we must have material development, so we had industrial revolution, we created a society dominated by industries, machinery came up. We saw the machinery started dominating us. We wanted to misidentify from that machinery. Machinery has also given us lethargy because we use machine made things our hands do not work.

We have lost all the deftness of the hands; we have lost all the walking capacity. We can only take a bus or a car; we do not want to walk at all. Now this mechanization and the use of matter too much, has made us sort of matters ourself. We have become matter that we cannot live without it, it, yet we are so identified with it. After realisation if you are still identified with the matter, then your realisation slows down.

So to, one has to understand, one has to understand fully that matter is absolutely secondary. Without of course getting your body you cannot receive realisation, you have to have your body. But matter which is gross, is of no meaning. Subtle matter is all right for us, that's important. Like this light, which is burning, is important. Water that is in the ocean is all right. The sky, open sky, say here it is not so good but if you go to a country is even better. The Mother Earth say example here, I don't know how it is, but in India certain places Mother Earth is very much subtle, your material identifications.

So matter has been identified with us, we have been using it, living with it and that's why it is easy for us to get back into the same circle of matter. And we get into it, we pay attention more to it. Now if I say, “Do not pay attention to it more” then you go on to another side, in a subtler way you jump into vices.

Vices of, I can say uncleanliness, filth, dirt, mismanagement.

So from one extreme to another extreme you go. Now in the center what is matter, we should understand and we should try to then identify ourselves with our Spirit. Now what is matter? Let us find out. What is matter this. And what is created out of matter? Matter you know is made out of five elements. You know the five elements, which have made this body of ours. And these five elements are on the right hand side of the human beings and these five elements either push you towards the left side or pull you towards the right side. I mean to say that when your start using the matter gradually you become lethargic. You become slave to it, it forms a habit.

If you use a chair then you cannot sit on the ground. If you are used to a comfortable life, you cannot live in an uncomfortable life.

Sort of it slaves you. Secondly, if you try to overpower the matter, getting overactive with matter, you make everything properly and make everything nicely and everything; you are over efficient with the matter, then your ego develops and when your ego develops you go into violence.

Because if you produce more, you have to be violent about it otherwise you do not know how to sell it.

You become, sort of an aggressive businessman or a country, which tries to sell the matter, which tries to overpower other nations with their material advancement. With violence you go little further, then what becomes out of you is nothing but you become materialistic. And materialistic people have no heart. A materialistic person has no heart. He is just dried up. He only understands money, money and money.

He doesn't go beyond it.

So too much attachment to money is also materialistic, waste of money is also materialistic; mismanagement of money is the worst of all.

So to be materialistic is your nature. You have started with it. That's human nature to be materialistic because we have started with matter. But it is also the human nature to ascend. As it is natural to be a beast, it is more natural to be a Sahaj Yogi.

So both things are part of the nature. Now which way you go is the thing. Now the ladder can take you up or can bring you down. If you have to go up your eyes should be upward.

Now these five elements create what within you? They create the five Chakras within you or you can say the six Chakras are created out of these five elements. And these five elements, when they create the Chakras then they also give us a support to have the deities' āsana, a seat for the deities to come in.

So they are important. But if you have to give a deity a seat, you do not give some sort of a filthy seat. You give a nice, the best seat, whatever is available, to the deity.

So you must know that when you are using the matter, see the auspiciousness of it. You have to know the auspiciousness of things that you are using, whether it is auspicious or not. At random we buy clothes. At random we buy things. If you could use your vibratory awareness to buy your things to see what you should buy, what would look nice because beauty and auspiciousness goes hand in hand. They are not two things. Because beauty is a thing that gives joy to your Spirit, auspiciousness is the same, which gives joy to your Spirit. All other beauty is no beauty.

So for a Sahaj Yogi it is necessary to use all the matters, which are auspicious. Now auspicious matters, whatever are there, which are important matters must be kept at a higher level always. For example say My photograph, is very auspicious. Then you don't put it on the ground, then don't trample over it. In that also there are gradations of auspiciousness. But now your clothes because you are saints now, are very important. You are saints do you realise? Do you realise your self-esteem? You are saints now. What clothes you wear, you are not vagabonds. You are not tramps. You are not on the street.

So you have to wear dignified dress. I have told everyone of you that, “Wear something dignified, not in-dignified." It has to be majestic, because you are a saint now. You are no more a person running on the street, you are the selected saints by God.

So the dress you wear need not be absurd or something funny but should give you dignity. Not any false but a real dignity. You see the vibrations of a dress. Wear your country's dress. You need not wear somebody else's dress or something, but the interest in the dress should be that it should give you dignity and a sense of respectability.

It is to preserve your respect that you have to wear a dress. That is the utility of a dress.

And now you go to another thing, anything that you are using, for example your house. Your house should be a house of cheerfulness, a house of dignity where people come in, they have comfort, they sit comfortably. But too much comfort is against Sahaj Yoga. But spartan also is not necessary that you do not have anything to spread on the ground or something. It should be comfortable. But it should not be comfort personified, because comfort creeps on you.

Comfort is one thing is better for English people to avoid completely, is very good for them not to allow the body to get into comfortable positions. Specially bathroom addiction is too much in English people I have seen it. It is so much so I was so surprised that if I go supposing to a reception I can tell you whether it is owned by an Englishman or by somebody else. If it is owned by an Englishman, the bathroom will be done up very well, there will be towel for everything, soap for everything, I mean they are extremely particular. And immediately I know that it is done by some English gentleman, because they are very bathroom conscious. Though they do not take baths. I have seen houses with sixty bedrooms and no bath in England only. Now of course they have started. Bathing is not their quality. But bathroom, they are very particular.

And even if you put an easy chair they wouldn't mind sitting in a bathroom. And as far as bathroom is concerned one should just form such habits, that within ten minutes you should be out from the bathroom.

Now when I say you have to take your baths, that doesn't mean that early in the morning go and take a shower, it doesn't mean that. You should take a bath at a time when you'll have one hour before going out, but that also from auspicious point of view. Now you are saints, so use water as much as you can.

Wash your hands ten times is very essential. To get your vibrations all right, you must wash your hands.

But now in India there are people who wash their hands countingly sixty four times. And I always warn about the another side of it, like doctors go on washing their hands. In the same way, there are some people who go on washing their hands. You need not take out the skin out of your hands. But as many times as you wash your hands, it is a good thing. I mean you are saints but you are children. And I have to talk to you as to the children who are saints. It's a big complication. While you are grown up people and sometimes you might feel hurt also, the way I have to tell you, but this is important that you have to understand that, `We are saints and as saints, what we have to do as far as the matter is concerned.' Now in a house there should be no dearth. Dearth is not the sign of a saintliness. Miserliness: dearth, you come to somebody's house and you find a miserable beggary hole. That kind of a thing should not be. You must have proper plates, proper things or a broken plate somewhere, no. All these things should be clean, neat, maybe handmade, or even if you don't get handmade, but they should be clean, auspicious.

If you can get handmade things, nothing like it. That's a very good idea if you can get hand made things and if you can use them it's very good.

I think we went to see Gandhiji's ashram, didn't we? You saw it was a simple place but very well done, everything. And that way Japanese are very good at these things; one has to learn a lot from them. You have to learn from so many people and because of Zen influence, the Japanese picked up the aesthetics of life. Very simple house they will have but everything very comfortable. And they know how to make the house look beautiful and how to make people feel comfortable.

[Aside.] Matter is to be treated with respect because it is created by God. But whatever is respected is to be respected, not everything. Everything in the matter is not to be respected. For example, if you see some sort of a painting, which is, which is not auspicious, is not auspicious. You should refuse to see such a painting. You should avoid seeing such painting because it is not going to give you any joy, any happiness, nothing. It's not going to work out.

Now one of the things which people always tell Me that in... “Sahaj Yogis do not have a presence." This is a very important thing. The presence is done by matter. Now our presence, if it is not all right people can make it out. All things that are in us, if they become auspicious will have a presence. Wherever we'll stand people will know there's a presence. And this presence is a blessing of the matter to us.

So you must respect matter in the sense what clothes you wear. Throwing clothes on the ground, throwing here and there, living like a donkey, like a pigsty, is not the way a Sahaj Yogi should live. He has to be orderly; he has to respect his clothes. But it should not be that you respect your clothes so much that you throw away others' clothes. The others are Sahaj Yogis also. You have to respect each other because you are all saints. If you respect yourself you have to respect others. And once you start respecting the matter, which is the essence in you, that is attention. The essence of matter is attention. Attention gives you the presence. For example, recently Marie was with Me. While translating Me, she suddenly saw some flowers here and there, she started putting them right. It created a very funny situation. Everybody started seeing what's matter with this woman? But now she's understood it. And now I told her that, “When you are speaking you should say it with full concentration. Your attention, where is your attention?" If your attention is on money, even if I am talking about the highest things you'll be thinking about money. If your attention is on something else, even if I am talking to something, you will be thinking of something else. That's why our presence should be such that nobody's attention is diverted or deluded.

You understand My point? If your presence is funny, like a joker or a clown or a funny, untidy, everybody's attention will be disturbed. If you are overly dressed also the attention will be disturbed. But if you are completely a presence then wherever you stand, people will feel there is somebody standing, great. The respect flows, actually respect flows. And it is something so remarkable that you don't know how people try to help you then and how it works out. Your attention if it is dominated by matter, people can make it out. And that is one thing has to look after very clearly because these are countries who have advanced so much in material advancement.

So what happens, every matter attracts your attention. You go on the street there's this one woman is standing or there is something selling, this happening. All the time the attention... You see it is their job to attract your attention, otherwise how are they going to exploit you? See, they will have no justification.

So they produce things, advertise things, to do in such a way to distract your attention. Now this is a force, which is acting against our attention.

So as far as possible keep your attention straight, or on the Mother Earth. If you can control your attention, you can overcome your material domination. Now the best thing is to put attention to your Spirit. If you start putting your attention to Spirit, the sweetness of the Spirit itself will make the whole thing very sweet and beautiful.

The attention should be in the Spirit. Even you are getting ready; keep the attention on the Spirit. Now it's not difficult because Kuṇḍalinī has reached that stage. Before realisation if I had said it, then you would have said, “Mother, how to do it?" But now when you have got realisation, try to bring your attention to Spirit. Means first when the Kuṇḍalinī rises you start looking at the Spirit or you say when you get realisation you see the Spirit. In the sense that the Spirit starts flowing through you, you start watching its flowing in this thing. But then after some time, you must enter into Spirit and see, see through the window of the Spirit, the whole thing by developing your witness Spirit. If you develop your witness state, from attention you become knowledge, the truth. Then material things become the knowledge; aesthetics of matter start giving you joy. You do not want to possess it, but they start giving you joy and even if you want to posses it, it would be just to enjoy it and give it away to somebody else. It's like that. It's for your enjoyment and you want to give it away to someone else. When you develop your witness state this will come to you that you will not keep things to yourself but you would like to give and share, sharing.

That is the time you should know you have become a witness, because you are enjoying. Witness state is the state of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, of Virāt. When you start sharing your things then it is a proper thing.

[Aside:] Come in there's space here.

Now the essence of Pūjā is also how to overcome our material grossness. Pūjā is nothing but is how to overcome our material grossness. When we want to have a matter to ourselves, we must know that it is given to us by God. Everything belongs to God. Supposing we give flower to God, after all it is God's own creation, what are we giving? We show light to God or do `Ār.ti' to God. What? It is all God's light only, what do we do? But by showing light to God, what we do is to, we worship light within us. The light element gets enlightened within us. The light element is here on the Āgñyā. When you do Ār.ti, or when you put light before God, when you show light to God, the light element within you gets enlightened. When you give flowers, Mūlādhāra gets enlightened. When you get honey, then your attention gets enlightened.

So, why we give it to God, after all God doesn't need anything. But God is the enjoyer. You are not the enjoyer, you cannot enjoy. Enjoyer is God. In you, when God is there that enjoys, that is the Spirit.

So whatever pleases your Spirit is used in the Pūjā to be given. Now you give rice, all these things are discovered, that you give rice to the Devī. Rice should be put in Her lap. Now what is rice, a little rice to a Devī? Is, by putting rice, in you the satisfaction of getting food or food that gives you satisfaction is enlightened. But that doesn't mean you start showering things on Me, that doesn't mean that. What I am trying to say, do it with dignity and understanding. That you give Me rice.

Now, rice giving, these people don't understand why rice is to be given to God? After all, why give Him palm leaves? What is He going to do? If Christ was the Son of God. What was the use of putting palm leaves for Him? Or to give Him oil, oil bath or to rub His feet with oil? It is for you to get the advantage.

Now in Sahaj Yoga it is proved now. When you rub My feet, you feel better, not Me. You rub My hands, you feel better. When you fall at My feet, you feel better. She, she is a great, what was, what is, what were you doing? Lady: reflexology.

Shri Mataji: reflexology. Big name, ah? reflexology. And she is supposed to know about the feet and things like that.

One day she said, “Mother I want to come and massage Your feet. I know this and all that." So I said, “All right, come along." So she came to rub My feet. Instead of I feeling, becoming relaxed, she was becoming relaxed. The more she was rubbing she was getting relaxed.

So you see when you do for God, the blessings comes to you. You are blessed. Whatever is the problem with you, you give to God to solve. Also whatever satisfies you, you give to God. The satisfaction comes to you.

Now, these flowers when you give it to Me, Mūlādhāra. They give you two things, Swādhiṣhṭhāna and Mūlādhāra. Flowers that's why are very important. They give Swādhiṣhṭhāna, if the flowers are beautiful, then they give Swādhiṣhṭhāna and if they are fragrant they cure your Mūlādhāra. Now, I mean there is no end to flowers also. But think about it, that you are doing it to improve your Chakras.

Then other things that are used like say ghee. Ghee is used. It is for Viśhuddhi. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is very fond of ghee and butter.

So when you rub My feet with say butter, your Viśhuddhi will improve, you know that. Not Mine, I have no problem. I have only one problem that you are within Me and when you have problem I have problems. Because these vibrations have to go to you.

So I prepare vibrations here as an antidote and they have to flow. It's a very subtle thing to understand.

To move from gross to Spirit, this is the thing by which you move, because first you enlighten your Chakras. By enlightening your Chakras, your deities get happy, prasanna. By making the deities happy, you keep; get a passage for the Kuṇḍalinī to pass through.

By making the passage for the Kuṇḍalinī, the Kuṇḍalinī goes up and then your attention starts becoming one with the Spirit. It is step by step, you move from matter to subtler matter, from subtler matter to your Chakras, from Chakras to deities, from deities to the Spirit. Then Spirit enjoys itself.

So there you do not have to do anything. Just give your Spirit to Spirit.

That's why these things were prescribed. Now people could not see this linkage. They thought that, “Why should we give anything to God? After all it is all His own." The argument started. “Why should we put lights? There is no need." But this is an escape. Where are you, at what stage? You are at a stage; you are at a stage where you have to detach yourself from matter. Same with Sahaj Yoga, I find it that you must understand the complete vision of Sahaj Yoga. It's a very big thing you are doing. You are not small.

You are doing a very great work, because it is `the' solution of all the humanity. This is the solution of all the problems, whether political, economic or anything, whatever you call it.

Is not only that but the more people you have, you will be surprised, I'll work out much better.

Collectively I can cure cancer if you are more, if you are clear people. But your channels are so full of problems that nothing flows through you. If you get yourself cleared out, collectively I can stop cancer spreading, because if you spread more vibrations, what happens that the left and right side in Virāt becomes clearer and the attack from the left and right side which creates cancer, all these horrible diseases, will be less. Because there will be less.

But you do not understand your responsibility what you are doing. You are playing into the hands of Satanics. By not paying attention to your cleaning, by not paying attention to your spiritual growth, you are not helping Me at all because these vibrations do not flow out. They have to flow through you. If I could manage them there was no need for Me to run after you. It has to flow through you, you are the channels and if you do not keep yourself clean and humble and meek about it, it doesn't work out. You are not helping Me at all by that.

So the localised problem of yours limited problems, should be given up and see to the bigger problems that you'll be solving. I can stop the happening of cancer completely if I have twenty-one thousand Sahaja Yogis.

Completely, cancer will go out of... leprosy I can control. Cancer already I am controlling, but it'll go down, collectively also. I mean the statistics I've not seen but will go down.

It's a left side attack and the more you try to go to left side there will be more attacks. Right side attacks are also lots of these wars. All these wars and all these things take place because we are invaded from the right side. All these aggressive people like Hitler and all that are aggressing us.

How much it is necessary for you to rise above your lower self. One should understand that and not to indulge into nonsense that you are doing. You have to really work hard for that. Even if you have to get up early in the morning, you have to get up and do it. You should understand your responsibilities, that's the main point is. People are now busy only doing jobs, working here, how much money you get, how much do you go, when do you go to job and all that. That's not important for us. Now that doesn't mean you give up your jobs and be a liability on the ashram, it doesn't mean that! It means you do your jobs, have money, money is needed for the work. I need money, you know that how much money we need for all this work. You have taken such a big project of going to Europe having this little money. It's not possible. But we are doing it somehow.

So, we need money, you have to earn, you have to give; you have to give money.

Here people are, they are not even willing to give ten pounds. Such people. With them where am I going to do Sahaj Yoga? We are so attached to money in a subtler way. We do not understand we have to give money and we have to do it up. Not only money, money's not the only solution; we have to be ourselves channels. But then some people have money, then they are exploited in a wrong way and the money's all wasted. This is precious money, this is auspicious money, this money goes into the right hands into right places.

Problems are created because of that. Now this money I do not need, you know that very well. But for your own betterment you have to give money. Ask Gavin he'll tell you. He's a very generous man and he, he found it very good. It's not that I need a single pai from you. On the contrary I am willing to spend My own money on things, you know that definitely. But, you must understand this work has to be done, so you need money.

I need not tell you that you have to pay money. I have never said this to Indians, I have never told them. They have never given Me a problem you'll be amazed. How they solve their problems God alone knows. They are not the people of money. There's never a quarrel about money. Nobody talks about money, nobody tells Me anything, nothing of the kind. Nobody oppresses anyone or mishandles anyone or controls anyone, everybody does so well. Money is not with one person. Say about two, three people handle it. Everybody knows how much money they are taking.

This one part is important. For solving this problem you give Me rice. It's called as `Otti bharne', that you give Me rice I beg of you, actually. You put it in My sarī. Rice, you give Me five times, I give you seven times back. That's the symbol. You know how symbols work out. Even when you say, `Mother are you the Holy Ghost?' it works out, it gives you realisation. If there is somebody so alert and sensitive sitting before you, you must know how to do the symbols, how to do them properly, with full maturity, understanding, in the proper way. You are very anxious to do the Pūjā, but do you understand, before the Pūjā always there's a quarrel going on.

Somebody who is a very possessed person will come, to begin with and everybody will start fighting. Imagine! You must take your bath, `What are you doing?' In the morning don't talk to anyone. Be in hush condition. You are in for opening out to the great power, which is going to solve the problem of the world.

So you cleanse yourself, you wash yourself; you cleanse yourself, so that you get your Chakras evolved. People talked against it because they became only ritualistic, mechanical; matter became very important. Then only doing these things became important.

But not now, you people are different. You are realised Souls. That doesn't mean that you should take to Sannyāsa or anything. You should, I've told you, you should live like normal people, but a very dignified people. Nothing of indignity, childishness, superuousness or joker-like, clown-like, outstandingly funny, all these dresses should not be worn. You should be properly dressed in a way that you have a presence. I mean this is to a children I am telling you. You must have a presence of grown up Sahaja Yogis, You are all saints. You know such a lot even many saints do not know. You can go and ask so many of them.

There's one thing they know that I am that. That's one thing you do not know. They know that. This is a big difference. Because I am easily available to you, you do not understand. For them I am great.

As I told you yesterday that how these saints have recognized and they have sent people to help Me. In saintliness only, your recognition of Me is poor. Because if it was not, you would not be shouting in My presence, quarreling in My presence. You give Me headaches, you tell Me things, which you should not tell Me. “He knocked at my door” somebody tells Me. He says “he came there, he did this” another tells Me. You should not talk like this to Me.

You are materially again bound by talking. From where does the talk come from? Viśhuddhi. Talk comes from Viśhuddhi, but it starts from, the whole vāṇi, the whole sound starts from much below.

So, to raise it higher there are stages of this sound coming in. And when it becomes madhyama, is in the heart, in the heart region where it just throbs, you do not feel the throbbing. Then it comes here. Here it becomes vaikharī. Then it becomes pashyanti means it sees, it just sees. Then it becomes Para, where it becomes just silent in the awe-ness of the presence. We have to develop those things. But we do not understand that all these things are our attributes, which we have to enlighten and rise. And make every part, every petal of our being beautiful. If you start understanding these small, small things, which are very important because I am talking of very big things. But even a small thing can close your eyes completely.

It's a very big vision I have, very big vision. And that vision can be done through you people. You do not think that you are ordinary. Otherwise I would never have chosen you. But you have no recognition of yourself also, as you have no recognition of Me. You have to recognize yourselves and respect yourself.

Do not respect material things, respect yourself first of all and the matter within you. If you move that way I think you'll understand better what I am saying.

The body of a human being is a temple of God. But this temple has to be enlightened and has to be auspicious. You have to clear and clean your being completely so it's a beautiful temple for God to reside there.

But we deceive ourselves, you see? When I am talking, you listen to Me and you think that “Oh, Mother talked very sweetly, beautifully” finished. But nothing goes inside. Why? Because of lethargy.

Lethargy is a thing, which is a barrier. It doesn't allow Me to go inside you. It's a barrier. It's very sweet thing, which smiles, just you see thinking, “Oh, Mother is saying something nice, it's very great” it gives you happiness and all that, but it doesn't go inside, you do not imbibe. And that's why, try to put your attention to yourself and feel your dignity and honour.

Feel your presence that you have to have a presence and when I tell to some people, they'll say, “I know, Mother, I know I do that." Then why do you do it? That means you are possessed. You are a possessed person that you know this is wrong, still you are doing it. Then you are a possessed person. Then is better you beat yourself with shoes. But that stage should go now, I don't like you to beat yourself with shoes, I mean are you that, that level? But the level is such still.

And your presence is the one that should give Prasannata, is the cheerfulness to others. Others should feel cheerful in your company. A presence is something, which you can understand. A presence has prudence. It understand how to behave in a particular thing. It is not imprudent like it won't rush to a thing. It won't jump on to a thing. If somebody is talking you just do not become absolutely dominating on that. When you talk, you do not talk in a way that is dramatic or sort of theatrical; or neither you talk in a way that is lunatic-like or something like that. Presence has its own balance in the center and that presence must be maintained. Presence is very important and just see yourself: are you having a presence? Some people are very good Sahaj Yogis, but they have no `go', they have no dash, at all. They receive things, they see things, they should have a dash. They have to tell people, but in a way that is congenial, that is sweet, that is beautiful, that works is the point. If it does not work, what's the use? Now again I am going for seventeen days. Really seventeen days I'll be out. I miss you all very much and I feel concerned so much, because you have to still grow quite a lot. I feel that among you there is no understanding of collectivity. A very irritable people; you get irritable with each other, how can you? You are all saints. You must respect each other; you must love each other, talk sweetly to each other. You are all saints! A saint meets another saint, how does he meet? Have you seen anytime, a real saint meeting another real saint? You should see. You do not look like that. The first proof is this. Are you really saints or not. He has gone to India, how they met you? Sahaj Yogi: Take really hold of me.

Shri Mataji: See? Sahaj Yogi: I couldn't believe him...

Shri Mataji: How they meet each other! They'll hug each other and they enjoy each other's company.

They laugh at jokes and understand it is such a congenial thing. Nobody thinks, `I am right.' Nobody thinks like that. Once you start thinking, `I am right and that person is wrong,' `I am doing all right, he's wrong,' finished. They enjoy themselves so much just like one wave it moves, you see? They are all the time laughing, enjoying you know, loudly. They help each other such a lot. It's absolutely worth seeing that.

While we had only five or six people to begin with, in [UNCLEAR Nilambar,] from London. One better than the other. They are all fighting, quarreling and they used to come up to beating. Can you believe it? This was happening.

So shameful I tell you and everybody was coming and telling, “What sort of Sahaj Yogis you have got, Mother? Are they Sahaj Yogis, really?" Arguing and doing this and doing that. All sorts of things were on and they would not inform Me the whole of it, but part of it would come to Me. I was so ashamed. Ask Malcolm. They used to, I mean they would break each other's heads there. This was the condition. Can you believe it? While you would never find any Sahaj Yogis doing that, never, in India. I have not seen anyone. Anybody who tries to be funny goes out, immediately out of circulation. There's no group forming, nobody fights with anybody, nothing. And everybody was surprised how strange these people were, one better than the other. They were very irritable, hot-tempered, fighting and all that. They were so surprised that how can there be.

Give you an example here of Chhaya, see. Despite, she's quite shocked; but she doesn't know how to really beat things, meet. People are so criticising, so this thing, but she's trying to keep the balance. She'll be always at the back. She's never in the forward, when it comes to work she'll be the first to do it. She takes up responsibilities. This is what happened last time. It's not only lethargy, it is worse than that. In lethargy, you see it is a devil's mind and when you come out of lethargy you just come to blows. But as it is in India, I've not seen people coming to blows, I really tell you. Very seldom you'll find people coming to blows. I mean, people never even talk loudly or in a temper, never. Now normally people are very quiet type. Then Sahaj Yogis, Oh! You should see how they enjoy. Oh! The girls and boys and every one, the way they enjoy. Love seeing them. You must try to enjoy each other.

Now the worst thing that can happen to human beings is ego. Worst thing, possession is better, at least you feel the pinch of it. But ego you never feel the pinch. It is you never feel that there is ego in you and you think you are the most correct person, you are the best person and the temper shows here in the nose. I can see the `haw-haw', nose coming up like that.

Such ego, such ego and this ego Indians have also picked up from you. Those who have come in contact with you, you see, as the dog when he comes in contact with human being learns many things, in the same way Indians who have come in contact with you people have picked up ego and we can see the difference.

But in simple villages people try to be nice, congenial, good. How, by understanding auspiciousness. An auspicious presence is soothing, comforting, absorbing, beautiful.

And this, how do you develop? You should do little Ār.ti to My photograph is a good idea. Now when you do the Ār.ti also, somebody is shouting at the top of his voice. He's trying to lead others. Then another trying to lead others, this should not be. There should be some, homogeneous, I can make it out, there's no rhythm. Sing in the same tone, same style, try to make it one, one, concord should be there.

In a humble way, in joyous way that we all are singing, all our hearts are singing. All of us are here to do it.

So many of us are... feel that joy, we are so many.

And it has a very bad effect on others when they see you this way. I mean anybody would be shocked.

Why in India it is spreading, because they see that love between the people.

Now of our attention if you take it to the Spirit you'll feel the collectivity. Attention should be, as I told you yesterday, find out how many times you have talked nicely to others and how many times have you have been quarreling. If somebody says even a harsh word just keep quiet. Do not feel bad, it's all right, it comes and goes.

Now some people are negative in the sense that they are on the left hand side and some people are negative because they are on the right hand side.

Sometimes these combinations work very well. When a dominating man tries to dominate a left handed person, they are great friends, nothing like it. Because one dominates and another takes the domination. As soon as the left hand side person becomes little on the center or tries to come to the right, the dominating ones starts clashing. Then they are the worst enemies of each other. It happens like that, so be on the alert. Now a person who is on the negative on the left side, should try to come in the center and in the same way a person who is on the right side should come to the center.

Now how do you do it? Which is the way we can do it? Let us see it. A person who is very much on the right hand side should try to become friendly with the left hand side and left hand side person should try to be friendly with the right hand side, supposing. Let us start like this.

So what is the give and take in this thing? The person who is on the right hand side will be better organizer, may be, may not be. At least will be a better orator or maybe a better sort of a leader, may be, may not be, you can't say. He may be the one who will suggest things and who will bring out things, who will say “I'll do this; I'll do", sort of thing, maybe. The left hand person will be frightened but will be humble, more loving, more affectionate. He'll be much more at the command of others. This one will be commanding and the other will be receiving the command. This will be there. Now how do we solve the problem of this mixture, you see? The one who is very much on the ego side should try to obey the person who is on the left hand side. And on the left hand side should try to command more on the right hand side person and should be accepted. They, it should be mutually understood, there should be a contract. `All right, I am an ego-oriented person and you are superego-oriented, now let us do one thing. You try to dominate me and I'll try to obey you.' It will work out. It's a psychological style.

You just work it out. Try somebody who is a left-sided person to dominate you. But rather difficult to get left-sided people here. They are very few, because I believe some people were left-sided, but when it comes to ego they are worst than anybody else, you see? So rather difficult, but you can have a person who is left-sided and let [UNCLEAR ten/an] egooriented ask him to dominate. Till he develops his ego, he's all right. If he develops ego stop it. But with complete understanding, watching yourself, how you develop, how far you go, a play should go on. Play with yourself.

But if you are identified with yourself that “I am always right and nobody is right” nothing can work out. I can tell you this much. Because if you are perfect I need not waste My words here.

So the best way is to do this sort of a thing, `All right you order and I'll do. Come along let's see what do you think? Let you organize and we'll do it. You tell us how to do it.' So he will use your heart and you will use your attention, it will work out very well. The combination will be good.

Let us decide to improve ourselves and not to feel bad about it. We have to improve a lot and a lot and a lot, because the relationship between you seems to be so bad. It's like cancer, absolutely cancer. It is malignant.

So try to see your ego and if it's a... now even people if you have told them that somebody says you should say “I'm sorry” they'll not say like that. They'll say sarca[stically]... “Aha, I am sorry” or something like that. They'll say in a sarcastic way so that sorry also has no meaning. All right, all right don't say anything. This is not the way. You should say, `See yourself.

So this ego has come. Now please tell me something else, I'll do it.' Christ washed the feet of His disciples. Just think of that. And that's what a sensible Sahaj Yogi does.

He washes the feet of another disciple. If you remember Aradhna, My granddaughter, when you people came to My house. There were I think about eight or ten of them. She got a small bucket; she washed each and everybody's feet. Every time she would take it back to the bathroom throw it away, again fill it up bring it with great Spirit. She was five years. She had not completed her five years and she would wash everybody's feet, wipe them, again put back. She did for everybody and then after that she came on My feet and then she said “I'm not going to look at anybody, I'm going to run away now I have done my job” and she went away. Aradhna is of a very high quality Sahaj Yogini she is, very high quality. But she thought that this is the best way of washing their feet is showing the essence of collectivity. “Some part of me is not all right, let me clear it." For example if you think of Me and you, you will understand how much I work hard on you. Why? Because I love you very much and you are My part and parcel. If you are not all right I'm not going to be all right. If you consider then, you will never think somebody is lower than you. Is better to wash the feet of someone than to wash your own feet, will be a good idea.

Put down your ego every time.

Mohammad Sahib used this method. But best was used by Nanaka: He said, “Let all the Sikhs do some seva." They have to, as a punishment they have to do some seva.

So, what is a seva when there is a group? Somebody has to sit down. Even one Guru, very big Guru, had to clean the shoes of all the people who came for the program. He was given polish, brush and everything, very recently he was punished to clean the shoes of the people who came round. He was supposed to wash their clothes, wash their things, as a punishment. Anybody who is arrogant should do it. Anybody who quarrels or fights should do it.

Anybody who is blunt should do it. And it worked, it works. They are supposed to wash their clothes, they are supposed to wash their feet, rub their feet, give them a massage and feel better.

In India if you see, all the Sahaj Yogis are working on each other's Chakras. But here nobody will accept even that you have these Chakras caught up. Have you seen that? Everyday they are working, cleaning everybody's, they'll say, “Baba, clean my Chakra” they'll say. Then when they do it they say “Thank you, you've cleaned mine." And then they helped them, they rub their hands, feet because you have done so much work for them. This is not done here. I would like to see more mutual understanding, mutual love, mutual attraction for each other, should look forward to each other. Try to help each other than to criticise. I hate to hear any criticism of anyone from any one of you. But when it gets, goes too much is better to tell Me.

But you must judge yourself, `What are we doing for others?' Some people think, `As long as we keep quiet it's all right.' It's not the point. Try to be nice, give some presents, talk to them and there are so many ways of expression of your love to them. Give sometimes flowers, try to find out what are the likes and dislikes of the person is, is very good idea. Do not do things that people do not like, sometimes you see. It's better not to do it. What is the use? If the relationships are spoilt, not to do those things. Just find out what you don't like.

A simple thing: My husband doesn't like Me to put flowers in the hair. But in Maharashtra all the married women are supposed to put the flowers in the hair, that's a custom. But because of I've married him, he doesn't like because in their community, only bad women put flowers in the head; I have never put flowers in My head. Only when it is a special Pūjā or they tie up, in Maharashtra, there I agree. But I never make a bun and put a thing. It's all right, if he doesn't like it why do it? Unnecessary to increase all the clashes and the problem. Don't do anything that people do not like you to do. Try to avoid, it creates problems. Try to do something that pleases others.

Let us see if you have devised this method how to please. If you please others, your deities will be very happy, because they are all one, within you, within her, within her, they are all one. And they feel happy, because they're all related to each other and they feel unhappy when you try to be unkind to each other, because they are one.

If this is worked out, properly, understandingly, all of you are going to be great saints. I see your image in future also. Of some of you are going to be very, very great and some of you are going to take it up. It's a, it's a project launched. Launch a project against yourself, towards yourself, building up yourself. How sweet you are going to be others, let's have it. Talk to others.

Some people just don't talk, I have seen they are all the time... [silence]; they will have very bad Viśhuddhi. You must talk; you must be nice you must be open-hearted.

This Yugoslav girl is very open-hearted, I like her for that reason. She has a big heart.

Talk with a big heart, open! No secretiveness and this cold, what is it called, English manner? Sahaj Yogini: Aloof?

Shri Mataji: Aloof? Sahaj Yogini: When you keep yourself above people.

Shri Mataji [laughs]: Aloof. I think there must be some English special word for this thing. The way they are cold you know. When you sit...

Other yogini: Stiff upper lip, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Ha? Several Sahaja Yogis: Stiff upper lip... Upper lip.

Shri Mataji: Upper lip? Upper lip, not so much upper lip. There need not be upper lip, could be pride.

[Sahaja Yogis laugh and one makes an indistinct comment at which Shri Mataji laughs.]

Shri Mataji: That kind of a presence is here, [UNCLEAR dour,] which is specialty of English also, isn't it? You go in a train, they just don't talk. I mean they don't allow you to talk, they freeze you with silence. They can't see people laugh, smile or joke, anything a... [silence] and you don't know what to do with them. Newspaper they will read only all the way and they will fold it and read it. But they know each and everything about you.

Sahaj Yogini: Could it be called `insular'.

Shri Mataji: Insular. Ah yes! And is a very dangerous thing for Sahaj Yogis. The one who becomes insular is in for trouble. Is in for trouble, insular. You know why, because you are left alone, you'll be attacked. Be together. All these bhoots also know you are insular. They'll attack you. By any chance you try to become unique, they'll attack you. Even some people become, by talking too much also they can become insular, unique; you sit on top of everybody else. Better be with everyone, is better. Be one with everybody, congenial. Take a joke from others. Other are joking with you, you should not get angry. If somebody joking with you, “Oh! Shut up." Like that one should not do. Take a joke, be a sport.

English language has one very good quality that they can laugh at themselves, you see. All the language has found out ways and methods of how to laugh at yourself, that's something beautiful about English language. I don't think any language has so many words to express these odd situations, which are very, very embarrassing you see. You can only brand them and by branding them, you know where you are.

You exactly know what medicine is needed for this. You see it is like that.

It's just branding, “Oh this is it” and it's very interesting to watch these things in the society and everywhere. Which is described, even Charles Dickens, now example, at that time he found out these things and he said it. And I mean the description of all these things is so beautifully done in the literature that you are amazed how people had a capacity to see themselves, the society as it is and to de... Characterization of people: how characters are built up you see and how it becomes a social problem. It's beautifully done and that's the wisdom. That's the real wisdom of British, I tell you. I mean you may lose it if you start getting dominated by nonsensical ideas, but otherwise that wisdom you have innate. I mean to have a person like Shakespeare itself shows what? I mean you are a country of great people. How can that be? Where some, they are not `some', there are quite a lot of them and you are going to be the wisest because you have the advantage of their creation.

On top of, you have got advantage of your creation. [UNCLEAR Then/That] you belong to a great country like that. Imagine the whole country is getting into the mire of lethargy, who is going to save this country? You people.

So again and again it is against lethargy and whatever is lethargy is anti Christ, is anti God, is anti Mātājī. Try to become cheerful and blissful, happy, dignified, sensible, sweet. It's not too many things, is very few, it's only one. And I know we are going to enjoy life very much. You are going to be very happy people. Take out your tempers from your heads first of all, the angers you see and to say, “I got very angry." Means what? Why did you get angry? To be proud of your anger and temper and your irritations! It will be very beautiful I am sure. You are growing up, but the growth becomes little dwarfed with these nonsensical things, you know.

So you have to protect your growth from these things as we protect a small plant from say frost falling on a plant. It's like that. Frost is nothing compared to the plant, because plant is growing, but the frost can kill it and that's how you do not make it a frost. Be cheerful. People come up and they go down. I've seen people come up and then they go down. Try to look after yourself.

Now after seventeen days I am going to come and see you very beautifully developed and all the time My attention is on you, I work on you all the time. And I'm much more intimate with you than with anybody else, because these people see Me only for two days and then they started crying! They're lost.

But I see you so much, more than even Indians.

Is Paul there? Paul has come? Sahaj Yogi: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: Yes. Hm. Paul, what happened? Paul: I want to get a message to, from the people of India...

Shri Mataji: Ha? Paul:... Apart from the, the people of India send their love. But one of the Sahaj Yogis in India has become very ill.

Shri Mataji: Who? Paul: Professor [UNCLEAR Manneh] in Rahur.

Shri Mataji: I know. But why did you get angry with Dhumal? Paul: Dhumal? By that time I'd really, I'd had enough of seeing in India the way that there's two classes of people in India: those who have a lot of money and those who,

Shri Mataji: And what about in this country? Paul: Well it's the same deal in this country, but the people in this country who don't have a lot of money, at least they have bare necessities of life. You know like a roof over their heads.

Shri Mataji: You went there to do Sahaj Yoga or to do these things? You see, what I'm saying, where was your attention? Now you knows, Dhumal has given realisations to ten thousand people. And he's your elder brother, you should respect him. He has a servant, because in India the situation is different.

If he gives up his servant, he'll have no food to eat.

It's not that everybody use brain. You see this is one thing in this country people do not realise. If you use, you work much harder than his servant, do you know that? Because your brain never stops. His servants works with his hand he doesn't think! His energy goes to his hands, he rests also. You see here the idea is if somebody's working with the hand, it's cruelty. But what about this brain? The amount of brain you use all the time, now tell Me, you cannot stop your thinking, all right? Now see My servant, though he works hard, he's much more relaxed than My husband is. My husband doesn't do even lifting a, say lifting a glass. All right? And what happens, that one can say that this man is a lazy fellow, he's enjoying everything in life, he's enjoying all the comfort while the servant is not.

But My servant is, in a way, is doing his handwork, because that's all he can do; his brain is not that developed. And he has much more rest than My husband has. He's much more relaxed.

Somebody is the hand, somebody is the feet and somebody's the head. But if you do work with your head, is the same.

Now if you are doing work with your head, you have to have certain amount of comfort to your body, otherwise even if you have to suffer on your body, of course I do not say that servants should be ill-treated by any chance, that should not be done, but... And nobody gives your money to anybody else like that.

You see he's paid for it and he does the work with his hands so you can see it. But what about the brain part, do you see the brain how it works? I wish you could have a microscope to see how the brain works and all the Chakras, “cutcutcutcut-cutcutcutcut" going on. One thought itself is a dynamite and you cannot stop it, ask him. Yesterday his thought going on like a machine! There's a machine here working out.

So, this happens and then one should understand that when you go to any country, you are a guest there... He was very unhappy and he wrote a very sad letter to Me and that was not good. You didn't want him to be unhappy, you w, Paul [indistinctly]: What if I write?

Shri Mataji: Ha? Dhumal? Paul: We didn't have an argument.

Shri Mataji: Ha? Paul: I didn't have an argument.

Shri Mataji: You didn't have what? Paul: I told him what I felt.

Shri Mataji: Ha? Paul: I told him what I felt, I just went, I just... you know the most, quite a lot of places in India.

And,

Shri Mataji: You, what did you feel? Paul: Well I felt that if somebody's telling me how many houses they've got and how many houses they're buying, when their servant doesn't have a roof over his head, when the roof leaks and the children,

Shri Mataji: Now, supposing, here people have so many houses which are lying empty, here, in England. Do they give their houses to you people? Do they? Is there any way? How many people you should give also, is there any system by which you should give? See that is not Dhumal's problem, is the problem of the government. Dhumal has houses, he has given a huge big fort to us as a present to Sahaj Yoga. If he gives a house free to his servant, I think he will make him a parasite out of him. Do you know in India, beggars have got big, big buildings? Do you know that fact? Some of the buildings on Marine Drive are owned by people who are professionally beggars.

So if you see some problem it has so many deeper roots, which you do not see. But, you just write a letter of apology to him. I was hurt, very much, because he, he has done such a tremendous job.

He is going to give a huge big place to us for Sahaj Yoga. Nobody has been able to do that so far.

He has given Me ten thousand people as Sahaj Yogis. And when you people say, “I felt” what is this “I” what is this “I"? I know you have a very sympathetic heart, but sometimes you are swayed by it.

Sympathetic heart, to a point is good. It should be prudent heart, it should not be unwise. You must know the sense of proportion. I mean that's a system in India, which is working, but you cannot do without servants. Here also. What is happening to you, without servants, you are all intelligent people, why you live in a mess, in pigsties? Because you are using your brains, you don't know how to use your hands. All these communistic ideas are of no use. People have to do some sort of a job, this job or that job. There's nothing wrong.

Some people who can do brain job, have to do brain job, those who have to do handwork has to do handwork. Of course there should not be much disparity in their living, I agree, but that's not his problem, is the problem of the whole country.

But I tell you even to servants I have seen, you give them something... There was a lady nurse, you see? Once I was rather sick so she used to come and see Me and help Me a little bit.

So I thought just as a favour I must do something to her.

So I sent her by our ship to sea, I said “Let her have a holiday, she'll be all right." So I sent her to Africa. I mean the problems are much deeper than you understand. I sent her to Africa. You know, she came back and she started telling the doctor off. She thought she has become the doctor.

And the doctor told Me, “Why did you do it?" They get into imbalances. You see, even to poor persons, if you give them something like that, they go into imbalances.

I'll give you another very concrete example. My husband, who is very socialistic in his approach and is a good thing, so what he did, was to increase the pay of the drivers. You see the drivers started getting one thousand Rupee, which was very, very big amount. And the lowest clerk gets about say twelve hundred.

So there was a very little disparity. Now the driver's getting one thousand Rupees, was too much. Within six months their wives came to Me. They said, “This was a very wrong thing he did to our husbands.

They have got keeps now; they have started drinking; they have started not giving any money to us." So to poor people if you give them more money, they do not know how to use it, they will be drinking. Poor people drink much more than the rich people.

So they had to be trained how to use money. You just give them money is no use. You do not understand the deeper... thing... People are to be brought up properly.

Like we have got in India Schedule Caste, I agree Schedule Caste is a nonsense, it should not be there, you should not treat somebody as a lower caste, is all right. But what they have brought into now, suddenly, that Schedule Caste must have equal seats, equal rights in every job and everything, whether they are qualified or not.

So you have got people who are not qualified, or even in exams, in the colleges, you must have so many Schedule Caste.

Now what has happened, by doing this kind of a top-heavy work, some muck has come up and they are absolutely useless people, they cannot do administration. Instead of that, what Ghandiji had said, that, “Train them up, educate them, bring them up." Suddenly the educated people are there and some people suddenly, uneducated, nothing, brought to that, they cannot bear it.

Now we had a servant with us who came to Me, who was a, you must be knowing him, Paramshivam, who came down here. And he used to, he was getting hardly hundred Rupees there, we gave him a big pay and everything, when he came here he started misbehaving. Then his mother, when I wrote to them that, “He's misbehaving, I don't know what to do. He has developed all bad habits." He was buying pornography pictures here, going to the pub, then having girlfriends and doing all sorts of things, he started here.

So when I wrote to his mother, what his mother wrote to Me is very interesting to read. She said, “Those people who live in mud, if they have to sleep on a bed, it hurts them." So suddenly giving them something materially is not going to improve him. You have to train them up. You do not know what problems there are of poverty. Poverty is just like leprosy. Leprosy: you know what the leprosy parasites eat? They eat petrol; they thrive on petrol.

So gross it is.

And then, you being an Englishman should not have said it, because English are responsible for the poverty of India, you like it or not. They have created this problem for us, we didn't have this problem before. Our servants were part and parcel of our house. They treated us just like slaves, so we have got this idea from them. How they treated us! I must say Dhumal was very decent not to say this to you, but this is what it is. The way they treated us in India, you have no idea. Even till yesterday we had `White Clubs' where Indians were not allowed on our own soil! When we were independent and they're fighting for it.

They killed thousands of people, raped so many woman there. `We English' should not say that, in that country were we have ruled and made them slaves. You see they did not allow us to come up. What are you doing to foreigners here who are coming up? How you treat them? What racialism you have here compared to what we have in India, we have no racialism. They treated you with such great respect. They should have said, “You are white, so `racialism,' all right we'll ill-treat you." But if you go to Africa they will teach you. Africans, West Indies, they are on top of you. What I'm saying, to break the vicious circle try to understand the problem of every country. From where does this problem come to India and to most of the countries who are underdeveloped. The French, they dominated also many countries. This is also, one should understand that we should not dominate any more. We should wash their feet, that's what it is.

Now you have killed the culture of all the Africans and Africans have taken to all French and English culture. Absolutely, they have prostitutes the same way you have, they have the women the same way you have; their ideas of liberation's the same, only the Indians have resisted you. Otherwise everywhere you have never respected anybody's culture or anything. You have to face it. If you go to South America, you'll be shocked the way people have wiped out all the... all the people who lived there; all of them, one and all. Except for Colombia, can you imagine? Every country, every soul has been wiped out. Just see that.

Of course if he was ill-treating him I can understand, but he doesn't ill-treat. These ideas are Western ideas; they're applicable to you people, not to Indians. And this is the big mistake people are doing is to put your ideas onto us. For example in field reforms, you see? My son-in-law is a very enlightened fellow, he had twenty-five miles, square miles of area of his own. But he used to get his labor from all these areas, he used to provide them everything, he used to pay them very well; they were living very well. Suddenly the idea came, “No. They must have their own land holdings” all right, without understanding that they are to be trained, they are to be brought up, they are not educated, there must be communication, so everybody was given a one patch here and a one patch there and a one patch there and a one patch there.

What happened, that they started getting strangulated in those areas. There was no way of communication to them, they could not get their wheat, they could not get their seeds, they could not do anything, they started starving. And they came to My son-in-law that, “You come forward, you are the one who was the agency in between and you should have done it." But they removed the agency and without training these people.

Ghandiji suggested these things. He said that, “You must enlighten the rich people and you must also try to emancipate these people by education, by making them understanding” and all that. There is a huge, areas in India, which are called as `Backward Areas', where these aboriginals live. They do not believe in any sedentary habits, they are like, what you call the gypsies.

So what they do, these people plough their fields and all that and they come in the night and plunder it. And they live like that. And they have been living like this and they feel very happy about it. They second is this [UNCLEAR], the so-called poor of India. You must see how leprosy grows also. They started in Maharashtra a scheme by which they said, “We will provide you jobs and otherwise we'll give you a dole." Now this is the worst thing that can happen to anyone; that we have realised very soon, I hope they have withdrawn it.

So they what they did, Indians as it is they are very cunning and clever, so what they did they would go and write their names as the people who are doles, getting doles, you see? And they would work somewhere and get the dole as well, double money. Then they would go and drink. What are these people doing, but to drink? It's such a problem, prohibition; they, they drink iodine, they drink, what you call this... What do you eat, drink for this thing, it's some sort of sulphuric acid or some sort of an acid they drink? I don't know? Various Sahaja Yogis: Meths... Methylated Spirits.

Shri Mataji: Methylated or whatever... [laughs]. I don't know! I don't understand.

So, you see they are so foolish, what I am saying that taking up anything like that at random is not good.

And I was sorry because his wife wrote to Me, “How much they have done for Sahaj Yoga." The only solution is Sahaj Yoga. There's no other solution, which he has helped Me a lot.

“You see” and he was very sorry he said that, “How am I to do without servants?" You see the servant system is like that. If he gives roof to everyone he'll be left with no house. There's not done, this kind of generosity's not done anywhere. If there was such an agency like that, which was doing such a work, it is possible.

Even the so-called communists everywhere, wherever they are in a democracy, have their own properties.

Once the democracy will go away they won't be able to even talk.

But I do not say that Capitalism is the solution; I say Sahaj Yoga is the solution, all right? It is the Sahaj Yoga and he's done so much for Sahaj Yoga. For that servant we cannot in any way insult him; servant is not important for us, who is the servant? Who are these poor people to us? We are not responsible for them, the state is responsible. We are responsible for Sahaj Yogis, because they are the people who make the difference. What does it matter if thousand people die or live, to God? He can create thousand more? There are people who are realised, even poor people, but our attention should not be shifted otherwise we'll become like that lady, Theresa. She collects money from people, she has no money of her own. She gets people who are somewhere dying and she, she has mission, I...

Contents: 1980-09-29*, Public Program, Hotel Waldhaus Dolder, Zurich, Switzerland

[Introduction by Gregoire:] I would like to introduce very quickly Sahaja Yoga and Mātājī. It is beautiful thing to do, it is not an easy one to introduce Sahaja Yoga. It is not an easy one because there are many, many propositions in the sale of spirituality, which are running in the market, hence Switzerland is a very unfortunate country, very unfortunate, because Switzerland is rich country. Being a rich country all the people who have been attracted by money had come down here. We have gone with Sahaja Yoga in countries like Portugal and Spain and there we have noticed that many hundreds of people got their Self-realisation without any problem. One of the reasons was that none of these people had been exposed to any of the false prophets, which today occult Gurus. In Switzerland it's very different because most of the fake Gurus have taken the head quarters in Switzerland.

So first of all at the level of cybernation, at the level of energy, there is a lot of negativity and whenever people come they have a lot of problems.

So we should be, may be proud that our trains are running on time, very happy that this itself, we should, however may be aware that there are other problems that they are very much there in our shoulders in this country. This is one reason for which that there are so few people here, whereas everywhere else there are many hundreds of seekers who have come together for Self-realisation. Because, with Mātājī, what is the whole thing about is not brain-washing you, giving a pep talk on Kuṇḍalinī, Chakras and Spirit. It is not giving you a lecture on spiritual achievements. What Sahaja Yoga is about is to let you actually experience your own Self-realisation and Self-realisation is that is, is what has been promised by all the great spiritual leaders such as such as Guru Nanak such as Mohammed, such as Lao Tze, such as of course, Socrates and Lord Jesus Christ. Several realisation is happening. Now Mātājī is the only person, I know a lot of people, I went to California I mean I have met all kind Gurus. Mātājī is the only person who come Her own and say that I will give you your Self-realisation.

She is the only One who does it because She is the only One who has the power to say so. And indeed every time is happens that after a program of Sahaja Yoga, many, the majority of the people lead the whole having felt their Self-realisation. What it is Mātājī will explain to you, more in details. What have you just try to say may be that, we have all been looking for this thing. We have all been seeking.

Actually in my generation, when you were throwing stones at policemen, it was not human. May be the most intelligent thing we did in the nineteen sixties, but it was not totally purposeless either. I mean, basically there has been a generation, which has been seeking something, members of which today are nicely settled down as director of insurance agencies say is well, was all nicely, was all wrong. It's not true. It's not true that the quest is meaningless, it is not true that it reached nowhere. The quest has a meaning, the meaning of this quest, the meaning of our life. The meaning of our life is to find the `Self'. And whoever has all the great pictures of mankind know this, know that outside of the self there is no happiness, there is no fulfilment, you can seek it in power, in wealth, in woman, in whatever you like, you won't get it, because the `Self' is joy and the `Self' is the source of joy. Now who can give you Self-realisation? Who can give? Not an ordinary one. This is very important, it has question. Because when we face the extraordinary or when we relay to the design we need push it back in to the past.

So everybody become a great Catholic or a great Mesuline [UNCLEAR] or great Ayatulla or great Silopro [UNCLEAR], because it's very easy to live with a Divine personality when the personality is no more.

Because can you do whatever you like with it? You are no more confronting with it. Or you push it in the future.

So you are the Jeodar [UNCLEAR] witnesses, which are waiting the Christ to come or Hare Kṛiṣhṇas who are waiting for Kṛiṣhṇa to come and they gather regularly to say now He is coming on such and such date and as He does not come they say we prayed so much but He didn't come. You know, it's all a bit foolish and He does not or He does is not the point... [UNCLEAR]. The point is that we have now to experience what we have been seeking for and experience it in the present.

And to face Mātājī in the present is not difficult at all. What it requires is just to be open. To be open, to be aware that belief is not the point, understanding is not the point, the point is to become what we want to become. The point is to become that part of our `Self', which is within us. To face Mātājī we need no more than this, this honesty, this seeking and also a drop of humility, because it's not a market place.

None of us need you, very frankly. We don't need your money. We have plenty of it, I mean because we are working. We don't need social status, by the grace of God we are born in families who are all right.

We don't need popularity, neither does Mātājī need all these. She is born in a royal family, She is the wife of one of U.N. General Secretary. She has everything that you can wish as a human being. She is a mother, a grand mother. She is of course a married woman. This is a very different background mind you than other Gurus, most of them were train collector or this kind of thing. The reason I explain you this is that you must realise that one has to see the whole picture of someone. Everybody has come to Mātājī as a human person, has seen Her absolutely compassionate. Knowing the problems of all kind of human beings never ending, Her husband disclose that She knows the pain that She knows also the fullest details of problems of the painter who has to come to you know paint the wall of a at. And he is a drunkard and he has a problem with his wife and Shri Mataji helped him and very much so.

She has knowledge of human beings, in the human quality, which is amazing and She is led in this understanding by a boundless compassion. And also She very much as amicable, thus [UNCLEAR] super human knowledge. What Mātājī will talk about this evening is very human because it handles our being, emotional, mental, physical, spiritual and it's also superhuman because it is the way we can reach that higher level of awareness which has been promised by, again by Christ and by all the other incarnations.

Mātājī is not a saint, Shri Mataji is not a leader, She is not a Guru, She is, I don't dare saying She is not a Mother, because She is that, but I would like to say that She is all these and much more. And please forgive me if I push it through you straight now so that we are always in time. Let's not done a lies [UNCLEAR], let's not a false shyness, let's not try to make trivial some thing, which is actually safer. I have approached Mātājī like all others, I mean with a lot of questions in my mind, very analytical, extremely skeptical, ups and downs, ups and downs for... [UNCLEAR]. And She will own on experimental basis I could check every thing, which She is teaching and above all I could see how positively I have been changing in my own life. This doesn't mean anything to you because you didn't know me five years ago that five years ago I was in trouble. I was back from the U.S., I had a lot of all kind of analytical things in my system, wrongs, other things. And I was pretty normal, I mean I had done my studies, all that was quite there.

That I was pretty abnormal, because I could not stop thinking any more. I was a very disturbing sign.

Now I am very much in I can say very quietly because it is simply true. This you know it happens or it does not happen that if it happens you know someone very great has worked it out.

So you are facing now someone, who is of boundless compassion and who is also very, very great power. Who that person is, is also no mystery because the meeting with your `Self' is triggered by the awakening of a energy, which is the energy of the Holy Spirit within us, energy which is called Kuṇḍalinī in Sanskrit. And it is written in the scriptures that, that energy can be raised by a very, very high Guru after many, many lives of practices. That coincides with the Mārkandeya puran and in the writings of Śhrī Ādi Shañkarāchārya. It is written very clearly that this energy is vision by the wave power of Bhagavati.

Bhagavati is a name for Divine Mother. Divine Mother is all about for Holy Spirit. And it's very simple, I don't know how to avoid saying it. You can't have a father and you can't have a son without having a mother somehow. I mean, so that's it. Everything I say is no matter of faith, it's no matter of belief.

You are not meant at all to accept any of my words. My words are just supposed to bring in, I profess it to you, which is very cheerful because it says this hypothesis that there is here some one sitting down here who has the power to raise my Kuṇḍalinī, who is a Divine personality and this I really would like to emphasize. And I am fortunate enough to meet Her. It is may be our sorrow that there are many more of you, which are here this evening that it doesn't really matter because in this realm it's really the quality of the seeker who comes. We never were in the circus I mean never there, that those who are seeking will come there. Mother I think I should end up here...

[Shri Mataji's Talk:] It was very nice Gregoire came to speak in this manner. Actually this is the second time I am coming to Switzerland. It's such a beautiful country that surprisingly all the negative forces are attracted towards it and they want to spoil the beauty of the Lord. But even among human beings we can see how people have become so reckless in this country, such a beautiful country where God has blessed you with everything that the rate of suicides in this country are today the highest. We have to think about it, why young people of this country try to suicide? It's a very sad thing. You have taken everything for granted, not to understand that there are some undercurrents, which are throwing us towards our self-destruction, towards our complete frustration.

I have been studying human nature since ages I should say. In modern times the human nature has changed very speedily, because the speed has taken no time. Specially, in all the developed countries lots of things have been written, lots of ideas have been floated and people have taken a line of thinking in most of these that life is futile. It's not but theory. The reason is you cannot live with what you have, within yourself there is a seeking of the beyond. You cannot be satisfied with what you have. That seeking loves [UNCLEAR rany/many]. Even if you try to avoid it by, say, going to some few places, reading some book, going to the church, going to the temple, doing this and doing that but you cannot be satisfied unless and until you have achieved your Self-knowledge, unless and until you have become your own `Self'.

It is not possible, because you are meant to get it.

Sahaja means that, Sahaja means one that is born with you. This urge is born within you, you are born with the urge. As you have the urge to eat, in the same way this urge, which is very subtler urge, is becoming so evident in modern times. In most of the developed countries, that people do not understand why, why is it they are committing, these people are committing suicide. The thing is from inside they are seeking something. They are not sure as to what they are seeking. They are very week and when they approach the subject of seeking, may be they have lost in this big universe, they don't understand how to get it. On the contrary in the East I would say especially in India, thanks to the climatic conditions in India that people didn't have to fight the nature so much. They have been practicing meditation in the forests since ages and they have been able to discover many things about our being within and what is our seeking and actually why are we born. This question has been looked into in the same way as you have looked into the scientific research in the modern countries. And they have been able to see within themselves that there is a power called as Kuṇḍalinī in the triangular bone, which is the source by which our germination takes place, our second birth takes place.

For example for all of you Bible is the book and if Christ is the ideal then Christ has said many a times that you have to seek. Actually the message of Christ lie is seeking. The message is delivered. He has talked about it often on, often on, but some how that seeking has been stopped as if people felt that does not possible so forget it. But you cannot stop because this is natural to us. As it is natural for you to be a human being, it is absolutely natural for you to be something more than that. If you do not achieve it, not today, tomorrow you will have to come to a point and you will have to find out what is the reason, why am I here, what am I doing, what is the purpose of my life. Is it meaning less, or is it just to earn some money, live well and die? The question should be asked by the scientist, why we are created out of a amoeba a unicellular animal into human being? Why? Why this big process of evolution took place within us? And what is the purpose of this human being who is half baked yet, who does not know who knows half, who does not half, what ever he knows he knows through his rationality, but there is no actual understanding, actuality within us, know whether there is spirit or not.

Are we to believe that all those people who talked of the spirit and of the second birth were false people or they were just trying to misguide us? They were not. They are absolutely truthful about it. The problem is they had born on the church shown and they see something, which the people on the ground floor can not see. That's why they crucify them, they kill them, they poison them and they never accept them. And this is the reason something has to be done to the common masses that they reach at least first or the second story to see that some thing beyond. This is very important and the time has come as I always say the blossom time has come. Now we went to, say Madrid is a place I had never been there, we just put an advertisement, we had about hundred people and most of them got realisation. Just like that. They can, because the time, when the time has come that maturity has reached, many flowers have to become the fruits.

It's a living process, it's a living process of transforming you into something else which is the fruit of this age. The process is working out from the very beginning from ancient times till you have come to the human stage and now you have to become that where you start understanding this Divine Power, which has worked it out. Everything is Sahaja. It's spontaneous. Sahaja is born with you. Like in the seed there is map of the whole creation, which is going to be there. In the same way within you lays all the map everything how far you have to go. Now the question is what have we to seek? We have to seek our `Spirit'. Now what can we do about it? Actually we cannot do any thing about it. That's the fact.

Because to become a human being what did you do? Did you stand in your heads or read some books.

Nothing. It just happens. It's spontaneous.

It's God's grace that has made you human beings and you are going to be something else also because of the same ways. You cannot do anything about it once you know this fact that it is effortless. All living processes are effortless. For example a flower becomes a fruit without any effort. It is spontaneous. In the same way you also achieve that state, effortless, is a fact. Those people, who tell you give us ten francs and we will teach you how to reach to God, better tell them there is no ticket. There is no way of doing it. If they tell you that you stand on your heads three days, you will become Self-realised, it's absolutely wrong, because, if it is a living God and the living process, it cannot be manufactured or it cannot be putting to it. But it is very difficult for people to understand that you can achieve any thing without paying for it, specially where Zurich and all these places and banking is the main thing. You see we can, I have no banking or even, of God. But you cannot purchase God. You cannot purchase it. You cannot perceive it. You cannot organize it. If you want to organize God, you are sadly mistaken. He organizes you. He looks after you. It is his grace that is wanted. It is not that you can make God to think but it is He who should do it out of His grace and love for you. It is a very different thing, while the fake people have just floated a market. Just imagine, market of God. It is all predicted in all the scriptures that they will be coming and they will be saying I am Christ I am Christ and they will be floating a market. But this is the one thing one should see those who have floated the market can not be Christ. Cannot be anything Divine. This first thing one should find out if the person is trying to make money out of you selling God then he has nothing to do with God. With God he is anti. This is first thing one should do. It has to be compassion, it has to be love. And compassion, which just flows, which doesn't ask for, just flows. It just emits from your being. Just to give and not to receive anything on the other hand.

As you remember once somebody touched Christ and he said the energy has passed into the person.

Is that correct? It's flowing. True. All the time it's flowing, it is to be received with an open mind and to achieve what you have to achieve like the Sun's rays are received by the flower to become the fruit. What does the flower do? Nothing, it just receive the power of the Sun and becomes a fruit. In the same way this happens and He has very nicely placed within us, all these different thing just to achieve the spirit.

Now as you see here, there are seven centers are shown in this picture out of which the lowest one is placed below the Kuṇḍalinī, it's placed below the germinating power. This one is placed here. This is your innocence. You are born in innocence. Firstly human beings were born in innocence. This is the center of your innocence. We all were born innocently. And this represents the quality within us, which is absolutely pure, which is purity. And above the Kuṇḍalinī, the rest of the centers are there which they denote our different ascent in our evolution. Vertically it is the evolutionary process and horizontally it is our subtle and subtler and subtlest development of physical, mental, emotional and spiritual being.

So as you see these centers exist within us, in our spinal cord, then in our brain and then in the limbic area, which is encircled on top of the head. These centers are actually subtle centers but they manifest themselves out side as gross plexuses. For example the lowest one, which is called in Sanskrit language as Mūlādhār Chakra. It manifests your pelvic plexus. The second one, which is called as Swādhiṣhṭhān Chakra manifests as your aortic plexus. The third one, which is called as Maṇipūr is manifested as solar plexus.

Then higher than that is the, what you call as heart center, you can call as a Hṛiday Chakra is manifested as your cardiac plexus. Then, here is the center, which is called as Viśhuddhi Chakra is manifested outside as cervical plexus. On top here is a very subtle center between your pituitary and pineal body, which is called, as Āgñyā Chakra, is a very important center, is the center of Christ. And on top here in between here is the center of we can say, we call it Sahasrāra means a... we can say the center of one thousand petals, Sahasrāra. And this is the center of your limbic area, which is responsible for opening the top most point here in the fontanelle bone, which is called as the Lakṣhmī means, the hole of the Divine Power where in through which we enter into subtle awareness of divinity. This is baptism. This is actual baptism. Not a false one, where just some body comes from the theological college, bring some water and puts on your head and say now you are baptized. That's not actual, because Kuṇḍalinī hasn't risen with that, because the person has to have authority from God's college. If the person doesn't have that authority if a person is not enlightened already, he cannot enlighten another person. It's a very simple thing, like a candle which is not enlightened cannot enlighten another candle. It has to be enlightened to enlighten another candle.

In the same way person who is not enlightened cannot raise the Kuṇḍalinī. You have to be an enlightened person, a realised person, a person who is twice born and a person who is called also as `Brahmin' in India of course its all words as par. Even `Christian' means the person who is baptized. Baptized in the real sense and not in an artificial. Artificially if you suppose I take a telephone and starts dialing and there is no connection will it work? It is a very simple thing. The one who has no connection with the Divine has no right to raise the Kuṇḍalinī, he cannot. Whatever you may try it won't act. Because, She understands.

She knows everything, She coordinates everything, She works out everything, She is your mother and She loves you very much.

So She knows who is the person who is responsible and that's how spontaneously the Kuṇḍalinī rises. You are just made ready. No instrument is there. It's like a computer, it's all ready.

Just to be put to the mains. And once is put to the mains you are surprised at the manifestation of your own.

Like I would say in this place, you can say that there is lot of music and lot of scenes and things like that and there is lot of colour. But you won't believe till you have a television set and you put it and plug it to the mains, you start the manifestation of the television and you get surprised. In the same way you are an instrument most beautifully made. Absolutely so beautifully made that once you discover it you will be amazed as to what you are. The reason is the self-esteem, is not possible because you have not known your `Self', you have not known your `Self', you have not known your own beauty and your values.

I can see that spirit, I see that the path remains. And I know that with little patience I will work it out, the clouds will go away and you will shine in your own beauty. It works out through this awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī. Now there have been also many Gurus who are talking of raising the Kuṇḍalinī. I mean whatever you talk they are there. Like everything has a plastic reproduction, in the same way even about God in modern times your plastic production of Him [UNCLEAR]. Now they will say they we raise the Kuṇḍalinī, we do this and we do that, then why do you take money? If it is living process why do you need money? It just flows automatically. Why should you take money for that? Or why should you in any way connect it with material? If it is spiritual, you cannot exchange material for the spiritual. It is very necessary, specially in Switzerland for people to know that how these Gurus are exploiting. But still despite the fact so many things have been found out. Last time when I came to Switzerland, Gurwada has taken Me to one of the Gurus place and he showed Me this is one of the Gurus place. And within eight days he was caught by the police and I was surprised that he had a nurse who had poisoned some people and all that and he was caught by the police. But still people believe in such things because they mesmerize.

They do not want to give it up.

Now in England recently a Guru came from America and he has already got fifty-eight Rolls-Royces, imagine. Fifty-eight Rolls-Royces. And he wrote to them that if you give me a Rolls-Royce, I will come to you.

So these four things start themselves for the whole year. These are seekers, these are real seekers, you see, mesmerized by these horrible Satanic people and they starve themselves and after a year this fellow came in. They gave him a Rolls-Royce. When some of the Sahaja Yogis went and asked, “Why did you do it” they said, “You see, he has given something special, we live in another world, you see” because mesmerized person lives is like a mad man, he doesn't know where he is living, and, “He has given us that." So we just give him what matter. What is Rolls-Royce, is matter. We give him matter and he gives us spirit. There is no exchange. You cannot exchange spirit for matter. Spirit stands by itself, by its beauty, by its glory. You cannot exchange it for anything and you cannot force it to express itself. It has to happen. There has to be a happening within. Then only we can feel the spirit in our attention.

The thing is so far we have got our nervous system and that nervous system we are aware of. We know how to increase the rate of our heart, supposingly jump or run the heart increases in its rate. But automatically it comes. Now when we say it comes down automatically people say there is an autonomous nervous system that does it. Now who is this auto? Autonomous system means there is some auto. Now who is this auto? Which auto is doing this job? That they cannot answer. And then they say, o that part we do not know. I mean they are very honest about it. But if somebody can say that through meditation we know who is this auto, they don't want to believe it. Because, I am talking our unlimited sphere, where you become absolutely collective, you become unlimited. Because now through you start flowing unlimited force, the unlimited energy of God's love. You cannot reach there through this limited rationality. When you try to rationalise it either you will go to the left or to the right.

Left and right, there are two areas within us. And these two are really dangerous. You have to go on top of the head. On the left hand side we have the area, which we call as collective sub conscious. All that is dead within us since the creation resides in that area. Recently, to My amazement I saw a program in the BBC where they showed that cancer is caused by some sort of a protein matter that invades us from the areas unknown to us within ourselves, which were built since that age. And these are the areas we have got within us according to Sahaja Yoga and that's why Sahaja Yoga can cure cancer. Because when the attention through the help of the Kuṇḍalinī raises and enters into the realm of the spirit which is here then you cannot go to the left or right but you keep to the center. Once you try to go too much on the left or too much on the right then there is an invasion on both the sides and you can become overactive, so active that you cannot stop your thinking. Gregoire was one of the victims of one of such an attack on him because he went all out for his search into all sort of people he went and there I found that he was caught up and he could not stop his thinking, his mind was going on like that like a mad horse and when he came to Me he was in a very bad shape. Now this comes from right hand side movement. But it can come also from left hand side movement. Any way if you move away from your center being, you fall into the area where you are attacked. Now cancer can be cured through Sahaja Yoga. I have been saying this for so many years. Of course we have done it. Also for your information I can tell you that our president, president of India was cured through Sahaja Yoga. His cancer was cured. He had a cancer, he went to America and the whole operation was unsuccessful. He was just dieing. He came to London and there I happen to meet him for ten minutes. You can write to him and find out. And you must [UNCLEAR].

But the trouble is people don't believe it. Even the doctors when they come to Me they are very skeptical.

But once they get a cancer they come to Me to get cured. The trouble is the whole thing is unbelievable.

It is such a dynamic thing, it is such a fantastic thing that people cannot believe it.

Only thing you should know that there is a power all-pervading which exists all around, which thinks, which understands which coordinates. We do nothing. Human beings have this ego for nothing at all.

They really don't do anything. For example what do we do is to making a chair. Just a tree is there. We make it into a chair, a dead into a dead. Any living thing do we do? Can we transform a flower into a tree? You can't. Billions and billions of such things are done every moment on this earth and is done through this Divine Power of God. We have to feel that, we have to become that. We have to be instrumental.

God has specially made this instrument in such a way that ultimately you get connected to the whole.

Once you get connected you start feeling your working on collectivity. Your awareness becomes different and from your hand Cool Breeze starts flowing and energy starts flowing. And you can feel another person through this Cool Breeze. You can feel it, what centers there are catching. You can see on the hands we have shown. When these centers are enlightened how these sympathetic centers on our hands, you can feel it and you can find out what's the matter with another person. What center is catching, where is the problem, what we have to do. It's an integration of a person, completely because these, all the centers represent our different beings. When the Kuṇḍalinī passes through them, She pierces through them just like a thread through many pearls and integrates. But when She enters through this path, then she enters into this awareness, this dynamic awareness of which we become an instrument, which starts flowing, you can feel it. Then as Gregoire has said, he was really very skeptical [UNCLEAR], he wanted to find out, he could not believe it.

Though you have heard about it, you know that there is a God's power and all that but you could not believe it.

So you try to experiment, you try to find out what Mother says is correct or not. And when he found out then he was amazed. And that's how he is a Swiss person and he felt that his country must know this and it has to happen in Switzerland also. Why not? I said all right, “I will try to come." But you see how is the response that people are enamoured in a materialistic country by the outward show and the service. God does not have any service nor outward show. It is what it is. What is there to show when it is there why should we show it off? But the trouble is that you have to talk and tell them about the people who are trying to enamour them because they are seekers that you do not seek God in the way you seek other things. For God you have to have a happening within you, an actual experience with in you, it's a real actualisation. Why the happening is within us? Why should we deal without happening? The thing is you are paying attention to Me now. If I say pay attention to yourself, you cannot do it.

Because that's not the way you can manage it. Your attention is always outward, you cannot take it inside.

Supposing something falls down, immediately your attention will be there.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises your attention is attracted inside and it is actually pulled like a sarī is pulled up and is taken to this place where there is seat of the spirit. But actually the spirit resides in the heart.

Today is on My way to home, I have come here for one day. It's an introductory lecture actually and I do not want to cover the whole subject because the subject is too big. And whatever I may say has no meaning and lesson to the lecture of realisation. That's one thing. That is that you must get your realisation. But that it will happen to you cannot be promised. Will happen or may not happen but should happen to all of you. It has happened to so many people. Why not to you? It should happen to all of you. But for that you have to keep your mind absolutely open. Because it is proven, it is fantastic, it is proven. But this you have to have. This is your own right to have.

So Yoga means the union. This union you have to have. This is in your own right as a human being, in your own right as a seeker you have to get it. And if not today you will come tomorrow, if not tomorrow you will come some other day.

Those who are all seeking this way here and there will be all be saluted and will come to Sahaja Yoga.

But when you go round here and there you will get hurt. There are problems. I have seen some people have Kuṇḍalinī, which is just wounded and She just moves on, banging here and there as She cannot rise.

She is wounded, She is bleeding. It is only because of these Satanic people have done something to Her.

And there are so many ways they know how to ruin your chances of realisation.

Now one may say what is My interest? It's only I should say, “My wish." I do not know, because I have no interest at all about anything. It's only that I have to give. What is the interest of the Sun in giving us light? It's just giving because that's the nature of a person. That's the nature of the Sun that it has to give. That's how it works. There is no other interest but that. Of course when I see so many flowers turning into the fruits naturally, it's such a joyous thing and it should happen because this is the last judgment. This is how you are going to be judged through the awakening of your Kuṇḍalinī. This is the last judgment. There is not going to be somebody standing with a weighing machine and weigh you.

It is the Kuṇḍalinī, which is the center point, which is the central what you call pointer by which you will be judged, all of you. And you will judge yourself. But this judgment is not the way people think that it is a second judgment. Though the Kuṇḍalinī rises in split of a second, but you will be given complete chance to correct yourself, the all right and that is what it is.

On such a one-day lecture I think I have said quite lot about Kuṇḍalinī and tried to cover-up most of the points. But in details we will be dealing with when I come back here for three days and we will have to do something about it. Now if you have any questions please ask Me. That's a good thing, because unless and until you ask Me questions I have to give what are the problems. And then we see how many of you can get realisation. In a way it is good on the first day that you get it, because you can get it better.

So not to feel unhappy about it. You see because you get so unhappy, see these people because they have got it they want to share it with you. Because they have found it so they want to do it. They are just like you, very ordinary normal people as you are all of them and nothing special about them to look at. But they have changed their lives, they are transformed. They are very happy people and they are doing this work themselves.

So that's how they feel little unhappy about it that the people in Zurich have not given response. But I am not, because the beginning is always so small, always and some times it can be a sign of a biggest thing. For example if you see the biggest tree in India is called as Aswathama.

It's a tree, which has such a small little seed, such a small little seed that, it is the biggest tree.

So it starts with a small seed. There is nothing to feel bad about it. It's better to have people of quality few of them than to have many with out any quality without any sense in that.

So I would say that you should feel quite happy about what ever is there we have very nice people and you will get realisation and the [UNCLEAR second round is correct I think] is going to work out very well.

May God bless you.

Now please ask Me questions. It's important because today we have some time and it would be a nice idea to know about what people think in Zurich.

Seeker: You told us about baptism I am a Roman catholic. Roman catholic belief says you said by just doing this water... that certain person who can do that not all persons do that and... Roman catholic believe says everyone can do it. The water is... and doesn't need much... spirit of God should come in [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I will tell you, I know this problem I have been facing throughout, because Catholicism is a very strong hold everywhere.

So I am not surprised at your question. But I will tell you. You see, now I will tell you that supposing there is a policeman standing on the road and he stops, you stop your car.

But supposing somebody says I am the policeman, will you stop your car? Supposing he believes, he has a belief that `I am the policeman,' will you stop your car? He has to have authority. Now, from where do you get your authority? You have to get it from God. Now what is the sign? Christ has said again and again and again and again that you have to seek your self, you have to born again. Which Catholic people are doing that? You see, just tell Me. Just tell Me very frankly. I have not seen any Catholic person who is seeking God. They are only satisfied, in going to Church, coming home nothing else. By reading Bible what have they achieved ages together now we have had Catholicism? Nobody is a realised Soul. On the contrary I was amazed now she is another Catholic who was with Me before her I tell you in Madrid they were at least hundred twenty people, all of them got realisation except for one doctor and why? I asked him and these people told Me he is a Catholic. It's a fanaticism. Belief is our mental attitude. Why do you believe? I tell you why do you believe in Christ though I am absolutely that? But I would say Why do you believe in Holy Ghost also? Have you seen it? Have you felt it? Ask for, ask for the real. If you live with something belief, you will die with it. Ask for the real. If there is Holy Ghost, if there is Divine Power, you should feel it. I think all the Catholics should ask, where is that? That is promised. What about the second birth? How long? You see your father was Catholic, his grand father was a Catholic, her great grand father was a Catholic, the whole progeny has been of Catholic. What have they done? What have they achieved? You see, we have to see that we have to be born again. We are to be born again.

Saintly life and all that is there. But Christ came. Why was it necessary for Christ to come when Moses has told all these things? Why did He come? He came to give the message of resurrection. He came for you to know that you have to become the spirit. You have to be born of your spirit. That was it. Now how many of these people who are baptizing are `born again'? This is the point. Today, sir you are accepting Catholicism, but your children won't. In London, people are selling their Churches. I mean what a shame? I feel hurt about it because this is Christ's one and because you have not put forward the real thing it is going to fade out, everywhere. Everywhere it is going to fade out. Now I live just in front of a picture hall [UNCLEAR] in London. And they are going to start a discotheque. Really it is a fact.

I mean imagine what a thing it is! Because they want to attract the young people. Now I have so many young people as My disciples in Europe and in India. I do not have to keep them attracted because they are attracted because of the truth that they are spirits. Give them the truth. It's the living God you have to give them. Do not talk, give Sermons, this that, what's the use? Tell Me what's the use. Everybody believes in this thing that `I have met Christ.' All nonsense. Unless and until you have the power, unless and until you become real Christian, it is no meaning. Then what happens? Then you start feeling others.

You know, what's the matter with the person. You can feel. The energy flows through. You can raise the Kuṇḍalinī, this living thing you can. You can see with your naked eyes, this Kuṇḍalinī pulsating. You can see it rising with your naked eyes, which is a living thing, which you cannot do.

So far human beings cannot do anything living. After realisation, they can do. Have they created living people, any living experience? Nothing, all dead. I have nothing against Catholicism as such, but where are you going? You know how far you have come spiritually. After realisation, you know, you know well. You know well what Chakra is catching, where are you, how to rise. You see there is nothing like `Christ coming,' somewhere hanging in the air. It's a big tree of life. Christ was the fruit of that tree. You must know others also. He said that those who are not against me are with me. Who are those? Who are those about whom he said? He said “I will appear before you like tongues of flames." You really see your Chakras like “tongues of flames"? Now let the questions explain, we cannot. They have their own interpretation. All mental. It is not mental, it is the vibratory awareness, which is going to give you the interpretation. For example, if I ask you, “Is this gentleman realised or not?" Can you tell Me? Can any? Please say whether he is realised or not. But he can say, whether you are or not which [UNCLEAR beast] it is [UNCLEAR]. And you don't know what is happening in case to God also. One should face it.

It is very clear-cut because now I am getting into trees [UNCLEAR] as My research. When I see them I am surprised, they said that from inside they are getting absolutely choked. This every day confessions and things coming to us and we want to seek. There are so many priests who go to India in ordinary dresses for seeking. They are going all over the places for seeking. Because they are human beings, they want to seek. I had to... [UNCLEAR] we had trees [UNCLEAR] who came to us, who are seeking.

And they have got their Gurus in India and the Guru one she told Me was a realised Soul. How will you know? What I am saying this, no way of knowing. You are in a blank.

So what will happen? Tomorrow your children will be born with intelligence, they will not accept any blind faith. They will say, “Give us the proof of what you said." They say, “We do not even accept Bible." Give us the proof.

So somebody has to give the proof and you have to establish the one, which is being refused by everyone. I am here to prove everything, prove your scriptures, prove the Bible and prove the whole thing that is the truth. I am not here to establish a Church, which is just built on bricks. But every human being is a Church. That's what I am here to prove it. And what these people have proved is nothing.

I went to Shah, such a nice beautiful temple they have made. There is not a single person is thinking of God. Not a single person thinking of seeking. They are just watching all the paintings, this that. Nobody has anything in a... One should understand that we have to find solution. We have to give meaning to God's creation. We should not any doubt by some thing. I would suggest you first get your realisation.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it. Now I am very happy that being a catholic person, you have come and you are seeking as a quest. That's a very great thing. And once you get it, then you will realise what I am talking. It's a new dimension, which has to come within us of reality. Not a [UNCLEAR fun reality]. It is so unreal when you start seeing from reality that you are shocked and you are surprised.

For your information, I took My birth in a Christian family, for the same reason.

So many people ask Me, why did you take? In India specially, because most of My disciples are Muslims and Hindus and not Christians, they are forbidden. They are absolutely forbidden to go to somebody who is Christian.

So they are all kinds. Even Muslims, I have got disciples in Algeria, Morocco, but I have no disciples who are Christians. Only those, who are young people, who are real seekers. Young people of Europe and of other countries are the real seekers. They do not accept anything blindly. But for them these thugs have come and they have misused. Catholicism got more importance because Protestants did not show any one.

So they thought it is better to go to another theory to be here. That's how they got. But did you get your realisation? Did you get your `second birth'? Ask yourselves. Why should you miss this chance? Better have it. Supposing you were born in India, you would not have been a Catholic.

So is it denied? By joining a Church do you become a special person, do you think so? Do you believe in it? How many believes in such a thing? He does. You see unless and until you belong to His group, you cannot be saved by God. This is all make finish. Only you will be saved by God if you are authorized. You must get your second birth. You must really get your real living baptism. John the Baptist, he tried it. He tried, didn't work out, didn't work out. He was the only person, who was a realised Soul. He tried.

Of course, Christ was an incarnation, I can prove it to you where is Christ. Do you know where Christ within us? Do you know? Catholics who has been talking so much about God, do they know where is Christ within us? Where is He placed within us? Where is He placed? They do not know. He exists here, in the brain between the Pituitary and the Pineal. Now how do I prove it? When the Kuṇḍalinī rises, if She stops you here you have to say Lord's Prayer. That's the mantra for this center. You have to say, `O Lord, Jesus Christ, please arise.' Only a realised Soul can say that and the Kuṇḍalinī goes up. Actually Christ is really missing from most of the Christian missions because Christ is the person, who controls our ego. These are all ego-oriented countries. Look at Him. He lived like an ordinary man. He was the son of a carpenter. Are we have Christians, the way we live, the way we attach importance to material things? The center here when the Kuṇḍalinī crosses over, we become absolutely thoughtless. And the way to do it is to forgive but not before anybody else, but before a realised Soul. If you say, `Mother I forgive,' it works, Kuṇḍalinī raises. The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it. Whatever I say I will prove it.

There is no mystery about it. And this is the best part of it. The mystery, they will say there is a mystery.

Now if there is a mystery, what are you doing there? I mean, if it is mystery for you that means you are blind. And the blind leading the blind, where will you land? It's simple. You just think about it. I am here to complete His work. I am here to establish and prove Him. Those who have not been able to prove Him should accept this and they will know that there is a way of proving Christ.

It is such a vague thing that people talk of Christ so much and think of Him. But they have built their own causes, that's the problem. They will follow, the time has come for these things to follow. People are going to challenge and ask, `What about your rebirth?' Even the water, a realised Soul touches becomes vibrated. Even the fire, it acts when you enlighten it. But you have to be a realised Soul, that's the main point here. To be born of your spirit.

All right. This is the point is that it's not talk, talk, talk, talk. It's something that should happen.

Any other questions? [Aside:] Give Me some water.

Because, to establish your self, your realisation, you have to come again. Of course, you will get realisation today, no doubt. But it is not established in most of the people in Western countries, because they think about it. I mean, how can you think about a flower becoming a fruit? You don't have to think about it. But your realisation you start thinking their ramblings.

So then their Kuṇḍalinī again goes down. Again you have to raise it.

So I would suggest that even if you get realisation today please come back again. Bring more friends, more people. This is to be given to all the people. This is what they are seeking and they have to have it. Any other question?

Seeker: You can, you can feel it and the in hands are the green finger and there is a blue one and yellow one [UNCLEAR]. How is it different in Chakras?

Shri Mataji: Yes, Yes. You see in all our hands, there are five, one two three four five and six and seven centers are there. And they get enlightened. This is the seven. This is the seven, the Sahasrāra, here. And this is the first. First and the second and the third and the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh. This is the center of Christ. See, if somebody is thinking too much then this center will be burning, you will feel it.

That's all. You know there was one gentle man, a English one, who first came to Me and got his realisation And he could not believe it. This is too fantastic for him to believe. But he started getting burning here.

So he said Mother, what does this mean? I said this is your father's centers because right hand is father's left hand is mother's. And father's center is also within us. Now I said this is your father's and this is the center of your Viśhuddhi, here the throat.

So if it is burning, that means your father must be down with bronchitis. This is the center I told you. Immediately he telephoned to his father in Scotland. Father didn't come to the phone, the mother came. And he asked about the father.

He [She] said, “He is down with bronchitis." This is the sentence she said. And you can cure sitting down here, you can, because it is all connected.

All your inter communications and all that have come from the same. You can work it out.

There is a letter I received just before coming. There is an Australian gentleman who got his realisation.

And he has written to Me, he is going to come and see Me in Germany. And he said that, “I must thank you very much." His wife, wife's sister was suffering from epilepsy. Since the day I got my realisation she is all right. Her epilepsy was cured. We have cured so many patients suffering from epilepsy, you can't imagine. People have given up drinking, smoking, drugs, because you find that source, which is the source of joy. Then you give up all these things. It should happen. I don't have to tell people not to do this and do that. Just goes out. Because once you have found that, the nectar, the ambrose, you don't want to care for other things, you are not bothered. You are never bored. Because you live in the present, you just enjoy yourself. The spirit enjoys by itself. But when your attention enters into it, enlightenment of its enjoyment comes into your attention. You start enjoying yourself. This has happened to these young people here who are sitting down and should happen to all of you. It is fantastic. God is extremely fantastic. Tremendous He is, His ways and methods, you have not yet felt. Once you feel it, you will be amazed how He looks out. Every moment to moment, what joy and what happiness! So that I am going to tell you when you come next everything in details, I will tell you what is what and what is there. Nothing is going to be kept a secret or a mystery and you yourself will know what is happening. Even a child of say three years or four years, if he is a born realised child, he can say that this is the center or this is the center, you can feel it. He may not know the name but he can tell you the center. It is fantastic, no doubt. Now what is he? You have any questions?

Seeker: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: To be. That's it. You are just there. You are saying the same thing.

Seeker: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You become in the center. You are neither passive nor active, you just watch, you become a witness of the whole thing. You see it's a situation in which you are in the center. For example, I will tell you a very simple example, which will explain your question. When a person does something he thinks I am doing it. All right? If somebody doesn't do it, he says I am not doing it. But supposing the Sun, he just emits, he is in non-action, he is doing nothing, he is just emitting. You go into a state where it becomes occurring where you do not do anything. By doing something you will develop your ego. By not doing something you develop your super ego. But by becoming realised it just emits. You become a hollow personality. You are not there.

It's a very sweet story of Rādhā and Kṛiṣhṇa, I will tell you. Once Rādhā was jealous of the flute of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and she said what is so special that she is always at your lips.

So Kṛiṣhṇa said why don't you ask her. It's a symbolic story.

She went and asked. She said, “What is your speciality that you are always at His lips?" The flute smiled, she said that, “My speciality is that I have no speciality. I am not there, I am a hollow personality, His flute and I am flowing His melodies. People think that I am doing it, but I am just a hollow personality." So, you are neither passive nor active but you are doing it, it's happening. And you just see, your language changes, language changes. You say like that. Now for example if I ask Mathiyas to give you realisation, he will not say I am giving realisation, he will not say. He will say it's not coming, it's not going, it's not working. It, you become a third person. You understand now that point?

Seeker: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: In the present. No, No, when you are passive you are not in the present. When you are passive, you are in the past, when you are active, you are in the future. But when you are in the center, in the present, then you are, you are. All right.

Seeker: This being is not a static state because when the body and the abstract move with the same speed the one is static [UNCLEAR] prepares a new evolution.

Shri Mataji: No. You see you have evolved sufficiently enough now. You are a human being is the last word now. Now the jumping is going to be something different. Like we have got in a spacecraft, we have got containers one into another. All right. The first container blasts off and sends another one with accelerated velocity, the second blasts off and sends the third one, like that goes on till the last one. Then when the last one blasts off, the body of the spacecraft goes into the realm of no space, I mean into the realm where there is no movement, in the sense that there is no gravity, it moves by itself.

In the same way our evolution of our physical being, emotional being, mental being and spiritual being is all blasted one after another. Now at this stage, the Kuṇḍalinī throws you into that space where you become aware of that power and that power starts flowing through you. It's a different state in which you enter, it's a different state. By standing in this state you cannot understand that state. You have to reach there, you have to become. Once you become you are amazed at yourselves. You understand My point? It is not rationally you can understand. I cannot make you understand what is there, because for supposing a dog wants to know what is a human being. How to tell him? His awareness is different, ours is different. Now our awareness when it becomes that awareness what happens, the energy starts flowing through. And you develop a new awareness, which we call as vibratory awareness by which you feel others.

You start feeling others. You start feeling others. You start understanding others. You feel them on your fingers. You feel their centers, you feel your centers and the Kuṇḍalinī moves with your hand movements.

It's a different state in which you have to rise. Which you approach it, like if there is a microscope, you can see through it. Without the microscope how can I explain? You become that, when you become that then only I can explain. You cannot resolve this conflict unless and until you become that. It cannot be explained through rationality. But is logical, this logic, that you are made for some purpose, once you become that one can understand. Even a child can understand if he is a realised child. And so many realised children are born these days, so many. They have a different awareness altogether. It's a different awareness I am talking about, which is not yet being manifested. It has to manifest. Then you do not think it just works without thinking. Actually when this center opens out then you become thoughtless, there's no thought. You actually see this thing going down. Just like a child, you get your fontanelle bone depression there. You see that. Actually it happens. You can see clearly, you can feel it also. You can feel it another's, you can see the Kuṇḍalinī rising with your own eyes, you can see with your naked eye. It is that truthful. All right. By thinking you cannot rise. By making parallel this thing you cannot know. Let us resolve it. Why not? All right? Just open yourself little bit. It will workout. Just open yourself.

Sahaja Yogi: Should we tell them to take out their shoes?

Shri Mataji: I think we have to take out our shoes, because this Mother Earth helps us. You see Earth is one [UNCLEAR of] the elements within us. The elements, when they go little bit here and there, you see we have a problem. Just take out the shoes and touch the ground.

Now as I told you the centers are here. They are to be enlightened. You have to just put your hands towards Me like this. Just like this and close your eyes. It will work out in a split of a second. Do not think about it. Just your thought will stop itself. Keep yourself open and in awaiting state, just expect it to happen. It will happen. As you are just there, you have reached proper conclusion that you have to be. That is the right conclusion you have reached through your thinking. Please close your eyes.

Just close your eyes. Closing eyes are necessary because when the Kuṇḍalinī rises there is dilatation of the pupil and She won't rise if your eyes are open. It's just the opposite of mesmerism. First you will become thoughtlessly aware. Left Heart.

Now you have to forgive. First of all forgive everyone. You have to forgive everyone because it's a myth, it's a myth that you do not forgive, so please forgive. Just say `Mother we forgive, we forgive.' Forgiveness is a myth and we should not be identified with a myth. Close your eyes please. Just for a while close your eyes. For a while, please close them properly. Just close them otherwise, Kuṇḍalinī won't rise. See after a second point, please close.

[That is your seat, please] just see, just see them, Chakras they are catching, please all of you, you can see. Yes, you can see them.

Please keep your eyes shut. These people will tell Me what are the centers you are catching individually.

It will work out. His left is very, very week. Keep your eyes shut, all of you. Fully shut. Relaxed way, just relax, it is going to work out. She has got it. You have to ask for forgiveness and then you have to say that, `I have not paid so much attention to my Spirit.' You have to ask for forgiveness from God that, `Spirit is the main thing I should have sought. I should have sought the spirit and nothing else but the spirit.

So please forgive me.' You have to believe in God who is your father, who is your protector, who looks after you, you don't have to have any fears about Him. He is going to look after you. Just ask for His forgiveness.

[UNCLEAR..... Om Twameva sākshāt, Mahat'ahaṁkāra Sākshāt].

She has got it. She has got it. Athais [Sahaja Yogi] what do you say? Right Heart? [Conversation with some Sahaja Yogis.] Ask to him about his father. No, right Heart. She has got it. Leave it. She has got it. Let her enjoy herself.

May God bless you.

[Conversation of Shri Mataji with Sahaja Yogis.] Ask him to ask for Self-realisation, Mother. Just ask him. It will work out.

[Conversation of Shri Mataji with Sahaja Yogis.] Once more.

Just leave it. Hot is coming. Hot is coming. [UNCLEAR]. Let it come out. What do you say Mathias? Still? Ask him about his father. What do you say? Left Heart. What about him? It will work.

Just close your eyes. It will work. Hot? Cool? He has got it. He has got it. He is all right. Now, for him, he should say `Nirmalā Vidyā', for him, `Nirmalā Vidyā'.

Sahaja Yogi [to Shri Mataji]: [eyes are flickering].

Shri Mataji: Eyes are flickering? Ask him to keep his eyes open. And not to think. Just watch Me.

Ask him to do like that still. Did he go to some Guru?

Sahaja Yogi: Swāmī Onkarananda, he is the one who has got [UNCLEAR forty/fourteen] years jail Mother.

Shri Mataji: Ask him to ask the question of a Guru. He will be all right. Just ask a question. It will work out. It will neutralise. Again. Again.

Seeker: Mother! Are you my Guru?

Shri Mataji: Again.

Seeker: Mother! Are you my Guru?

Shri Mataji: Again.

Seeker: Mother! Are you my Guru?

Shri Mataji: Mathias? Passes into Viśhuddhi, void and Nābhī. [Shri Mataji is working out.] Aham sākṣhāt Ādi Guru, Aham sākṣhāt, Guru Mātā sākṣhāt.

All right. Close your eyes now. Let's see. Let's see if the flickering stops. You got it very well. Tell him how to, help him. Call him. He is all right. He has got it. Ah! You joined us. He has got it.

Sahaj Yogi: He is the second son he comes.

Shri Mataji: Aah, that's how.

Sahaj Yogi: He was in this room.

Shri Mataji: He has got it. She has got it too. What about him? Heat is coming up. Cool na? Hot still? Ask him to put his left hand on his stomach on the liver. Left hand. Liver, yes. What about this lady? Are you feeling any Cool Breeze? What's she saying? [Conservation of the Sahaja Yogi with the lady]. Heavy, are you feeling heavy?

Seeker: Only my ring finger.

Shri Mataji: Are heavy, both the, both the fingers are heavy? Both the fingers? All right. Just a minute. You believe in Christ? Then? You have to believe in Him. Why? He crucified himself. Why don't you believe in Him? He is the one who is angry. Both the centers of Āgñyā. You just say, `Mother I believe in Him.' It will work out. All right? Without him nothing can work out, impossible.

[Conversation of the Sahaja Yogi with the lady goes on.]

Seeker: Why?

Sahaja Yogi: Because I tell you why?

Shri Mataji: The center is here.

Sahaja Yogi: Because it will open your Āgñyā Chakra for your sake not for His sake. You have to gain not Him, so you have to say.

Shri Mataji: You have to believe in Him, because He is there. You cannot deny Him. That's why you are catching both the centers. These are obvious centers. How did I know that you don't believe in Christ? All right. Because here is the center catching. How did I know that he has a Guru? You have to believe in Him. How could you deny? You cannot. He is the Spirit. All right. Ask a question. Mother, is Christ the Spirit? Ask the question. Just ask the question.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, is Christ the Spirit? Lady: Mother, is Christ the Spirit?

Shri Mataji: Again. Put the hands like this and ask the question, with your heart. Ask the question again.

Lady: Mother, is Christ the Spirit?

Shri Mataji: Again.

Lady: Mother, is Christ the Spirit? Mother, is Christ the Spirit? [Conversation of the Sahaja Yogi with the lady continues].

Shri Mataji: Now, heaviness is there? Close your eyes. Close your eyes. You started feeling it now.

Close your eyes. Now you say, He is the Spirit. Just say that and it will establish. Very badly catching on the Āgñyā. Just tell Him. You have to say now. He is the Spirit. You are feeling the Cool Breeze a little bit. Now say, after experiencing, Aah?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR]. She says she feels cold.

Shri Mataji: All right. Tell her to ask for the Holy Ghost.

Sahaja Yogi: Just ask, `Mother, are you the Holy Ghost?' Ask, just ask, don't think about it, `Mother! Are you the Holy Ghost?' Lady: Mother! Are you the Holy Ghost? [Shri Mataji works on the lady with some mantras.]

Contents: 1980-10-02*, Public Program, Day 1, Geneva, Switzerland

[French.]

Sahaja Yogi: Mother I would not try to talk to You. May I ask You...

Shri Mataji: They were very interested in your talk, [you know] [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: I think I'll carry on with translating.

Shri Mataji: He spoke very well because you were so much interested; I could see that.

Sahaja Yogi: I'm not translating this.

Shri Mataji: And you could see from his heart, he feels so much for Switzerland...

[French.]

Shri Mataji: I would say he is a real Swiss. He feels such concern about his fellow being.

We are all the seekers of truth. Today there is a big urge to seek the truth, because the Last Judgment has started. There were never so many seekers before. Very few used to seek and extremely few used to receive. But the blossom time has come and so many of them have to become the fruits. That is the plan of God Almighty. We have to see how Switzerland faces it. When we are seeking the truth we must know what we are and what we have to seek. The first premises must be that we are not yet there, where we should be. There is something missing.

Now in a country like Switzerland where there is so much of affluence and people are very settled, still one finds that such a great rate of suicide exists in this country. Now every country has its own problems, but in that problem you can see the essence of its lacking. The lacking in all the affluent countries is that, that matter cannot be enjoyed. It can give you habits, enslavement, but it cannot give you joy. It can give you an ego pampering, but that happiness is combined with unhappiness. Those who also run away from all that are not happy. They have to rise above. How do you rise if there is no ideal beyond it? This is the seeking in the West. How to rise beyond matter? Because they are now understanding the value of matter; they are evolving to that point. We have to speak about the Spirit, Spirit which is being described by many saints, seers of ancient times. Christ has described it throughout. Moses came on this Earth to establish the sustenance for the human beings. He tried to tell people what human beings should do to be in the center of life. But if that was the end of all our seeking there was no need for Christ to come. Christ came on this Earth to say that we have to seek our Spirit. The message of His life is His resurrection.

On the Easter day we give eggs to each other. It is very symbolic. In Indian language a bird is called as khaga, Kha-ga and also Dvijaḥ. The first one means the one which goes in the sky, flies in the sky.

The second one means the twice-born. And a realised Soul is also called as Dvijaḥ.

Christ has talked about your second birth throughout. He has said you are to be born again. But I find in Christian nations there is no seeking. You cannot be satisfied unless and until you have had your second birth. That is how you are going to find out your Spirit. That is how you are going to become collectively conscious. That is how you are going to find meaning to your living. That is how you are going to find why the Lord has created this Universe. The scientists must ask a question to themselves: why human beings were created out of an amoeba. Was that just a wasteful, a wasteful adventure of God? And what about all the sages who talked about your second birth? Were they all wrong when they said that you have to be born again? Kṛiṣhṇa has said, “Yā sā paschyati, sā pachyati” meaning the one who can see, can see.

I happened to meet a great saint in Cambridge, near Cambridge. He was one Mister Mascaro, who has translated Gītā and has written lots of books about Upanishada, Bible and he's a great poet, well-known writer. He told Me, “Mother, people can't see. I have a friend who has got a Nobel Prize but he can't see." “What can he not see?" “He cannot see that this whole universe is very [maintained], organized, worked out and loved by the energy of God's love." The man in his freedom has chosen a path of enlightenment in a wrong way. The wrong way is to deny God to begin with. Those who do not deny God, accept some sort of a concept or a dogma. Truth is, lies in the center. It is a spontaneous thing that has to happen within us to know the truth. By what concept did we become human beings from monkeys? Or by what denial did we become human beings? The whole evolution has taken place as if like a seed sprouting. And now at this stage if anything has to happen, has to be spontaneous. You cannot get it by reading, or by talking, or going to library, or by being a king or a big man somewhere. You get it by the happening within you.

Today it was such a chance when I came from Rome and a very eminent doctor from India was travelling with Me in the plane and he is very highly placed in WHO He was just sitting next to Me. It happened or it happens and he has heard about Me. He said, “Mother, can you give me realisation in the plane?" I said, “Why not?" And he got it. He got it there in the plane. But he knows that this is realisation, because though he is a doctor he is very well-equipped in Sanskrit and in the literature about realisation.

He knows what this means. I did not have to argue or discuss it. When he got it he knew it was there.

He [UNCLEAR said/says], “Why not do it for the whole world?" I said, “You cannot force people to get it. They have to grow. They have to accept it. But people have so much of ego in your profession of medicine. In India they think they are all English or Swiss.

So, how will they listen to Me? For them this knowledge is naive." He said, “That's true." He said, “I know the problem." But it will come the, once we know why the problems come to us.

The other problem that the West is facing is cancer. Now he knows that I have cured the President of India of his cancer. But how I cure is not so difficult to tell. It's very simple. All the doctors are reaching very near us.

So let us first see what we are within ourselves. And we are, on the left hand side, this is the power of desire which makes our past and this is the power of our action which goes for our future and this is the center of our sustenance. We have [UNCLEAR been/reached] [MISSING].

All these centers, the subtle centers in the spinal cord and the brain start manifesting. You start feeling them on your fingers where is the problem and also you can feel the others'. For example, Antoinette has got two children who are born-realised. Now these two little things can immediately say what Chakra is catching. They are not educated, they have not been to any, any university, but they will immediately say, “This is catching” or “This is catching." So this is what happens to us when the Kuṇḍalinī rises all the way into the center and pierces through this fontanelle bone area, that you become collectively conscious; you become. You become. Becoming is the point, not just giving you a big lecture about [UNCLEAR this/it]. In the West, of course, the Kuṇḍalinī rises [all right] much, much faster, maybe much faster than India, maybe. Yeah, because people are seeking, because they are saintly. They are from, they are saints.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR] is it?

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, no, they are. But the Western style of deriving at everything through rationality, again brings them down. Then again they rise. There is a method of maintaining it there. But for Indians who are naive in this respect, their Kuṇḍalinī stays all right.

Now this, on this side of the past, here is our past, beyond this, lies, you see the moon is, beyond this lies the collective subconscious area. We can say this is the lunar area. Now whatever has been dead in the lunar area resides here. I was amazed that the BBC program we had the other time in London that they said that they have found out that there are protein matters which attack from some unknown area and trigger the cancer. Now this much they are, are accepting. I have said about it long time back. Now this happens; in this way is written by Gregoire in his book, Advent. He calls them as U.P.I.

So, when we are in the center through the observance of sustenance we are not in dangerous position. But we always go to extremes. We cannot keep in the center in a relaxed manner. For example, Swiss people are extremely speedy. He was like that. Now, then you go on to the right hand side, too much on the right, using your right side, planning for the future; and if you go too much on that side you go into the territory of supraconscious. All the ambitious people and all the ambitious animals and all the ambitious vegetables, all of them lie in this area. Maybe Mister Hitler may be somewhere there. It's no wonder people take to violence so easily. Now, if you move to this area you go towards the people who are dead, who have died and who have been sly and, what you call,

Sahaja Yogi: Licentious.

Shri Mataji: Ha, licentious. Now the attention is spread out here. The Chitta, it's actually spread out here, because food and seeking is here. The attention starts getting subtler and subtler, when the attention from food goes to, say, power, to wealth. After getting to the extreme of our understanding of futility of power and wealth, we start seeking. We also sometimes seek in romanticism. That's also not joy-giving.

That could be very painful.

Sometimes people discover that you have been befooled completely.

So the seeking goes into unknown to find out what is the reality.

Now if you realise that everything has happened to you without any effort, you will not put in effort for your seeking, because you have become a human being without putting any effort. If it is a living process, the evolutionary process is, then there should be no effort. Supposing we stand on our heads, will this tree grow faster? Supposing we read many books before a seed, will it sprout? If this is a living process it should happen spontaneously. There should be no effort. But man in his ego thinks even we have to organize God. We cannot organize Him. He has to organize us. We have to ask for our realisation and just stay in the center. The Kuṇḍalinī rises like this when She is faced with somebody who is an authority of Kuṇḍalinī. It would not move for anyone who is unauthorized by God. This authorization only comes when you are genuinely a Self-realised person, of a very high quality. It cannot come by going to some theological college or getting some certificates from someone.

In India we have a system by which some, some Shañkarāchārya, who is not a real Shañkarāchārya, is giving certificate to give realisation. And he himself is collecting money because he wants to have a big umbrella of gold and wants to put diamonds around. All this should be dust for a person who is doing holy work, especially when they are ascetics. They are not householders like Me. But still, still nobody can be a parasite and can sell this; for Christ was born a carpenter's son, He lived like a carpenter's son.

Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa lived like a herd boy, herd boy and Rāma lived in the forest. But when Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa became a king, He wore the crown. He did not take, collect money from others to buy His own crown. All these things are suggestive of the person who's trying to sell God.

So the person like Christ who said, “Forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing” had to take a hunter and hit these people in the church.

This cannot rise by the people who do not lead a holy life. Like I have known some Gurus who are very nicely settled in your Switzerland with their big bank balances, have been using women for their own purposes. You must see their lifestyle; you should understand and should be aware of these [UNCLEAR facts/frauds]. They are the fake ones.

The person who is at that level can sleep on the ground. For Me I was born in a very rich, royal family and My husband's well-off, but if you ask Me I can sleep anywhere, live anywhere. I have no problem. But people don't understand this. They are lost in a circle. If somebody puts up a show they run after that show. In this country thousands of people are running after a such nonsensical Guru.

One Guru recently came to London from America and he said that, “If you give me a Rolls-Royce only then I will come." He has mesmerized people and they have got fifty, he has got already fifty-eighth Rolls Royce. And now these people starve themselves for one year to buy a Rolls-Royce for this, this horrible person.

Some of his disciples who have come to Sahaja Yoga went and talked to them. “What are you doing? You are all mesmerized." They said, “We are enjoying this very much and we are very happy. He has given us this. We have to give him matter to get the Spirit." You cannot exchange matter for Spirit.

You cannot pay for it. It is very difficult to digest this truth for human beings. The Spirit lies in your heart, detached from everything. It is an eternal thing. It enjoys by itself. It cannot enjoy what you enjoy.

It watches you, every moment. He gives you a long rope to hang yourself. It cannot control you because you are free. But you have to choose Him in your freedom. Your freedom has to be respected. You cannot be mesmerized because you have to become absolutely free. The evolution could not go further without giving this freedom to human beings. At the development of this center the man raised his head above the animal life and then this new development started growing into him. Before this, there was only this full, the superego which is the, which is the product of your desire, of your conditioning. This, Mister Freud has only seen because he is so half-baked, only one side of man. We are not only our conditioning and desires. We are also our ego here, the great one, which he did not see. Because this gives you problem, because you suffer from mental problems. He was a psychologist; he wanted to make money out of our problems.

So he paid only attention to this.

Now if, if you only worry about your conditioning and try to remove it, how do you do it? You use your ego to remove it.

So the ego grows up like that and puts down this superego down there. And man thinks he's on top of the world. Ego gives you artificial happiness, like Hitler had. You see his face; even his mustache was on one side like that. Egoistical man is like that. He thinks no end of himself. He encroaches on the freedom of others and aggresses the free people. But after all, human being is the Spirit.

He starts seeing this horrible thing within him, like a giant. Most of the young people in the Western countries started seeing it in their elders.

So they started an anti-culture movement going to superego, taking to drugs and running away from reality.

So, there is a wobbling between ego and superego. You have to be in the center there.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, She pushes the attention just like a, from the [shawl] you can see how it pushes up and She pierces here. A happening takes place which attracts your attention as this, inside. Because if I tell you pay attention to yourself you cannot. But something falls off, you pay attention.

So if some happening takes place, your attention goes inside. Then the attention pierces here and you become one with the Divine power.

So, you get away from both the extremes. When it pierces, you start feeling from your hand Cool Breeze flowing. This is described in the Bible as the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost. It is described in Indian scriptures very, very clearly. It is called as Chaitanya lahari, meaning the, the, the waves of compassion; no, enlightened conscience. But the enlightenment is of love; it is the love of God which has created the whole universe so beautiful. In every human being is placed everything so beautifully. This is the tree of life. And these vibrations, these are the water of life. It is said that, “I will appear before you as tongues of flames." These are the tongues of flames. Christ has said, “Those who are not against Me, are with Me." Who are they? He could not explain. In Rome I went and I located many, many of the deities in the paintings of Michelangelo.

Sahaja Yogi: Deities?

Shri Mataji: Hān! Deities.

Sahaja Yogi: Ah, oui, yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Because he was a realised Soul and he had inspiration from his unconscious. He was honest and he painted that. They say we, it is not easy to recognize [UNCLEAR]. All these things have to happen within you. The Kuṇḍalinī has to rise. You have to get your rebirth; that is your right to have it. But you have to be meek and fast to receive it. You cannot order God that, “You give me. Otherwise I'll kill You." We have to be humble. There is no shop here. Our attitude should not be of a shopper, but here you have come to receive, for I cannot take anything from you. I can just give My love, to sprout your Kuṇḍalinī. I want this to be established in Switzerland. We have to have a nucleus. We have to awaken our people [to reality]. We have to save them; big salvage is needed. When I am in Switzerland I'm a Swiss and I feel that concern for this great country.

... You have to translate... You are all here to seek the truth. You are all the seekers of truth, but what is truth? For the truth to an ant is different from the truth to a human being. The way your consciousness expands, the truth reveals itself to you. Whatever we know through our sense organs we call it as truth but the sense organs also develop gradually as we evolve to human level.

We have done nothing to achieve our sensitivity as human being. It has happened absolutely spontaneously within us but we think for growing higher in our consciousness we have to do something about it, but if you see that, human beings have come out of amoeba without any effort and if you understand that the effortlessness is the only way you have achieved this state we have to accept that effort is not necessary.

`Sahaja', as Gregoire has told you, means `spontaneous'. Like a seed it sprouts by itself and becomes a tree. In the same way we started like a seed and today we are at a human stage but some human beings even think that by paying money you can improve in your consciousness.

Because of this mythical idea there are many enterprises floating and they call themselves “people who are going to give you some higher life" if you pay them so much, so much.

You cannot pay for your Self-realisation, it is effortless, you cannot manipulate it through your rationality either because rationality is a limited. You have to go to the unlimited. With rationality you just form dogmas and your own conceptions about reality and if you accept that then you think by saying that you are that, you become that. If a seed thinks he is a flower, does he become a flower? He has to become. He has to grow in. In the same way, we have to know that we have to become, but not through our effort but the effort of the Divine Grace. It is the Divine Grace that has created us. The Divine Grace has made us human beings and it is the Divine Grace that is going to give us our higher life because God Almighty, your Father, loves you. He wants you to develop into such a being that He pours all His love [UNCLEAR unto/onto] you so that you can feel His powers within you, that you become the instrument of the Divine Power, so that you feel the flow of His power through you, so that you can manage it and give it to others.

People are very much today... are science hypnotized. They cannot see anything beyond science but if they are honest they can find out that they haven't got answers for many questions and the reason is their awareness has still to go higher to understand those questions. Like in histology you have got to see through the microscope. [Histology... science of cells...] You cannot see it directly. In the same way if you have to feel the Divine Power, the

All-pervading Power you have to rise higher in your awareness.

Now if this power exists or not, if there is such a power working or not is to be seen. Every scientist must have an open mind to seek. That is the science of work that is the mind of a scientist, [UNCLEAR who is to be open]. Even in science they put forward a hypothesis and if the hypothesis is proved to the point then they call it a law.

So, whatever I am saying you have to receive it with a very open mind. First to receive it see for yourself and then you have to accept it as the law of the Divine. Within us is placed as I say... are these centers which are seven in number. One-two-three-four-five-six-seven. These are the basic seven centers within us which lie in the spinal cord part and some in the brain.

These are subtle centers within us and they express outside the gross plexuses. Vertically they represent our evolutionary process. They are the mile stones in our evolution at this point which is called as the Mūlādhāra Chakra, which manifests the pelvic plexus outside. Now, this center is placed below the Kuṇḍalinī, which is placed in the Sacrum Bone. This is called as `sacrum' because it is a sacred bone. In this bone lies the Kuṇḍalinī, the residual power of our germination.

During the process of Kuṇḍalinī awakening you can see the pulsation down here. You can also through stethoscope; see the rising of the Kuṇḍalinī and you can see the pulsation in the back bone. Till it reaches here in the fontanelle bone area where it breaks through. At that point you do not feel any pulsation. As soon as this happens, from your hands a Cool Breeze starts flowing. You can feel it on your finger as shown here.

These are the terminal points of the sympathetic nervous system within us. These represent all the centers that are inside us and you start feeling them on your fingers, as a... absolutely your own experience.

Now first time this Kuṇḍalinī meets the seat of the spirit which actually resides in the heart and theses... cool waves are nothing but the manifestation of your spirit. It has been described in all the scriptures.

The time has come to prove all the scriptures [UNCLEAR, to you] but you have to be connected with the mains. For example if this instrument is not connected with the mains it cannot be used. In the same way if we are not connected with the mains we have no meaning. In the Big Primordial Being we are small cells, the microcosm and the macrocosm. Every cell has to be awakened to know how it is connected with the whole.

So by Self-realisation you must expect to get your wholesomeness.

So that it means that in your consciousness you should be able to feel others and yourself otherwise it is not Self-realisation.

If your spirit is manifesting it should be able to relate to you... where are you. Your eyes have to be opened; you should be able to see. If there is light you can see everything clearly. In the same way you can see on your fingers, you can make out what are the centers are in problem. These centers on the left hand side are dealing with the mental side... uh... with the emotional side. This is the... uh... was described by Mister Freud as psyche.

He was a half-baked scientist because he could only see one thing in us.

He could not see other side which is responsible for our action... the power of action. Which... which gives you the physical and the mental side. He should say that you should not have any conditioning and you should remove all your conditionings and you should not believe in any taboos given by any prophet or anyone because if you do that then you condition yourself.

But he does not know to do that we have to use this power and by doing this, using this power, we develop the ego. With superego you do have problems which trouble you and you can see yourself. But with ego you do not feel the problems yourself but you are problems for others and as a result there is problem also for you because if you use too much of this power, then this power [UNCLEAR] freezes...

If you use too much of this power, then you develop a... liver problem. The medical science does not believe but actually this center here, the second center is creating cells out of the fats cells here for the use of the brain. [UNCLEAR In the gross, it gives aortic plexus... manifested... power...] But this cell has... this center has another very important work is the liver... is the spleen, the pancreas and also the kidney and the uterus.

When we [UNCLEAR live such/give such/liver starts] working only for one job, is to think for tomorrow and all the time thinking, then other jobs are neglected. A person who thinks too much always gets a diabetes. Farmers do not get diabetes. They eat such a lot of sugar and they eat such a lot of carbohydrates, they never get diabetes. People who think too much get diabetes. Apart from that they get liver.

They get kidney troubles.

Sometimes they carry on with one kidney. They have to be in the machine every third day but they do not believe that it is coming from overthinking. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises she solves the problems because when she goes between these two, ego and superego, she makes a space. A thought rises and falls off and another thought rises and falls off and there is a space in between.

Either the thought comes from the future and becomes the past.

So we are jumping on the ego or superego all the time on the cut. In the center is the present. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises she sucks both ego and superego and you find a depression in the head and you feel absolutely relaxed. Now you come in the present and you feel extremely relaxed.

I always tell a joke about some villagers travelling by a plane and they were told not to take the load...

So much load to the plane and they thought that if they put their load on their heads they will be giving some relief to the plane.

So they put all their load on their heads and are in tension. Then the pilot comes and ask them, “Why are you putting this load on your head?" They tell, “After all we are worried about your plane." So he says, “This plane carries your weight and this weight as well, you live it on the ground." First they are afraid to live it, they doubt. Gradually they find, “Oh, it is correct." That's what happens after Realisation. The Lord, God Almighty who has created this whole great universe, has created you and has given you all the beauties of life, is going to carry all your weight. He... He carries your load otherwise also, what work do you do? If a tree dies you make a good table chair, you think, “We have done a good work!" You are just changing forms of dead to dead.

If you make a chair and sit on it, it sits on your head. Then you cannot sit on the ground. You have to always carry chair with you in some form. We might get people later on; glue to them a chair... [Wherever they go?] So the matter which you change into forms gives you habits and enslavery but I'm not saying that you give up anything. That is another myth. What are you holding? It is nice that this thing belongs to the hotel, no headache for Me. If I had owned it and possessed it, it would have been a headache. The more possessions you have, the more frantic you are. But what I say... you enjoy them! That's only possible after Realisation that you do not give up anything but you see the whole drama as a witness. But the main thing is it has to happen to you, some happening has to happen within you.

This happening is of Kuṇḍalinī awakening. It's a living force and a living force cannot be handled by human being because they have done no living work whatsoever. I met a lady, she started arguing with Me, “We are making test... tube babies..." That... that too is a myth. Because two living things you put together, you do not create life but the One who creates billions and billions of such human beings, how great He must be! In our being it is so many interesting things happening but we take it for granted. For example if there is any foreign matter introduced in the body we throw it out. [UNCLEAR The body throws it away].

Now if you see in the child bearing while the foetus... I mean the embryo is embedded in the body then it is not expelled out. Not only it is expelled out but it is nurtured, looked after and then at the right time it is expelled.

Who does that? Who does that? There is a Deity sitting down here... He's the Deity who is the embodiment of our innocence. He incarnated on this earth at this point... inside the brain at the Optic Chiasma as Our Lord Jesus Christ. He came on this earth to tell us that we have to seek our spirit, that we are to be born again but most surprising we are getting people authorized by some theological college to give you a baptism. That's just a mechanical thing it is not a real baptism.

You have to ask for the real baptism. If you are the seekers of truth, then you ask for real baptism.

There is such a lot to be said about all these centers and their Deity and I'll be here for two more days then I'll elaborately tell you but today I want to tell you about the area which lie in this side of ours.

... and this area is supraconscious. For example when you take LSD and all that you enter into this area but if you take some other kind of drugs like [UNCLEAR Dhatura/marijuana/daitura] and all that you go on to that side. Also when you think of dead too much you enter into this area. Now the defect of the whole scientific attitude is this that it is all based on analysis. For example there will be a doctor for one eye and another doctor for another eye but human being is one.

The medical doctor cannot treat the psychological problem but Kuṇḍalinī treats all of them. She integrates all your being, your physical, mental, emotional and spiritual being she integrates. Now the problem is like this... cancer can only be cured by Sahaja Yoga. It cannot be cured by anything else. The reason is now the doctors have also found out in a very research way because I saw it in BBC... that there is an attack from some unknown area on their being... through... by some protein matters... Protein...

and they said... they have reached a conclusion that this attack come from the areas which are built in us from the creation.

It does not come from without. Now these are the areas from where the attacks come. In our evolution, by balancing things there are many such vegetables and animals which have gone out of circulation. There are some human beings, quiet a lot of them who have also gone out of circulation. For example people like Hitler on the right hand side, is out of circulation. They are actually devils. On the left hand side, very sly people who are playing very sly and dirty tricks. [UNCLEAR And who are very, heinous/full of...].

For example, uh... this Chakra throws the over-supraconscious people, the over ambitious people out of circulation here and this one [UNCLEAR throws out... of them there...]. Now these build up negative forces against the life, against the life. These attacks are from all these areas, two areas I told you. Now the problem with human being is that he goes to extremes. The whole system, the human system is now building up such things like which creates `unique' personality.

If you become unique you become malignant. The malignant is like a cancer cell which starts oppressing other cells and turning those cells just like these aggressive ones.

So we see one `unique' man and we run after him and we want to become like him and because human live... beings live on very gross level it is very easy to impress them with this kind of thing. That explains people like Hitler could influence Germans. Today a person like Khomeini is influencing poor Iranian.

There is no end to such `unique' devilish stupids. Now these two areas, we do not have to go there.

Below is the hell which is being painted by so many artists in the West. Even in the East we have many people who have exposed the problems of hell. On top there even you pierce, you enter into the `super-consciousness' and first time in your conscious mind you start feeling the Cool Breeze, you start feeling the Divine Power which created the whole creation, which is the vital force.

Now to be there we have to use some sort of a method and that method is used by the Divine Power itself. Now she... she comes down first as the desire power within you and this is the pure desire power which is not affected by our personal desire or conditioning. The pure desire within us is to become our spirit so that through our spirit we know the Divine.

This pure desire rests here for ages with us and the one who is authorized by God, not by theological college, [UNCLEAR faces] this desire, it rises [UNCLEAR to tops]. That's how you become Self-realised.

First time you start feeling your spirit on central nervous system. Whatever is human awareness is expressed in central nervous system. Whatever we have achieved in our evolution is expressed through central nervous system and the autonomous nervous system which are the sympathetic and the parasympathetic, are so far unknown to us... become our own.

When we say, “Autonomous" who is the “auto"? Just you brand somebody and then stop thinking about it is not the way a science should move. Who controls this autonomous nervous system? It's your spirit. Your spirit knows you it knows its field and you do not know it.

Now first time he manifest in your central nervous system. It is happy and enjoying itself, it enjoys itself. When the attention from here rises to the Kuṇḍalinī and touches the spirit here, attention enjoys it. Thus your attention becomes enlightened. Sitting down here you can say what is the problem of a particular person. Sitting down here you can say who is realised and who is not realised. Tomorrow I'll be able to tell you some stories about it but you all must get your Realisation and establish it.

The trouble in the West is that there is seeking, they are real seekers, they are very genuine but they do not know how to remain in the center. They go to extremes. This is one of the problems. Secondly they have developed shopping habits. I call it `Guru shopping'. They think they came to Sahaja Yoga also for shopping. First they'll come, attend My program, listen to My lecture then go to another program.

This kind of behaviour has made them very frivolous.

You have to have depth in you, your seeking should be dignified. If there is no weight in your seeking you will be floating all the time. You cannot go down. Sahaja Yoga requires people of calibre, not the kind of calibre we expect that efficient person should be there or a very rich man should be there or he should be a very great expert in something but the calibre of assiduity to get to the point.

I must say for Britishers, though they have been very bad to Indians, I found their young people are people of calibre. They are very difficult to crack. Dificult to crack but once they get it they sort it out.

They are not scholarly... they are scholarly but they are more on the deeper side of the search. In London I have now about three hundred people who are first class Sahaja Yogis. They are curing people, they are realizing people and they are now writing about Sahaja Yoga.

From Switzerland also I have some very precious [UNCLEAR disciples/followers/diamonds]. Gregoire is one of them. He has written a beautiful book about the Advent. He is a scholar and a... very intelligent.

He wrote a book which was very... would have been very intellectual but I told him to make it a sweet book because they... people who will read it will become absolutely mad. I really tortured his life but for one year he agreed and he made it a very sweet book. He is a man of great attention and concentration and I'm sure where such great Sahaja Yogis resides there must be great and greater seekers.

The only trouble is, when you receive the truth you become so enamoured by it that people think you are possessed. It is very difficult to tell people that we have found the truth because for blind people how to say there is light? You can see from their lives how they are transformed. For example... I'll give you a small example of a child who is playing now. He is a child of another Sahaja Yogini, Brigit, who was in Mexico few years back and you know there is lot of black magic there and this child developed a big lump in front.

He would not talk to us or anyone, he was all the time crying, weeping and he was [UNCLEAR struck]. Now this is the center of Christ. He would not have a cross anywhere near. Actually he hated it but when I rose his Kuṇḍalinī and took the name of Christ, this opened out. Actually he used to look like a bull about to hit you with the whole attention like that. Very [UNCLEAR angry/agree], very aggressive and did not sleep in the night. He was very aggressive and could not sleep in the night but as soon this center opened out and the Kuṇḍalinī opened the Sahasrāra, the Brahmarandhra... today you can see what a beautiful child he is! Mother is also completely transformed.

Gregoire himself is completely transformed. When he came first to Me I didn't know what was happening, the thoughts were coming like horns and he was attacking everyone. He was an extremely disturbed person. When his sister, elder sister, who is another intellectual saw him so transformed she said, “Who has transformed you of all the persons?" and then she took to Sahaja Yoga also.

In the end I have to tell you that the Last Judgment has started. The Kuṇḍalinī is the way they are going to judge you. Actually you are going to judge yourself, your are going to be given complete chance to improve yourself and there are many great souls taking birth on this earth. There are many children born on this earth who are realised Souls. Today we have here four of them who are playing about. They are born realised.

Like Antoinette's son is great. He brought a very nice picture to Me today made by him, painting and he told Me, “This is the fort of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa." I don't know from where he knew and all His Divine weapons are in this place and all those people who attack us we are going to attack them with these weapons. It's very remarkable how he knows that Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is the Saunhara Shakti, is the killing power.

When they see they know so much, you can't imagine. Most surprising thing that... William Blake, who is a great poet, who wrote poetry long time back has described where I will be staying and where our Ashram is going to be exactly, in his poetry. I lay down the foundation in the... in the place which is called as [UNCLEAR Lambeth Way] and he has mentioned that and first I stayed in [UNCLEAR Surrey Hills]. It's written, “The flames will start at Surrey Hills" and the foundations of the New Jerusalem will be laid at [UNCLEAR Lambeth Way].

Now this is... was written long time, I did not know but recently somebody has sent Me a letter to Switzerland. Kṛiṣhṇa has said, “Those who cannot see cannot see." He has also said, “Yogakshemam vahāmyaham." Meaning, “First you achieve your union then I will look after your well-being." Christ came on this earth to teach us that we have to achieve our eternal being, our spirit. His resurrection is His message so that you all should be resurrected and enter into the Kingdom of God to enjoy all the benedictions of His power.

Let us have our realisation.

Contents: 1980-10-10*, Public Program (2nd Day of Navarātri), Zurich, Switzerland

... and it is such a living process that [MISSING]. [I tell you] there's no technique. That means you cannot follow any technique. What is the technique of a flower becoming a fruit? When I see people standing on their heads or jumping or doing all kinds of things to seek God, I really think they are still very children, small children. They are still very naive. They should know that if we have become a human being from amoeba without doing anything, whatever you have to become you will become. That has to be done. That's the problem of God and not of yours. It has to be done; otherwise He will have no meaning.

The creation will have no meaning if you do not have any meaning. Because if you are on the top of the creation then something has to happen to you, by which you should [UNCLEAR grow/know].

What is this power that has created you and what is this power which is guiding you? By what power have you become a human being and by what power you are going to become a higher [person]? About these things whatever I am talking to you, like a scientist, you must keep your mind very open and not to close your mind in the sense that I put a hypothesis before you. When I put a hypothesis before you it is necessary to see if the hypothesis works or not. If it does not work, well and good. Then you can say, “All right, it has not worked." But you must try to find out with open mind why it has not worked [in you] instead of criticising the system, because in this I have nothing to gain. It is you who have to.

You cannot give Me anything whatsoever. For your information and as Gregoire has said, I am quite all right as far as taking is concerned because I don't think I need anything from anyone. I'm an oversatisfied person.

So only thing what I want to do, the satisfaction that I am enjoying, the joy that I am enjoying, I want to share and that is a very, very simple thing. It is so simple, like this light which is enlightened can enlighten another light. What does it do? Just it is already enlightened and that light is ready; it's just adjusting. But there's another problem I find, that people think, “I am going to do it on my own." You cannot. There should be somebody who is enlightened, [who] can do it. But this is a very, very important word, `enlightened'. You can find Gurus from everywhere and all kinds of, even Western people now have started techniques. The person who is real is not going to do any technique whatsoever except that it is going to just enlighten Spirit, to another Spirit. That's all. You are all very built-in. See how beautifully you are built-in through your evolution. This is the first power, as I told you.

This is the second power which is the power of your action, reaction. This action is physical and mental while this is emotional. The left side as it gives in the gross, the manifestation to the left sympathetic nervous system, this one goes against to the right sympathetic nervous system. This is accepted by doctors but they do not accept that there are left and right, two sympathetic nervous systems actually inside, which are subtle and what we see outside these kind of [chord] are [being closed up]. By this, as I told you, we desire. This is the psyche about which Freud has talked. But he is a very [UNCLEAR half-state/halfbaked] because he talks only about one [UNCLEAR part/mark]. When you try to decondition this you do it through the second one. Now when you try to decondition this, what happens, as a by-product of this, ego develops. And the ego starts developing so big that it pushes down the superego and the whole head becomes like a balloon [now]. Only after realisation you start seeing that balloon and then you say, “Oh, God, what is this coming out?" It is there. This Mister Ego is to be seen, how it comes up when you are here. Otherwise you do not understand. Because superego is a thing by which you suffer. When there is superego you feel depressed and you feel lost and everybody says, “He's miserable." But when the ego is there, oh, you are very happy, you are on top of the world. You can even become Hitler, you see, absolutely like Hitler. You may have a mustache of his type also or may develop a hairstyle of his type. It is to that extent one can go with this ego and would be saying, “What's wrong? What's wrong?" because then you trouble others.

Here you are troubled, but it's better in a way. But this one it's such a horrid stuff that when it works out you become absolutely unique personality by which you become really malignant in the society. And the society is developed of such people has no love within them. When the ego develops too much the left side becomes absolutely frozen and people whose ego is developed have a very bad emotional side. That's the reason why we find there are so many divorces and things coming out because we become very dry persons. We lose our emotions completely, by physical, by emotional. By physical and mental activity we really freeze our heart and sometimes people have heartaches.

In London we had a gentleman who came, who was a dentist and he told Me, “Mother, I have no feeling. I don't cry. I don't weep. I have become an [over-tough person]." I said, “How you call that? I mean, a person who is liberated is nothing but love and compassion. From his whole being compassion must flow. Instead of this, what has happen to you?" He said, “I do not feel anything. I do not feel my children. I cannot feel my wife. I've become like a stone." I said, “Are you going to now become stone after becoming a human being, or what?" So, he said, “Mother what am I to do?" I said, “What do you do first of all?" He said, “I go for five miles every day." I said, “Better stop. What is the need to run for five miles? Going to such extremes of running like mad, what is the need? Why don't you spend that time with your children, play with them? You'll be better off." But ultimately the Kuṇḍalinī rose in him and he got [them back].

So this is how we live in imbalances with these two powers.

Now the third power which is, which is actually the Kuṇḍalinī here, we have achieved up to this point, from the top to this one, is the one which has given us our evolution up to this point. We are evolved human beings but still we have not been able to reach our [goal], I mean to find out our whole existence, the justification for our existence. Why we are made human from amoeba state? What was the need for nature to create human beings? What is our speciality? And people are finding it very difficult to explain. They try to give this explanation and that explanation. But actual, simple explanation is this, that you are trying to find your wholesomeness. You are a part and parcel of the whole. You are like [UNCLEAR the/a] cell, the microcosm and macrocosm, as they call it. And you have to become aware of that thing. Once you become aware of that great thing, then you are surprised to know that you become collectively conscious. You become. Again I say, you become. There's no question of just telling you, `Oh, we are brothers and sisters. Let us have United Nations,' and then they fight there or just find jobs for [UNCLEAR killing/people]. It is not that. Automatically it [UNCLEAR happens/means] when the Kuṇḍalinī rises from here and She pierces through this fontanelle bone, as Gregoire has told you, on the fingers, you see here, you start feeling these centers on the hands. You start feeling. It's an actualisation that happens. You start feeling all these centers on your fingers.

Even if you take ten children together and who are realised Souls and tie up their eyes and ask them that, `What is wrong with this particular person?' they will all raise one finger, which means he has got throat problems. It is that decides. It is that. But that's not the only thing. Of course, collective consciousness when it comes into you, you start understanding. “Oh, God, I understand my own centers that are within." That means Self-realisation, understanding about the Self. When you know about your own centers then you know Self-realisation. And when you know about the centers of others, you know it is collective consciousness which is built-in.

Now see, in human being we have developed certain consciousness. For example, if you want to take a horse through the dirtiest place he wouldn't mind; he'll just walk. For him it does not matter. But you cannot go with the horse. You'll go for about two paces and you'll turn by saying, “Oh, I just can't walk." The horse will walk through; he will have no problem. But you cannot because you have developed that sensitivity within you, you have developed that sensitive nose within you which the, the horse does not have. In the same way you have developed other sensitivities, say to beauty, art, to many things you have developed. I mean, you are much higher than animals, no doubt. And when this happens to you then you realise that you have a much greater sensitivity than before, the one of collective consciousness. In Sanskrit it is called as Samādhi Chitta. It becomes your own feeling, means you start feeling it on your central nervous system.

Your central nervous system is what you have achieved so far up to the human state. Now your nervous system starts feeling a Cool Breeze. Now this Cool Breeze has been described by all the Scriptures. This is from the heart, the Spirit. The emission of this Cool Breeze is the actualisation of the Spirit. Our attention becomes one with the Spirit and it starts emitting cool vibrations, which is described, as Gregoire has said, as the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost. In, in Sanskrit Holy Ghost is called as Ādi Shakti. And I think perhaps in India, perhaps because we were people of simpler nature and a simpler living, not so complicated and because in our country we did not have to face nature so much, I mean, you can live in a, in a forest very happily, with very few fruits; they don't need so many things, people started finding out inner being.

As you started finding out the outer growth, which you have to grow out, there has to be the inner growth.

Like in a tree when the tree grows higher the roots have to grow. For God there is nothing like East and West, oxygen clean and all that. I don't understand, to be very frank, but the human beings, “We are Eastern. [You are] Western." It is only that in India the search has been under the being and out here it has been outside. It is only one personality. God never created a world with different nations.

And sometimes I forget about My passports completely. I think it's like a criminal, carrying a number of the crimes you have committed or something like that. We, this is our craziness that we believe that we are different nations, we are different races, we are different beings.

He created all this variety to create a feeling of beauty. Because variety creates the beauty. I mean, if you had the same type of noses and same types of faces and same types of hair, you would have been bored of each other. As it is, we are bored. Then I don't know what [UNCLEAR could/would] have happened to you. As it is, we can't bear to meet everybody. They [UNCLEAR hesitate/escape]. Because I've seen people, I mean if they go to meet someone they must have a television in between or they must drink something together or they must go to a cinema. But they cannot sit together and talk for more than five minutes without fighting. This is what we are. We are so boring.

So why we are so boring is because we are not collectively conscious.

But this lecturing is not going to help you, as I told you. There is no lecturing about it, no talking about it. It has to happen. If it does not happen then [it does not happen]. I mean, if it does not happen I cannot force it. But it happens to so many people; specially in the West it happens [to many people]. The reason is, as I always say, that England is the heart of the universe. But it is lethargic. Europe is the liver of the universe, which is, which is greedy, alcoholic. India is the Kuṇḍalinī of the world; there is no seeking.

God save this universe. I mean, whatever is missing, is missing from the point. Where there should be seeking in India, there is no seeking. People do not seek, because they are becoming sophisticated; they are becoming modern.

So they do not want to seek. The seekers are in the West but the problem is, as I told you, in England they are lethargic and in the Europe they are [liverish].

Doesn't matter. Whatever may be the situation at this time, I have a feeling that blossom time is coming. The time has come for people to get their realisation. It's the blossom time. In the Tree of Life we had one or two flowers before and nobody could understand them. They were butchered, never recognized, never. They were killed, they were poisoned and they were crucified. This is what we have to [look at]. While even the thugs came in and the swindlers, we were very good to them. We have given them palaces and houses and beds where there are diamonds and they are having a very nice time.

So what to do? This human eye has to see. That's what it's very difficult. Kṛiṣhṇa has said, [Hindi] “The one who can see, can see. The one who cannot see, cannot see." It's impossible. No use breaking your head before a person who does not see.

Somebody, there is a blind man, you tell him “This is the colour of this table cloth." He'll say, “What is the colour? You tell me." Now what are you going to tell? He cannot see.

And I have seen this is the problem of the West and also of the East. The great writer who is living now in England, his name is Doctor Mascaro; you might have heard his name, he has written lots of treatises about Gītā and Upanishadas, also Dhammapada and also Bible. He's a master. And he is a master of Sanskrit language. I went to see him and he gave Me a flower. There's a beautiful couplet, `Flower', [in that, from which] he said that, “Mother, give us light. Give them all light so that they can see. Please give them." I said, “I'm doing that." I'm doing that, but somehow people do not know what to expect within themselves.

When the awakening takes place the first thing that happens as a by-product that you get physical [health], fitness. The doctor has not come today from Lausanne? We had a doctor. Luckily they were five or six patients who also have come. First thing that happened to a paralyzed lady was that she got all right, with her paralyses which was there for [too] many years. And she told Me, “For the first time I could climb three stories in my house after realisation." The second gentleman had a sort of infantile problem who was bent up completely like that, throughout and he always used to eat like that; stood up and his back was all right. Thirdly, I mean, this happened only in Lausanne because we have done so much this work before, there was a lady with breast cancer and when she came to Me, she, her hands started shaking little bit. She shook for a while and now she is perfectly all right. Who is the fourth one person? And a lady with arthritis, she got all right. And another person who was down with some sort of a, we can say a nervous tension in the stomach, she got all right.

So this is nothing; this is just a by-product.

The by-product is like that when God has to be invited in your heart, this temple of your body has to be enlightened and cleansed.

So the cleansing takes place. It's a first cleansing [UNCLEAR Divine/river] in the body through your physical [UNCLEAR form/bodies].

Now, cancer: I've been saying this for the last ten years. For your information I've cured our president Sanjiva Reddy, [there it took him five hours], of his cancer. You know he had cancer of lungs. Cancer can only be cured by Sahaj Yoga. It's a fact. I've been talking about it, saying about it.

Some doctors accept it but most of them do not. The reason is, you cannot take money for Sahaja Yoga. How many doctors are willing to accept this proposition? There is nothing mercenary about it. You cannot take money for this. If you get enlightenment you have to give enlightenment free of cost.

On the left and the right of these two there is an area which is collective subconscious and the collective supraconscious. These are the two areas which are unknown to us and from here all esoteric and all sorts of experiences come to us. For example, people start seeing light or they start feeling that their body is taken away or all sorts of good experiences come from this movement or this movement. Now these are the areas we have to avoid completely and we have to be in the central path. We have to be in the light of moderation and not of the extremes. But if you go too much of this side or to that side you fall into problems. Now I have seen all the cancer patients that I have seen so far had a problem from the left side, most surprising. Either they had some sort of a false Guru there.

Leukemia, leukemia is caused by the entry of some sort of invaders from this area. Now, you'll be amazed, I've been saying this for the last ten years, but I saw in the BBC recently they have found out that there are some proteins which they call them as protein 52, protein this and that, which are invading us from some unknown areas, they do not know precisely, from some unknown areas and these areas are built within us since the creation. This is accepted now by the cancer research. But their research is something like a blind walking in, into a black pool. He says, “Now this is the chair.

So we found the chair.

So there is a chair." I say it's better that you get the light and see for yourself everything what it is. That's a much better way of knowing. This is known as Self-knowledge. When the self gives you the light, we start seeing all these things within us and understanding them.

Now these areas are very, very dangerous. For example, those who indulge into say, some sort of a supraconscious experimentation, like flying. For example, some people are now trying to fly. See, there are courses to fly. I don't understand. You've got your aeroplane. Why do you want to fly in the air? Now this flying business is done nothing but by the spirits. They take away your spirit outside and you feel that you are removed from the point.

But this area is the most dangerous thing for children, because this ego develops in a grown-up person, but in a child there is no ego.

So when these bodies take away the soul of a child it is difficult for the child to come back to life. And you'll find the child suddenly dead without understanding the reason for his death. This is because now you have let loose all these areas into the present tense. Never, never before on this earth, such a mess of horrible things.

Because of these horrible fake Gurus, also the indulgences of ourselves into different techniques by which either move this side or that side, like ESP and all sorts of the techniques, that are all...

Some other was, to stop your drinking you have to say, `I don't drink.' So you develop your ego; you go this side. All this deliberations of human beings which come from an unknown source make the person enter either into this side or that side and creates such a number of complications.

The permutations and combinations, when I see them I am really amazed.

Now where do we have to go? Because this side is the hell.

So we have to go there and to be on the top of your head is the power which is all-pervading, about which all the Scriptures have said that there is an All-pervading Power. Now are we to believe that or not? Are we to say they were all wrong, who told us this? Was Christ wrong? Was Nanaka wrong? Was Ādi Shañkarāchārya wrong, who said that you have to achieve that state? They were all wrong or we are wrong? Actually, when I was born My father himself told Me, he was a realised Soul, that no use talking to human beings about all this. At the most they can crucify you. They won't understand. What you have to do is to find out a method by which you give en masse realisation, by which you raise these people who are on the first floor, to the second or the third floor so that they see there is beyond and they will understand. Otherwise they will definitely crucify you.

I said, “All right." And I worked very hard. At the age of My forty-seven years, for ten, eleven years back I found out a method by which we can have en masse realisation, not individual but en masse realisation.

And as Gregoire has told you that I worked more in the villages. Cities I've left for the thugs. Let them work out, because they are interested in your purse. The villagers don't have any money. They are simple people; let them have realisation. Let the city people run after these mad people.

There are some people who are giving something like a diamond and this and that. Is that what God is going to give? Why don't you go and purchase diamonds in the market? It's very simple. But this is what it is. We must know what to do then. We have to find out our wholesomeness. We have to find out our own power, our own power, not the power of the Guru. Even if the Guru is right, what does it matter? What about your own power? Have you been able to find your own power? Your own power manifested by which you raise the Kuṇḍalinī of these people, you give them realisation, by which you cure people, by which you give them all the peace and by which you give them their spiritual ascent by which they live in bliss and happiness. This is how you enter into the Kingdom of God by entering through this also.

All these Chakras are the basic seven Chakras [we have] and they have got different deities who are settled down. I would say the red mark you see here is the center across the Optic Chiasma where it crosses each other. It's a subtle center and that center controls your pituitary and pineal by which pituitary controls ego and the pineal controls your superego. And when the Kuṇḍalinī rises through this parasympathetic, integrating you completely, enters into that area, goes beyond it, you find there is no thought in your mind.

You become thoughtlessly aware. It is called as Nirvichar Samādhi in Sanskrit language. One may say, “It's a very difficult thing, Mother. How?" But the thing is, if I can do it there must be something about Me. I've done it; it's really I can do it.

So there must be something about Me. Instead of doubting Me it's better this: I can do it; why not have? Some say that it takes thousands of years, it takes this thing, that thing. But all right. I am a master of that. If I can do it, why do you have any objections? The other day a doctor came to Me and he said, “I think I should do it myself." I said, “Very good.

I'll be very happy, sir, if you take My place. If you can do it, nothing like it. I would like to retire. I'm really tired now working on people. Can you do it? Now you are a doctor. You know how to drive. I don't know how to drive a car. If you are driving My car I have no objections. In the same way if I drive your Kuṇḍalinī what objections can you have? If you can drive the Kuṇḍalinī I'll be very happy.

Why don't you do it?" But he cannot do it. That's the main part. Then I said, “You better take My [UNCLEAR seat/place]." I'll be very happy because it's a tremendous work, requires tremendous powers, tremendous patience. And when you will come to Sahaja Yoga you will realise that only a Mother can do it. It's a question of tremendous patience. They don't want their realisation.

They don't understand the realisation. They are children. They are getting drowned. You have to tell him, `My child, take care of yourself. Please have this.' You have to explain to him. It's such a difficult task. Mister Ego is very powerful. At the smallest point they come onto their egos. They say, “Oh." Any point they'll pick up and say, “Oh." This is not [right]. The other day only I said one significant point about. I said, “Christ has said, `Thou shall not have adulterous eyes.' " And in the Bible it is written that, “Thou shall not commit adultery." It was all said for your good. Very important it is. You see, in India we commit the sin against the Father that we don't believe that our Father Almighty is going to look after, look after us. Kṛiṣhṇa has said, “Yogakshemam vahāmyaham” vahāmyaham, “When you get your Yoga then I'll look after your kshema, means human being." He has promised it, but we Indians don't believe in it, you see. That's why we have problems and that's why we are doing something else that you are not doing.

But we have to see the problems of this country or of the West, is that we are doing sin against the Mother. These days it's allowed to have a woman as a keep. It is not allowed to have. This is absurd, absolutely absurd. You have to marry and lead a sensible life, in the center, have children and be good, righteous people. Of course, now the life as it is we have committed sin on this side and we have committed sin on the other side. [UNCLEAR]. But doesn't matter. Makes no difference whatsoever. Whatever we have done, forget about it.

The another fashion we have in the West is to develop a guilt. For anything. It's a fashion, absolutely is a fashion; take it from Me. I'm dealing with the Western people more.

So I will tell you how the fashion comes in. I don't know how it comes in. Maybe we have to go and confess before the priest maybe and I don't know how it comes in. But everybody's guilty about everything. Even people living here are guilty about the people, say, in North, North Korea or South Korea or Vietnam or something like that. I mean, you are just here. Why to feel guilty about there? You are doing anything wrong. You are good people.

Why to feel guilty? But it is an escape to feel guilty about something.

Like in France I was surprised, we found people, the French people, that they were very unhappy and very complaining all the time and I was surprised why they were so depressed. And very boring also in that way. I said, “Why are you boring yourself with this kind of an idea that you are the most miserable people, like Mister Hugo has said, `Les miserables', all of them settled down in France." I said, “What is there? Look at the nature. See to that. How beautiful it is. Have you thanked God for that? Have you said, `Oh Lord, thank you very much for what you have given us.' Have you ever, ever been thinking at that? Unless and until you thank God, how will you know the joy of thanking? You do not want to thank God. That's why you should be miserable. You have to show that you are miserable. Otherwise you may have to thank God for that, whatever He has given you. He has given you this beautiful [UNCLEAR body/world]. He has given you this human awareness. He has given you so many things for which there has to be endless thanks." But we are unhappy about small, small things. Even if the tap is not running all right we get absolutely upset and say, “Ah” as if the whole world has collapsed. Even the smallest thing upsets us like that.

Now, in France, they told Me that, “Mother, You are extremely happy person, but people will think You have no character if you are that happy." I said, “Really?" “So then you have to show your character by showing that you are very unhappy." I said, “I find this impossible. You know I, I cannot be seriously unhappy for more than one minute and again I get into a big laugh as a joke. I cannot and when I see such people I laugh even more." What is there to be so miserable for? Are you crucified on the cross? Some people said, “We have to suffer." Why? Christ has suffered for you. Why do you now suffer second time? All right, He has done the suffering for you. Finish it off now. And He never suffered because He was like Me, those who never suffer. But our idea about Christ is also that He was bony person; He was nothing but bones. This is all our idea, because we are so miserable ourselves we cannot see Christ. How can you carry a cross on your body if you are a bony person like that? Can the, these bones, what you call the skeleton, can it carry a cross? Even you people who are supposed to be healthy cannot carry a cross. He was a very healthy man. Only Michelangelo could see that He was like that.

All such expressions make Me feel that it's a drama people have created just to avoid God, not to accept His presence, that “we are very miserable." In Paris, I asked these people, I'm sorry to say, French, same about Swiss, not much difference. That, they said, “We are very miserable, Mother." I said, “There are ten prostitutes on this street when you walk ten minutes and the whole thing is going into alcoholism and you, the miserable creatures, what are you doing about it? You have no time to be happy. What miseries have you got? I don't see any miseries. It is only your own mind." While in a poor country you go, I went to Africa, [I've met] people. You go to some aboriginals, oh they will have, whatever they'll have they bring it to you and they will be embracing you; they'll be full of joy. I asked, “What's the matter?" “Oh, you don't know?" I said, “What happened?" “Can you not see what has happened?" I said, “What?" “Oh, something great has happened." I said, “What, what has happened?" “You don't know what has happened? First time we have got the flowers in this [tree]." We don't even see flowers. There's a, a Sahaja Yogini met Me. Now she's a Sahaja Yogini. Of course she is different and she has many dimensions [within]. She said, “Mother, I never knew we have trees in Lausanne." Can you imagine? Such a beautiful place is wasting all its beauty on the people. I mean, it's so joyous and so beautiful, but people can't see. They have no eyes. What are they seeing? What do they see? I just can't understand that when you cannot see His grace and witness that peace within you. I feel miserable, too, because I think, “Why have you made yourselves miserable for nothing? Everything is there." This I tell you because for your realisation you have to have a cheerful mood, not [UNCLEAR a very/great] sorrow [one]. You have to have a cheerful mood to get your realisation. You have to be like a flower to become.

If you cannot be like a flower how will you become a fruit? If you are like a thorn do you think I can make fruit out of you? You have to be like a flower in a very cheerful, joy-giving [mood] that is very important.

Now, as I told you this Kuṇḍalinī is coiled down here in three and a half coils. Now what is the mathematics and all that we have discussed? I mean, I've given about three hundred, or more than that, lectures in India and they have got tapes and Gregoire has written a beautiful book, a big book which you can buy from him and read it about Sahaja Yoga. But I think God, I have to assure everyone that He has put all these centers within you [UNCLEAR within/living]. They look like lotuses and they are within, all ready and you are just ready to get your realisation. It's a very, very subtle [control]. I should say it's a play. But because sometimes you are complicated here or complicated there, for some sort of a complication, specially with this kind of this malady of feeling all the time guilty comes up on the left Viśhuddhi here. And that one is such a horrible stuff, I tell you that, that gives a real pain in the neck and that is what troubles people very much when they get realisation.

The another problem that comes up here is the Āgñyā which controls your ego or superego. In this I would say that the young people, specially from the Western countries because we are dealing with the Western people, discovered that their forefathers had lot of ego. They could see the balloon of the ego.

So they decided to have another style of life. They said, “Let's start an anti-culture. Now finish this tail coat trim and take to something simple." That was a very good of them to think like that it is too much egoistical and that they could not face themselves as egoists. This was a very great thing, because they are saints, they are seekers and they felt that in this ego-satisfaction we are not going to achieve anything.

But from there, they, they had no proper guidance whatever it was and in their ignorance I would say they shifted from ego to superego by taking drugs. Now the drugs is a manoeuvreing of a very cunning group of people who just wanted to make money out of your seeking, out of your naivety. And they offered you drugs. Of course with drugs one thing definitely has happened to people: they have started seeing that there are other areas also. But these areas are quite dangerous. By knowing these areas they have started at least thinking that there are some other areas. But as I told you, these two difficult areas where you enter into are no good for you.

Now by going to superego also what has happened that you developed your superego. Like a gentleman who came to Me, he was dressed up with his hair all knotted up, you see, like an aboriginal. He came to see Me. And he is a Ph.D., you see.

So I said, “Why do you dress up like an aboriginal?" He said, “I want to become an aboriginal." I said, “You cannot. Your brain is too modern. Only by growing hair how will you become? Your brain is such a modern speedy stuff, it doesn't stop for one minute. It's going thinking, thinking, thinking like mad. How will you stop it? Only by growing your hair like an aboriginal? You cannot do it. Brain has to be brought to the normal condition."

He said, “I agree that, that has to be done." And this is what it is happens to you that when you develop this left side. Left and right start fighting and then bubbles out and you become extremely speedy; the speed starts working.

The speedometer is this, I would say the speedometer is another different center which looks after your liver, which looks after your spleen, you pancreas, then your kidneys and your [intestines]. This is the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, the second center [here]. Now what happens, it has another very important point which medical profession doesn't agree, but may not agree, but it is the most important thing it has to do is put to convert the fat of the stomach for the use of the brain. When you start thinking too much, then this process is expedited and when it is expedited all that flows to the brain. And, but this poor thing, one center cannot do all the jobs in a balanced way.

So your liver gets spoilt. Most of the people in the West have bad liver because of their thinking habits. They go on thinking, thinking, thinking, thinking, thinking. Such a burning process starts. They seek the sun. On top of that they go and tan themselves.

Now this is really madness. Because if you tan on top of this your head will be melting more of fat cells and you will need more passing of the fat cells up there, up there and that's why you develop your skin troubles and skin diseases and skin cancers.

So a person who thinks too much has to know that we have to take our thinking process to a balance.

When Kuṇḍalinī rises on top there She just makes you thoughtlessly aware. But the knob of the speedometer is the spleen. The other day I was telling these people how the spleen works it out. It's very interesting. For example, you are eating your food. Suddenly you feel you must go very fast. And for Me to keep pace with the people here, is impossible. I mean, I have not even done one tenth of the food when they have finished and the plate is out. I just start looking, “Oh, I wouldn't eat it now." Out of formality I just get up and say, “All right." Then they say, “You didn't like the food?" “I like it but the speed with which people eat." And then, they, they leave everything and then run fast, fast for their work. But by that the poor spleen has to make more blood cells, more blood cells.

Now when you start making more blood cells and more blood cells it becomes absolutely bizarre. It's tired, it goes mad, it does not know what to do. When it becomes tired, then the blood cells that it produces are weak. They are weak blood cells and then they attack comes in the left side and you develop leukemia. We have cured leukemia hundred per cent. But only if you want your realisation, then only it cures. We do not cure people who do not want realisation. Our job is not of the doctors. Otherwise all the doctors will crucify Me. I've told them I have nothing to do with the people, there's no profession of Mine, but those who want realisation I'll cure. And they and they get cured. I should say they get cured.

But I don't want to challenge your ego. Again [if I, you can] say I'll cure you become [UNCLEAR].

Anything I say, I'll do. But if I was a doctor, you see and if I was treating you, you don't mind. You become absolutely silent. Like the other day I had a patient who was a doctor and when I started treating him, he didn't like it, the other [UNCLEAR position/possession], you see. Always he has been treating patients and he could not bear it up that I, he was treated by us, you see. And he would look at these very badly. He said, “I don't want people to treat me." I said, “Then how can you be cured? You have to accept that for a change somebody else to be your doctor. All right, doesn't matter, nothing wrong." So this is what happens with our movement of the sun, when we have too much of sunlight for a period. Now as I told you that our search has been in the West on the right hand side, then all the five elements constitute this area and we have been searching into the five elements to find out how to improve them or you can say how to use them, or manoeuvre them for our own purpose, how to work it out for us.

For example, if a tree is there, then you make a beautiful, say, tree made furniture, or a [UNCLEAR] furniture, or something like that, from one dead to another dead. What we do is to convert the form of one dead into another dead. We do nothing. That's why it is ego because we do not do anything and still we think we have done, from one form to another form. Actually, by doing that it so happens that we become slaves of the nature. For example, if you are used to the chair you cannot sit on the grass. If you are used to a comfortable bed then you cannot sleep on the ground. You start missing it. You form habits.

So the matter gives you habits. When start with becoming materialistic you become like matter, like machine.

You don't think. You just go on. You must have seen Charlie Chaplin's `Modern Times', you see. He, he was really a visionary to see what happens to human beings when they will become machines you see, they will be just...

Now we don't like machines in the West. For example, people like here cotton cloths. They like it; they like. Cotton they prefer more than nylon. I mean, nobody will think of it. But in India I have to take nylon sarīs from here to please My relations who have got cottons. You can imagine the, the other way round thing that is going on in India, the other way round here. They want the machinery and you want to run away from the machinery. I wish some people to convince Indians now better not do all these things and have a short [of needs, sarī]. Better understand that these machineries are like devils. Once they start producing they will need more to eat, more to eat. They'll take out so much from the Mother Earth that after some time you'll find you have nothing but plastics and artificial things.

So this is what is happening to us on the right hand side that we are progressing too much on the material [side]. I mean, it's really maddening. America is one of the places I should say it's quite maddening, Baba. I mean they have varieties in everything. I like varieties say for, you have some beautiful [ties]. In beauty I like varieties. But everything must not be a variety. For example, a handle. Now every handle should be different. If you go to any American bathroom please find out from them how to use the handle.

Otherwise you'll land up into great difficulties. Suddenly you'll find from somewhere the water will be pouring onto you and you'll be completely drenched with absolutely ice cold water. They have so many gadgets and this and that, that you get lost in that. There is no need to do all these. You have a simple method to of taking your bath. What is the need to have so many things? For example now, glass. You must have a special glass for this thing and a special glass for that and a special glass for that. Why? One glass itself is sufficient. I think you can have everything in that. What is the need to have all these things unnecessarily? It's a headache, I tell you, to wash them, to clean them, put them right. And on top of that to give to insurance for saving them from being stolen out.

So it's better to have simpler life. But the thing is when the activity on this side increases also these goods come in the market and they start [buying]. It's surprising. For example, in Switzerland I was surprised that in the market you cannot get anything but [ties] and chocolates made in Switzerland. They import them.

I asked, “Why? What, what is the matter? Why don't you produce something?" They said, “The, the manpower is so short and that it is so expensive that we find it easy to get it from China than to make it here." So at least we have to accept that some people have to do this work for the machinery and some people have to do the work of handmade.

So in the same way a thing that has been discovered now, is for the whole universe. It is neither for the left or the right. It is neither for the East or for the West. It is for the whole universe. It is because this is what one has to jump in. This is what the evolution has to take to. You are human beings and you have to become super human beings. This has to happen, whether you like it or not. If you do not have it yet, you help with it. But better have it too. Why will you? This is simple. But people can't understand something which you get free. Because somebody asked Me, “How can it be possible? There must be some snag." I said, “There is no snag. It's simple thing." But they can't understand a person can do it, something without any payment. Now, why not think of Christ. How much money did He take from you to talk about God? How many forces these people had with them? And how many palaces He built for Himself from your money? He lived as a carpenter when He was a carpenter. He didn't take any money from anyone, whatever it is.

Now today My husband is such and such and I'm a housewife.

So I dress up like a housewife. If I was say an ordinary person, say a person who is not having sufficient money, I would have slept on the ground.

I can, even today. I have no problem. I have no problem. I can sleep anywhere, I can live anywhere. I have no problem. I can go by bus, I can go by tram, I can walk. These two feet are there. What is there? But these things come to a person who is not there. The one who cares for these things cannot be a holy man [in these days]. Of course, when you have to live like a king, you live like a king. But from inside you are not attached to it.

Now for this also we have started a new style. I mean, for everything they have an answer. All these people have an answer for every sort of thing you could want. We have Gurus and Gurus in India. For example, there is a Guru. He says, “You must wear orange dress." All right.

So they start wearing an orange dress. Now, but the orange dress man is an ascetic. And then he says, “You must have sex liberation." Now how can you meet these two things? Just see, it is something so absurd that any Indian can understand the absurdity of this kind of neo-Sannyāsa. How can you be a sex addict and also a Sannyāsī? This is to describe that such a person is not going to get married, he has nothing to do with sex but he has dedicated his life for God. On the contrary, here it is they are having mass sex action, this, that, which never Indians knew about and he is doing all emancipation for the people who are quite experts here.

There is no need for you to have a Guru in this way. You see, this was just a Guru provided because you thought that at least you have some sort of a conscience by which you understand maybe they are not doing wrong.

So if there is a Guru you think even if anything goes wrong we'll say, “This Guru was there.

He taught us." But this Guru is going to hell first, much before anybody goes. Whatever are the eternal ideas about life, are eternal. You cannot change them. If you try to change them you see the problems come. For example, we have changed the idea, say, about chastity. First thing will happen, diseases. I have seen. Why do they suffer? In America every third seeker who comes to Me suffers from very bad disease. Even in Switzerland I've seen they suffer from diseases. Why do you suffer from diseases if it is liberation? Why do you suffer from jealousies? Why do you have maladies in the family? Why people give up their husbands' and wives' relationship and have divorces if it was [UNCLEAR healthy/needed]? If it was healthy, if it was congenial to your being, it would have been a joy to everyone, to [UNCLEAR protect you/the country]. But it does not. Because I'm dealing with your side I'm telling you this, that it is not congenial and thus we have to understand ourselves, our sustenance, ourselves, that these things go against our Dharma.

The other day in England, a BBC fellow came to Me, questioning Me. And you know how they are, very blind and extremely arrogant. And I'm better than them, to control I know how [to control them].

So they asked Me few questions. According to them they were very intelligent. And the first question he asked Me, that, “Instead of doing this work in England", I mean, I have stopped people taking drugs and all that, I have cured so many people, no thankfulness about it but, “Instead of doing this work in England, why don't you go to India and solve your poverty problem [UNCLEAR as a great/arrogant personality]?" I said, “Sir, I'm in England, on your soil. I don't want to say something that is little indecent. But as you have asked the question I have to tell you. Who is responsible for our poverty? When all the Western people went all over the world to dominate other countries and have kept them still down, who is responsible [for]?" But he would not take it that way. Then he kept quiet on that point.

So he found out another point. He said, “What about your population problem?" I said, “I'm sorry, sir, even here you are responsible." He was amazed. He said, “How are we responsible for your population problem?" I said, “See in England it's a fact that every week two children are killed by parents themselves.

Nobody can believe it in India but it is like that. It's a fact." I said, “Which foolish child would [like to] be born [here]? We have to get the birth in India. You are going minus. You are suffering from impotency.

People are suffering and sixty-five per cent people in America are suffering from impotency, young. How can you produce children?" In Switzerland itself out of five families only one family produces child. It's a fact. You can find out. What are we to do? These children are to be born. There's a Last Judgment has started.

So they are taking birth in India. Why do you blame us? You better pay.

Even if we try very hard we'll have to have them here because the way we love our children, the way we look after them, whatever, we may be poor, but we have heart for them. And we are not Romeo and Juliets all our lives. I mean, even at eighty they are divorcing. I mean, all sorts of nonsense going on. All the heroes and heroines like the, this Mrs. Kennedy business and all that. I mean, I can't imagine these women. They will be thrown out of everything, of the society, all such women. People won't see that faces in the morning. If you see such a face on the newspaper in the morning they will wash the newspaper, wash their eyes and throw it in the dustbin. Such inauspicious people you have here as [UNCLEAR] there's another seven times married woman. What's her name is, Elizabeth Taylor. She's always on the cover page. If you go to the BBC program, then hero is this man who kills seven wives, the one who kills seven queens. He is always the hero there. I mean, what has happened to Shakespeare? Where has he disappeared? You people have created such an atmosphere that no chaste person can exist. If a housewife has to talk to someone she cannot talk because she's regarded as a useless woman. She must work, she must earn. Her looking after her children is not regarded as a very great. But in our country I must tell you that, I mean we are, in other some respect we are really very horrid people, in certain aspects they are terrible here. Be careful on that part. I mean, never trust them on this point. But on this point I must say that in India a woman, if she's a housewife, she has to wear nine things as a decoration of her form if she is out there. You see, I'm wearing all these, some of them, but you have to wear many more. Nine things you have to wear in India to show that you are a housewife. And it's the most auspicious thing to see a housewife in India.

A housewife is treated like a Goddess and there is a place within us which is for a housewife, which is the spleen. She is the ruler of the spleen in the human beings, called as Gṛuhalakṣhmī, is the Goddess of the housewives. There is no conception like this here. In England we had arranged a marriage of a Sahaja Yogini with a person who was a Sahaja Yogi himself. First she was not a Sahaja Yogini when he married her and she did not have the concept of a Gṛuhalakṣhmī.

So he told her something that, “This must be cleaned” or something. She said, “Why are you telling me?" So she came to Me. I said, “Why don't you understand? This is your house. You must be clean. You must look after it." In England men are absolutely, you see, they are, I don't know, they are servants. They fix the breakfast for the wives. They fix their beds. I don't know if they give them baths or whatever. Means that everything the man has to do. You see, poor these husbands have really [hard time there]. And these women are very [UNCLEAR foolish/cruel to them].

So I asked her, “Why, why don't you do this household work? After all, this is your job. What is wrong?" She said, “No, I'm not a housewife." I said, “What? What's wrong [UNCLEAR in/with] a housewife?" She said, “No, housewife is never respected in England." I said, “What do you say?" “Yes, the, you see, I was a secretary of somebody. He was more fond of me than of his wife. He used to respect me more than his wife." I said, “He must be mad." She said, “No, he was quite sane and a very successful man and he never cared for his wife and he treated her just like [UNCLEAR filth/this]." I said, “I am surprised. How can that be? Because in the society, say for example if I go with My husband I'll be sitting next to him, on the same position as he, even his second man, he may be anything, he will sit next to Me.

Even in England. Do you think his secretary is going to sit next to him?" Then she said, “Yes." I said, “This is the position of a housewife. The housewife is treated with the same respect as the man, even today in England. Now whatever you may do about it, it's different." So she changed her attitude.

This is what it is, is the center of housewife, which is a very important center, because that's the center of the mother. The mother is the one who has to give that security, that love, that attention. She has to bear up all the problems upon herself. But they do not; they do not. Here even a seventy-years-old woman talks as if a sixteen-years-old. [Why?] I mean, you are ashamed, like you just, you do not know what to say, the way, you are so embarrassed the way they talk about themselves that they are in, this is their seventh husband they are marrying. At seventy, the seventh. At eighty is the eighth. What about your children? Some are there.

Some are there. All of them are in the orphanage. Your husband, wife, the seven husbands and seven wives in the orphanage and their eighty-four children are also in the orphanage only. There is no household, there is no house, there is no [harmony], there's no joy, there's nothing, there's no security.

The first thing is the [UNCLEAR thinking/feeding] of [UNCLEAR your nest]. The idea that you can achieve God without marrying is absurd. You cannot. Most people who are not married are very difficult for realisation. Of course, it is all right, I mean, if you are young, yet not married. You can get married later on. But marriage is sanctioned by the collective [being]. The collective being sanctions your marriage. You have to respect it. This institution is not your own. It's created by God.

Somebody told Me that this constitution is not by God. I said, “How do you know?" He said, “Animals do not marry." I said, “Are you animal? Or are you going to become animals?" Supposing an animal takes away this book nobody will call it a thief, will they? He takes away anything. I mean, you have seen rats and things, monkeys, everything taking away for them as if their own. But a human being if he does it, you'll say “Why?" In the same way if the animals do not marry it's not a crime, but if human beings do not marry in the eyes of God it is [UNCLEAR wrong/a sin]. It's a fact. Because if it was not why people are punished? You see, it's so [UNCLEAR]. And the unhappiness comes from that, believe Me. If your parents were happily married and if you had a happy family, you would never have taken to drugs or to any such things and your security would have been very well built.

Now, whatever our parents have failed, maybe more, whatever it is, let us give it to our children. Let them have that security that we love each other and that there is a family within us which is going to look after our next generation and they are going not to be tortured because of our whims and our ideas, that we are going to give them that security. Otherwise population in India will grow again. If you do not decide that, we'll have a problem in [UNCLEAR India/England]. I must tell you this is one of the reasons why all the developing countries are having population problems because developed countries are incapable of sustaining children. It's a very serious thing. I mean, that you are loving people. You know what love is. But it cannot be only this romanticism all your life. You have to have love for your children, love for your country, love for everyone around in their [UNCLEAR old/own] period. There has to be this understanding of love which is missing.

Like there is no sisterly relationship. An eighty-years-old man marrying a sixteen-years-old girl. I mean, this is nonsense, absolute nonsense. It's ego, nothing but ego. Foolish ego and stupid ego, it gives you stupidity; that's what it is. How can an eighty-years-old man marry a sixteen-years-old girl? Like this Khomeini has got a wife; she's sixteen years. I mean, he is stupid from every angle, but this angle was exposed to Me recently that he has married a girl who is sixteen. I mean, ego at its best stupidity, this Mister Khomeini. And there are so many you know, Idi Amin and all the other people who are now gone away but see, but there are many like this, all ego-oriented people. Because ego ends up in stupidity.

An ego-oriented person becomes nothing but stupid. It ends up because, “What's wrong?" What's wrong being stupid? Nothing wrong. Only you are a stupid person. That's what it is. If you are doing stupid things it is stupid.

So when a person tries to satisfy his ego, if it goes on and on and on ultimately it ends up into stupidity.

We have a very good example of a saint, called Nārada, who became very conscious of his powers. He was saint, Nārada, very great. And he challenged Shiva. He said, “What is this Shiva? He also married Pārvatī and he was also won over by Kamadeva. And what is He? He's nothing compared to me. I am a person.

I am a Brahmachari. I am an ascetic one." So Viṣhṇu is the one who resides here, who gives us the, our evolution, is the one who played the tricks with him. And He took him to some acre, a city of illusion called as Māyānagar. Here they created a, a, a princess who was to be married. It's all an illusion. Now this fellow went there and he sent two of his people, friends, to him, saying that, “You go and tell him that you are a very handsome man." So, they went and created an atmosphere of false [face] for this saint. They said, “Oh, you are a very handsome man, a very good. Why not try for the princess?" He said, “No, I am an ascetic." He said, “Whatever it is, she will be impressed by your [UNCLEAR excellencies/excellences].

She will definitely put the garland into your neck and she will not give the chance and even a glance at others." Now, this fellow, the handsome Mister Ascetic, you see, he thought oh, he's so great. And actually he, he had started looking like a monkey, actually. But they said, “Oh, what a beautiful man you, this that” happened like that.

So he went into that Māyānagari, into that city of illusion and he sat himself like a very big hero waiting for the princess to choose him. And the princess was moving with the garland around. And when she saw this monkey she couldn't help laughing. She started laughing and laughing and rolling around.

He couldn't understand what it is. He thought, “Now she's very happy. She's going to garland me." His stupidity, you see.

So then she, she took her garland and she was still smiling, laughing and she went and garlanded somebody. He could not understand. These two people who were just trying to praise him and pamper his ego, he said, “What's the matter?" “[UNCLEAR We/You] don't know what's the matter." “I don't know." “You are the most handsome man going round." But when he looked around everybody was laughing at him. He said, “What's wrong with me?" “There's nothing wrong with you. It's nothing wrong.

It's perfectly all right. You are the best man, you are the greatest personality and everybody is looking at you." He said, “They are feeling happy. You don't, don't understand." And his ego was pampered and then he went to wash his face, you see. And he went to a lake and in the lake he saw his image. “Oh, God. What a stupid fool I was." And at that time the whole illusion city disappeared, telling him that you were under a myth. And this myth has to drop out today.

We are beautiful, we are eternal, we are the source of joy if we become the Spirit not the ego. We have to become the Spirit which is the eternal being within you. I see that. In all of you I see that. I see the clouds and I know the clouds can be removed. I love you and worship you very much that you should get that Spirit expressed in your awareness, that it should become your experience, that you should become that eternal being, that eternal beauty within you by which you should shine in all joy, happiness and bliss. And become that for which you are made, to become that instrument for which you are created.

Like a, a thing which is connected to the mains and start manifesting, you start manifesting immediately.

Immediately you start manifesting. If you want to feed, you start feeding other people. It's a very great experience of ages, as I told you, that at the Nala time it was promised, it was promised by all the big saints and big incarnations. Mohammed Sāhab has promised it as He said that you have to become active.

You have to get your Rūh. It's called as Rūh. Rūh means this Cool Breeze, as described in the Bible. It's very elaborately done. But the greatest work has been done by Ādi Shañkarāchārya who has said, “Na yogena, na samkhyena." By all these talking and all that, philosophies, you are not going to get it, but through the Mother's grace you'll have.

So now, here I am, at your service, at your disposal. Make the use of Me as you like. But what we have to request you that to get it you have to pay attention to your heart, to your Spirit, to humble down into your heart. There's a beautiful couplet that, “Whenever I want to see my Lord I have to just bend my head and I'll see Him in my heart." That's what it is. And it should happen to you.

As I told you, in such a short time it's not possible to say all the things about this great knowledge within you. It's the instrument and the whole mechanism has a big history behind it. But I only say that when you enter in the room I'll tell you where is the buttons and you open, you find out the light. That's all it is. If I start telling all the history and all that you'll be fed up. There is a history behind it all.

So what is the need? First of all you have the light, enjoy yourself and then we'll talk about. But it happens only to for these people who are really hungry for it. It works out in the people who are really hungry for it. Those who are not, it does not. It does not work out. It's difficult.

So you have to think of your desires because I told you that's your pure desire.

So understand what is your pure desire is, which you achieve and get it. Another thing which I have already told you and again, I'll emphasize that you should not feel guilty about anything. It's a kind of an escape. It's a very subtle escape. Whatever you have done, I mean the so-called sins as they say, what are they if I am talking about the Ocean of Love? If there is an ocean what is the speck of the thing that you hide? Why should you worry about it and think about it? It's nothing; it's nothing. Because you are saints you are seekers. You have to get it, it's your right that you have to have it and you will have it. May God bless you all.

I would like you to ask Me a few questions because today is the only day I'm here, but do not ask such questions that you divert the attention of the whole. Because there are some people, they read some far-fetched book and from there. That all forget about it. Whatever I am doing I will tell you. I say you will get your realisation. Believe Me and have it. But if you'll say that X, Y, Z was saying that you have to stand on your head for twenty years, you better join him and stand there for forty years. But if you want to have it I am here to give you.

So why worry about such people? So far you have not got it, that's why.

So better have it.

Sahaja Yogi: Should I tell them to take out the shoes?

Shri Mataji: Aah?

Sahaja Yogi: Should I tell them to take out the shoes?

Shri Mataji: Oh, yes. Just tell them.

Shri Mataji [aside]: It's all right. It's all right. What happen? You had an accident? Ha… Where did you get it? Where did you get it? Which [fast food]?

Sahaja Yogi: Four weeks ago.

Shri Mataji: Aah?

Sahaja Yogi: Four weeks ago.

Shri Mataji: Four weeks ago? Where it happened?

Sahaja Yogi: Here.

Shri Mataji: And now you have a plaster? Otherwise I'll put it right.

Sahaja Yogi: For me?

Shri Mataji: You have got a plaster? Is it open?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: All right.

He understands English.

That's how. It's very simple, very simple. All right? That's your job, I think, Gregoire.

Gregoire: [UNCLEAR Is that]?

Shri Mataji: Is that your job? Gregoire: Sorry. Yes, that's it.

Shri Mataji: It is, yes. That is the best German we can offer. I am sorry.

So, let's be, be in a cheerful way not serious. Again, I'm telling you. If you, if you are very serious we'll have to tickle you. All right? Now put your hands like this.

Because you are entering into the Kingdom of God and not in the, in the jail.

So please be cheerful.

Lady: Can You help me? I am single. I am living alone.

Shri Mataji: What's it? The lady: I'm, yes, I'm not a housewife.

Contents: 1980-10-12 Śhrī Gaṇeśha Pūjā (4th Day of Navarātri), Winterthurerstrasse, Zurich, Switzerland

[Version 1:] You have to see that all the negativity goes away, around us, around the universe.

So first we sing the praise of the Goddess; when She destroyed every negative, Satanic incarnation of Mahishasura. And when he was killed, all the Gods praised Her for saving them from the destruction and that happened long, long time back, it was ten thousand years back.

So this is the praise of the Gods of that so that, whatever is the negativity, through those mantras will go away, because it surrounds us, you see that, all of them have been there coming; from ten thousand years they have been coming. But this is the way you can throw them out of the present into their proper places. All right? So, listen to it, it's now in French luckily.

Gregoire: It's in French, it doesn't matter, Mother?

Shri Mataji: No, Sanskrit is not there...

Gregoire: Sanskrit is there, but it is...

Shri Mataji: You just read it in French, is all right.

[Reading of a description of the Gods praising the Goddess in French, followed by lots of background noise as they prepare the Gaṇeśha Pūjā. All recite “Jay Gaṇeśha, Jay Gaṇeśha, Jay Gaṇeśha pahimam, Śhrī Gaṇeśha, Jay Gaṇeśha, Jay Gaṇeśha rakshamam."]

Shri Mataji: Now, what you are doing by saying these mantras, you are awakening the innocence within you; innocence is represented by Śhrī Gaṇeśh. As you know, later on He incarnated as Lord Jesus Christ, but the innocence within us must be first of all invoked, because, before creating the universe, first of all innocence was created, because innocence has the greatest protective power, the greatest destructive power and it is the most powerful.

So, first we are trying to invoke the innocence. Now, My feet here represent Gaṇeśha and they are innocent and so, we are trying to worship those so that, within you, Gaṇeśha should be invoked. Your innocence should be enlightened, all right? So you understand the meaning of it, come on.

[Sahaja Yogis preparing Pūjā.] Gregoire: Shall I read the names Mother?

Shri Mataji: This is also the same thing: representative of Śhrī Gaṇeśha [UNCLEAR Pūjā instructions].

Gregoire: Should I read the names, Mother; should I read the names of Śhrī Gaṇeśha?

Shri Mataji: Yes. Now, these are the names of Śhrī Gaṇeśha, so that you invoke in you your innocence.

You can follow in French, as well.

[Gregoire translates in French what Mother has just said and then the names are read in Sanskrit.

Mother interrupts to say that they should also give the meanings of the names.]

Shri Mataji: Ganadhyaksha is the one... the ganas are the two which are the angels, so the left hand side, like St. Michael and He is the lord of all the left hand side, ganyadar.

Ganamurta means the one who liberates those ganas.

GanaDevatā, is the one who is the God of all the ganas.

GñyānaMaṇḍalamadhyasta, is the one who sits in the center of all the ganas.

Guṇātīta, this is beyond all the Guṇas: Guṇas, I'll tell you later on. The Guṇas are the three aspects within us.

Guṇaraja, That is He's the king of all the Guṇas.

Gurupriya, He is the one who is loved by all the Gurus.

Gurupujita, He is the one who is worshipped by all the Gurus.

Gurudharmaduhramdaraya, He's the one who looks after the Dharma of Gurus.

Gaurīganeshwara, His Mother is a virgin, Gaurī and He is the Īshwara for Her; He is the Lord for Her.

[UNCLEAR Gantatatwavide/Grantatatwavije], He's the essence: He has no body, He is the essence.

Gangajalaraswadatshatura..., [Shri Mataji can't understand Gregoire's accent.] [UNCLEAR Gaudarbha/Gaudarva], [Shri Mataji again does not understand the accent.] Gau is to the cows and dharba, is the one that they eat the soft part.

Gavishwara, He's the God of the cows; cows are the mildest animals in India, they are the mildest animals, because they give milk and everything; they're extremely mild. They're the mildest and He's the God.

GahaDevatā, He's the one who is the lord of the household, because it's a child, you know? Gudaladurbuje, What is it? [She can't understand Gregoire!] Gupta, is a secret, He's the secret part of it: He's the private part, the secret part.

[MISSING.]

Shri Mataji:... virgins, the girls below eight years are worshipped on this day, so we have got someone here who is sitting here [UNCLEAR].

So she has to help Me.

Take the ghee, on the spoon. Let Hari pour it [UNCLEAR].

Now, this kajal is put in the eyes to take away all the negativity from your eyes.

Sometimes the Mother has to weep also.

[Aside:] I haven't put the sindoor yet.

This is the Sahasrāra; by this, I worship your Sahasrāra, by this I [UNCLEAR excite] your Āgñyā, by honouring them.

You have to tie this into My hand; this is the play of the children, means that you are tying your Mother with your love.

I remember My grandchildren, when I went to their school: they used to tie My sarī to the chair saying that, “You should not go out till we come here." And the mother allows the children to play, so this they give Me for My protection and this is all for all of your protection, means they tie up all My feet with this and then they tie up onto themselves.

[Aside:] Yes, please tie up My feet.

[Instructions to which foot, Shri Mataji says Her left foot.] [Regarding the mangalasutra:] This is the sign that She is married to Shiva, you see; She's the wife of Shiva so this is offered by the children to their Mother who's married. Shiva is the Spirit, I mean Sadāśhiva is Her husband and She is His power.

Now, the scent is offered from the Mother Earth and the flowers are offered also.

We were very lucky that I got a sarī in London, I was just telling Rajesh that, “What a nice sarī I got from them, they are so fortunate." [To the ladies who are dressing Her:] It's beautiful, isn't it? Just put it and take out... come, put your hand. Even if you put your hand to them, I should have really made her sarī.

[Mixture of Hindi and English instructions.] Just put there. You may remove this one.

[About five minutes of Mother giving more instructions for preparing Her, but mostly silent in between.

Someone takes some photos. Lots more silence, apart from the phone ringing a couple of times and other unidentiāble noises!] [Very slow rendition of Ār.ti...]...

So the guilt is the point. All kinds of guilt are accumulated there: She throws away, because She is the lightning and lightning, what lightning does is to show all that is... She burns off all that.

Viṣhṇumāyā, She's thunderbolt. She's a virgin, She's a virgin: She dies just after Her [UNCLEAR death] in the sense that She was thrown away, but She's a virgin and She prophesizes. She's the one [who gives prophecies]. When you'll catch, means you are actually going against Her, means you are developing within you a kind of a sin, which gets settled down as guilt; you accept it there the guilt and then you just avoid it. You think it's a... once and for all you ask, accept it as guilt, your conscience is clear then, `Anything I have done was guilt, then what is there? Now, [UNCLEAR no more guilts, I am going to work].' Like that kind of a thing, attitude.

[Gregoire translates some, then telephone call interrupts, Mother thinks it might be Sir C.P. but it's something about a nice cake!] So, this Viṣhṇumāyā is important because here, you see, people are so intelligent: that whatever is wrong, they rationalise it and put it as guilt there.

[Gregoire translates for a while, probably a lot of what is missing at the beginning of this part of tape.] You see, there could be three types of attitudes towards sin; one could be that, you should say, `Why should I commit sins? I'm not going to commit sins.' This could be one attitude. Another could be that, `This is not sin: I'll do what I like.' That is on the right hand side. And the third could be that, `Yes, I know it is a sin: I'm the worst man, I'm a very bad person, I'm good for nothing, what to do? That's why I'm doing the sins.' Now, the Incarnation is beyond sin because, whatever He does, He's the [UNCLEAR Puṇya]. Even if He kills someone, it is necessary; even if He has to lay a diplomacy, [Gregoire translates `play a diplomacy'] it is necessary. But for human beings, it is necessary to know that, if you commit sins, then you go down in your Dharma. But after realisation, you become really Dharmatīt, means `beyond Dharma'. Means, if you do anything wrong then immediately you'll have the reaction on your vibrations, on all your stomach or something will happen to you. Like for example now, supposing you eat a kind of a food which you should not eat, immediately you get diarrhea. If you drink alcohol, you will vomit: it will happen to you automatically. That's how you give up alcohol, smoking, all these things. You don't even like the taste of it after some time. You just don't want to have it. That means you have gone beyond Dharma; means you do not have to establish it, it is just there, now it's... the whole system is working.

Means your attention has gone; your attention has gone beyond Dharma. You don't have to worry about keeping your Dharma. Before this, you had to keep a watch [UNCLEAR as to be in the center in your Dharma]. Now, if you try to do anything, immediately it [UNCLEAR brings] you on your vibrations or in your constitution it will show, so you don't have to put full attention to it.

There was one fellow who used to go to a Greek church, Greek Orthodox Church and I never told him, “Don't go to church” or anything, because they are all just trying to make money out of it and it's nothing, it's all bogus. But then, after realisation he went to the church, his feet and hands and everything started burning. I mean, he was so greatly realised, I should say; he became so sensitive. The next time he went to the church, he thought there might be bhoots so he [UNCLEAR put/took] some red powder and sprinkled all over.

So half of the people left the church, but he also walked off and they were all saying, “It was very hot in the church." Then he came and asked Me about this phenomena, so I told him, “You'd better not go." So he took a lot of this red thing and all over he put cross and swastika with this on the church. I don't know, but maybe he was saying that now, the church is practically vacant. But now they'll go to the pub. [Laughs.] They will not come to Sahaja Yoga, that is the problem.

I have told about Blake's writing, isn't it, yesterday? But the French people, they have not heard, so if you tell them, they'll be very happy and they can tell Cathy, Lill and Murray about it.

[Gregoire explains in French, about previous talk regarding Blake's poem, `Return, return to Lambeth Vale...', Linda Williams had found house in Chelsham Road.] Where the foundations are laid... the letter is return [UNCLEAR]. Jerusalem. Now, the whole story is the name of this thing is `Jerusalem of England'. I mean, He is going to establish Jerusalem now in England; He says now Jerusalem is going to be in England. This is it, Jerusalem, is the pilgrimage for Christ, is going to be in England. This is the head of the... the heading. He has prophesized all this.

You see, Blake has written already about Me, long time back...

[Referring to a letter that was read out the week before in Geneva.] Imagine, to literally write `Lambeth Vale' of all the things... when I was in Surrey Hills, you see, to connect both the things, it's remarkable. How could He prophesize? You see, it's a great prophecy. A great saint,

I mean English people are not valuing Him much. Of course, Shakespeare was a[n] Avadhūta... that kind of Guru who live in the [UNCLEAR villages], you see, they tried to show that everything is futile: this romanticism is futile, this is futile, that is futile. Like, you see Hamlet, all his behaviour, he listened to his father's bhoot, you see and his behaviour also was futile. And what he did was he killed his own ānce, he killed his own mother; I mean, everything is futile, that's what he tried to show. Which is very true also, but they are very harsh, you know.

[Gregoire translates from Blake's poem, `Milton' into French, although he only reads part of the below passage: “The Surrey hills glow like the clinkers of the furnace; Lambeth's Vale Where Jerusalem's foundations began; Where they were laid in ruins Where they were laid in ruins from every Nation and Oak Groves rooted Dark gleams before the Furnace-mouth, a heap of burning ashes.

When shall Jerusalem return and overspread all the Nations? Return: return to Lambeth's Vale, O building of human souls! Thence stony Druid Temples overspread the Island white And thence from Jerusalems ruins… from her walls of salvation And praise: thro the whole Earth were reard from Ireland To Mexico and Peru west and east to China and Japan; till Babel The Spectre of Albion frownd over the Nations in glory and war All things begin and end in Albions ancient Druid rocky shore But now the Starry Heavens are fled from the mighty limbs of Albion Loud sounds the Hammer of Los, loud turn the Wheels of Enitharmon Her Looms vibrate with soft affections, weaving the Web of Life Out from the ashes of the Dead;

Los lifts his iron Ladles With molten ore: he heaves the iron cliffs in his rattling chains From Hyde Park to the Alms-houses of Mile-end and old Bow Here the Three Classes of Mortal Men take their fixed destinations And hence they overspread the Nations of the whole Earth and hence The Web of Life is woven: and the tender sinews of life created And the Three Classes of Men regulated by Los's hammer."]

Shri Mataji: Remarkable and I laid the foundation stone only about, before coming, about say, I think, seventeen, eighteen days back. Maybe about twenty days back, I must have laid the foundation.

And now this is published and this I received in Geneva.

All right, so I think we all should rest now for a while and relax. I think he has got it [Self-realisation], but I'll have to work on her for a while. No, he has touched... he's felt it, twice. You see for her, now, if they work on the photograph they'll get it, I mean their Kuṇḍalinī has been awakened.

[Shri Mataji starts working on a lady.] Tell her not to put her feet towards Me. She should ask on the thing [photo] whether, `You are Mother, You are Christ, You are Mother of Christ,' because her Chakra of Christ is catching. Both of them can ask. You'll be all right. Kuṇḍalinī has awakened now, She's free now. I mean, they are awakened.

Let them ask the question, if they want. Ask in French.

[They ask in French, `Mother, are You the Mother of Christ?' eight times. The gentleman feels the Cool Breeze, the lady does not.]

Shri Mataji: Both Āgñyā. She used to smoke? Did she smoke? Lady: [asks a question which Gregoire answers in French].

Shri Mataji: What is it? Gregoire: Nothing, Mother. No, she was saying that she's not sure of what's going on here and I told her...

Shri Mataji: How can she be sure? Gregoire: That's exactly what I told her, how can she be sure?

Shri Mataji: Her eyes are not yet opened; see, her eyes are not opened as yet.

Gregoire: Of course, yeah, of course.

Lady: [still questioning].

Shri Mataji: And do not think about it, because you won't understand: your eyes are to be opened still. In darkness, you will not understand.

[Man also questions.] Gregoire: He says, we have been cheated once, so now we feel very...

Shri Mataji: No, but why will I cheat you? How much money did you give Me? What are you going to... What are you going to give Me? Did you talk to your Guru, ask any questions first? Then to Me, you are asking all the questions. See, where there is the truth; where the truth is there human beings fall down and when there is untruth, you just jump into it. What am I going to cheat you for? We did not even allow you to come to Pūjā; I mean, you see, ours is a different system. Actually, it is I who have to accept, not that you have to accept: it's a question of My acceptance. Yes, I have to accept it; it is not that you have to accept Me, the position is different. See? You understand the point? It's a different position actually. Now, see the vibrations. That's why she was not feeling; he's a devil and how can you put Me on par with it, how can you get Realisation? It's gone down. As soon as you say something [UNCLEAR he was better]. It's a Mahāmāyā. It's such a Mahāmāyā, you see, because it is testing you; it is testing you all the time. Because all the deities know.

[Aside:] He's all right, it comes out. She is difficult. Yes, she works out but Viśhuddhi [UNCLEAR is really bad], which doubts.

See now, I'll tell you, Gregoire, you tell them to judge like this, that when they go to Maheśh yogi or anyone, they have to work: he doesn't work. Here, I have to work. Secondly, the people who are here, they know what is your problem, they all know; even he knows. You see, everyone knows what is happening where and they all say the same thing. And they are not going to cheat you either.

So, now you see, all right? So, it has to work out. You have to become: it cannot be just done by false certificate. It has to happen; even the little girl, Estelle, will tell you. She can tell.

Now, you are all seekers and you are seeking the truth and that's why I am going all out for you. All right? And you all should get it: that's your right to have it. All of you are going to get it, even you may go to any Guru, or anything, I'm going to give you. You don't have to worry. Now, don't cry, come. Come here. Don't cry; there's nothing to cry, you are going to get it. All right? You are all seekers... You are going to get it; don't worry, don't be disappointed. Close your eyes.

[Referring to child who is leaving:] She's going now? Gregoire: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Helen, are you going? Helen: Yes, I am going.

Shri Mataji: Aāh.

Helen: Goodbye.

Shri Mataji [kisses her]: Goodbye, goodbye. I haven't got anything to give to her. Helen, what should I give you? Helen: Nothing, Mother. Give me Your love.

Shri Mataji: I'll give that. Give her My photograph, at least something. I haven't got anything for her; I didn't know I was going to meet her.

[Shri Mataji continues working on the lady:] Both the Chakras are catching.

May God bless you. And you have to contact these patients and Gregoire and [UNCLEAR] are going to work it out, all right, Doctor? Look after yourself.

[More talking among Sahaja Yogis.] Gregoire: Laurent a senti...

Sorry, Mother, now I talk French with You! It's very interesting, Laurent felt the left Mūlādhāra and this is the Siddhi course, You remember?

Shri Mataji: They are all sick: Siddhi course breaks the Mūlādhāra.

[Shri Mataji continues working on them, She repeats `sākṣhāt Param' quite a few times.] [A child calls out.] Shri Mataji [to lady seeker:] She is your sister? She's your brother. [UNCLEAR].

[To a Sahaja Yogi:] She'll have to put her left hand towards the photograph and right hand on [UNCLEAR Viśhuddhi], are you feeling better now, relaxed? You can relax now. [UNCLEAR The spirits are out there.] [To a Sahaja Yogi:] You took two days to be all right, isn't it? Gregoire: Mother, she'll work it out on the photograph; that will be good.

Shri Mataji: Yes and they also took... you took two days, isn't it, to get your Realisation? Or three days.

Gregoire: Four days.

Shri Mataji: Four days, so she'll also take some time, that's all. It's all right. Don't be disturbed, don't be nervous, it is going to work out. It takes... Now you have done this course for so many days, you see, at least four days is all right? You are going to get it and when you get it you write to Me, all right? [Shri Mataji kisses the seeker.] She'll be all right. You see, it takes time for... you see, with this kind of TM [transcendental meditation] course, you do take little time, three, four days, or something.

All right? She'll be all right.

[Shri Mataji is leaving.] Give My love to Kathy very much and to the [UNCLEAR Moroccan] girl, you see, Monica and to Esther also: very much. I remember them, all of them. Tell them not to worry, because you have also taken four days, so it doesn't matter. Just come. And then they will know what is needed about the Chakras and all that, then you can talk.

[To a Sahaja Yogini:] You are doing very good work in Paris, all right? I will try to come in Paris, on My way to India, maybe for one or two days. Then I will [UNCLEAR call you], all right? Maybe, maybe.

So I'd like to see you all. By that time, you'll all get Realisation; you should become masters of Kuṇḍalinī. I bless you very much. All right? Now we know such a lot about Kuṇḍalinī, you will also learn.

[Version 2:] See that all the negativity goes away, around us, around the universe.

So first we see the play of the Goddess. When She destroyed a very negative Satanic incarnation of Mahishasura. And when he was killed, all the Gods praised Her for saving them from the destruction and that happened long, long time back, about ten thousand years back.

So this is the praise of the Gods of that, so that, whatever is the negativity, with those mantras it will go away. Because it surrounds us, you see that all of them have been there coming from thousand years they have been coming; this is a very intense, throw them out of the present into their proper places. All right, so listen to it; it's now in French luckily.

Sahaja Yogi: It's in French; does it matter Mother?

Shri Mataji: Sanskrit is not there?

Sahaja Yogi: Sanskrit is there but...

Shri Mataji: You just read it in French.

[Translated in French by Sahaj Yogi.] [Sahaja Yogis recite the names of Śhrī Gaṇeśha.] Now what you are doing by saying these mantras is you're awakening the innocence. Innocence is represented by Śhrī Gaṇeśha. As you know, later on He incarnated as Lord Jesus Christ. But the innocence within us must be first of all awakened [UNCLEAR]. Because innocence was the first protective power, the greatest destructive power and the most powerful.

So first we are trying to invoke the innocence. Now My feet here represent Gaṇeśha and they're innocent. I show you they are trying to worship those so that within you Gaṇeśha will be invoked, your innocence will be enlightened. All right? So you understand the meaning then, come on.

This is also the same thing, representative of Śhrī Gaṇeśha. [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: Will I read the names of Śhrī Gaṇeśha.

Shri Mataji: Now these are the names of Śhrī Gaṇeśha so they invoke in you your innocence. This we recall in French. [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi [explains in French]: You can all repeat. I say it once and then we all repeat.

Shri Mataji: [explains the meaning of Śhrī Gaṇeśha's names].

You tell also the meaning. You have got the meaning?

Sahaja Yogi: No you'll have to do it.

Ganadhyaksha is also the one, ganas are the angels [UNCLEAR] from the left hand side St Michael and He is the lord of all the left hand side ganas. Ganamukta means the one who liberates those ganas.

GanaDevatā is the one who is the God of all the ganas. GanaMaṇḍalamadhyastaya is the one who sits in the center of all the ganas. Guṇātīta, you see: `beyond all the Guṇas'. Guṇas I'll tell you later, Guṇas are the three aspects within us. Guṇarajaya: He is the King of all the Guṇas. Gurunupriya: He is the one who is loved by all the Gurus. Gurupujitaya: He is the one who is worshipped by all the Gurus. Gurudharma... [UNCLEAR] mdanaya: He is the one who looks after the Dharma of Gurus. Gaurīganeshwara: His Mother is the Virgin Gaurī and He is the Īshwara for Her; for Her He is the Lord for Her. Gantatattwavide:

Shri Mataji: Gantatattwa...?

Sahaja Yogi: Gantatattwavide.

Shri Mataji: Gantatattwavide. He is the essence. He has no body; He is the essence.

Gangajalarasyasvadadchatura.

Sahaja Yogi: It's a very odd one, ok Godwit.

Shri Mataji: Who?

Sahaja Yogi: Gowdara.

Shri Mataji: Show Me.

Sahaja Yogi: Gowdarva, Gowdarva.

Shri Mataji: Gowdarva means the `cows'. Garba is the one that is the soft part: means Gawara.

The Gavishwara He is the God of the cows. Cows are the mildest animals in India, they are the mildest animals, because they give milk and everything and they are extremely mild, they are the mildest. He's the God [UNCLEAR].

GrahaDevatā: He is the one who is the Lord of the household, because it's a child.

Shri Mataji: What is it? Gudaladubuje: [UNCLEAR].

Gupta: is the secret, is the secret part of it, is the private part, secret part.

Virgins, the girls below eight years, are worshipped on this day.

So we have got someone here who sitting here. [UNCLEAR].

So she has to help Me... little ghee on the spoon. Let Hari do it [UNCLEAR].

Now this kajal is put in the eyes to take away all the negativity from your eyes.

Sometimes the Mother has to do for you. I've not put the sindoor. You see the Sahasrāra, I worship your Sahasrāra; by this I excite your Āgñyā, by honouring them. You have to tie this onto My hand. This is the play of the children; means that you are tying your Mother with your love. I remember My grandchildren, when they went to their school, they used to tie My sarī to the chair, saying that, “You should not go out till we come home." And the Mother allows the children to play, so this they give Me for My protection. And this is for all your protection is, they tie up all My feet with this and then they tie up onto themselves. [Shri Mataji explains how to tie in Hindi.] Please tie it, the mangalasutra. This is the sign that She is married to Shiva, you see, the wife of Shiva.

So this is offered by the children with their mother, who is married. Shiva is the Spirit. I mean Sadāśhiva is Her husband and She is His power. Now the scent is offered from the Mother Earth and the flowers are offered. [UNCLEAR]. [Hindi.] It was very lucky I got a sarī in London. I was telling Rajesh that what a nice sarī I got from them there; so fortunate; beautiful isn't it? [UNCLEAR]. Even if you put your hand to them, I really needed a sarī. Just take it [UNCLEAR] can you remove this one for Me. [Hindi.] [Shri Mataji talks aside to Sahaja Yogis.] You tie it to everyone. Can I see the linen just a minute? You are going to give him one photograph [UNCLEAR]. [Hindi.] [Shri Mataji interacts with the Sahaja Yogis.] So that you'll get the point. All kinds of guilts are accumulated there, She throws away because She's the lightning and lightning, what lightning does is to show all that is impure... It burns off all that impurity. Viṣhṇumāyā, She's thunderbolt, the Virgin, She's the Virgin. She died just after Her birth [UNCLEAR], in the sense, She was thrown away, you know, so She's the Virgin and She prophecizes, is the one who is prophesized... Maybe you can, means you are actually going against Her, means you are developing within you a kind of a sin which gets settled down as guilt; you accept the guilt and then you just avoid it. You think it's a once and for all, you accept it as guilt, your conscience is clear, then everything I have done once, then what is there [UNCLEAR]. Tell them in French. [UNCLEAR].

So this Viṣhṇu Māyā is important, because here, you see, people are so intelligent that, whatever is wrong, they rationalise it and put it as guilt there. You see, there could be three types of attitudes towards sin. One could be that you could say: `Why should I commit sins? I'm not going to commit sins?' this could be one attitude. Another could be that: `This is not sin; I'll do what I like.' [UNCLEAR]. That is [UNCLEAR] on the right hand. And the third could be that: `Yes I know it is a sin; I'm the worst man, I'm a very bad person, I'm good for nothing. What to do? That's why I'm doing the sins.' An Incarnation is beyond sin, because whatever He does is the Puṇya of that. Even if He kills someone, it is necessary.

Even if He has to play a diplomacy, it is necessary. But, for human beings, it is necessary to know that, if you commit sins, then you go down in your Dharma.

But after Realisation you become really Dharmatīt, means `beyond Dharma'. Means if you do anything wrong then immediately you have the reaction on your vibrations or in your stomach or something will happen. You must know this one. Did you follow? You see, Blake has written already about Me, longtime back.

Sahaja Yogi: I know that we read it last week in Nirmalā... [Yoga].

Shri Mataji: Read it.

Sahaja Yogi: It's not this one. Is so precise it's amazing [UNCLEAR].

Maybe about twenty days back I laid the foundations and this I received in Geneva.

All right, so I think we all should now rest for a while if you like. I think he has got it but I'll not work on her [UNCLEAR]. He's felt it [UNCLEAR] for her I mean, if they work from the photograph and the Kuṇḍalinī has been awakened put [UNCLEAR] towards Me. He should ask: `Mother you are Christ. Mother you are the Mother of Christ,' because the Chakra of Christ is catching. Both of them can ask. You'll be all right; Kuṇḍalinī has awakened now; she's clean now. I mean they're awakened; let them ask the questions if they want. Ask in French. Again; again I'm feeling the Cool Breeze in the hands.

Sahaja Yogi: He feels; she does not.

Shri Mataji: Both are there, she used to smoke? What is it?

Sahaja Yogi: Nothing Mother. No, she was saying that she's not sure what's going on here and I told her...

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi: That's exactly what I told her. How can she be sure.

Shri Mataji: Her eyes are not yet opened. See her eyes are not opened then.

Sahaja Yogi: Of course, yes of course.

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR] do not think about it. Because he won't understand, your eyes are to be opened still, in darkness you will not understand.

Sahaja Yogi: He says we have been cheated once, so now we feel very...

Shri Mataji: No, why would I cheat you? How much money did you give Me? What are you going to... What are you going to give Me? Did you talk to your Guru ask any questions? Then to Me you are asking all the questions; where is the truth? Where the truth is there, it has been squandered [UNCLEAR]; and when there is untruth, you just jump into it. What am I going to cheat you for? We did not even allow you to come to Pūjā. I mean, see, ours is a different system actually; it is I who has to accept, not that you have to accept, but a question of My acceptance. Now see the vibrations; that's why she was not feeling: He is a devil. And how can you put Me on par with him?

How can you get Realisation? As soon as you say something [UNCLEAR] it's such a Mahāmāyā, you see, because it is testing you all the time. Because all the deities know. [UNCLEAR].

She works out, but the Viśhuddhi is very difficult [UNCLEAR]; it stops.

See now, I told you, Gregoire, you tell them to judge like this, that when they go to Maharishi MaheśhYogi or anyone, they have to work. He doesn't work here, I have to work. Secondly, the people who are here, they know what is your problem, they all know, even he knows. All of you are going to get it, even though you may go to a Guru or anything, I'm going to give [UNCLEAR] you don't have to go. Now don't cry, come, don't cry; there's nothing to cry; you are going to get it, all right [UNCLEAR]. You are all seekers... You're going to get it; don't worry, don't be disappointed.

She's going now?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: Is she going now?

Shri Mataji: Helen, Are you going?

Sahaja Yogini: Yes I'm going.

Shri Mataji: Ahhh.

Sahaja Yogini: Goodbye.

Shri Mataji: Goodbye. I haven't got anything to give to her. Helen, what should I give you?

Sahaja Yogini: Nothing. Give me Your love.

Shri Mataji: I'll give you that [UNCLEAR]. You have My photograph. I haven't got anything for her; I didn't know I was going to meet her. [UNCLEAR].

May God bless you. May God bless you. And you have to contact these patients; and Gregoire [UNCLEAR] is going to work it out [UNCLEAR]. All right [UNCLEAR] that's good, thank you all.

No, this side. Look after yourself. All right, that's good, thank you all. No, not this side.

Sahaja Yogi: Sorry Mother; now I talk French with you.

It is so interesting: Laurence has the left Mūlādhāra and this is the Siddhi course, [UNCLEAR] You remember.

Shri Mataji: They are all sick Siddhi course breaks the Mūlādhāra. [Shri Mataji works on the TM seekers.] She's your sister? He's your brother. She will have to put her left hand towards the photograph.

[UNCLEAR]. Are you feeling better now? It's very sad. You took two days to work it out.

Sahaja Yogi: She will work it out on the photograph, that will be good.

Shri Mataji: You took two days isn't it to get your Realisation.

Sahaja Yogi: Four days.

Shri Mataji: Four days.

So she'll also take [UNCLEAR] that's all right. Don't be disturbed, don't be nervous; it is going to work out but it takes [UNCLEAR]; now you have done this course for so many days you see, at least four days is all right, you are going to get it. And when you get it you write to Me, all right, thank you. She'll be all right, you see, it takes time for you to see this; with this kind of TM course it will take some time: three, four days or something; all right, she'll be all right.

Give My love to Kathy, very much and to the [UNCLEAR] girl you see, [UNCLEAR] Esther also, I remember them all very much, all of them. Tell them not to worry, because you have also taken four days. And tell them [UNCLEAR] for the Chakras and all that [UNCLEAR].

You are doing very good work in Paris, all right. I will try to come to Paris on My way to India, maybe for one or two days, then I'll inform you, all right. [UNCLEAR] I like to see you all; by that time you'll all get Realisation. You should become master of Kuṇḍalinī.

I bless you very much, all right.

Now we know such a lot about Kuṇḍalinī, you'll also learn.

[To Antoinette Wells:] You have to stand like a rock.

Contents: 1980-10-19 Talk to Sahaja Yogis (Dussehra Day), How to Spread Sahaja Yoga in Europe, London, UK

So today I called this meeting because, you see, big announcement of Gregoire getting married. He's been very sweet to his bride. I liked it. He was very gentle and nice and really took it in the proper sense. I know Rajesh also came with his āncee. He is getting married in August 12th. And the another thing is about how to develop England and Europe together. In England a very substantial force is there no doubt. But we have to think about how to propagate. Now I have thought of one or two things which are lacking in Sahaja Yoga in here, I think. One of them is we have no publicity done. We have not been able to get people for publicity. Now this Times fellow; before I leave, we have to do something about it. You can take it, note it down, it would be better. Note it.

[Sahaja Yogis talking.] [UNCLEAR] better be written down some points, will be better. Behind Me, paper and pencil, you take.

[Sahaja Yogis talking.] So what is that you're taking? It's better to write it down in short.

Āgñyā? Alright. Everybody is catching left Āgñyā. Look at her, with the hands she is trying to... I mean cover her feet or if you have socks, better. It is getting blue with that. Hmm... it's cold.

So, first this gentleman, what was his name? Mascar or whatever it was, to be contacted. And there is a doctor in Geneva who has taken lot of interest. His name is Doctor Mascar. In his presence, I cured about five people.

So, he sent back to [UNCLEAR] deliberately in My presence. I said alright. Now he is going to study those things.

So you tell Gregoire to get after him that he goes and sees these people and they should try to convince the people whom I've cured that by giving something in writing they will be helping other people to get cured of Sahaja Yoga. See this is the only way we can really approach these gross people.

So, he is going to give an article starting with this, that he saw this miracle, then he saw the raising of the Kuṇḍalinī, he saw the, I mean the kind of a article you would like to publish if you'd give him a little lead to Gregoire, on these lines. You have to prepare on what lines we are going to publish the thing. We have of course concrete examples you can give, he being a doctor, you see. It will have an effect and that we should publish it in England, because he was also practicing here. He has a house in this merrily ground road or somewhere.

So, we can publish in his name.

So one of the advantages would be that he being a sort of an authorized person, you can publish this article about Sahaja Yoga in his name. And we can contact Mister Mascar. Then, in case we are successful, we can have a press conference or something, before I leave, if possible. Or when I come back, I mean we have to work it out in such a way that we also have a press conference later on.

For publicity, see what we have found that this poster business works out wonders.

So, when I come back, we have to think on those lines of posters. And we can get very good posters done in India, if you want and can get them by the ship, but if they arrive after four years, don't blame Me. Find out all the methods by which you can publish. Now, Gregoire's book, we can take to some publisher and ask him if he would like to publish. Then what about Don's book? That has to be ready before I leave, so we'll get it published in India.

Yen, so what's happening now the little dolly baby? She knows her mother. She knows her mother very well.

So, when we have, I mean we should all sit down and find out how we can publish about or sort of advertise about Sahaja Yoga. You see today even ordinary thing like punk crop or something you know that goes into the eyes of these people, because they create a controversy. Now, you can start a lecture CDs on the false Gurus. You people can go ahead with it. You can go on talking about this false Guru is like this, that false Guru is like this and nowadays another thing they started is magnetism. They put a magnetism and with the photograph of the Guru. And they turn the magnet in a different way, you see and then the bhoot comes in. I mean so many ways they will use, I don't know this is one of the latest I have seen.

So, you see all this. Then there is another thing is that they get the photographs of the terrestrial or some sort of a beings you see out of reach, more surprising! The God, Who is on this earth are My eyes and [UNCLEAR as if beautiful] the photograph is taken from here so the nose is like that and there is a mike in front. I don't know from where they got this idea. The lady showed Me, so I said you better write to them. They can find out, I mean look at, what point they are! This is so subtle. And also for this I could say that [UNCLEAR Peter] she has to go around.

So I will first give you the way it should be done is you write to Marie. She wants to [UNCLEAR] to go there, Marie. In Switzerland, everybody wants to know about [UNCLEAR

TM]. And they said they can arrange lectures for you. But there is one doctor in Germany, who is very anxious to meet you. He is the head, sort of a head in [UNCLEAR Trigo] or someplace. Yes. This doctor, his name I forgot. And he says, “No, no there are twenty names and this and that", but I told you. But he has got his Realisation surprisingly despite the head of a nonsense.

I tell you he is so gracious, Sahaja Yoga is so [UNCLEAR]. Such a man like that, who has been in Sahaja Yoga for years. Ten years or so, is the head of that thing there, he got Realisation all right.

[Sahaja Yogi talks.] [UNCLEAR… forgetting]? But they will all write to… Gregoire is going to write to you. Thomas.

Thomas was so sweet. His wife was, wife means his friend was quite opposing Sahaja Yoga, and, but still he organized on his own and very, very sweet he was and I mean he didn't have much money but still we arranged all that, but the rest of it was so sweet he did. And, very sensible. He is a very good man. And another was, another was Jack, you remember Jack? The one who came with his wife, who would not give her name. But this girl from Sydney did not meet Me.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Huh? Oh! That's it! Carrie.

Sahaja Yogi: Another Carrie.

Shri Mataji: Yeah. Australia is doing very well. Everyday I get a letter from there saying that, “I've got Realisation, I've got Realisation” and it's a very good way because you see they are writing about what is happening to this.

So we have in writing, everything.

Now, this is very important is to go down there. And, one day I'll sit down with you and tell you what are the points to be covered with these people. They can't believe it! They can't believe it! They are so brain-washed, they can't just believe it. And they said, you see all the head is divided into sixteen parts, I tell you. Horrible Āgñyā and they don't want to believe it! They said, “No it is doing good to us, it has done good to so many people” and this and that. I really, I can't imagine! But I said there is somebody like this will come and talk to you. They have taken your name, but I wish I had not given the name, because then they will ring up the main head and there they might tell them that some [UNCLEAR brain wave]. But in any case you must go and see this man. And then we got two other TM people there, who came to the program, of whom Thomas was rather worried, because he was also in TM. But when these two people came in, they told Me that he is a devil incarnate. I said all right.

So, there it started working out. You see then, Thomas got back his confidence also.

So, the whole thing turned out very well.

I think so, there was something.

Sahaja Yogi: blue suits and red tie and…

Shri Mataji: [UNCLEAR]. Blue suit was not there, but something he was little elegantly dressed I should say, quite nicely dressed. But not exactly blue suits, but elegantly dressed people. May be they might be Initiator for [UNCLEAR] but they said that he was the incarnation of devil. They had no doubts.

So, this is what, so now you have to work it out.

Now Spain people, out of only their phone numbers, I will get their addresses. And Portugal. All these things are to be looked after. Portugal, Spain, France, Nice. Nice, we've got a very good center in Nice.

But now, I think Marie is looking after, Marie has been really spending lot of money, she did a lot. She did a lot, I must say. And, she is going to look after Nice. But still you should find out about it, what's happening.

So, we've got Portugal, then we've got Spain, Madrid, then we've got Nice. And the addresses of all these people should be brought in. Today I'll give you the addresses of California people. Addresses of California is coming.

So, Pradhan may be coming here. Then what else? Then we've got Paris, Lille.

Write it down all these places: Lille, Paris, then, I went to Geneva, then Lausanne, then where did I go next to that? Zurich, Bern. Bern, Bern, Zurich and then Basel. Basel. And then to this Freiburg.

Freiburg, where our Rustom has done some job. How are you? How is Mr. [UNCLEAR]? I don't see him at all.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: He is alright now? Upset? So then, what did I say? Then Bonn, Freiburg, then Bonn.

But you have to immediately write to Thomas, find out from him what is he doing about it. He wants somebody to go to Bonn, Freiburg.

So we have to arrange all these things, you see. There is one lady who is going to Nigeria form there. She might work out it.

So, get the list of people. All the list of these people and their addresses. Portugal, I don't know if you have written to them, Portugal people. What have you?

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: But you wrote?

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: They sent a letter to this girl. They have sent her a letter.

So better, write to her also so that form a complete circuit with them.

So, this is the she is unhappy about something is to be put on the other side I think. She is on one side she has been too much. Little move her to this side.

So, now for England. Our great poet Blake has already... Did you read that Blake's thing? Wonderful! Just imagine! What a prophecy! What a prophecy! So correct and foundation so laid. See actually, he is seeing, just imagine how great they are in the laws of Divine! You see that he prophesized, but for other people, you people don't understand the value of all these things that you're doing. And we should see the profoundness of the whole thing, how profound it is, how we are handling the whole situation ourselves, I mean you are not understanding and realizing how deep it is and what it means. We are taking it still in a stride I think. Imagine him to write all these things and all the prophecies he has made, now at least that will give I think some boost to London Sahaja Yogis. How? That they will realise their importance and that what important, I mean Jerusalem means the pilgrimages. That means Jerusalem is now going to shift from there to here.

So what a great thing! Great prophet. He was a prophet. You see, I picked him out. Gavin, you remember? I went to see all his works. I mean, I picked him out. I didn't know all this that he has done it. I didn't know about this poem also this Jerusalem one. And I think Warren has given Me one book but I read a little bit here and there not much. But I'm now going to read all that.

Look at him. What a poet you had. Prophet, a real prophet he was. What a prophecy! He might be [UNCLEAR].

So precise.

So precise, imagine! And beautifully described! Really beautifully described.

This is, who has done this? Jeremy has found out, is it?

Sahaja Yogi: Jeremy and then [UNCLEAR] and then Jeremy found this thing.

Shri Mataji: One has to go into his works to find out what he has prophesized more.

Sahaja Yogi: He got the whole, complete and also he got the complete work...

Shri Mataji: Great! Jerusalem. All right.

So now for Jerusalem, what is to be done? That we have to find out. That is to be little bit worked out in various methods, you see? Gregoire has certain ideas. He said that we should materially improve ourselves first of all. Little bit. For presentation it's important he said that. Gregoire, you see, he is very practical. He said, the presentation should be, if not blue suits at least there should be some proper English suits, that should be worn because an Englishman like a hippy won't be accepted anywhere. An Englishman to be dressed up properly is important.

So, that is something you find out what thing proper is. But need not be absolutely one colour stuff but everybody should try to. For presentation, when you go to a, say, a meeting or something, it should appear that it belonged to old, old style English traditional person. See, so people take you seriously, which was Gregoire's very good idea because for all these functions, he told all the people in Switzerland that they must dress up properly. And then how to behave in a program and all that, he is very particular you see? For a newcomer, as he said to Me that for a newcomer, what matters is your outside. They don't know about your inside and how you behave and all that. He said that, “Mother you make a little outline for that and discuss with all the London people also." How to work out the outside behaviour of Sahaja Yogis when they go to a meeting or hold a meeting or work it out in a way. Because it should look like one group and working out together. One group is the main point is, you see? And everybody should support each other in the presence of others. See otherwise it looks as if some blind people are trying to lead other blind. It should appear that you people have achieved something and that you are all in one tune with each other or there is no quarrel between you and there is no indignity.

Because if others, when they see you in this manner, they get frightened and they run away.

So, he said that for that I have to make some outline, but I would like to have suggestions from you people and also on top of that, I hope you'll make it ready by this week. All of you to give Me suggestions as to what sort of things we should have, which will look presentable to people. Like you see, they expect something of an Englishman and if that is not there, then they tell, “These are some of the craps” you see.

So, Gregoire's idea was correct that they should appear in this way and I think you should think over it. What should be done for. And secondly, we have to find out, see the places where I visited and try to allocate places to every Sahaja Yogi, who would like to look at those places. Now what happens to people who come and go away? What is the reason? You should find out. Go and talk to them. You must make a study of that. Why do they come to Sahaja Yoga and then disappear? One of the reasons, as these people discussed was this, that, people are very naive. They don't know what to expect.

So, Don's book is also after realisation, you see? There should be a small introduction of Sahaja Yoga according to them a small little introduction to Sahaja Yoga, what to expect, what to find. I think, one of My speeches is there which I gave you. We can sit down and chart out an introduction to Sahaja Yoga. What are we to expect, you see? And a very direct thing should be there. And, I mean for advertising, say for example you want to have a meeting somewhere, you can even have pamphlets, you can even distribute and things that people can come and intensively we should work out in every place. Then it will grow faster. Pune is doing very good work, Pune.

Tremendous. Apart from that, Bombay [Mumbai] is doing very well. Rajesh was saying it is going very well in Maharashtra. But the only difference between Maharashtra and other places is this: that they know about it beforehand. They know Kuṇḍalinī, they know what to expect, you see. This is what is missing.

So if you can give it in writing, what to expect out of Self-realisation and very directly, the points. First what to expect, what is Self-realisation? What is Self? Very, very directly, you see, absolutely.

So that anybody who wants to read can see that. And then he should see that what to expect and all. If we can prepare something like that, then you prepare a sort of a, what you call a framework and then we can fill it up. But should not be complicated, simple and very direct. Because even Don's book is after Realisation. Before Realisation, that book is bit too much. We can do it in small, very small way.

There is no need to question and answer sort of thing we can do it very direct. Now, after Realisation, people go away, you see. Now for that also we have to understand why. Why people go and what should we do to stop them? Some of them whom I talked to, you see, why they went away is that some say there is no love between Sahaja Yogis. This is a very important point. They do not talk to each other with love.

You see this is the fellow from Rajneesh, he was and he said in Rajneesh there is lot of love. Well, you see it is filth, you know there, but doesn't matter. To him outsider he sees everybody, you see, very friendly and nice and this and that.

So, the kind of dryness and arrogance or we can say fighting and all that nonsense should be avoided.

So, all this we have to chart it out, but this is one of the reasons. Secondly, they said that some of the Sahaja Yogis talk in such a manner as if they are great, you see. They have achieved a lot and very egoistically they talk. And that repels people. They should talk in a softer way.

That might be hinting at Gregoire, maybe, I don't know. But I must say Gregoire's shouting helps other way around. I mean many people become very alert. But his style is different you know.

So everybody should not take to the same style. You can have different styles of approaching people. It's like Gavin and Gregoire both go hand-in-hand very well. I mean if they both of them approach somebody, then the left and right both are put together. Such combinations should be found out. You see where, the great thing is the friendship of Sahaja Yogis, you see. The great friendship must be developed.

That friendship I don't know, should be like, Rām said that Pradhan is coming everybody felt very happy, you see. Why? After all Pradhan is such an old man, seventy-five-year-old man coming here.

But you feel so close to him, why? Because you are born of the same Mother and you are doing such a tremendous work and all these fellow feelings should come like a soldier fights with [UNCLEAR] others are also fighting the same way. But that is not there. You see it is more artificial.

Sort of... I think that is what is... huh?

Sahaja Yogi: Everyone's attention is on very petty things all the time.

Shri Mataji: I think so.

Sahaja Yogi: There is not sort of enthusiasm and fire.

Sort of, you know, energy [UNCLEAR]. It's all whose turn is it to do this and I mean.

Shri Mataji: That, that should be stopped completely. That's what I was saying. Why not get a maid servant for the Ashram? Better get a maid and pay her than to worry about it. This is something that will pull you down so much. I tell you so much. Hopeless.

Sahaja Yogi: Also I think there is a tendency to become a kind of hypochondriac, Mother. People become obsessed with their catches, you know and they sit there and just worrying about what catch they have got and all this and they won't do anything for Sahaja Yoga, you know. They just worry about themselves all the time.

Shri Mataji: See? Now, for this I've told Harry that you should not worry, now leave your hand, just sit, still I will look after it. You should not worry about your catches at all. The more you worry, the more the, they will be there. Now for example, you are very subtle. Gavin knows this point very well. As you were subtler and they were subtler also. Very clever. They would like to come in the program to disturb Me. I'll give one of the examples. That in the program, they'll come just to give a feeling that you're unwell. You start behaving like that.

So the other people, who are there they say, see they are unwell why should we be here? Then they start clearing yourself out like that. See all these things go against good publicity. Then their attention is on your, “I'm catching here I'm catching there." The more you do that, the more they will be there. It's all not catching anywhere. They will run away. See, they are there just to create a problem for Me and for Sahaja Yoga.

So, better tell your mind that, `You get out from here. We don't want any help. Had enough of you.' If you do that it will work out. Or you should, best thing is to say, `Surrender'. Surrender is the only way. Anything comes, `I'll surrender myself to Mother,' finished. All these things will go away. That's the best way. Then you start seeing [UNCLEAR] very clearly, which I've been talking to Harry. That he would used to worry like, “Where should I put my attention?" I said “you just don't worry just say, `I surrender everything to you Mother.' Finished. Don't try to do anything. Don't try to take out. Just surrender. They'll all run away. Otherwise they will be there creating a nuisance out of you." You see the trouble is the whole society is individualistic, you see.

So to get out of that individualistic society into a real social being, in the sense that it has to be a real Sahaja Yogi collective being, then one has to remember not to pay any attention to yourself. What is so important? [UNCLEAR] who am I?

Sahaja Yogi: This is what I've been saying on Friday night. It tends to be that people come in and they just think about themselves and they work on themselves without going to someone and saying, `Can I help you? Can I do this for you?'

Shri Mataji: No, No. That is also another subtler work is that I'll help you. I'll do this for you.

Because this is again the missionary part of it. I must tell you because Christians should be aware of it.

What these missionary business of helping you. Whom are you helping? You are helping yourself. The more you are with others, the more you are enjoying yourself.

Sahaja Yogi: Being collective.

Shri Mataji: Just be collective. Just do it because you like it, you love it and by which you are the winner not the other. You are the ones who are going to gain not the others. The more you [UNCLEAR you will do it] the more you [UNCLEAR will gain]. But, [UNCLEAR it's becoming] subtler and subtler.

Like one would say that I am doing it because I become more powerful. What am I? Because after all ascent is the point, isn't it? You have to ascend. How far you have ascended in Sahaja Yoga, how far your vibrations are alright, how far you have gone deeper is the main point. And that can only be achieved, only be achieved through surrender, nothing else. Nothing else. Before and after. Putting your attention, complete surrender. That will work out. That will absolutely neutralise all these things [UNCLEAR hypochondriac...] just put all the troubles onto Me. Even to this point [UNCLEAR] like he, Harry, I've been studying you people through him very well. That, just now I talked to Harry and I told him that how subtle it becomes that, he's a very nice person, good-hearted, everything. But the bhoots are not.

So, today I talked to Mahārāj, this fellow from Africa. And in his talk, I discovered, he said, I was talking about a doctor and he told Me a sentence, “Mother, he is judging you." And that's how he got hot and I said, “That's it."

Anything that judges Me is wrong, like, “She's doing this because She loves us." Even this point. Who are you? You see the subtleness, the subtle point behind this. Can you see it? That's what I told him. See Hanumāna gets angry on this point. Hanumāna, absolutely hundred percent. Who are you? Why should She love you? And because She loves us that's why you must accept what am I saying to you.

What's that? Hello? Just open the door. Who else has come?

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Hello your friend is coming is it? Who is coming? She is trying to talk to Me. She doesn't like when I don't pay any attention to her. All right. Hello. How are you? It is nice to see you.

Sit down. Sit down.

So, how it becomes subtler and subtler, one should see. And one should face it. And when the subtle ways, I must say there is a difference between the senior Sahaja Yogis and this thing. You just see this.

There is a understanding, there is. Anything should be done from the Sahaja Yoga point of view. Are we helping Sahaja Yoga or not. I think maturity comes with age. The concern should be Sahaja Yoga. And even if you, I mean I said you must take up jobs. You must earn. Have to work. You have to improve your styles and things.

Somewhat, but for Sahaja Yoga. It's to be done for Sahaja Yoga. That's not the aim. Aim is Sahaja Yoga. That's the main point is. That Sahaja Yoga should be placed as the highest thing and then only it will work out, because all these subtle things will disappear. Otherwise these subtle things swallow you. And they come as [UNCLEAR], you see and they will give you ideas and things and it will start losing sight of it, because you must know that you have been prophesized long time back. And you are doing such a tremendous work. It's such a great work you are doing. I wish you could realise it, because even that understanding is very subtle. Then all other things you just throw away. That Sahaja Yoga itself is self established and have this self-esteem thing. It does not need from you. Only thing by taking it up yourself, you improve in your status. Like that. Now see you understand. You're doing no favour to Sahaja Yoga or to Mātājī Nirmalā Devī. You're doing favour to yourself. Now, this point is the point I tell you. All right? So you surrender. Surrendering is the only way. There is no other way. And that's how these problems can be solved.

Now, so how do we do it? [UNCLEAR]. Good, good, come along, come along. How are you? Good.

Who else is coming from Cambridge? John will be coming. Dalla would come, I'm sure.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Not yet arrived. Hmm. How to do it? By not doing it [UNCLEAR is]. By surrender.

Then you do everything. You see, when you become dynamic if you are not becoming dynamic that means you are a gone case. You see the judgment point.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR]. [Everyone laughing.]

Shri Mataji: You can't say that now. You think so? I don't think. I've been tracing you people all over. Of course sometimes I used to get [UNCLEAR]. I must say the people in this country have only one problem, is lethargy. [UNCLEAR] get active also, they can be only bathroom cleaners. This is the problem.

So, the inactivity can be dangerous. But I'm saying of non-action, I'm not saying of inactivity, where the feeling that I'm doing something is not there. You have to be active, extremely active, but say, `I'm not doing it,' surrendered. If you are lethargic, then you are no good. I mean you are absolutely [UNCLEAR], tamasik, left side. Well, if you are active and you know that it's all surrendered, `I'm not doing it.' Then inactivity, is not non-action. Non-action is very different. Like the sun comes and gives you light, it just emits. It is non-action. It doesn't say, `I'm doing it.' You see the difference between the two. It should be clearly understood.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR There is a feeling] Mother that sometimes there is a tendency to feel that if you do something in an active way, that you may get a catch in the left or right Heart... and sense of and there is a tendency then not to do anything since we go closer of your... [UNCLEAR] worried of catching or doing something... And that's the hypochondria, “I'm catching on left Heart so I can't do anything."

Shri Mataji: Sahaja Yoga is not for such cowards. They are useless, they better get out. You see, it's meant for people, who are real warriors, you see, we need soldiers.

Sahaja Yogi: We must fight now. We got to get out and fight.

Shri Mataji: They will go out of circulation. Don't you worry. All such people. Very soon.

So, those who are afraid of catching they go out of circulation. Here we are not here to look after your Chakras. We are here to work for Sahaja Yoga. When you start working for Sahaja Yoga, you are automatically cured and geared up. That's what it is.

Sahaja Yogi: Donna said something appropriate when we were talking. She said one has to look after little ones [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: She is working for all of you left, right everywhere. That's a game. That's a game she's playing. The game [UNCLEAR] and smiling too.

Sahaja Yogi: This is what we must realise that they work very hard.

Shri Mataji: Extremely, extremely hard. And they scream and shout and everything.

Sahaja Yogi: It is quite obvious that when someone comes in, you got a bad catch, because the working out starts immediately with things.

Shri Mataji: What things? Better you learn from someone. I should be the one, who is catching the most. Yeah. What [UNCLEAR] may be now, hmm, may be that is, I don't know. You see it's the mathematics, which cannot be calculated easily. It's the thing you go five steps forward, three steps backwards, eight steps forward, four steps backwards, ten steps forward, eleven steps backwards. And where do you reach? What is the speed? That's what England is. That everybody of the whole is progressing. No doubt. Slow and steady. We'll win the race.

Sahaja Yogi: I mean the wind of change came in the last week when this girl arrived from Australia I mean it was really some [UNCLEAR... who have never met You] so positive and everything else like that.

Shri Mataji: They are the children of convicts, you see? So, so fresh. Anik, there is another one.

Her name was Anik. She met us in [UNCLEAR Orleans]. She came all the way to meet Marie. She went round and took all the posters. You see Marie as usual product of England.

So she [laughs] said, “Mother” she didn't tell Me beforehand. She had put the advertisement in the paper. But, she didn't find out when it was.

So it was on the third day the advertisement.....

Contents: 1980-10-19 Navarātri Pūjā (Dusshera Day), Hampstead, London, UK

Then you have already heard about the importance of today in the life of the Goddess. And that today Rāvaṇa was killed and that's how there were celebrations. As you know very well that all the Satanic forces which one had to face one at the time are all back on the stage and they are to be defeated. The greatest problem of modern times is that these Satanic forces have taken a very subtle form and they enter into your psyches and into your egos. And you are the Saints, you are the Bhaktas, you are the devotees of the Goddess. It's a very delicate situation. When the confusion is there, when the saints are attacked, the aggressor can be removed, but the saint becomes mixed up or confused with negative forces, which is very difficult to make him see the light. And you have seen this situation very well. And the subtler you grow, the subtler they became. And they start giving you ideas which are so negative, but you cannot see them.

So the problem today is very delicate. There are no absolute saints and there are no absolute bad people.

Such a mixture, a confusion. That is what is Kali Yuga is. Is modern times. Only way to get rid of them is to surrender. That is the only way. There is no other way around. Because when you surrender, the spirits, the negativities, the Satanic forces just disappear. Because they are defective. They have no business to be there. They have no interest in a person who is surrendered to God. They cannot surrender.

If they surrender they'll also become saints. All the time to think, “What are my catches? What are my negativities?" Is not going to help you. Just surrender all these ideas that are coming to you and you'll find that all absurd ideas will run away. This is the easiest way to get rid of your problems. Is just to surrender. After all, all these horrible people, all the horrible deities, enemies, who came forward to fight the Goddess, are there as long as you nurture them. As soon as you surrender yourself, they will find you of no use for themselves and they go to other half-baked people. The growth will only come, when the surrender is complete. One has to know that the powers are tremendous. You cannot conceive it as it is said by Mārkandeya. You cannot conceive it; it is beyond your conception. Outwardly you cannot understand, you just cannot understand. Under such circumstances the best thing is to surrender yourself.

Now surrendering, what do you surrender? What do you surrender is your ego and your superego and it is completely cleansed and drenched in the blessing. Because you cannot give anything. You have to receive the blessings. And to receive the blessings you have to just surrender. It is so simple. The easiest way. To solve all your problems is to surrender.

Just say, `I surrender.' For realised Souls it should be their mantra. And you will be amazed how all your problems will vanish. Because not only that the powers are tremendous, but as you are realised Souls all the Divine Forces, all the Divine Deities, all the Eternal Beings; Chiran-jīvas, all the angels and the ganas, all of them are looking after you. But they know one thing, those who are surrendered and those who are not surrendered. You just surrender the problem and you will be surprised that the answer will come in such a miraculous way. Just surrender. Do not take any responsibility upon yourself. Just surrender. Because how far you can go into the solution? Up to your rationality. Beyond that you have your Spirit and the Spirit is connected to the Divine.

So best is to surrender and the whole thing will show such light and such beauty and such meaning. In the modern times now the work is not the same way as it was when it is described. In the Raudrarūpa or that the Chandrarūpa you see there, was there at the back. It's a mind work, it's a Mother, it's a simple thing. Loving, compassionate, for your protection.

This rūpa is there, but you do not see it. You are completely protected. Be sure of it.

And all your powers after Realisation of giving Kuṇḍalinī awakening, or of curing people, or of talking about Sahaja Yoga, or spreading it. Any, any kind of thing that you want is all granted, is all thrown into you. And as you know there are many saints, who have said, “Why these Sahaja Yogis should be granted this great boon?" So one can say it's a whim. All right. There is one more thing. I was happy to learn that the great poet of this country, Blake, had prophesied about Me. And it is so beautifully done, that He said that England is going to be the Jerusalem. This is going to be the pilgrimage. The venue has shifted. And then He has very beautifully; have you got the thing to read? Oh, haven't brought it. But what reading, that He has said that first the furnace will be burning in Surrey Hills, where I came first and then He has mentioned Lambeth Vale, where we have got our Ashram. Where the foundations will be laid, we have laid the foundations. And that Jerusalem is going to be in England, not in India. And you are the people responsible for this Jerusalem. Today is the day for which in India everybody is doing Pūjā.

And all the Sahaja Yogis today, in every center there is a Pūjā today. And they are all thinking of you people.

So you have to receive the supreme bliss today, the supreme bliss. Only by surrender. Today the vibrations are tremendous. Keep all your doubts and all your nonsensical things outside. Just receive it and get it. These things are going to help you, nothing else. Because you don't have to give Me anything, but receive it yourself. Receive it as much as you can.

This Havan you know is a very good thing for reciting the name of the Goddess. Her eyes are given by fire at this stage. And in that light, in that fire, in the name of Goddess we awaken our Deities within us and throw away all that is wrong in these particular Chakras which invoke those powers.

So with devotion and understanding you have to do it. Because you are really privileged people, extremely privileged. Be proud of that and do with that devotion all these things. Today is a very much better time because the Dussehra and the Navarātri, both are combined at this time. And so it has worked out very well. We should do it with full devotion. I think very few people can put in the fire, but we can all do symbolically and say this. And how many names do you want to take away? Hundred-and-eight?

Sahaja Yogi: Thousand. [Laughter.]

Shri Mataji: What's it? You would like to thousand? That is good idea. If you have that much devotion it will be the best because it will about take two hours at the most, at the most. Not two hours, I think one hour if we go fast. Will you be able to say all that? Do you think it is easy?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: One thousand names. All right, you can give food to children. They will be tired. What do you say? Let's try it. In India they would do one thousand.

Sahaja Yogi: Then we will do thousand [Laughter.] [They start preparing for the Havan. Yogis recite 108 names of Shri Mataji.]

Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis: Bolo Jai Śhrī Bhagavatī Mātājī Śhrī Nirmalā Devī Ki Jai!

Shri Mataji: From where does this come? You should say this is the Holy Breeze, this is the Holy Breeze from the Holy Ghost. All right? Good. Left Viśhuddhi. Now go on, he talked to whom?

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR]. We tried to tell them about it and.

Shri Mataji: Which people?

Sahaja Yogi: These were the people on the meditation course.

Shri Mataji: Which meditation course?

Sahaja Yogi: That he did over a weekend Mother when he was here in London two weeks ago.

Shri Mataji: Who has, Yogi Mahajan?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: He had a meditation course?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: And what did they say?

Sahaja Yogi: Ahem, some of them sounded quite interested, but ah not very and some of them whom were saying very unpleasant things.

Shri Mataji: But why, what was Yogi Mahajan doing there?

Sahaja Yogi: Ahem, basically he gave them a sort of meditation which gets them to look at themselves.

Shri Mataji: Really? Unless until Self-realisation comes. See this is what is it they will be all possessed. You try to put in any effort, see Yogi Mahajan has not been able to see the essence of Sahaja Yoga. If you try to put in any effort you go to the left and right and naturally they'll be changed. Because they will be possessed by these devils you know. And that's what he is doing again. I'll have to rectify the whole thing. I wish I could talk to him. He doesn't understand. It is very dangerous. He himself will be in trouble. How can you look at yourself when the self is nothing? What I'm saying, when you are not connected how can you look at your self? What is the self they'll be watching? Moreover, now did he tell them to lead a righteous life and all that?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes Mother.

Shri Mataji: He told them.

So are they doing it?

Sahaja Yogi: Ah, some of them. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What are they talking about? I don't understand. Because, I tell you, some of them came to My program and they just fainted. They started shivering and jumping. Horrible. Gregoire was there. Who else? You were there. Do you remember? No, no, no! In Delhi. You remember in Delhi? Horrible things happened to them. Naturally they will say. They started jumping and doing all kinds of things. They were from Rajneesh and horrible. And they fainted actually there. They couldn't bear any more.

So I told Yogi Mahajan you don't play with these people. What is the use? They are all ready weak people. And what is he interested in weak people for; having a problem? He'll be in trouble. He said that first he wants them to go to Rajneesh style and then bring to Sahaja Yoga. And this is it?

Sahaja Yogi: I think his idea is that, ah.

Shri Mataji: First to cleanse them.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: That he told Me that the way is in the West whole thing is very [UNCLEAR] in there and all that. But Sahaja Yoga is the best way into it. You see for yourself. Because your vibrations will only tell you. How much time we'll have to wait now for cleansing? Like that. Sahaja Yoga; it works you are realised and start cleansing yourself automatically. They take too much time there. And maybe they will go around with this thing. How will they control their ego? First of all that's the problem in the West, ego. Now how is he going to counter it without Realisation? Have you talked to him? Is he coming back?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes he came back about ten days ago. He said he wanted to see You.

Shri Mataji: Then I'll be glad to speak to him. I'll tell him that. Yes he told Me this that “Mother you don't know the people who come to me." But all lunatic people go to him I think.

Sahaja Yogi: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Ahh, I really tell you. He was telling Me that they can never understand it, Sahaja Yoga. They have to be brought round and actually a very funny type he was telling.

So what were they saying about getting on to come to Sahaja Yoga?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, some of them said that. But some of them had [UNCLEAR] met you [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What happened to them?

Sahaja Yogi: I didn't ask them very much about that.

Shri Mataji: There were some who were from Rajneesh. He told them about it. He had to, because these people said he take out all these things otherwise they can't get Realisation. And some of these people were very funny and they started arguing and this and that. And then we had to ask them to go.

And there was one fellow Yark, from Innsbruck something, he came in. Do you remember Huli? About five, seven of them from Yark, some fellow Yark. And they wouldn't take their Realisation. They said there must be some other way also apart from Kuṇḍalinī. I said there is nothing. They said, “No I want to do in this way." Then I said, “Why do you come here? If you come here then you have to accept Sahaja Yoga. Otherwise you go to your Guru, why do you come here?" They were quite rude. Do you remember the way? They were very rude and they just came to pick up a fight. I said, “We don't go to your Guru to be destructive. Why should you come here?" Then they went on. I said, “It's not easy." I said, “We have paid for this hall and you can pay for your hall and can do what you like to do, to be destructive. It's up to you." You see a simple question if you ask them, “Do you know where is the Kuṇḍalinī? Do you know is happening? Do you know what is happening to another person?" They say, “No." They do not understand.

I mean you have no knowledge. How are you going to judge whether you are correct or not? There is no way out. But for Indians it is intrinsic. See because everybody talks of Kuṇḍalinī. But yesterday I met another funny fellow. He told Me that Kuṇḍalinī starts from here. I said, “Very nice job." He said, “My Guru has told me to start to meditate on here." I said, “Really?" He said something I can't understand, “You have to put all the attention here." I said, “It will break and I won't be able to put it back." I was quite amazed. And he said, “My Guru has told me to concentrate on here, the Kuṇḍalinī is here." I said, “Really? This is something news to Me that Kuṇḍalinī is here." So all such nonsense that is going on.

So what to do with them, such people? And now if you say that they are not ready, you tell them something else and manage it. They are going away from reality. You have to tell them this that there are many ways to waste the time. Last Judgment has started, there is no time to be wasted. And you must tell this fellow Mahajan, that he behaves responsible. This he must understand. That he should say nothing but Sahaja Yoga. Come to Sahaja Yoga and we'll talk. Get your Realisation, then we'll talk. That's what he has to do, otherwise he will be held responsible, because he has got his Realisation.

Do we say that you can't use the most suitable [UNCLEAR]. But he should try giving people Realisation.

They get it or not, let's see. What happened to the doctor?

Sahaja Yogini: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: But we have met a very nice doctor now in India and he is going to write a paper. It will be published here. Because in his presence I cured six people. I cured a cancer patient, I cured a paralysis patient and a arthritis and a [UNCLEAR].

So he has wrote it down and he is going to publish all that and he is going to [UNCLEAR] work the cures that we have done in India. Now see there is one case of leukemia. Just comes like that. [UNCLEAR].

[UNCLEAR].

[GAP] [Talking about a book Gregoire is writing.]

Shri Mataji: Before I leave I hope your book will be ready so that I have copies to take from you.

It has come out very well, but it is also for the realised Souls. You see after Realisation you will forget that you were not realised once upon a time and those who are not realised they are blind. You have to talk to them sensibly. You have to talk in a very different way.

So I'm also trying to make a small direct statement, by which people should know what they should be carefully looking, what they should expect, what should happen to them.

So that actually in India people know what to expect, you see. But here people don't know, so we have to write like that and that if you use then they will be prepared.

You see these small pamphlets that we are going to write now should be really transcribed and they should be sent all over. I mean it's taking roots now. Because see the way things have happened in say France. It was tremendous you see. Because now people are finding it out that all this nonsense is on and they have to find something for cancer.

And say in France now in three places I went to everywhere there were people from seventeen [UNCLEAR].

Everywhere! And then I went to Germany everywhere there were people from fifteen to twenty five everywhere. And then I went to Germany, also came.

So everywhere I found that there is an awakening and people were trying to understand that there has to be some real knowledge and they respect that.

Some people who have been to other Gurus are even better because they somehow or other understand the value of Sahaja Yoga in comparison. See how much money they have been paying and how much they are doing and how many years they have been working for their ascent.

[GAP]

Sahaja Yogini: Mother, I have transcribed about twelve tapes.

Shri Mataji: Really? So where are they?

Sahaja Yogini: They are still in Brighton.

Shri Mataji: Will you send them over to Me I would like to take them with Me to India. That is good. That will help a lot. Because they want to publish small small booklets out of that. Would be good idea. Then you can translate. Because Gregoire is now writing another book, based on Advent, but in French. Because he says now I'm a very different person, back then I was not too much established because [UNCLEAR]. Whatever I'll say I'll say with that authenticity. I said all right you do it.

[GAP] Abu has bought a very nice tape recorder. I think all of you should buy one tape recorder, because you see that is one way of growing. Because Abu told Me that when he started reading and listening to them his English improved tremendously. Of course you cannot really learn English. But he said, “The vibrations are coming from there and I started growing!" It is a very good idea to have tapes and at your spare time, put them on and listen to them. And it's a very good thing, it helps a lot. That will really mature you very nicely. That is a very good idea.

Yogi Mahajan did not bring any foreign person to meet you. [UNCLEAR]. You are the only first person he sent and he only brought Indian people to meet Me.

Sahaja Yogi: I met some [UNCLEAR] India and they were saying things like Sahaja Yoga is very difficult, it is not for me.

Something silly like that.

Shri Mataji: Because they were fainting, na? They were fainting. Actually those two people who came in here [UNCLEAR]. They were in such a bad manner. And then actually literally physically we had to lift them out of here. They were in such a shape. You remember? You don't remember those two? You were there. Horrible business. For them the wisest thing is to follow Rajneesh, I think. That is the wisest thing with them." But now luckily, Rajneesh has been ousted from Pune. He is ousted from there and he has taken a place. Also there he has got a land but it was cancelled by government so now he is going to catch in another place. From there all the such people are just going on strike. Because you see he cannot travel much he is suffering from one of these ahh.

Sahaja Yogi: Can't stand smells.

Sahaja Yogi: Asthma.

Sahaja Yogi: He is suffering from being a Rākshasa.

Shri Mataji: I mean he cannot travel, he cannot move out even on a, what you call a, on a train, or anything. He cannot sit next to people and he cannot smell any good things like flowers or good scent or anything he cannot smell he gets into this spasm and he starts getting, what you call, asthma. He has got allergies from all these good things. He can only go near something filthy, there he can sit comfortably." [They start talking about organizing programs and dates of events. They also mention that there will be a program in Caxton Hall next night, which is the speech.]

Contents: 1980-10-20*, Public Program, The Way of Kuṇḍalinī, Caxton Hall, London, UK

It is said that Sahaja Yoga is the culmination of all the Yogas. But it is a very contradictory statement because Yoga means union with God. Then how can it be culminating? That means the first thing we have to know is the meaning of Yoga is the union with God. If union with God is the thing, then how can it be culminating? I mean that is what it is.

So others are not Yogas. They are maybe stepping stones.

Till you have not met Me you have not met Me. Before that whatever you have done. For example you got into the car, then you got into the train. You came all over here. Still it is not Yoga. Till you have not received your Self-realisation it is not Yoga.

So all other Yogas should not be called as Yogas as far as union with God is concerned.

So what is the meaning of word Yoga in other sense, like Rāja Yoga they call it and other Yogas they have got. Like Manana Yoga, means meditation Yoga. And other systems, many other systems they try to preach about. Like Haṭha Yoga. Then I saw today some more names about it, Sannyāsa Yoga.

So Yoga has become sort of a tale for all the names that have something to do with God I believe. But it has no meaning. Because if the culmination is Sahaja Yoga, then other Yogas have no meaning.

So what is the meaning of Yoga? It has double meaning. One is the union with God. Another is the technique, the kausala, the technique.

So the first part is of course Sahaja Yoga, is union with God.

The other part is of technique. Now if you see that union with God is the culmination and if that is the goal there cannot be any technique, because it is a spontaneous happening. We spontaneously become the higher personality. Like a chick in the egg becomes the bird. Or we can say the potential egg becomes the chick. Now what does he do? What is the technique? There is no technique. No technique for the egg at all. Now what is the technique the mother does? Nothing. The mother bird also just gives the warmth of her love to the egg and spontaneously it becomes a chick. Because in the egg it is built in to be a chick.

Only thing is that she gives the warmth. There is no technique. Does a chicken know any techniques? Can chicken read books? Can she go to a Guru to pay money? Can she do these things? If she wants to transform a little egg into a little chick, she only knows instinctively that she has to sit on the eggs with care, instinctively. And to give warmth to the egg. And spontaneously it is done. It is all done already by nature by God.

So she cannot do anything about it. Once you understand the right meaning of Yoga, that it is technique as well as it is union with God.

So one can understand when people talk of technique, what do they talk of? It is all imaginary blah blah blah. Supposing I want to become a Guru and I am an Indian, or say Mexican or someone like that. I can come and tell you “Oh, you can get your Self-realisation, but first you have to cleanse yourself." Now how do you cleanse? Water of Life should be there to cleanse you. Bible has talked about Water of Life.

But where is Water of Life? How are you going to cleanse yourself? We must ask question to ourselves.

How are we going to cleanse ourselves? How did Christ cleanse them? Just by touch or looking at them.

Finished. What technique did He use? Did He make them sit for hours together in Padmasana or did He make them stand on their heads? Did He? He just touched them. And how did He cleanse? Because He was an authority on that. He was the power of cleansing. He was that pure Himself, that anybody whom He touched got purified.

So there cannot be any technique as far as cleansing is concerned. That is why it is said that you must find out a proper Guru, a real Guru. Because in the company of a real Guru, your attention starts moving out from useless frivolous things and you start thinking of your Spirit. Because your Guru is spiritually endowed. You see the lifestyle of the Guru. You see how the Guru is. You see how he behaves. How compassionate he is. How patient he is. How unassuming he is. How simple he is. And you start thinking that I should be like him and there must be something about him. The way he is so kind and so patient and so peaceful and so loving. This should impress you. Not how much money he has got, how many castles he has bought, how many houses he has got, how many kingdoms he rules. The kings and the queens have nothing to do with religion and God. They have nothing to do whatsoever.

They have to look after the kingdom. The man who lives with his own earnings, like Christ was a Son of a carpenter.

So He used to live like a carpenters son. He did not buy any castles or any big place or anything and He used to go to a mount and give sermons to people. In the same way we have to see that when people talk of technique we should also find out what sort of personalities they are.

First of all such a person is to be compassionate. At least on the face there should be some light of love.

All kinds of dullards, hypocrites, swindlers and criminals can become Gurus by your naive understanding of spirituality. They have to be very very simple people, easily approachable, knowledgeable and extremely humble and simple. Now the technique people are talking now, as I've told you there cannot be any technique for Realisation. And if there is any technique it starts after Realisation. For example there is no technique to put these lights on. It is the simplest thing. Just press the button, is there. It is all built in, done. But if you have to correct it or if it has now gone out of order, there is a technique. Also there could be a technique, once the power flows how to manoeuvre it, how to take it around. If you have to decorate say this room with small small bulbs, then you must know how to connect it with the mains.

But if there is no electricity what technique are you going to do? First of all there should be that power flowing in you. It would be something like a bankrupt planning a trip to America. It is that absurd. First of all if the power is not there what technique can you have? It is as simple as that. But because we are supposed to be intellectuals, we like some sort of a difficult stuff, you see we don't want to eat like this we want to eat from this side. We must have a technique to eat our food like that and if there is a simple method we think it is very silly; How can that be? It has to be absolutely horrifyingly difficult and complicated. Otherwise an intellectual is not satisfied. It must be something that you normally do not know. For example pulling your hair, normally you don't do.

Somebody might say that. Or somebody might say that take out all you clothes and start jumping. This is a technique. For that you immediately get nine hundred Englishmen running up to the point, paying five pounds each and jumping. And we have got.

But when you say there is no technique, people are not happy. Because there is no satisfaction of the ego. “What are we doing about it?" Now what did we do to become human beings? Did we cut our tails? We just became. It is built in, Sahaja. It is spontaneous. It is within you. You do not have to go anywhere to find it. It is within you. Everybody has said the same thing. They were all false people. Now these new people have come up and giving you ideas. They cannot embrace anything that has been handed over to us from generations. They cannot see the unity of all the religions. They cannot see anything. They have to earn their own living. Not living, their own comforts and their own palaces.

So they have to take out something new. Have you heard anywhere in any religion which is established, that you take out your clothes and jump, you get to God, I mean every animal does that. And how does it go in to the logic of intellectuals? I don't know what is happening with the intellectuals. The intellect has become a fermented nonsense I think now. Because how can you accept such nonsense, absolute nonsense. That you pay for it and get yourself hurt. I don't mind. You do what you like. You can be absurd, foolish, stupid, do what you like. But you hurt yourself. Your inner being is hurt by these things. Hurt beyond repair. It can be a very dangerous game these people are playing because they mesmerize. If they would not mesmerize you, you would not believe them.

So we have to understand that there cannot be any technique if it has something to do with God. It has to work out spontaneously, just by a touch, a glance is sufficient, if the person is that pure. What are you purifying yourself for? Why? Like many people believe that we must suffer. Who has told you this? You mean to say God created you, His own children on this Earth. Filled you up with all His bounties and then now He wants you to suffer. Is He mad? Will any father do that? Is there any father alive on this earth who wants his children to suffer? Christ crucified Himself for your sake. Actually it was your stupidity which crucified Him, that you could not recognize Him at all. Now why do you want to suffer for that? All these self destroying, society destroying, nations destroying ideas cannot come from God because He is constructing you to be the citizens of His beautiful Kingdom. Why will He destroy you? Why will He make you suffer? It has to be a beautiful thing that should happen. Now I want to tell you about this technique today because it is coming to My notice many a time that people are of two types.

Some of them ask Me that you must give us a technique.

So many people have suggested to Me, some pale white Sahaja Yogis, that “Mother unless and until they get some sort of a technique, people won’t do Sahaja Yoga." But I say what is the technique? Am I to tell them lies? So now a new type of people have arrived. Who are now saying that this is one of the techniques. I mean you cannot satisfy human beings, if they want to escape, good. They will escape. They'll find out some method which their intellect soups up to escape. Intellect has a special quality that can also cheat you very well.

Now you see within us these are the things that are already present. What do we have? First of all we have this power of desire. This is expressed outside as left sympathetic nervous system in the gross.

Then another we have got here the power of action. Which expresses its self as right side sympathetic.

When you go into too much of action, ego is speaking. When you too much go into inactivity and lethargic then super ego comes. [UNCLEAR] that when you try to do too much of this, or you go to people who are mesmerizers and things like that. Or you take to drugs and take certain types. And you take to certain methods or so-called techniques, then you can move from here, which is the subconscious area within yourself, into collective subconscious. Now this is another power, which deals with the action. Over activity or any such techniques will give you activity can move you from this to this side, into collective supraconscious. And down below here is the hell. Now so what have you got? One side is collective subconscious falling down, where all the sly nonsensical people are still being together as they are being punished to the absolute. On the right hand side we have got supraconscious very ambitious people and Hitler and all that sitting down there to give ideas `I am this, I am that, I am.' Down below you have got Hell where you can go very fast. But the Kuṇḍalinī doesn't just go down. To think of it, you don't need much technique.

So in the center we have got this path of our evolution, by which we have arrived at the point where we are human beings.

So you are a human being. On two sides you have got these collective horrible, dead things. Down below is the hell and I don't know what you can do put this down. That also you have to plan out well, otherwise you will miss it. There are now people who are trying the level past Gaṇeśha.

See there is a technique for that also perhaps. Now when this day they want to give you a technique for today. They can use your ego or superego, because of only two things. The main thing is that Kuṇḍalinī which gives you Self-realisation is sleeping nicely. You cannot have it at all. You cannot touch Her.

So what do they do? Well they basically. They say that to awaken Kuṇḍalinī will give you a [UNCLEAR].

Actually what they do is to use your ego to suppress the superego, if it is too much. Or they do is to suppress your ego with your superego. Now say the psychologists. I'm sorry if there are any. With due respects. What do they do? They try to develop your ego to suppress your superego. Like they'll pamper if there is an alcoholic, technique is yours. They put the one before him or maybe the whiskey that he likes very much and tell him and condition him by telling him that you are so powerful. You are not going to drink. Just one drink. Now what does it maintain? Where does it go, all this value? It goes into the balloon of Mister Ego here, which suppresses this ego, superego and they feel better. You do not drink.

All right you do not drink, but then you start beating your wife. Because what is the escape? Because if you give up superego, then you, they'll have your ego. Now the other technique would be to develop your superego by mesmerizing. There are many people, I have seen, who are taking to mesmerism very seriously.

I mean in the medicine also. I'm sorry to say there are people of medicine here. They are mesmerizing people for their own comfort without understanding what they are up to. Both things are unauthorized. Means if you mesmerize people you put them into superego.

So a person who is very violent, he becomes subdued. A sadist have become masochist. I mean they've [UNCLEAR] subdued the violence.

So all these techniques are very temporary and will pass out. Because one side develops, the other doesn't. We have to see this point clearly, because Sahaja Yoga is not meant for such people who want to go into all this surplus and all this kind of actions. It is a very simple thing, that there is a Kuṇḍalinī based in the triangular bone, which is to be awakened, which passes through all these centers, pierces through this and gives you a real balance.

The other technique is that you get somebody from church. I mean it makes Me laugh when I see all that. Very seriously they'll get some water. Bring the child, put it on the head and baptize. How can you? What sort of thing is it? It is just mechanical. It is so much mechanical, people are discovering it so rapidly that all over the places I find the churches are [UNCLEAR]. Because there is no living work there. It has to be living experience itself. It's a mix up. Mix this and this together. It is that absurd.

That the person who may go to church every day, there is no transformation within him. At the most through ego they might control his superego. Or through superego he might manage. But living thing is here, which has to go to your heart. And in any living growth people move in stages, in the same way in Sahaja Yoga also. But for some people it can be very fast growth, very very fast. If you are complicated.

If there are problems. If there is something wrong with you Chakras, you are being misidentified, you have habits which you cannot overcome. It takes some time. It doesn't matter. After all what have we been doing so far? So the growth takes place. In the first stage when the Kuṇḍalinī rises She touches all these Chakras and She indicates all the fingers of the Sahaja Yogis, what is the problem. Then the Sahaja Yogi, because he is connected and the power is flowing from his hands, he can correct, he can try to manoeuvre the Kuṇḍalinī, which is awakened. Takes it out from here and when it pierces through the fontanelle bone area. You can see it with you naked eyes and you have seen all of you, most of you, if the Kuṇḍalinī passes, She goes out and pierces. She also looks after other organs and this and that. Now when She goes up also Kuṇḍalinī falls down. It is a common experience of Sahaja Yogis that...

Six steps forward, six steps backward, then four steps forward, two steps backward, then eleven steps forward and twelve steps back. Where do you reach? Because of these seven Chakras and their permutations and combinations within. Now withinWestern mind is a big machinery here going on. They are very speedy people you see. They never arrive at a point. After, always before. That's why making a point to come late. They'll arrive... suppose the plane has to go, leave by eleven o'clock. At seven o'clock they'll start saying “Let's go, let's go, let's go, let's go" like a jockey, you know. And they are on the horse already and the horse is saying: “Let's go, let's go, let's go." By the time they reach the airport they find that there's no plane going today. All such things happen. And because of these Western ideas and things, a big problem arises which we should bring solution [UNCLEAR]. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises, here, She ends up on the Sahasrāra. Now within us are three very important problems; one is heart, other is liver and the third is the brain.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī first rises you should see it clearly, She goes to the brain and not to the heart.

So the enlightenment of the brain or awareness we can say, awareness.

So the truth is gone in the brain but not in the heart. First stage is that clearly that the Kuṇḍalinī goes there. Now on top of the head here is the spirit sitting down. The Kuṇḍalinī has to go and meet the spirit, the seat of the spirit. But the seat is there the spirit actually is in heart.

So the information goes to the spirit that Kuṇḍalinī has risen and every information goes to the brain. And then the spirit starts emitting these vibrations. Now after that it is very necessary to keep it still in your brain. Because the sound [UNCLEAR] of Kuṇḍalinī has arrived and as soon as you go out of the hall you start thinking of about it. The Kuṇḍalinī goes down actually [UNCLEAR].

So I've told people that for the first seven days mantra should be `Don't think.' Because when the Kuṇḍalinī goes down, She is hurt. I've seen some Kuṇḍalinīs [UNCLEAR] they have been [UNCLEAR] really, really terrible. Horrible and some of them I've seen big, big bhoots and all the time pain in head, suggests the helplessness. Because a seeker who is the only child of this Mother Kuṇḍalinī, She's your individual mother, does not understand that I should allow Her to work it out and take over and leave everything to Her hands. They get Realisation, the vibrations start to emit. “Oh” they think, “Oh how can it be?" How can that be so simple? How can it work out that way? This is, there is no big thing. Nothing, started Cool Breeze coming.

So what is so great about, what is so Kuṇḍalinī about? And we don't believe it. For them it suits better that every Sunday in their tradition, go to church and come back. At least you have to buy your shoes and your dresses. Must wear nicely and go to church. Here nothing. You must sit down and get truth. And if you hear Me, My, [UNCLEAR] what a worst part. Like you have to stand on your head thirty-five times.

You have to wash your hands hundred-and-five times or hundred-and-eight times, maybe fully. You have to pull out your hair and not to go to a barber. We have such cults you'd be surprised, that just pulling out their hair morning till evening. They are not supposed to go to the barber. Imagine by going to the barber is God going to be angry with you? What is the justification for all these silly things you are doing in the name of God? It's a happening inside, it has nothing to do with outside.

This is one of the reasons why Kuṇḍalinī falls down. It is very common. Because it goes into three stages. First stage is when the Kuṇḍalinī catches, whatever may be your problems. What ever may be the conditions of your Chakras. Whatever may be your previous lives, past lives. She forgets the past and says give them the Realisation [UNCLEAR]. Let the power flourish. Like whatever may be the condition of these Gurus. First the light comes with us a little; you show that there is light, gradually. But if you start thinking this after that. The wobbling of these two, ego and superego. She thinks they are not interested in Me; She just pulls down. This is one of the reasons. Second thing is our attention, is. It is covered in this portion as I told you and covers Nābhī as you rise above like this. The attention is there.

So the attention is also there just kind of tent pulled out here. Now if you are attached to, say some Guru, or somebody who has taken to the left or to the right and you are like that. Then because of the force of these Gurus you are pulled down. Poor Kuṇḍalinī what can She do? She is again pulled down. There are so many subtle things in you, which start working and She is pulled down. And once Kuṇḍalinī is not there, people cannot have any feeling in Sahaja Yoga. They also forget they felt the Cool Breeze. They do not want to find out what was it like, what does it mean, what it says. Because they got it free. If they had paid for it, they would have at least worried and found out, are we befooled. Because supposing they have to file a suit, or sue Me in the court, they would have to find out at least, what I was telling.

But there is no such a thing, because you came in your own freedom, you got your Realisation, you lost and finished. Nobody is going to ask Me questions, so it is finished. Imagine Realisation you get; the last thing, the epitome of happiness, every happiness in life, the highest that you are seeking. For ages you have been searching. You have been going mad in to the hills and dales and in the caves. You have been asking for it in your prayers in every way. That you see even in Zeus. Because of the evolutions [UNCLEAR] and these ego activities try to crush the Kuṇḍalinī, She goes down and then to raise it as a temper. But She doesn't want it. She thinks let's give it to you in the next life. She feels insulted and hurt. And that is how many people come to Sahaja Yoga, they drop out. It is their loss. Not the loss of Sahaja Yoga. Sahaja Yoga is established by itself. It is your loss. That is what is to be told to people.

Then second thing is about the attention I must tell you. As it is in the West we have problems about attention, much more than here. In India we have some other attentions, here some other attentions. Let's deal with the Western mind. But we can say that Indians is going in the shocks, say in Oxford circus. He would be going mad with things, plastics, this that he would be buying there. Spending lot of his time in plastics. I mean they carried plastics than nailons. That makes you laugh, but what makes them laugh also we should understand is that the way you are going in the string. You go to the market and you'll look at women. I mean you are not going to purchase women; you are going to purchase a thing. And by the time you finish your shopping you find you have not bought what you wanted to buy. Woman will go buy, say shirt for the man and they'll end up with the spectacle. Because attention is so wobbly and conditioning of this too much in the West also because of your media. The way people talk about women and sex and this and that, is bit too much. What is there to talk about it? I just don't understand.

I mean are you going to go ruined? You talk so much and produce nothing. You have such a minus a growth in this country, that no wonder you are afraid of the immigrants because they are having a proper growth, while you people are not producing anything. You don't want to produce and then you cannot.

In Switzerland I was surprised, out of five only one family can produce. You are ruining your attention completely and this attention is the only thing which we can little bit control. There is no technique about it.

On this point I would say, that in places, Eastern places, even in China also. Now I don't know.

Americans have gone there. I don't know what they are going to do there. But in China also I found that the attention is controlled. Chitta Nirodha is to control your attention. It is said that you should not see which your mind tends you all the time to see. There might be some bhoot; there might be some possession which might be there. Keep out your eyes. This is basically a very wise attitude, but somehow it missed in the West from out. I don't know how. The attention becomes such big nonsense. But this is a very big problem, that our attention is bored. It has come to us because of our circumstances, our atmosphere, our style in thinking. People don't understand what it is and how it affects us and how it is dangerous to have this kind of attention. The liver sustains our attention, imagine. How can your liver be all right if your attention is going there, there, there like that? Just think of it. It has to be in a position from where you can control your attention. Imagine a pilot is sitting in the plane and his attention here and there. What will happen to the plane? In everything we talk of concentration, but not as far as our heart is concerned.

They will fall in love hundred times and I don't know how many hearts they have got the way they are.

It's a very sad thing. It's a very sad thing that has happened to us, by which our attention is so disturbed. That's why we are so speedy. We don't know. We are wobbly. We are nervous. We are tense.

This is the thing is most important, is our attention. That's the only thing we could have get all right.

But either it is drawn by materialism by material things, plastics and things like I told your, or by other nonsense; women and other nonsensical things. That's how our esteem gets very much reduced to some sort of an attention. I mean so frivolous that you can't imagine. I've seen even people who in very big positions, I mean very big, supposed to be kings, queens and things like that. Their attention is like that.

Our queen was so dignified when she went down to Rome and her attention would not go to the nonsensical thing. I must say she is a real Lakṣhmī Yogi, such a dignified Guru. Her attention would not go. It was most surprising. When I read it I was surprised that she was not affected by all this nonsense. I mean it's vomiting, maybe. Is horrible. But we must develop that within us, that it is nauseating. You have a feeling of nauseous about it. Like in India, you see, there are seekers who clean all the bathrooms and things like that, they never get the bad smells, you know. It's like that. We have lost that sensitivity of chastity and that's how this attention is very much ruined.

So only thing that we could have done is to put this attention right. It was done with Judaism.

Then Moses came in, He talked of our ten commandments. That was the time; I mean thousands of years back. He talked like let us first of all establish our attention. That what He said, that's what we have to do. Then Christ came, but the attention was to be fixed. I don't know how far He was successful.

I have not seen any Jew who has got his attention properly fixed.

So Judaism failed completely and the scriptures who came out the Old Testament to the New Testament are much worse. Because they started thinking that now we are very physical. Christ came for us. We are the chosen ones.

So we just ask Christ to put the attention for us and we do what we like. Very nice ideas. But you do not respect your attention at all, just spoil everything. Which was the basis. Which was established thousands of years back, in the Old Testament. Even earlier in the Vedic scriptures of India. But somehow in India they know that. I don't know they have still kept it. Perhaps we were so much invaded by others that we wanted to preserve it and see that it works out. That was the only way we could sustain ourselves.

So we have been able to, at least know, that this kind of frittering away of attention is not good. Every Indian knows, he may do anything worse than what you are doing, he know he is doing a wrong thing. The idea of sin, or perhaps say the unrighteous thing. But not now. I don't know. Within ten, fifteen years it may just go out. Now this attention that is within us is the one which is to be taken to the spirit. Spirit has to be dawned into our attention. Our attention is to be enlightened by that spirit. Because spirit is enjoying by itself. The enjoyment of spirit should come into our awareness, because our attention is enlightened by the spirit. It has happened to many of you Sahaja Yogis.

This is the point. That's why our attention is to be controlled and only way is that when Kuṇḍalinī rises, She attracts attention of the people and She gives the concentration. Because as soon as this attention is fed up with that quarrel, you start collecting all that attention as is frittered away like a sarī as I told you and whole thing goes up. But still you may fall down if your attention is not properly fixed then. It is like fixing a tent, you see. Have you done it any time? It is a headache.

Sometimes I find that, I find that [UNCLEAR] My then I try to fix this properly here somehow and you try to pull this and the whole thing will fall down.

So the central part has to be fixed properly. That is very important for Sahaja Yogis.

And when they come to you for the first time, you have to tell them that it is just an initiation. You should tell them you are Self-realised, either they will be bloated with `Ah, I'm Self-realised, I'm this that.' Don't know. All kind of things our [UNCLEAR] nonsense is no good but. But initiation takes place in the centers of [UNCLEAR] takes place. She touches your fontanelle bone. [UNCLEAR] may also go down.

And you get Self-realisation in the sense the new awareness starts within you, on your fingers. You start feeling the Chakras and all that happens and only with the awakening of Kuṇḍalinī you can cure people.

You can also raise the Kuṇḍalinī, but you may not give up his Realisation. It is that tremendous. And then a question comes in; people say that is a very difficult thing. How can it happen so Sahaj? We have done nothing. Then it's very [UNCLEAR] for Me to say something. Maybe there is something about Me that happened here. You better find out. It is better to find out, what sort of a Lady is this, that She gives us the power to give realisations to others. Ninety-five percent people didn't know.

So if you have to be one of them, you have to know that you have to steady yourself. Get rid of your ego first of all and tell your mind that we have had enough of it. Now let's have the way the spirit works.

Then another advantage we have in India is this that is already written about Kuṇḍalinī, especially Maharashtra. In Maharashtra and also among all of those who have been following Ādi Shañkarāchārya.

Very clearly about Kuṇḍalinī, about left side, right side, everything is written there and that the Kuṇḍalinī awakening is the way to get to Self-realisation. It all over written about. Very clearly it is said that it is She only who can give realisation en masse. When you know what is the goal, is very easy to establish you there. But when you don't know anything, even if you come to London. Like somebody went to Bombay [Mumbai]. They are now sitting in Santa Cruz airport, Bombay [Mumbai].

So he will not know that Santa Cruz airport is in Bombay [Mumbai] only. That's the name of the airport. Or say the De Gaulle's airport.

You'll reach Paris and now they say we have arrived De Gaulle's airport in Paris. You say what is this? This must be some suburb. You go on sitting in the aeroplane, thinking that this is the suburb, why should I get down here? But if you know that this is what is you have to achieve. You [UNCLEAR] or are found.

But it does not happen to you that way. Because some people expect Self-realisation means absolute, some sort of a trance. There is no trance at all. Otherwise Samādhi has been very much corrupted by people.

Samādhi means the one, He is awareness. Or you can call it the intellect that is awareness which is being enlightened. Awareness which is being enlightened.

So we get first step of thoughtless awareness here, just crossing this, entering into this area you get thoughtless awareness, Nirvichar Samādhi. The second stage you get when you cross this is Realisation.

And the third stage is when you become Nirvikalpa. It is not a state of particular [UNCLEAR] in nomination, but it is a state which has a certain power in it. For example when you get thoughtless awareness you become thoughtlessly aware. The power you get is the awakening of Kuṇḍalinī [UNCLEAR]. Even if you are not getting vibrations you can do it. Just imagine how pure is the vibration. It is so subtle. It passes through the subtlest, subtlest channel inside. And that's why it is not disturbed despite your efforts to put your thoughts and this and that nonsense on it. But even that clearing can go away after some time. And the second stage you get your realisation, you get your Cool Breeze flowing and the power you get is that you get Realisation and the power is you can give Realisation to others. People have very bad Chakras you see, all burning, this thing, but they can give Realisation all right. They can tell about other what is wrong with them. They can say what Chakras are catching, but they are worrying, there is problems, still they can see. It is that power. It is so subtle, so protective. Now this Realisation when you get, is not really satisfying, is not joy giving, because we have to still we have to cling to the thought.

In the third stage you become identified with the spirit completely. When it is Nirvikalpa. When you have no doubts, you know this is it. Then that joy starts. That is the beginning. And you cannot be taken by the fruit. The beginning. People see your face, so lustrous. They see your lives.

So happy, so powerful.

Your lives interests others. But the power you get, when you are realised fully, you never catch anything.

You just record. You are not worried about catching, you are not worried about anything, you just record it. Catching here catching. It will become just like an ordinary recording machine and even any distance you come in awakening. Lots of powers are there of Nirvikalpa. It has to mature from this to that. At the end of Nirvikalpa you become absolutely the master of all the elements. You start controlling the elements. If you want you can have the Sun coming out. You become master of elements. Water you touch becomes vibrated. Anything you do becomes simpler. If you give a slap to someone he gets cured. If you say something harsh to someone, then he chops of all your badhas, all your obstacles. Such a personality develops. But such a person is full of compassion and love. Nothing but compassion. Their concern and feeling and the genuineness of such a person is not to be certified, it is there. You see it clearly, as clear as a [UNCLEAR]. This is the real transformation that has to come. But the person is not [UNCLEAR] hankers to control anything. It doesn't want to have, after your Self-realisation actually your priorities change. You just want to merge and become the joy and you do not assert yourself as ego, you do not fuss about things, nothing. After Self-realisation also. At least from given this should happen. Otherwise that Self-realisation has no meaning.

So at Self-realisation point you do not fuss, you know how to handle situations, you take everything in a stride, you are a very congenial personality, everyone loves you, you are magnetic. This happens. And then the last of all as I told you, you become that power.

Now what is the difference between Gods realisation and Self-realisation, which I will tell you next time.

And also I will be able to tell you how far human beings can reach and what is their ultimate that they reach. About this, I think I have told it clear now. Before I tell it clear [UNCLEAR] I tell you about it.

But by no means you should think about it. By thinking a flower cannot become a fruit and by thinking a fruit cannot ripen. It has to ripen by itself. We have so many methods and techniques, after Realisation, which you have to work out. All other Yogas that are described are nothing but to establish your attention.

Haṭha Yoga is to put your attention to the center, but the way they are practicing now is nonsensical.

All the religions are for putting you in the center, keeping you in the center, giving importance for you sustenance power, to give importance to the Ten Commandments, which guide you. All religions are based in that, but later on I would say Christianity is a religion in which Christ came and showed His ascent, resurrection. People did not accept Him then and they do not accept Him now, because all the churches put together are not that; one person who is a realised and who is a priest. This combination I've not encountered. I wish I could meet one person like that. People say there are, but I haven't seen it. Because the seeking is not there. Everybody has said that. John has said you have to get your Self-realisation; you have to be born again. Christ has said it, everybody has said it, you have to be born again.

We are at the same stage where Judaism was and is and we are at the same stage. That time people did not accept Christ and still just the same. See, that was the beginning. That was the late thing, that started and the light had to come. That was through a play of the elements and then the light has to come. And He came on this Earth to show you the resurrection. Resurrection is the message of Christ and not this cross. We like the cross very much because I don't know. Why do you like the cross? I mean.

I like to see the simple question, you see Christ on the cross. It's too much. It's barbaric. And then you put some hanky-panky bones on top. This is too much. I went to Sistine Chapel in Rome. Michelangelo was a realised Soul, dynamic. He put Christ with such big stomach, Lambodhara you see. And dynamic personality. He showed Kalkis such big, big hands and huge big muscles to throw away people into hell and all that, sitting place. Tremendous. I'm sure the pope must have fought with Him. All the people must have told Him, “Oh” but He said “Never mind." And then in front of that tremendous thing is a little hanky-panky bony fellow on a cross, supposed to be Christ. I said: “What is that?" “This is Christ." I said: “Really?" This is the result [UNCLEAR], this is nonsense, it is an insult of Christ. Make Him look like He is troubled. How is He going to save you? You want Him to suffer. You have made Him suffer. You want to see Him suffering, even today I think. I just can't bear those things. Can't bear. It is too much. Such a person has to be tremendous, has to be very powerful. How can you expect Him to be such a feeble patient? It is too much.

Now this is the message we have talked today. And in the same way we must understand that all the religions have predicted about Christ and supported Him. As you know in Mārkandeyas book, He is described as Mahāviṣhṇu. They all have talked about Him and He has come on this Earth. In Hindi to support the adhar, to hold him. Because He is from the very beginning. As Gaṇeśha is adhara and as Christ also is adhara. But what you have done of Him, His spirit, His intellect.

So give anything to human beings and they'll make up a laugh of it. Just think the brain is like that. I don't know how it can do it to Him. It is another crucifixion every moment I feel it the way people have done it. In you He resides, awaken Him within you and become the spirit, because He was the spirit and you can become the spirit. Everything that has happened before has to be proved today. Everything that is said about sustenance and all that is to be proved. Moses has to be proved, Socrates has to be proved, Abraham has to be proved, everyone has to be proved, but this is not necessary. Why should anybody prove them? Only in realisation you in yourself you have to accept, because not taking Their name the Kuṇḍalinī won't rise.

They are true to Kuṇḍalinī. She proves. She proves it to you, that They all were absolutely true people and They want you to receive the truth. She is within you. She is the sensible part within you. She is the wisdom within you. She is the one who looks after you [UNCLEAR] and She is the one who keeps you on the right path. To such a Kuṇḍalinī we bow and we have our Realisation.

May God bless you.

[MISSING Today] somebody came from India and told Me that, “You better change the name Sahaja Yoga into some other name." So I said, “What about Mahā Yoga?" He liked it very much. He said, “Now people are taking Sahaja Yoga as their own and they are using it for their own purpose." I said, “Very good idea. If they are using it, is even better, because word itself suggests that this union has to be spontaneous. They have to give a spontaneous union. If they claim it, they have to do it. If they are not doing it, then it's wrong. It's very simple." But he said, “In any case Sahaja Yoga does not denote the dimension which it has reached that people are getting en masse realisation." Moreover, he said, “That people don't understand that the time has come for thousands of people to get their realisation." Perhaps we are not aware what time we are born.

So many people are seeking God. Never in the history before there was such a multitude which was seriously seeking God and honestly wanting to get their union.

Only in the modern times you find they are very honest, very sincere and they are as if born seekers.

I mean their quality is that they are seekers, their temperament is that they are seekers. They are not satisfied with anything else but seeking. Why this is happening? We have to think about it. Why people are not satisfied with what they have? Why are they not seeking now the materialism or the powers which are other than the Divine Power? Why do they want that they should know their Spirit? What is the reason? Why such an upsurge? And why people like mad are following anyone who comes across to try every method and experiment with everything to get that bliss and joy.

You know from ancient times people have been talking about your rebirth. Even at the time of Rāma, one disciple called as Nachiketa went to the father-in-law of Rāma, whose name was Rāja Janaka and asked Him that, “Give me Self-knowledge." And Nachiketa was very, very anxious, very much wanting to be the Spirit. But Janaka put him to many, many, many tests and the conversation between them is very interesting.

So one individual is mentioned in those days, I mean that's a long time back, Rāma's time, who was seeking. Even at the time of Christ there was, we would say, John the Baptist who talked of baptism. But as far as seeking is concerned in the multitude, there was no such urge. There was not that seeking as you find today.

So there must be something in the atmosphere.

Then another thing is that we are trying to save time. We must have watches. We must see that after every ten minutes or we have to save time. We cannot waste time. I mean, supposing somebody has to go to India, then a date is fixed and then he must go by that plane, particular plane. If that plane is missed, he thinks he has lost the world. Time saving is another urge within us. Why do we want to save time? Why this urge from the unconscious is so strong that we must save time? Is there something going wrong or something is going to happen or is there some urgency or emergency which you feel in the time itself, because in the olden times nobody used to worry so much about time? So what is the reason for this kind of time saving today? We can see very clearly that there are genuine seekers. There are seekers because of the faction around and there are people who do not seek, who are quite satisfied with whatever mundane life they are leading or whatever ambitions they have other than seeking. But the genuine seekers are so many in number that we have to find out why this genuine seeking is working so much and you are so restless about it, so anxious that without the seeking you are not satisfied. You are willing to give up everything that is on this Earth with you or whatever is your own so-called possessions, but you want to seek yourself, that's a fact, it's absolute honest. There's no doubt about it. But why there is seeking? It is because the Last Judgment has started. The Last Judgment has started now.

Many great souls are taking birth. It is very common these days, you talk to anyone about his child, they will tell two things: either he is a grand old man, some ancient figure born in the family and every word he speaks is wisdom or the other thing they may tell you is that he's a monster, he's good for nothing, he's useless. Nothing in between. Now this happening also was very uncommon.

Now we have seen so many of you who are Sahaja Yogis that so many children are born realised. I mean when I was born, I found very, very few people... except for My father I couldn't find anyone who was born realised. And there were many fakirs and saints who came to our house, or we went to see them and I found that their Kuṇḍalinī was all frozen. They may be calling themselves saints or whatever it is, but I was amazed that there was no companionship with them because you couldn't talk. They were at a very low level of evolution and they are just trying to make money or give some sort of technique or some sort of a, you can say, some sort of a `blah, blah, blah'. Even then it was so. But innately in a country like India people know what to seek, what to find. Now because of your righteous life in previous births I believe maybe or whatever it is, as a blessing of that you are born in these countries where there is affluence, where your attention does not go to material things so much but to higher things and then you start thinking that all this is a waste, a junk and we are not going to carry the junk of our parents on our heads.

Some sort of feeling crawls up and you start seeking.

In England I don't know how many children I have seen who are born realised of a very high quality.

Such great souls are taking birth on this Earth. Why? It never happened before and within these ten years time such a tremendous inow of these great souls is felt that one has to realise that there is a kind of an emergency. This emergency is felt also even in those people who are not yet seeking. They are so speedy.

They are so anxious, they get into stress and they get into tensions. If you ask your forefathers who had gone out to wars, they never had tensions. They would kill ten people and sleep off nicely without thinking about it. They didn't even have the sensitivity that you have, that compassion and that understanding.

With this growth within, or we can say with this urge within, also there are many things that have happened outside that you can see very clearly. Is that a consciousness has come, a collective awareness has come as to the idea of cruelty, wars and also domination of other people? Perhaps none of you could be as old as I am here. I have seen this working out. People are so much changed in their ideas. It's such a revolution that you cannot think a person like Christ today to be born and to be crucified. Of course you may misunderstand. You may not like Him because He's a carpenter's son, He's too simple, He talks of spontaneity, He doesn't give you any technique, He doesn't take any money from you, He doesn't organize.

You may not like Him and you may deny Him also thinking that He's just useless but you cannot crucify.

Under any law you cannot do it. Imagine what a development of society has also taken place and we understand what is wrong.

For example now, Afghanistan was invaded, everybody, everyone in the whole world was feeling that it was wrong. When one of the satellites was falling and there were some astronauts caught up in that, the whole world was watching. I mean, they were not Indians and they were not Egyptians but everywhere people were watching that they should come down safely. Everybody was praying in their own way that, “Oh God, they must be safe." Because of the development outside we are so much connected with each other. There's such an articulation of our thoughts and our ideas and our feelings and our sensitivities that anything happens in any part of our country, we do feel, in any part of the world, we feel. Anywhere anything happens to someone, we feel it.

So our collectivity has also become sharper and sensitive. It's a remarkable time we are born in. You are very fortunate and lucky people and your age group specially is specially blessed because at this time you are well-read, you know all about it and you are just there to understand and get it.

But as I said that in a country like India where from ancient times there has been a big search within, much more known to them were the truths of life. They knew what they were seeking, they knew what they had to seek and what is to expect in your seeking. Though I would say India is today sleeping compared to you people. You are awake, you are definitely awake. Those who know what to seek are sleeping; those who are awake do not know what to seek. It's a funny situation. But we can understand it by understanding one fact that when the tree grows outside too much we must know that the roots must have grown down deep, otherwise the tree cannot be sustained. If in the West we have grown very much outside, in the East maybe one or two roots, maybe, have gone deep down to find out the source to sustain this tree.

For Me, I mean, East and the West doesn't exit, nor does it exist for anything that is Divine. It's human conception of East and West and these countries and all that. It's only one, one map, a beautiful picture God has created. Only human beings think that we are different and they are different. Of course He has created varieties just to create the joy of beauty but He never created east, west, north, south and the difference between the people. That's our own conception whatever it is.

Definitely in the growth there are two types of people. One are the people who are growing outside, extroversion is much more. People are seeking outside and there are people who are seeking inside. I would say like the Pisces, you see, they have two, two fishes. One fish is seeking inside and one fish is seeking outside. In the same way the whole Universe looks to be that some are seeking outside and some are seeking inside. Now those who are seekers of the Divine must take some guidance from people who have found out something before.

For example, I had a big discussion with a gentleman who said, “This is occidental and this is that and all..." I asked him, “Who was Christ? Was He born in England or in America? Why did you accept Him?" I mean He has to be born somewhere. I mean after all, either He'll be born in the East or in the West. Supposing He's born in the West so the Eastern people should say that, `Because He was born in the West, we'll reject Him.' He is born in the East so Western people should say, `We will reject Him because He was born in the East.' This is absurd. I mean, a person can be born in one place only; he cannot be born everywhere. He has to be born somewhere but these kind of localised identifications have led to lots of problems in the minds of people.

As scientists we have to keep our mind very, very open to understand what search people have made in the inner being to find out what are we made of, why are we here, why did we get our evolution from amoeba to this stage, where have we to reach. We have to understand the other side of the picture and much more necessary for people who are now seeking that which was found out in the East and Eastern people are seeking that which you have found out here. They are getting developed, you see, they are now getting sophisticated, while you are trying to find out something which they had found out without much sophistication.

In the ancient times, long, long time back, we had three types of people working out the seeking. The first type I would say where the people who were on the left hand side of this Primordial Being which you see there with a blue line. This blue line is the representative of a channel called Iḍā Nāḍī and this channel was discovered thousands of years back in India. This channel represents the power of desire within us.

And the desire reached such a subtle form that there was a desire to meet God, to be one with your Spirit.

That's the last desire. And this desire became what you call as the power of devotion or dedication or for asking, “Oh Lord, when are we going to meet? You must come” and, “We are waiting for You” and all such things which shows that people believed that there was some Superior Power and that we had to receive the help from that Superior Power. This was one side or one type of people who existed.

The other side, you see, is the yellow line. This is the power of our action. The channel is called as Piñgalā channel. These are all very subtle channels inside our spinal cord. This Piñgalā channel expressed the people who went into action. Now the power of action in the West, I think, is a later manifestation of the way people acted in India. By this power they try to find out the mysteries of the matter. As you know matter is made of five elements so they wanted to know how to overpower the matter, how to harness it, how to use it and they tried to find out which are the deities which are ruling the material side of life.

For example, which is the deity for the sea? What is the deity for water? What is the deity for, say, Sun, Moon and other stars and all those things? And Greeks, I think, went further with it, very much further and they got into a wrong path, they got lost. But this was the search where people tried to excite or to master the methods by which you could control all these five elements. And this method is expressed in our Vedas. Veda means `to know' and the Vedas are the expressions of all the mantras which were used to harness the matter. The result of that is today what we feel is science. That through that now science is manifested as knowledge to us.

But first they try to, say, overpower the fire. Now there is one way of overpowering the fire is from outside is to use the fire for cooking, for this, that, all sort of things or there could be a method by which you find out the deity that rules the fire. If you can excite the deity that rules the fire and can control that deity or you are connected with that deity, then you can manage to use the fire the way you like.

So the second type of people who went into these mantras and Yagñyas and all these things. They did the fire ceremonies and tried to control the Sun, Moon and all sort of things they were interested.

But now these third type of people who existed in the center, in the central path. This path is called as a Suṣhumnā path and this path is responsible for our evolution from amoeba to this stage. Because of this power within us to evolve, we became human beings. `Why did we become human beings?' nobody asks.

We should ask some questions. All the scientists must ask questions, `Why did we become human beings? Why some animals were discarded and why we are supposed to be on top of all the evolutionary process?' And now what is our goal, why are we there, what are we to achieve? This central path is a very, very important path for us, for Sahaja Yoga. Because by these different Chakras that there are, the one is the lower one, then the second, the third and the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh. These seven Chakras denote vertically our evolution, vertically and horizontally they express our physical, mental, emotional being.

The first Chakra is very important. This Chakra is the Chakra as we call it, is the center of Mūlādhāra.

Mūlādhāra means `the support of the root'. This center is the center of our innocence. The first thing that was created on this Earth was innocence. Innocence is the first power that was created and that's what we had to preserve first of all, that was the most important thing to preserve is our innocence. Now you'll be surprised that this center is placed under the Kuṇḍalinī, not above the Kuṇḍalinī. Kuṇḍalinī is above that. Now this Kuṇḍalinī is the power which is placed in the sacrum bone, nowhere else. I mean people can tell you, I've heard the other day he was saying that, “We believe the Kuṇḍalinī is here." I said, “You can believe it, it is here, I mean, but by believing it is not there." Because what you see is the pulsation of Kuṇḍalinī in this area. When Sahaja Yoga starts in many people with naked eyes you can see the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī in this area on people who have got some obstruction. Those who are all right they just get their realisation without any difficulties but those who have obstruction many of you have seen the pulsation in the sacrum bone. And imagine this bone is called sacrum. Sacrum means `sacred' so they knew that there was something in it that they, even the Greeks, I think, Latin is... not Greeks but we can say in Latin language it is called as sacred.

So the sacred bone was containing this sacred power within us known as Kuṇḍalinī. This is the primule, is the germinating power within us. Now this fact has been accepted for thousands of years in India and elsewhere.

For in the Bible also it is said that Moses saw the tree of fire. That tree of fire is nothing but the whole Kuṇḍalinī instrument. They talk of the tree of life that is the same as this. In the Bible it is said, “I'll appear before you like tongues of flames” is nothing but these centers and these centers, you can see clearly within yourself, look like living flames as these are. But these are static and they are moving and living.

So this is the thing that is being described in our ancient books, in all the scriptures. Even in Koran they have described as Rūh, R-ū-h, Rūh. Rūh means the Cool Breeze, the Cool Breeze. The Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost is described in the Bible also.

You cannot suddenly start a new idea about something. If it is evolutionary process, if it is a living process, it must have its background, its history and it must culminate into something fruitful. Like every fruit has a tree behind it and roots behind it. You cannot just come out from somewhere and say, “See now, I've created a fruit, now this fruit can become like this." It has no meaning. It must be a plastic fruit. It cannot be a real fruit. If it is a living fruit, it has to come out of the tree that has existed for thousands and thousands of years and out of that this tree has to come. It must have the base. And this is traditionally called as the Kuṇḍalinī awakening process.

Now, this was done... as I told you there was only one person at the time of Rāma, Nachiketa who tried to find it. Yoga Vasistha was a realised Soul, no doubt, but he did not give realisation to anyone. Only Rāja Janaka gave realisation to one fellow called Nachiketa. Even Zen system in which, I mean, people were supposed to get their realisation, they said nobody got realisation except that there were twenty-six Kaśhyapas. Kaśhyapas means `realised Souls'. Only twenty-six because I think it started about the sixth century and for six centuries they had these Kaśhyapas coming and going one at a time and after that they had none. They had none, so there are no realised Souls there either.

Christ has said very clearly that, “You are to be born again." I mean the whole message of Christ's life is realisation because Judaism talked of the Dharma, of the sustenance, of maintenance of the balance in the center. That also like the tree that was very important. But then Christ came on this Earth to show that you have to become the Spirit. By His resurrection He showed that and this is the message of Christ. But Christianity, I don't know how many people are seeking. They think that by going to church every morning... it's finished. Or same with the Indians where it was said in every scripture, even about Vedas the first thing is said that, “Through this knowledge if you cannot seek your Spirit, it's all useless." Then we had people like Shañkarāchārya, Ādi Shañkarāchārya who was the person who tried to re-establish Hinduism. Who has said that, “Without getting realisation, what's this life?" [Yogain all sankain?] By all this talking, “blah, blah blahs” where are you going to lie? You have to get the grace of the Mother to get your realisation. When he talked first of Viveka Chūḍāmaṇi, where every big book he wrote on treaties of Indian philosophy, people were amazed at his knowledge. But later on he just wrote Saundarya Lahari which is just the description of the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost and of the Holy Ghost. And people said, “What are you doing? You are just praising the Holy Ghost and not writing any philosophy." He said, “There is no philosophy. It's a spontaneous thing which should happen to all of us and just the praise is the way you get it." Just imagine a person of his calibre. But what are the Hindus doing today is nothing but the same old style techniques and ritualism and all nonsense. They are also lost. I mean there is such a [UNCLEAR pickle] made out of every great incarnation that to Me it was a shock to see how they have been able to spoil every incarnation into zero and some sort of a nonsensical image of every incarnation who came on this Earth to emancipate, to give you a higher life, a higher awareness.

So we come to the point where we have to think what we have to expect. First thing is, if it is a living process, it has to be spontaneous. This is very difficult for people to understand that it has to be spontaneous. For example, if this flower has to become the fruit, what is the technique? Do you stand before it for hours together or do you jump before it or you stand on your heads that it becomes? Anything spontaneous you have seen, which is living, happens by itself, there is no technique. When I say there is no technique, people do not want to believe it because technique they want. But you have taken for granted all these things, isn't it? I mean one day you are sleeping you find that the blossom time has come, lots of flowers are there. One morning you get up you find most of the flowers have become fruits, you take it for granted. Do you ask for a technique there? In the same way what technique did you employ to become human beings from amoeba? Say from monkey's state to human beings, did you cut your tails to become human being? Didn't we become spontaneously that? It's rather difficult to accept but logically you tell Me, “If it is a living process, what do we have do?" It is impossible to explain to people that there is no technique. They must have a technique. Now why do we want to have a technique? Let us face ourselves. Because we think we must do something about it.

If we are not doing anything about it, then how can we get it? Because we think whatever we have got in this world is through our effort, by working for it. But what have you got? You've got everything dead.

Say for example, something is dead, these stones are dead and you have made a building out of it.

So what, dead from the dead. What have you got living with you? Have you got any living powers? Can you give life to a fruit or to a tree? You cannot. What have you achieved is only dead. With effort you can only achieve dead. Have you achieved anything living? If you put such a question to yourselves then you will understand that living processes, we have to accept, are spontaneous. We cannot put any technique on it. As soon as we want to have technique, we must know this is our Mr. Ego who wants to get satisfied.

I've seen people doing that.

For example I'll give you a very concrete example of a gentleman who came to Me and he said, “No, no.

How can be it that be simple, Mother, how can it be that simple?" I told him that, “See, your breathing is so simple. If you have to read books and go into techniques for your breathing, how many people would be living?" But he would not accept it. He said, “You must give us a technique otherwise we'll not be happy." Now there's a very great realised Soul living in India but he is a very strict person, he's not a mother and he has no tolerance for any nonsense.

So he had once told Me, “If somebody troubles You, send the fellow over to me." So I told him, “You go and see the Guruji, such and such." He was very enamoured that, “This gentleman has called me." So he had to climb up seven miles up on a hill where this gentleman was sitting there. He went and he started talking, “blah, blah, blah” to him that, “See, Mother doesn't give any technique to us and She's just giving realisation to every Dick, Tom and Harry and this and that." He said, “Yeah, really, She's doing wrong, isn't it? All right, you be here and you eat your food and sleep here." After a month I found the gentleman came to see Me with both his legs round his neck, dangling in the air. I said, “What's happened?" Really tears came into My eyes. [UNCLEAR] what happened, what this Guru has done to him? He came and started crying. He said, “Mother, never send me to that Guru." I said, “But you were very anxious to go to him because you wanted something to climb up to see him." He said, “He made really mess out of me. In the night...", Because this Guru... his limbs are broken and hands are broken, so he goes on a tiger.

So he said, “And this tiger came and pushed me into a khud. I was lying there about thirteen, fourteen feet down below and this Guru after three, four days lowered down some rotis, some breads to me and he said, `Now eat it and stay there. Until you promise me that you will not go and trouble Mātājī, I'm not going to take you out of this place.' " And then after two days he sent few people to pick him up and brought. He said, “I'm not here to take money from you. You cannot give Me money, anything. But I will only teach you a good lesson." He said, “I've had enough of it." He said, “Now you take these legs around your neck, go dangling to Mātājī and She's going to cure you, I'm not going to cure you. And don't come and tell me stories." “Oh God" I said, “Look at this” then of course we tried and worked on him, that's a different point. But this is what it is. He said he wants technique, so he gave him a technique.

Another fellow who was like this, a doctor, he was troubling Me and I didn't tell him but he felt that he should go and see this Guru. And for one month he made this fellow clean a Shiva's temple, taking the water seven miles every day, morning and evening, with one bucket cleaning in Shiva's temple. And doctor came back, he was so thinned down, absolutely exhausted. I said, “What's the matter?" He said, “I was cleaning Shiva's temple for a month." So when I met this Guru I asked him, “Why did you do that to him?" He said, “For a donkey you better give donkey's job. It's no use telling them something of the higher life. They don't want it, they want donkey's life, so let them jump and do what they like, let them be donkeys. Why should You try to give them so simple?" I was amazed at it. He said, “Mother, You are a mother and You do what you like because this is Your whim. But as far as we are concerned we are not going to give realisation to anyone. I have given it to one and he's become a hopeless man." So I went to see this gentleman one day, the one who took twenty-five years to get his realisation. And because somebody, one of My disciples [UNCLEAR had to invite him]. Now this fellow was smoking cigarettes like this, sitting before Me and he was talking quite a lot and there were girls and women, you see, pressing his feet and doing all kinds of things. Of course he got up, touched My feet, all right. He sat down, then he started saying that, “Now why this Mahārāji is coming to see you in Bombay [Mumbai].

After all he should not leave his place, he's been there for hundred and eight years” this, that.

I said, “Who are you to judge him? Why are you judging him? He's your Guru. Why should you judge him? He has given you realisation." “Yes, yes, he's given me realisation, I know, but I can also tell him something." I said, “But what about your smoking, you are still on with the smoking." “Oh, I don't care, I'm beyond everything." I said, “All right." Then I sat down watching him for a while. I said, “Now I'm going home." He said, “You apply this teeka to me." I said, “All right, first I will apply” so I applied him. I said, “Now you apply” and I sucked his finger, this is Āgñyā's finger of ego. I sucked his finger on My Āgñyā and he went on “ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha” like that.

He said, “Mother, Mother, Mother what you are doing?" I said, “Nothing, nothing. You are great, you are realised Soul why should you shake before Me? Why are you shaking? Why don't you get all right? Why are you shaking?" He said, “No, no, no please stop it, stop it." I said, “Now, first promise that you are not going to talk ill of your Guru and stop all this nonsense of having women around and making money." But then the person with whom he went... he swindled them completely, just imagine. And I asked this gentleman who met Me at the airport, “Why did you give money to this man." They said, “Mother, because he said, `See, I was shaking before Mother because I was giving power to Her.' " I said, “Such fools, why did you give him the money? Why didn't you ask Me? What was happening?" This is what it is. When you want technique, then in the market there are thousand and one to give you technique, you see, anything. Then may tell you put this on your head like this and walk on the street. And you'll find thousands of them walking like this and the price of this will go up in the market and people will be doing it. Any sort of nonsense they will give you, you see, they would like to do it.

For example, these people at Oxford Street, they are standing there and they had Hare Rāmas, they cleaned their hair completely and applied those, what we call them shindis in India, I don't know what you call and they are sold in the market. Do you know? Like all other wigs, they are sold as wigs there and that is to applied there.

And when they were dancing that was falling down, you know. And the dress and sarīs they were wearing was also falling down and such foolish people. I said, “What do they think? By doing this are they going to get God?" Some people and all their dresses... I said, “But why don't you sit down and receive the blessings and why do you do...?" They said that, “What's wrong with clothes, clothes, what is the need to have clothes?" I said, “That's not the point, what I'm saying if by becoming naked, if you can become God, all the animals must go to God first before you." First understand what should happen to you is there should be a new dimension which must be enlightened within you. A new dimension must come into you. What about your own power, have you got you own powers? If you are spiritually evolved, you must have your own powers. This is like enslavement. I said, “What are our own powers?" I said, “Can you tell in this person where is the Kuṇḍalinī?" They said, “No, we don't know. We have never heard about it." “Can you tell what are your centers catching? Can you tell where are his centers rising?" He said, “No, we cannot." So I called him, I said, “Come along, have your realisation." One of them I got hold of, somehow or other brought him. I think he was not interested in realisation at all. He was not at all interested, he was interested in exhibitionism. He wanted to exhibition himself in that Oxford Street that's why he went there, absolutely that's true. Otherwise if he was, he would have said, “All right, if You are saying I'm giving you realisation, let me have it." He said, “How can that be so silly?" I said, “What's? It's not silly? How can it be silly?" [UNCLEAR I said “It is the wisest]. The wisest. But must be somebody else is silly to see things which are silly like mad people, you know." If you go to a lunatic asylum they think you all are mad. Once our prime minister went to a lunatic asylum and one lunatic came and started talking to him very nicely. He said, “How are you? When did you come here? And who are you?" So he said, “I'm Jawaharlal Nehru, I'm the prime minister of India." He said, “All right, all right, you'll be all right also, I used to say the same thing." But how do you judge whether you are right or wrong? Where are you? The judgment comes when you have the dimension to judge. When you are realised you can judge, you can say what Chakras are catching.

When Self-realisation comes in, you know all about these centers and you know all about these channels, about yourself and about others. The collective consciousness becomes an actualisation, it becomes part and parcel of you like an egg when it gets transformed, you really get a bird, it's not just `blah, blah, blah'.

You just get to see the bird with its wings and everything, a transformation takes place. Your awareness must have that actual dimension within itself, inside not outside by developing your some sort of a horn or wearing some sort of a bushy hair. Is something that happens to you within.

... comes through when you start judging yourself. But God is compassion, He's love. He gives you chance, all the powers to clear yourself and cleanse yourself. But nobody can help a person who is so dumbfounded or mesmerized or who is such a, I would say, unintelligent person who doesn't understand that something has to happen to your awareness then only you have achieved something. For days in and days out they are going and going and going and achieving nothing.

Somebody told Me, “Oh, they are people who love each other very much." “How do you know?" “They kiss each other quite a lot." I said, “What is this?" Any licentious society you find such kissing going on. For example if you go to France, I mean, it's horrifyingly kissing society, I tell you. Everybody has a right to kiss everyone they feel like. I mean, it's sometimes so much that you really get frightened of the whole thing. Anybody can come and kiss you, anybody is supposed to... I mean, I don't know how it works out but it's so.

So I said, “What is [UNCLEAR so...] in kissing, there's no love." Love is a thing which is not expressed that way but which works, which flows, is a power. It acts just like sun's rays. Sun's rays come and act on the leaves, in the same way the love flows and acts on the Kuṇḍalinī and it gives realisation to others, it transforms your life. You become a different person all together, you become a master of yourself when you overpower it. Of course some are, I would call them, lame people so they need little more time.

Some are very fast ones and some are so quick that they once get it, they never loose it. And then the real growth of the new personality starts in which you start enjoying that bliss which is promised.

All that is said before has to be proved today, everything. Now like we went to one of the Protestant Church meeting. I mean catholics and protestants and all sorts of things, you know, I'm facing, mullahs and priests and this and that. But these people they said, “We believe in Christ." I said, “Very good, that's a very good thing to do, is to believe in Christ, thank God." At least there is no...

Somebody anarchist or somebody who is anti-Christ I'm facing there. But I said, “Where is Christ?" “He is everywhere." I said, “All right, but how do you contact? Everywhere there is ether, everywhere there are pictures, everywhere there is music, but how do you get them in the television? How do you contact?" He is placed in a center within us and we can prove it through the Kuṇḍalinī awakening that Christ is there. Because when Kuṇḍalinī reaches that center, the center which is on the optic thalamus, which controls the pituitary and the pineal body, in that center resides Christ can be proved through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. Because when Kuṇḍalinī arrives at that point and it does not pierce, you have to take the name of Christ and then Kuṇḍalinī moves on. But not the person who is not realised, the one who is realised can only do it.

So there are two types of people you find in Sahaja Yoga, is the people who are realised and those who are not realised. Now here the conflict starts that people who are realised can shock other people because they say some things very positively. They say that, “See, this is wrong, you should give up these things.

This is not going to lead you anywhere." And they look just like as you are but they know about your Chakras. And when they tell you, you get angry with them and half of them leave, but that's not the way.

One should know that they are just trying to help you. They were just the same as you were. Maybe even worse than you were or may be much worse than you were but today they have reached the place from where they can feel it and you are also going to do the same.

So there is nothing to be shocked about or to be angry with. But there is tremendous difference in any artificial type of technique and the real is this that they know what it is.

If you tie the eyes of ten people or ten young people who are realised Souls, who are sitting here, they all of them will say the same thing. For example if you ask them where is this gentleman catching, they will show the same finger. And this is such a subjective thing, such a thing as your own, it has no whims, nothing, is absolutely definite.

Now the last point which I would like to cover today is that as a result of Sahaja Yoga... this is the chocolate on the castor oil, we can say. The advantage of Sahaja Yoga is felt immediately, immediately.

First of all physical ailments get cured. Now for your information I may have to say this that in ten minutes Sahaja Yoga cured the cancer of our President Sanjeeva Reddy in India, in ten minutes. Cancer cannot be cured by anything else but Sahaja Yoga, is a fact. For example, now doctors have reached the stage to say that cancer is caused by some protein matter which attacks us from the areas which are within us, which are built within us since the creation. Now within us what are these areas, let us see. On the left hand side of this Iḍā Nāḍī or this blue line is the collective subconscious. On the right hand side of this yellow line which is called as the Piñgalā Nāḍī is the collective supraconscious. Below is the Hell. On top is the super-consciousness which we call as Self-realisation because this is the seat of the Spirit, which is manifested in the heart.

These are the areas of course doctors don't know but whatever the psychologists start talking like blind people can be easily seen through when the lights are on. For example, from the left side and the right side I have always said there are entities which attack. Those who disappeared in the creation went out of circulation because they were not good for our evolution. They all exit there, say, there are some vegetables which form viruses, there are some birds, some animals and many human beings who exits on both the sides. On the right hand side are the people who are very ambitious, who dealt with material things and who try to overpower matter and tried all kinds of tricks, these are the people who are still there existing within us.

When we try to go to the extremes either to the left or to the right by any one of these techniques, we get caught up and when this thing happens, these proteins, so-called 58 protein and number some sort of 56, all these are nothing but they are entities. They attack us and they trigger the cancer within us and once this is triggered there is no way out because once you are in these areas, you'll be attacked more and more and the galloping state is established.

For example, now let us take the case of blood cancer, a simple thing like blood cancer, is the most simple thing and is very simple to treat also. All right, how you get it? The spleen is the speedometer within us, spleen which is placed on the left hand side like a round ball. Now spleen is managed by Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, which moves round and round the Void, you see. And it is the one which really sets our speed and [UNCLEAR pace], both things are done by the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra. But this poor spleen is creating blood cells for us. First of all if you think too much, then this Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra has to convert the fat cells for the use of the brain and it neglects the spleen, the liver, the pancreas, the kidneys and the uterus. But when it neglects the spleen, this is the first cause, the primal cause we can call it. Secondly, those people who are supposed to be very speedy, those who think too much are speedy people also. They will eat their food with such a speed, I can tell you, that I've seen people that they can polish off things before, I mean, you see them there and it's finished. They are so fast and if I'm sitting with them, I'm really starving because I just can't keep pace with them, they just... you serve them and it's finished, polished off. Then they will eat with that speed and immediately finishing that plate there and they run off for some other work.

Now this poor spleen has to now create blood for the digestion, then suddenly the fellow runs out, it has to give energy, I mean, the blood cells for its running, then he sits down and he starts thinking, while running he is thinking, he is doing many things. You see, we think our this body is a multipurpose machine so with one thing we will be brushing, with another thing we will be doing something else, with ears we will be doing something else, with nose we will be doing something else, with stomach we will be doing something else. Like that the whole body is poor thing busy with multipurpose things, poor this body. And then this spleen becomes really mad, it goes bizarre as you call it. It does not know when it will jump and when it will go into some sort of a new activity.

So it goes really bizarre and then the cells that are created by it become malignant cells and blood cancer is settled.

But the third thing that really, that really attacks it, is one of these entities catching hold of these blood cells and blood cancer is settled. And blood cancer can be very easily cured. I have seen now three cases where doctors predicted that the patient is going to die within fifteen days, he's still surviving after three years, quite hale and hearty. If you just pull your attention through Kuṇḍalinī awakening and pierce it through here, the attention which is spread out on left and right and gone to the extreme like this, stretched, can be pushed out onto the super-consciousness. Immediately all your [UNCLEAR facts/acts] are finished, all of them are left high and dry in their own places and you are cured. And that is how blood cancer can be cured very easily in Sahaja Yoga. But that doesn't mean you think of all the blood cancer patients you have and bring them along here. That always happens. I would request you not to do that.

See this happened at the time of Christ and it should not be repeated again. That God is interested in curing people who are seekers, who are seeking God and not curing people who are not seeking. You do not look after a lamp which never is going to be enlightened; you just throw it in the junk. In the same way those who are seekers get their realisation and get their cancer, all kinds of incurable diseases, diabetes this, that lots of things are cured, I mean endless.

So this is first thing that happens is physical, then mental.

You know there are some people who are here sitting today who were horribly epileptic.

Some of them used to scream for three hours. Thanks to some great Gurus who have managed to polish off everything that they had. Who have managed to take away all their money, mesmerized them completely. And those who became epileptic falling on the street, even some of the children, who are here now today. Who have been absolutely cured of epilepsy, madness, schizophrenia all sort of diseases like that because again the same thing happens to you that your attention goes into the super-consciousness which is collective consciousness.

Collective consciousness gets enlightened within you, it becomes actualised, it gets manifesting itself.

It's such a wonderful instrument you are a human being, you have no idea. Only thing you have to be plugged to the mains like a television set, once it is plugged to the mains, it starts manifesting, you also start manifesting. Nothing that I do, I do not do anything.

Actually really, it is something like everything is ready and one enlightened light can enlighten another light. What is there to be done? You are just ready and you just receive your own powers. I don't do anything. And why should one feel so hurt, if I'm doing it, you see, something surprising. Because a gentleman very seriously asked Me, “Why you?" He was a doctor. I said, “Doctor, I'll be thankful you come in My place. Here I am, I have to work till two o'clock in the night. I have to work so very hard.

This is thankless job. You better do it. I'll be very happy to be your disciple and whatever you say, I'm willing to do. You awaken the Kuṇḍalinī of the people." He said, “But I cannot." So I said, “That's why I'm here." Unluckily I know this, unfortunately I know this. Now what to do? That I am supposed to do.

Now you are supposed to do many things which I cannot do. For example you can drive a car, I don't know anything about... I don't understand your economics, I don't understand your laws. I cannot understand anything that is supposed to be understood by a normal human being. But I understand Kuṇḍalinī. If you ask Me to open an ordinary packet of milk, I cannot, but I can open Kuṇḍalinī. What to do now? I know that, so why should you feel so hurt about it. It's Me who was supposed to do it and that's the only problem. If you can overcome it that you know so many things and I don't know so many things, then there won't be any problem of ego coming in between. As if I have to, say, do something, fixing up this, I'll have to ask Douglas to do it. I do not know how to fix it, I may spoil it but I do not know how to use it.

So this is what it is, simple as that. And this has to be done, it was all promised, I have to do it. All this time has been promised. All this happening has been promised. This is your right to get it. You better get it. You cannot pay for it, no question. It's an insult, it's love. It's not mercenary, it is love. You cannot pay for it. You cannot purchase Me. I'm quite an illusion also. I mean I can be quite tricky so be careful about Me. If you try to avoid Me, I'll avoid you hundred times and you'll go out of circulation.

So be careful, because I am not that simple as I look. I'm telling you beforehand, so be careful about it.

But still you'll forget because I look so simple, you see, but I'm not. I know so many things about you that I may try to just avoid you and I may really get you out of circulation for sometime till I have really sincere good people in here who get their realisation and then later on we can try these people who have gone out of circulation. It works out that way.

Many of time Sahaja Yogis think that we have very few people coming to Sahaja Yoga. I said, “That has to be, because this is real work. This is not that you become an organization member of somebody and you are certified, `All right, you are a Sahaja Yogi.' " There is nothing like that. It has to happen; the Kuṇḍalinī has to come; you have to feel the vibrations. It is a happening. Unless and until it happens you cannot give false certificate. It's not like plastic flowers, it is a real flower and for the real flower to come in, it takes time, doesn't matter. I mean we cannot give false certificate.

So the second thing that happens is emotional thing. Third thing is spiritual. We can say, spiritually you understand Sahaja Yoga. You understand what mistakes you have committed, what wrong people you have been to, immediately you understand. You find it out and also you are told each and every secret how to do it, how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. You can raise Kuṇḍalinī only if the Kuṇḍalinī has crossed up to Āgñyā, you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī.

As soon as you get your realisation, you can give realisation to others because of emergency. We have to give realisation to thousands and thousands and millions and millions. You can give realisation to people, there are all these people have given realisation. Not only that, you can cure people. And you can know as to how you are progressing, where you are, what are the Chakras, where they are placed on your fingers, where they come, everything you can know, it's all inside not outside. And it should happen to all of you. After all I'm here only for that job.

I'll work very hard and I've been working very hard, everyone knows that. But you have to also understand to cooperate a little bit. Take your realisation, after realisation you will have to work hard also but before realisation just leave it to people who are realised. Like when you don't know swimming, it's better to leave it to people who know swimming. Once you learn swimming, you also teach others.

There's nothing like inferiority, superiority and all that. It's not that.

So just face it as simple people, not with all this misidentification with ego. Now somebody was raising the Kuṇḍalinī like that, so one gentleman walked off. I said, “Why?" He said, “Why is he doing like this?" I said, “But you do not know." Supposing there is a person who is trying to help you swimming, he tells you… he puts his hand under your belly. You can get angry with that person, “Why are you doing that?" He is making you to float. But this is what it is. You do not know the technique which these people know.

You will also know the technique of Kuṇḍalinī, which is a living technique... because you are not yet living. When you become realised, you will be knowing because the power will flow from your hands, you can feel it on your hands, the Cool Breeze flowing.

But there's only one warning to all our Western seekers, which I always give, that you are great saints, I know you are seekers, you are very unique, you are honest, everything is there. But you have one defect is that you think about everything. Even you have organized God, you have organized about Him. You have already preconceived ideas about Him. All this is there and anybody who tries to play some tricks with you, you are very happy with that person and you are going along with that person very nicely. But here it is you who has to know. It is you who has to achieve, it is you who has to judge. Nobody is going to say that you are all right unless and until you say you are all right. It is you who have to believe into it.

So what happens that after realisation the Kuṇḍalinī rises and She pierces this fontanelle bone area when you get your baptism. You can even feel the Cool Breeze coming from your head, actually you can feel it, but then you forget the experience, you go home and start thinking about it. As soon as you start thinking, the whole thing comes down because it is beyond thinking. The happening is beyond thinking.

Without thinking it has happened, by thinking Kuṇḍalinī doesn't rise.

So just allow it to work out. When it works out, you'll be surprised [UNCLEAR actually]. Supposing there is electricity coming and the electricity comes in, you see the light flickering. If you start thinking about it, do you think you'll get back the light? No, you have to put the connection right. It's something like that.

So thinking gives you rumblings, people are lost, then they come back. And once after realisation if you loose it, it takes time, it takes time. It's a headache to Me and headache to you. Many people do that way but please don't do it. After all you are seekers of ages. Why should you waste your energy and time and Mine also. Be sensible and wise, get your realisation and get to it. Give up all your misidentifications, all these are misidentifications. And do not reach that point where you become helpless and you have to give up these misidentifications.

Because I told some people... one person I told that, “Your Guru is not all right” and he wouldn't believe Me, because his Void was catching. Then he got epileptic, he got sick and then he came to Me. It took Me three months to work on him.

So, you see, the whole process of emancipation is slowed down and that's how you pull down the forces of Divinity. There are so many things one can say as you know. There are lectures and lectures and Douglas has so many tapes. In London itself I have done so much and to understand why London and why England, you better read `Milton' by William Blake. He has prophesied all this that is going to happen. That England is going to be the Jerusalem. That it is going to be the pilgrimage. It has described everything that is Sahaja Yoga. It's a wonderful prophesy, you better read it to understand. It is even described where the ashram would be in Lambeth Vale. It has described that first it will start in Surrey Hills where I first came and stayed. And he has described in the end how the Virgin Herself is going to work it out, how the Mother is going to work it. It's all beautifully done.

So you had such a great poet like Blake, who has already guided you. Better take guidance from them.

Another is Shakespeare who was another great realised Soul who showed the futility of nonsense of this so-called romanticism and all this.

So be sensible about it, be wise, you have a great heritage. Your Stonehenge and all these things, I've talked about it what are these. This place has been worked out by many saints before and today you are born here. You are here to achieve your highest. There is a purpose behind it. As I said that England is the heart of the universe, no doubt, it is the heart. That's why I'm here. I didn't come as an immigrant or anything. I came because My husband got elected to this post and I came here. That was all organized and I'm just there because of that and you'll be happy to know he has been re-elected again for five years so I'm going to be here five years more. And then England being the heart, we have to be very careful because everything articulates through heart and the Spirit lives in the heart.

England is the heart, India is the Kuṇḍalinī and Europe is the liver. Now see the contradiction: Kuṇḍalinī, where Kuṇḍalinī is in India people are sleeping. Kuṇḍalinī is sleeping; where Europe, where the liver is, where the attention is, people are drunkards, they are drinking, the liver is gone; where the heart is England, it is lethargic. Tell Me now what am I to do. This is the situation in which we are, so we have to rise to the occasion and achieve our goal. England is very important, very, very important and I'm going to work very hard here, no doubt. But you all have to help Me and understand that the time has come now to get what you have been seeking. All of you should achieve it, what you have been seeking, right now.

May God bless you.

I would like you to ask Me some questions but don't ask controversial questions like: I read in this book, that book; then somebody has been to some far-fetched place; what do you think of this Guru and that Guru. I'm not going to get into controversies.

So don't ask Me about any Guru, you'll find out yourself.

Ask some sensible questions about realisation.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: You leave it to Me. I am quite a master in [UNCLEAR] I [UNCLEAR heard] all kinds of blocks, mountains after mountains. You don't know how much I have gone through. I've become now an expert. You are not such a block at least as far as you are concerned, so don't worry. You see, I've worked hard for years to study all the permutations, combinations. I used to enter into the Kuṇḍalinī and into the... to find out what are the blockages and I know how to find the way out. You just leave it to Me. But later on when you get it, everything I'll tell you, every secret about it, everything I'm going to tell you and you are going to become the master yourself.

That's what it is. What kind of blockage you are fearing? Seeker's answer: [UNCLEAR]

Shri Mataji: Fear is very simple to conquer, you see, it is because of conditionings, you see. People are... I don't know why they do it, this I cannot explain, you see. Human beings are very difficult. Like in France they said, “Mother, if you say you are a happy person, they'll think you are naive." I said, “Why?" “Because you do not know any problems.

So you have to be a very unhappy person. You have to show you are unhappy. Your cheeks must go inside like this; you must look upset like this, like a prisoner of [UNCLEAR Ceylon]." I said, “Really?" He said, “If you go like this, Mother, in such a happy mood, they will never take you seriously." I said, “But I don't think..." They said, “We must suffer. That's what they want." I said, “But why? Christ has suffered for you. Now why do you want to suffer?" But they say these things, actually you know, it is with these people I've seen they say. I said, “If it is so, you are people having prostitutes on the streets, lined up together. You have pubs on the other side. You have gay, this thing and nonsensical things all over. You are unhappy. You are making everybody extremely unhappy." I said, “I'm unhappy because I see these kind of things are going on here and you are saying that you are unhappy. You are not unhappy at all, you are just escaping." And so the fear is another sort of a conditioning on you which comes to you that you think, “I will have to loose something." No, you blossom into something, because you are beautiful. I see that beauty, I see that Spirit. You are that and the fear that you have, is because you cannot see it. It's just a conditioning.

You just blossom into it. Did you read [UNCLEAR any] one of these horrible books on Kuṇḍalinī. That's it, that's very simple to overcome.

I'll tell you what: a villager comes to the city, he has never seen electricity and he puts his two fingers in the plug. Like that they are absolutely unauthorized. You know, they do not know what Kuṇḍalinī is.

I was amazed, there's a big book like that and he said the Kuṇḍalinī is in the stomach. I said, “Now what to do?" And he's written a big book like that, you see. They are naive first of all, they are unauthorized, they are unholy. Everybody cannot do Kuṇḍalinī's job. You have to be authorized person from God and you have to be holy person.

Specially a gentleman, I know, who has written a book, he leads such a horrible private life, such a money-minded fellow. He talks of Kuṇḍalinī, I was surprised. He's taking money from everyone and he's leading such a horrible life and he's spoiling women and doing all kinds of things and raping them. And he is telling that my Kuṇḍalinī rose and it troubled me like this and it will. Kuṇḍalinī doesn't trouble actually, this deity sitting there on the first Chakra, Śhrī Gaṇeśha, He is the Deity of innocence, who incarnated as Jesus Christ, He only thrashes such people who try to handle Kuṇḍalinī. Even they try to put your innocence which looks after your sex onto the Mother. Just imagine what a sinful thing it is.

Innocence is the one that is your special power. That's why people are not even spontaneous now in sex. They just think about it. Do you know the latest numbers of people who are impotent in the West? And do you know in Switzerland itself out of five families only one family can produce children, they are impotent. If you think about sex, you can become impotent, all the spontaneity is lost. And here people are getting sophisticated [UNCLEAR with it]. Either you become a rapist or you become absolutely an impotent person. Either you go the right or to the left.

So these people who talk about Kuṇḍalinī have no sense of proportion, they [UNCLEAR have lead a] very bad life, they are unholy people, they [UNCLEAR have no sense of] holiness, righteousness. I mean righteousness is the thing. When I talk of righteousness they think I'm Victorian, you see.

So I said, “I'm not only Victorian, I'm even much earlier, I'm ancient." But that is what it is. But I do not say, “Become righteous” or anything, nothing out of the kind because that's a difficult task. What I say you, “Get your realisation” automatically you will do it. Automatically because the religion what we call is the religion or the righteousness gets enlightened within you. You just cannot do it.

So I'm not going to tell you. I said, I'm tricky. I'll just raise your Kuṇḍalinī. You yourself will give up. I don't say you, “Give up your drugs” nothing, but you just give up. I don't say you, “Give up your drinks." I do not say you, “Give up your cigarettes." There are many who have given up completely because they have found the absolute, all right. In the same way your fears will also disappear but do not think of them. Just now you are sitting before a very powerful person. Don't you worry. All right, is there any question? One more and then I will do the thing. Anyone? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Are you already frightened? I said “emergency" because Last Judgment has started, in the atmosphere it is. No earthquakes for you, all right. Can't you see there is emergency, people want to have it and you can feel the emergency, everywhere there's a talk about it. Everyone knows there is some sort of an atmosphere of emergency. Everybody is running fast, nobody knows, you see, why. You don't worry, you are a realised Soul. Emergency is that you give more realisation to Eastern people, all right.

So, any more, no, all right. Now, why I've asked you to ask questions that after this don't ask any questions, just have it. If you are hungry, you will just get it. I would request you to put out your shoes and put your feet on the ground. I don't need really but I'm just doing it to please you people. It's all right, I can manage. Because they will say, “Why don't You take out Your shoes?" you know. All right, so put your hands towards Me, straight like this and you have to close your eyes. That's very important is that you must close your eyes. Now, why? Because the Kuṇḍalinī when it rises above the Āgñyā, if your eyes are not closed, it does not rise because there is dilatation of the pupil that takes place and it stops there. But maybe your eyes may be flickering possibly, then you open your eyes and watch Me. In case that they are not flickering, then it's all right. Now some of you may feel little heat and if Sahaja Yogis tell you something, you just listen to them, don't get angry with them, it's for your good. If they tell you to remove something or do something, it's better to listen to them.

Just put both your hands towards Me. Just like that. Just see if there is flickering in your eyes. It's a funny thing, today the center you are catching is left Nābhī. And you have to decide one thing that you have to marry sometime because there are great souls who are to be born and we have to give them parents who are realised Souls. If you are not yet married just say that, `Mother, we'll marry [me],' that's all, it will work out. Still left Nābhī is there. Also the marriage institution has to be put right because if these great souls are to be born, we have to give them a nest, a family where they are to be born, otherwise poor Indians will have to bear all the children of the world.

Because of this emergency many people are taking birth and they would not like to be born in a place where the parents are killing the children or where the parents are quarreling among themselves and every day they are having a divorce.

So poor Indians they have to take the load upon themselves. Marcus close your eyes, close your eyes Linda, close your eyes, it doesn't go over your Haṁsa. Close your eyes. Put your attention to your Sahasrāra. Void is there, left? [UNCLEAR] Nābhī.

Contents: 1980-10-27*, Public Program, What do We Expect from Self-realisation (The Innermost Core of Every Center is the Spiritual), Caxton Hall, London, UK

The other day I was telling you about our growth within after Self-realisation. The germination takes place very easily. The Kuṇḍalinī rises very easily, also pierces the Fontanelle bone area very easily. That is really, as you call it, Sahaja. It's a tremendous happening. It takes thousands of years for people to get realisation. That's also a fact. They had to be born again and again and very few selected got realisation.

But today, as I said, the time has come for many flowers to become fruits.

So, this happening doesn't take much time. It's just split of a second in many people.

But about the growth I was talking last time. Last time I ended up at Self-realisation. What is Self-realisation is and what do we expect from Self-realisation? The first thing that happens to you, as you know, when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, that you start feeling physically better. Your health improves. Though the Kuṇḍalinī rises from the centermost Nāḍī, called as Brahma Nāḍī inside the Suṣhumnā in the central path and first thing that happens is the physical being, which is helped. That is not the innermost core of every center. The innermost core of every center, is the spiritual. But how is it first the physical being is helped? It's very interesting to see. The Kuṇḍalinī rises through many centers, passes through Āgñyā, passes through Fontanelle and becomes one with the All-pervading Power.

So first thing that receives the information is the seat of Sadāśhiva, the seat of your Ātmā, your spirit on top of your head. But the spirit is in your heart.

So the first awakening takes place, or enlightenment takes place, in your brain. That's a very important point to be seen. In your brain resides the conscious mind. That means the present and when it is enlightened that means your awareness is enlightened. You get enlightenment in your awareness, in your attention.

As I told you last time, that attention is enlightened first.

So through your attention you can find out what is the matter with the other person. You can find out what centers are catching, what your centers are catching.

So, on the physical level you know what's happening. That's, you should say, the present.

We feel our gross being enlightened. We can feel them on our fingers, but when the Kuṇḍalinī is rising in your being she goes straight on to the Fontanelle bone area. Of course, if there is a hurdle or anything then she stops and tries to indicate. At that time if she is not successful, for example, you have got a liver problem, then she will come and throb at liver problem, informing you that there is something wrong with the liver. That's why a Sahaja Yogi has to give vibrations from outside. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises above the Āgñyā, she goes up to this Fontanelle and pierces, but when she cannot go beyond Āgñyā, she spreads out here. She can spread out here also and then she starts trickling down the grace, or you can say, she starts relaxing this area, which is called as murdha [brain] and that's how she makes more space in the Āgñyā and this relaxation works out the outer side of the physical being.

Also, when she pierces through in anyone who has a simpler personality, who is not so complicated, first thing that happens is that the grace starts falling through from the sides. And the grace starts falling into the ida and Piñgalā and then she comes down, by which she supplies ida and Piñgalā the grace, not the Kuṇḍalinī. You should not confuse these two things. Because of her piercing, there is an opening made and the grace starts coming down and she, I should say the grace itself, feeds all these centers from outside.

So, the first, the physical being improves. The second one, I'm now going from outside inside, is, second one is the mental being. Now the mental being relates to our awareness as well; also, to our sense of understanding, intellect and all those things. When the grace starts flowing more and more within us, then our mental being gets enlightened. When the mental being gets enlightened then you start feeling centers of other persons.

Some people, you know, just get cured. They don't feel any vibrations, nothing; just they feel cured. They get cure of cancer, this, that, all sorts of things. But they do not get vibrations, they do not get the feeling, they cannot make out whether it is this Chakra, or that Chakra. They do not feel anything.

So, the first thing that would happen to anyone is the physical effect; physical being improves. That's the grace of God. Because if you are not well, if you have some pains and some troubles and some diseases, how are you going to pay attention to God and spirit? That's very important. But before it comes to the mental self, something else happens also. That when the Kuṇḍalinī pierces, the falling of grace first comes down to the lower centers starting from Nābhī downwards and Nābhī is a great sucker. Nābhī starts sucking the vibrations, or you can say the grace and Nābhī starts getting awakened first of all.

From Nābhī rises to Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, which goes round and round, which is connected with Nābhī.

So it flows to Swādhiṣhṭhāna and then Swādhiṣhṭhāna, also, starts working out itself. Swādhiṣhṭhāna sucks in as much as possible and works out all the centers, I mean all the organs, which are supplied by it.

But Nābhī, when it receives surplus grace, then it starts opening and its opening helps us in very gross material life also. You are helped materially. Supposing if you are materially absolutely hopeless, then you are not going to pay attention to God also.

So the responsibility of God to first give you little material well-being.

Like I received a letter and also the tape. They mentioned about somebody who wanted to come to India from Australia. She got her realisation, she felt very much better and she wanted to come to India, but she had no money to come and that desire was there. Because of that desire in her she may not have put full attention to her spirit and that's how our material desires get satisfied. And her daughter discovered she had a bracelet, many bracelets and things she had and she went to a jumble sale for selling them for some sort of a program they had for children and they discovered that one of the bracelets that she had, which she thought to be a junk, was of gold, surprising and she sold it for fifteen hundred dollars. She was going to sell it for twenty cents. And that was exactly the amount needed for their travel for both of them.

Now, one would say that, how it works out! It is miraculous! That's all I can say, because the machinery is such. The pouring of the grace within you informs the Lakṣhmī principle in the Nābhī. Nābhī just show them, where is this.

[Aside:] Somebody has to get up and show. Douglas, or someone. Douglas, come on.

This is the one and this has the Deity of Lakṣhmī, she is the Deity of your well-being and this is what Kṛiṣhṇa has said, “Yog kshem mai yog hum mai hum." “When the Yoga takes place, means, when the Kuṇḍalinī pierces through Fontanelle bone area, I look after your well-being." How does he look after? Through Lakṣhmī.

Now this is a universal Deity. She is present in human beings and also She is present in material things.

It is such a fantastic thing, that you cannot explain these things on human level; really, it is difficult. Only thing you can see for yourself how it works out. It's so tremendous. Like if you have to explain about human civilization to an ant, it's going to be difficult. In the same way it is. It's so difficult, you see and human beings are so proud of their rationality and I find it impossible how to explain, but it does work that way. You can only see the working of it. But if you are proud of your rationality, you go ahead with it. What can you do? But you just see for yourself how it works.

So, the second layer that really is improved is your material being.

So many people have been helped who are here, materially. The well-being has come, actual well-being, apart from satisfaction. But I may say, it does not cross the limit. Like you do not become Mr. Ford, because that's some sort of behaviour, which is aSahaja. To be so rich, I mean it's ridiculous, vulgar. You become better than what you are, but not the best, because you have to be in the center at a satisfied point and everybody has to enjoy you and you have to enjoy everybody.

But supposing if you are in dire necessities and problematic things, then you cannot pay attention to God. And that's what he understands, that you cannot. If you have physical problems, you see, if you have cancer, how can you say that you pay attention to your spirit when you have cancer? I mean, such a body, after all if this whole house is going to collapse, you cannot meditate here.

So first the physical stability is established and second is the material one. There are many factors, which work out material stability, automatically.

First of them is that once you find your spirit you just automatically give up your habits. Most of these habits come from your Nābhī, because from Nābhī Chakra you get your seeking and you think when you have a habit you are seeking your joy. I mean many people have said, “Mother, but I enjoy my glass of whisky." You see, they have said to Me many a times. Or, “I enjoy a little ride here and there." Somebody has said that, “Mother, I enjoy some Kensington ladies." You see, sort of thing. But once you start enjoying your spirit, it drops out. All your attention, you see, becomes enlightened and your priorities change. You don't enjoy these things that you have been enjoying before, so just don't do it.

I mean, I don't have to tell you, `Don't drink.' You just don't do it. I don't have to tell you that you don't smoke. You just don't do. But, there are some very weak people, extremely weak, I mean, very, very weak people. They take time, I know. They plod and sort of, you see, they are very slow moving creatures. But not all; I would say quite a small number. And most of the people, they just give up things, just give up.

So you start saving money automatically, because the money goes to the races or to the pubs or to other habits which are useless, you know they are useless, smoking, drugs, any such foolish things that you are wasting money on. And you start channelizing this money for something better, something that gives you more joy, more happiness and of an eternal nature. Not a temporary one that you take the drink previous night and in the morning you are finished. You get a drink that never finishes, which you enjoy all the time. You get drunk like that, you see.

Because in My own life I have seen, it's such a so-called sophisticated elite life, people drink much more you see than normal people do. And they ask Me, “Why don't you drink?" I said, “I'm already drunk. The day I was born I was so drunk, that now if I have to drink more I'll fall off.

So, better not ask Me." They are quite frightened at My, this thing. I said, “I'm really fully drunk, already." So, they start looking at Me and they never find Me in any way less in spirits as they are. Actually, I am always little more than they are, so they never force Me to do that.

But these things drop out automatically. I don't have to tell you that you have to drop out, because most of the things you have done because you have been seeking something. You know, there are people, I asked them, “Why do you do this?" They said, “We are seeking love." I said, “How? How can you find love like this?" Or somebody will say that, “I'm seeking God." There are many people who are taking drugs, I mean genuinely, just for seeking. But when they have found it, what they were seeking, they don't take drugs. But this is one of the side issues; I was just trying to make it little lighter.

But mainly what happens is that actually the principle of Lakṣhmī, the principle of well-being within you is awakened and if you listen to one of My tapes where I have described what a Lakṣhmī is and how She's symbolized, there is a very beautiful picture of Lakṣhmī that the great seers have put before us, that she is after all a mother. She is a mother. A person who is a rich man has to be a motherly person, but here you find in the whole world I have seen, those who have more than a little money their nose goes up like that and if you see them from down below they look like wolves, you see, not like mothers. Most surprising and this Lakṣhmī, who is a mother, wears a white sarī, very elegant, with a gold border. That represents that he doesn't put people into awe by his form, by show and this and that.

She is standing on a lotus. Imagine any human being standing on a lotus. That means that she's so light in her behaviour towards others, she's so delicate, she touches people with such delicacy, that people don't feel hurt. They are not in any way pressurized by the riches of people. But you know it's just the opposite, the so-called rich, you see. Horrible. If somebody is coming in here, I would like to get out of that door. They try to pressurize because they have money. You see, if somebody starts talking big, you just find out, ninety-nine per cent he must have won some horse race. This pressurizing is a sign that he is not a Lakṣhmīpati. He has nothing to do with Lakṣhmī.

So, he is so gracious.

I have seen some people like that. I have seen one in England, you would be surprised to know. I have just seen him once. He was a gentleman, who was some Lord and something and later one he came to India. He was Viceroy and there was a gentleman who was very well known to us. He once met him in a train, which was delayed or something happened and they had to get down at another station and somehow or other they were put together. He was so simple and so good and so helpful that this gentleman was taken by him. He said, “Now better you come to my house, because there is not going to be any train.

You come to my house." When he went to his house, he was surprised. The house was like a palace and then he told him who he was. He was amazed and he even carried his bag, such a simple man. And then when this gentleman told Me that such a person is there, then he revisited India and then he brought him to see Me. But he is no more now; he is dead, this gentleman. But he was a very big man in India and a very big person, but such a simple man, such a simple person.

So that's the significance of well-being is.

So when a Sahaja Yogi gets well-being, then he has all these qualities in him, that he doesn't impress on others that he has a property or he has got money and he should pressurize others. If he is really a good Sahaja Yogi, he would be the humblest of all and he would be very generous. Because in her hand, one hand is like this, the left hand is like this, means she is generous, she is giving, all the time she is giving, she is not taking anything, she is giving and that's how such a person is all the time giving.

I have seen people who, after Sahaja Yoga, receive lot of blessings and are miserly or try to oppress others, lose their properties, lose their money and really suffer a little bit, because otherwise there is no way of teaching them.

So the generosity flows from her hand and another hand is like this, which means that she gives protection to people. There have to be some people who are ashreetas [ashreyas], are dependents, who just depend, from whom such a person doesn't take any money. They just live. These systems are still in India. Those people who are well off always have about two-three people being supported by them.

There's a system still working in India in many places. I mean, in My father's house we always remember we had people like that. They were educated and given higher education by My father, free, just free, but never did they feel that they were anybody else, or treated with same respect and with the same dignity as we were treated, but that was a part of life. One had to do it. This is ashreya, is that there should be some people depending on them.

England, also, I have seen people have cats, dogs, things like that, you see, little bit they do spend on cats and dogs. But better to spend on human beings, you know. What am I going to do with cats and dogs? Can I give them realisation? Is better to look after human beings than to look after cats and dogs so much, I mean. But I have seen when they are dealing with cats and dogs they are very happy people, but with human beings they are very unhappy. I don't know why. If you must have seen in the BBC and all that, when they have these advertisements I have seen on television sometimes, you see a person having a cat, she'll always smile and joke and anybody having children if she look so miserable. That should not be so.

There should be somebody dependent. It's not important to measure every money, ask for 2p, “I gave you yesterday. Will you return 2p to me?" It doesn't behove a Sahaja Yogi to be like that. If it comes to that, all right give some money, forget about it. It helps you such a lot. It helps you such a lot. To be meticulously so observant about how much money you lent, it's better to be more worried about how much you have taken than to be how much you have given. It helps a lot. It's a thing one has to realise in life, how much it helps. I have seen in My own life it has helped, so many times. I mean, you really have people then around. A matter of five rupees, ten rupees is so important to some people, at a point. And it works wonders. I mean, you can have a human being worth millions by paying sometimes five rupees. It can work out that way.

So try to be more giving and then you receive more as a Sahaja Yogi.

Remember that now you are connected with Lakṣhmī, the more generous you are, the more you get it. When you are small-minded you do not receive her blessings. You have to give. You have to give.

Once you give, it starts flowing. The stagnation is over and the flow starts coming in; otherwise you are stagnated when your hand is, you see, tight-fisted as you call it.

The English language has so many good words, though they are now losing their meaning. They call it, you are very, I don't know, there must be new words for being very, very miserly, some good word, you know, which doesn't mean miserly, but must be some economical or something fantastic. But actually, miserliness is miserliness. Give it whatever name you like, it's horrible and one should not take to miserliness. That is a curse. I tell you it's a disease. It's like leprosy to be hated. Try to be generous.

Now the generosity of maybe, I don't know, but maybe of money, is not difficult for some people. But generosity of saying something good to others is rare. You see somebody in a good dress, you should be generous enough to say, `Oh, it's fantastic. It's beautiful.' What's wrong? The jealousy, that goes against Lakṣhmī completely. It's better that others are wearing it, you see. You don't pay for it and you enjoy it.

It's very logical, you just see. You see, if you own this hall it will be a headache for you, isn't it, to keep it all right. Imagine the people who own it. Have to put it right because everybody will come and criticise, “This not good, that's not good." It's nice to be here when it doesn't belong to you, to enjoy it. It's very simple. Just try to enjoy it, to be generous with people, be kind to them.

This generosity is lacking. When this starts then the inner core of emotional being starts getting enlightened. Go to the subtler side of material well-being and you start getting into emotional thing.

Small, small things work out. Very small. It's very sweet. You have so many examples of this kind of little sweetness being expressed and this generosity should come to all the Sahaja Yogis of saying good things to others. Doesn't matter if it is exaggeration, doesn't matter, because it acts as a buffer, you see. Then the fright of the strangers, fright of the neighbours, fright of other human beings, you know, every human being has become now, he sees another human being coming, he recoils back. Imagine, first I mean say about fifty years back it was like dogs. If any human being saw another human being they used to bark.

Now it is another way round.

So, the fear of your brother, of your own kin and kith, of your part and parcel. They are your own.

You don't know they are your part and parcel of your being. You can feel it. After Sahaja Yoga you can feel it. I don't have to tell you. You can feel them within yourself; they are within you. And then the sweetness of saying something sweet, something sweet, is so nice, is so rewarding, itself, itself so rewarding.

The movement of Shakti is always this way. If I give you love, love comes back to me. If I give you hatred, hatred comes back to me and double fold everything. If you give your love, say one unit, I may get seven units of love, but if I give you hatred of one, that means seven units of hatred comes to you. The mathematics is complete.

So try to understand that emotionally you have to understand your material well-being. How to express emotionally your material well-being is a very sweet thing. I will give you an example of Gavin, because I can't forget that very sweet incident. One day we had called some people. You see, I didn't know there would be so many coming in his house. He has a house, but I mean, not so big like this.

So, there were about fifty people around and I told him, “Prepare some food for them." But, I thought for fifty people he could not have prepared. At the most for about ten people, you see.

So, I was quite embarrassed and I was waiting for people to go away. I didn't say, `Stay on for dinner,' or anything. I thought, “Poor Gavin, how could he have cooked for fifty people?" you see. And when they disappeared, you see, about five, six were remaining. I said, “Now, let's have dinner." So, he was very unhappy and he was looking this side and that side. I said, “What happened?" He didn't say anything.

So, I slept that night in his house. Next morning I got up. Still he was very uneasy. Next day I said, “What's the matter, what's going on in your mind?" He said, “Mother, why did you ask all of them to go away? I had prepared for fifty of them." This filled Me with such joy, you can't imagine, tremendous joy. Tremendous joy, I mean, that I cannot get over such things and I have seen so many Sahaja Yogis like that, very very sweet persons. Another is Gregoire, another very sweety person, you know, the way he does things for others.

Sometimes the way he works it out is so sweet and how he really knows how to express himself sweetly in small little things.

It's so surprising how people are very beautiful and how they are working out these material things to express their emotions. Material is for emotions only, you see. My mother had a principle that if she had six sarīs, the seventh one she'll present out. She had kept six; not more needed, you see. And she was a woman of great principle, I must say, because she used to spin her own sarīs. Can you imagine? And that's what she used to wear, herself. And she was the wife of a very rich man. I mean, she had no problem of money, but this was her principle. She used to live like that and she said that, “What I need six; more than I don't need” because it's cotton sarīs, you see.

So one sarī you wash and next you wear and you can just press it. We had people in the house who could do that for her. She said there's no need to have more than six and ones she would keep for some occasion, you see, expensive one, if she has to go for a wedding and all that. That's all.

So the seventh was kept and out of the six, if she got one more she would donate that to somebody. She could only keep up to six, you see. That was her principle and she managed her life very well and I was also bit too much of a generous person and she always supported My generosity. Always, she supported and she was very happy when she found that I would just give away lots of things to people who came to My house.

I mean she, “That's very good, she should do” to everybody she used to say, “That should be done." Always used to encourage Me for such things that I did. But I found all things have only value if I can give them away. Otherwise they have no value and I keep only the things that are being presented to Me.

All the rest pass out of My hands very easily on to people. Anybody says, “I like this” “All right, have it." See, I feel so happy to give it to them and it's really rewarding.

Now that person thinks, “What should I give you back?" I said, “Now, please, that's not to be done, because, already you know, come and see this house is filled with things and I don't know how to get rid of it." If I buy anything Myself, of course I don't earn anything, so if from My husband's money, I try to give it away, it's very nice. It's really extremely nice. After all, what's the use of these things in the house? What am I going to do? I mean, if you have to have a personal archives, you can have, you see, something like that, putting up this thing bought there, this thing bought there. But normally what do you do with it? So, this kind of a generosity is to be developed within us. The aesthetics of generosity is to be seen, how you give things to others and how you express your emotional being. For people who are emotionally dry, because of ego orientation, should learn these things. Is very important. That will give them some emotional side also. Very much necessary for people who do not feel their feelings much, their joy much.

They should try to do it. They will start feeling it much more.

Then the emotional side is enlightened within us, the grace starts flowing up to emotional side. In emotional side first of all the purification takes place. That's very important. To lead a very beautiful emotional life, you must have pure ideas; otherwise, you can never be emotionally all right. You see, like in a tree you have to have leaves, you have to have roots, you have to have fruits, you have to have flowers, at its proper places. Like in your house you have to have a drawing room, you have to have a bedroom, you have to have a bathroom, everything separated. You do not put them into a complete, what you call, what you call that, a mix-up. You do not make it like that, isn't it? Don't put your bathroom in the drawing rooms, do you? I mean, some people may start it with the kind of confusion they have these days, but normally you do not.

In our own emotional life we must have pure sense: purity of a sisterly love, purity of a brotherly love, purity of a wife's love. For example infidelity; infidelity is impurity. Infidelity comes when there is impurity. Without fidelity the marriage life cannot be happy. That's the basis of married life. You see, `I like,' this `I like' business is impurity. The impurity in you likes it. Gradually, after realisation you start developing that purity within you. You start understanding these are your brothers and sisters. As soon as your emotional life starts improving your innocence starts awakening up. You see, it is connected with your innocence. The left side is connected with your innocence and then it starts flowering. You really become innocent.

Now see the practical side. You go to somebody's house. The gentleman has a beautiful wife. Now your bad eyes are on the wife. How can you enjoy? You cannot enjoy, the husband cannot enjoy, the wife cannot enjoy. All the time there's a fear. Maybe the wife may run away with you or something may happen. The whole house will be finished. I mean, you are so destructive.

So-called charming men and charming women are just destroying each other's lives. What way up do they land? All in the orphanages.

A woman marries seven times, a husband marries eight times, all these old people are in the orphanage and children are in another orphanage. You see, you are just creating orphanages by this kind of impurity in your mind.

But by telling you these things you are not going to believe Me, nor you can do it. But just when it happens, when this happens, the innocence, the joy of pure love, when there is no other impurity, but just pure love of brothers, sisters. I mean, here I have seen people don't even sort of embrace each other, men. It's most surprising. I mean, for us it's something one can't understand, you see.

So much impurity has gone into our brain that every man, is it that way wrong? When we came here My husband used to embrace every man. I told him, “Don't do it. People will laugh at you." He said, “Really? But, everyone is not like that, maybe one per cent." I said, “No, they think everybody is like that." You see, whatever they found pathologically in one person, they think everybody is like that. These psychologists, whatever they did in one abnormal person they started to see in everyone. Everybody's not like that. I mean, there's no harm in understanding that there is only one per cent people are pathological, who go to these psychologists. The others who are spoilt are because of psychologists themselves. They put ideas: you have a guilt, you have a guilt, you have a guilt. Even if you don't have, you'll have it. They go on putting ideas into your heads. All this is supposed to be intellectual expansion. Whatever you may call it, it's all nonsense, you see.

A person who doesn't commit sin, you say, “Oh, he must have committed sin." Now, he doesn't know what to do. You convince him, “All right, Baba, I have committed sin. Now I have to confess.

So, I have to confess. Yes, I have committed sin." They play about like this, you see. They just try to build you up and all that and then they break you, shatter you completely and you think, `Oh, I am the most sinful person ever lived.' If you were that sinful, do you think you will get realisation, first of all? Just ask yourself a question, `How did I get realisation? How did I feel vibrations? If I was that sinful how could I get it?' Throw away all these ideas of these psychologists and tell them that we don't believe it. You see this is very few people who are really basically sinful. I tell you, very, very rarely. I have not seen anyone so far, except for these horrible Gurus who are well known. After all, they are the people who are Rākshasas.

They are not human beings, you see.

So that's a different category. But otherwise I have not seen basically a person who has nothing good in him, because everybody has the spirit and definitely spirit is superior.

Much more dynamic than all the sins put together.

What are these little, little sins here and there? What are you doing? And there's nothing to feel so diffident about. After all, you are realised people. You are saints. You are to be respected. You have to respect yourself first of all. You are all saints. Do you realise that? Once you realise you are saints, you will start acting as saints. How the saints act, you'll put yourself onto that pedestal of understanding that you are really saints; otherwise, you won't get vibrations. Go and ask anyone of these. They will tell you the vibrations, only people who are saints get it. In India all the people are burnt when they die, not the saints. Realised souls are not. They are respected. They say when the saints come to your house, that's the day, is the day of festival and all of you are that.

So don't think that you cannot do this and you have this guilt and you have these things. Nothing of the kind. You are pure spirit. Be very lavish about it.

Of course, I mean, too much indulgences into these things, emotional life also, can lead you to a stagnation point. Like I hear people saying that there's lot of love between us, but one has to be discreet in that also. Does it make you universal or it makes you localised? You see, like Britishers were British, Indians were Indians, finished. If that love makes you universal, by which you say kindly things, by which you enjoy the love of other people, their vibrations, whatever grace it is, whatever part of the world they come from, they are Sahaja Yogis, if you start enjoying them, then know that that is love. Should not be localised in any way. If there is any group forming, then must know that it is not love; it's not Divinity; it's not. Divinity is universal. It embraces every thing, every thing. It has no discrimination of any kind.

It only discriminates between evil and good, unrighteous and righteous, Christ and anti-Christ, God and anti-God. But it does not discriminate on these three levels, that is physical appearances, mental approach or mental development or emotional expressions.

Some people are emotionally very expressive. I would say English are less expressive by temperament; maybe that's their temperament is. Indians are extremely expressive. If you go to India, to a village, say you go to Rahuri, they will just take you in their embrace and would start weeping and crying with joy.

You will be amazed the way they will love you. I mean imagine and for them it would be, like, you see they wouldn't mind even if they had to sort of spread themselves on the ground for you to walk smoothly, so that you don't feel the horrible roads of India. That kind of tremendous emotions, the expression, you'll be surprised. You'll be overwhelmed, I mean, sometimes shocked, you know, the way they are. But that doesn't mean that English don't love. They love in their own way. Then they stand there.

So that's how it should be, that it is all embracing, all shapes, all types, all permutations, combinations, because this variety is created by God to create beauty and all the varieties must be accepted. Imagine, you all looking just the same. How would it look? Horrible and boring. Every leaf is different. Then what about human beings? But in that difference there's the unity of spirit and if you can feel that humility, then you are emotionally absolutely correct and you are a realised Soul.

And, last of all, the most important is your spirit, spirit that resides in your heart. All this beauty is only perceived when there is light in your spirit; otherwise, you cannot see all this beauty. You cannot enjoy. Spirit is the one, which is the diamond, which shines on this beautiful reign of your body, mind and your emotions. That's the most important thing that is to be achieved, to be absolutely absorbed into your being. That state should be achieved by all of you. But the growth, if the outside is not all right, then the inside cannot be carried by that weak outside. It's such a strong thing, spiritual life is, is a very strong thing. It's so dynamic. It's so powerful.

Sometimes, you know, it floods Me completely. I mean, I have to control Myself. The love just shoots off from the being and just, I want to give it, but I wonder whether you will be able to bear it.

So I have to control it a little bit. The flood may not be borne.

So, you have to enrich your outside to bear that inside beauty and the more you enrich it, the more you make it strong, the more it will shine. It's so simultaneous, because one must understand that spirit is love, is all intelligence, is all awareness and it knows your problem. It slowly shines. It sees how far you can bear, how far you can go. Then after realisation, when you start looking after your outside, the inside starts shining by itself, but attention should be towards your spirit. All these outside qualities are so joy giving to the spirit, you can't imagine. Try them. You will enjoy yourself. We have not been able to enjoy ourselves much. You see, if we could we would not shun the jails. I mean, I would be happy in the jail, I tell you, because I can enjoy Myself there better.

But the one thing is there, you cannot enjoy yourself so much when you cannot share it with others also, isn't it? It becomes like that. Without sharing you cannot enjoy yourself. And that's what should happen to all the Sahaja Yogis. At that level you should come. We should be at that level. Try to keep your level that high. Is important.

Sometimes you come down. You start criticising others. Others are also not right. For example, somebody sees somebody filthy, dirty, something like that. The person who is filthy, dirty, of course, is something wrong with that person, no doubt. But that person should be pitied.

At least you should be clean. I mean, that's the minimum of minimum. But instead of that if you start criticising that person, you also become filthy in your language, filthy in your mind and everything.

So why? Leave it. Let that person improve by itself. See that, he has to be clean, he has to be neat, he has to be sensible. This is to be seen by that person himself and not by you.

Where is your attention? It's a habit in India, all the parents will ask the children when they are saying, “Where is your attention?" He says, “Where is my attention?" All right and again he is standing there. “Where is your attention?" Again he will be on the watch, “Where is my attention?" We have to look after our attention; that's all. Where is my attention? Is it on the Spirit? Next time I'll tell you more about the spirit part. I hope you have understood how necessary it is to develop your inner being. In your mental being, egoistical nature is to be controlled very much.

I have seen people who go from left to right; they become egoistical. Those who go from right to left; they become frightened. All these side movements must be brought to the center. You have to understand that from basics we have to rise higher. People have an explanation for everything. No explanation is needed. Who are you explaining? You are explaining to yourself. You are judging yourself. You have to judge yourself. Whom are you explaining? Mātājī? She doesn't need any explanation. I know, perhaps, everything. Perhaps. But, I don't condemn you and in anyway I do not want that you should be condemned by any chance at all. Why should you? You are all saints, after all. Nor did I get so many saints. For Me it's greater satisfaction. But for your own growth, I want you to understand that you are saints and you have to come up to that point.

Saints have to be self-disciplined. Nobody has to tell them. Discipline yourself. Tell yourself, `I am a saint now.' What an opportunity it is to be. What an opportunity. And people are only going to believe in you when you are really the saint within and saint without. In Sahaja Yoga people become saints within and not saints without, easily. But in other systems they are first made outside. You see, they are made to work for twenty-five years just washing a temple, finished. Then they are made to do something else for twenty-five years. By the time they are about to dead, they'll say, “All right, next time I'll give you realisation." It's like that. But here, from inside you have really achieved your realisation, no doubt and you have greater chances of improving. This is what I thought that this lifetime I'm just going to give realisation to all the people who come to Me. Let's see. And you are going to give full justice to My bold step, because now you got it. It is going to work out much faster. It has to work out. This was the only way it could have worked out faster than to make you first of all wash yourself everyday, get up at four o'clock and make you like military people. I said, “No, let's try this way." It's done. It's happening. It's so simple.

Then the self-discipline must start and must try to improve your light, which is just kindled, to make it a beautiful light, clean light and generous giving light, the light of love. It should work out, I am sure.

Keep your standards high. Do not fall down. Put your attention to proper care. It's all prophesized, as you know. Blake has prophesized it. The more I read the book, the more I'm convinced that England is going to be the Jerusalem. Now think of that. No lethargy allowed. While I find Australians are coming up much faster. You have to prove Blake's prophecy.

May God bless you. All of you.

Cooley, can you give Me some water please. Look at the children, how quiet. Thank you very much.

If you could arrange a seminar, Gavin. Anytime, three days, I can postpone My going to India. I would like to have a seminar sometime.

Gavin:... [UNCLEAR] a place in Sussex, I think it's the twelfth, no the eleventh, no thirteenth, that's a mid-week time [UNCLEAR term].

Shri Mataji: We have many more. I would like to have it on a Saturday Sunday somewhere.

Gavin: I will try somewhere, but it is difficult to get these places for a weekend. We're still trying.

Shri Mataji: I think in a, any place, like Brighton or something you might get. Or why not hire a boat? Isn't it a good idea? Actually I was looking out for a ship. If one of the Shipping Corporation ships had arrived, I thought we'd go and stay on a ship. Would be a good idea, because it always is there for about three four days. But there's no ship arriving in this month; otherwise, we could have done it.

Some sort of a boat for two days you can hire, a big boat where all of us could be there on a Saturday Sunday.

We should be there, it's important. Before I leave I would like to fix some certain schools.

I mean, you can have it on tenth [UNCLEAR], if you want. And Brighton, do you have boats or things? No. Just find out. Then that should be resolved and then I will arrange My going accordingly. If there is any program like that I will postpone it, but I would like to know as soon as possible.

As I have told you before that Sahaja Yoga has no technique. It's a spontaneous happening which takes place. Now, the flower becomes the fruit, it has no technique, but the sun has to come to do the job, you see and that technique is beyond our understanding. In the same way it happens, just transformation.

But later on you must know how to maintain and how to keep it up, that's all. Once it is managed it can be worked out. Many people have done it and you should be able to do it also, but try not to see others. See yourself first. That's very important. That is a very important part. If you can put your hands towards Me, like this just. And close your eyes, just close your eyes.

[Long pause.] If your hands are shaking or your body is shaking or your eyes are uttering, I mean the eyelids, then you open your eyes. Just watch Me. Just watch Me on My forehead.

Have you been to some Guru or someone? No. What do you do for your work? [UNCLEAR]. Ah, that's it. Ah, the right side is too much used. Should work out. Are you shaking also? No? You are getting Cool Breeze? It's great. Are you getting? Not yet. None of the fingers? Which one? Did you go to any Guru or anyone? Did you to anyone? Guru or anyone? To spiritualist or anyone? No? Are you getting Cool Breeze? Good. Put both the feet straight. Relax. You are getting? Good. Close your eyes and enjoy yourself.

Better now. Just do it like that, you see. It's more on the right side, is a problem. It's because too much thinking, thinking, you know.

So this imbalance of, too much thinking also gives an imbalance, you see. All the time you're thinking, thinking, thinking. That gives you a trouble. It should work out. See, put your left hand on the stomach, the center, yes. Put your right hand now towards Me, like this. Now the shaking will be less. Put it there so it will be comfortable. It will reduce gradually. See? [UNCLEAR].

This is nothing but there's nervousness inside, which has to go out. You see the nerves have been too much tortured by thinking.

Now it's better, soothing down. Much better, see? It will soothe down.

Anne, there are some new people I see on the left hand side. Just see them, if they are realised, all of them. Just see some of these people who are there. Just see. Have you got Cool Breeze there? Have you got Cool Breeze in the hand? [UNCLEAR]. You have got it? Good. Good.

They are from Brighton are they? Have you come from Brighton? No. Good. Jason, just see if they are getting Cool Breeze on the head also. This side, are there new people? You got the Cool Breeze? [UNCLEAR]. All right, it comes so much that you'll get sure of it, all right? Just work it out. You can work out.

There also, Peter? In front of you there, just see, someone. Behind is there someone sitting? He's come for the first time? How are you, Anna? Better. She's got it.

Better now? It's better. Still there? Less, but much less. Just do it like that. Just throw it away.

Throw it away. It has to go out. Now, let's see. Just imagine. Throw it away. It's terrible.

Terrific, they are terrific people. All right, is she all right? What? Put your left hand here. All right? A little bit and put both the feet straight like that on the ground would be better. Like this, both the feet. Yes, let's see. She's all right, I think, she's got it. She's all right.

What about this gentleman? Left to the right. It's nice you came to see Me. Really. Because anything could have happened, you know, with this kind of a tremendous pressure on your mind. Still there. It will be. That's how people get all these troubles, like diabetes, you see. Even they don't listen to that. Then they could get heart. Then you get other problems on the left hand side, you see. Even paralysis can be due to this. It's a very bad thing to work like that, worrying about.

Are you all right? [UNCLEAR]. It will work out. What is it, John? [UNCLEAR] Nābhī? Nābhī.

Put your left hand on the stomach. Stomach, yes. What about him? [UNCLEAR]. Are you married? [UNCLEAR]. You are not married? [UNCLEAR]. You don't want to marry? Other voice: Widow.

Shri Mataji: When was that?

Contents: 1980-10-31*, Public Program, You Are to Be Resurrected, Newbury, UK

He was son of God and He came on this Earth to give a very great message that you have to be resurrected.

It is not only that you have to maintain yourself, don't eat this and don't do that and all those Ten Commandments but He came to give us a message of our rebirth. We have to be born again, not by any just a ritual or some sort of a ceremony we go through, but there has to be something living that has to take place. He has always talked about the living God.

So something living must happen and what happens when it is something living, when it is something living we start finding the transformation taking place. For example you saw a seed and the living process start the tree starts transforming into a root and a shoot and then the shoot start transforming itself into leaves and then into fruits. It is not static, not that we take one piece from here and keep it there it is transformed but there is something that happens within, something very spontaneous which brings forth this transformation and you see it with your own eyes and this transformation has to take place within you.

Now in a case as I told you of Cathy or someone like that one can say all right it is a, or you must have consoled or you give her love or and this and that she become but that is not the point. As I told you there are many people who have got everything, still they are unhappy. And if you ask them they will say, “No, we don't know what happen, we are not happy, we don't feel happy, there is no joy in our lives.

We lost our hearts." They can't explain but it is there. What have they lost? The time has come for the whole world to know their Spirit. This is the time prophesized even by William Blake when He describes England is the Jerusalem. The time has come for you to know your Spirit. That has to happen. It is not a thing by which I tell you, you stand on your heads or hold your nose or start taking some names like one track mind going on chanting some names like some mad caps. It is not that but something that must happen within yourself and that must transform.

Of course, one must understand if it is a living process, you cannot pay for it. How can you pay for a seed to sprout? The seed doesn't understand the living process, doesn't understand money. It's the dead work of human beings. How can you organize it also, you cannot, it's spontaneous, there is no technique, it's all built-in, the technique is built in the little seed that you see, the whole technique of its growth is all built-in. The technique is built-in and all its aps, how it is going to be, what tree it is going to be, how the tree is going to grow into what height, what thickness, everything is inside that seed. In the same way it is a spontaneous thing, which has to happen within you and if it is so we have to find. That's how the search started, people went to India, went all over the places to find out they thought we cannot find the solution to lead us to God. It has to be that way because if you grow too much outside you have to find out your roots because you develop that fear, you develop that fear that you may not be able to sustain this out growth unless and until you find out the depth or the source on which this is to be sustained.

So people started searching and searching. I met many of them, many thousands and I find they were misled many a times. They were really misled. They were so anxious to get to it that whatever somebody said they just accepted, blindfold. People ask for money, all right take it, they starved themselves collected money and gave it to these swindlers and these cheats and thugs. How can anybody exchange money for the Spirit? It's absurd. It's illogical but we understand money to such a great extent I was amazed that we think that Spirit can be bought by giving some money to someone or some sort of a material thing.

Logically all these things have to be understood. Now to say that logically you cannot understand God, is wrong. You can, logically, not rationally but logically. There is a difference between the two. For example, if you have not come to London, you have not seen London, I have not been to Newbury, I did not visit a beautiful place like this then I can not understand. But if I have come here then I see with my own eyes, yes it is so then I have to say yes I have seen it, it's so, I've seen it, I have felt it, I know it is, then it becomes the whole thing become logical. But rationally if I sit in India somewhere in the corner I think of Newbury now I am going to Newbury, just putting my wings of imagination outside, will I come to Newbury? But if I come, This is very important to understand if I come here, actually I come here in person then I know the place, I know the people of Newbury and I know it. That means it has to be actualisation. If it is not an actualisation then whatever you decide about it this way or that way it is absolutely illogical, because you haven't been there, very simple as that.

Some people say we believe in God.

Some people say we don't believe in God. Both ways whatever they are saying they are doing it I don't know how. If they believe in God, may be if it is innately built in us to believe in God but even they don't believe in God, it's alright because they don't understand, they have not been there. But you must keep yourself open, open to understand that if something has to happen to us which is a living process, some transformation has to take place with in us. It has to be an actualisation, not a lecture to you or a sermon to you or some sort of a service and then you disperse. You must start feeling some transformation coming within. In the Bible it's, it's written I will appear before you like tonnes of flames. Nobody can explain what it is like, they cannot. It is written that the tree of life will be felt by the water of life.

It is the prophecy. Now what is tree of life? Where is it? Where does it exist within us? Nobody has tried to find out. They say you must have faith. Yes whatever is said is true. You must have faith but if you have faith, after sometimes you will be disillusioned. That's blind, absolutely blind because where is that tree of life, you have not seen, felt or it has not manifested. On these we can refer to other scriptures also, especially in India where people have been more meditative as you have been more outward and seeking [UNCLEAR power], over powering of matter. In India people tried to find out what's happening within. I mean there are genuine people also, not, not all are thugs. They are not in the market. They are hiding themselves somewhere in Himālayas and all these places. But in the 6th century only, we have the description of the tree of life. And the tree of life is shown here as you see.

Now you are not to have blind faith in what I am saying. There is no need but you should not also deny it. You should try to understand what I am saying and see for yourself it works out or not. If it does not work out we give another chance to you because you must know that I have come here to give you something, not take anything fro you. I cannot take. That's My nature you see. That's why God has made Me something funny but I cannot take anything. If I have come to give you then there is no selling, there is no shop, try, you should be open. It will help you better to understand what I am trying to tell you.

Here now you see the tree of life and when this tree of life is given the water of life then what happens? How the nourishment reaches and how it starts activating. It is as simple as connecting this machine to the mains. Any machine, say a television is there, once it is connected to the mains you can see the manifestation of the machine very clearly and you are amazed, for a villager if you show that he is surprised and he cannot understand how this is happening. How well these pictures are coming? From where these music is coming? How these colours are shown? He can't understand. In the same way once you machine becomes connected, connected with the Divine you start finding His manifestation.

Now in this picture we have shown you here the subtle being that exist within us, just like a structure of a seed you can say, as in the seed there is a [UNCLEAR primule] or the germinating power in the same way in the triangular bone is the power which is going to give us rebirth. This is your own. This is your mother who is going to give you your rebirth. She exists in all of us. She is dormant but She knows everything about you. She is like a tape recorder. She knows all your past and She knows your seeking and She knows you well. She knows your defects and She knows what mistakes you have committed, who has troubled you and has looted you, who has deceived you. She knows everything. But She is dormant. She lies there in dormant stage and She is called as Kuṇḍalinī in the Sanskrit language. Kuṇḍalinī is the word comes from the coiled, word Kundala means the coil and She is in three and a half coils, coiled together and just like a, they call it a serpent like, She is lying down. But you have seen mostly, most of the energies kept in a coil because if any chord has to be used we put it in a coil only. The one end has to come out so this kept coiled up there. Why this three and half is also a big mathematics which, of course later on you can find out. What is the meaning of this three and half coils. Just now I'll give you a very, very short description, outline of this power that resides within us. It resides in the triangular bone called as Sacrum. That is at the back of us, bone, back bone at the lowest point. You can see there is a triangular bone behind this now see this is called as Sacrum. Sacrum means sacred bone. It has been found out that when the body in, when the human body burn this bone does not burn. That is why they call it Sacrum long time back. The reason is the Kuṇḍalinī inside, back bone.

Now above that you found that there are six centers, one, two, three, four, five and six. And the lowest one is below. All these centers are subtle centers which manifest outside our plexuses, the physical plexuses that we know of. These centers exist as energy fountains and they supply the two lines, you see the blue and the yellow line. They try to balance and arrange the power to flow into these two channels. These two channels represent within us on the left hand side, the one come as the blue line which you see comes actually from the right side on top and comes down from the and meets the first center there. This is the line of Iḍā channel which controls our emotional line. It controls our past and is also called as Moon line. It is, it represents our desiring power, our desiring power. The another line you see this yellow line which is our, which represents our power of action through which we act. First we desire. We want to have something and then we act.

So this line represents your physical and mental being which goes in the front side and the left side of the brain and forms the ego which is a by-product of our activities for our action.

The first power of desire or the emotional power when it acts, for example say Cathy was emotionally disturbed have these power was acting too much and was using all the powers from all the body and was creating a super ego there.

So on the, actually on the left hand side and in the front is the ego and on the right hand side and the back is the super ego covering our limbic area which is in the brain above this center. This center Āgñyā is the center of Christ. Christ resides there. People say Christ is within us.

Where is He? Which part? Where is He placed? He is placed in this center. Now when I say that He is placed in there we can prove it, which can easily proved because when the Kuṇḍalinī rises and if She stops at that center which you can see and feel it that it has stopped there. You have to take the name of Christ and request Him that `Please allow the Kuṇḍalinī to pass.' If He is awakened, of course, that can only be done by a person who is a realised Soul. Any Dick, Tom, Harry cannot do it. You cannot call Christ or anyone because what is the, what is the right you have got? There has to be a protocol, a connection by which you can call Him. Any such person when He calls Christ He can be awakened and the Kuṇḍalinī rises from there. That's how you know this is the center of Christ. What is the Mantra of this center is surprisingly, it is Our Lord's Prayer. It is the Mantra is, is not only the Lord's Prayer, it's a Mantra for this center and the weapon of Christ is forgiveness.

When the Kuṇḍalinī stops here that means you think too much. Imagine all the Christians or I can say that the Christian nations think too much. It's surprising we should not think at all. I mean Christ has done that for us. We are not supposed to think but we think about everything. We plan about everything.

We are mad with thinking. I mean which goes like a mad wind. I was in Switzerland, there was a doctor.

He came to see Me. He said, “Mother, you can cut my neck or you can break my teeth, do what you like but stop my thinking." He just could not stop thinking. What is the solution for this thinking is in Sahaja Yoga is you have to forgive. You have to forgive. If you forgive, then this center can be [UNCLEAR resurrected]. But forgiveness is just a myth because what are you doing? If you are troubled by another person, if you do not forgive that person, that person is successful because you go on worrying about it, crying about it, weeping about it and whatever he wanted to trouble you for you are just a complete proof of it.

So forgiveness means what? What you are doing is to get rid of this power over you. And this is what Christ has said that forgive and the greatest thing He did on the cross was to say that forgive because these people really committed the real crime of crucifying the Son of God. But still He said forgive because they do not know what they are doing. They do not know what they are doing that He was the Son of God. It was impossible for people to believe Son of God, imagine, He is Son of God what makes Him that, is His resurrection proved it. Till then nobody believed Him. His disciple never believed Him.

He looked like a very ordinary person, carpenter's son, having hardly two robes to wear, living in a very poor condition, what made Him feel that He was the Son of God, His own knowledge about Himself.

Now supposing, somebody is the Son of God what should He do to prove it? To human beings are just like walls.

Sometimes I find I am talking to walls, like walls you see absolutely or to people are looking this side or that side they are not understanding what I am talking. How are we to prove that He was the Son of God? It is an impossibility. And if He was born in modern times He would have been crucified only when He was five years of age I think because now we are so ego-oriented, that time people were stupid but now we think we are very intelligent. We know everything, we know God, we can organize Him. There are many who say that, “We don't believe in God. We have created this world. We are the scientists. We are this." Oh God in this mad world, thank God He was not born otherwise He would have been crucified much earlier.

So it is impossible to convince at the time that He was Son of God but today we can prove it because at that time human beings were not reached that stage that they could be give Realisation. Today Realisation is working en masse, even in England we have now quite a lot of people, even in England and I say, England itself is really a great country. It is the heart of the universe. It is the greatest country as far as articulation is concerned and the source of all that is good comes from this country. But the people, English people have lost their self-esteem completely. I feel sometimes the way they copy French and Americans and things like that. If they could have their self-esteem I still say that English you are the best in the whole world. Surprisingly in My own experience I found that they are the best. But rather difficult nuts to be cracked. If they are cracked they are the best and once they are there they sort it out because they understand. They are very scholarly. I think by temperament that they understand when I say, “You cannot pay money for that." You cannot organize God and something has to happen within you.

Some actualisation has to take place. This is what you should understand if you are really an English man because anything is stupid and illogical should be shunned completely.

Now what is the transformation takes place that when this Kuṇḍalinī rises She passes through these different centers which are already exhausted within us, for example the second center that is within us, the second one is the center for our activity. Supposing, you think too much your brains cells are to be replaced. For this little center has to work very hard to replace those, those cells in your brain. It starts working too hard and neglects all other duties it has to do, for example, it has to look after the liver, the spleen, the pancreas, the kidneys and the uterus. But when people indiscriminately just go on thinking like mad even thinking about God, what is it? It's like, as I told you not coming to Newbury and just thinking about it, it is that mad then this cell, this center it gets so tired, so tired, it is so exhausted that diseases like diabetes, liver another complications even blood center, blood center of this spleen can be so crazy with this kind of activity that one can develop blood cancer. For example, now we are supposed to be running a rat race, I mean we are suppose to be, we are in a race somehow everybody is in a race, whether it is in the modern race or in the any other race, we have to belong to a cult or some sort of a group where everybody is running a race, you see. In that racing we forgot that the way we eat our food, then we rush about, we don't even give rest to our different organs as it is required to balance its activities, what happens that a thing like spleen get so upset, it's so upset that it does not know when to create more blood cells and when not to create.

You are eating your food suddenly telephone call comes in, you are on the telephone. There is a little child crying, you are looking after the child. Now you have to go to the office just leave the food half way or whatever you have eaten just rush out. You run to the bus and the bus is missing so run to the another bus. All this madness make poor this spleen really mad because it does not understand what to do? How to supply the new blood cells and the result is you develop blood cancer. It's a very simple reason why people develop blood cancer. And then blood cancer we say is curable through Sahaja Yoga.

It is. Actually cancer does not get settle in to people who are realised. But is absolutely curable through Sahaja Yoga. All kinds of cancers can be cured through Sahaja Yoga, no doubt, but we are not here to cure people. Only those who are seekers the Divine is interested. You will be surprised, a very rich man a, I would say one of the wealthiest men from India brought somebody to be cured.

So I said, “Sorry Sir, I cannot cure this person." And he said, “Why not? If you cure I'll build hospital for you. I can give you an Ashram for you." I said, “You do whatever you like I am sorry he cannot be cured." I did not tell him the reason for that. The reason is this. This man has exploited many people. He tortured his wife. He tortured his children. He is a horrible fellow. He has never sought anything good. He has no compassion.

He has no love. He is for himself, is very selfish, a terror little person. Tomorrow if Hitler comes and say, `Mother, You give me Realisation.' Do you think Divine suppose to give him Realisation, because he thinks no end of himself? It is for the Divine to decide for you, it is not for you to decide for the Divine.

The Divine has to say that you are all right. It's just the other way round. Because you may do whatever you like. You may think that you must get all the blessings from God. But God has to know that whether He is going to be gracious on you or not. Even His anger is His graciousness. Because that is what you deserve and through His anger and wrath He is going to cure you and improve you.

Sometimes we have wrong ideas also about our seeking. The seeking comes from the third center.

Which is in the navel, the navel which is called Nābhī Chakra, is the navel point. But it's all in the spinal cord. Now this third center is the center which gives us seeking from the very beginning when we were amoeba. We started seeking food. Then as we became higher and higher and higher in our seeking of food.

We became human beings. Then we started seeking money, possession, power, fame. Then spiritual seeking came, we started seeking in religious outsiders organizing religions, calling God, devotion, dedication but nothing worked out.

So we started a deeper seeking meditating at this time also people came down from all over the world to teach you meditation. Now meditation cannot be taught. It's a happening when you are in meditation. You cannot go to a meditation. It is not like a small little house or a temple or a building where you can enter into. It's a happening. You are pushed into it. You just become in meditation. And this happening take place only when this Kuṇḍalinī pierces this fontanelle bone area and you get an actual baptism, actual, not artificial. You can see with your naked eyes, the pulsation of this Kuṇḍalinī, the rising this Kuṇḍalinī and also the pulsation on the head here till it stops you start feeling the Cool Breeze coming simultaneously. That should happen to you otherwise don't believe in any tall stories. For which you cannot pay.

For which you cannot think. For which you cannot organize. You cannot put in any effort. It has to happen spontaneously.

So the question comes in how? How it happens? It's all in, in there. It's all your own, within yourself. But say there is a light, say this is a candle which has got a wick which has got a wax, it is just ready to be enlighten. Then what you do? You take one enlightened candle and bring it near the other and you get the results, finished. What do you do? The enlightened candle just acts as the catalytic agent and enlightens the another candle without any effort, without any trouble. In the same way an enlightened person can enlighten another person. It's very simple. But the person has to be enlightened. And the enlightened person must know how to maintain your enlightenment for the time being. Like a seed you sprout, now the children will sprout the seed they do not know what do with it.

But a gardener knows which sprouts the seed, then he takes all the sapling separately, looks after it, allows it to grow, then again puts it in the soil properly, watch it for its growth till it comes to its maturity, looks, he looks after it. In the same way the person who enlightened should be able to guide you up to that point. Such a person is called as Guru in Sanskrit language but he has to be a Guru who should be able to raise your Kuṇḍalinī because these days to say the name of Guru, horrible names and horrible faces start coming before Me and they are not Gurus they are just like Satanic forces.

They are horrible people. How can they be a Guru, those who live on your money, parasites of the worst type. You should see that. I mean, if I ask you come and live with Me you have no money at all, will you accept such a situation? And these are even worst and much worst than any dog, I would say, even the dog eats food at your house at least looks after your house. This is only a one way traffic. You have to go on giving them money, money, money, money becoming poorer and poorer and what do you get, nothing. You must see their lifestyle, it's absurd. They live on your money. They have all the weaknesses that a scoundrel can have and after few years you find they land in the prison. Already we have problems with the prison.

So don't allow any of these Gurus come down here. Where will you put them? Like in Switzerland I went and saw one gentleman there he told Me that, “There is a horrible Guru who lives here Mother please come and just pay attention to his ashram." I said, “All right." When we got into the car, in his car and looked at the place, a huge lavish place he has created for himself, with very tall walls like a big palace and you could see from outside the amount of money this fellow has gathered and within a few days a nurse fell in love with a policeman and this nurse was the private secretary to this Guru who has use that nurse to poison some, ah..., oranges to kill some people and so the Guru the great now is in jail for fourteen years. All such horrid people what are they got to do with Divine? But they mesmerized and once you are mesmerized your seeking becomes absolutely stupid and foolish. You cannot see that you are mesmerized. You cannot understand how you are mesmerized. You don't want anything for yourself.

There was another one was coming here the other day and he said that you should give me a Rolls Royce I'll come, imagine, he was to come from America. He has already got 58 Rolls-Royce from you people, from you, the English, very wise. I must say the wisest people in the whole world have given 58 Rolls-Royce to this fourteen year old fellow. Now he has become Yankee in America, taken away all your money, befooling you. He has 58 Rolls-Royce now he wants 59th. I don't know why he wants one more. Poor boys and girls, they don't have so much money now here the young people don't have much money, like in our country may be rich people children get lot of money but here I find that the young people have to find their own way. They starve themselves, eat only potatoes and fasted, did all kinds of things to save money to buy a Rolls-Royce for this scoundrel, just think of it! These are all seekers who did it, so foolish and stupid and when he came they presented him with this Rolls-Royce. My heart really weeps; really don't know what to say to this kind of foolishness people do. Naturally your parents don't believe in you. They think what stupidity you are doing. I can understand. Even in this doubt Me I wouldn't mind because really this kind of stupidity is done, how can you believe such stupid fellow who ask for a Rolls-Royce.

You should have given instead of buying Rolls-Royce, given him three, four slaps on the face he would gone back.

That is what he deserve. Now he got this Rolls-Royce very nicely, he cheated you all and went back. And he will come back next year and again you will do the same thing for him.

Now when you somebody ask some of the Sahaja Yogis went and ask these people that why did you do? They said, “He has given us something so great. This is metal. If we give him the metal and if he give us the Spirit why not do it?" It's foolishness. Can you get Spirit for giving some metal? Can you? Spirit, can you purchase it or exchange it? But from where this kind of stupidity walks into your heads. I mean you are not stupid people. Most of them are educated in university, Oxford, Cambridge, did you learn all these stupidity there? No it's some sort of mesmerism I feel, some stupid spirits have entered into their minds. That's the only solution I can get. I cannot understand what is the reason for these people to go about buying Rolls-Royces for their Gurus.

Then another Guru comes up here and tells you I'll can make you fly, very big, big people are on to fly.

Why do you want to y? Do you want to become birds? Have you to become birds now? You have to become a superior, superior human being. With superior value system, built within you. You want to fly.

I mean it is stupidity, even if somebody gives you ideas like that better ask him to fly himself, drop him from this leaning tower of Pisa and see where he lies, which part? Why do you believe such stupid things, I can't understand. You are supposed to be English. I mean at least Indians have great ideas about your brains. H. G. Wells said that English will have one day only heads and no bodies but I don't think that's going to happen with the advent of all these stupid Gurus coming here and you people passing out all your money to them I don't know what is going to happen? As it is we are suffering from so many other things.

You must adhere as it is we are suffering from so many other plus this kind of a nonsense coming all the spirits coming down. All these negativity working into us I don't know what is going to happen to this country of ours. I don't know. I can't understand.

Now everybody is meditating in this country trying to fly, imagine! Doing nothing, sitting at home, meditating, lethargy of the worst type, trying to fly. This is what it is. That's what has happened to our seeking in various ways, in this way or that way or that way. No, this is not to happen anymore, enough of it. You must get your Realisation. That is what you have to have. The Kuṇḍalinī has to rise. You have to get it because you are seekers of ages, ancient times you have born today, here to get your Realisation.

That is your right to have it and not to be befooled by these people who just come here and exploit you and have floated a market and enterprise.

Now this Kuṇḍalinīs thing is come to you through that center. When it comes to awakening center.

That center of your seeking. Then it starts seeing, what you are seeking. You are seeking the joy of your Spirit, the bliss of peace within yourself. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises it shoots off the seeking is complete because you have found it. You are just there, no questions. Supposing you enlighten the light then what does the light do? First, she is asking for the light, all right I must have the light. I must have the light.

She gives light finished. Then you don't sit there. You sit here with Me and you give vibrations to people, you raise their Kuṇḍalinīs. You awaken them and give them Realisation. Yes, it happens. You all have those powers in a split of a second you get that. You become that. That's your style. You are human beings. You are not worms. You are created out of the billions and billions of creatures, special ones, chosen ones, to bestow this bliss upon you so that you enter into the kingdom of your Father, the God Almighty and enjoy your being and that's what you are.

Why are you wasting and flittering away your energy on these nonsensical people? Pay attention to yourself. Just find out what you are. It is a very easy thing. It should happen to you. It has happened to so many in this country. It should happen to people in Newbury. It is Cathy who brought Me here.

Actually now I am on My way to India and we have decided not to go out of London because I have really travelling too much in Europe, of course, I must say Europeans are also very sensible people. They can see through now. But I think you have to go through all that otherwise you would have never understood the value of Sahaja Yoga. Perhaps that was necessary for them to spend a lot of money on these Gurus and to suffer from all kinds of diseases. There are some here sitting from there only suffering from epilepsy, all kinds of horrible diseases like blood cancer. They are here some of them sitting then you will realise the value of Sahaja Yoga which gives you bliss, joy and happiness.

First of all it gives you the physical well being. It just give you the physical well being, like any place where God has to be brought in, you clean that place.

So the Kuṇḍalinī cleanses your physical being.

That's how you get your diseases cured. Cancer is very simple, extremely simple to be cured, very simple to cure but for doctors it is impossible to accept that there is God in the real sense of the word. Ah, they will have a photograph of Christ in the house. They might wear a cross, you see, that is at the most but to believe that you can cure cancer through Divine Power is an impossibility and we have some doctors also but if they come to Me they think they are all mad. Cancer is a simple disease. Now they have reached a point where they are coming nearer to Sahaja Yoga. On the left hand side and the right hand side we have certain areas and now they are talking about these areas exist within us and they say there is an attack from these areas which are built within us from the time of our creation and these areas have those deposits and they sent forth some protein matter which we cannot identify otherwise which might have gone out of circulation of evolution and when they attack us cancer is triggered.

And now this I have said at least ten years back. I've been saying that there are entities which enter into us, us being in the central path, the middle path, the middle road, road they come from the sides and attack us, but actually when we go to the extreme of the left or to the right we ourselves become vulnerable and we are attacked and that's how cancer is settled.

So down below is the hell, the left side is the collective subconscious, the right side is the collective supra conscious which is the future side of us, the top is the Divine Power which is the Super conscious as we can call it or the collective unconscious as they call it which becomes conscious as soon as the Kuṇḍalinī touches it. Your attention goes there and the whole thing is lifted just like the tent being lifted up and you find that nothing can enter into your attention anymore. You are in that area where you cannot get attacked. And this is what happen to you, to many of you and is what is going to happen to the rest of the people who have come here for the first time. I must tell you Newbury I must find out about it much more because I find this place has tremendous vibrations. Only when our car arrived here I asked them is there water somewhere here. I was not doubting but I can feel vibrations of the water somewhere and the place has tremendous vibrations.

Actually I was thinking how am I going to speak because as soon as I reached this place My whole body started emitting all kinds of energies from the body. I was really very much worried as to what's going to happen now. What am I going to speak? This has worked out. I hope you have been able to understand.

Now for the rest of the details you just don't worry. We have all the books and everything for your information which you can read later on. This is a simple thing like coming in the room you ask Me how to put on the lights. I have to just tell you just press the switch and it will be on, in the same way everything is built within you. You don't have to do anything about it. It will work out in no time. But once it is worked out then you try to understand it what it is and try to maintain it for a while and you will be amazed that here in Newbury you can start a center of your own of Sahaja Yoga giving Realisation to many people.

May God bless you! Thank you very much.

If you have any questions you can ask Me. Yes please.

Question: You have been going on about family, stories, Satanic and they will drug you and so on [UNCLEAR] are you trying to say we must ignore this?

Shri Mataji: No, not at all. If you are not married you cannot get Realisation.

Question: What do you mean by this, are you trying to say ignore as a [UNCLEAR]?

Shri Mataji: When did I say that? Answer: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, who said that? Not at all.

Question: What did you mean by telephone rings [UNCLEAR] what do you mean? You must stop and answer the telephone, what do you mean [UNCLEAR]? [Seeker had misunderstood what Shri Mataji said about how the spleen has to work.]

Shri Mataji: Ah... no, no, no, you should only look after your child and not the telephone I was meaning. You must have your priorities properly built up. Others are not what I was trying to say a child is lying there. You are eating your food, a telephone is coming, now you have to rush out, child is neglected, you run away, you are worried about the child, never that. You don't know in Sahaja Yoga you have to be married. There is a center of marriage. You will be amazed. If you are a so-called ascetic I can't give you Realisation. You can't get your Realisation if you are an ascetic, so-called. As it is, it is within yourself. A person like Guru Nanaka and all these great people they were all married people.

It doesn't mean that you have to give up your family at all. On the contrary, we have to have families, beautiful families and beautiful children and we are having Sahaja Yoga marriages. Do you know there are three or four couples who were married through Sahaj and they are beautiful people. They have beautiful children and more over I must tell you a greater news that there are lots of realised Souls who are born in this country. And you have to be married so that they are born to you also. Now this child is a realised Soul, she is sitting, to be sitting that quietly is not possible unless and until they are realised. This Alison is born realised.

Question: My children are sitting quiet.

Shri Mataji: Who? Question: My children, my three children, they are realised?

Shri Mataji: How do you know? Let Me see where are they? [the man is counting they are here 1, 2, 3]. They must be born realised, I am sure. How do you know? How do you know? We tell them. How do you know? You don't know, you are not yet realised but they are, must be I am sure 100%. We will teach you how to know. We will teach you how to know. You should get your Realisation. Where are they? I would love to see them. I can't see them, where, come along, come, come. They must be born realised to be quiet like that. I would like to see them and I am sure. How would you know their value? I would love to see them, ah... She is 100%. Are you doubting her Realisation? She is born realised. She is born as a realised Soul. She is born realised, no doubt, I mean I know I was going to ask about it. How do you know? You are a great person to have three children born realised I must say, for example, the little one there is a born realised, the little in that corner is a born realised and there are many born realised people, also there are people who are very sadistic.

They are born realised because they go their Realisation in their previous lives. It is a very big thing for people who are not realised.

That's what I am going to tell them. That's why I am here. They are born because I am here. Do you know that? I am going to tell them what it is. See these, These are born realised the two people are coming. Ask them about it. I never gave them Realisation they are born realised but I gave them the knowledge about what they are.

[Aside:] Sit down My child, sit down.

They are all realised Souls, no doubt about it, not realised Souls but they could be very great souls born on this Earth. Eh... it is not they are quiet because they are told to be. If they were not realised Souls they would have run away. They would not have been sitting because they are enjoying it. Their Spirit is enjoying it. You will know it very soon.

Question: They are quiet anyway.

Shri Mataji: No, no, they are quiet because they are realised Souls. They are very different types of children, very different type, something very unique. Once you get your Realisation you will start seeing their beauty much better. Oh! They know such a lot. My four grand children are born realised but My own daughters are not. What am I to do? Four of them are great people but My own daughters are not.

What to do? They are born realised. You will see that. They are that. You should be a proud man but you better get your Realisation, all right. I am happy you are so concerned about your children. I am very happy. May God bless you.

Any other questions, yes? Question: I am very impressed with what you said about Christ having done thinking for us and we ourselves trying to think too much. Isn't there a danger if we all become child-like clusters that we could be exploited?

Shri Mataji: Yes, it is a danger, of course, I mean you are already exploited 100%. There is a danger, no doubt. I have told you about the danger. But to become child-like is not easy. You can be befooled but to be child-like the best thing, innocence is the most powerful thing. If you are innocent nobody can touch you. But very difficult to be innocent. The center of innocence has to be awakened within us. Then you will be like children. Now would you say that Christ was exploited, many people feel that way that He was exploited, no, it was all planned very well. He just played a drama. Such people do not suffer.

I do not suffer, never. Even if I say that I am suffering it's just a joke, never take that seriously. It's a drama. Such people don't suffer. He never suffered in the sense you understand suffering. Of course, with the physical body you do feel little pain here and there. But you just see it as a witness. You do not really are in it. And when you become that yourself a witness nobody can exploit you. Because what happens we develop a new type of a dimension and awareness which is called as vibratory awareness. By this enlightenment of your fingers you become collectively conscious immediately you will know who is who, what is what. Children know it those who are realised Souls especially know it any funny man comes in they start crying and weeping, like this girl's father and mother were involved in a nonsense. They are here now both suffered a lot her mother became epileptic and all that. And this child is use to scream whenever she saw their revered Guru. She used to shout and resist and she used to kick. She is just a child but she knew how to protect them. These people with all their intelligence and education and this and that, they are absolutely useless because we develop that new awareness within you by which you can feel a person, you know. You cannot be exploited, all right.

That has to happen to you. That's a happening, such a powerful personality develops, such a powerful personality. That way many of our Sahaja Yogis also think that I am a quite an innocent person, I mean they think so. But now they know I know everything. I may look like such a fool but I am not. And the powerfulness is such, the first the compassion, the compassion itself is so powerful, so engulfing, so rewarding then you are not bothered about anyone. What are they going to do to you? Like in India when I started, you see, right and left criticising, all these Gurus, taking their names I started telling them, these people are like this, these people are like that. They are making money befooling you.

Some of the Gurus, you see, these people were Sahaja Yogis. One of them Rāja or some place he came to Me and said, “Mother, what are you doing? They will kill You." I said, “This time let them try killing Me.

Who is going to kill Me, I'll see? That was done once for all. Now let Me see who is going to kill Me." I said, “Let them lift their hands towards Me, if they can they will shake. They cannot kill Me." It is the most powerful thing is your innocence which we have lost some times foolishly. It is the highest thing and nobody can exploit an innocent person nor nobody can befooled. You have seen simple village folks, how do they exist with all the cunning of the very well educated and sophisticated people, how do they exist? They can manage them just like this [clicks Her fingers] and you must see the intention of that person.

Why a person should exploit? What is the need of that person? People don't even see the credibility of a personality who comes here. It's very surprising, like one Guru came here I would say, something another foolishness who was living in a tin shed that is what Peter told Me in South Africa. And thousands and thousands of people are his ardent disciples. To such an extent you will be surprised people, I mean, I do not know what to say, this is complete blindness. I went to Norwich, so far away this fellow has come to London only and I met three elderly ladies who were his disciples and they were, this gentleman was later on found to be having whisky every night and using women and he had all kinds of things and his private secretary herself has disclosed everything about him.

And then they found it out and they verified it. But these three foolish women still said whatever it is Mother we cannot give him up, we love him. Now what to do to such thing, stupid women, you just tell Me. I mean the question of you also wanting to get exploited. I mean he was get exposed, everybody knows about him, this gentleman of whom I told you who was asking for a Rolls-Royce was caught for smuggling 300 watches in India, how can a man like that be, he is smuggling just think of that but all these people who carried those watches went to the police and said we brought it for ourselves, 300 watches this fellow was carrying. And they would not give and when he went to jail and they put a big show and Indian government didn't know what to do so they said all right you take him away. We don't want to put him in jail that otherwise your government will come and say why our 300 Britishers are arrested, imagine! So they sent all the bad lock stock and barrel back.

So he came back here and from here he's gone to America.

Now if you don't want to see, I mean, isn't it clear-cut what I said, so clear-cut. If you don't want to see it what can you do? I mean I'll tell you, sometimes I feel it is the people want to get exploited or they don't want to see. Now I would like one of them to speak to you it is a good idea you will know how he was eh, caught and how he was disillusioned, Peter, is he there? just tell him.

So you will know how he was befooled. He was supposed to be a great, he is, he was a great diamond merchant from South Africa, married a grand-daughter of a Duke of your country and that the grand-daughter is also here.

Peter: [talks of his experience of being exploited by a Guru.]

Shri Mataji: No, but the question is like this you were out, I must ask you the question is that, “Why did you get exploited like that? What happened actually, what happened to you people that you accept this kind of a situation, is the point, isn't it?" Ah! That's the question.

[Peter talks for a long time at the request of Shri Mataji. Shri Mataji from time to time adds few words during Peter's talk asking him to say how many years he was with this Guru etc.]

Contents: 1980-11-03*, Public Program, We Are All One, Caxton Hall, London, UK

Today there are many new people I see again. It's so heartening to see new flowers coming up every day to become the fruits. It's so joy giving to know that I'm here at the right time when people are really seeking. They are really seeking to be transformed; they really believe that something has to happen to them. They are aware that there's something lacking in the whole human personality, in the human race, that we cannot overcome the hurdles which look and appear absolutely absurd and illogical.

So many problems we have individually, socially, politically, economically... appear very clearly. It is so evident to understand that the human fibre is lacking in something, that it's the human beings who are responsible for this chaotic world, for all this modern confusion.

For God has created a beautiful world, I assure you. It's really a very beautiful world and He has created you also very beautifully. You all are very beautiful people, extremely beautiful. You cannot feel your beauty, then how can others feel your beauty? Because the light that shows your beauty is not there.

You have fragrance, which is the fragrance of all the flowers put together. You are the essence of all the beauties of nature that is created, all the symphonies and all the music that you hear, all the art that you have created has come from you. That is your part, while you are the whole, you are the totality. But you do not feel your totality. That's the problem is that human beings do not feel their totality. Out of you all this has come up. All this is your creation. But you cannot feel that if your hand has produced something, it's your hand. If your eyes have produced something, these are your eyes; that you are one, that in totality you will know the One who has created you. For example, supposing I do not have eyes, I may be able to see you partly, in the sense I can feel you, but I won't be able to see you fully. If I don't have nose, I won't be able to know how your fragrance is.

In the same way, if you think of a human being as a part and parcel of the whole, then you can understand why the total experience is necessary. You have to feel that sitting down here you can know about somebody in Australia or maybe in Africa. We are very aware mentally. Anything goes wrong in the world, we all become alert and start thinking about it. For example, once the spacecraft was going to land, they were Americans, but Russians that time started worrying about Americans. All the communists forgot about their communism. The `democracists' forgot about their democracies. We all forgot what we are, so-called; we just became what we are, human beings. Everybody was worried to find that the spacecraft lands. Very carefully they were watching it. They were about four, five people. Makes no difference to this world if the four, five die, does it? But it does make every heart beat faster, something of the totality is getting lost. It's so important that time, that something so precious was getting lost.

This is the subtler understanding of totality we have faced sometimes, sometimes it comes out. To say that, “We are all one." that “We are brothers and sisters” and “One God has created us", is good to give a lecture like that and many do that. It's just a big lecture. To feel that you are one, something has to happen. Your heart has to be opened out. Not rationally. Through your brain if you think something, it will have its limitations as rationality has its limitations; your heart has to open out. And what resides in that heart, in the lotus of that heart is your Spirit, is your Ātmā. And the light of that Ātmā, the Spirit, enlightens you, enlightens your beauty and gives you collective consciousness, it gives you. It's an actualisation. It's a happening that gives you actual personality which can perceive, can feel the collectivity that resides within us.

As human beings we are many cells. There are many cells within us. All the cells are, somehow, capable of feeling the totality of one personality. Supposing there's a pin prick on my finger, immediately the whole system goes into action and the hand is pulled out, the another hand reaches there, tries to stop the blood. The whole body feels unhappy and you say, “Ah!" or something like that. All the cells are in unison whether there is emergency or not. But today we are in the modern times. Is nice to be modern.

These are the times promised long time back in the ancient scriptures of India. Even William Blake has prophesized about these times to come. That England is going to be the Jerusalem. And here we are at Caxton Hall, trying to build it up. Modern times are the times of great confusion. The confusion comes because there is no integration.

For example, if My finger touches some point where it burns, it is pulled out by itself. All the cells know that it should be pulled out. But supposing if it is touching My finger and burning Me and I'm again pushing it down, that means there's a confusion. And this kind of confusion exists when there is no integration among cells. In the same way, in the human beings there are different cells and if they get disturbed and non-integrated or disintegrated, then the confusion starts. When your physical self, mental self, emotional self and spiritual self are not integrated, then there is a confusion in a personality.

The growth of human beings have been outside as well as inside. As you have been growing outside, there has to be growth inside. As a tree grows higher and higher, it has to seek the source of its sustenance.

In the same way, the totality of human race, which has advanced outside too much, is seeking, the totality is seeking the source inside. You are the cells of that totality which is seeking inside and not the ones which are seeking outside. That's why I say that you are the seekers of truth. Because the source of all the sustenance is the truth, is the joy, the bliss and the vital life force within us which has given us all this power to produce outside, to create outside. That is why in these modern times only there are so many seekers. There were never so many before, I can assure you, because I'm quite an ancient personality. And it really gives Me the greatest pleasure to know that somehow this outward growth has led to this kind of a mass seeking and that there are so many people just ready to reach that point of source.

As I said, God has made you very beautiful. Every one of you are real creations. It's a fact which you'll discover later on. Just now, you don't have any light to see inside. There is no way you can take your attention inside. If I say you put your attention inside, you don't know what to do and with this many people have gone astray. There are people who have tried all kind of things to believe that they are going inside deeper into themselves. But one has to know one thing, that whatever knowledge you have today, has come to you from some unknown source, because if it was known, it was not knowledge. Whatever is unknown has come to your knowledge. And whatever further has to come, has to come from something unknown. But the difference is that our awareness has come to us spontaneously. We have done nothing, nothing whatsoever to become human beings. I mean, just think we were monkeys the other day. Imagine! And we were amoeba the other day, before. In seven days we have become human beings. How have we become human beings we don't know, why we have become human beings, we do not know, but thank God, through science we know that we were not human beings seven days back.

Why have we become human beings? The scientist have stopped thinking about it. They have turned round. You see, it's better to turn round, your back. That's the best way to avoid the truth. Because you cannot find the truth, you cannot know about it, so best thing is to turn round and say, “All right. Now we are human beings, so we have reached the end, now let us go ahead with it." But that's not the way you can find the truth. You will find the truth the way you have found your awareness, spontaneously. It's a living process. People don't understand what is living process is. It's so simple. If I tell you that, `To make this flower into a fruit I'll have to stand on My head,' what will you think of Me? You'll think I'm mad, isn't it? Won't you think that way, all of you? Or if you find somebody sitting in a posture which is very uncomfortable and saying that, “I'm going into a trip or becoming a superior personality." You may think, “Oh, he must be a great man." But just think of it. Do you think that monkeys did some sort of a trick or a technique to become human beings? The poor things do not know any techniques except for copying human beings. And what technique amoeba could have put in? I mean just think of it.

If you have to apply something to human beings, you have to apply it to all the animals too. What about the fishes? What technique they can do? They don't even have hands. Or, only you are the people who have to do something special to become something higher? It's spontaneous. The only problem is that human beings are very difficult for spontaneity. I am sometimes surprised, when I have now studied them; how is it that they eat like this, they could have eaten like this, you see, because to do something straight is difficult for human beings. Anything straightforward, they think, “Oh, how can that be so simple. It's silly. To eat like this it's absolutely silly. How can you eat like this? You have to put your hand round like that and eat it like that." That's how we are not spontaneous.

All that simplicity is not with us anymore; we are sophisticated, you see. I wouldn't be surprised, you see, next time, we might find people devising some technique of eating food, which is a simple thing. And if you see that everybody's life has become nothing but a bundle of techniques, it's such a problem I tell you. Unnecessarily we are so confused, so upset and so worried. The tension is mounting up. We are planning something and none of the plans come through. Now see, in our country we have had five-year plans, three of them. The result is everything has gone to waste. In this country I need not say. We plan out something and end up with a war or end up with some sort of a violence. The trouble with us: we cannot become simple people. We think to be simple is to be silly. But simple people have a sharp intelligence, extremely subtle intelligence and they reach the point much faster than a complicated one, naturally, because he goes straight while the other goes round, round, round, round, round.

And that's why when I tell people that, “Sahaj Yoga is a spontaneous living process” they think it is silly. Why to do that? You cannot do it, I'm sorry. It's your right, you just have it! You don't even have to ask permission for it. Even if you go to somebody's house, you have to ask permission. “Should I telephone?" You cannot think of such a right that you don't have to ask any permission, it's your own. It's your own property.

So much own, that you cannot have such a property in the world, in the human language. You see, even if you have your free whole house, you have to ask for permission for changing the shape of one brick. No permission is needed, it's your own right. It's your birthright.

But still whatever I may say, you won't understand how much it is your own because there's nothing that is that own; it's not comparable. It is that innate, something that is beyond human comprehension.

We have within us a being which I call the Spirit. The Spirit which is also the part and parcel of the totality that is love, totality that is God, totality that is joy, totality that is knowledge. And that Spirit within us is watching us. It is not watching like a guard or a police inspector. That also we human beings cannot understand. If I say the Spirit is watching, people get a fright, “O God!" The Spirit is the one that is love. Can you understand total love? Can you understand something that just gives and enjoys giving and not asking for anything? Can you understand someone like that? Can you? Loving for love's sake, that's what is your Spirit. It is watching you with that love, that total love.

That totality of love is watching you to give you that what it is. Now here I would say you are the Spirit and you are this self, another one, which is this awareness, this human awareness which you have got. This human awareness has to be enlightened by that totality, that Spirit. When it enlightens that, then only you know that you are a part and parcel of the totality and that you are beautiful, you are really beautiful.

There's some times one feels little bashful to know how beautiful one is and so fragrant and so grand and so dignified. That new dimension one has to achieve. For that, God has placed within you the power, which is the germinating power which has to rise and to give you this realisation. This is your Kuṇḍalinī.

About this in the Bible there is reference of “Tree of Life." To be nourished by the “Water of Love." This is all prophesized that, “He will appear before us as tongues of flames." Two thousands years back Christ thought it was sufficient. I mean people didn't allow Him to speak much, you see. They just saw to it that He would not explain Himself, very intelligent people. They could not understand the simplicity of Christ. He was the fundamental, He was the foundation, He was the support of this Universe. And they crucified Him. Wonderful! He was the Spirit. He came on this Earth not to teach you what Moses taught you, because Moses had already taught you what was to be taught.

He did not come to repeat the same thing, but to give you a higher idea. Why, why Moses said that, “Don't do this and don't do that!" Why did He say? It should have a purpose. People don't understand even this much. Why you should not tell lies? Why, what's wrong? Why should you not steal? Why should you not commit adultery? What's wrong, what goes wrong in it? Supposing there were no human laws, there's nothing wrong in it, do as you please. Why these laws were created? For what purpose? Because by observing these laws you stay in the center, you don't go to extremes. You don't get lost, you don't get attacked by negativity, by people who are trying to exploit you and to torture you, who are against God, who are against your evolution. But then, after all, the ultimate is to get your realisation, to become one with your Spirit, that's what it was. All this show for what? For example, in a wedding you arrange everything and everything is bought and the hall is arranged and is all decorated and everything, people are wearing very nice dresses. And there the bride doesn't appear.

So what? It's not a wedding. What is most important is that both of them should get married in the church where everybody's sitting down, or wherever it is decorated, in a temple. Instead of that, all the decoration, if that becomes important and not the wedding, then what's the use? I mean that's exactly we are doing about our religions, believe Me.

I live near one Catholic church and I have lived always near some temple or a church or a mosque, somehow, all My life. And I have seen them making preparations all the time. Today they are singing beautiful hymns there. They have been singing for the last two years. Nobody's bothered about their realisation. Their parents must have sung, for generations they are doing the same thing. Very busy, you know, organizing everything. Very busy, extremely busy, they have no time to talk to anyone. They are all preparing.

But for what are you preparing, My children? What are you seeking? When are you going to see the bridegroom and the bride? That's what it is, that Christ came on this Earth to give the second phase, to show the second phase of evolution, is the resurrection, is the resurrection of your being. What about that? Baptism. You are to be baptized. He came for that and how many of us are really seeking a real, actual baptism? Again I say you don't have to do anything about this seeking you have to just ask for it and it is going to happen. It's going to happen. It has happened to many, many people all over the world. In England also it has happened. Of course, ups and downs are there, but it happens. It should happen to all of you that this Kuṇḍalinī should rise, should pass through all the centers and pierce through your fontanelle bone area. And you must get your realisation. All other nonsensical things that people tell you, all other things that people tell you, you may go there if you like, I have no objection.

There are people in this country who are doing horrible things like spiritualism. It's very bad. It's the most dangerous thing. It comes in the form of, I mean the people are honest, so they call it spiritualism, some of them are dishonest, they call it something else. But people from My country can be very cunning and they call it `Guru business'. Business? It is an enterprise, regular enterprise. If you want to be befooled, I've nothing to say, you go ahead. If you have so much money, go and pay for their Rolls-Royces, it's all right. If you are interested in your self and if you are really interested in knowing your Spirit and manifesting its power of collective consciousness, your own power and not the power of the Guru, then please stick on to Sahaj Yoga. It's a very subtle happening. It works out. But also one has to know that after realisation you have to have self-esteem. You have to respect your Self and you have to work it out, otherwise it just disappears.

It's a very heartening thing. First when I came to London, I had four people. Then six people for four years. Can you believe it? I was struggling with them, because in Sahaj Yoga, now you must have understood, you cannot just pay some money and become the member, there's no membership. How can you have membership for this, can you imagine? Even the fishes could not have a membership when they wanted to cross over. You cannot become members, you cannot be branded anything, you have to get realisation by which you start transforming. It's a thing that has to happen to you. It's not a thing that you can purchase in the market. I mean, it's insult. How can you pay for it? I mean just think, people are paying to the tree so that the flower becomes the fruit. It's that absurd, can you believe it? It is really that absurd. But it satisfies some people's ego I think, which is a stupid stuff, I must say.

If the people were not that egoistical, they would never have crucified Christ. It's their ego which crucified them.

Stupidity, that's what it was. The One who came for your emancipation was crucified by human beings. That's the stupidity of the ego. Or maybe some sort of a stupid or you can say silly belief that by giving a one p [penny] to the flower it will become the fruit. That means you are naive.

So either it is ego or spiritual naiveness, you can call it naivety, whatever you call, that people do all these things and accept them. You have to accept only the truth and nothing else.

If it doesn't happen to you, all right. Nothing wrong with Sahaj Yoga. We'll work it out again. Maybe there's something wrong, you are not well, maybe you are suffering, there's a problem, all right, next time.

And next time and next time, it's going to work out that way. You must have patience with yourself; I have all the patience. Only thing that is needed is patience. No money, no effort, but patience and self-esteem. I think people who have got realisation and have stuck on to it are the people who are really very intelligent. They could see it so clearly because logically they have reached that point and they see that this is it and they come to it, they get it and maintain it.

I think the simplest way to understand Sahaj Yoga is that it's your growth which is important to you, not what others are doing, what other people are like. For example, I've seen also some people come to Sahaj Yoga, get their realisation and say, “You see, there was one man in... he was a Sahaja Yogi and he said such and such thing." What does it matter? What does it matter to you? What matters to you is your own development. I mean in the West, you see, people have lots of ways because they are quite brainy people, their brain is always thinking, so they will try to find out the way to escape. But in Sahaj Yoga you do not escape, you stand and see for yourself the truth, the reality, in the present. Don't escape it, don't try to escape! That's the only thing. That's the only understanding you must have that, `I'm not going to escape it,' and not to be afraid or frightened of anything. It is going to work out, work out for all of you, but do not try to escape it. There are so many ways and methods, I've seen it Myself now, for the last seven years. I've been here, can you believe it? And I have seen how people escaped. For example, a person may escape by saying, “I had a very bad childhood and this is what happened in my childhood." But that's not... I'm not concerned with it. You are all right. Then somebody might come and say... there was a lady who came to see Me and she said, “Mother, I'm a prostitute." “All right, doesn't matter. Come along, let's try." There can be someone who might say that, “I'm not yet ready." That's one of the commonest, very common. It's Me who has to decide, not you. I will know that. Once you are realised, you will also know, that doesn't matter.

As I said, to understand totality of love, total love, you have to know that these are all just specks.

The ocean, the oceans of oceans of love will wash off these specks in no time, but have faith in yourself, that's all, have faith in yourself. After all you are human beings. From amoebic stage you have come to this, there must be something special about you, something real about you.

This is one type who tries to escape, another is who tries to aggress. No use, you cannot aggress Me.

Impossible. You cannot aggress Me because I cannot take anything from you. If you shout at Me, all right, so what. I'll give you love [UNCLEAR for change/instead]. I'm that type, something [UNCLEAR queer], isn't it? But I'm really like that. I do not take anything from you. Can you understand that? I do not take your aggression; I cannot take it. You aggress Me, I absorb it. I'm a shock absorber. But by that you are delaying your own improvement. By the other method of escaping also you are delaying. Avoid these two things. It is you who has to gain, not Me. I do not have to gain anything. I'm here to give. I give because I enjoy that. I cannot contain within Myself, that the time has come for you to enter into the Kingdom of God. You have to enter now. The time has come. As many as possible have to enter into the Kingdom of God. That is your birthright. I have just come here to tell you that and to enlighten you in the sense like the lights which are not yet enlightened are to be enlightened by one light and if I am the enlightened light, why should you feel bad about it? I wish you could come here and become that. I wish you could raise the Kuṇḍalinī and do the job. I'll be very happy. I wish you could work this way. Oh, I would love to be your disciple.

I have no disciples. These are all My children. The eldest one is now only ninety-eight years old.

So, one should not feel hurt, the pride should not be hurt. I'm doing all this to make you feel happy and that you should not be in any way aggressed, in any way you should feel that I'm trying to exploit you.

Because that's the main problem people have that I'm trying to exploit, but what are you going to give Me I would like to know. Why should I exploit you? Yesterday somebody asked Me this question that, “Maybe, if we become like a child, we might be exploited." I said, “The child can never be exploited. You cannot become like a child." If somebody is an innocent person, then the innocence is the most powerful thing. If Christ was crucified, people think because He was innocent He got crucified. Do you know, He has got powers, in Sanskrit they are called as, His powers are called as Ekādaśha Rudra, eleven destructive powers. He's the most powerful destructive personality.

But He has powers also to control it and that He's going to come back. Not that He's not going to come back, but this time He's not going to get crucified. He's coming back with all these powers. Then He is not going to talk to you or convince you, nothing of the kind, but He's going to work out the other way round. I have to give you counsel and tell you and make you understand that the time has come for you to get this.

Sooner you get, the better; the sooner you establish it, the better.

I'm sorry today we don't have the chart to explain to you about Kuṇḍalinī, but these people have got some papers which you can read and understand and later on when you get realisation, work it out and see for yourself. Do not come here for one day. There are some people who did not get tickets for the drama and have come. Such people are of no use. You have to be people of some quality, of some level.

Otherwise Sahaja Yoga does not work out. It just spins you out. You see here the question is how many stick on, not question of how many are coming. Very few people stick on because the quality is judged, every moment the quality of people is judged. Every moment your quality is judged, not by Me but by your Self. The quality is judged not by Me, but by you. You yourself will know that you have this problem.

As soon as there is light within, you start seeing the problem yourself and then you know that, “This is the problem” and you are not identified with it because you are separated from it and you start curing yourself. I do not judge you at all.

So this is going to happen and when this happens, then know that you have to get transformed to that beautiful thing which has been promised by all the sages, all the scriptures and all the great incarnations on this Earth. By which you will know how every religion is integrated, every incarnation is integrated and how these people are all related to each other and all are one family, those who are incarnations, while we are unnecessarily fighting among ourselves. And how they are in unison and complete concord among themselves while we are just fighting that, “This is mine and this is mine." For this first of all your integration must take place and that is a condition. If it does not take place, again we'll work it out. We cannot argue it out, we cannot do anything of that kind, it has to work out.

One thing I would request. Yesterday we had a little problem with someone who came quite drunk.

You see, it is the awareness which is going to be enlightened. If you are drunk is going to be difficult. If anybody who is drunk in this group, please be careful. You better go at the back, if you are drunk. And I don't know if drunk people know that they are drunk or not. But the fellow was drunk, no doubt and everybody told Me that he's drunk and is horribly bad.

So I would request you, such a person who is drunk should go at the back and somebody else will work. They need little intensive understanding.

So this is what it is. We are now going to start this program. There's no technique. Nothing. Just your fingers are like antennae and they have the ends which have got sympathetic nervous system expressed and manifested there. We have to just get them enlightened so that the invitation to Kuṇḍalinī goes through your channels within yourself, which I cannot explain to you but you might have seen in the paper and that the Kuṇḍalinī rises and that you get your realisation.

The first thing that happens to you when the Kuṇḍalinī rises above this center, this is the center of Christ. And He has done all the thinking for us; we unnecessarily are thinking. He's done everything for us, there's no need for us to suffer or to think. That part He has crossed. Now it is better that we have to enter into the Kingdom of God, that's all we have to do.

So when the Kuṇḍalinī rises above this, you will feel thoughtlessly aware. That means you'll be aware but there won't be any thought. Is called as Nirvichar Samādhi. Samā-dhi. Samādhi means `enlightened awareness'. Nirvichar means `thoughtless'. And then it pierces through your fontanelle bone area, you start feeling a Cool Breeze coming towards you from Me. But later on you find it's going from you. This should happen. This is the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost as described in the Bible. Of course, if there are Hindus... I don't know they read these days, normally they don't read any one of their ancient books but if they have read anything about Shañkarāchārya... he has written, Ādi Shañkarāchārya, he has written volumes on this Cool Breeze, which he calls as Saundarya Lahari, or Chaitanya Lahari, meaning `the waves of beauty' and the waves of Chaitanya is... What is it, Gavin, in English? Chaitanya is the vital, Divine Force.

Chetanā means `awareness' and `chaitita' is the person who is enlightened and the one who emits these vibrations, cool vibrations; is the one who is a realised Soul. We have many children in this country who are born realised. And I've met some human beings also who are born realised, but they are rather difficult people, I don't know why. Though they are born realised, they get possessed by their egos sometimes and they are not that evolved as they should be and they start behaving very queer, in a very queer manner.

And their behaviour can be sometimes so shocking that it's most surprising and they mesmerize people and they take to all these things to assert their influence on other people. It is a very surprising thing that those who did not get realisation through Sahaj Yog or who were born realised have not been able to express themselves sometimes and then they felt that they had a knowledge which was not complete about it. And they felt they were different and they tried to assert on others their ways and methods by learning mesmerism and things like that. It's most surprising but we have someone here already who is a realised Soul, who is here, who was possessed, who came here, got cured and she's all right now.

So even if you are realised, you can be possessed.

But in Sahaj Yoga, the advantage is, after realisation, you know all the techniques by which... techniques of the Divine Force, which is flowing through you. That means when you have to have the energy, you have to put to the mains. But once you get the energy in you, you should know how to manoeuvre it.

Then you know how to protect yourself, you know how to improve yourself, how to cure others, how to give realisation to others, how to awaken others and everything you know, all the secrets and the most secretmost techniques of the Divine Force are told to you. Of course it is all learned gradually by you and you cannot pay for it because you cannot value it. It's not human; it is Divine.

Thank you very much.

Can you put your hands towards Me like this. And you have to close your eyes. It is just the opposite of mesmerism, in a way, because people who mesmerize, they just look into your eyes or some sort of a thing like that. I mean... it's very common, nonsensical...

Please, close your eyes. Just close your eyes. Is going to work out in no time today.

You don't have to try anything. That's one thing, you don't have to try. Just leave your attention free, absolutely free. Do not try anything. If thoughts are coming, I'll tell you what is to be done. But just don't try anything. Normally most of you will feel the thoughtless awareness, that's the easiest thing.

But supposing if thoughts are coming, then you just say, `I forgive all the people. Mother, I forgive all the people.' That's all. That if you say, Christ is awakened within you. Can you imagine? Just say, `I forgive. Mother, I forgive.' Say it thrice. I mean from your heart you must say. After all, there's nothing in forgiving. By not forgiving you are just audio file ends here heavy laden with nonsensical things. Just say, `I forgive,' and you will be surprised how light you will feel.

Do not pay attention to any particular point. Let it go, let it go.

Also not to feel guilty. Please, do not feel guilty. That's an escape again. Not to feel guilty, as I have told you. What can you do, I mean, what wrong can you do? So just say, `Mother, I'm not guilty.' Please say that, that's very important. Say it thrice. It will help you.

[UNCLEAR Felt]. Just watch.

Try this. Are you feeling the Cool Breeze? Not yet? Just keep them like this, little higher. Little higher. Now are you feeling? Gavin, remove this photograph.

Somebody can remove the photograph would be better. Just do it, I can't do it. My photograph. Can you? [UNCLEAR Put it back]. Better place for... [Sound of silk rubbing on the microphone.] Let's see on the heads of the people.

Some people can feel the Cool Breeze coming out of their heads? Just... It's not in the hands. Maybe, just see. Cool or hot. No, just little higher... There? Some people are feeling, some are not, just again see for yourself.

Gavin let's just see just how many people are.

Now we have here some of the people who are realised and let them see.

Contents: 1980-11-06*, Public Program, All Are Seekers, Vauxhall Center, London, UK

You are seekers. And that's a category of human beings. Everybody do it from choice. That's one thing I have discovered.

Some are Seekers who are argument seekers, generally speaking.

Some are just sort of fashions which are there; they are because they see everybody seeking so they must have the fashion of seeking. And there are another category also who are not seeking God but are seeking something else and find God. They are special cases, somehow.

In any case this seeking has given them sensation as only the manifestation of the seeking has been changing. At the start with the amoeba we had a seeking of self. You were just seeking food. You were worried about food and nothing else.

Here is the center of seeking within us which is called as Nābhī Chakra which is the green center in the picture. There is the Nābhī Chakra which is for our seeking. This center is a subtle center. All these centers that you see here are subtle centers. You cannot see that with naked eye unless und until you have your Kuṇḍalinī union which is settled down in the triangular bone there.

Now this Kuṇḍalinī is very well settled in human beings that as amoeba your seeking was very limited.

Like the seed sprouts you started developing new seed. When you became a human being you started seeking power. The first people who were human being it was important to protect themselves and they started beginning of this organizations or societies or groups and cults just to protect themselves. They knew that there was some other force which was, there but they did not know what it was.

So they started looking out in the nature trying to find out.

Some started worshipping this, some started worshipping that. But still they were not satisfied because their power, whatever they got, so-called power, they found, ultimately led them to unhappiness and disillusion.

When the society was better organized they had big states and government and all roof new types of administrations which developed all over the world. But the administration and all that also proved that by administering other people you cannot administer yourself. We cannot control ourself. We cannot control many things within ourselves. For example, if you are running fast with your, eh, breathing increases, but it slows down by itself. Your heart beat increases but comes down by itself. Who controls that? We cannot do that.

There are so many things within us which we do not control and are called as autonomous, by nature.

And as, organizations within us or we can call things institutions within us which are doing this were doing great. And these names are just names. They do not explain anything about them. They say that they should be called an autonomous nervous system but who is this auto? Who is this Mister Auto? Who is doing the job? After all we should find out. Isn't it nice to brand someone as autonomous.

Say for example you say automobile, then automobile doesn't move by itself; there is a driver sitting inside. Now who is this one? That should be found out and if science is to be true to itself and to its ethos then it should try to find out who is this auto who is managing our autonomous nervous system. But they reach at a point where they cannot find further so they just say, so far, so much, not further. That's how they explain, but they are honest people, I must say. Because they say that there are chemicals within us like gasinolene and asticholene and their behaviour within us is something one doesn't understand because they augment wherever they like. They direct wherever they like. You cannot say why they behave in this manner. You cannot explain.

So they say the modus action of these chemicals cannot be explained, finished.

What is beyond it they cannot see and to go beyond they have to know that their awareness is not adequate. Here I allow Myself to expand much more, like for medicines they had to devise things like say microscope to see what was under the skin. What we have senses. In the same way their awareness has to grow at a point where they can understand what is the essence, what is the base of our life, how we are made. And why we are going into all these modes which they cannot explain.

One day to look at a tree is to see how gib it is. The West if you see is mostly outside grown very big.

So the depths must be found, the source to sustain. This fictory has to come from somewhere. For Me the tree is the same whether east, west, north, south. You see for some people east is different, west is different. It's not so. It's one. God has created only one world. He didn't create east, west, north, south.

He did not create. He just created one actual people because he didn't want to create a military or some plastic flowers. He wanted to create a living people.

So the search within started east and they started meditating to find out what is the source to sustain this earth growth out. And when they started going deep into it they found within themselves that there is a force which is called as Kuṇḍalinī right there in the triangular bone. And this Kuṇḍalinī unless und until it is awakened, unless und until this germinating force within us is awakened we cannot have that new dimension of our awareness. Our awareness is only limited by our rationality. We cannot yet be, go beyond. By rationality you cannot understand it. You cannot understand God. You cannot understand anything by rationality because it is so limited.

So if you have to go to the unlimited regions you have to be triggered out into that place and the triggering force is this Kuṇḍalinī. This Kuṇḍalinī is placed in the triangular bone in the sacrum. Sacrum means sacred. People knew perhaps that it is a sacred bone so they called it sacred. It's long.

You see, interesting, isn't it? This word has come to us from... Greeks and Greeks knew that it was sacred bone. Otherwise why should they call it a sacred bone.

So this triangular bone hides this power within it and when you come to Sahaja Yoga, a sign, that it pulsates. You can see the pulsation. You can make it out. You can see the rising of the pulsation with your naked eye. And you can see the breaking also of your fontanelle bone, the baptism which is promised, the real baptism. Not in the church or not in any temple, but the real one is a happening within you, is a really happening that has to take place. It has to be done by living God It's not that somebody just comes und... puts his hand on the head and says, “You are born again" or he says that, “All right you have become a Christian." It's a happening, just like that. Now a realised Soul is called as a person who is twice born. Everybody is saying, “I am twice born." But what's the proof that you are a twice born person. And then there must be some fundamental proof about it that you are twice born. It's nice to say I am twice born and self-certificate, you yourself just self-certificate that yes I'm twice born. But there must be some method to find out. And if you think that twice born is such a great thing why not have it. It's a very simple thing.

One has to understand that if you are created on this earth from amoeba to this state there must be some fundamental reason for it. We are not just created just to be here and to live like human beings without understanding the depths of God's creation. How can that be? Why has He made us human beings? Is it just to have some money in the insurance company or to pay the house or have a property and then to die? Is that the reason we are here? No. We are here to know the working of God's love and his Divine power and to manoeuvre it; to be an instrument of God and His part and parcel; to know that you are the part and parcel of His being. To be aware of that. Not just talking. That we are all brothers and sisters and we should not fight and there is... only one personality within us. It's only talking. It's not bla, bla, bla, but it is a thing that happens within. You become that, you cannot get our of it and you know that you are That. It's the actualisation I am talking about.

Now when this Kuṇḍalinī rises through these various centers it pierces through this fontanelle bone area.

And it has to pierce through that fontanelle bone area. If it does not pierce then you are not yet realised.

This is what is the thing called as Self-realised or twice born. Like an egg you can say a human being is made. He is an egg because he is covered with his ego and superego on his head. Through his left and right sympathetic nervous system. And now he is completely covered and closed. When he is ready the Kuṇḍalinī rises and transforms him into a new bird. That's what it is. It's the second birth. That's why a Dvija means a Brahmin. The one who is a realised Soul is a Brahmin. The one who has known the Brahman, the Brahma is called a Brahmin and he is the one who is twice born. He cannot be born. He has to be realised. He has to be twice born otherwise he is not a Brahmin.

So even in India we have a ritual as you have here of baptisms, we have a ritual. But that is also a ritual and a ritual makes no difference. Now the same thing is called, is a Dvija. Means the one who is twice born. Now that twice born is also a bird. A bird is also called a Dvija because it is born twice and a human being is also called a Dvija if he is a Self-realised person or a Brahmin, Brahmin in the real sense.

So this has to happen to us within us. If it does not happen no use giving yourself certificate to yourself.

Now, for example, if I say I am the Queen of England, will I become, will you become just by giving the certificate to yourself? I mean people may put you in the prison or in the lunatic asylum.

So like that, are you doing anything; by your own imagination you do not. What we are to become is what you are talking about and that has to happen within us.

Now this happening is a living happening as I told you because in this short time I cannot tell you all the details but there are Chakras and all these things you can see from the books and the things you have been... Have you given them some papers and things? Not yet. You should have given these things...

All right, you can get all that and find out what all these Chakras are.

But I just want to tell you about how it's a living thing. For example, now this flower is here. Now if you want this flower to become a fruit. What do you do? Nothing, you don't do anything. There's no technique. Supposing you are a flower and you have to become the fruit, what do you do? What techniques are there?...

It's a living process, it takes care of itself. At the most it has to face the sun, that's all, to get the light.

If it gets the light, all right, it becomes, automatically.

It is to be connected with the tree and it must get the light. It will happen automatically, spontaneously.

This is what is the meaning of Sahaja. Sahaja means born with you. The, the flower it is born the right to become a fruit, Sahaja. And Yoga means your connection with the Divine.

So Sahaja Yoga means you are born with the right to be connected with the Divine. And that is your right which you must have and that you are going to get.

Now the times are very precarious, I must tell you. These are the times of last judgment. It has started.

The last judgment has started. You won't believe. That's why thousands of people are seeking and...

being born. There are many little realised children I see who are born realised who are born just for the Last Judgment.

The maximum will be born during this time because they are to be judged. That's why population growth is so big. All of them born to be judged but they don't know why they are born. Before taking birth they know but now they have forgotten.

So the Last Judgment has started and you will be judged every minute. But the way we understand judgment is very wrong. First of all, how are we going to be judged? Done, Is there any judge going to sit down and do it for you; every individual human being? There has to be judge within us. Everyone must have the judge within us and that judge is this Kuṇḍalinī. She is the one she knows what you have done.

She is the tape recorder of what you have done. And she is a very fine, very very fine judge because She is your Mother. And you are her child. Your Kuṇḍalinī is your own Mother. She has no other child.

So She is so concerned about you. She is so bothered about you that She knows all about you and She knows how to give you your rebirth. She's just waiting for that.

So it is your own within yourself. You have got this power called as Kuṇḍalinī which is so compassionate, so considerate and so delicate and so dedicated to you, so loving that you don't have to worry about her.

She rises by herself but she indicates what are your problems, what problems are to be solved. And that has to be done, somehow these problems are to be solved before you get your realisation. When She rises She starts indicating. Not to you, of course, not to you, because you are not yet realised. Your awareness is not at that point. But those who are realised Souls can feel it on their fingers because once you get your realisation you get all your Chakras, your centers, enlightened on your fingers. And you can feel then what's happening to another person. You can immediately feel it. How that person is, what's happening, where is he catching. What is the problem, what centre is catching. And you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī if you are a realised Soul. And you can give realisation. And once they get their realisation they can give also realisation to others, like you get your realisation you can give realisation to others.

And like from one light enlightening another light, it goes on.

What is the technique for enlightening a candle to another candle?... Nothing. You just touch this candle to that. There is no technique about it. First thing we have to know there is no technique, it is effortless, absolutely effortless. There is no technique whatsoever. If you understand this point you have understood most of it. There is no technique.

When there is no technique, nothing of the kind, no human effort, nothing that is human is required, it is Divine. Then you cannot pay for it. You cannot pay for such a thing. It's an insult to think that you can pay for it. How can you pay for birth? What can you pay? What ever for? Even whatever you give to Him is His own and this money business is your own. It is not God's God never created money. It's your own style. This human beings have got this money here, possessions and all that. That's your headache.

That's not the thing that God has created. It's human beings, they have created all these things, so they have to deal with money and they have to worry about it. But you cannot pay for it.

Anybody who takes any money from you, run away from that person. Such person cannot be a holy person. It's all right you have to take this hall. It's all right you can take 10p each from everyone and take the hall. That's all. Because for the hall you have to pay. But for your realisation and for your vibrations you cannot. You don't have to pay to the person who gives you realisation.

Such a person cannot give you realisation because he is incapable. He is a parasite.

So you cannot pay for it. You cannot have effort. And the third thing when you fall into is that through your rationality you cannot reach. It is a step beyond.

Rationality can explain everything for some people. While there are some people who say “what's wrong?" They rob bank, “What's wrong?" Everything, “What's wrong?", “What's wrong?" What's wrong? But after realisation everything becomes logical. There's difference between logic an rationality. Everything becomes logical and understandable because you see with your own eyes what's happened. Now we have many centers within us about which I won't be able to tell you in this short time. But I will tell you about one, which is the Āgñyā Chakra which is very important, is here. This is the centre of Christ. Most of us here from Christianity. I don't know how they call it. If you ask them where is Christ, He is within us; now where, where is He? In what part of our body does He exist? Do you know that? How to achieve Him? How to reach Him? How to get connected? Are we connected with Him? By just calling Him, “Christ, Christ” will He come? There are many also such people I know, they say “I am Christ." Now if you are Christ, please walk on this water. That's the best way to find them out. All these tricks are known. Only one thing he has to know, `Are you connected with Christ?' By any chance, are you? Definitely are you? What's the proof? Now I'll tell you what is the proof, how to find out. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises she may stop here at this point. It is at the centre of the brain where Optic Chiasma crosses each other. The brain is a subtle centre which controls your pituitary and the pineal body. And that is a subtle centre where Christ resides.

When the Kuṇḍalinī crosses all other centers and comes here and stops then you have to take the name of Christ. Not you but the person who is giving you realisation. You have to call him. You have to forgive people first of all. By forgiveness at that point you become thoughtlessly aware because Christ has done all the thinking for us, we don't have to think. Do we realise that? All of this generations who are known for their thinking power should know that they are not Christian if they are thinking. And one work. Christ has done for them. And what is there to suffer when he has suffered for us? Now what remains. What are you going to do? Another madness we have, say in French people especially. They told Me that, “Mother, they can see you are so happy they won't believe it. They'll think it's naive to be happy." I said, “Really. Why?" They said because the problems are so many, so you should be absolutely a very unhappy person. From your expression you should seem. Ugh! And all sorts of things. I said, “Really, you have to look really miserable." Otherwise I said, “That's why..." In France I said, “You are miserable, you, what there has been. What, what is there to be miserable. You have so much money. You have exploited so many people in the whole world. What more do you want? To be happy? You have done whatever was possible. You have ruined your life. You are so licentious, so permissive. You have all kinds of things. To spoil yourself, to ruin yourself and destroy yourself. Now what more do you want to destroy yourself and that you are miserable. It's very nice to ask a bull to come and hit me and then say I am miserable. You will be miserable the way you are going about. You don't do preserve yourself. You don't want to look after yourself. And what are you miserable about?" But now you have understood then. Now they are all right.

I said “It's a myth, you have just created a drama." You see they are dramatists. Make a drama and very miserable for what? Because of the nuclear weapons. I said, “What about you? You are yourself is having the atomic bomb and exploding within yourself. It is worrying you every minute. Why are you miserable? What is there to be miserable? I don't understand." And this is what it is. That human beings themselves have created lots of problems within themselves. And these problems spoil your ascent. It's rather difficult for Kuṇḍalinī to rise when you have spoilt your ascent. Now that also has to be corrected.

That has to be done. It has to be done.

Now it's My fate that I have to do it. I am sorry but I have to do it. Now many people have an opposition for that also. They say, “Why you Mother?" I say, “Please correct it. I'll be very happy.

Because I have been doing this now add days together and nights together better than you do it. If you can do it I'll be very happy. I'll be the happiest person who are a disciple if you can do it." To be very frank, that's the best thing that can happen to Me.

Sometime, if somebody could take My place. Thus I find it impossible.

So why object to it? All this is coming to ask you to uncover yourself, ego, superego, all this.

So we have to know that we have to get our realisation. We have to get it. That's the main thing. We must get it and then you must understand it logically with an open mind.

Whatever is said about our realisation, since times immemorial, you can say that ancient times in India they have been talking about it. Then after Christ, Mohommed, everyone has said that you have to become. Become. They were not all false people that were talking about it. Even if scientists deny them doesn't mean that they were wrong. But the time has come to prove all that, all the scriptures, everything that is said. And you the Seekers, you are the people who are going to get it. You are the Saints who have been seeking and have been promised that in modern times, called as Kali Yuga, you are going to get your realisation. The main problem about Sahaja Yoga is that it is so spontaneous, it works so spontaneously that people get it and settle down like an “Oh, what an experience." And then they settle down. No.

You have to learn, you have to master it, you have to work it out. Because a light which is enlightened, you have to give light to others. Why should God keep it moving. He is a sensible man. The light which doesn't give any light, say on the seashore or on anyone of these lighthouses; if the light is not needed you... Don't need the lighthouse.

So if you do not agree to give it to others and learn and master this, for no money at all, for nothing at all you become the master. Then you use it.

Yesterday I came up to this program. There was a Muslim boy who had come to Me, by the way and he said when he saw Me and said, “I don't know why but the thought came to me. Will I see Mother here?" I said, “Why didn't you come and see Me?" He said, “I felt that if I come to Mother how am I going to study for my exams and this and that and that's what I thought." I said, “Really, you become so dynamic that you can pass your exams without any difficulties. You really become so alert. Why did you think like that?" He said, “And the experience was so great that for fifteen days I was just lost in the experience and after that I thought and now I think it's gone down. It's very much lower and the vibrations are extremely feeble and I cannot feel it now. This is after six months in getting it but I don't know where I got this feeling." But I said, “What do you think about the rest of the people? What about collectivity? What do you Think about the people who are seeking?" He said, “I am thinking about All the fanatics these Muslims, absolute fanatics." The Christians are Also very fanatic, no doubt, but Muslims are a different type of Fanatic.

I said, “Then what about them?" “Yes I am thinking about Them that we young people have to now get up and say that Islam's Nonsense. Now I find the vibrations." I said, “When are you going to do that?" He said, “I'm fed up with the exams. I'm going to do it Now." I said, “There's no need to get fed up of your exams, you get… with your exams. And you have to do this work. This is your job.

You are a realised Soul and you have to do it." We had one person From Algeria who came and got his realisation. These are Muslims as Well. He went back and gave realisation to five hundred people. And they are all young professors, lecturers, architects and what do you Call the, chartered accountants; all this kind of people who are rich bit. Five hundred Muslims who are people who have got realisation From one person. And now near Me is who feels, who feels ashamed the way Muslims are, the people are fanatic.

But he cannot go about it. All over the world the young people are in the stand of fanaticism. They see around them such fanatics Among Hindus, Christians, Muslims, Parsees, Sikhs, Buddhists, all of them such fanatic people. How can there be a different God? Just think about it. It has to be done. These are all flowers on one living tree and we take them out from there and we call them our own. They are dying..... We can see it's so ugly, it's so horrible.

Some are indulging into violences; some are indulging into some story of love; this nonsense, that nonsense and that is all sorts of nonsensical things they are talking. And that is why you have to fight it out. It's something that is sick. All this nonsense has to be fought out. You know how many there are.

We have had people from all various groups new here.

Some were... I don't know if some were flying.

They've got bankrupts flying in the air. I said, “Why not ask the Guru to y?" It would have been better.

If he was flying then it was all right to fly with them, but he never ew, flew for you.

So why did you pay so much when you maybe can come to be bankrupt their children starving, they are in the street and they have suffered so from flying. I said, “Why do you want fly. By the way you are not going to become birds are you?" There are some again who are jumping like frogs. I said, “What is this?" Those are, “The Kuṇḍalinī's awakened and that's why we're jumping like frogs." I said, “Are you not going to become frogs? Use your brains." I said, “Are you going to become frogs now?" And some people who had taken out their clothes and dancing around and I said, “What is this nonsense?" I said, “By taking out clothes if you are going to be realised then most of the animals will be first before you." I mean use your brains. You have to use your brains to understand all this kind of nonsense that's going on. A person who asks for a thing, a Rolls-Royce. He says “I must have a Rolls-Royce if I am coming to England." [UNCLEAR] the best place is that... How can you believe such man who asks first a Rolls-Royce from you? He is a parasite of the worst type. What is he doing to you that you are mesmerized. You cannot see. When nothing is logical then it is mesmerism. Hum....

Every day I meet someone I know of a new nonsense in man. Any technique. Supposing, Eka heard one of them say, a criminal from England.

So I come to England, somehow or other escape from there and come down here and wear a dress, a funny dress, you see. Maybe with a, with a, some sort of a...

What did you see today coming out, Barbara, on the head? Some type sort of spokes she said was coming out you see from the head. Now and you sit down in the middle of a square and you say, “I am such and such a Guru. I am great and I am coming from the Benares" and everybody starts saying it. And then you say, “All right, I'll tell you what to do. You are to hold your nose with one hand and close your mouth well, after me." So he says “you can't do it safely for more than a second or two seconds and... No [UNCLEAR]. And that is because of your Kurma Karmas. Because you have done all wrong in previous lives that you cannot hold. You must try to hold your breath."... And people will start doing it. You will find within one month there will be a hundred people, then you will one day end up with about ten thousand foolish stupid people who will declare now, “I am sitting without breath." This sounds wrong. We have to know that it has to be all very logical.

And we have before us great people, Christ, Moses. All these people are before us in the Western countries. We have others. We have Nanika, we have Kabīra. We have so many people who come on this Earth to show us what is to expect. Ādi Shañkarāchārya, the greatest of greatest, who was born in India, who has, who is supposed to have propagated Hinduism because Hindus don't follow him. They read something else. They never read him. That is the main point, point; they never read him. There are very few Hindus I have met who have read who Shañkarāchārya. Surprising! They are supposed to be Hindus. They never read him. They only read Gītā... Gītā written by x, y, z. Gītā written by this and that. Even in Gītā they have tried to change so many things und bring in so many problems. Same in every scripture they have tried all kinds of tricks just to make it available for them. And this you will know very soon when you will become realised. That they have tried to change this just to have it, a kind of a, exclusively for themselves because they want to prove that they are the chosen ones, they are the highest, they are somebody. Just as a self appointment. And then Christ has said, “You will be calling me, `Christ, Christ,' and I won't recognize." That's what it is.

By putting your name as Christian you do not become. You are Christians? You have to have the real baptism and that's an experience, that's a happening that happens to you and you feel that the breeze of the Holy Ghost starts flowing to. Why it should happen? Otherwise what is the baptism? You really feel the breeze coming out of your head. If you do not feel then it has to be worked out. But you have to feel it that way. To be opened out that the breeze from inside, the strong is manifesting, is coming out of your head, you can feel it clearly. That should happen. Those who are honest and truthful will understand and also you have to be intelligent to understand. Stupid people cannot stick on into Sahaja Yoga. They go out of circulation very soon. Stupidity is not allowed in Sahaja Yoga. It's not meant for stupid people.

It's meant for people who are alert, who want to have realisation and establish themselves. Afterwards as a result you get your health all right. Your health is cured in the sense that you feel physically very fit. Many diseases can be cured.

So many incurable diseases have been cured with the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī. But the Kuṇḍalinī has to pay.

If she does not then you won't get the blessings so full. Now, the first thing is that you must know that you have not come here for physical sickness or for anything but for realisation. Your attention has to be on your spirit. If it is not there what is the use of being in England just a... If there is a light which is not going to give light, you are not going to be fed. You are not interested. I mean very simple common sense. And the, the Divine power has a lot of common sense.

When this power starts flowing through you, you will be amazed, that you know so many things to it. You can feel it sitting down here. What is that in any particular person. You can know about yourself. You can know about others. You can also know what is the matter with your Kuṇḍalinī. It's there. And how to raise it, how to work it out. How to give realisation to others. Everything you can know but you have patience with yourself. That's the thing I find people lack. They have no patience with themselves. I have tremendous patience, but they don't have. They give up, they just can't work it out. It works out very fast. Once you become diamond, like you become a human being. You are born as a human being. But if you are... You become an animal. You behave like an animal with a human body. That's what happens.

After realisation you have to keep the company of the Saints, of the sad generates of the Gopi. If you keep the company of bad people they will dominate you because in the beginning you are just a child, you are a little child. You are so delicate. You have to handle yourself very carefully especially in the seven days after realisation it is very important to establish. That's what you are seeking. In whatever you are doing keeping doing with the Saints, you are a Seeker. Nothing wrong with it. Anything that you are doing genuinely, is nothing but your seeking and is destructed but you understand where you have to go and the way you have to do it. Everything is solved so sweetly.

Second thing that happens to you that actualises upon your self respect, when all of your addictions stop.

So many of them who have been alcoholics, absolutely horrible alcoholics; you can say they were in coma when they come to Me. One gentleman had a cirrhosis of liver, another he come to Me, those who were drug addicts and the whole sap who had been to goal and all that, have got rid of it; absolutely because once you are upon your back you are not going to benefit, you are not going to change all yourself the best. Your are not so much bothered and that enjoyment lifts you all, that you drop out from all these things automatically.

I don't tell anybody don't drink. I don't tell them anything, only get your realisation than that's it, because no use telling them before. It's too much. It is a brainwash. That's no good. You must. It must happen from within. Since it happens, you yourself will give up smoking, you just give up. You don't want to smoke. Then it is so bad that in the company of Sahaja Yogis, even if there may be thousands, you cannot find one matchbox to light the candle.

So I always tell them... Take one match box because that's important. From thousands of people and thousands of people could be there and there won't be a matchbox. It's a most surprising thing. Now I could just tell you that these advantages as... I'm telling you are not so important. The main thing is you are not to achieve. You must realise it. That's the most important thing is. The third thing is that happens to you that mentally you get feeling satisfied with yourself. Absolutely satisfied and you enjoy yourself. The subtle thing that starts is that you glow with dignity. The whole behaviour is, becomes so dignified and you start feeling that you are so beautiful.

How can you insult yourself by doing this? You just start growing automatically. You become a very very dignified magnetic personality. Not hypnotic but magnetic. The love starts growing through your heart.

Some people have been hard people, their heart's difficult to open, but 99 percent it works out. One percent maybe, they are difficult but they can work it out and also open their heart. All these things can happen.

As a result of your mental balances and things you become a dynamically brilliant intelligent person.

The things you start seeing are surprising. For example, there was a gentleman who came to Me from India who had no job. He came to Me and he said, “What job should I do, Mother?" I said, “Why don't you start doing some interior decorating." He Said, “What? I don't know. I don't understand. How am I to do it?" I said, “You just start it with vibrations” and he is now a very rich man in the sense that he's made a good money.

But you don't become very good's like Forte. There are no extremes in Sahaja Yoga. It's just another sense, to be satisfied. You are to share everything and enjoy. We really do not want to have too much. The want within disappears and the desire to have more disappears. You are very satisfied and you don't judge your attention to go aesthetically rich things than to something that shows off your properties and your money and which is in competition, something regarded as something high. For example, instead of going for a Rolls-Royce you may go for a beautiful vase which is very beautifully done. You see your attention moves off for a something, a beautiful picture of Christ, or something like that which is... The Divine. I mean your whole priorities change with that and you become a different person, a beautiful person. That has to happen. But as I said, doing anything, that after realisation you have to become. All effort has to be put in after realisation, not before realisation. For example, if a power has to come you have to put to the mains. You put to the mains. And when the balance comes, then only, you manoeuvre. Before the balance springs what are you manoeuvreing. It's just moving your hands this way that like in a show. But when it is flowing through your hands you have to know how to manoeuvre it, how to adjust it, how to move the vibrations, how to raise it. And all these things you have to learn and also to master it within yourself.

Then another thing that has happened, very much here and there are some people who have been blessed by that, is that you get rid of your mental problems, mental disease. I am not saying intelligence but those people who are suffering from any kind of, eh, lunacy or... Ism or possessions or epilepsies and things like that of a very serious nature. There's a bit, girl here who have very serious, very very serious epilepsy and she used to get into it for three hours. After realisation she got rid of it.

So all these things can get all right if you establish your realisation all such things. Everyone these days I see, I think is confused in these modern time. Confusion is the real, atmosphere of modern times.

The confusion, confusion clears out because the light is there.

In this world if there is no light there will, there will be confusion. But if there is light you just see everything so clearly that you know where is what, who is sitting where. In the same way it happens within you. Your enlightenment is nothing but the light of your spirit in your heart has to be enlightened.

Through this Kuṇḍalinī rising, when it is enlightened you can see it in through your heart and not through your brain. But then you understand it through your brain because it is logical and you are amazed the way things work out. Apart from this I would say the greatest thing happens to you that you achieve your collective consciousness. You achieve. It is an actualisation. It becomes within you. You become conscious of it. Like if you take a horse through a dirty lane he won't feel bad, he'll just pass through without any problem. The man who is standing in it will have a problem, will have to close his nose, or he'll have to close his eyes; he cannot walk through. Why? Because it is in him. His sensitivity is much more than that of a horse.

In the same way, if I tell you that this is not good, this is not, this is against your sustenance, it will be sinful you won't believe. It is not proper, you won't like it because you think that I am conditioning you. But after realisation the light comes so much in you that you know it is sin because you cannot bear, you don't like it. It tastes different you. You become a person of a very higher taste. Automatically you don't like such people who talk such things and you do not want to indulge into all these things; and it just becomes a new awareness in which you start understanding the beauty of pure light, of purity, of totality and you start understanding it better when you realise that you have become a part and parcel of the whole. With that we can know, so many things. I cannot tell you because now these people have got three hundred times and I don't know how many times more I have to repeat now; then I am going to India and then to Australia, then back again to America. It's going to be quite a long talking journey.

But now for you the best is to get realisation. In this short time whatever was possible love tried to explain to you, but through arguments you are not going to get it. It has to happen. If you argue with Me you are not going to get it. There is no need to argue. If it doesn't work out it will not work out. By arguing you will not get it. But how will you get in by getting moody? There is no other way out, you have to get it.

Is it all right or do you want to ask any questions? [Hindi.]
Question: Can I ask a question? How can a Guru who says they can give you knowledge, who is the power, of all knowledges?

Shri Mataji: Better to see their disciples.

Question: Pardon?

Shri Mataji: Better to see their disciples and know if they are in the knowledge. You see the best way proof of the pudding is in the eating of it. All right? Should go and see their disciples. Have they got any knowledge? For example, there is one I know who says he gives knowledge. And they have a restaurant here now, they have a restaurant to give knowledge and they are supposed to be getting knowledge. Now when somebody from Sahaja Yoga went to see them they started shaking and all that happened.

So they said and why are you shaking. “Oh, the Guru Mahārāj is going to do for us." All right, so we said, “What about Kuṇḍalinī?" He said, “Who is going to do it for us? Who is going to raise the Kuṇḍalinī?" That they have spent so much, they have just sold out. I mean they have not achieved it at all. What kind of a knowledge is this, that you cannot manoeuvre, you cannot say where you are, you cannot raise the Kuṇḍalinī, you cannot do anything. Useless people. They are just hypocrites in Self-knowledge. What do you call Self-knowledge? That you try to drive the car I would say all right, Mātājī won't drive. Is it knowledge? It cannot be known. Just think like that. It's hypnosis. Absolute hypnosis. To say that somebody else is going to do it for you. You know how to do it, you have to do it for yourself. Now remember they don't know what is Kuṇḍalinī. Even if they know, they don't know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī. They don't know how to check what is within us, what is wrong with us. They don't know anything. Like I asked somebody who come to Me from this TM business... I don't want to criticise anyone as some of them are here... And I said, “Well, what is happening to you? I mean you are spending money for years together, you have given them somewhere for ten years it's serious... Madness. Why did you come here?" He said, “There was like a, we walked into a blanket and we didn't know where to move.

It was all darkness. We did not know where to go. There was no way of guessing how to understand." This is it. What is knowledge? Except for Self-knowledge there is not other knowledge to be known. Except for God there is not other knowledge to be known. The garden is for you. That is to be known to your self. You should be able to know how to move, how to use your powers. What is the use of somebody who say[s] “I have so many powers." So what. What about us? Have you got any powers? Now here there are so many Sahaja Yogis. You can see them and you can find out that they have the knowledge. They will tell you what's wrong with you, what's going wrong with you and what's happening.

And this kind of hypnosis, I'd say with this awful one are not useful personally. You see, slavish people can only follow the leader. Here we want you to be absolutely free. You are allowed to ask every question.

Then nobody asks! They just jump in. First you pay a hundred pounds before I'm telling you to; that style you see. And not to ask any questions. They sit there on the seventh floor. But I'm your Mother.

You can ask Me questions. Your freedom is the very thing. If you do not have freedom how are you going to be able to enter into the Kingdom of God? Just tell Me. This is all hypnosis.

Question: Is it possible that some people who are not suited to Kuṇḍalinī meditation?

Shri Mataji: Very probably, yes.

So far I have not seen any. I mean I go on working for days together.

It's all right for Me now everybody is absolutely.... They say so because we had one Yogi Mahajan in...

He came. He himself is a Guru, so he came to Me and I gave him realisation. He accepts Me as The One and all that and... Then I told him, “What are you doing about it?" He said, “Mother, some of them are not suitable." I said, “You leave it to Me. Better start giving them realisation. Don't you worry." And he was amazed. He said, “In... there are twenty-five people coming and a great ego was building up." Is he giving them realisation or not? I said, “You just try." “If you are a Seeker do you think the compassion of God will not give them realisation?" God is the ocean of love. You are facing the ocean. What are these small things when, what mistakes can you commit, what sins can you commit before the ocean? All right? Questioner: Yes thank you.

Shri Mataji: Now. Any more questions? One more we can ask, anybody I said. There.

Question: Mr. Benjamin Creme, do you know of his works?

Shri Mataji: No, I don't know. Is this, what does he do? Questioner: At the moment he's lecturing about the return of Christ.

Shri Mataji: He lectures on what? Questioner: The Return of Christ.

Shri Mataji: All, they are lecturing about him. There's no end to that. What's the use? Will they recognize Christ? How will you recognize Christ? We can ask him. Go and ask him a simple question.

“Sir, Benjamin” what's his name, “can you recognize Christ when he comes?" Just ask him a very, very simple question My child. He won't be able to recognize. How will you recognize? Really, which is the way God look? You have no vibrations coming out. You have to have vibratory awareness to know if it's Christ. Otherwise how will you recognize. But this time he is not going to be identified. Neither is he going to give you realisation. He's just going to sort out. He's coming in, you see, in other forms.

All, in the destructive powers that usually are called Ekādaśha Rudra. He's going to come in that form.

And he's not going to talk to you or to convince people. He's just going to sort you out. That's what it is, the Last Judgment.

They never recognized him before. It's all right. That's how he said that anything said against Me will be forgiven because they did not realise. That's how you are...

But now there is realisation and he said, “Anything against the Holy Ghost it will not be forgiven." There are so many people these days in the market who can't do it. With Sahaja Yoga they can. You only have to take something, not to give. You have come here to take. You just experience it, mentally and know that by thinking you did not get it. Do not think about it but absorb it more and more, absorb it more and more. That's your own power within yourself. It is unknown to you today. It is called as an Unconscious. It is called as Universal Unconscious. Becomes conscious. That you start feeling it on the central nervous system. Is it all right now? Did I tell you that we need so many people? How many people have I? Best thing is to know yourself.

What is the use of knowing the whole... And not knowing if it is correct. You'll see Christ realise better than that gentleman, I can tell you, once you get your realisation, all right? As, so we are ready. All right.

May God bless you.

Do you think it is very cold? Is it very cold conditions. It is, all right? Now just take out your shoes and you can put your hands on your... It makes no difference.

But you all have to promise, that if I give you realisation you are going to persevere. That's promised, yes.

Otherwise I am not going to give you realisation, because in England it's happened, people are so funny. They frizzle out for nothing at all and then they meet Me after nine months, nine months from somewhere you see. “Mother, I've lost this..." Then I feel so bad about it you see, that if the attention of the Divine it disappears from you, everything can happen. You have to be in the attention of the Divine, isn't it? Then Divine looks after you. And then you see the blessings of the Divine.

All right, please put your eyes shut and close your eyes, close your eyes. First thing that happens to you when the Kuṇḍalinī crosses the Āgñyā, you feel there is no thought within. You just feel it yourself.

You'll have to certify yourself. Everyday you have to judge yourself and I'm not going to say. You see for yourself. “Is there any thought?" Ask your mind, “Are you thinking? What are you thinking?" Ask your mind yourself. You have to judge it yourself.

Contents: 1980-11-09 Diwali Pūjā (Bhau Beej Day), The Mahālakṣhmī Power, Temple of all Faiths, Hampstead, London, UK

... English, in the sense that we sat down together and translated Sanskrit Pūjās into English and tried to make it more understandable by...

Sahaja Yogini: All right?

Shri Mataji:... human beings.

[Aside:] [UNCLEAR].

... you need to have Pūjā too. It's really going down.

It's the day of Mahālakṣhmī Pūjā night, not only of Lakṣhmī Pūjā; there's a difference between the two. Mahālakṣhmī is one of the powers of the three powers, main powers of Ādi Shakti. As you know: Mahālakṣhmī, Mahāsaraswatī, Mahākālī. Now these powers have powers at a material level also, at a subtler level also.

So Mahālakṣhmī power is achieved after Lakṣhmī Power, as you know.

So the Lakṣhmī... there are eight powers of Lakṣhmī.

This Lakṣhmī was born or came out of the sea, the great sea, which was churned thousands and thousands of years back. And She came out of the sea because She is the daughter of the sea. That's why She's called as Nīraja. `Nīra' means `water' and `ja' means `born out of'.

This has happened thousands and thousand years back that She was born.

So what is that? What is this Lakṣhmī... see symbolically, what is it expressing? It is expressing the awareness. Lakṣhmī expresses awareness and She came out of the sea, you know that; the awareness first started growing in the sea. The life started existing in the sea, to begin with and then it grew out. Without the life there is no awareness. First the life, because everything is Jaḍa –'inanimate, stupid', everything is dead and when it becomes life it means it has awareness.

So the awareness started growing in the sea.

This is the symbolic expression. In the gross level you can understand this way. But actually the subtle level, it is the other way round. But because we see things from the gross level, we say that "that is symbolic" but actually from the other side if you say, "this is symbolic." Do you understand this point? So for Me it is symbolic to see how the life came into being in the sea and that it became aware. For Me it is symbolic and for you it is symbolic the other way round. I mean if I see something from this side, I see the... this way and while you see from that side you see this way. Do you understand this? If you want to paint something on a glass, how do you paint it on the glass? Have you any idea? You start painting first the outermost things that you have to paint. For example if you are painting the Goddess, first you will paint Her ornaments, then Her sarī, then Her body. Like that it will be moving deeper from this side, if you are painting it on the glass, because you have to see it from the other side. But supposing you have to paint it on a canvas, you'll paint it the other way round. You first paint the body, then the sarī and then the ornaments.

So to one thing it is symbolic because they think this goes from their angle, to the other person who is from the other angle this is absolutely symbolic. And surprising that everything is so symbolic and so much just the same, that whatever you may say, the subtle remains subtle and the gross remains gross. The one who is at the subtle level sees the gross as a symbolic expression of his subtle attention.

Now She was born in the sea. She was called as `Nīraja'. Or... or `Nīra', that means `water'. My name is, one of them is Nīra as you know; out of Nirmalā one name is Nīra, Nīma and Nīla, like that I've got three names, four names I should say the big one is Nirmalā.

So this Nira part means what, that She was born in the sea, that... the name of Mary is also the same. Miriam or Mary, I don't know how you say in English, but Maria comes from Marie, the word Mari. Mari itself comes from the word Meri.

So this Mahālakṣhmī, Mary is named and She is, because She was born in the sea and that's how Her name was Mary. Mariana they call Her, some people call Her Mariana, sometime call Her Miriam. All these words are indicating that She was born in the sea.

So She is Mahālakṣhmī. Now Mary is Mahālakṣhmī and Gaṇeśha is the child. Now see how symbolically it works, that only in Diwali the Lakṣhmī and the Gaṇeśha are worshipped, only these two personalities. Can you understand that? The symbol of Mahālakṣhmī for Me is Mary, for you it is Mahālakṣhmī is the symbol. And the symbol of Gaṇeśha outside is Christ; He is symbolizing Gaṇeśha.

So, both of them are worshipped only on Diwali.

Actually this is the Christmas. This is the real Christmas that was before also and this was the time baby Christ was born, not the 25th of December. Tho it's a misunderstanding, doesn't matter, keep it up.

Doesn't matter, whenever He's born, because there used to be a very big festival and after the festival He was born, called as Valānan. I don't know what you call in modern times, that time it was called like that.

And then this child was born and that was the time Christmas was celebrated. It was just tallying with that, but somehow it shifted, I don't know how, how it shifted. And there might be somewhere you'll find out that real Christmas was shifted.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes it is, that's known.

Shri Mataji [aside]: All right? And symbolically in this lifetime also, in the Kali Yuga also same thing happened that Mahālakṣhmī and Gaṇeśha were born and that's why they are worshipped. Now you ask anyone, why Gaṇeśha and Mahālakṣhmī are worshipped, after all, on a Diwali? And it was the darkest night. It was the darkest night and that night a star was there. And because it was such a dark night that star was very much noticed by everyone. It was cold night, very cold night and a dark night.

So the symbol of Diwali is very great for Sahaj Yoga.

First of all you have to know there are four days that are celebrated in Diwali, but there is one more day added to it in Maharashtra. The first day of Diwali is called as `Dhanatrayodashi', is the thirteenth day of the moon. Because that day is the first day when Lakṣhmī, the first... was born on the thirteenth day.

That means She was born as a Gṛuhalakṣhmī, as a housewife. Now there are eight Lakṣhmīs, which she will read it now and I will tell you later on what is the meaning of them. Just one of them is Gṛuhalakṣhmī.

So the first is the form of a Gṛuhalakṣhmī. She is born as a Gṛuhalakṣhmī to begin with. That means the awareness of human beings also, started really getting into evolutionary process when they started their family life. When they were vagabonds moving about, then the awareness was just like animals. Though they had become human beings, but they were like animals. Then when they established their families, then the GṛuhaLakṣhmī started working and that's how the first advent of Gṛuhalakṣhmī was felt.

So She is the first Lakṣhmī who was born and that's why on that thirteenth day is the day of the Gṛuhalakṣhmī, of the housewife. And so one has to go in the market and buy some utensil or something that she uses for cooking in the house. In India on the thirteenth day everyone goes and buys a pot or say... we can say, what you call, a cooking utensil or something. Or they may buy a sarī or something or gold or something for the Gṛuhalakṣhmī. That is the day of the housewife.

So, to reach the Lakṣhmī one has to understand that motherhood is very important. The motherhood as a Gṛuhalakṣhmī is important.

And the second day is even more important, because Narakasura was killed. Horrible Narakasura as you know him. But actually that day many Rākshasas are killed in many... That's the day fixed for killing Rākshasas. And then they are put in the hell; on the fourteenth day they are put in the hell.

So that's called as Naraka Chaturdashi, that is the day when the hell is opened out. That day Sahaja Yogis are supposed to sleep in the night while everybody does all kinds of Tāntrika Vidyā and all that on the fourteenth.

Then the fifteenth is that darkest night, that's the darkest night when there is no moon. Absolutely that's the day when they celebrate the Diwali. But symbolically in India also, Śhrī Rāma returned to Dwari, to his [UNCLEAR place] on that day and was crowned on that day.

So the significance of Diwali is expressed in this manner, that this is the day when Narakasura, with all of them are killed, they have all gone to Narak, they have gone to the hell and the people now are safe from them and they are celebrating the joy. And that is the time when Christ was born. That's why lights are lit just in the night, `cause He was born at twelve o'clock in the night.

So the next day to that is the day is celebrated in India only in Maharashtra. I don't know people celebrate otherwise I don't know. Do you celebrate?

Sahaja Yogi: I don't know.

Shri Mataji: Makes no difference. That's the first day of the moon. That is the forefather of your Mother, Shālivāhana; they started a calendar, from that date. And so on the first, that means the first day of the moon, the New Year is celebrated. Now see symbolically if Christ is born and the New Year is celebrated, next day. As soon as He is born New Year starts.

So next year it starts: the New Year. That is a New Year in many parts of our country where Shālivāhana lived. The Shālivāhan was My forefather, I should say they were My... they were just a dynasty. And this dynasty ruled in India since very long.

Even in the old Purānas it is written that they helped Kṛiṣhṇa in their war. You know all the story about Shālivāhana quite a lot. And so the New Year started.

So for us, that is the New Year, for Sahaj Yogis that is the New Year, you have to accept it. And your Mother is of that dynasty. I mean no force on you, but if you like you can have it.

Then the second day is also very important. Is the second day is the moon, that is the moon came out of the sea. According to this mythology, the Lakṣhmī came out of the sea and with Her this moon came out, which was only a two-day-old moon, the new moon but a two-day-old moon and this was regarded as the brother of Lakṣhmī, because they were born at the same time from the sea.

So He is the brother of Lakṣhmī. It's all symbolic; this is very, very symbolic. Now you see the left side is... left side you know is that of... belongs to Mahākālī and a brother had to be on this side, on the left side. But actually you'll be amazed that He is the brother of Lakṣhmī. He is not a brother of Mahākālī. But because He's the mother [brother] of Lakṣhmī, the... brother of Lakṣhmī he is accepted as the brother of all the Goddesses, one brother for all of them.

So He is the only brother Who is this moon, so He is your uncle, He is your maternal uncle. It's very interesting, because we have a special right on our maternal uncle, we can always ask for His help. And it's a big story about this churning that took place that Shiva saw all the poison also coming out.

So He drank the poison because He's the only one Who could drink the poison. And He got so heated up in His head, in His neck that He wanted something to cool Him.

So He took to this moon and put it on His head.

So the crowning is the moon. Now if you see it... on Monday is the day of Sahasrāra. Monday is the day of the Moon. Monday is the day of Sahasrāra. It Sadāśhiva has put it on His head. And that's what people tease you that, “your brother-in-law is sitting on your head." It's very good. You see it's very symbolic, for you, not for Me, but for you, that the brother-in-law is sitting on the head.

This brother-in-law is very important and if brother-in-law is in any way angry then even Sadāśhiva has to think twice. Normally special relationship, which is very sweet and which is very expressive. And if you want to understand it, that your brother-in-law, is a naughty little thing, is the brother of the wife, if you have to keep your wife pleased, that is the power, you have to keep the brother-in-law quite happy.

So He said is better to keep him on you... His head. He set Him up there. If there's a naughty child, what do you do to a naughty child? You put him out somewhere there so he doesn't move. All of you take a child outside you put him out there. And He is very dear to Sadāśhiva, really loves Him in a special way and that day is the day when all the sisters worship their brothers, very important. Rakshābandhan Day they give a symbolic expression to their desire that their brother should be good. But on this day they worship their brothers, actually worship them. They are invited at home, they are made to sit on the special type of a seat, then they are... also Ār.ti is done to them.

Sometimes if they are very small younger brothers then they are even given baths nicely. If they are older brothers also they'll cover all their body, but water will be poured on them as a symbol and they are given new dresses to wear and very special food is cooked that day. And then they are served special food ahead of their husbands. Always husband is served first, but that day the brother gets the food first and then the brother-in-law is teased a lot. And the younger brother-in-law teases his sister's husband and it's a very nice function. It's called as Bhau Beej [bhau=brother, beej=2nd day of the moon in Diwali]. And that day the Brother gives something to the Sister as a present. You may give even if you don't have anything, you can give a big thing, whatever it is. But you give something as a symbol of your love to your... sister. And this day, today, is that. It's such a nice day to do. This is the day when we all be just together. But for a Gṛuhalakṣhmī, the brother is very important. And the brotherhood and sisterhood is the base of our Sahaj Yoga collectivity.

If you understand... that brotherhood and sisterhood is love which is very pure. There is no expectation, it's just love, is giving love and taking love. And absolute purity within us should exist between our relationships when we call them as Sahaj Yogi brothers and sisters. And as there is understanding, complete understanding between the brother and sister in a family, one has to know we are all part and parcel of a family, born of the same Mother. Nobody has to shoot off, war; nobody has to become something great, nobody has to correct others, nobody has to say that `I'm something unique.' All of you have to work it out together and find out the solution working out together in complete friendship and unison. Anyone who cuts off himself and goes out or becomes anything else, goes out of circulation and useless for Sahaj Yoga. Such a person is completely useless: the one who tries to get out of the family.

All of you have to be supporting each other, helping to each other, not shouting at each other and getting angry with each other, trusting each other, not finding faults, treating each other with respect and love.

This is the most important thing if Sahaj Yogis don't understand that you are saints and you have to respect it. For example, you cannot doubt each other, you cannot, that's not allowed, it's prohibited. You are not to doubt each other. Be aware, I would say that if somebody slaps you on one cheek, turn the other. That you work out here. In this Sahaj Yoga one has to do it, not to criticise anyone, not to put down anyone. You are all Saints, why don't you recognize it? How can you insult a saint? You are “Men of God” do you realise that? How can you put down anyone and say “they are not good" and “they are good"? If you start doing that, somebody else will take advantage of you and will really push you down and you will be in very great trouble. Never get into such funny ideas, that you are better than the others, that you can do better than the others. The one who starts doing the better is doing the greatest harm.

There is no competition in Sahaj Yoga. Give up this idea of competition. You are brothers and sisters, you have to support each other, help each other. Anybody is going down, try to work out. If you find somebody's going down too much beat him with shoes. But anybody who thinks he is very great, he has this specialtality [specialty], or that quality... Supposing somebody thinks he's very neat, he should hang himself by the nearest tree. That's what I sometimes feel because on this point there are so many quarrels going on. But somebody who thinks he has a right to be untidy also should hang himself by the nearest tree and should know that I'm making a [UNCLEAR new turning years] of myself to others. You must respect; if there is no mutual respect, this brothers' and sister relationship is nothing. It's a very sweet relationship which you have not enjoyed unfortunately, but in India we have. Our brothers will give up their lives for us and we will give our lives for our brothers. And our brothers have so much faith in us that if we tell them that “you should not do this" they know that this we are doing it only just to help him out, not to show off our great importance or giving a big sermon but it is just because we love. The love is so established and if that love is not established, what are we showing off about? Today is, in a way very great, is of brothers and sisters. How do you express your brothers' and sisters' relationship? I do not like to hear complaints, but I see that it is full of The reason being, people are behaving in such a manner that I cannot understand that you are saints what has happened to you? How can you be individualistic? I'll give you a simple example. We have got in our house some sort of plant, which could only grow inside the house, but when it was summertime, we put them outside and they were growing well. But when the winter came in suddenly one night they all became very... absolutely dead you can call it.

So, the servant got upset he said, “What to do now?" I said, “You bring them in." Now he said, “They won't grow." I said, “Bring it." I said, “You get four five of them, put them together in one." And they started growing well. Because whatever is missing in one person is support from the another person. And the support is so natural and spontaneous which would... flows. If you try to correct others then you are draining out your energy and the energy of another person, just try to support them. That's how it works out and that's how it sustains, it's nourishing. I mean it's an experiment you can try also, at home. If you put four five trees together when they are in delicate condition they grow better. Why, when we grow our saplings we put them together? Why don't we put them separate? See: when we have got a small seed and we have to make them into saplings, we never put them separately we put them together, in a small block. If you put them separately they will never come up. Then they are kept in that condition together, till they grow. When they are grown, then only they are taken from that collective group and put them separately. Have you not seen this happening? And this is what is collectivity.

At the delicate point when Sahaj Yoga is coming up, you have to be much more closer together. Later on when you are very powerful it's all right because you will have greater rapport. But it's such a vicious circle that at this time when you are weak you are also falling off. And this collectivity is all embracing.

Of course these are due to your ego, superego, whatever problems, but only together you are going to be... But I have seen when you are mesmerized, you following again ego, absolutely. When you are mesmerized. But when there is freedom, you cannot enjoy your collectivity. In freedom people find it very difficult to, then somebody behaves like an ascetic, some behaves like a madcap, somebody behaves like an hot-tempered fellow, another behaves like a sitting consul, I don't know. When it is freedom you do not grow in a healthy way together. You must know there must be something within you which is keeping you out of collectivity. At this stage the best thing is to surrender and beat yourself with shoes. Any such ideas come into your head you just do that way, that's the way it will work out.

Today is the day you have to promise, today, here.

Where is Cooley? I can't see him. Is he there?

Sahaja Yogini: He wasn't allowed to come, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Hmm? Gavin: I think You said he wasn't allowed to come, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Did not come?

Sahaja Yogini: He wasn't allowed to come, Mother.

Shri Mataji: He was not allowed? Gavin: I think you told him that he wasn't.

Shri Mataji: All right. I did say. I'm sorry, I did, I had to. Certain things had to be done. I am sorry. But you must know you are people who are chosen specially. What prophecies are made for you if you read that `Milton' you will know the English people? What prophecies. “The `Men of God" will be there and they will have their own heroes and they will not follow these Romans and Greeks and their horrible heroes." They like their innocent heroes and all those saints. And here I find that there's kind of a passion for falling down. Keep together, keep together; love each other, understand the thing. Love not of mesmerism, but of freedom. In freedom you must love. I'll never take away your freedom, that's one thing, whether you fall or rise. First thing is for your freedom. That is the basis on which you are going to move.

So today is the day where you all have to promise and pray that this brotherhood and sisterhood will be established. Ask for it in this soil of England, this is the Jerusalem. Ask for that, that this will be established on the soil of Jerusalem, that's the most important. And you'll be surprised: once this is established, Lakṣhmī's established.

Now Mahālakṣhmī has eight aspects. Now read about the eight aspects of, Now there are how many there are, let us read: [UNCLEAR Kama Lakṣhmī kum Gṛuhalakṣhmī.....]. First follow.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Ādya Lakṣhmī namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Ādya Lakṣhmī, `Ādya Lakṣhmī' means `Mahālakṣhmī'. Ādya Lakṣhmī; Ādi, Ādyā, Ādya Lakṣhmī, that's the first one. You say now. Repeat it. Sanskrit.

Sahaja Yogis: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādya Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Aha. Second one.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Vidyā Lakṣhmī namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Vidyā, Vidyā is the art of Sahaj Yoga, which you know, that is Vidyā. The rest is all Avidyā. How to raise the Kuṇḍalinī; how to awaken all the deities; how to cleanse yourself; how to cleanse others; all the knowledge; all the science about that is called as Vidyā, the Lakṣhmī of that. Lakṣhmī is the grace, is the grace. Awareness... that is gracious. Awareness that is gracious.

So that Lakṣhmī should be with you, is that not only to know the Vidyā, you know that, but to have grace about it. The way people do things, for example, some people may just go on... all that kind of a nonsense you do.

Sometimes the way we go on working, when I'm giving lecture and people are just working out. All that is most disgraceful and depressing.

So not to do these method of making the thing look so depressed....

I mean you need not be serious people at all because Sahaj Yoga is not a serious thing, it is a play. It is a play of grace. You have to be but gracious; you are not to be disgraceful, that's very important. If you are disgraceful, then your Vidyā is useless. I have seen many people all the time doing like this, doing like that; they think that if their left hand... jaw... see? They have become now masters of this. There's no grace about it. One has to see how to do it graciously. We see your Mother, how She moves Her hands and fingers. Not one day is, one time, even in one action you will find Me doing something unrespectable now... Except when I copy you. [Shri Mataji does an imitation.] So this is what it is, is the Vidyā Lakṣhmī.

Lakṣhmī is the grace within the Vidyā.

Come, second one... Third.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Shrī,

Shri Mataji:... and now you could say it. `Om Twameva...'
Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Vidyā Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: For left Swādhiṣhṭhāna you know this is the Mantra.

Third One.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Saubhāgya Lakṣhmī namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Saubhāgya Lakṣhmī. Sau-bhā-gya, `Saubhāgya' means `good fortune', the Lakṣhmī that gives you good fortune in every way. Like she gives you good fortune in money; in your living; in your food; in every way. Any good fortune is given through God. It's only God who gives good fortune.

If you get money say in the racecourse, that's bad fortune because that will be lost next day or you will go to a pub to be free. But if you get your real one, then you create something out of it which is blissful and great, is Saubhāgya Lakṣhmī. Hm, say it. `Saubhāgya Lakṣhmī'.

Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Saubhāgya Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Amṛuta, read...

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Amṛuta Lakṣhmī namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Am-ṛu-ta, Amṛuta means the thing that does not die. In this world the Lakṣhmī exists as your wealth. Now the wealth that does not die, which is that wealth? Is the Spirit.

So the grace of the Spirit is the Amṛuta Lakṣhmī. Grace of the Spirit is the Amṛuta Lakṣhmī. The rest of the things always die out. And whatever is done through the Spirit, to please the Spirit, is the Amṛuta Lakṣhmī.

For example: loving others. Loving others has a different meaning in the symbolic way and you people understand this. Loving means giving, doing without any expectation, just doing and enjoying. The greatest is giving vibrations. That is Amṛuta; vibrations do not die. That's the Lakṣhmī of this Amṛuta.

Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Amṛuta Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Kāma Lakṣhmī...

Shri Mataji: Gṛuhalakṣhmī, you know that, Gṛuhalakṣhmī.

Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Gṛuhalakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ."

Shri Mataji: Ha.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Satya Lakṣhmī namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Sa-tya, I told you awareness, She is the one who has given you awareness. Awareness is Lakṣhmī's character. `Sa-tya', means `the truth'. As you rise in your awareness, you know the truth. Now what is the truth? What is the truth? What are we aware of? You are aware that you are the instrument of God and that He is working through you. You are aware of that because it's flowing on your central nervous system. This is thee truth of which you have to be aware. What is the other truth? Is who are you? That you are the Spirit. And the third truth is Who am I? And the fourth truth is Who is God? What is your deity? If they become your awareness, then you have got Satya Lakṣhmī.

Say now.

Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Satya Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Bhogi [mistake] Lakṣhmī namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Mm?

Sahaja Yogini: Bhogya Lakṣhmī.

Shri Mataji: Bhogya Lakṣhmī. Bho-gya, `Bhogya', means `the one by which you enjoy, by which you enjoy'. I mean it's like the whole ocean of joy is around you and you are like a bird who cannot drink it. Only through the grace of Bhoga Lakṣhmī, Bhogya Lakṣhmī, you can enjoy that ocean.

So the Spirit, though it is manifesting, you are not enjoying yourself. Even that, anything that you see, say, see a flower, you should be able to enjoy. You cannot enjoy because there is thought. Anything you do, there is thought, you cannot enjoy. When the Spirit is flowing, you get complete enjoyment. Actually I should say, I am the enjoyer.

Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhogya Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī, namo namaḥ.

Sahaja Yogini: Om Twameva sākṣhāt Śhrī Yogi [mistake] Lakṣhmī namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: Yoga Lakṣhmī.

The Lakṣhmī's power which gives you Yoga. Lakṣhmī supports your power of Yoga by giving you awareness. The power by which you take to Yoga is all combined as Yoga Lakṣhmī. Like your affluence, you are not satisfied and you want to have Yoga. The dissatisfaction you get till you have got Yoga is coming from the Yoga Lakṣhmī.

So Yoga Lakṣhmī means the power which gives you or takes you to your grace, by which you go to Yoga, that's Yoga Lakṣhmī. Means the kind of a satisfaction that you seek, is manifested in you through this power of Yoga Lakṣhmī. And then once you have achieved your Yoga, you get the grace. Lakṣhmī is the grace.

So you get the grace of a saint. You should have the grace of a saint.

You should look like a saint; you are a saint. I think better write it on your mirrors, “We are saints. We are `Men of God.' We have to behave like saints. We are saints." You are. No doubt. You are “Men of God” no doubt, but you have turn your faces in this way.

So, this is the Yoga Lakṣhmī. For example a person who has got Yoga Lakṣhmī doesn't quarrel like a madcap. If he quarrels or dominates someone in a foolish way then he's still lacking that Lakṣhmī point. There's a grace about it: whole way of talking and, how you talk to a saint? All right.

Everyone: Om Twameva sākṣhāt, Śhrī Yoga Lakṣhmī sākṣhāt, Śhrī Ādi Shakti sākṣhāt, Śhrī Bhagavatī sākṣhāt, Shri Mataji, Śhrī Nirmalā Devī namo namaḥ.

Shri Mataji: So these are the eight-fold paths by which one has to grace oneself. This is the attire of such. And today you have asked for it.

May God give you that power.

One more thing I have to say just before we start with the thing, that around the Lakṣhmī you know is the Void. And though the Lakṣhmī in a situation where there is negativity, runs away, She is frightened, She is a frightened Deity. But She doesn't, She is very sensitive. She doesn't like any negativity; as soon as the negativity comes in She runs away. In the same way these people, those people, those great saints who were born on the Void, have said that, “Those people who try to frighten Lakṣhmī are the people who are irreligious” in the sense they drink. Those people who drink, in the third generation lose their Lakṣhmī completely. You can see the results now; those who used to take one peg [30ml of alcohol] now are sitting in the pub the whole night. And that's what it is, that once these things enter into your family or household, they start corroding your Lakṣhmī.

That's why we have to understand that Lakṣhmī is very, very sensitive to this [UNCLEAR deity] and Lakṣhmī is extremely sensitive to fanaticism, extremely sensitive to fanaticism. Any kind of fanatic ideas you have got, She will run away. She can't stand fanaticism. As soon as fanaticism will settle down into any country, it will start becoming poorer and poorer. Any kind of fanaticism about religion is to be avoided. Nowadays so many young people who are aware of fanaticism because, thank God, there are some horrible fanatics, which have proved that fanaticism is bad and they are now coming down. But when fanaticism works out, the expulsion of all the powers of Lakṣhmī from within, that's a sure and certain sign that you really invite cancer, really invite cancer, also alcohol does, but this is the triggering point, if an alcoholic is as well as a fanatic, it will trigger much faster. Fanaticism is to be to be avoided like leprosy for Sahaja Yogis, but not only that, we have to stand up in a revolt against all kinds of fanaticism.

Just this is the revolution against all fanaticism of life. That's very important for the establishment of Śhrī Lakṣhmī. Any religion, any fanaticism that collides with another religion or in any way belittles, because all religions are just the same of one God, belittles another religion or insults anyone, is absolutely against Lakṣhmī's Principle.

So we go... after all this, when we rise above this, we go to Mahālakṣhmī principle. Now the awareness that was seeking up to Lakṣhmī, means you achieve money, achieve position for achieving Grace, once you have achieved the Grace of this, you want to achieve God. And this new awakening within you that you have to achieve God now, is the power of Mahālakṣhmī. By the power of Mahālakṣhmī only, you achieve your saintliness, your Realisation. That's why She came on this earth as the Mother of Jesus Christ. That was Mahālakṣhmī, not Lakṣhmī but Mahālakṣhmī.

May God bless you.

[Some conversation in Hindi, English and again Hindi.]

Gavin: Gurushaya namaḥ. IstaDevatā namaḥ, all those: that we do first.

Shri Mataji: All right. All the names of the Gods, all the Deities.

Gavin: Om Śhrī Mahāgaṇapati namaḥ Śhrī Saraswatī Mātāya namaḥ Śhrī Gurubhyo namaḥ Vedapurushaya namaḥ IshtaDevatābhyo namaḥ KulaDevatābhyo namaḥ SthanaDevatābhyo namaḥ

Shri Mataji: Gram.

Gavin: GramDevatābhyo namaḥ VastuDevatābhyo namaḥ Shachipurandarabhyam namo Kalkam Parashuramebhyo namaḥ Matrupitrubhyam namo AdityadinavagrahaDevatābhyo namaḥ Sarvebhyo Devebhyo namaḥ Sarvebhyo Bhahmanebhyo namaḥ Yetad Karma PradhanaDevatābhyo namaḥ

Shri Mataji: Mmm, very good. All the Deities within you, see all the Deities within you have been already, Sahaja Yogini: [comments in Hindi].

Shri Mataji: Don't take them in the cold, please take in [UNCLEAR Chuck]. Why is she taking [UNCLEAR over Hindi yogini's comments]? Gentleman: It's time to go and feed her soon.

Shri Mataji: Ha? Cover her head. Don't do like that. No no no no no. Cover their heads, Jane what are you doing?

Sahaja Yogini: She was crying Mother. I'm not sure, you know, whether she wants feeding or Jane or Dondu.

Shri Mataji: No no no. Who wet her hair? Stomach here... take it out. Put it here. She'll be all right. Don't take her outside. Ha. Give her here. Here it is.

Sahaja Yogini: Mother, this,

Shri Mataji: Hot.

Sahaja Yogini:, she's on her second week u.

Shri Mataji: Ha. Let's help her.

Somebody can... just a cheap little cloth or something and a big number of [UNCLEAR Conyu Da].

[Short exchange of Hindi with a Sahaja Yogini.] Go on saying.

Gavin: Then we make the dedication of saying where is the Pūjā is being held.

So, on the ninth of November in the winter season on the fifteenth night of the moon, when the sun in Tropic of Capricorn, we do this Pūjā...

Shri Mataji: Today is the second day of the moon. Actually is the other week has started now. That date was fifteenth, but today is the second day, second day of the moon. On the Shukla Paksha. On the Shukla Paksha means when the moon is going to become bigger. All of this is very important, is historical, this had [UNCLEAR served an akshay there]. Come along.

Gavin: We do this Pūjā in Hampstead, in London, in England, in Europe, in this world, on behalf of all Sahaj Yogis.

Shri Mataji Ask you now... Has she got the u. Hand to Swādhiṣhṭhān.

Gavin: The third section is called `Sankalpa'. That means `Holy Determination'. According to all religious scriptures.

[Noise of pots clanging.]

Shri Mataji: Just sprinkle all over. Sprinkle all over. You come here. [UNCLEAR] just sprinkle it all over. Sprinkle it all over on the [UNCLEAR], just like that.

Sahaja Yogi: Spread it? Gavin: According to all religious scriptures, all of us with all our families pray for well-being, for spiritual well-being, for victory, fearlessness, longevity, health, wealth, for the nullification of all baddhas of the Sahaj Yogis, to become the master of eight siddhis, to give peace to all who walk on two legs and on four. We pray for health, satisfaction and for all auspiciousness for all those who are handicapped, for the emancipation of all people, to give them the highest knowledge and whatever is my power, whatever is my knowledge, whatever offering I could get through meditation, or by whatever means of sixteen types, I surrender in the Pūjā.

Shri Mataji: Did you follow that? This is the Sankalpa. This is the determination; it's the holy determination you are making. Did you follow that or you want him to read it again? Gavin read it loudly, you get up and say it. You go on reading.

Contents: 1980-11-10*, Public Program, The Eternal Spirit, Caxton Hall, London, UK

[A Sahaja Yogi introduces Shri Mataji as well as Sir C.P. who is attending the program for the first time, having just been unanimously reelected as Secretary General of the IMO.]

Shri Mataji: Somebody has done some introduction, has someone done? Peter? Is he there? Peter, you have to talk to these people about what I told you.

Today we are going to have a short session, because we are all invited today to a dinner after the program. Host is My husband who wants to invite you for [UNCLEAR] and he'll be coming about 8:15 or 8:30.

So, today we are going to think about our Spirit, which we have neglected throughout. They are not even conscious that we have a Spirit.

Through Sahaj Yoga those who are now conscious, because they can feel it through their vibrations, they can also get lost and can forget it.

The Spirit is the only eternal thing within us, all the rest are transitory and evolutionary. Everything goes into evolution and the better is the evolution the higher the Spirit starts manifesting itself.

Like the reflection. The reflection on the stone of even the sun is zero. And the reflection of the sun on the lake is sometimes I think, is the reflection that is felt in the Sahaj Yogis, when they see, feel it, it flows, they can feel the breeze in their hands. But still their attention is not fully enlightened, the Spirit has not permeated inside. It's just reflecting still.

In the mirror you see the reflection of the sun. But even then, when you removed it you cannot reflect it. This is the difference, that even if you become the mirror of the sun, unless and until it permeates into your being and transforms you into something new, you have not done full justice to yourself and nor to the powers of your Spirit. The Spirit has come just like a vision to you, an experience to you, but the growth of your being has not yet started. And if it has started it's so slow that you may not achieve much in one lifetime. Because your attention is on all various things.

You have been misidentified from the very beginning, since the time you were amoeba you have been misidentified. The matter played a big role in your life, so matter was important. Then all the five elements that are within us were very important to us. Because we can see them, feel them we have lived them for years, thousands and thousands of years.

So they are part and parcel of your being and that is why you are so much identified with it. That should be, no doubt.

But in the living process it never happens like that. There are some seeds which grow so fast that within one year they become trees after they have been sprouted. They bear fruit in one year's time.

Some trees are such, but some of them linger on and linger on and linger on and they take too much time.

So much so that maybe when they are not yet fully developed any storm, any wind, any one of these things can just push them down.

So you have to make a rapid growth within. Even after realisation I have seen people do not pay attention to their Spirit.

So for every Sahaj Yogi today I would say they have to ask, “Where is your attention, Mister? Or Missus or Miss, whatever it is. Where is your attention?" For example we can be enveloped with problem-solving, something absolutely useless. Specially in the West we do it much more than in the East because we take it for granted in the East, many things. But here because we think by planning we have achieved a lot, we start planning. We start planning about going to a place and buying a ticket and doing this and doing that; everything is too planned out. All the time we are wasting on something which does not require any time at all.

Supposing you have to go somewhere, all right. First of all I don't know if going is that important, but to some people that is much more important.

Like one gentleman today came with his family to see Me. Specially to meet Me according to him, I don't know how far to believe.

So he wanted to have a special interview with Me in My house, all right, he had it and that's how I'm late. He doesn't mind that. Then now he cannot come to the program because he has got some friends whom he has to meet. His wife has not got realisation, does not matter. Because his friends are very loving people, very good, they have been very kind to him, he must meet them. Where is the attention? All these misidentifications we have, like marriage also.

Some people come to Me and tell Me, “Mother, we are very happily married or unhappily married." Or the one who is happily married is equally a headache as the unhappily married. The unhappily one you can understand why he's a headache, but the happily married also says, “I must do something for wife, I've not done anything, I haven't bought her a diamond ring, I must buy for her. I haven't done this thing for her, I must have get her a Rolls-Royce and do a this and that." But where is your attention? The whole attention is diverted to things, which has no play, which has no meaning, which helps you nowhere.

Then the attention is...

[Aside:] Sit down, sit down...

The attention is, in a subtler way in many other things, like children. Now children is, sort of... if I say anything they'll say, “Mother, do you want us to neglect the children?" This is the problem. Children are not looked after by you, they are looked after by God. You are just a[n] instrument of God to look after them. The more you are with God, the better you are with your children, you know how to handle them; you are kinder to them; you know how to solve their problems much better if you are getting your power from God. But if you are not interested in God, He is not either interested in you. That's the thing we do not understand. We think that if we are interested in God, we are obliging Him. Supposing you are interested in a job, you never think that way that you are obliging the job.

But as far as the God is concerned we think: `Why? We are obliging God?' [Aside:]... where is she going? [Hindi.] You are not obliging God at all, He is obliging you. The attitude is so funny among human beings that you can't imagine! All the time they feel they are obliging God and they are doing something for the God.

What can you do for Him? Just think like this.

I met a lady, she said: “O, how did I get cancer? I don't understand. I used to always pray to God." According to her, if she prayed to God, if she'd paid her... paid Him the money for His job, then He better look after her.

It is you who are obliged by His kindness, by His compassion. He is so gracious that He knows that you are stupid. He knows that you don't know this. He forgives you for the stupidity. He knows that you are naive and that you are children, that you are small. Still not grown, you are not matured enough. If you are egoistical, He forgives. Because He is compassionate. But do not take it for granted. Do not take it for granted. Those who think that, “We can do whatever we like and behave in whatever way we like, as long as we pray to God, yes, He'll do everything for us." Why should He? Where is our attention? What is Yoga? In simple words, it is taking your attention to the Spirit. This is Yoga. What does the Kuṇḍalinī do? She raises your attention and takes it to the Spirit. Only after knowing the Spirit you can know God. Not before that. That's why all religions have failed.

The incarnations who came, to propound these religions said that again and again. For example Christ said that you are to be born again. All right, if you are to be born again, what did we do? We got some people, certified that they can give you rebirth. All right, so they will have some water very nicely put in a very beautiful place in the church and you very solemnly walked down. And they put some water on your head and they said, “You are now reborn." And you accept it. You just accept it.

As a child, because you know I was born in a Christian family, I used to laugh, I used to say, “What's this mockery going on?" I thought they are just playing like children. Though I was a child but I used to think they are really playing. I didn't know they were seriously doing it [laughter]. Really, I did not know, till quite some time. When I grew up I was surprised, they are serious about it. I mean, they believed in it. They believed that they were real, they were getting rebirth and “It's baptism, that's the way it should be." I really felt it. I was amazed.

And how people were satisfied with that was a greater amazement to Me. They wouldn't ask, they would not challenge, they would not say anything about it, whether “Am I really realised or not? Am I really reborn?" In the same way among Hindus, they do the same nonsense. Same thing they do.

When the child is about eight years of age, or say, from five years to eight years they call it as a Yajnopavit samskar [sacred Thread Ceremony]. That is the day they have to invite lots of people for dinner as we have, you see, everything must have a dinner with it. The attention is more there. And then they have a big function and then they have a big Pūjā, this that, you see. And the Brahmins, who are not connected with God, are doing all the Pūjā and worshipping and everything and God is nowhere there.

And then the fellow gets a thread which is to certify that he's a Brahmin, from a person who's certified himself that he's a Brahmin. It's all, self certification and falsehood.

For a person like Me it was amazing and I used to wonder, “What's the matter with these people?" How are [have] they taken all these things into their hands? Why don't they question themselves once for all: “How we are doing?" Not only but I found them to be completely mesmerized with the idea that they are doing the right thing.

Every Monday I hear the people singing next to My house. What are they singing, God alone knows.

They come very well organized just to sing some sort of hymns and things like that, which has no meaning, which is not going to reach to God.

Where is their attention? The attention has to be on the Spirit. And that cannot be there unless and until something happens within.

But those who have been seeking that attention, those who have been asking that, “Oh Lord, keep my attention on God and on seeking” are the people going to be blessed. Not the people who have their attention, now supposing in the morning they go to the church and next day to the races and third day somewhere else, again on a Sunday morning they are there back in the church, regularly. And they say, “I regularly go to the church." The attention has to be on the Spirit. Even before and after Realisation. Many people ask us, “Mother, then what should people do before Realisation?" They should put their attention on their Spirit, asking for it, that, `Take my attention, Oh my Lord, to my Spirit.' And not to accept something which is false and nonsensical. Because once you start accepting something false it sits on your head. It's a vicious circle; you have to go ahead with it and you don't know where you are. And by the time you realise, you find you are too old to give it up and you carry on, somehow.

It's like intoxication. All falsehood of the world is an intoxication, because if it was not intoxicating or hypnotizing, why people carry on with it? I mean to Me, I don't understand. When you know it is falsehood, why should you carry on with it? Of course, you can play with it, that's a different thing, just to play, just like children, they build everything. If you tell “put them on the sand" they'll dig a big castle and they'll then make a house and they'll make a cowshed and everything. And just they break, take it out, clear out the whole thing; they know it's just a play they have done, they are conscious of it.

If this consciousness is there, then one should say that such people are seekers, that is the category of seekers, where they are not satisfied with falsehood and they want to find out the truth.

Now the truth is that the Spirit is within you and you are the Spirit. You are the beauty, the bliss and the joy of that Spirit. That's what you are. Because your attention is not there, that's why you cannot feel your Spirit.

But your Spirit exists; it is within you, in your heart, waiting for a moment to come into your conscious mind, to be felt by you in your central nervous system. It's all there, built within you.

Man in his madness doesn't realise that God has made him from amoeba to this stage for some purpose.

There is a big purpose behind it. And the purpose is that now you have to know your Spirit, by which you enter into the Kingdom of God.

You have to enter into the Kingdom of God. How? What is your passport? Is your Spirit.

Because when the Spirit starts shining within you, you start transforming. You start transforming into a new being, into a new personality with a new awareness and you are a different person. Your priorities change.

But those who are not really good seekers I would say, may have a three-legged race, as I call that.

They'll be identified with something else, you see, what is a three-legged race is that you are tied with one leg to another personality. Now this could be the job, this could be anything else and you are tied with it and the progress retards, it goes down.

The progress in Sahaj Yoga is only possible when your attention is on the Spirit. How do you nourish it? That's another point.

The only solution is collectivity. A person who is not collectively nourished cannot grow. He cannot grow whatever he may try.

These are the two very important points of Sahaj Yoga.

Now, one has to understand: this collectivity is to be grown within you, but what do you become? Actually what do you become after your growth? You become a collective being.

So you have to nourish yourself in collectivity. People just don't understand this simple point that you have to become the collective being. And that nourishment, if it is not growing into you, then you are not a Sahaj Yogi at all.

You are just having the trip of your ego, or your superego.

And this is very important, by saying you are “brothers and sisters and this and that” is not possible I know, it's wrong. It's another game.

Like… just like baptism it's another game to say, “Oh, we are all united together and we are all brothers and sisters and nothing should prevent us from being that." Socially we can be all right, but politically may not be, or economically we cannot be and all sorts of things can come.

But after Realisation, when the Kuṇḍalinī rises through these seven centers and pierces you through on the Sahasrāra, then you start feeling the vibrations, the feeling the Cool Breeze in your hand. This is how your Spirit is talking to you. The rapport is established; you are connected with the Spirit. That's the sign. If you are not connected then you have to get connected, then we can talk about it. Before you are connected what is there to talk? What is there to say? Supposing this is not connected, then how can I use it? Tell Me, is there any way? It's so simple as that. Everything is so simple which you people have made so complicated. To Me, a simple person, I don't understand. I mean, it has to be connected or not? Any telephone is to be connected to the mains, or not? So, the connection has to be there.

And once we decide the connection has to be there, then what are we doing about it? That we are doing Sahaj Yoga.

What is Sahaj Yoga? Is the right of every seeker to have this connection with the Divine.

This you are doing in your own right, no doubt. There I cannot challenge your right. It's your right.

Say for example, in a government it's decided that all those people under sixteen must be given five pounds each. All right, as long as is under sixteen you have a right and the governments will see to it that they fulfil that promise, isn't it? In the same way you are promised, that in the modern times, all those who will ask for Realisation will be granted. What a promise to make, just imagine and use Me for that purpose. Or Sahaj Yogis for that purpose.

This has been promised in many scriptures, by many incarnations, the time has come and I have to give you Realisation.

More and more people have to be given Realisation, all those who ask for it.

Of course it cannot be forced onto anyone, this is your right. It is your right to ask, say, for your property. But if nobody asks, the government won't go back on them and tell them, `Now, please have it, we beg of you, we fall at your feet,' and this and that. Do they do that? In the same way, nobody is going to fall at your feet, but if you ask for it, that's your right and you can have it. But the difference is that the right is to be exercised in a full way.

If you ask a right that, “I want to become the governor of a particular place” then you should be able to assume that power.

In the same way, if you think you have right then you must assume also the power of Spirit within you.

You have to keep your attention to your Spirit.

Now, the whole... the whole system of Spirit is so dynamic and beyond human comprehension, that you are suddenly amazed and surprised at it. First of all you are amazed. Then you start thinking, “How can that be so simple? How can that be so easy?" I mean it's not simple! In the sense that you have been made from amoeba to this stage, is it a simple thing to do? Can you make one dog into a human being? Or even a horse, which you like very much, can you? To make so many human beings out of amoeba, isn't it a difficult thing? And if you have made that, that evolution must have rendered something within you, in that something is built in you.

And when it works out it looks simple, but it is not, it has a big background, which is being worked out... to bring you to this stage, just to know “Thyself." “Know Thyself” simple words. It's too simple for human comprehension, that's why it is too difficult. Because they cannot go to simpler things.

“Know thyself"; what is “thy self?" You ask somebody else, “I know my self very well." “Now, what do you know about yourself?" “I like to go to pubs, that's my self." “I like to become something great." “I like..." That's what you know your self, what you like? Or else, “I'm afraid." “I'm frightened." “I don't believe in this." “I don't do this." “Is this `I' the one you are, is it?" Then they may say, “I'm not sure." But when you are the Self, that's absolute and that's sure-short that's what you are. You know this is it. When you talk as a Spirit, you have no doubts. You have no doubt at all, because the absolute is established in you.

For example, you take ten Sahaj Yogis, ten small, little children who are realised Souls and ask them to face a personality and ask them, “What... what is the problem with this gentleman?" And immediately they will say that, “This gentleman has got this finger problem or this finger problem", all of them will say the same, with their closed eyes. Everyone will say the same thing. They'll not criticise each other, because everybody will feel the same thing. All the children will feel the same things, you cannot befool children. They'll say, “Yes, they are catching on this finger." And you ask the person, “Have you got bronchitis?" He said, “Yes, I have." Or something like that.

Even liver, anything which is not even diagnosed by doctors, not only on physical side, on the emotional side you can see.

I met a lady the other day and said, I asked her, “Do you believe in anything?" She said, “I don't believe in anything whatsoever." What sort of a thing is that? A personality and a personality I meet, I tell you: one better than the other.

She said, “Only I believe in myself." “All right, doesn't matter, even then I'm agreed that you believe in yourself. But where is your self? Where is your self; in what thing do you believe?" When that Self manifests, then you have no questions, you are doubtless, you know what this is. You have no question about anything whatsoever, you know everything.

That's how the vibrations tell you.

This is the Spirit, that tells you. The Spirit within you tells you. You ask the Spirit, `What is to be done?' You ask any question.

For example, say, I was born in a Christian family and in India people felt very funny that a lady who is supposed to give us our Moksha and our Realisation should be a Christian lady, because they thought She has to be a Brahmin or something like that.

I am a Brahmin in a way because I'm a realised Soul [laughs]. I have no cast and community, but I am a realised Soul.

So, they asked Me a question, “Mother, how is it you were born a Christian?" I said, “All right, you ask on your vibrations: `Is Christ, the son of God?' " Imagine for Hindus and Muslims, to accept it, this is very difficult. And the vibrations.

And the most orthodox of Hindus immediately, immediately accepted.

For them one advantage is there that they know that the Cool Breeze is the way you can make out that your Spirit is flowing, that's the only way. They know, that's an advantage they have.

But they gave up all that, a revolution came into them.

Imagine Hindus of India, who are such orthodox people, have been dominated also by Muslims. Now they take the name of “Allah hu Akbar” they are trying to know the Namaz. They are trying to do the Namaz.

All this fanaticism is going to be finished, absolutely crushed, as soon as the Spirit starts manifesting itself. Because only truth will be accepted.

In the same way, we have Muslim disciples. They have accepted Christ, they have accepted Gaṇeśha, they have accepted everything, because on the vibrations you see: the truth is there.

Fanatics will also have to come round. But first those who are doubting fanaticism will first of all get it. How can any fanatic be correct? Because they are talking about one God and they are in juxtaposition with each other.

How can that be? But it's so. If you talk to a fanatic, who is, say, an ardent Muslim and an ardent Hindu, they hate each other.

They cannot understand how God could create them: the one person can create both of them. They think they have separate gods. I don't know how they carry on with their fanaticism because I can't understand them. When the entire truth about everything can be known through your vibratory awareness.

And this vibratory awareness comes to you through your attention, which is enlightened by your Spirit.

This Spirit resides within us. All the time it knows everything what we do. It's the one which knows all our feelings, wherever we move. But the same Spirit, when enlightens our attention, the thing that He's enjoying itself, or it is enjoying itself, becomes our experience. Because the Spirit is collectively conscious and we become collectively conscious.

Those people who are not collectively conscious are not Sahaj Yogis, they are absolutely just `so-called'.

First collective consciousness comes in, within us, by feeling the Cool Breeze blowing through our hands and by feeling all the fingers and feeling all the Chakras.

Some people don't feel it in the hands if the Viśhuddhi is not all right, but still they can feel within themselves. Like there are devices I feel, as, if the gas fails, then electricity works out. That also works out in many people.

You can feel it within yourself, where is the problem and you can feel the Chakras. That's the first thing happens to you that you feel the collectivity within you. That you are a collective being you feel. You also feel about yourself, what you are catching, where you are catching. And ultimately, then, you start feeding, nourishing your collectivity. Which is the point very much missed in the individualistic societies.

Because the whole of individualistic society is based on competition. And there is no competition in Sahaj Yoga. It's just the other way round. That you nourish on other people. The person who cannot carry on with other Sahaj Yogis is a sure and certain person who is going to get out of this.

You have to nourish yourself on collectivity. And once you start doing it, some or other, you see I've seen some people, it clicks with them, sometimes. But with some people I go on telling them, “This way, that way", in so many ways, I try to work it out, never clicks.

But with some people it suddenly clicks and they become different people. Everybody then certiffes, “Oh, they have become very sweet now." But some of the people just go on, just like, all the time they are like thorns and anybody they touch, that person gets a fright. And then that person says, “All right, I'm getting out. I'm not talking to anyone, I'm not doing this. I'm just keeping quiet." That's all they can do.

They cannot take out that thorn from themselves and can become one, articulate with others. And when this thing happens, one has to know that there's something wrong.

After all, from where are you going to get your nourishment? The Spirit is shining, the sun is shining, but your tree of life has to get your nourishment from collectivity.

Once you realise that, it works wonders. It has worked wonders with so many people all over the world.

But there's a greater danger for people, where individualism is regarded as something great, where people think to be individualistic in their attitude towards their selections and choices and the decisionmaking.

For every small thing they will make a decision. Why? What is the advantage? What did you gain by wasting so much energy in decision-making? Whether you'll have the fish-and-chips or you'll have hamburger, what does it mean? Why waste so much energy on that? Where is your attention? All these things, all this attitude is nothing but ego-oriented and is competitive.

And also all the medias that are used are just trying to exploit it.

Like they'll say “If you have a cigar it's sufficient, you need not to have a Rolls-Royce” or something like that.

So you buy a cigar like a madcap. But if they put it in the television then 50% people will do it as if they have no brains to use.

It's a mad world, that way. But it is not, in a way, because you are seekers. Have you ever seen so many seekers? Seekers of truth. They're not only claiming, they mean it. I know, they mean it.

They are not just claiming, it's not a fashion with them, they do mean it. And I'm really very happy about it that there are seekers, those who are seeking, who are honest and intelligent and who want to know who they are.

Today as I said we'll have a short program and there's no end to My speeches.

I don't know how many speeches I've given now, I've lost count. This is only just to make your attention little steady, then the Kuṇḍalinī rises.

Without that happening your attention cannot go inside. Once the happening takes place your attention is pulled in.

The whole attention goes inside and it is carried and is brought to this point where it breaks.

This is the seat of your Spirit, while the seed resides in the heart. And you are blessed with your Self-realisation.

Now, the growth has to come, that you have to move your awareness towards the Spirit. And when that happens, that your Spirit dominates your awareness, that your awareness becomes the Spirit, then Sat, Chit, Ānand.

Sat is the essence of your awareness, is the truth; through your awareness you know the truth. Chit is the attention and Ānand is the Spirit. The essence of the Spirit is joy.

All these things become one. That has to happen. Then the growth is much faster.

When it is half way round, the growth is less. And the growth is to be felt in your collectivity.

Not in how you organize some things and all that, no, in collectivity, how you feel about the whole world, how you are connected about the whole world. What you are doing about it, can you work it out for them? And where is your attention, again? As soon as you one your Spirit you'll start worrying about the whole universe. It will happen, the priorities will change. “Oh, I am here, I am the Spirit. And My work is not this, this is useless, this is not meant for Me." And the attention will start going from all mundane, gross things to the Spiritual side.

But by going there you become so dynamic that all material things will work out just like that. [Clicks Her fingers.] You'll have no problem with material things, they will work out.

And, like I'll tell you that a few examples are like this. You know I'm a married woman and I've got grandchildren. I run My house very well and I am a householder and... This is a... Mine is a marathon race, I mean, all of you have a relay race, but I have a marathon one. And it works out.

But apart from that so many problems I've solved. I'll give you a simple example.

Some girls have come from Australia. They told Me, related many problems they have solved. The one of them was very sweet that, there was a lady. She very much wanted to come to India to see Me and she thought her money was not sufficient. Now, money is absolutely material. And the little child, daughter she had, she also wanted to come. And the girl was having a jumble sale, something.

So she collected some of the trinkets here and there and went for a jumble sale. And they discovered that she had a very expensive bracelet of gold, suddenly, which sold out for this amount of money exactly required for the ticket of the mother and child. Exactly! Oh, this is nothing. There are many people who have known how materially it works out.

For example we have a doctor of physics here, who was doing his doctorate and he did it for years and years, I don't remember exactly how many years. And he brought his papers to Me, he said, “Mother, I cannot now have anything more done, now I cannot even make it a fair thing. I cannot put it [in] the bound. And this is how I'm going to now present, I'm fed up. I've finished every single Pai I had." I said, “All right." I just did like this to the thing.

He said, “You... are You not going to read?" I said, “No, what is there to read? It's all right." You won't believe, he went next day to see the gentleman and he became a doctor of physics. That's how materially things work out.

Kṛiṣhṇa has said it, “Yogakshemam vahāmyaham." Yoga, when you get your Yoga, when you are connected with God, then He looks after your kshema, your well-being.

This is so simple to understand. This is another very simple truth one should understand, that if you are not connected with Him, how can He look after us? We have to be connected with Him.

So we know His desires, we know His ways, we know how to please Him, we know what to do. And so we can ask for what we want.

You don't even have to ask, you'll be surprised how things work out for you. How family relations improve, social relations improve, economic relations improve; all these things are on your centers. And as the Kuṇḍalinī rises She starts spreading sideways also and you start getting the effects.

The first you get is the material and the physical, l and that's how you know how we have cured people of cancer and things... just like [snaps Her fingers] that.

People don't understand how we have done it. [But] we have. Because Spirit is the dynamism within us, it is the thing. Like one diamond which is put in a ring and embedded in the soil, saved permanently, just to keep it out of problems, is suddenly discovered.

And that's why it is all we seek.

The basis of all our existence is nothing but our Spirit. That's the basis, that's the adhara, that's the support. And to us, it should be a special blessing.

For our Lord Jesus Christ was the embodiment of that Spirit. He came on this Earth just to show you the way of your resurrection. It's a special blessing to us.

But Him also we have made it into a fanatic stuff. You were great people. Give anything to human beings and they know how to make a good mess out of it. That's what I have discovered. He was crucified, that was all right, because He cannot be crucified, He cannot be killed, that I know. But the way now He is clouded and how He is plucked out of reality and put into something false is sometimes...

Sometimes it's so shocking, frustrating and so humiliating, you can't imagine.

Whatever done is done. The quality of Spirit is forgiveness. The symbol of Spirit is Christ. And the power He has given us to forgive, because He has that power to forgive.

He is the power of forgiveness. He is the ocean of forgiveness.

So, He's so powerful that He cleanses you through forgiveness. Just by forgiving you He cleanses you. And that's how it works out.

So you should not try to build a guilt in your mind.

That's the only thing most of the Christians do, is to sit down and build a guilt by spoiling this part of the Chakra here.

It's amazing how it has come to us, this guilt. Perhaps the psychologists or confessions, I don't know what it has been. They' ae guilty in imagination. And that part is very sad, that does not help.

You are not to be guilty, you are the Spirit. What crime Spirit can do? Nothing! Only you have to get out of it, to become that.

That's what we are going to have. And let us work it out. We have some new people over here. I'm sure it is going to work out.

But for all the new people now, I have to say one thing that Sahaj Yoga is not a thing you just go for a program and get out. It's dangerous. If you get your Realisation and still you do not recognize Sahaj Yoga, will be very difficult for you to come back to Sahaj Yoga.

So, please understand that if you have found the way, do not lose it. Try to follow it. I have nothing to gain from you. It is you who has to gain; that's your right, better have it.

May God bless you all.

About these Chakras and all that we've got some papers, which you can see yourself and read and you can understand. Is there? So, let us, put your hands like this and we'll work it out.

Go an' let her off.

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Is working out.

Are you feeling the Cool Breeze? Are you? Good. Today I'm talking about! Absolutely about this [UNCLEAR post awareness]. This is not on faith.

You'll get it. It's working out. You'll get it.

Can you see that. It's working out.

[Away from the microphone:] Gavin, She doesn't feel it. Send her to collective.

Some of you want to thank him...

Something and congratulating. Those who want to speak can come and speak. Sit down. Dawn or you want to say something? As to the [UNCLEAR gate], five of them speak of Me.

Gentleman: I'll do it.

Shri Mataji: Bala made some more from the [UNCLEAR food].

Gavin Brown: I just got that [UNCLEAR birch no... notice]. Congratulations, so a great personal happening and I'm sure I speak for all Sahaj Yogis when I say how fortunate we are to have such a responsible man giving us the example of, not only a responsibility in worldly sense, which is very obvious from your position. But also, I feel it should be said: it's only through your sense of responsibility in relation to Mātājī's spiritual work, that has permitted us to get our Realisation. I don't think people realise how much you've done for Sahaj Yoga, how much you still do for it.

Without your personal generosity, Mother would not have been able to travel to-and-fro between the different centers where Sahaj Yoga has been established. And many of our early meetings would not have been held without your kind support and your tolerance of our demands on your Wife's time. I think all of us wish to express our gratitude and our appreciation of your kindness in that respect.

And I'd like to add my personal; good wishes for your continued success in this responsible work position, as well.

Bala Kanayson: Mātājī, Uncle... Coming from Singapore, I have been taught to call my elders `uncle' and `aunty', but since Mātājī is our Mother, I think we would actually be calling you `father'. And I must say that the previous speakers have already said most of what I would like to say. But I come from Birmingham and I'm speaking on behalf of the Birmingham South Yogis and also of North Watford, I think. And the fact that you have been elected and that Mātājī, being your Wife, on the physical plane has come here and has given Realisation to the numerous seekers in this country and even I have come all the way from Singapore to get my Realisation here, is something we just can't express our gratitude for. It is lifetimes that we have spent towards this day, when we have [UNCLEAR as sweet, all belongs] having as our Guru, Mātājī and we're been given this fulfilment of realisation of our Spirit and of our true nature. And I know there will be thousands more who will get It in this country and throughout the world.

And I'm extremely grateful to you, because it is surely you and your overall being that has caused you to be elected again for the next five years. Which, in my selfish way I'm ashamed thankful for, because that means Mātājī will be here and we all are thankful for that as well. And especially for tonight for giving us this treat, which will fill our stomachs and make us quite happy as well... and for bringing Mātājī here and keeping Her for another five years, thank you.

Shri Mataji: She's somehow changed. Please come all the way in front.

Sahaja Yogini [with Australian/New Zealand accent]: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji [questions]: [UNCLEAR].

Sahaja Yogi [answers]: [UNCLEAR].

Sir C.P.: Dear Sahaja Yogis and Sahaja Yoginis, I am very, very grateful for all the kind words that have been spoken about me. And I'm truly delighted that you find it a source of happiness that my Wife should stay on here for a further five years. I now see how many good wishes there were [UNCLEAR depenishing] those who wanted to reelect me and I'm sure it was because of your will and your desire that my Wife should stay on here, that they had to reelect me.

I want to thank you very much for this evening. It's a great pleasure and privilege to be with you and I say this because you represent the fulfilment in some way of the dreams and ambitions of my Wife.

She has been wanting for many years to spread a message and the only person who stood in the way was myself. And we had [UNCLEAR brenniered] until my daughters grew up and got married, She would have to [UNCLEAR about turn] to the [UNCLEAR how do you think tank/tactic]. It was my own vision responsibility to devote the time and her [UNCLEAR] towards my children. I love them very much as I do still, but only a mother can really spark the children. Oh she did. They grew up and got married.

And thereafter kept my word, I said “Now the time had come and if You wish to go out into the world and propound Your message, by all means I'm with You." And She has been expressing Herself and I'm very proud of Her. And it just happens that what wish you, you can well understand my feelings. She will be here. That will be for the next five years. I know how much your will [UNCLEAR meant] today for me, for many years more to come.

In my own way trying to help the world myself. That in the maritime fields. An organization like Hers beats the Maritime Organization of the United Nations system. And based on global cooperation.

And [UNCLEAR this is my way] through the governance of this organization, is that we must all work together; we must not attack each other. Between the developed world and developing world there should be understanding, good will, cooperation; not confrontation. Because confrontation does not lead to betterment.

You see in some way it means [UNCLEAR umfebruaranz. But is beyond dreary and stanish have noises and idea develop] and working together then the world can be [UNCLEAR for...] I'm not talking about the material world but the spiritual world. Spiritual world with [UNCLEAR] mine is the mundane world. And I'm very bring to you that this, Shri Mataji at least is accepted in the organization that [UNCLEAR]. There are many countries which are poor, many countries that, not in [UNCLEAR] but to the direction, that all of them are working in a nice way, in a spirit of mutual good-will and competition.

And it's probably because of the philosophy which I propound, that they found it possible by unanimity to give me yet another term, another opportunity to continue serve the world maritime community, an even [UNCLEAR being] the world.

I'm very happy that they [UNCLEAR got ourself a home] and I know that you are happier still, not because I have been reelected but because this Lady next to me [UNCLEAR presents us as] individual.

I can assure you that She will be here, She will be with you and She will be with [UNCLEAR whoever...] and with family that you are building up, all I can say, may you work like a [UNCLEAR feast] and this world become a better place to live in. May all [UNCLEAR] that we are all brothers and sisters on this day, whatever the colour of our skin. And whatever [UNCLEAR]. Thank you all very much for this.

Shri Mataji: Did you hear [UNCLEAR everything]? I don't know what to say [UNCLEAR about/after] this. I must say that if this kind of a thing starts working out in the whole world, then people will take to Sahaja Yoga, because they will see that the root it has the sustaining power, you see, as a, as a tree grows the fruit has to come up well, that's the very thing that has happened to you. And always you get this work, organization is made in office, that's the same thing office [UNCLEAR] possessed and [UNCLEAR] also.

So even before Realisation, people can break through everything and why not after realisation? Thank you very much. [Applause.] All of you are [UNCLEAR.../very happy].

Contents: 1980-11-13*, Public Program, What Makes People Happy, Stratford, UK

I have already told you how it works out. Now what are you living for, you have to think about. Is it just for earning money, earning more, putting some money in the bank, or for insurance? Are you working for that? If money was everything, then you will have been the happiest people here because even if you are not working, you can get money in England, no problem. But that's not the last thing. Those people who have less money could be much happier than the people who have money.

Sometimes money can give you a headache, you see and a kind of a intoxication.

Then what is it that makes human beings happy? When I walk on the streets, say in the West End if I walk, I find the people in West End are not at all happy, while in East End they are happier people, no doubt, because perhaps they know how to live with little less than what is required and all the West End people want to always have more and more than what they require. Perhaps they are more worried how to get more things. East End I've been always visiting and somehow I have a great faith that here in East End one day it will come that lots of seekers will be born in this part.

As it is, I feel that human beings do not know one fundamental truth, that you are not determined.

You are not the sum, for your physical, mental, emotional life, but you are designed for spiritual. The whole design of the human being is created to enjoy your spiritual life and not material life. This is the basic, basic thing human beings don't understand and that's why, if they knew this fundamental thing, they would seek their spirit first and they would not seek other things, because if that is the thing which is going to give us the complete enrichment and nourishment and also the fulfilment, then why run after the things which do not determine our life? All physicals, for example, this building we built, all right? Now, this building we built with stones and, say, mortars and other things and electricity is put in, the lights are brought in and the whole design is made. But why? Because there is a subtle purpose behind this building. If that purpose is not there, this building is useless. It will be just a haunting place. There would be no-one visiting this place if there is no spiritual life, if there is no spirit behind it. The purpose, the spirit, is the purpose. The purpose of human life is the spirit and not the purpose that we seek.

Now what we do actually with ourselves is that when the purpose is the spirit, all of our energy we are wasting for something that is purposeless. Like, somebody who was interested only in counting these pillars, what will you call him? Or who will start counting these nice fittings, what do you call such a man? That, this is not the thing you are supposed to do here. What are you supposed to do here is to come for the purpose for which this building is built.

So, if you understand this fundamental thing, that the purpose of human being is spiritual, the whole universe is created to create human beings, for what? To be a part of these stones and the mortars? It is to become that spirit which is within you.

So, once you understand our purpose, then we can talk about it.

Now, you may say that, “How do You say that it is the Spirit?" That is the most important. What is the proof, you see. All the scientists may say that, “What is the proof of it?" Now with all your science, with all your advancement and all that so-called affluence and all that human beings are so egoistically boasting about, I have yet to see people who are really happy in that. They are not happy. Is a very simple thing. I mean, you reach a certain conclusion then, that what you have done is not the purpose. If that was the purpose, there would have been proof in it. That shows that that is not the purpose of your coming on this earth.

For example, somebody says, “All right, I want to have lots of money, lots of power and lots of enjoyment." But if you go and see the face, face of that person, it looks like somebody who is worn out, who is absolutely like a dead personality. There's no joy on his face. He is not enjoying himself. See, the richest man on the earth, go and ask him. He'll say, “I've a headache. I don't know what to do with myself." All those people like that lady, wife of, say, Kennedy, just look at her. She's every time, whenever she has an interview, what she says is her hankering, her unfulfilled desires. She's taking about that. You see, Mr. Ford who was a very great man, with lots of money, you go and ask him and he says that he doesn't know what to do with his money, that's all.

So, once you understand from this that the purpose of the building of human being is not the body, the mind, is not even the emotions; it is something beyond, which you cannot see. By coming here, you do not see the purpose of this building, do you? What you see exactly are these pillars or these walls or these roofs. But do you see the purpose of this building here? No. But is written somewhere, this is the purpose of this building. Once you see the purpose of this building, written somewhere, by some authority, has to be an authority, then you understand why you are here and what purpose it is going to serve and how you are going to work it out.

So, once you know that the purpose of our existence as human beings is the spirit, the whole thing has been worked out on this principle that you are going to be the spirit. You are created for that. Everything, everything that you do is for the purpose of the spirit and not for anything else.

There are so many ways by which you understand that the purpose of your existence, that determines your existence, is that. For example, we have had people on this earth who talked of spirit. They said, “You have to be born again to be the spirit." They have talked, not only Christ, not only in India, not only in China. Everywhere we have been having people who have been saying that you have to know your spirit. You have to have your Self-realisation. You are to be born again. Everyone is saying that. It's not only that I say it, but every one of them are saying.

Now, those who were fake people, those who came for a short time, those who try to put the attention on something else, were found out in no time. For example, Rasputin; he came in. He talked of lots of things. He is lost. Now nobody bothers about Rasputin. Then came, say, for example, Hitler. He came.

People were enamoured by him. Oh, Hitler is great. The whole nation was enamoured. All the nations at that time were talking of Hitler, thinking he was very powerful. When he died, people are saying he was a very, very cruel and a brutal person. He was Satanic.

So there were these [UNCLEAR brands or plans] and these characters, or this type of people who came on this earth who were anti-Spirit. Those who did not talk of the spirit died out and though you may have [UNCLEAR read] their statues or do anything, but nobody goes and bows to it. Nobody is bothered to know about it. They are finished. Nobody thinks that they were great or that they were of any use, or they are to be revered.

So, a human being doesn't revere all such people.

Now, we have so many statues in India. We have seen them.

So many statues are there. Will you go and prostrate before them? You do not. We do not think that that is the worth of these big [UNCLEAR statue/statues].

Once I went to see a very big castle in India, in Agra, which is a very famous castle and this castle was occupied by very, very big emperors, Mogul emperors who lived there, who built it and they had huge, big [UNCLEAR retina/retinue] of servants and other lords and all that used to come there and big, huge halls, beautifully made with all kinds of mirror work and what you call, the embroidered things and [UNCLEAR also or all so] beautifully carved. Every sort of an art was there, working, worked out and which had made it look very beautiful and nice. And we all went there to see it as a tourist place and everybody goes there to see that.

And it so happened that we had a guide who was telling us and it became very late in the night and it became absolutely dark and we lost our way a little and there was no light anywhere. It was all dark, completely dark and we had to find our way out and I felt the whole place is just haunted. There is no-one, there is no-one who is, who is existing in that place, as if it was a dead place and the whole place showed Me how these people were there living in all lavishness, drinking, indulging into all kinds of vices and very egoistical and arrogant and talking to each other with such arrogance. I felt all that they were there and all in the dead and nobody felt that there should be one light in that area. Not even a single light. And somehow we managed, you see, to crawl out and then we saw a little light flickering from outside.

So, we went up to that light and we saw it was a little light was coming through a door that was closed and we opened the door and we thought we were out. We knew that we were outside of the castle.

And that light was on a grave and we saw that there was a man near the grave.

So, we asked, “Whose grave is this?" He said, “He was a Fakir. He was a realised Soul and he was a great Fakir and this has been here much before this castle was built and every night we put the light. All the time there is light for him on this." And the name of the thing was, also he was so ancient that he did not properly know the name of that Fakir. And I said, “The vibrations of that place was tremendous [UNCLEAR]." And they said that people just come here and touch this and their problems are solved. And it's such a beautiful place. It was desolate in a way that it was not so decorated as it was, but in the night, it was light.

That shows that which is the place which has an eternal value, is the purpose, purpose of life and the purpose of life is spirit and that I could see there. Just in a very small little corner outside that castle was that grave of a man who may have been a very small tiny-miny person, the way the grave was and here is the light, burning. For ages now, nobody knows; but there is the light.

There are so many other ways that by which human beings have to realise that it is the spirit that we have to achieve. We are made for the spirit and not for the other things so-called more [UNCLEAR]. All the universe and universes were created only for creating the human being, who would ultimately know his spirit. They are now going to the Saturn and then going on to the moon and they will go to all the places. But what about going to your own spirit? When are you going to go there, which is your purpose? Is it your purpose to go to the Saturn? What are you going to get out of it? They are spending such a lot of money and so much they are launching and all that. I just laugh at them. What about seeking your self, which has been told by so many people. These are the people who are truthful, who have shown us the true path of truth and they have told us we have to seek your self. They were not lying us. They were not telling us false thing. But what I find, when their disciples come in, when they're, I mean, you see, the people who are their followers, they come in, what they do is to start a kind of a cult, or a kind of a so-called religion, which stops the seeking first of all. The first thing they do is to freeze your seeking completely. I mean, I can't understand. For example, Christ has said, “Seek ye your self. You are to be born again." I mean, He said it off and on and off and on. And I would like to know, which church does that? Same about Indians. In India, this thing, I mean, if you read any book which is scripture they say that you have to seek your self. You have to get your Ātmā sākṣhātkar, means your Self-realisation. That's the aim of it. But what they do is the so-called Brahmins and so-called people in charge of so-called Hindu religion are teaching nothing but ritualism, some sort of a nonsense which has no meaning.

Same about Islam. You can see the fanatics, terrible fanatics coming out of it. How can religion be a fanaticism? I just can't understand at this level of mind, but I do not know how to explain. You see, for Hindus, their gods are the highest; for Muslims, Mohammed is the last; for Christians, Christ is the only One. I just can't understand how can they say such a nonsensical thing. From where did they get these [UNCLEAR idea/ideas]? Just to fight with each other. They must find out some way. And I think the reason must be that people always unite if you have to hate someone. If you are to love someone, then people never unite.

So, it's better to say that, “This is the best” so that the rest is all nonsensical and you take something like the best and hold on to it and just start to propound it as, “This is the best. This is the best” and that's how you will organize it. But all of them are the best. Which part of your body is not the best? They are all flowers of the same tree, and, why, we are just plucking them and holding on to them and saying, “This is the best and that is the best and the one you have got in your hand is a dead flower." The living force is in the Tree, in the “Tree of Life” which is described [in the Bible].

Where is the seeking gone? The seeking is lost, because such a clamp has come. Now when a man has started thinking, he starts thinking, “Oh. God! These people!

They talk of God; and look at them, how they are. They are so money minded. They try to own the properties, this, that. How are, where is the spirit?" And so they go against and they think, “Oh, this is all nonsense." They cannot respect, you see.

So, a new type of people have started saying, “There is no God. There is no spirit. It's all nonsense. These people are just trying to make money out of us. They are parasites.

So, forget them." Both are equally wrong. There is God. There is spirit within us and the time has come for us to know the spirit. This is what I've come to tell you here.

Of course, some of you have been with Me for days together, as Maureen has said, that she has found something. What has she found? This, her spirit. She, like many other young people, have been really of the category of seekers. There are real human beings who are seeking. I mean, they are born like that.

They are seekers. They are not seekers of anything else but of spirit. Perhaps they do not know, but they are that category, that they are seekers. Even if they take to drugs or to anything, they do it for the sake of seeking. And there are many, many young people in every country.

We had one from Algeria, a young fellow, who came down here and got his realisation. He went back and told about five hundred young people, who were very well-educated and all that. He told that there is a spirit within us. Because they had denounced, all these young people had denied. They said, “Look at these mullahs. What are they doing? They are teaching us fanaticism. They are teaching us destruction.

How can there be God? How can there be Mohammed and all that? It's all nonsense. We don't believe in religion." And they had taken to communism.

Some of them have become so violent and there could have been anything like a national front sort of nonsense or some sort of a thing like that. And these people, when they heard him saying that, “There is the spirit. There is the God and you have to find him” they were amazed because this boy was a aeronautic engineer and they were surprised how could he say such a thing. They turned round and they also found. That is how all these differences are going to vanish, because spirit is the universal being within us. We become the spirit. It's the question of becoming, not just giving you a sermon, calling you, “Here. All right, come and confess and then take one bread and finished." It's something that really has to happen within you. Now, as I said, the whole construction has been done with the full understanding that you have to become the spirit.

So, don't you think that even human beings who are quite confused, when they build something they never forget the purpose of the building? The whole universe and this earth that produced human beings, the whole creation, has been for the purpose of making you know your spirit. Do you mean to say that all is going to fail? That it has not worked, nothing within us, that it is you who are going to see and you are the one who are going to sort of oblige God by seeking Him? Is it that He has not made all the [UNCLEAR] arrangements within you by which you get it yourself? After all, He has made you a human being. Or you have made yourself. I mean, you don't see any man making himself a human being out of a monkey. He has made you a human being and He is going to make you something higher. You cannot put in any effort into it.

As Maureen has said, that we understand only physical Yoga. I don't know from where this nonsense has come in the west that Yoga means only physical exercises. I mean, I don't know if people in the west are going to join a circus or some sort of a cinema show, that they are all the time busy doing all these acrobatic, useless things thinking that they are going to reach God. This is to be understood that through physical being you are not going to meet Him.

Many people have an idea that if you give some money to someone you can, you can get God. Many people are like that. There are so many foolish people. Even in England, there was a Guru who said that, “If you give me a Rolls-Royce I'll come from America” and there are such stupid and mad people that they starved themselves and got a Rolls-Royce for him. He has already fifty-eight. They bought one more for him and he came down here and they gave him the Rolls-Royce. And when people said, “What's this nonsense going on? Why should you give him these Rolls-Royce to get the spirit?" She said, “He gives us spirit and we give him just a metal. Now, can you exchange?" For example, now, you have built this house with all these things. By building all these things, did you feel the purpose? First, you have to have the purpose. You have to create the whole building and then achieve the purpose. That is the way the pattern of the whole condition is. First, is the spirit; then the whole body and all that is created. Through your attention, you have to know the spirit. It is that way you are created and the whole pattern is made inside your being, which is placed in the spinal cord of a human being, which shows how he has evolved and all that is not here to show you, but these people can give you some charts and things for the new people who are here and most of you know all about it. You share a story.

But now, the trouble I find with human beings is that it is very difficult to convince them. I mean, they want to be convinced. For what? I just don't understand. What do you want to be convinced about? You are not paying any money here. There's no shop to convince them. It's like they think I should tell them, `This sells better,' or, `That sells better.' [UNCLEAR This] you have to ask for it. That's the vicious circle. They don't want to ask for it. They think I should fall at their feet and say, `Oh, please take your Self-realisation.' We cannot understand something that is beyond, beyond your power to achieve.

So, once you know that, then you have to ask, isn't it? Supposing there's a rich man. Well, this may, people may understand, a very gross example. Supposing there's a very rich man and that there's a man who is not rich. Now, he goes to this very, very rich man and he, he wants the rich man to convince the very ordinary man. For what? The, the other fellow wants some money. Now, what should he convince them? I mean, if you want to have the money, then it is you who has to ask for it, isn't it? Or the person has to convince you: “Oh, please take the money. I beg of you. Please take it. I love to give you money." Do they do like this? In a very gross way, but you understand, while the person who is spiritually enjoying does want some, but it wants that everybody should enjoy. Because he's not a moneyed man; he is a person with compassion and love.

So, because of the compassion and love that he has, he has or she has, the enjoyment is not complete unless and until you give it and that's why such a person wants to share. The difference between a moneyed man and a person who is spiritually very much endowed is this, that one wants to share and give and without sharing he is [UNCLEAR]. It wants to create a way of sharing and that is the reason why such a person may sound convincing. But actually, it is you who has to ask. You have to ask.

Now, there are so many ways by which one can try to convince and that conviction is this, that you see with your naked eye the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī.

Some of you who have come very recently may not have seen, but all of you, those who are been with Me now, have seen the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī in the triangular bone. They have seen this power, this residual power, pulsating, with their own eyes. They have seen the pulsation rising. They have seen the pulsation entering into the fontanelle bone area and they have seen the baptism acting in the actual, real living way, that this portion becomes really soft and then you start getting the Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost flowing from here. This is what should happen to us. Without that, all, everything that we have done, all God has created, is all a waste; it's useless; it has no meaning. It's foolish, stupid, I feel sometimes, the way people are wasting their time and wasting [UNCLEAR their energy]. Once you get that, once you get to that, then the rest of thing works out, beautifully.

So [UNCLEAR a place]. I will give you another example of a Prime Minister who died [UNCLEAR in India] and somehow I happened to be with them because My husband was his Secretary.

So, I, we went through the whole thing and in India the custom is to put all the remains in a big pot and they take it around.

So, because he was Prime Minister they put that in a very nice, big jar, or you can say, the water carriers, huge big, two water carriers made of nice metal and inside was put all the remains of the Prime Minister.

Now, the train had to go from Delhi to Benares, to immerse that in the River Ganges. On the way, it was quite dark and it was very, very cold. It was the month of January or February, February, it was, when we were passing through that cold weather and the people were standing on the road. I mean, we should say, they allowed the railway lines throughout. Imagine! Throughout Delhi to Benares, at least must be, it is at least six hundred miles or so. Not a single place was there where there were people who were not standing, to see what? He was not there. Nothing. They could only see those vessels. That's all they could see. I mean, there was nothing to be seen, but they were all lined up and they were also coming and falling to grab those two vessels that were there. There was nothing else. His remains were also inside, but they were going to that vessel that they could see, because inside was the purpose of it.

Now, when we went to Benares the thing was all immersed into the River Ganges. The thing was washed with that water and everything was cleansed out and they took out these two big water carriers, these vessels, outside. And then I was amazed to see that they were pushed on one side. They were lying somewhere and there were two bhoots were standing on top of them and nobody even noticed where they were lying. Nobody bothered. It had no purpose any more. It's finished. It's done. Nobody is bothered, where they're lying, what they are doing. Nobody's bothered. On the way, imagine! On the six hundred miles, it was completely covered the whole night, people were standing even with lanterns, to see that, just to pay homage, to what? But the purpose? There is a spirit within us, which understands the spirit of that. Once that is lost, it's not to be seen. Nobody's bothered about it. Nobody even looked at it and there were bhoots standing on top; they were under the bellies of the bhoots there. I just [UNCLEAR]. I said, “Look at this. It has lost its purpose. It has no [UNCLEAR]." Are we leading our life the same? We have to find. Are we leading our life without any purpose? But once the purpose is found out then the whole universe starts working because you are designed for it.

So, the whole universe starts working for that design and then you get the blessings of various type. Every type of blessing and that is what you choose. Then you do not become overrich, no. That's not the blessing, but you become as rich as should be very satisfying to the spirit.

Then you become more satisfied and the problems are solved. Every sort of problems are solved.

But so many Sahaja Yogis feel that Sahaja Yoga is for solving problems, all which are of a very mundane nature. Sahaja Yoga is for giving you spiritual light. Is not for solving your problems, but as a result the problems are solved. As a result you get all right. Your health improves, of course. You give up all your bad habits and all that [UNCLEAR habits/happens]. I mean, it's a tremendous thing and all the transformation starts flowing. It just works out that way because, see, tomorrow this place can be absolutely vacant. Nobody could be here. It's useless. There's no lights, nothing, nothing.

But then the purpose is, supposing of this, to have a meeting. Everything goes up. Lights go up.

Everything's spread out, everything clean, everything organized. In the same way, once you have your purpose established, everything that is topsy-turvy, in confusion, this way or that way, gets into its proper shapes and you get transformed. Now, there are many people like Maureen who are here, who were all lost people. I should say, really lost. And they found their way. But to them, also, they must understand that the spirit is the most important. Not the other things, that all our problems should be solved if you are with the spirit. You see, people start, you see, so many people get jobs; they get money; they get lots of success in many things; they get married; they get children; they have blessings, this, that. But still, they don't understand. This is happening because you have become one with the Divine. The Divine is giving you blessings. Still, they do not understand that. That is the thing. Immediately, if supposing some still goes wrong with someone or something: “Oh, look at this Sahaja Yoga. With Sahaja Yoga, it has gone wrong” because after some time your testing starts. The Spirit starts testing. It gives you certain temptations. You have seen, even Christ had to go through, who was spirit Himself. He had to go through the temptations of the Satan.

So, the temptations come in to see how far you go. Then people start saying, “Oh, look at this. This is going wrong with Sahaja Yoga; this is going wrong with Sahaja Yoga." According to some of you, even Sahaja Yogis, who are just halfway baked, I would say, they are not yet fully mature, they want a ship to be built, beautifully, then to be launched. But the sea has to be absolutely smooth, you see, absolutely smooth and the ship should just go balancing. It should not face the sea. Then how do you prove it is seaworthy? The seaworthy ship has to have the facing power, of all kinds of storms. Here, you are not to see the storms; you have to see the quality of the ship. You have to find out what is the quality of the ship that is being now evolved, transformed. Is it facing? And that's why people fail in Sahaja Yoga, also. Of course, with this being the real thing, it has to be very few.

[UNCLEAR Today/Then] we went to the market to buy some things and even woolen, real woolen clothes were very few.

So, I thought something is happening even when Sahaja Yoga the same way. It's been too real. It starts. It's few. I started with, I think, six people only. One of them was Maureen or four, yes. Then I started working it out and now you have seen in East End how many people have come. But these one or two, whatever this is the number, is going to start and once it starts, because it's a living thing, if they work it out with that understanding that you are for your spirit, they will start working it out within themselves. Then they would like to share it with others. Once they start sharing, it starts expanding and increasing and improving, because that is the purpose. What is the purpose of this [UNCLEAR Kali Yuga or Kuṇḍalinī] is to get enlightened. Once it is enlightened, then what does it do? Nothing. It does the purpose. It gives you the light. Finished! Then the purpose is filled and there's no more seeking. It just gives the light and that is what it is. But the trouble is, human beings have really, some of them have really spoilt their being quite a lot, within themselves. Through the tensions of life, through the whole ideas about life, through their old indulgences, I would say, through ignorance, following wrong type of people, filthy things, going to wrong sorts of life, there are problems within. Doesn't matter.

When the light is there you see the problems very clearly and you know also how to cure them and [UNCLEAR]. But remember, you have to be the spirit. That's the main part of it.

So, gradually, the spirit itself shows through your collective happening, that you become collectively conscious. The thing starts flowing in you and you start feeling on your fingers where are the problems and these are decoded nicely in Sahaja Yoga and you know that, if this is catching, then that is, means you have ego. Now, if you have ego, what to do, how to get rid of it, what to say, is, you know, how to work it out.

Now, ego is something. Normally, if you say to somebody, “You have ego” he'll give you another punch to prove that he has a big one. But the Sahaja Yogis are different type. They'll tell you, they come and tell Me, “Mother, please take away this colossal ego I have, this [UNCLEAR]” because you start seeing it as a separate thing. You do not think that you are ego. You say, “Oh, this terrible thing, please take out” or, “This I don't want." So, this Mister Ego vanishes, but in the beginning be careful; don't tell anybody you have ego. We have other names, you see, code names for that. Otherwise, you will be punched, you see, very nicely and have a black eye. Needs to be careful. Gradually the same people when they improve, they start finding out about others. And there are ways, you see, nice, with the Sanskrit. You see it's a very good way that the Sanskrit words are there, so that nobody knows what's the reason [UNCLEAR], how you cure the people without they knowing about it. It just works out, you see. Like children, if you have to give them castor oil, you put a coat on that and you can manage it. It's like that.

So, it works out. It changes you completely, transforms; it has to transform you. After all, it's such a dynamic thing.

Now, there's no end to it. I would say that just now only thing you should ask for is realisation. Get it; work it out, but just don't slip. It's not like going to Hamstrich, shopping, something and then throwing it somewhere and getting another thing. It's not a fashion or anything. It's a steady stream of spiritual life which you should have. Without that, nothing is important. Everything is a waste. It's a wasteland and if you have to understand the meaning of your being there, you have to get your Self-realisation; you have to get it.

First, the people who are ardently seeking will get it, not the people who are not seeking. Those who are seeking other things, might get.

Some people who are sick might get well, finished.

Some people who are seeking, say, mental or physical, will be all right, finished. But, those who are seeking the spirit will get permanently everything else, plus the blessings of the spirit, which is your purpose [UNCLEAR].

May God bless you.

[UNCLEAR].

So now, those who are new for the first time, please raise your hands. Come on out.

You have been here with Me before. Daughter, one, two, you have been, yes, three. Now and we have all of them are realised Souls. Can you imagine? It's good thing, very good.

[UNCLEAR]. Just put your hands like this. Just like this. Put your both [UNCLEAR your or the] feet straight on the Mother Earth. Just like that. Now.

[Long silence.] Close your eyes. Please close them. All of you, close your eyes.

Contents: 1980-11-16 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, The New Age, Seminar, Plawhatch Hall, UK

Seminars like this are very useful because then you can pick out people who are very seriously interested in Sahaja Yoga who are dedicated, who have passion for Sahaja Yoga, who feel that it is the most important thing of life.

Now, you must have realised, that you are the people who are the men of God and women of God. And that you have to be prepared, to take this banner of New Age, of transforming Sahaja Yoga into Mahā Yoga, into a vast area of spirituality. You are the channels and you are going to generate this energy. If you were just channels, then your responsibility would have been much less.

But Sahaja Yoga is a very different type of a living process. Perhaps you might have noticed it, that once you receive your realisation firstly it starts transforming you. Then it starts transforming others. By your presence you start transforming them, By your existence, you start transforming the atmosphere, the subtler problems of negativity, they all work out. Like a tree, when it is blossoming, the fragrance of the blossom creates a different type of aura, around itself, that it attracts all the bees around to gather the honey. In the same way, when a person is realised, is enlightened, the area spreads and you start getting people attracted towards you. You have to remember few points about Sahaja Yoga, that you receive the light first, the second step is that you generate the light, It is never done in any other process, that you generate the light, on your own, with your will, with your understanding, with your freedom. For example a tree may give rise to seeds and seeds might become trees. But seeds do not regenerate, they do not have a will. Because here the seeds are human beings. Only the human beings have the will. Now you've been enlightened with your will. With your will you can regenerate, or you would say, you can generate on your own Sahaja Yoga to go further. It's a very subtle understanding, that when a light comes, into this candle, it cannot regenerate of it's will any other; somebody else has to take it to that.

So your will is very important in Sahaja Yoga. “What do you will." That is very, very important.

Now will does not mean `desire'. Will means `desire put into action'.

So what you do is to desire and then you put it into action. You can do it. First of all you have to know that we must have desire. That is there no doubt, You are categorically seekers. I mean you are that category, you are born as seekers, you cannot get out of it. You are seekers. Whatever may be your problems, from whatever source you might have come, whatever mistakes you may make, commit, but you are seekers. Seekers are seekers. For example in this room if you see how many lights there are? At the most 6 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, you see, in both the rooms put together.

In this room only 5. Everybody is not a light. You are the light givers and it is going to work out through your will.

So how powerful our will should be? How dedicated we should be about our will? That, one has to know, you have to fathom out that will within you. Once you start doing this Sahaja Yoga, then you recognize how important is Sahaja Yoga that it gives a real meaning to the whole creation, in the eyes of God and Divine Power. That has to work out, that's the purpose of life. And surprisingly it is left to your will, not to My will. I've no will, I've no action.

So it is your will, which is going to work it out.

So you have to dedicate. And now you have to weigh yourself: How much I'm willed? The seminars help you to see how much you really will that Sahaja Yoga should be `successful'. This is the second thing.

To make it successful, what should we do? We must understand the basics of Sahaja Yoga and try to see within ourselves `do we understand the basics and do we have those qualities by which we sustain those basics?' The first basic of Sahaja Yoga is that you have to become your Spirit, so that your body emits the powers of Spirit alone. This is the first basic of Sahaja Yoga.

So far, in all the religions, `all' the great books, even Bible or Gītā, it is written that you must have faith. You must have faith. `Faith' word was never clarified in anyone of these books and mostly people thought blind faith is the only way to believe, is to have blind faith. It should have been clarified. But it was kept a great term as: faith. They do use: Blind faith and faith.

So the people started working it out, for example you are walking on the road and you say I was thinking of God and suddenly I found a gold ring, so that my faith was substantiated that it is God who has helped me to get the gold ring. Or say that there was a divorce or something like that and I prayed to God and the divorce did not take place; it is God's help. But this kind of praying can have another side, people can say that the people who do not believe in God at all are quite successful.

Then how do you explain that? They have no faith, they are actually heathens, they are very successful in life.

So how do you explain that side? Sahaja Yoga has another very great thing, that is, it is revelation of all the great terms that were used before. Because people were not given realisation, one could not talk of faith, or blind faith and the real faith. Because if they do not have their eyes how can you tell them about the light or the darkness? So that time the faith was sustenance: How to sustain yourself? The second was to have faith that you will be resurrected, that you will be your Spirit.

Now the third stage is today, to know that realisation gives you experiences and then your faith is established. Not blind, but `open enlightened faith'. For example you come into this house and see for yourself what it is. And then have faith in that, that it is so. Believe in that, that you've seen it now you've seen `sākṣhāt'. To have sākṣhāt means to get the whole thing which you've felt through your organs, five organs of perception. It's as clear as sunlight to prove it.

So this way is the real thing, no conjecture, no just talking about it.

So all these words that were used in the scriptures are a, revelation'. It means in `actual' life you've `seen' these things happening. Like I say [UNCLEAR] Ha and the Kuṇḍalinī goes up, you've seen it many a times. I say [UNCLEAR] Ha and you start feeling. That only by saying `Ha' and `Hoo' and `Hee' you get the vibrations. It is `absolutely' there, now you can see for yourself. There is no just `that it would not work out or may work out, may not work out, may be true, may not be true.' All these things are not there. It's true absolutely.

But first and foremost is: `You have to become your spirit.' Without knowing the Spirit you cannot know God. But the Spirit itself is a sensitive thing. It is there no doubt, it stays there no doubt, but that it should, shine in your attention. You have to know that your attention has to be congenial to the Spirit. If the attention is not congenial, then the Spirit doesn't shine. Spirit will shine on an attention which is steady. Steady it by balancing, you bring a steady state. Balance your thoughts, balance your eyes, balance your desires. Try to balance it. Ego and superego; you balance it. Attention is balanced very much like that.

Now how do you do with your will? First of all you desire and then you act. Where am I going? What am I doing? I am a seeker. Is this the thing I have to do as a seeker? immediately balance will come.

So this balancing has to come; foremost thing is to balance yourself. Any extreme behaviour must be balanced.

Any extreme attitude towards life must be brought down. Now, here we find that the will acts to oppose and in an opposite direction. For example people become obstinate. They do not want to accept that we have to balance and they say, “Oh! I am alright” and they'll give all explanations to show they are alright. For whom are you giving the explanations? You are fighting with yourself. Why? Because you are not yet integrated fully within yourself.

So the second point is the integration. Integration of your attention, Integration comes in when you do some thing, you wish the same thing, you enjoy the same thing. If you want something else, then you find integration is also wobbly in your attention. But if you want your Spirit, you just want your Spirit to be happy. Spirit is always happy. How are you going to make the Spirit happy? Only thing when you say, you want the Spirit to be happy, what you are saying is this, that you want your attention to be happy.

If you keep your attention happy and cheerful, completely integrated with your being, not with your ego.

This is where the discretion has to be used.

So from balancing and integration we go to third point, is discretion because you are very senior members of Sahaja Yoga, very senior students. And now you know how to be discreet. What to take, what not to take.

It's very easy to criticise others, it's very easy to say others are wrong, but it should be the easiest to see what is wrong with you because you cannot correct others, you can only correct yourself. It's as simple as that! Like a daughter is married to another man, now supposing there is any problem between the two, it's better to tell your daughter than to tell the other man because she is your own. In the same way it is better to correct yourself than to correct others. It's the easiest thing to correct yourself if you could look at your ego which is stopping it. And who is the gainer? Who is the person who receives the benediction and the bliss of Sahaja Yoga? So the old habits that are within us which gives us obstinacy, must be seen with great discretion and now with all this training in Sahaja Yoga, you should be able to see even rationally the discretion part of it. I've seen people who go by a same road all the time are extremely discreet, they know how to turn, which turn to miss and which turn to take and how to reach. That's the sign of your maturity.

So you have to be discreet. Another thing is that you have your vibrations there to teach you discretion. But sometimes you may be missing them.

So with rationality if you discriminate and try to find out what is wrong, where am I going wrong, you will very easily understand that this part I am doing wrong and better check myself and nobody else. Because you are driving your own car. You can only control your brakes and not the brakes of another person. It's such a funny situation that people are driving every body else's car but not their own.

So with discretion you will know how to correct yourself even rationally. Now your rationality is absolutely logical. Before, this, rationality was illogical. But now with integration your rationality becomes logical and it tells you “No, this is wrong, this cannot be." You know about everything now. Practically everything. I do not think there is anything that requires information for you people.

Means you just try to think about something and you will get the answer. That's all in your brain. It's opened up, only thing that I said, develop your discretion. If you are indiscreet then you must develop it, you must grow up, you must mature.

So then we go from discretion to understanding, that when we discriminate and find out things, what you have to do is to find our own fault, correct them discreetly.

Why tell about others? What are we to do? If you people are of that level, that you catch from even a butterfly flying around you; and a little leaf failing from the tree. I mean if you were at that level then I would never have put you into this test. But you are not. You are capable of much bigger test than this and it's nice to play with these, isn't it? Otherwise why should anybody even do hitch hiking. Leave alone hitch hiking, why should people swim? I mean better to sit on the bank and see everything. Even why go near the river. You may catch cold.

So better sit in the house. And why even put on the light, you may see something and you may get frightened.

So better to sleep. Even why to go to sleep, because you may dream.

So that situation if it is there, that touch-me-not business, then I can tell you we cannot count. We are soldiers and we have to develop immunities from all kinds of badhas from all kinds of people. Prom all types of Sahaja Yogis coming in, because this is a wide gate where every one has to come, all sorts. They may have hundred bhoots or they may have ten thousand... “Come along. Whatever type of bhoots there are we know how to handle them." This should be the attitude. Because I cannot give up any. I have to give chance to everyone. It is you who discriminate between these and you throw those people away. I just can't do it. I'm sorry! Some people will come, shout at Me, insult Me, trouble Me. Alright doesn't matter. They'll be alright. I can put them out of circulation, when they are absolutely useless. But till the end I will have to try. And if I find a slightest improvement, I'll catch on to them. I may have to work much harder with them. They may be much more closer than other people are. If they are lost people I have to look after them.

So you must know that it is your responsibility that you should take your charge and look after the other things that Mother has no time to look after. That's what the quality you people are. That quality of people. All the Gods and all the Angels bow to you. They are in attention to you.

You have seen even the Sun has come around, in these clouds just surrounded by clouds he is there. Then you have to come up.

And a small thing like collectivity, it's the beginning of Sahaja Yoga. If you do not want to become collective, Sahaja Yoga is not meant for individuals. This I must have said at least six years back, or seven years back in England and must be ten years back in India. Here you are coming to become a collective being because Spirit is the collective being. The quality of Spirit is that it is a collective being. It is a part of the collective. It is absolutely one with the collective. It is so collective that you cannot imagine on human level how much it is collective. For example yesterday I was criticising Gītā and the Viśhuddhi was opened. Kṛiṣhṇa is sitting here and talking through Me. There is no difference at all of that. It's just the same. And I am Kṛiṣhṇa, I am Mātājī and I am Christ.

So much one that you can't imagine how much oneness is there. It's such an unison that exists.

So for Spirit to be absolutely enlivened within us, to be absolutely shining within us, we have to know that how do we articulate with others? How do we talk to others? What is our way of judging? But of course as I said that there are people about whom you should not bother at all. They are not interested in Sahaja Yoga. They are anti God. They are anti Christ. Forget them. They have started another movement towards hell, You cannot stop them. First start dealing with simpler people. But if anybody comes into My attention then you have to accept that person. But on your own you don't go on wasting your energy with them. I do not say that you go to one of these bhoots' places and you just go and fight with them. No. If possible, try if it works out. But do not waste your energy with people, as Christ has said: “Don't cast pearls before the swines." Because, in the swine all kinds of parasites live.

So in collectivity those who are Sahaja Yogis those who have joined Sahaja Yoga, there should be complete unison and articulation. Absolutely. And enjoy each other's company. Everyone is a beautiful flower. But I have seen people are more attached to other people who come in. Supposing a possessed person comes in... We had a very good example in India, one of the ladies who used to come was possessed.

She would every time come, sit in front, she would never sit at the back. And as soon as the tape would start she would go on like this, like that. I tried everything on her, we all tried, she could not be cured.

And she was only interested in doing that. Then she would write poems for Me and she wanted to read the poems. Most embarrassing thing. I told her, “Don't read” because all bhoots used to come out of her poem. We told her in so many ways. Went on for a year or so, still she was on and on and she was just creating a problem for all the Sahaja Yogis. She was just a medium for all these bhoots to come in. And I told her many a times, you better not come here. Then I told her very frankly. Then I said, “you get out from here” I went up to that. Second year passed. Still she would not listen. Then I just told her husband that if she comes to the program we are going to report it to the police.

So her husband stopped her. But people have such sympathies you know, for such bhoots, not seeing that she is going against Mother, she is going against Sahaja Yoga, she is bringing all kinds of bhoots inside and that why should Mother say all the time that she should not come? So when I went away she started coming again. Every body told her, “Baba! you don't come." But there were some sympathizers with her! “She is a lady, why should you say anything to her” this and that. But when she came once absolutely adamantly, people told her “if you don't go away, we'll throw you out." Still she would not go, she was just sitting down there.' So one of them kicked her purse outside. I mean what's the use of touching her purse also with your hands, you don't contact.

And then she got up to catch hold of her purse, because if the purse has gone out she couldn't, sit there.

Since then she stopped coming and went away. And there were letters from there, you see. “This doesn't look nice for Sahaja Yogis to behave like this and to throw away the purse like this and this should not have happened, that should not have happened." I said this is indiscreet. If she is a bhoot, you tell her not to come, she is not wanted there, she cannot be a Sahaja Yogini, she is not a seeker, she is a medium of bhoots. Still she is troubling. Then who is sympathizing? Naturally, the people who are possessed. They sympathize with another possessed person. She is not a Sahaja Yogini.

The collectivity has to be with the Sahaja Yogis. Not with others. Because it is not there it is a fake thing. It's like “We are brothers and sisters." How are you? You are not feeling. It's not awakened within you. If a leaf says I am the flower, does she become? Leaf is a leaf and a flower is a flower. Among the flowers there should be collectivity. Because that's the natural thing that's there existing. Not with others.

This is one thing which people do not know how to discriminate. You are all one together but you'll fight among each other and when as soon as others come in: “Come along, come along sit down." Surprising! I have seen this happening! It's you who are My children. It's you who speak the same language. It's you who know everything.

You are the people who are coveted. You are Princes. They still have to become. That's a different point.

You sit in your glory. The idea that all the saints should go to the feet of every third person. It's not that you are kings. You live like kings. You have to maintain distance from others who are commoners.

Don't allow your ego to develop, of counsel But know that you wouldn't enjoy your kingdom unless and until you get more people into it. You've to get more and more and more but keep your dignity. You are at that level. Keep your poise. And then deal with others in the same manner “that you've joined together." You are the saints. One has to be assuming, assume one's powers. Assume; there is no pride.

You are that, so you are that, so what is there to be proud of? I mean you are realised Souls; finished.

How to be conscious of it? You are that.

So you are that. You are knowledgeable. You are knowledge.

Once you realise that, then discrimination will work out much better. That you don't put down anyone, you don't discard anyone. But they are not the same as you are. This principle you must know. You are not saying that lower or higher or anything. But you are different, they are different. And they have to come and join you. They have to become. You cannot become like that, but they can become like you.

So discretion is very important. In Sahaja Yoga, one of the very great basics for outgrowth, is to discriminate.

Trust Sahaja Yogis, do not trust non-Sahaja Yogis. Never trust a non-Sahaja Yogi compared to a Sahaja Yogi. Sahaja Yogi is your brother or sister, is companion, is everything. And the others all others, they are another party, you are another party. They are not your enemies.

They can come to this side. But they are not the same as you are. This must come into you.

So the collectivity will grow strong. You should know, by fighting with each other you are reducing the power of Sahaja Yoga. By getting angry with each other you are reducing the power of Sahaja Yoga. Imagine if the channels start fighting with each other, how are you going to channelize the energy.

So first of all, make your channel alright. And understand that we all channels put together are going to do the work better. We all have to be together.

Togetherness is to be felt.

When the collectivity is disturbed what is the center you catch? Can you tell?... Viśhuddhi; and Sahasrāra because I am the collectivity of all the Gods. And all the centers are in the brain, in the Sahasrāra. And thirdly when it goes beyond a certain level, then you catch on your Heart.

So Viśhuddhi, Sahasrāra and Heart; this combination starts. If Āgñyā left or right, any one of them joins in, you develop Ekādaśha Rudra.

Now how through left Viśhuddhi and right Viśhuddhi we spoil other people? It's so evident. Supposing you have right Viśhuddhi problem. In Japan I went there. Japanese people you know have certain ideas, in which shyness and shame has no meaning. And a gentleman, who is the chairman of a very big international company, came to see Me in a hotel. And he had a big thing on his mouth white some sort of a thing like a Hanumāna. And I asked him, what's that supposed to be? And he talked to Me and this thing was on his nose like that. I saw his right Viśhuddhi was very badly caught. Still I couldn't understand.

So he said “I am sorry for this Madam, but this is there because I've got cold." So they put that thing on, whether you have to see the Queen or anyone. They will just put on that and then go and see. Because when you have cold, others catch. That's one thing that catches the fastest. Now you had cold so I have caught.

So to get a cold one learns that if somebody has cold, he himself says “Today I've got cold you don't come." If you have to give an excuse to some one that you don't went to go anywhere, you say “I've got u." Alright. It's alright don't come. Nobody bothers.

So this is the right Viśhuddhi, you can see it very clearly. But left Viśhuddhi you cannot see, but feel. Left Viśhuddhi creates all kinds of social problems. Right Viśhuddhi creates all kinds of political problems. For example those who have right Viśhuddhi are speakers. They have to talk too much. They may create problems with their right Viśhuddhi by talking too much or by keeping quiet, both ways. The left Viśhuddhi people say something sarcastic, something horrible, something nasty, sly, non-aggressive but screwing type. They might create holes into people you see. They don't believe in killing directly like that.

So they want to do screwing up. Screw the person here and there. The relationship between right Viśhuddhi and left Viśhuddhi is very close, as much as the two sides of a coin. One side is aggressing, so on the right hand side when people speak to each other they oppress or aggress, they say aggressive things.

Extremely aggressive things they say. We have seen people talking like that, boastful, aggressive things.

Left-sided as I told you are the sly people, so they do it. Right-sided [people] spoil the relationships by too much aggression, say for example one party man will stand up and say that “I am the one” the another will say “I am the one." The relationships between the political parties are ruined. They cannot articulate.

The another side is the one, also cannot articulate. Because the relationship in the slyness when it goes down too much, ends up in perverted sex life. Then you go to somebody's house, you find a friend came to stay and he ran away with the mother or some sort of a nonsense like that.

So on the left hand side this kind of a funny relationship when you do not understand the purity of relationship in social life, that drops down, that creates problems.

So in relationship right and left Viśhuddhi both of them play a very big part.

Then comes the Sahasrāra. You know Sahasrāra what it is. People want to judge Me. They have a right to do it; I mean I cannot say no. You can judge Me. You can do what ever you like. I mean I cannot say that you don't judge Me.

So we cannot say that you don't judge Me. I cannot say. You go on judging Me. Now what is the instrument, you have got to judge Me? I have such a camouflage; just a bubble and such a receding personality. How are you going to judge Me? Is there any way of judging Me? You can never catch Me anywhere! It's a camouflage. Firstly I am prideless, I am egoless, I am actionless.

Where are you going to catch Me? On the contrary by all these attributes I create a problem for you, that I am a Mahāmāyā. You cannot understand a person who does not have pride. Because you all can talk to Me very nicely, you can be very sweet and you can just sit next to Me. And suddenly you come out with a remark which shows you are not conscious of to whom you are talking. Suddenly something you do where you are not conscious. Because I go on playing. I am extremely friendly with you, extremely nice to you. Absolutely prideless. You see anybody who has even this much position in life, he has a nose like that; Mine is bent all the time! Nothing but humor. And then how are you going to understand My position? You see there is no outside sign. There are no horns, there is nothing that I could be a cinema star. I am too simple, too sweet. There is no way by which you can `really' feel that I am great, I am absolutely mundane, ordinary. But extraordinary of the ordinary I am. This is a thing which people do not understand. It's alright for those who are not realised, excused. But you have felt the vibrations and got your realisation through me. I must be something. Put your attention like that to understand. Must be tremendous thing inside this body. It cannot be possible otherwise. It's so obvious otherwise to you people.

This is to be understood, that so far Kṛiṣhṇa, Christ, Rāma, all of the them; nobody gave Self-realisation to people en masse. They had other powers, like Kṛiṣhṇa had Samhar Shakti, he could kill any one like this. I have also all these powers with Me, but obviously I am a very simple, ordinary, mundane type of an Indian lady. And Christ had a power to get Himself crucified. I too have that. But I am not going to do all that. I have a power to Resurrect also. Why these powers are not used? One should understand.

Because now the main attention is to raise the Kuṇḍalinī and for that these powers are not required. Give realisation to any number of people.

What's the use of getting crucified, who is going to raise the Kuṇḍalinī? I would like to do it. I mean if I were at that time I would have said, “Keep your cross for a while I will have it later on." What's the use, just now, to destroy people? Let's see how many come around, you see.

So these powers are not required.

Today the power of raising the Kuṇḍalinī of thousands and thousands and millions and millions of people is required.

And I am going to be just like you all My life. In the sense I am going to get old, as you're going to.

I mean, today I should be old, I will be and be just like you! I am not going to do anything outside. It's like a German car. But it is you, who has to know the power of the German car. It's the best type. And once you realise that, that all is deliberately made like that. In the beginning of course, you cannot even understand it. It goes on: “How can it be, how can it be, She does this, She does that" it goes on like that.

You do not judge Me, because that's not the way you will understand. Just realise and recognize, that there has to be something tremendous. It was necessary to have someone like that to do this `tremendous' task. And it was necessary for you to be born, to be with Me to help, I know those who are with Me.

They'll stand by Me throughout. I may judge them a little here and there, but I know they will come round. You have to stand by Me. Those who want to run away they'll run away, today or tomorrow. I'll try, I'll try to get them round, as far as possible.

So, we come to collectivity. To understand that you are cells in My body. And I have awakened you.

If you degenerate, My body degenerates. You have seen that all. When you are sick, I am sick. In the sense I emit, liberate, more vibrations and I feel sick with that, because you can't take it. When you take vibrations I feel well. But those who have faith in themselves can only understand this and not those who have superiority complex, or inferiority complex.... Complex means no faith in yourself. You should have faith in yourself that you are the chosen ones. You are really the people, specially `made' for this great work. It's a `tremendous thing' that you are a [UNCLEAR I/twice] born. Once you realise and recognize it you would not bother about small small things of life. It's the quality in you that has to be nurtured and looked after, through collectivity. But collectivity of the `Sahaja Yogis'. I know those who have proper reactions with things.

Some Sahaja Yogi is coming; they feel very happy: “Oh he is coming!" You say, “There are five people who got realisation” they feel very happy. They will not sham, they'll be happy to go all out to see a Sahaja Yogi, to meet a Sahaja Yogi, to do anything for a Sahaja Yogi. This is the sign of a Sahaja Yogi. A Sahaja Yogi will go secretly and help a Sahaja Yogi in difficulty. Not just on money but anything.

This is a new race that is coming up. The others are human beings, you are not! You are not human beings any more. You are Sahaja Yogis. It's a different race. All over the world' this race has to come up.

So we have to build up ourselves. In one group, in one understanding. Absolute unison. There should be no secrets, there should be no domination. Everything should articulate, every one should talk to each other, every one should know what is happening with the other. You have to be `absolutely' frank, open with each other. Absolutely. Tell them your problems. `I catch on this, what to do? I catch on that, what to do? How to clear it out?' Not to feel shy. We have to enjoy ourselves. Also enjoy our weaknesses, so that we clear them out. Laugh it out.

Somebody has some habits, laugh it out. That's the best way to do it.

The difference between a human being and a Sahaja Yogi is the same as a human being and a drunk fellow. I'll dive you a joke of a drunkard. There were two drunkards who were drunk. They went to a hotel. They wanted to have a room for themselves. God knows what they wanted, they did not know.

So they went and told the clerk that they would like to have “two beds with a room." He didn't understand.

“No, two rooms with a bed." So he said, “Alright you want to have a room with two beds." So he opened a room and said these are the beds for you.

So fully clothed as they were, they slept in the same bed.

So one calls to another. Says he, “There is somebody in my bed." Other one says, “I too have someone in my bed." So the first one says, “What should we do?" The second one says, “Let's try to throw them out." And there was a big struggle and lot of noise in the room.

So the first one says “I've got him out." The second one says, “But he has thrown me out." So the first one says “Alright, you can come and sleep with me” because he has thrown him out, so what to do? This is what they are! This is the difference.

So what is the use of arguing with them and getting angry, getting into tension.

I mean they `are drunk.' If you see a drunkard, run with the speed of five hundred miles an hour. That's My principle. No use arguing with a mad man or a drunkard. May be mad man may be a bright, but drunkard, till three hours he wouldn't digest his drinks.

So that is what is the difference. They are drunk.

They are drunk by power, drunk by money, drunk by that, something is there. And you are filled with the light of God Almighty. That is what it is, the difference is. If you understand the difference, you will realise that no use fighting with these people. They are drunk. They are like that. If you talk to them, what can you say, I mean, they don't understand. They just don't understand. Let's forget it, I will give you such tests and things by which you will come in contact with them, see them and get out of it, without any harm being done to you. This is necessary; you have to touch them. You have to go near them, you have to be with them. You are outside. I give such tests to people and that should work out! I know you can, that's why I give such tests to only people about whom I'm sure, that they will come out. This I think we should decide today that, we all are going to live with One heart and One desire, with One head and with One liver. All of us. Let's see, how it works out.

For example you go to a Hotel, five Sahaja Yogis. One says “I'll have that" every body will have that. That's the sign. No decisions are needed. Why waste energy on decisions, arguments? Whether you eat fish and chips or chips and fish, is the same. The quarrel is like that; Sahaja Yogi does not waste his energies on this. You have seen your Mother, no choices. Just enjoyment. Where is the time to argue? It's joy pouring in. Let's enjoy.

May God bless you.

See, why is the problem? That you have a will, that any thing else does not have the will. You have the will. And once you try to bring the will in tune with each other, you feel your ego is there, your ego hurts.

You don't want to be, you don't want to lose that, or think that by doing so, you are becoming subnormal.

No. You are a realised Soul and a realised Soul is something so `unique' that you cannot give a parallel to it. There can't be a parallel. For example I can say, if there is a wind blowing then all the trees move in the same way. But human beings, if the wind is blowing... Supposing any wind is coming, somebody will go that way, somebody will go that way, because they have a, will'. But Sahaja Yogis, if the wind is blowing, all of them will put heir heads against the wind and fight it. This is a thing which `cannot' be given any parallel, because you are going above human things.

So far never such a thing has existed. You are such unique creations that there is... I cannot compare you with anything that was below, or I should say, which was on this level. The level is different.

So when you do everything the same way, you are doing it because you are `aware' of that Collectivity of the Primordial Being within you. That's why you are doing. This transition is the point which you should catch. That's something I feel, that when you start giving any analogies and all that, how can you give an analogy for something that never existed before? Never, Atula, which cannot be compared. That's one of the names of the Goddess.

So, I cannot give you analogies, but I can make you understand that if your Spirit is awakened in everybody is the Spirit which is a Collective Being, then you do it because your Spirit does it. You don't care for ego, superego and all these nonsensical things, which are barriers in the growth of `living' collectivity. Now you `have' become `livingly collective' and You are that. It's anew being that is within you. If you try to do something else, you will not like it, because this time it's not your ego but your Spirit. As before this you listened to your ego and were happy with it, now you will be happy if you listen to your Spirit. Because now you have become the Spirit. It's a very unique situation. You are the Spirit. And when you are the Spirit, then you become different. What analogies can I give? Then the responsibility is more also to understand. In that, when you say yes, another says yes'. See in saying “yes" you'll feel happy. Supposing you say fish and chips, another says, fish and chips, another will say fish and chips, everybody will say this. “Let's go to the, right” “let's go to the right” “let us go to the right” everybody will say. Unless and until there is somebody who `knows' the job and says, “No, no. This is not the way. Right is not, the way. Let us go left." Everybody should `know' that he knows the way.

So, “Yes, let's go to the left." Arguments will puzzle out, because you are in `unison'.

In second half I'll have to tell you about the nourishment of Sahaja Yoga, that will be the second half.

But the first half is the basics, which I've talked of.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1980-11-20*, Public Program, The Myth of Ego, Friends’ Meeting House, 120 Heath Street, Hampstead, London, UK

I am told that already somebody has spoken about Me, perhaps Me or Sahaja Yoga as well and I'm sure you must have understood why we are here. Sahaja Yoga is an eternal process which is not. Today, it has started. It has been on and on and on.

Like, I started from My house, then I had to avoid some traffic, terrible traffic on Park Lane. You know, it's a bottleneck and I have been always thinking how to get rid of it, what one could do to stop this bottleneck.

So, to avoid it, you enter into another route, take another road. You find there's another bottleneck, because somebody, some celebrity, is passing that way. Like that, you try to avoid all these routes. When you start moving you think you have reached there much ahead of time and you may have to wait outside the hall, while you find you land up at that place little late. This whole process is to arrive here and to talk to you. The whole thing is, based on one basic event that I have to reach. In the same way the whole process of our creation is based on one thing, that is, you have to meet your Divine self. Of course, as I have said, there's traffic, there's a problem, there are hindrances, except sometimes it's part of being, but it works. You reach the place, somehow.

So, Sahaja is all the journey through and it is spontaneous. All this happening has been spontaneous.

Yoga is the point where you meet, where you meet your Divine self, you see.

So, all these journeys, everybody's, everybody's doing, because they think they knew about, will be if they get a Parliament seat.

The other day, I happened to meet many Parliamentarians and some of your Ministers and Opposition Leaders and things and they were not aware of the news that you have to meet your self, Divine self. They have not met. They were not at all aware that this work is done in this great country of England. They were worried about other things, like Laborites were pulling the legs of the Conservative people and the Conservative were pulling the legs of the Labor. It was a big joke was on. They were not aware. They're seeking power.

Then I met there lots of people also who were very rich. Women were wearing all the diamonds of the world and everything and all that, big economic development, you see and they, it was about the two Indo-British associations, so, how to make these two countries meet and what they can do to help [UNCLEAR Indians or England] and none of them, neither Indians nor British, could say that India could also help, in a way, because they were seeking, still, economic development.

India is now developing economically. See, we are getting sophisticated. We are learning how to use plastics and nylons. While you are a category of people, you are different category. You are not seeking power. You are not seeking money. You are seeking your Self. You are seeking something, which may be unknown to you. Maybe you are not sure about it. Maybe you do not have full idea as to what you are seeking, maybe. Maybe you are sidetracked. Maybe you have gone to the wrong path. Maybe you are mislaid, carried away. Whatever it is, but you are a category different. You can see the joke behind all this seeking of other people. That is definite. If you have not yet come to that conclusion and if you still think that all of these things are very, very important, then still you may get little bit turn round and look back, as if I have left some luggage behind.

Now we are here to seek our Selves. This idea didn't occur to anyone. Only one gentleman somehow remarked that we have a very rich heritage from India. But it is not that you have. We are complimentary people. Nobody realised that we are complementary to you. We can't exist without you and you can't exist without us. And this is, they do not realise, while you realise that there is something lacking which we have to get from others and they realise that there is something lacking in them that they have to get from you. Now, this understanding... [Shri Mataji pauses to arrange seating for latecomers].

The category of seeking, or the seekers in the west, is a very fortunate category [UNCLEAR]. They are very fortunate, because the atmosphere is now filled with the understanding that all these ventures, whatever we have had, have led us to nowhere. We have not achieved what we wanted to achieve. You are very fortunate that you are already satiated. You are oversatisfied. Like, you have a very heavy meal and then somebody asks you, “What would you like to have?" Then you'll say, “It's better not to eat, but if I have to eat, let me have some rustic bread. That would be better. I've had enough” as we say that after having a heavy meal we want to eat kicheree. This is absolutely the most ordinary that the villagers eat, you see, absolutely unsophisticated.

That's what has happened to you people. You are very fortunate and the atmosphere is also built up and a sort of a fashion is prevailing, that you are seekers. It's very good to have such a fashion around, [UNCLEAR] that you are seekers. You don't have to quarrel with your society. If you say you are a seeker, you're respected. It's a very good thing. It's really a great, great boon on you, that you are seeking.

And such groups of people are much better than individuals in a society, which is trying to develop onto your life. Go up to the cusp, fall into the ditch and then come back. Now you have known that all our ventures have led us, not to happiness, but to unhappiness. The others are following you. They are going to be left there, as I said. But, you are the people who have to look back and tell them, `Now, you better be alert, because we have done a mistake. Now, you people who are trying to follow us have to learn that you do not fall into the same trap that we have been. Don't run after plastics, but run after the living Spirit within.' Perhaps when I speak to you, you may not realise, because you people have fantastic ideas about Indians and England, but the conditions are there. England is today one of the best place for seeking.

Jerusalem has started in England. In England and in Hampstead, it was declared that Jerusalem will be built in England. He lived in Hampstead and his vibrations have created, really, the foundations for that Jerusalem which you people have to make, with this understanding that you are the people who are the category of seekers, that you are, according to Me, the best placed, as far as your seeking is concerned, in this turmoil and in this darkness, where you see that this is darkness, that you are aware about it, that you can really circulate through the media of your country and your language to other people, the advent of Sahaja Yoga, which is really the only method by which you are going to get to your realisation.

They all say the same thing. If you talk to anybody American, he says, “I'm twice born." Any American is a twice born. He thinks he is born in America, he's twice born. They think that American soil itself gives you the second birth. It's surprising, but anybody you talk to, the President, is twice born. The Vice President is twice born. Everybody is twice born and perhaps all the refugees who are there must be also twice born, the way they think about.

But they have no idea as to what to expect when you are twice born and they are having a very simple type of a ego trip and this subtle side of ego trip, I think, we can avoid by understanding that ego becomes subtler and subtler, the subtler [UNCLEAR movement]. It attacks the reality, every time by which you run away and thrown away from the reality. That's the work of Ego is.

For us to see that the time has come to become one with the Divine is rather difficult. Why? Why should it be difficult, that the time has come? Have you ever known so many people, sitting down before Christ, asking for their realisation, anybody? Did anyone ask for their realisation in the whole of the Bible, anywhere? Did anyone ask Christ that He should baptize someone? Just think of it! What is the situation today, is that you have so many of them asking for their Self-realisation. I don't say that you were not misled. I don't say you don't understand. That's said. But see the awareness, to what point it has come.

So why not? This is the time to get realisation.

The first Ego's attempt is to tell you, “Oh, the time has not come." Because Ego does not want you to accept, really, your self-esteem. It doesn't want you to accept that you have that capacity to receive God's blessing, that you should get your realisation.

So, the first question comes to you, “How can it be?" Now, why not? The first time question should be asked, to your Mr. Ego, `Why not?' Second, “How can it be available to Me?" was said. There are some people who came to see Me. One gentleman who was in India, who was sort of trying to help people out, he came to see Me and he got realisation. He's an Indian. He's a son of a rich man. He started an organization, serving these people, guiding them, this, that. He came to see Me and he knows many people here and he said that, “Mother, I think the people are not yet ready for Sahaja Yoga." I said, “What makes you think like that?" He says, “Because they say, `How can that be so easy? How can we get it? We are not ready. We are frightened.' " I said, “At least, do you have faith in Sahaja Yoga, or not?" He says, “I have." “Then do you have faith in its powers, or not?" “I have." “Then, why? Let us test whether they get it or not." Why are they worried? Before coming into the hall, do you try to find out that what will be the wall's colour? Do you find out what will be the panelling of the hall, before coming inside? You come inside, see for yourself what's the colour, how it looks like. That is what it is. Instead of that, at the door people are standing, “Oh, we are thinking whether we should get inside or not, because we don't know what sort of a colour it has." What do we call such people? [UNCLEAR Stu]? All right? And that's what it is. Ego makes you really lacking.

Ego really stupeffes you in a sense that it makes you stupid. The more you listen in to your Ego, the more you will find you'll be constricted.

Now, what is stupidity is not yet defined in any dictionary, but we can understand with our commonsense what is stupid. And all kinds of stupid things you have seen in your life and you have discarded them because you are seekers. If you were not seekers, you would have been somewhere else, not here.

You would have ended up at some sort of a haunt, as I have seen many people carrying, but you are still here. You have thrown away all these haunts and you are still here, thinking that you have not yet found out.

So one has to be careful about this Mister Ego, which really makes you absolutely stupid. And there are stories and stories in the Indian scriptures, everywhere, how a stupid man thinks that he's the wisest.

And that's what one has to know, that when you think you are too wise, you must try to think, `Am I stupid?' So, I said, you ask a question to yourself, “Why not? Why not I at this time get realisation?" If I say the time has come, you should be happy to know about it, but I've seen fifty percent people will become unhappy, because I have said that I am. And when I say that you can get your realisation just now, the rest of the fifty percent get more unhappy, thinking that, “How can it be? How can Mother say such a thing? It is silly to say that you can get your realisation." This is the advice of Mr. Ego again, because it does not know your Self. It's an artificial thing, which is within you, which is giving you artificial ideas.

He has no idea as to how you have developed, from what amoeba stage you have been brought, how we have been brought to this stage and how in this process of Sahaja you are today just ready to have your realisation. It does not know that. The only one that knows is your Kuṇḍalinī, your Mother. She sits in the triangular bone there and She rises to give you realisation. She's just waiting. She's just to be risen and She does it.

Somebody asked Me, “How much time?" I said, “How much time does it take for to switch on this light?" They said, “Maybe, split of a second." I said, “The one thousandth of a split of a second you can count. One thousandth part of that you can count." The Kuṇḍalinī takes just like that [snaps fingers], bang! But again, for example, in My mind from Victoria, was on you in a second, but My car would not move.

So, maybe that Kuṇḍalinī is there already in her mind but the body doesn't move, because there are obstructions and there is some sort of a hindrance, which is causing this thing. Doesn't matter. Have faith! But Ego is speedy. Ego gives you speed. When you speak, you speak telescopically. One does, one person to another, you think ahead of time, always ahead of time. It happens with people who are speedy, that they arrive at the station at a time where the first train is about to leave and the second hasn't arrived and they reach the time at the station because they have calculated and how calculations have failed. All such speedy things come to us and we have no patience with ourselves.

So, when the Ego is teaching you that, you have to be sure about it, how can you get your realisation and all these nonsensical things. At the same time when it seems that the realisation is not achieved, it gives you another lesson. It has failed; it has not worked. Such contradictory things Ego works out and that's why there is confusion and this is the age of confusion because of Mr. Ego trying to play tricks with us. It gives you one idea and then another idea and between the two you are standing between the two stools and don't know which side you are going to fall on and which one is going to slip out soon.

These are the blessings of the Ego on us. The sooner we get rid of it, the better. But when you try to get rid of it also, it's not easy, because the more you try to beat it, it swells up. It's like a balloon. Release the balloon; it swells up. The only way is to know the reality, so it goes down by itself. The whole idea, the myth, falls off. The myth of Ego falls off, you see. Like a person who is going by aeroplane suddenly starts thinking that, `I am driving the aeroplane.' He puts up his hands like this and he starts doing, I mean, like a child or a stupid fellow.

Egoistical people, as I said, can become like that. He starts, `Oh, I am driving the plane.' So, what happens is, you see, they start guiding the pilot [UNCLEAR] maybe, `Why should he do like this?' and, `Why doesn't he do like this?' and all sorts of things start. And then suddenly they find that they cannot manage the plane. They find that the plane just lands on its tail or somewhere. The person is completely jammed and he cannot manage. When they find themselves into difficulties, then they start wondering, `What have I been thinking? Why it has happened there? Was I wrong?' That is the time when the Ego will give you another suggestion, by which you will put the blame on Mr. Pilot and not on you.

So, again the Ego is playing will start in that fashion, by which you get again lost. Why I'm saying that? Because Ego plays a very, very subtle obstruction in Sahaja Yoga. One has to be careful about it to begin with.

To overcome this, now here you see on the right hand side this yellow line is the one, is the one, which gives us the power of action by which we act. We act through our physical being, through our mental being.

So, it looks after our physical and mental being. It gives rise to the Ego on the left hand side, as you see and this left side Ego is the problem of today because it covers the whole of the head sometimes, so much so that Kuṇḍalinī cannot pierce through.

Now, on the left hand side that you see, is the power of our desire. It's the blue line is shown, is the power of our desire. By this you get your Superego, all your conditionings. Whatever has been your desire, your past, whatever you have been asking for and whatever has been hidden within you, is all expressed in that blue stuff there, called as Superego.

Now, when the people of your category, which are superior most people of any nation, who are the subtlest in any nation whatsoever, whether they are here or in Tehran or in Thailand, just the same to Me, they are the people who can see that this horrible thing like Ego is befooling. They can see it clearly.

First they see it in others and then they start seeing the reflection in themselves.

So, they take to another side, run away from it, run away from reality. All this and start an anti-culture movement. This culture is nonsensical. They can see it. Why do they do it? Because they can see it. Is so artificial. All this artificiality they can see.

So, they think they will take to something else, by which you run away from this Ego, but actually, you cannot run away from it. You run away to the other side called as Superego on the left hand side here, but actually in the head it is more on the right hand. This Superego is nourished by all our lethargic acts.

For example, “We are lethargic." When I came here I was surprised.

Some of those people told Me that, “I'm successfully unemployed." I got a shock of My life. I said, “Now, what sort of a people I am chasing there?" They think it's a success to be unemployed. I said, “It's a problem." And, that was the Superego speaking. “Why should we work? Why do we need more money? What is the need to work? Why to have action?" Just sit down and dream. Take some nice drugs. Go on top of a hill. Take the drug. Lie down there and just think you are in Heaven, finished. Imagination. That also has worked out.

People are out of it now. They are understanding that's not the way to achieve reality.

So, from Ego to Superego, the future yogis have been moving. The seekers are the future yogis and they have been wobbling from one to another. It's a dangerous game both ways, no doubt, but you are seekers and they are respected, loved and looked after and protected and they achieve what they are asking for. They achieve it. They have to achieve because behind all these games is the Divine Power, which has worked it out so well, so beautifully. He has made you human being and is not going to fail, when it has to give you that super human power. That is the power of your Spirit that lies within your heart. That has to manifest.

Now, you have your own concepts because of, Ego has concepts. Always Ego will give you concepts about everything. That's why, because these concepts never fit in with the reality. Christ was crucified, because according to them Christ should have been born to Herod, not to Mary. According to them it was too humble for God to be born like that.

So, they crucified Him. The concepts that this Ego tries to give you can be very dangerous, too, about everything, about seeking, about realisation, about everything. It gives you concepts, means it closes your doors to reality.

Keep yourself open to see what it is really, than to have a conception.

So, because of this wobbling people have started conceiving things in imaginary world.

Sometimes they move to the right or to the left and they start imagining, “Oh, this means that. This means that. This means that” and this imagination is so dangerous.

Recently, we have had a big accident in the car in Brighton. One gentleman came and told them that he was Mister Mad-fellow, whatever it is. People started believing he was sent by them. Imagination starts coming up and can be very dangerous. Now, the whole Ego and Superego play becomes imaginary. How long are we going to live with imagination? We have to face reality. And reality is beauty. Reality is joy.

It is knowledge. It is the thing you have to have. How long are you going to be satisfied with the artificial thing? You are not.

So, what is the reality? How are we to seek it and how are we to receive it? Do not have conceptions.

When you were amoeba did you have any conception how human being is going to look? Did you have any conception about how Sahaja Yoga is going to work out in England? Do you have any conception, even today, how the whole world is going to be transformed? All these conceptions are conjectures. They are not the conceptions of the reality, because you are not there from where you can see and there is a difference between one and another. All these writers, I find somebody saying, “This is the truth” another is saying, “This is the truth” a third one is saying, “This is the truth” the psychologists are saying, “This is the truth." There is nothing common in them and this is the problem for us to read them. One person you read, then you read another and a third. It's better to go to a lunatic asylum these days, than to go in the library and read any book. At least there you get treated for your troubles while you'll get lunatic if you go to these libraries. It's that mad. And the more you read, the more confused you get.

This confusion is necessary, because without confusion you are not going to seek in the right direction.

The earnestness goes up to the point of absolute emergency when the confusion is at its highest. You feel that now or never. You feel so desperate at that moment that if we are lost in this country then we are lost forever and something has to happen within us or something we have to face, or to know or to realise within us. Otherwise, we are finished. Such an emergency, when it comes into your mind, that's the point for Sahaja Yoga and there the light comes in. That emergency is settled down already, everywhere in your mind itself because mind is running at the speed of five hundred miles per hour. You cannot stop. It's mad, the way you think, you know. I told you there was a doctor in Switzerland he came, “Mother, do anything. You can cut my throat or you can take out any part of my mouth or face, or anything that you want to do, but stop thinking. My thinking is horrible." That's why you are very fortunate, very fortunate, that you belong to that category and the whole situation is so emergent and you are such fighters and such brave people that I'm sure you will get out of it and you'll save many more.

Supposing such a situation arrives in England. Most of them will commit suicide, I can tell you. They'll just shun. They won't be able to understand. Anyone like that goes there, they'll think, “Oh, he's mad.

Take somewhere out, finished. We have nothing to do." They'll never fight it out, because they're not used to this kind of a thing, this kind of a subtle, this kind of a complete emergence of all the problems of the world on them. All these problems are bombarded on you through different media. You see the whole world going into a shock. They don't feel this. They are ignorant. They don't know anything about what's happening. Anybody today who is aware is feeling the emergency of something happening to us.

Something has to happen. They are aware that unless and until this happens, you cannot be saved.

Atomic energy problem. There's another one, the wars are going on. Earthquakes are coming. People are saying that all the stars are going to fall into one line. Everybody's feeling there's going to be something horrible. The reason is the Last Judgement has started. It has started and you have to go through it.

You are going to judge yourself. There is God within you, which is going to judge you and you are going to be chosen by your own efforts and you are going to help others, many many thousands of them, to be to be light. A certain number is needed. That's all. For every, every evolution a certain number was needed to create a complete explosion.

A certain number of you will get it and you are one of them who are the first to get it.

So, here is your Kuṇḍalinī, which all of you have. Except for demonic people, everybody has the Kuṇḍalinī. The Kuṇḍalinī exists within you, which you can see with your naked eyes in many people, which rises through all these centers, which are within you and pierces your Fontanelle bone area. Only what I do, is I tell you what it is. For example, on your fingers if you get Cool Breeze, what does it mean? If you get all these fingers burning, what does it mean? If you get a particular finger burning more, what does it mean? I just decode it for you.

Secondly, I am like a candle, which was enlightened first and now I enlighten you. You can enlighten other candles. Ego can also start saying, “Why She?" It's a very common thing. “Why you?" It's enough they're asking, “Why you?" I said, “You please come here. I'll be very happy. If you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī, I'd be very happy to be retired, sir, because it's, it's better to retire now." I mean, you get somebody like that, nothing like it. I mean, I would become a disciple of anybody who can raise the Kuṇḍalinī. They may say it.

They may talk about it. If they could do it, nothing like it. Oh, I would retire. I'm looking forward to My retirement. I don't know when it will be, but that's the thing, it is. You see, it has been given to Me to do this job. And what am I to do? I can't understand.

So that you do not feel hurt. And also, I have a role of a mother, a mother who bears up everything. Everybody tries to crucify Me. It's not a question of one person. I have seen many coming and being very rude to Me, shouting at Me, screaming at Me, doing all kinds of things, saying things against Me. It's all right. But I know everything. I know because you are children. That's why you are seeking, but you will be all right. I know that you'll be all right. But it is better to be wise and to get your realisation, to understand the wiser you are, the easier it is for you to mature. You have to mature faster and faster with your wisdom and discretion.

Regarding your realisation, nothing can be promised to anyone. There is no promise. You know, there is no enrollment. There is no fees, nothing. Like the trees, they do not enroll themselves somewhere, that, “Oh God, oh, give us the sun, sun's rays, so that we come up." The sun is shining and all the trees are blessed.

Some do not get the blessings; some do get it.

Some die at the grass stage, some grow up, become heavily laden with fruits, which they distribute to others and people say, “All right, this tree has come up." They do not say that the sun has done anything; they just take it for granted.

In the same way Sahaja Yoga is working out. It's just very simple, is natural. There is, you cannot pay for it. How much do we pay to the sun or to the Mother Earth for giving us all that She is giving us? We are giving to all intermediaries, you see, who have created economic problems for us. But do the diamonds [UNCLEAR] we don't give anything. The real sources we don't pay anything. In the same way, you cannot pay anything for it. It's all natural. It works out. It helps you and you help others. This is what has to happen to most of the human beings. But first to the number I was telling you which is required and they have to be sensible, wise, open people who have self-esteem. It's not meant for useless, frivolous, nonsensical.

So, one has to understand that as you are seekers, you have discarded many things which looked nonsensical to you and today is the time for you to receive for which you have discarded all that: the sense of your being; the meaning; the purpose of your being; why you have come on this Earth; everything; all the knowledge of the world; everything for which you have come, for which you were created; the whole universe; the stars. They are going now to Saturn. Why Saturn was created? What is Saturn? It's not even the dust particle of God Almighty's feet. What has happened? It's one of the seats of one of the centers. It's here and the Viśhuddhi Chakra is made out of Saturn and the circle round it is nothing but the Sudarshan Chakra, as described, of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, because Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa resides.

Now, what will they know about it? How are we to talk to them? You see, they have to become realised Souls, to know whether it is true or not, because there is no way of judging it. By your imagination you cannot judge it. You have to know it through your feelings. This is what happens to you when you get realisation, that you get the Cool Breeze in your hands. All your fingers get enlightened. Your palm gets enlightened and your base of the palm. All of them are centers. Seven centers are there, these five, six and seven and they all get enlightened, by which you know what it's for. Also, you know if this is the truth or not, because if it is the truth the vibration comes very much more. When it is the falsehood, it stops.

There are so many permutations and combinations of these feelings, which you'll learn and you become a person. You become again and again [UNCLEAR, I say this]. You become a person of a new awareness, in which you start perceiving things through your fingers, as reality. For example, the one person is sitting here and if ten Sahaja Yogis are trying on that person, they'll say the same thing about them.

One gentleman came and asked Me, “Mother, why everybody is asking me, `What about your father?' " I said, “All right, what about your father?" I also asked. He said, “He died suddenly and I was [UNCLEAR with him, or this thing]." I said, “Then, that part is little bit showing." He said, “How do You know?" I said, “You will also know later” but he said, “Tell me, how do You know?" I said, “Very simple. If this finger is burning, that means your father's finger is something wrong." Everybody's this finger is burning. Whether it is a child or a big person, they'll ask, “What about the father?" Now, you tell about your father's problem and there is a way of correcting this problem. If you correct it, immediately you get your realisation. It's that simple. It's everything is so simple in life.

If you to see someone, what do you do? Do you think about it? You just see. In the same way, when you get your realisation, what do you do? You just feel. It's a vibratory awareness. Then you just start to feel within yourself. They have started feeling it. You see a person, you know it's that. He may tell you lies. Doesn't matter; you know this [UNCLEAR]. You may not tell that person diplomatically, not to hurt the person, but you know this is the problem. But it's better if somebody tells you. Be thankful.

Get rid of it. Not to be angry.

Last of all, I have to tell you, because you have some who have come for the first time, that you can be misled. There could be a Guru, so-called, who might have misled you. Or there could be somebody who might have misled you. Still, because you are nice, maybe you might not have understood it. But if somebody tells you that your Void is catching, there's a wrong Guru. Better tell the name. It's better to get rid of it than to have it there because your realisation is difficult and even if you get your realisation the Kuṇḍalinī will settle back. It's better to tell and understand how to get rid of it. After all, Sahaja Yoga is only concerned with your well-being and not the well-being of all the crooks of the world. Because people have an objection sometimes to Me, saying that She criticises others. You mean to say that I could sit here and praise Mr. Hitler or someone, who is even worse than that? You need courage to face these horrible people. Only a Mother can do it. And I have to tell and I will tell on the top of My worst, that these devils and these negative forces, which are trying to drag down My children, are going to be doomed and they are going to go to hell. But you give them up as soon as possible. I'm not afraid of them. That's one thing you should know. They are afraid of Me.

May God bless you all.

Can you ask Me any questions? If you want to you can ask a question.

Any questions, please? You are thoughtless just now. Kuṇḍalinī has gone up. Most of you cannot think of a question. I'm sorry, but she shot up. What am I to do? She is so anxious to shot up, than to ask questions, that she's gone out. What am I to do? You got it, most of you have? Try to think. That's it. You will see.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: That's called the Void. That's the stomach. That's the void. We call it as Void, but not the Zen style Void. We call it the Void because that's the place where all the Masters were, the Ten Masters. All our Ten Commandments create this Void, in the stomach, in the [UNCLEAR]. Now, for this I would advise you, there's a book, which is written about Me by a Swiss friend, gentleman, which is actually in English and there are some papers they have got, which you go through. It's quite a lot of it.

And there are at least three hundred tapes, I think, with Douglas. I don't know how many there are. I have no number now, but you can see all that and everything you need, because in one lecture, I cannot cover every point again [UNCLEAR]. All right? All this requires explanation. For I would say like this, that if you should come in this room and it's dark, you just say, “Put on the light." So you'll ask me, “Where is the switch?" Just put on the light and then you can ask something else, isn't it? First of all, have the light. Then we'll talk about it. It's a headache, I tell you, to talk about it. Before realisation, it's a headache. It's like groping.

Question: Is there anything that can interfere with the vibration? Anything that can distort the vibration?

Shri Mataji: If you are mesmerized, that's a different point altogether. If you are mesmerized, then maybe you may just think you are. You see, you go into an imaginary world, isn't it? You get into an imagination. But that rarely happens. If it happens, you see, it has a reflection on you. You start vomiting and you get all kind of nausea feeling. Within two or three days you get out of it. I mean, you know that is something wrong. But it seldom happens. You see, if somebody attacks you like that, mesmerism. With some people it does happen, but one has to be careful. Normally, there cannot be, because this is Pure Knowledge. This is purity. Is Pure Knowledge. You will be amazed. Even if your Chakras are catching, your centers are catching, you are not a perfect person yet, according to Sahaja Yoga, there are different stages into which you rise and you might not have reached to your best stage so far. Still, you'll be surprised that you can give realisation to people; you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī; you can correct the Chakras; you can cure the people. Minimum of minimum you can always cure the people. You can do all that.

Despite like you see, you have a car, which is new, absolutely new, first class Rolls-Royce. Or, you can have a car, say, 1850 or something, it's still called new, you see. Second-hand, third-hand, fourth-hand, fifth-hand, like that you can have many cars.

You see, once My husband asked someone from France. She came to see Me. He said, “I can't understand why She has given you realisation. Why are you bothered now about it? Why can't you rise yourself?" So she said that, he deals with ships, so she said that, “Supposing there are third-hand ships then it is to be mended again and again." He said, “That's true." So it depends how. But, still it moves.

You have to correct yourself. You have to improve. You start enjoying it. Then you are not bothered.

You see yourself away from it and then you start enjoying it, you see. You think, oh, you don't say, “My Ego has gone up." You say, “Mother, my Āgñyā. Āgñyā is troubling me." Actually, they say like that.

You know your Ego. Right Āgñyā, means Ego, but you don't say otherwise, “Oh, I'm egoistical." Or if I say to somebody, “You are egoistical” I'll ask for something else, see? So, it just happens. You start seeing all these things even in yourself and then you don't mind because you are out of it. You don't mind, at all. You correct yourself.

But, as I said, you have to nourish yourself properly, in collectivity. Go on rising into it; then there are less chances. Even little deviations take place, you see sometimes, but you can steady down. It's like learning a cycle. You know, how you learn a cycle. You know, first you fall down once or twice and then you get on top of it again. Then you start balancing. Then you have a discretion. It's like that. But before realisation, before buying your cycle, you don't worry about it. That will be done. But later on, when you have to ride it, then you have to be careful and to understand and learn it yourself and be a master. You have to become master of your Kuṇḍalinī and Kuṇḍalinī of others. You can be.

There are already in London and there are many others in India, all over the world, they are masters of knowledge. Can you imagine two people who came from Australia have given realisation to two hundred people in Australia? Two hundred people in Australia, two people have given realisation. You can master it, because you are a master as well.

Sounds very fantastic, isn't it, but just think from amoebic stage you have become this. Isn't it fantastic? Little bit is left, you see, little bit more. Really, last journey is just breaking through. It's just there, so beautiful it is. Enter it! Enter into the Kingdom of God. It's your place.

See now, is it cool coming in your hand? Now, don't think about it, because I put down. See, I can screw up your Āgñyā so you can't think. Up to that I can do. But, then I allow you to think also. It's a play, because I have to judge you. Don't think. Just don't think. That is the first mantra: don't think.

How many have come for the first time today? Please raise your hands. Yes? Good.

How many of you are feeling Cool Breeze in your hands, those who have come for the first time? Or not feeling Cool Breeze, let us say. Those who are not feeling Cool Breeze at all. Are you feeling Cool Breeze? Good. You are not feeling as yet? Don't think.

Now, are you not feeling Cool Breeze? You are? No, behind you. Not yet? Are you feeling any Cool Breeze in the hand? Was it tingling? Some sensation? What about anybody else? Are you feeling the Cool Breeze? Are you? Not yet. Are you feeling? No, I think his feet are... Tell him to put the feet down. That will be better, yes. It will work out. Yes, that's all right. You can put anyway. You put your hands like this.

Those who are not feeling the breeze please raise your hand. Honestly. Raise them high. Please raise them high. It's very important. All of you, who are not feeling the Cool Breeze, not the sensation.

Now, please work on them. Are you feeling the Cool Breeze? Are you? Are you feeling the Cool Breeze? Now, please raise your hands again? Can you see them? Just see, all of you. Now, those who can help.

Now see, they were just like you; now they can help you. Now come along. Take him also. He's got Cool Breeze. You teach him. Paul? You take him with you. Now good. Now let's do. Here is the lady.

Now see these two gentlemen here. Let's see, now, how they work it out, you see. How it is managed, how it is manoeuvreed this power, which is flowing from their hands. This is their own power of their own Spirit.

Did you come to Me before, sometime? No.

Don't think. Those who are getting Cool Breeze, close your eyes. Now, close your eyes. Wait. You are not getting Cool Breeze. Can you work on him? Just see [UNCLEAR].

Now, those who are getting Cool Breeze just close your eyes and don't think.

Contents: 1980-11-23 Guru Nanak's Birthday Pūjā, You Are to Become Prophets, Temple of All Faiths, Hampstead, London, UK

(perhaps Caxton Hall) Today is a special day of Guru Nanaka's birthday. We have celebrated one Guru Pūjā and as you know that Guru Nanak was also the incarnation of the Primordial Master, the same spirit came on this earth and He's the one who tried to re-establish the work of Mohammed.

Mohammed was the incarnation of the same spirit, the Primordial Master. He came on this earth to establish the religion. Islam is the name of that religion, is the religion of every Sahaja Yogi, of every Christian, of every Hindu. We all belong to one religion which believes in expanding our awareness to the new perception of collectivity.

From human level to the higher level, where you can perceive and manifest the Divine Power, this is the religion we are following. All the religions were established on this Earth to create the seekers. You are the seekers. You are the Men of God. Now, all of you have to become prophets. And to become prophets today's Sahaja Yoga has taken the form of Mahā Yoga. All of you have to become prophets.

The prophets have two special qualities, as all the prophets had. First of all, they have to talk about spiritual education. All of them did that. Mohammed Sahib did it, Rāja Janaka did it, Nanaka did it, Moses did it, Abraham did it, all of them prophesized and taught you how to lead yourself in the right path, by the right action, by leading a right life. You are going to be the prophets of a little different nature. You are prophets, you are Islamic, you are Jews, you are Parsees. You are all those, but you are going to become prophets which are called as `Pir' in Islam, in Hindu scriptures it's called as " Ātmā sākṣhātkāri", Ātmājas. In the way Nanaka has described, he calls them `Par'. But you are endowed with a greater power, there's more power in you. There they had a bigger propensity. You have another delicate power by which you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī of people.

You are going to be prophets who are going to make others prophets. Not only to establish religion, but to make them prophets. This is the most important thing. Not just to maintain a static state of righteous religious good people, but that to evolve those seekers, those righteous good religious people into prophets. And those prophets whom you will evolve will also be the same type of prophets, but they will also have this additional power by which they will also evolve. That is why it is a Mahā Yoga.

This is the greatest work in the history of all spiritual history. That you are the prophets who are looking after the Men of God and you are going to transform them into prophets. To have so many prophets now, for Me, you can't imagine how happy I must be feeling.

I've been, sometimes very, very sharp with you.

Sometimes I had to goad you.

Sometimes I had to love you, express My love in that way, that you could feel that Mother is very kind.

Sometimes I had to be very critical, sometimes also angry. Behind all these aspects of your Mother, She's nothing but Love.

Because She loves you so much and She knows that you have to be the Prophets. Your calibre may not be of the same level as those prophets, maybe, you can't say, but definitely you have got special powers.

Like you can say an old Rolls-Royce might be a better car as far as the propensity goes, or an effect goes, or its behaviour goes, is a good car, but one of the modern ones may have more capacity to show new acrobats. For example it may tumble down, it may go round the whole place and yet nothing will happen to it. Maybe after some time you might find a car which goes half way and comes up a little, like a hovercraft and then goes in the air and then again drops back.

So, this new generation of great prophets are here before Me, but the big difference between them and you is this, that none of them had a Mother to guide them, to love them, to encourage them when they were depressed and also to spoil them. But you have here a Mother who may apparently look to be spoiling Her children. But She is the Master of Masters and She knows how far to take them and how to correct them.

Now, for all of you, I have to tell you that you have to develop your independent discretion. First of all we have to know that in this new realm where you have entered, you have to have proper spiritual education. About which I have given you so many lectures and things. But education doesn't mean listening to lectures after Realisation. It means it should be imbibed within you, it should penetrate into your veins and into your every artery, into every cell of your being.

You have to educate yourself spiritually and Guru Nanaka prophesized just like William Blake that the Men of God are going to come during Kali Yuga and there will be many prophets who will be transforming prophets, who will be transforming people into prophet state, He had prophesized. They have all prophesized about you. Now you have to prophesize about those who are going to be prophets.

But, as it is, you know that we need spiritual education. Because your Guru is a Mother we lack discipline. There's complete freedom for all of you. You know that if you go to a Guru what kind of discipline you have to observe. I mean the real one, also. Unreal, of course, but even the real ones, how they test your attention. Even for the smallest thing, how they treat you.

I'll give you an example of Ravi Shankar, who was a very great, you know, who is a very great sitar player. My father was an advisor to the Mahārāja of [UNCLEAR Māyā] where this, he's their Guru, was living. This Guru was a Muslim but he used to worship Kālī, Mother, he used to worship Mother and very self disciplined man. They say he died at the age of 110 or 120. Allahudin Khana. And this Ravi Shankar was there. I saw him as a young man and this Ali Akbar whom you heard. They were literally frightened of their Guru, who was a master himself, he knew so many of these instruments.

One day My father, whom he used to respect very much, always used to bow to him, though he was a Muslim, they touched feet, you see, because My father was a great connoisseur of music and a supporter of music and he bowed to him and he said, “Now, should I play?" So he said, “Why not ask your disciple, this Ravi Shankar, to play?" And he said, “Yes, yes, come along, play." He said, “Not today, Sir, please, not today." He was very frightened. Then he said, “All right, let it be” He started playing. He used to play on Mridang used to play beautiful Mridang, tremendous, I mean, you can't imagine. He was a realised Soul, Mridang. Then Ravi Shankar, when he finished and all that, he bowed to My father and he went away. Then Ravi Shankar came to My father and he said, “Don't ask me to play before my Guruji." He lifted his head and said, “See here. You see this bump, this morning only he hit me with my sitar, which he broke and this is the bump I've got." So My father said, “What did you do?" He said, “Only one note I played wrong and that too, not wrong but little out of tune and on that point he has broken this part of my head and I have been in this terrible pain and he said `you are not to see any doctor.' " And really there was a big bump, he had covered it like that, you see, with hair. [Laughter.] That's why today they have failed as great masters, because to be masters you have to obey your master and to discipline yourself.

The spiritual education in Sahaja Yoga, under Mātājī Nirmalā Devī, is absolutely left to your own wisdom. There is no force; there is no compulsion; there is no organization. It is you who has to feel the joy of your spirit and it is you who has to share it with others. It is you who has to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others.

Now, today, when we are thinking of a great prophet, who on this Earth came to establish good relationships between Hindus and Muslims. Imagine, when Mohammed Sahib came He did not know that He was facing these horrible people there who murdered Him, actually they murdered Him, they gave Him poison. And when He died He said that, “There will not be any need for any prophet to come in." Naturally, if you torture somebody, what else he's going to say? Also, He felt that whatever He has said it, being such a truth, it will definitely prosper and the seed has been sown. And He said, “There is no need for another advent of a master." But He found out that there was a big aggression by the so-called followers of Mohammed, who talked of nothing but [UNCLEAR Rehamat], is compassion. Now, before His death He encountered all kinds of attacks from the negative people, all the worst of all I can hear they got the worst. He had to move from places to places, hiding the children away from negative forces, tribes to tribes, it was a tremendous life, the way He led it. And all His life there was nothing but struggle for existence. Only struggle for existence.

When Nanaka came in, He saw that Hindus and Muslims were fighting, so He started His theme with Kabīra, saying that Rām and Rahim are both the same and how can you differentiate between the two? All their theme was like this, of integration of these two main religions which existed in India.

That time, there was no question of giving Realisation. People were trying to defend their faiths and fight each other and kill each other, imagine. Created by the same Spirit, fighting among themselves, how silly it must be and absurd. In many places Nanak Sahib has proved that He was Mohammed. Once, He was lying down and His feet were towards Mecca.

So people said, “How can you put your feet towards Mecca?" He had Muslim disciples and also Hindu disciples. He said, “All right, whichever way you say, I'll put my feet." He turned round His feet, they said, “Still you are towards Mecca." He went round and round and round, still they saw Him facing Mecca and they could not understand how it was that He was facing, His feet were towards Mecca. That Mecca was at His Lotus Feet.

Same with Mohammed. Now, all these great incarnations had a special power over water, because you know, in the stomach we have our Void and Nābhī Chakra which is made of ocean. Ocean represents the incarnation of Ādi Guru Dattātreya. These had great powers over oceans and over water, like Moses. He crossed the ocean by creating a road, that's one of the very significant things, which shows that the Void can be crossed with the help of the Rūh. And even Mohammed Sahib had a tremendous power over ocean.

Then, Nanaka once put his hand on a rock and water started coming out of that. People were amazed how it started and that's why it is called as Punja Sahib. `Punja' means `the hand'. `Punja' means the `five fingers', you see, like this. What do you say to this, this part, like that, hand? Hand with five fingers? No, no, not the palm, the whole thing, like this is a punja. `Hand', but hand can be like this, you see? This way. There's no word, all right.

So this is Punja, this is five and `Punjab' is five waters, five rivers, in that area are called `Punjab'.

Now, another thing about these, all these incarnations, had to deal with your attention.

So they were particular about looking after your attention and that is why, from the time Moses or Abraham came in they talked of no alcoholism, all of them. It is written very clearly in the Bible that these strong alcohols, fermented, should not be taken. If you don't want to read it, one need not, but they think it was Moses who said it and Christ did not say, so Christians can take it, the Moses people should not take it. There is no breaking of link between Moses and Christ. They are of the same tree, of the same pattern, of the same thing, but those who want to use Moses for their own purpose will follow as much as Moses has said and those who want to follow Christ will follow only as much as Christ has said. Because it's very good for them. For such useless people Sahaja Yoga has no place.

We have to understand that all these people have said for our good and for the maintenance of our spiritual life and none of them are to be criticised or to be challenged but to be fully respected as our Guru. All of them. Whether one belongs to Islam religion, or to the Jew religion, or to the Christian religion or to the Hindu religion and if they are fanatic, they are going against their Guru. It is against their Guru.

So, they were against fanaticism.

First thing, they were against alcoholism, that's the first thing, they thought, because somehow human beings take to alcoholism very fast. At the time of Mohammed Sahib, people did not know how to smoke. Then they developed, you see, became `modern'. At the time of Nanaka they started smoking, so he prohibited that, but Mohammed Sahib said that, “Anything that goes against your awareness, any intoxication of any kind", He generally, He gave a very general instruction, “He's against God." So, our training, our spiritual education should be that we cannot be fanatics anymore. If you are fanatic anymore, or you are identified with any one of your old ideas, then beware. Be very, very careful.

You cannot have fanatic ideas anymore. If you want to be a good Sahaja Yogi or a Mahā Yogi, meaning a person who is a prophet, not only a prophet, but who is capable of transforming others into prophets.

First is, you have to be away from alcoholism. You should be deadly against it. Wherever you have a chance you find it that it is possible for you to say something against alcoholism. It should be absolutely boycotted. Every place, anywhere you meet, it should be smoking or any kind of intoxication, drugging, anything, has to be completely branded as anti-God, anti-Sahaja Yoga.

Then, fanaticism of any kind, that lingers on, this is another very deep misidentification. I am aware of it. I did not talk of Catholicism till the other day I went to Portugal, when I had to talk.

So I said first time. I never talked about Protestants before, till I had to talk that they are another mad race going round. There are twenty-seven churches of this kind. None of them, except for we, are really Christians. All are nonsensical fanatics, Seventh Day Adventists and Pentecostals and this and that, all are absurd ideas.

All are playing into the hands of bhoots, take it from Me. They have nothing to do with God, they are anti-God.

All those who still stick on to all these churches and to this kind of fanaticism, they are, I am saying here of `churches', because here I have to talk about churches, should know that all these churches have now become the place of bhoots. You'll go to one church and you'll rush to Me. [Laughing; also laughter.] From My house I see in the night, hosts of bhoots waiting out of the church. [Laughter.] I do not know and somehow it's happening that whatever house I decide to stay in, there's a big church in front of Me.

[Laughter.] It may be a Catholic church, may be a Protestant church. And they have seen to it that they make it really bhootish by making all those who die stay in that church. They are not realised people.

Realised people only should be buried and all others should be burnt off. It's better, at least the bhoots go out of them. When they are roaming about in the church and you are taking the children down there into the cemetrey.

Apart from that wherever there is a [UNCLEAR reddygarsheshta], when it is unauthorized, Gods do not exist there. They leave the place.

So, we have to know that we are no more fanatics. First and foremost thing is that we cannot be fanatic.

Now, training ourselves is very important. Spiritual education is very important. But in Sahaja Yoga, as your Mother is a very kind teacher, but even such a kind teacher is not such a help sometimes. Because all corrections are left to yourself and then you commit really blunders and then you think, “Why didn't Mother tell us? Why didn't She protect us, why didn't She correct?" But this is the style I have adopted because in modern times, Sahaja Yoga is working out because I do not challenge your ego. Otherwise you would have crucified Me long time back.

So I leave it to you to decide to discipline yourself. It is for you to discipline yourself and understand yourself.

Now, the best way to discipline yourself is to find out what's wrong with me, not with others. We are very good at that. I've seen every day there's some complaint about somebody coming from someone. But there are very few who've said, “This is wrong with me, Mother, what to do?" So just try to find out what is wrong with you. You are like a fort. The fort has some sort of a weakness.

So, the man in charge of the fort, what do you call him? We call [UNCLEAR Kileda] because a fort is [UNCLEAR Kila] and the gentleman is the owner of the Kila, is called as Kileda. Now, this Kileda finds out what are the weak points of the fort and he sees to it that they are all corrected one by one.

We are just the other way round. We know we have weaknesses which we hide and keep them there, as they are. Whatever strong points we have that we boast of. And we try to see the weaknesses of others and from these loopholes all these negative things creep in and suddenly you find that you are finished.

So try to find out what are your weaknesses. One of the weaknesses, which is very common is that we are very materialistic. We are still very materialistic, extremely materialistic and the materialism is getting subtler and subtler the subtler we be. Try to give up some things, keep a kind of a little balanced attitude, a little detached attitude, not too many things. Few things of value. Try to detach yourself. I don't say you become Sannyāsī, that is also another thing against, but from inside, you detach.

See, I'm wearing a very nice sarī, but from inside, see, what is the colour? [Laughter.] From inside you should be detached, not from outside.

So that, try to practice this detachment.

Whatever you want to possess, you just don't possess. Teach your body, teach your mind, “No!" you go on, a short “no", nothing. You try. Train up your body. Now some people want comfort, the body wants comfort. All right, “You want comfort? No, I will sleep on the ground and teach you a lesson." Teach your body a lesson. Teach your wants and desires a lesson. Let's see what happens.

Now, I don't know why, but in England it should not be so, I mean I expected people absolutely detached because they have got everything, but here it is much more attachment than detachment.

There is no satisfaction of any kind.

So, a kind of a detachment must be developed, to your desires, to your belongings, to your possessions and whatever kind of a material aspect you want to build up. I always said that you must not look like people who are coming from the lunatic asylum. That's true, but you should also not look like a dandy person, with a are, a big bow here and a sort of a thing. You should be in the center. And how are you in center?, When you are detached. And nothing can impress.

But that doesn't mean, some people I've seen that outside they make a show, that they are absolutely disheveled, absolutely in a very filthy condition, smelling like pigs. [Laughter.] They think they are going to take an Avatāra of Varaha, by smelling like pigs, you see. And all sorts of funny things they do in the name of detachment. No, detachment is within. Try to practice it. That is one of the educations we have to develop.

How do you develop that detachment? Is by giving things away. Not to Me, but giving things away to others. Say you reach a certain state of, say you have two suits, if you have a third one, give it away.

Give away things, is a very good way of developing detachment and enjoying the giving of it, than possessing, is greater, is much greater. Take it from Me, is much greater than possessing.

Now for you, at this stage I cannot say, but maybe after some time, it will become that I prophesize that you will become sinless, absolutely sinless. You cannot do sin. Whatever you do will not be sin. I am sinless. Even if I rob you of all your wealth nobody can say I have committed sin. I'm absolutely sinless.

Even if I kill thousands and thousands of people, nobody would say that I have killed, because I'm sinless.

But, despite all that state, I do not commit any so-called `sin', because I have to lay down My life in such a way that you people follow. That you should not tomorrow say that, `Mother did this, She has done this so why not me?' That's why I'm so very particular.

At the same point I would like to tell you that today Chaya, in her sweetness, went and bought a very expensive sarī. And she brought with such love and affection to Me, that I had told her just buy Me a ten pound worth of a shawl and she couldn't bear the idea, but she should know, for Me anything is valuable that you give to Me. Nothing expensive is needed. Even if you give Me the most expensive, I have every right on that, but you must understand that if this practice is continued too much it will create a bad public opinion.

So, at the most, definitely decide, is that you'll give Me only two sarīs. That's all. I don't need even these two. And I can have all of them.

So, the situation is such that we have to be very careful about the public opinion and people may start saying tomorrow, “Oh! Mother, She wears all expensive sarīs." Let My husband buy for Me, he has lots of money and you can buy Me very ordinary things. And I told once Modi that, “You buy Me khadi sarīs, that's the best” but he couldn't bear it. It was too much for him. He says that, “Mother, we are middle class people and we are giving you something middle class." I said, “All right." So, once for all I told them, “All right, you buy some sarīs” and then I bought for them, one of them is this one and I don't know if the whole money's paid, most of the money I have paid. But still, you know, there was somebody who came out with an objection.

I know you love Me very much and you want to do something for Me like that, but I would request that try to get things which are sober and simple for Me. By God's Grace, you should know your Mother is looked after, you don't have to worry. Supposing I was a beggar, then you would have had to spend much more money, but that is not so. And it is not that it is in any way wrong, on the contrary, it's a very great thing, after all these are going to be in your Mother's personal archives and people are going to see what sarīs you people gave Me and they're going to be very happy, of course, no doubt and that's going to be very, very great for you. But, still, where the public is concerned you be careful and understand that when you do anything like that for Me, this public is mad and we have to keep a proper balance.

Now, about training yourself, as I said, detachment, then another thing is astuteness, astuteness. Try to develop astute habits, astute, specially for religious work. First of all understand that you have to give some money for Sahaja Yoga work. In that you should be astute. I was amazed to hear from some people that for food also you want to have free, that sometimes you had food you didn't pay even one pound. I mean this is absurd. If you were beggars is all right, but for Sahaja Yoga, first of all it's not too much, but little, little you have to pay and you should not make your Mother pay for you. It's wrong. I never said this before, but today I'm telling you. Not esthetically, but spiritually, it is wrong that I should pay for you. It's all right, I may give you a dinner, it's different, I may give you anything, it's different, but that you should not try to, sort of take advantage in any way or exploit in any way this Mother of yours, who has got lots of things [laughing] other than what you know of, which can work out against your spiritual growth.

So just don't do anything like that. No exploitation. Learn that. Those who have done such a thing must decide that no more like that.

Now, I'll tell you a difference between Indians and you people is this. That an Indian would never do that. We had one Indian coming here and he was not such a big Sahaja Yogi, but he used to come for his Pūjā and he would not take money for his Pūjā, these people had to fight with him. Ask him, he's sitting.

He would not take, but how materialistic we are! And then, when people mesmerize you then you buy a Rolls-Royce for that person and here a Mother is giving you all the freedom, so you are exploiting your Mother? “I have no job", all this is wrong. You must pay for your food and must pay where you have to pay. That's your Dharma, that's your religion, of every Sahaja Yogi. All right, you need not pay too much, but you must pay where it has to be paid. And never take a parasitic attitude. That will kill your growth, will dwarf you.

I'm warning you about astuteness. For payment, for accounting, for everything, one has to be extremely astute. Like, I'll tell you, I've seen people used to come to My house, long time back, I shouldn't say this, but, used to be so funny they would go in the kitchen, take out anything, eat anything, walk off anywhere. It was amazing, our cooks could not understand, nobody could understand such people, just coming in the house, walking into the kitchen, taking off whatever they like, eat anything, like bounders, you see. This training has to come within you, where you must realise and understand that astuteness towards Sahaja Yoga has to be maintained.

Like going into the ashram, walking into somebody's kitchen, taking out things, using the ashram in a state as if it does not matter. It's an ashram, it's a pure thing. You cannot fight in an ashram, you cannot talk loudly in an ashram. You have to lead a pure life in an ashram. You cannot play games with each other. You cannot make it dirty. You cannot spoil it, otherwise your spiritual growth won't come up. This is the simplest thing one should know, is to respect Sahaja Yoga. Love without respect has no meaning. You have to respect and respect the place, respect everything. Keep it clean, be astute about it and this is one of the greatest trainings. I don't know how, but to British mind it should not be told, because they are known for this kind of a training, but I don't know, because now you are saints, I think, I feel that you have had other kind of training before, that you are born as saints.

Perhaps you have no self-esteem yet, of the value that should be given to your own character. Without that, nobody is going to be impressed by you. Nobody is going to be impressed by you. Nobody is going to become a prophet. You have to first of all impress. You have to dress up in such a way that you impress others. It's a very important thing in, in Sahaja Yoga. You have to talk in such a way that you impress others. Supposing somebody's very fat, he must reduce, somebody's very thin, he must put on. He must try to have a body of the center. Should not allow the body to move this way or that way. One has to be in a proper shape, in proper dress, because you have to impress on others, you must know that if the personality's not impressive how are you going to communicate? Because, first of all, the people see you, those of you who come to you see your outside. They don't see your vibrations, they see your outside.

So, all of you must learn how to dress up and how to behave towards others, how to appear before others, how to talk to others, so that you become prophets who will do wonders and who will transform many, many, many more people into the same state as you are.

Now, this training you have to take yourself. The another point in training in Sahaja Yoga is that you have to read. There are many people who have not read even Gregoire's book, leave alone any other. You have to learn certain things, like Chakras and centers and mantras. And you have to dedicate. Even people like Vivekananda's who never got Realisation, do you know, these people, twelve people, they used to study for fourteen hours. Now you will know what to study, what not to study and even if you study wrong things, you will know where it is wrong.

So you have to study. For example, there are Jews with us, let them study Torah and see then, where is Sahaja Yoga in their written law? Find it out. If you are Christians read the Bible, find out. You should read Gītā, you should read Upanishadas and you should be masters.

You'll find that Sahaj Yoga is such a light that you will know what it is. We have got the Devī's names and the Sahasrānamas. Try to read them and try to understand the meaning of that and try to understand what it means, how far it goes. That's how the depth of your knowledge will increase and your Sahaj Yoga will tell you what is right and what is wrong.

Now emotionally, some of you have terribly emotional weaknesses, the idea of love, that I must speak to you. Because it has come from a group of people who went into another style against the ego-oriented people and they believe that love means hugging each other, kissing each other, this type nonsense is not love. Love is this [UNCLEAR]. That is love. And understand a person through this alone and all nonsensical loves that people talk of is not love. When a person loves you he doesn't stare into you. If somebody stares into you, then know he does not love you. He's full of a bhoot. Only when a realised Soul is angry he stares, to drive out the baddha.

So, anybody who stares into your eyes and says, “I have love” then know it is mesmerism. With discretion you will know this that anybody who loves, only a glance is sufficient. But when it is an anti-Christ activity going on then you can stare at that person and the thing [UNCLEAR will leave].

So the idea of `love' is so absurd. Love is the one that corrects, that improves, that elevates, which is blissful. The relationship is blissful, not hallucinations. And this blissfulness is only felt through vibrations, not through by hugging or by kissing or anything, just through vibrations. Of course, I don't say you should not hug each other and you should not kiss each other, you should, but that's not the way it is expressed, it's through the vibrations. It's the pure love of your being which emits just like light.

Everything should be done in the proper education of the spiritual love. We are people of dignity and sobriety. I have told you this before that some people have a habit of doing this in the [UNCLEAR] no.

If you are sitting in a posture try to sit for at least an hour, try. I have sat on one posture for nine hours, people have seen. Didn't go to bathroom or eat anything, I'm just sitting there nine hours. This is known as [UNCLEAR Bhaitak] is the `seat' and this Bhaitak has to be great in Sahaja Yoga. Try to establish your Bhaitak, that is very important, so that your attention is brought in line with your Mūlādhāra and is straight there. Once you do that, practice it, you will find your spiritual growth would be better.

Walk erect, be straight. In your talks be straight, kind and gentle. Need not shout. No Sahaja Yogi should shout at anybody else, should play games with another, should not in any way be angry with each other, is prohibited. Should not get into any Tantrums of pulling your hair or doing something like that, is all nonsensical. You have to be very, very dignified.

But another foxy method which we employ very much is to tease and provoke another Sahaja Yogi, which is even worse, because it hits you at a subtler point. Try to be straight, straightforward. Allow your mind to come to normal when you talk. If you have to say something, wait and try to say something nice, not artificial. Try to say something from your heart, not to show off. In talking also too much quietness is not good, too much talking is not good.

Some suffer from too much talking and some do not talk at all.

It's better to talk whenever it is necessary. Talk something sweet, no sharpness and sarcasm. That will spoil your Viśhuddhi. Sarcasm is not allowed in Sahaja Yoga, you are not to be sarcastic to each other.

Because of a new generation and a new race that you are, you have to learn that to keep your vibrations all right, you have to have collectivity within you, because you are collectively so much charged. That's why the Kuṇḍalinī's rising. If your collectivity breaks, then it's a very, very, very, very wrong thing.

So, try to be nice to each other, kind to each other, try to understand each other's problem and never, never complain to Me about any other Sahaja Yogi, till I ask. It's prohibited. If you have to say, tell Me about yourself. Unless and until of course something happens, then it's all right, but not against anyone.

Because you will only see the bad points of the another person and you will not imbibe the good points.

You have to meditate and think about what you have to do to become the real prophets of modern times of Mahā Yoga. How we have to dress up, how we have to behave, how we have to talk and how we have to be kindly, that you have to decide.

On this day, I would say that I have talked a lot and only thing that you have to do is to imbibe it in you and not on others, that's all. To others you have to be kind, you have to be sweet, you have to be patient, gentle.

Now, today's Pūjā has to be very simple because it is the Pūjā of Guru, who is an Avadhūta. Avadhūta, as I told you, always teaches you that the whole thing is futile, all this pattern is futile. He even doesn't talk of any Deities, because He says, “All right, let's worship the Abstract. Why talk of the Deity?" Though they will talk of the Mother, all right, all of them talk of the Mother. But not of a Deity, because they think if you talk of the Deity, people will talk more about the Deity and not about the essence, but talk is a talk.

Only at this stage you are prophets who are talking about the Deities and who are giving Realisation and who know the Abstract is flowing through them. You are empowered. You know all about Deities and you know all about their mantras and you know how to awaken them and you know about your Self.

You are all very great.

This may be the last Pūjā now in London, is a great thing we are worshipping today, Guru Nanaka, that's Me. That, may you become great Guru Nanakas. All of them were created by Ādi Shakti, all these Gurus were created by Her and today I say that you all become as great as Guru Nanaka, as great as Moses, as great as Sāi Nāth, as great as Nanaka, Janaka, Mohammed, all have to become as great as all these great incarnations. Just desire, have earnestness in you and alertness to achieve it. Earnestness is not sufficient, you have to be alert.

I've already told you how to practice this alertness. Try to do it. I have told Harry certain things, you can ask him and I have told other people also, how to become alert and how to change your little habits here and there.

Anything over-doing should be stopped, taking of too much tea, taking of too much milk, taking, eating too much, attention too much to the, anything like that, just try to moderate. Moderation has to be brought in and you'll be surprised you can master your tongue, you can master it.

May God bless you all, this day, in the name of Nanaka I bless you all with that great spirit of mastery, which you all should become, the great prophets who are going to change all the men of God into prophets.

May God bless you! Today the Pūjā has to be in a different way if you don't mind, is, Gavin. First of all you'll do Me any favour, I have to tell you that today I want to give some presents to you all and accordingly I brought some presents for you all. These are material things, but all are used by Me, all are vibrated and very spontaneously we are going to choose them. It was in two hours time we have done some job of choosing.

But in this one has to understand that it's all done just to express the Dharma Shakti of the Mother, just that She loves to give. She loves to give. Just out of joy that I had in Hampstead, I felt I should now give you something. It's beautiful there and that's how we have today tried to make some arrangement for that kind of a thing.

So just before the Pūjā I wanted to announce this and then we can have the Pūjā, very simple one, because today is the day of simplicity, complete surrendering.

Just imagine that these two colours are in the Void, green and yellow and if you mix them what is the colour you get? Green and yellow? You get the blue, so the green is the Nature.

So an Avadhūta has to become one with the Nature. This is the sign of the Sūrya Nāḍī, the sun. That means an Avadhūta has to be brilliant like the sun, brilliant like the sun and that detached as the Sun is, all the detachment must come into him. He need not have liver on sunlight [laughing]. He will not have liver if he knows what to eat and what not [UNCLEAR]. All these Gurus ate fruits and they ate meat, never fats and that's how they kept their liver all right. This is, these are the two combinations which are there in the Void and the combination of these two, when they combine, it makes a blue. What is the blue? Is the water, so in the water, now see the Gurus are surrounding the Lakṣhmī on the Nābhī. On the Nābhī is the Lakṣhmī is in the center and they are surrounding Her, they are Her beauty. Without Vairāgya –'disgust for worldly things', without ascetic temperament, the Lakṣhmī has no meaning. It has no meaning. It is expressed in giving, it's giving, that is what it means, that without Vairāgya the Lakṣhmī has no meaning. Without the feeling of giving Lakṣhmī has no meaning, why should Lakṣhmī come to anyone if they do not want to give? And that is what one has to understand, is the significance of [UNCLEAR Shiva].

Now, today's, speciality is this, that though I am the Lakṣhmī, all right, I am the Mahālakṣhmī [coughing in audience] and everything, but I am also Vairāg –'free of desires', I am detached, the One who is Nirmama –'without selfishness', who is beyond. Nobody can tie Me, nobody can. Nothing can bound Me, I just talk but it has no meaning, I'm beyond. In the same way, all of you should try to be beyond.

So, from the Lakṣhmī angle I want to give you something, because Lakṣhmī looks after the saints and the saints have to be detached. That is the way it is going to work out.

I hope you won't go back and wear Kāṣhāyas –‘the orange robes’ [laughter]. Discretion, discretion, has to mature, it's the maturity of discretion.

So, now, for Pūjā today, Chaya, let's have a very simple Pūjā, whichever way you like.

Now, have you got Guru's names? Just see their names.

[Hindi.] Loudly.

How do you spell? What's your name, please? Loudly.

I know her. You haven't washed My hands? [UNCLEAR]. You have? Never? Imagine! All right.

So let's have it.

[During the Pūjā.] You all know the meaning of this, Gurur Brahmā, Gurur Viṣhṇu, Gurur Devo Maheśhwara.

The Guru is the creator, Guru is the protector and Guru is the existence and the destroyer. Guru is the embodiment of the Parabrahma, it's the `beyond-state'. And to such a Guru we bow.

Just a little you can take it on your fingers you can dip it, you see and put it on your forehead, maybe.

It's a water it is now.

You'll feel better. On the Sahasrāra you can put it.

[Hindi.] Just sprinkle it all over.

[Hindi.] Sprinkle it over.

Five people together should come forward.

All right? Come along. Five of you.

[Introduction by Sahaja Yogini:]... never actually been before. I hope everyone can hear Me. First of all, welcome to Caxton Hall and just as Tony said, Mātājī Herself will be here very soon. But it's a good idea to have some idea of what Sahaja Yoga offers, if you like. And then we can be better prepared for when Mātājī is here. Most of you would have seen something that mentions the fact of Self-realisation, which is what Sahaja Yoga is all about, basically. But probably you've no idea how such a claim can be fulfilled.

As you can see from this chart here, we're talking about actual things in the body, actual places. It's not just an airy fairy lecture with no connection but you can feel yourself. It's something that you can go home and verify. You can actually feel it. All information on the names on this diagram is available for you afterwards.

So you don't have to try and remember every single, little item. These different coloured places going up on this schematic drawing represent subtle centers in the body. They sometimes called Chakras, some people may know them by that name and they coiled pinkish coloured thing drawn there, has been called the Kuṇḍalinī. This means a snake-like thing, not a snake thing, as some people have thought and it represents a power. But it is a latent power, which means that it's there in everybody. Yet in most people it is not awakened. It's not actually doing anything and that's why all this is so new to everybody. Because it, in most as I say, in most people, this power is just waiting for something. And it is not just in this life that it has been waiting. It's been waiting through all our evolution for this system or these different centers to be gradually built up. It's if you like, at the bottom of the building and once the building has been erected then the life can be put into the building and the building put to use. At the top there is a flower-like shape. This is sometimes called the thousand petal lotus, you may have heard it spoken out, or the crown Chakra.

At the moment this age, if you like, which everybody talks about is known as the Golden Age, or the one that it's just dying out, is the age of destruction. Now the reason that is this, [disparity] and then some people call it, they called it the Golden Age and also the age of destruction. [UNCLEAR It's/It is] because we are on that cusp, if you like. And that's why people have this feeling that there is something very urgent happening. There is talk of something really great coming to save us, if you like.

So there is also talk of a great destruction that might envelope us. And all people that call themselves seekers of the truth or people who feel that they want more out of life than just money or power or position have this feeling that there is on the one hand a desperate situation but on the other hand somewhere there is an answer.

With Sahaja Yoga we're not offering an answer. As you will see when you meet Mātājī, She is talking of the answer. And that's a very great thing to offer anybody. But it is also what we want.

So we have to at least be a little open-minded. And that if someone really is looking for [UNCLEAR thee/be in] truth with no two ways about it, then they have to at least be prepared that they might meet it. With My own experience all too often when we meet something we have been so used to seeing things that are halfway there or half the answer or almost what we're after, that when we come across Sahaja Yoga, we treat it in the same way. We forget that at some stage, if we feel there is some reality then we are likely to meet it. And we have to be careful we don't throw that out the window with the everything else that we thought as unreal. It's a very subtle thing. This energy here, when it is awakened by an authorized person and when you meet Mātājī Herself, it's for you to decide whether you feel She is authorized. I can't tell you that. That's how I feel. But this energy here rises through these centers and awakens each one on the way and passes out through the top in a subtle form. And once that has happened, your whole body is connected through this energy to what is called the collective unconscious.

Some people call it Divine energy. It doesn't matter what you call it precisely, as long as you have a feeling that this is what you've been seeking for.

And once this connection is made, you cannot only feel your own Self, your own centers awakened, but you can feel [UNCLEAR of/everybody] else's. And the way you do this, so if you can see the hands are coloured correspondingly to the centers. Because you feel in your hands a natural energy and the fingers are like indications of different parts in the body. Once again this is for you to verify. You don't have to say, `Well, I think I felt it, but then she told me I would.' It's up to you. You shouldn't accept anything, unless you really feel you feel it yourself. As some people feel [UNCLEAR that/the] Self-realisation means that they are immediately transformed into a perfect person, God-realised, if you like. I think we've just been too used to hearing words. Because if we were honest with ourselves, if we did anything in this ordinary life, like take a degree, the minute we got our degree it wouldn't mean that we were fully able to do everything in that field, for instance a doctor. We'd have to learn more through experience. It just means we've been given equipment, the tools; the knowledge had to go further.

So if perhaps you can understand that Self-realisation is like this. We've given the key, we're able to open the door and from then onwards you can develop and get to know yourself. You mustn't expect to be placed at the highest point. After all, till you can get Self-realisation, if you read any of the ancient scriptures or readings or writings about Yoga, they say it takes more than just one lifetime, for instance, for purifying yourself, doing various penances, exercises, eating, things like this.

So we have to have some idea what it is that we are receiving.

Now the reason I'm quite so, saying this quite so firmly is because from My own experience it's all too easy to brush off this thing in the beginning because you, you're not subtle enough yourself to appreciate what's happened to you. Anything that is real has to be given a chance to develop. When it first happens it's always like a seed. But with any seed you can be sure that it is going to grow into something bigger.

So what I am asking you basically is to have patience with yourself and to wait and see what blessings in yourself, if [UNCLEAR you/you feel] like.

And when Mātājī comes, if you can just sit comfortably with your feet at on the floor and your hands just on your knees with the palms upwards and your shoes off, but I think most people have their shoes off.

The main thing with Sahaja Yoga is to be comfortable. Don't attempt to do anything that's uncomfortable, because that's going against the whole purpose of it. There will probably be an opportunity when Mātājī is here to [UNCLEAR] to ask questions at the end. There is just one last request I would make, that when, or rather if Mātājī does invite you to ask Her questions, once again keep in mind the fact that what She is offering is something rather [UNCLEAR good/great] and perhaps our knowledge of it is rather small and sometimes the questions we want to ask are just out of curiosity and it might be better to wait until we have actually felt the answer ourselves.

So feel free to ask questions, but just make sure that you are not just avoiding feeling what's happening [in] yourself. Don't block your own progress, in order words.

It's all too easy.

I think that will be enough for the time being. I'm sure Mātājī will be here very soon.

So if you would just like to sit quietly, as I said, with the hands palms upwards and just wait. Thank you very much.

[Shri Mataji's Talk:]..... that has to be first realised, what is your category and if you are that category, of the category which is seeking beyond what you have and that you're not satisfied with what you have already, then you are the category of seekers, who have been seeking something that is very subtle, that is not gross, not intelligible through your sensory organs. How it happens within us, it is very interesting to see. Within us, as I have told you, there, there are these subtle centers which have developed through the process of our evolution. Through the process of our evolution we have become human beings. While we were becoming human beings, all these centers have been also evolving within us. These centers are placed in the spinal cord, in the center of the spinal cord and they manifest outside grossly on physical level, as plexuses. As they are evolving inside, also the outside, the gross plexuses are also evolving. For example, animals do not insure their lives, do they? They have fear. They know how to react to a fear but they do not know how to insure. After some time the animals forget their children. Animals can pass through any filth, any dirt, any untidiness. They don't understand tidiness, neatness. Animals do not organize. Animals don't plan. They do sometimes when they have to catch hold of a prey, but that too, not too far. Like we have five-year plans, ten-year plans, twenty-year plans as the human being have. They do not put any energy into that.

The reason for all this is that man has evolved much more than all the animals put together. He is an evolved soul. Now these evolved souls have also got a category of greater evolved people, who are not satisfied with the general norms of life. For example, there are people who are interested say, in having power. And they want to have power. Till they die they want to have power. Till they die they won't give a resignation. I mean, sometimes they put one foot in the grave and still the resignation in the another hand, in case they do not die and they have to pull out the leg.

So it's better to keep; it helps. There are people who stick on to other games of life, like money. They're money-oriented people. They find their securities in money. They run after money. They plan out everything according to money. All their lives they are doing that. There are third type of people who indulge into so-called love affairs and things like that, into emotional movements of their mind. But there are some others who think that these things are not so interesting for them.

So the fourth category takes to religion, to know about beyond. They read about the prophets, the great scriptures, all the great religions of the world. But as the pioneer of the religion dies, the followers somehow or other built in fanaticism around them and fanaticism is the death of religion, is absolutely the death of religion.

I've seen people who get cancer are sometimes fanatics. If you could cure their fanaticism, you can cure their cancer, because all such false identification requires extra energy in a man. He has to stick on to some sort of obstinacy. Now supposing I'm holding on to it and I do not want to leave my hand from here. For nothing at all, I say, “No, I am not going to leave. No, this is the thing I believe into. I am going to stick on to you." Then I require lot of energy to hold on to it. But if I could be free and see, it is better. Like I remember a gentleman fell down from the sixteen story and he was asking for help and help and he saw people passing from the back. He was holding onto one of the rails and he could not understand how the people are passing around. He said, “Help for what?" He said, “I'm falling." They said, “Where, here is the road." He had just near the road had caught hold of the road and he was asking for help and he was just shouting. Then they said, “This is the road. You better put your foot down." He fainted. Because he had put all his energy into a nonsensical thing, believing into a myth and myth always takes away your energy, while the truth enriches your energy, because you don't have to hold on to the truth. The truth carries you along.

Any kind of fanaticism is not your way, as I told you yesterday. And if anybody is a fanatic, then he is not seeker. Because he is found, whatever it is. He has to be with his fanaticism and his fails.

So the another category of people are there which are anti-everything, everything that is established. Anything, Christ, they are against Christ. Anything, there are reactionaries. They're against Nanak Sāhab. They are against Mohammed Sāhab. They're against everything that has been established, because whatever is established is not truth. Those who have established have taken a mythical attitude. When they take up a mythical attitude and they try to stick on to it, those who think about it are shocked. And they think, “These are drunk people. These are possessed people." So they say, “All right, that's we are not.

So we become atheist. We don't believe in God. We don't believe in any spiritual power. We do not believe in any Divine Power [Hindi.] We do not believe in anything that is said before." According to them, all prophets were wrong. All religions are wrong. There is no God. The wisest people every born.

So there is another category of extra wise. You can call them intellectuals. These days I don't know what you call them. This is another category.

Now there is another very subtle category, which tries to exploit all these things that are existing.

Some of them do it because they do believe that they have found out something new, like psychologist, like Freud. They're ignorant, absolutely half-baked people. They do not know the whole thing. They just know a part of it and to them that's the truth. Like you find a needle somewhere and say the needle is the whole world. They know very little and they don't know what to do with the needle and so they come out with the needle, saying, “Needle is the world." And such people are very anxious to write books and convey their messages to the world and communicate with the whole world what they have found out, while whatever they have found out is nothing but just a few drops of truth. And they are trying their level best to spoil.

Now there is a category of another people which are sinister. In that you know so many types which I do not want to discuss here. From Hitler you can start, all kinds of brutal people and all that. They got parallel with all these categories. But I would say the worst of all are those who try to make money in the name of God. And the worst than that, the worst of all, are the people who try to play games with God. Those who take money are openly bad but those who try to play with your Kuṇḍalinī, with your realisation, are really to be called as demonic categories. And all such people should know, as Blake has said, that they will go to the hell from where they can never rise.

Now whether you believe it or not, there is God. Sahaja Yoga is a thing today which has reached that stage where the category of people who are men of God, they do not proclaim on the streets that, `I am a man of God.' No. They do not stand up with banners in their hands that, `I am the man of God.' They are very normal people. They are householders. They have children. They have grandchildren. They are very simple people. They lead a very ordinary life. They are not very successful people. But they are people, men of God. And these human beings of God are the ones I'm talking about, is the category you people are. If you are not that category, Sahaja Yoga is not going to work on you to begin with.

Later on when we have a particular number of people, the evolution will take such a dynamic form, that thousands of people will receive their Self-realisation. Now the Self-realisation is the thing in which an ordinary man who looks an ordinary common person but who is actually a seeker, a true seeker, not a false seeker but a true seeker, receives the grace of the Divine and becomes a prophet. He becomes a prophet. This is what Sahaja Yoga is, that it makes you a prophet and a prophet of a very unique style, because the job of today's modern prophets is very different from the prophets which came before, as I told you yesterday. The prophets who came before, as we celebrated yesterday, Guru Nanaka's birthday and Mohammed Sāhab and all others, like Moses, Abraham, all these, was to maintain your sustenance through giving you Ten Commandments. And these Ten Commandments exist in that center there, where you see the green center. You can see it very clearly in your stomach. The religion is in your stomach. It's a thing built within you. It is not that I can give you a lecture about religion. But it is built within you.

It is inside you. And this religion is to be maintained, was to be maintained that time; very important was that people should know what helps them to be a human being.

And that was the job of all these prophets and they did it very well. But their disciples and their, maybe their followers made them into fanatic religions. You can't help it. I mean, I've always said that they were like living flowers on this earth, who came one after another on the Tree of Life. And people just plucked those flowers and said, “This is mine. This is mine." The flowers became dead, ugly and useless. That is how fanaticism has prospered. And all the fanaticism in these modern times is challenged, [UNCLEAR everything/everywhere]. People can see it that it is not logical to be fanatic, but as a result of ego activity in thinking, they go to another extreme by which they condemn even the real flowers, even the originators, the ones who came on this earth.

This is going too far from the right point. From one extreme to another extreme they are moving.

Now the specialty of the modern prophets is that you can make other people prophets. That means you can give them realisation yourself. This is the difference between the Sahaja Yoga that worked out at the time of other people. That's why there was hardly one or two realised Souls. At the time of Janaka, say about eight thousand years back when Śhrī Rāma was ruling, His father-in-law who was a great prophet and he had one disciple whom he gave realisation. And with very great tests and all that he took under his own guidance, he gave him realisation.

But today the time has changed because the life's tree has increased, has reach to that state of maturity, where thousands of you have to be transformed. It has to be done. It's the God's plan. And those who fit into it are the people who are of the category who are seeking. Now such category can be understood by many ways and there are some tests to understand what these people are. It may be that such people could be extremely nervous people; could be, because they cannot bear the unrighteous, sinful, deceitful world. The whole atmosphere may be jarring them. That's why they are very shaky. Could be they might be very nervous because of that. They could be a people who might be a recluses. They might be people who might be hot-tempered. They might be people who are escapist. They could be the people who could be druggist, could be alcoholic. They could be anything, because they are running away from the so-called horrible reality.

Sahaja Yoga is a thing which establishes your reality within yourself, by which you feel secure, because your reality is beautiful. It is joy and then you don't want to run away from it. This is what we have to understand, that we are here to receive our reality, to know ourselves. By knowing ourselves, how many things can happen to us, you have no idea. The whole property that is you are, the whole wealth that you are, the whole beauty that you are, becomes your own. You become the master of your own being. This is the first thing that should happen, means your ill health must get all right. You know that there are people here who had very serious diseases, who got completely cured. You know there are people who have mental problems, who had epilepsies and things; they are cured. And how it happens? Just by knowing yourself, how powerful you are. Just think of it. Think of your own powers, that just by knowing yourself, how you have become so powerful. But this knowledge is not through your rationality, that, “I am such.

I am Napoleon. I am this." This kind of a knowledge is really stupid. It's egoistic. But this knowledge is a dynamism in your own awareness. Is a new perception within you, by which you become something.

You become a different person. You become a higher evolved soul. And then you realise that you have suddenly become a being who is collectively conscious.

Some progress very fast but some do not.

Some progress tremendously fast. I know of a gentlemen who was suppose to be a drunkard and use to waste all his money in races and in all kinds of things. He used to smoke like a chimney. And when he got his realisation, the whole room was filled with fragrance.

And everybody said, “This man? How can we believe, Mother? He is this and this and this." I said, “But this is what it is. This was all the clouds upon him. And all the clouds have gone away and you see the sun coming in him. He is a different man. I don't believe in the clouds. I believe in the sun. If I see the sun, the sun is there. I don't see the clouds at all. I see the sun. Perhaps I have more penetrating eyes than you have. And I see the sun in the man. He has risen out of that. And now he is shining like a sun.

So accept him and bow to him." He's the one who was seeking, really within. He thought that by playing races he'll find joy. He thought by eating food like that he will have joy, or by smoking like that he will have joy. But he never was satisfied within himself. He never got involved into it to that extent that he lost his own being and seeking and that's how he is the one who is a true seeker.

Sometimes it is some shocking to see in Sahaja Yoga how people get transformed just like that. Just the change start coming, as if some magic has happened in the person's life and he changes. But actually it is very simple to understand. When it rains and the whole place is so foggy, you don't feel like going out anywhere. It's so grey, you feel so horrible. But when the sun comes out, everyone, children, old people, young people, the housewives, all of them come out to be in the sun. When your sun comes out and you see everywhere yourself and then, “Oh, it's me. Is it me? Oh, oh, oh." And that starts transforming. And you're amazed to see yourself that your transformation. That has to happen for you. But for this, already God has planned within you all these things very beautiful. As beautifully as He has made your exterior, He has made your interior equally beautifully, very delicately and with great, very great care. Within you lies the Kuṇḍalinī, in the triangular bone, the sacred bone called as sacrum, which gives you realisation.

This is one about which Christ has said, “I will appear before you like tongues of flames." What is that? Every person has talked about it. But the trouble is, how would you explain tongues of flames? Kabīra has talked so clearly. He has said, “Iḍā, Piñgalā, Suṣhumnā." Everything he has talked about. He talked about Kuṇḍalinī. Shañkarāchārya has talked about. I would say Blake, William Blake. You read it. You'll be amazed. He's talking of today in his book, `Milton'. He is talking of Jerusalem of today. This place is England, is going to be the Jerusalem, is the pilgrimage, where the people of God are going to be the prophets. He has talked of today. Can you imagine? He was not very old; he was not very ancient, very modern. He has prophesized about these days and it is happening. You don't have to worry about these things. It is God's plan that He has done it so well and individually all of you have got this Kuṇḍalinī in your triangular bone, called sacrum. See, the word sacrum means sacred. How did they know, the word sacrum, to be put for this? Is sacred bone. This was discovered in ancient times, long, long time back.

Even they say that Indra was given realisation by Dattātreya. To that extent, I mean, how many years back it was done. But it was regarded secret. It was done for very few people.

Only it was Shañkarāchārya who started first. Ādi Shañkarāchārya I would say, not this. But the Ādi Shañkarāchārya started talking about it so clearly. Everywhere you find, even in Koran or in the Bible, everywhere it is said, any scripture which has lasted the time, it says that you are to be born again. Now people have taken a note from that and they certify, “I am a twice-born." Now what is the truth you are twice-born? Everybody says, “I'm a twice-born." It is absurd. What do you mean by twice-born? As I have told you before that a bird is called as twice-born in Sanskrit language and a realised Soul is also called a twice-born. As the bird is an egg and when the egg breaks, we do not see the egg but we see the chick coming out of it. In the same way it has to happen to you. That when your egg, which is made by the formation of ego and superego, the yellow and the blue on your head, has to break and then you become a new personality, a personality which is very different from what it was before. Egg doesn't grow, does it? But the chick grows.

Now the growth starts in the spiritual element, in the spiritual understanding, into spiritual education.

Now, now it starts, not before that. You start feeling the Divine Power around you and you understand that you are a universal being. All these nonsensical ideas, of race, of different religions, of different communities, are products of human endeavour, or we should say the human thinking, which is so stupid sometimes that it is impossible for a person like Me to understand why we have to carry a passport from places to places. The God Almighty also must be failing to understand how this has been worked out by the great wise human beings. That He made only one world. He didn't make many worlds. He just put some rivers and some nice mountains and some hills and dales, to make it a beautiful, interesting place for you. And you have divided into nations and into cities and villages and then into smaller places and then into a road and then into your houses and then into your kitchen. That's what we have become.

But the category of the people about whom I'm saying, they can't remain in their kitchens, they can't remain in their houses, they cannot remain in their nations. They transcend the whole universe. They cover the whole universe because they become universal beings. They cannot think in this terminology. It hurts them. It hurts them. You see, it would be like a great person being put in a sack. You just force him to get into a sack or into a cup, how he will be hurt. Either the cup will break or the fellow will throw it away. It's the ocean you are trying to put it into a cup, which you cannot do and such a stupidity has been done so far. But the time has come for all the oceans to be awakened to their greatness. Once they are awakened they will throw away all these minor boundaries and all these nonsensical barriers that has created such a mountain from one seed to another seed where two beautiful human beings are sitting and are fragrant, in the fragrance of universal joy.

After realisation only you can also enjoy another personality. Normally you can't. What you enjoy is his car, or his house or his dress or his looks or his behaviour towards you. At the most his intellect, his success, his horses, I don't know what else. But after realisation you just enjoy his vibrations. You just enjoy him in his innate thing. You do not see his age. You do not see his caste. You do not see his race. But you see all this Chaitanya, these vibrations coming from the person and you just enjoy for hours together just feeling that. It's so enjoyable. One person like that walks in and all of you, “Ah." This should happen to everyone. It has to happen. The time has come for this happening. That's why we have so many seekers. They have been ill-treated, they have been deceived, they have been used. People have made money out of them. I accept, but then I have to accept also that in seeking you had to be tested also, to see where do you stick on. If you want to the truth, go on to go to the truth, you will discard everything and once you come before the truth you will have it. And that's why this testing has to be done, because there is ego. Human beings have their egos. They think, “Oh I will do this. I can do it. I can sort it out." All right. God says, `All right, have it. Have it your way.' Then they will go and break their heads, break their legs, break their hands and then come saying that, “Mother, see, I've broken everything. Now what to do?" It's all right. The Sahaja Yoga has to work it out. But why do all that? Come straight to the truth.

Now, one has to understand that before realisation you don't have to do anything, but after realisation those who do not understand their own esteem, they do not value their potentialities or their powers, can lose their vibration in the early months. It has happened with many people. They have lost their vibrations completely, because they have not paid any attention to themselves. They have not tried to improve themselves; they have not tried to keep up the vibrations. It's like enlightening any light. We have to look after it for a while till it takes its own form. And that is how in Sahaja Yoga so many come, get realisation, but those who grow are the real Sahaja Yogis. The rest of them are wasted, are just wasted.

They'll come back again but they take too much time. And the Divine does not have interest in such people. He does not help such people.

So I have to request to you, request you that if you are seekers, you have to have your realisation. Without that you will not be happy. But you must have full idea and responsibility about yourself that you are now an enlightened light. You are a beacon and you cannot afford to hide yourself. You have to give light to others. You have to work it out that way.

It's not now a question of only one Christ bearing the cross or one Mohammed talking about the message or one Nanaka fighting the whole world. It's all of you put together have to fight it out and work it out. That's what it is today. That's why Sahaja Yoga, one can say, has reached the state of Mahā Yoga. `Sahaja', Sahaja means born with you. It's spontaneous. It is within you. The whole thing is within you. Just like a seed sprouts, the Kuṇḍalinī sprouts spontaneously. You do not have to do anything about it. But when it becomes Mahā Yoga, means it becomes en masse, thousands of people can be given realisation. In India we have someone who has given realisation to ten thousand people in a village. He is just a farmer and he has done it.

So you can imagine how much you can do.

But in the West, as I have always warned you, it's a very ego-oriented society and people are very exclusive. Everybody wants to sort out. Immediately after realisation everybody becomes [UNCLEAR the/an] Archbishop of Canterbury and they think no end of themselves. You have to have spiritual knowledge after this. You have to know everything about it. You have to master it. You have to master your body, you have to master your mind and you have to master the whole art of Kuṇḍalinī. Then only you can say that it works. Otherwise, it's just a waste.

You are the people who are in the foundation and you have to be the strongest people. You have to be the masters of Kuṇḍalinī, absolutely the masters of Kuṇḍalinī. It's not individual. This is Mahā Yoga.

Anybody who tries to be individualistic will be lost, will be no more in the circulation. This I've told you hundred and hundred and one time. And the spirit can only grow in collectivity because the nature of spirit is universal. You cannot achieve anything exclusively. Those who tried it will fail. You all have to join together and should know that you all awakened people. In the Primordial Being, you are like the awakened cells who know the Primordial Being and who have the powers by which they can communicate the powers of God to other people. You all have to be absolutely one with each other, not to find faults but to love and enjoy each other. That's the best way you can move.

As you know that this subject is so varied and it requires so much of explanation, for which now [UNCLEAR you/we] have lots of tapes and if you people want you can get tapes from Douglas, who has really put in lot of effort for it. You can play them and can understand and can improve all your knowledge about Sahaja Yoga. And now I'll be going to India and perhaps there may be only one lecture more where it will be just a farewell function we'll have.

I would like some of the Sahaja Yogis to ask some questions today, because it's a nice opportunity for you to ask some questions. But not the people who haven't got realisation, because those who haven't got realisation are not entitled because they do not know. They have no news about it. They don't understand. They should not ask any questions. Those who are Sahaja Yogis should ask. I mean, it would be something like those who have never visited India, are asking questions about India. Better go to India, find out about, yourself. See it in deeply, how it is, what it is and then you can ask questions.

Not just visit Delhi, talk to some westernized Indians and come back and tell Me stories about them. In the same way, those who have not been to England, meet some of the politicians or something like that, go back and tell something about England, which I will not believe and you should not believe. You have to understand the country on a philosophical level, on philosophy, where are they. And unless and until you understand that subtle thing, you cannot say anything [about it].

For example, [UNCLEAR on/for] England, I've always said that the young generation of England are the best in the whole world. Take it from Me, whether they are English, or whatever it is, whatever nationality, but the young generation that are English are the best, no doubt about it, because they have developed, no doubt, but they have kept their wisdom intact. India, the young people are developing and they have to go through all your discotheques and all those rumble tumbles, till they come to the stage where they'll take alcohols and then they will take to your drugs and then they might take to [UNCLEAR].

Americans are too shifty. They have not kept their wisdom intact. But thanks to the tradition of British, that you have kept your traditions still intact and you know about your country because it is a small country.

So I depend very much on the English youth. But if you ask anyone else, they will say, “Oh, these English youth; extremely rude, arrogant, good for nothing, [UNCLEAR drugged/drabbed], lethargic, useless." But I've seen now young people and young people all over the world and this is what I have to say about them.

Now I would like you to ask Me questions. First the Sahaja Yogis; then we can ask the non-Sahaja Yogis. Difficult. They all become thoughtless, actually. They are not asking. This is the trick of Sahaja Yoga: when it crosses this point, you cannot think. Even if you want to think, you cannot.

Shri Mataji: No questions? Now non-Sahaja Yogis, please.

Question: How about [UNCLEAR the role/rules] until meditating, up to the moment?

Shri Mataji: Oh, there's nothing. No rules. You go beyond time. Every time you are in meditation only. You see, what is meditation? You cannot do meditation. You have to be in meditation. You become meditative. You're all the time in meditation. I mean, there is no time when you are not, because you become a different person. Those people who do meditation, I don't know how they do it. Really, I can't understand. Because which is the way you enter into the realm of meditation? Unless and until the Kuṇḍalinī takes your attention to that state, you cannot meditate.

So how can you do? You cannot lift the Kuṇḍalinī with your hand and put Her there. No lift can work it out. It's only through spontaneous awakening that the Kuṇḍalinī rises.

So you cannot do meditation. And once you are there, you are there.

So there's no timing. Nothing fixed. But it depends on the kind of a person they are. For example, should I say, say somebody who is, who gets up eleven o'clock in the morning, doesn't brush his teeth, rushes to the office, comes back home, sleeps at two o'clock in the night, can't sleep before two o'clock, then such a person has to develop certain habits, because we have to neutralise the habits that we have had. You see, so maybe that [UNCLEAR type/time] will have just to turn the tables and we can manage.

We can change all our habits. And we can have such habits by which we neutralise our old habits. It depends on what sort of a person it is. For example, we Indians have a bad habit of getting up very early in the morning and having a bath in the morning. Whether it is England, America or even if you are with Eskimos, we will do that. That's typical. Otherwise, we don't feel happy. Just before going to the office, we'll take our bath and walk out in the cold. I mean, it is the greatest punishment for an Indian to say, “You don't take your bath." I mean, after coming to England some of them have reconciled. And to take bath in the night and sleep, they can't believe it. They just don't know what it is.

So they get lung troubles.

Some of them have got lung cancer. One of the common diseases I've seen amongst Indians is what you call the, we call it the Heart Chakras, the, the cardiac plexus [UNCLEAR catch/catching].

Common. The reason is this, that they have no consideration about the temperature outside. Now if you tell them, they can't believe Me. They think a religious person must take his bath every day. That's the idea they have. Not in England. I mean, you can take your bath every day, but not the bath and just walk out, you see. Then I have to tell, “Can you have you bath, say, thrice a week or four times a week, if possible?" But to an Englishmen, you better get up at four o'clock and have your bath. It depends on who you are.

So there is no such thing, like having a fixed thing in Sahaja Yoga. It depends on what sort of a person you have, what habits are there, what are your loopholes, what are your weaknesses.

So we have to look after that. Like it's, it's done the, it's very common practice, you know. Supposing we have to go to My house from here. Now you don't know how to go.

So you see the map and whichever way you have to go, you just go. It's a new life. It's a new map.

So you have to see which way you have to go. You change accordingly and you go accordingly. You cannot have fixed idea now anymore. You have to see. If your car has got a trouble with its brake, better it is to repair the brake, isn't it? Or will you say that, “Doesn't matter. Even if my brake is bad, I'll go ahead. As long as my tires are all right, I don't care for the brake." Sahaja Yoga is just opposite. If the brake is not all right, don't worry about the tires, but think about the brake. It's very [UNCLEAR discretional/discretionary]. You become very discrete about yourself.

And you start repairing your car; that's yourself. Because you get out of your car and you see the problems.

You are not identified anymore with you. For example, say Don would come and tell Me, “Mother, I am catching on my Āgñyā here." Now what does that mean? It means actually, `ego'. But he will have no objection in telling Me or he will in no way feel ashamed to tell Me that, “My ego is like a balloon here coming up. Mother, better solve the problem." You see your ego so clearly, you want to get rid of it.

Anybody would do that, but if you tell somebody before realisation, `You have got ego,' you had it. I've never done that and none of you should do. Let them feel the Āgñyā after realisation. They come and tell and you move it. In the same way, any other trouble, even for diseases, if you tell somebody that, `You have such disease,' he may jump down from here with fear.

In Sahaja Yoga you come to know about the diseases much, much before any doctors know, because on your fingers you can feel [it]. But you don't have to tell the person at all. You just talk in your code language. What is catching? You tell, “This is catching. Ekādaśha Rudra is catching." All right, what does that mean? That is the beginning of the cancer. That's already for it; so, Ekādaśha Rudra. Clear out the Ekādaśha Rudra, is all here. Now nobody knows what is Ekādaśha Rudra is, except for the Sahaja Yogis. And they know there is no danger, because it is curable.

So they clear it out. That's the beginning of a personality, where he starts getting into this trouble or that trouble. And say left Āgñyā is catching, is a sign that he is going lunatic asylum and little combinations. You don't have to tell the person. But you can save him from going to lunatic asylum. They need never go.

The people have come down to our program to lunatic asylum and when they went back, they were told, “You better not come up here." It can happen like that. It's very simple. It is so simple, you can't imagine [that]. The whole thing is so simple but you have to learn what it is. You can cure people. You can help your atmosphere. You can do lots of things. The greatest of all that you become the collective being.

So it changes. There's no time, nothing. You are a free bird. It's all freedom. There's no bondage.

You yourself want to sit down meditating. Now I came here, I was suppose[d] to talk and start My speech, but I was enjoying My meditation so much.

So I went into that. All the time you are in meditation mood and you can enjoy it anytime you want.

Question: You are going to come back to England or You are stationed here?

Shri Mataji: No, no, I am stationed here. Absolutely, I am glued to this place for five years more and I am going to come back very soon. I am there only for two months, or one month I will be going to Australia.

So three months altogether, I mean, I'm back. I'm sure even when I go back after five years, your government won't object My coming here. I hope so by that time.

So, it's just I had to come here.

I have been now here seven years and five years more. Twelve years; can you imagine? All right? That should set you all right. That was one of the fears, is it? No. Now is it all right for all of you? Anyone else?

Sahaja Yogi: You can tell us something about Dharma and [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Dharma?

Sahaja Yogi: Yes.

Shri Mataji: There's a, there's a tape on Dharma and on Guru which you can see. Dharma is the sustenance which is established by an aspect of God in our stomach. Our stomach teaches us our Dharma.

Baharathi ka Dharma, means the one you sustain is your Dharma. For example, the Dharma of gold is that it is untarnishable. The Dharma of carbon is it has got four valences. If you have seen the periodic laws of chemistry, you will know that all the elements have got their own Dharmas. And they are given these Dharmas by the law of God. It's the Divine Law, which has given them these Dharmas.

Up to the stage of human beings, the Dharma of a person, or of any animal, or of any element, is determined absolutely by Divine laws and they do not cross it. For example, a lion will behave like a lion.

He cannot behave like a cat. A scorpion, scorpion will behave like itself. It cannot behave like a lion. A tiger will behave like a tiger. Tiger is the king and he won't eat anything killed by some, another animal.

Only when he is hungry, he kills the animal and he eats whatever he likes in one gulp and then he rests and others come and eat that. He won't eat anything that is eaten by others and he won't kill anything, anything that he need not kill. He is the king. That's why if one tiger is killed in a forest, the whole forest seems so gloomy, because their king has been killed. Though he is a terror for them, but he lives with his own Dharma, with his own boundaries. He doesn't cross his boundaries. Any one of these, up to the human level, have their own Dharmas.

Only the human beings have been given the freedom to cross the Dharma. They can. I mean, in a human being, you can find a lion, you can find a serpent and you can find also a worm. You can find a combination of all that in one person or in the whole group you'll find all kinds. But if they want they can transcend. And the greatest thing is they can transcend the Dharma itself. Means they become so great that they can be sinless. Just they can't do any sins. These Dharmas are established within you. These Ten Commandments are there within us. If you try to transgress them, you are losing your Dharma, your sustenance, beyond which you have to rise. For realisation, you have to rise beyond Dharma, Dharmātīt, beyond. But first your Dharma must be established. If it is not established, you cannot rise. But in Sahaja Yoga, even your Dharma is disturbed; it's forgiven. Still you can get your realisation. Then you establish your Dharma. It's better. Because it has been seen, those people who try to establish their Dharmas can become extremely, extremely dry. They can be fanatics. The compassion part of it is lost.

So the compassion itself works in such a way that all adharmas you have done, whatever you have done is forgiven. And you better have your realisation and with that power you establish your Dharma and you have to establish it. For example, you know that alcohol goes against your awareness. Awareness is the main thing, which is enlivened, enriched by Dharma. The human awareness goes down through alcohol, you know, for definite.

All the great saints who have looked after the Dharma, the prophets, have said against alcohol and against smoking. Mohammed Sāhab did not say about smoking because they did not have smoking. But the same person came as Nanaka. As Guru Nanaka he has prohibited, absolutely prohibited anything that intoxicates you, your awareness, because they knew that it will harm you very much. It does harm you.

You lose the chances of your realisation very much. It is true that it is injurious. One thing as alcoholism, I'm saying. There can be something else people do, like thieving or anything like that, is against your sustenance. But Sahaja Yoga is a method by which you first get your realisation and then your Dharma is to be established, so that you are empowered by itself. For example, I never tell people, `Don't drink,' because half of the people will walk out, even Indians. They'll just drink like, I don't know, fishes. I don't know if fishes drink, but human beings do. And then if I tell them, they will be very angry.

We had a doctor here who used to drink. He came to Me. He got his realisation and he went to Germany. And he was fond of a kind of a wine, a special wine they make in Germany. He said, “Let me try some of this." He had given up because, you see, you don't remember that you have to drink. You never get bored enough to drink. You see, you feel, “What's the use of getting up and getting a glass and all that? I am enjoying myself. Why to do?" You're never bored of your company. You enjoy yourself so much that you don't want any drink. Like when you get the nectar of life, why should you get after these horrible things? You just, just don't do it. But this doctor thought, “Oh, how can that be? I am here, my [UNCLEAR] today I'll have it." So he walked into a pub and asked for the thing. He drank. After that he had such a pain, he vomited all that. And he told Me, “The same wine which I use to enjoy, started smelling like [pork] to me. As if [pork] has been pushed into my tongue. I just couldn't bear it and have vomited and I had pain in the stomach. Mother, what is this?" I said, “All right, it's good. You cannot do that adharma. You just cannot do it. You just become Dharma. You just cannot do it. Even if you try, it just works." I mean, there are people here, at least fifty percent people, who have been druggist [and chemist]. Absolutely! They have given drugs just like that. Just like that, they have given drugs. Of course, they had to get over the after-effects of drugs.

That's different. But as far as giving it is concerned, no problem at all, no problem of any kind. I didn't have to tell them even. It just happened. Dharma is established, because when the light is there, you see what it is, but this seeing is not what you understand. Before realisation is through your rational being or through your sense organs, but is a happening within you where you become that. You just feel it. You just can't help it. That should happen; is the best, because human beings otherwise are difficult. They find it difficult to maintain it.

Now, I mean, everything they surpassed. First they use[d] to say, “What about our social relationships?" Their social relationships have improved. Their jobs have improved. Their all material things have improved. If you don't drink, I mean you save fifty percent of your money as it is, practical, apart from anything else. But, according to Sahaja Yoga it's much subtler because the power of maintaining our material well-being is called as Lakṣhmī. And this Lakṣhmī is a very powerful deity, or a very powerful thing. But, alcoholism, alcohol is one thing or any such things like drugs and all that, as soon as She sees entering into the being, She just disappears. She just can't bear it.

So a person may think that by drinking he doesn't lose his money; he is sadly mistaken. If he does not drink he will have ten times more money than he has. And you can see the result today that when Englishmen were known in India, Englishmen's whisky meant this much, every night; that's all. Today if you see the same thing in third generation, you'll be shocked. I mean, first time I came to England I was surprised because to us Englishmen means one peck, so little, before sleeping, very decent. That is what we thought they were gentlemen of that calibre.

When I saw here, I was surprised. “Oh, God, what is this? What Englishmen are these?" So this happens in third generation.

If alcoholism somehow or other reduces in [drink], you can surpass all the economic problems; take it from Me. Absolutely! You'll solve all you economics. Just stop alcoholism. All your specs will stop because they want money for what? For alcoholism. If you get money, have an alcohol.

Somebody dies, have champagne.

Somebody passes, champagne.

Somebody married, champagne. For everything there is champagne. Even in the church you see barrels and barrels of whisky flowing in. Barrels and barrels of this thing is flowing in. In mean, even in the church. Now today somebody told Me that he's got a special wine from a Catholic church, which is called as Benedict's and is a special one. I said, “Where did you buy that?" He said, “In Rome, in the Vatican. You can only get it there, the best." I was surprised that you can only get it in Vatican and he was so proud of it and he was showing Me that. And now it is called as Benedict. Just imagine. Benediction. Benediction is that which gives you realisation. What realisation does the drinking give you? I don't know. Only thing I've seen that people fall on the streets. They talk like stupid people. You don't know what to do with them. It's most embarrassing.

So this is what the Dharma is, that is just enlightens you and you enjoy your virtues not your weaknesses but your virtues. And you enjoy the virtues of others. That's what is Dharma that has to be enlightened.

May God bless you! You have to just put your hands just like this, just like this. Put both the feet on the ground.

Please close your eyes. According to the way the Kuṇḍalinī is moving, which I know on My own Kuṇḍalinī, I will ask you few things. Please try to do them with earnestness and alertness.

Now I have to request you to forgive everyone. Forgive everyone, those who have troubled you, tortured you, have made you unhappy, anyone. You just say, `I forgive.' Is very important. Just try to forgive. Say, `I forgive. Mother, I forgive. I forgive all of them, all the people who have tortured me.' Just say that from your heart. Please say that, `I forgive.' Please close your eyes. You have to be honest to yourself. Just say that, `I forgive.' Only saying is sufficient. Only saying, but say with the heart. It will help you a lot if you can say that. Forgive everyone. Everyone you forgive. When you forgive everyone, actually you leave it into the hands of God. Punish them or do whatever they like and that's the best, to manage the thing.

Just say, `I forgive.' Best thing is to leave it to God to do the job, whatever it is. You don't take the load.

They may be nasty. They may be horrid. They might have tortured you; doesn't matter. Just say; even Christ said. Just again, please say. Close your eyes and say it. Because if you do not forgive also, what do you do? You're playing into their hands. Nothing is harm. They are not harmed by your not forgiving them. You are harmed because you are remembering all that. You are harming yourself. You are tortured by that. You are torturing yourself not [UNCLEAR them/they].

Now the second thing you have to ask is [UNCLEAR for/the] forgiveness, yourself, because might be some mistakes you have been committed. By mistake you might have done something wrong, something unrighteous. In seeking, you might have done something wrong.

So just for, ask God to forgive; that's all.

You put your right hand on your heart and ask for forgiveness. It will be better. Left hand towards Me and right hand on the heart.

Now asking this, you must know that He is the ocean of compassion. He is the ocean of forgiveness and He is the ocean of love and He is anxious for you to enter into His Kingdom. He is the One who wants the culmination of His creation into a beautiful happening by which He gives you the complete joy of your being.

So you just ask for His forgiveness, but do not feel guilty about anything. Whatever has happened, has happened; it's final.

So you just say that, `If there is anything, please forgive.' But do not feel guilty.

I think best thing is to say, `I'm not guilty.' Again and again to say that, `I'm not guilty.' But that's a very common practice here, to feel guilty. Let Him judge you. Not to feel guilty at all is very important.

Please tell yourself thrice that, `I'm not guilty.' Now the Kuṇḍalinī will rise and you'll feel absolutely thoughtless. There's no thought in your mind, you'll see that. Just see if there is any thought in your mind.

Contents: 1980-11-28*, Public Program, Day 2, Paris, France

... now in this world in such a big number. What is the reason that such a seeking [UNCLEAR is established]? Suddenly a great number of people are seeking God? They are like I the evolutionary process anywhere. For example a certain number of fishes had to come out of the sea to become the reptile. In the same way in this process when we have to become something superior, superhuman beings, then certain number of people have to come out of the ignorance that they have.

In our evolutionary process what has happened is nothing but that our awareness has been improved, evolved. In the same way the category of people as I've discussed yesterday who are seekers are the ones who are chosen to be the transformed people or the evolved people of the second stage.

As I said last time that flowers have to become fruits. It's only flowers who can become fruits the stage is that today that you are flowers and that you can become fruits. The leaves cannot grow like a flower grows.

This transformation is the sign of something prophesized long time back. This is the Last Judgment that has started. Our idea about Last Judgment is sometimes very absurd. Actually God has made us in such a way that a time will come when we ourselves judge ourselves. For this purpose He has placed within us a power called Kuṇḍalinī and a triangular bone called as sacrum. You can see [UNCLEAR].

This power rests in our triangular bone in three and a half coils. This power has to rise, awaken to give us our Self-realisation as they call it. After this realisation only the transformation will start. Without that there cannot be any fundamental transformation in our awareness.

Many people think that if they can read about God or if they could talk about God or they do certain techniques they will become one with God. This is a living process and has to happen spontaneously. You cannot force it. You cannot argue it out. You cannot certify. It has to happen within you.

This is the Last Judgment because that's the only way you can be judged. God almighty is not going to have a balance or something like that in which He puts you and weigh how much you weigh. We have, you can see here clearly, there are three forces acting within us. The first force is the force of our desire and the second force is of our action. By the first force we have our emotional side and by the another one we have our physical and the mental side. This is the very subtle energy within us which is flowing and is expressing itself, manifesting itself outside in the gross as sympathetic nervous system.

Now, the central line that you see there represents whatever awareness we have so far achieved up to the human level. There is still a big gap within us which has to be crossed. This is the gap of our seeking which you can see as the green part here. In this area we seek. We seek through our central, that point there is called as the Nābhī Chakra, is the navel center.

For example, as an animal we seek our joy or our happiness in food. Our awareness develops up to the point of food only. Then we seek power as human beings do. They want to become king and become politicians. Then some of them seek money then they seek success but still they are not happy, they are not satisfied. The seeking is still on and beyond this man does not know what he has to seek.

For this we have got great incarnations and great prophets who came and told that you have to seek your Self. Now, your Self is within your heart, your Spirit and how do you enter into it to seek? If I say you pay attention to your Self inside, can you take your attention inside? Your attention is towards Me but you can't put it inside. That is why this happening has to take place. With this happening your attention is subtly attracted inside. Your attention exists in that area and this area has to be somehow penetrated or brought into the realm of Spirit. This Kuṇḍalinī, when She rises from Her sleep She pushes out your attention just like this [translator later describes: like a cloth], upward. Now, because of this

When the Kuṇḍalinī rises She pierces this area of fontanelle bone and this area is called as Brahmarandhra in Sanskrit means opening into the hole of Brahma, of Divine Power. The seat of your Spirit is here and when the Kuṇḍalinī goes and takes your attention to that seat your attention gets enlightened by the Spirit.

Spirit is absolute. It enjoys by itself. You cannot feel the enjoyment of the Spirit because you are not one with the Spirit. As soon as this happening takes place you start feeling the emission of the Cool Breeze in your hand which is your Spirit. This is the Divine Power flowing through you. This is the spiritual power actually this is what that is flowing through you.

If this happening does not take place in you, you cannot be certified as realised Souls. When this happening takes place then you start judging yourself. Because as soon as the Kuṇḍalinī passes through all these great, great Chakras, it enlightens all other Chakras on your fingertips. You can feel them on your fingertips.

For example today while coming in the taxi, we had no car, we got in a taxi and immediately getting into the taxi I knew that the fellow was possessed. And I started giving him correction on this center which is the left Swādhiṣhṭhān. Comes out of black magic, fake Gurus, all kinds of mesmerism, psychology, any unauthorized behaviour.

If somebody belongs to an organization [UNCLEAR not of God/he cannot do that?] You cannot organize God. You cannot regulate Him. You cannot conceptualise Him. He is what He is. You have to just see how He is. We have to humble down before Him to see Him as He is. Not to put our human ideas upon Him.

Sometimes people tell Me very childish things and I just laugh at them because they don't know what they are talking about. But this unauthorized behaviour can be very serious like they crucified Christ because they were ignorant. They were stupid and foolish. They can be forgiven but not those who have got Realisation and still do not try to judge themselves and correct themselves.

You have to have realisation, no doubt. That is the responsibility of the Divine and that is going to happen. But it is your responsibility after realisation to be humble and allow yourself to grow in His light.

You can feel your own Chakras on your fingers but also the Chakras of other people whom you want to give realisation.

You will realise very soon that only a realised Soul can give realisation to other people. But I've met some very highly evolved people but they cannot give realisation, most surprisingly. Sahaja Yogis know because perhaps I know how to tell them. They have no one to tell them so they don't know how to raise Kuṇḍalinī in a second.

That's why they are hiding themselves in the Himālayas and in big mountains where they don't want to face human beings because they know they are of a different awareness. They know about the centers and [UNCLEAR many things] but the Kuṇḍalinī doesn't move under their hands so fast. They think they are incapable of handling human beings.

And also I was surprised that human beings have been torturing them, most of them whom I've met. Human beings are really very ego-oriented. They do not know how to judge people. The saints are crucified by them but the people who are scoundrels are garlanded. They have been very, very unkind to saints even today, but if they get some Guru who can hypnotize them they go all mad after him.

Sometimes I wonder if human beings want to be free at all. If freedom is given to them to achieve their own goals, they just don't know how to do it. Though you are the category of, no doubt, of that promised personalities called as God's men, the slavery, the sluggishness within us has to be given up.

We have to be a very great personality. If you are misidentified with nonsensical ideas like [UNCLEAR] and all these destroying taboos and barriers of life you are sure to lose the ground. You have to know that it has been created within you the possibility of getting your Self-realisation. Your Self is anxious to manifest itself in your awareness and it will happen to all of you if you just ask for it. But even that much you people sometimes hesitate.

It has to be done in complete freedom. There is no compulsion about it because it is complete liberation I'm talking about. Those who are not free cannot enter into the Kingdom of God. You cannot be forced into it like a pistol you take and push them in you cannot do that.

It is necessary that one should understand that this is the most important time of your life. For example, in the villages of India Sahaja Yoga is working very fast. They are not complicated people and they have very simple habits. They have not gone too much on the left or on the right. They are in the center. Of course, in the Indian cities it doesn't work out because city people are getting sophisticated. It means really spoiled. But in the villages it is growing very fast.

But in the Western countries only the thugs and the scoundrels are working very well. Only those who can cheat you nicely you run after them. Those who can outwit in your intelligence and your ego such people are [UNCLEAR big...]. For example there's a group of people in England who are already hundred thousands in number and now it has been declared as a malignant cult.

In England we have another group of people who are about ninety thousands they have now become reclusive and are in a very bad shape of epilepsy but still they can't give up. They have become extremely poor. They're on the streets, their children are starving. Still they cannot give up. These are the effects of mesmerism. That means human beings are more adepts to hypnosis than liberty.

On the left and the right hand side as you see here there are two areas within us. The left side is our collective subconscious beyond [UNCLEAR] and the right side is the collective supra conscious. Now, it has been established by doctors in England that cancer is caused by some sort of proteins entering into our beings from some unknown area, unknown, they are very honest. There are, because they may call them as protein 52 or protein 58 or something like that, they have given a name to it. And they also admit that these areas are built within us from the time we were created, created from the time creation was created.

So, these two areas exist within us but they do not know what these areas are.

When you go to the left or the right, means if you move with these Gurus to the left and the right, their hypnosis and their methods of enchanting you, you enter into these dangerous areas and you are attacked by all kinds of proteins which have gone out of circulation of the evolution since creation.

Virus infection is caused by vegetables which have gone out of circulation. Fermentation of anything, even of cheese or of the fermented alcohol and all those things are again taking you the left side. We are not aware of the problems one can face with these indulgences we have. That is why all the great prophets have prohibited us to have anything that will go against our awareness. And that is why those people who are real Gurus if these days existing cannot work on you. Because if they tell you, “You cannot drink; you cannot smoke” you will run away.

If they say that you have to obey the Ten Commandments t, you'll say it's very old fashion and you'll denounce it. But if there's a Guru who will say, “Doesn't matter, you can have ten keeps and you can cheat hundred people, you can do smuggling, you can do what you like. Only thing you give me the money then I'll be your Guru." Then it's very good for you. It's a convenient one. You like to have convenience in spirituality also. It is the greatest convenience otherwise; it is the greatest convenience to be religious, to be virtuous. A person who is virtuous has never problems with the police, with his own wife or children. Any virtuous society would be the most [UNCLEAR] [heureuse (happy, joyful) in translation]. No deception, no hiding is needed. But human beings found it impossible to be that.

So, we have to have something which will give you realisation first and then you judge yourself.

Now Marie who is talking to you today, you won't believe, you must see her photograph, she came to Me she was half in coma and half aware. She could not even talk to Me and today you see her that she's translating Sahaja Yoga. She gave up her drugs as soon as she got her realisation, as soon as. The impact was so great because she is one of the great seekers, I would say. Her friend did not come to Me so readily till he got liver cirrhoses and doctors refused to treat him because he was such a [UNCLEAR] and they were expecting him to die within days, a month time. Then he came to Me. He lived in My house.

My husband had gone out. When he came back he was shocked. He said, “What are you doing? If this person dies we'll be charged of murder." But the gentleman requested My husband that “I will give you in writing that nothing is going to happen to me. If something happens you are not responsible." And within eight days he got completely cured. He looked very handsome after that. He went to India and people from India told Me that he was looking like one of our very handsome actor. Then he went to Australia.

No, the thing is, what happens to you is you have not yet found meaning. You don't know why you are there and you are really fed up with yourself. I mean you are absolutely bored by yourself. Supposing you go to jail, I mean somebody sends Me to jail, I'll be the happiest person. Because I can enjoy My Spirit there better. I don't have to [UNCLEAR] with hypnotized, possessed people. But for humans beings being alone is punishment because they cannot enjoy themselves not do they enjoy others.

They say they love, they marry and next day they go for a divorce. In Moscow there is a big [UNCLEAR] a big, you can say a square through which every bride and bridegroom, would be, has to walk.

And I asked, “Why this parade?" for these poor things have to walk. They dress up of course with all the formalities and with all the [UNCLEAR] and everything and, “Why this parade for them to go?" Two hundred people, sometimes it rains, sometimes there's mud. They told Me lest they decide to divorce they will have some chance.

Really we don't know how to love because we cannot feel another person. After realisation you'll see the beauty of the person. You see how a person can get his realisation and how he can be beautiful. I see that beauty in you. You do not see your beauty and that's why I have patience. But you have to have patience. If do not have patience with yourself what's the use of My having patience? Apart from that you have to have humble attitude, because if you expect Me to pamper your ego you are sadly mistaken. I'm here to love and give you your realisation. I'm not selling anything to pamper you nor am I here to degrade you. Because in My eyes you are that category which is supreme but you do not have self esteem. If you had then you would have known why I have patience with you.

You can be very beautiful people with this, you can then really start feeling others and you can give realisation. All this sounds fantastic because whatever is Divine is fantastic. You have not yet known that.

Even for a villager a television is a fantastic thing so for you also the Divine Power has to be very fantastic.

But it's not so surprising.

This light first looks just like little wax pillar or a poor little stuff but when you enlighten it, it is giving light. If you use it for your realisation, you can work out this fire. You will see that sometimes this light can become so strong like that.

Sometimes they tremble for no reason at all. And sometimes they can give such smoke that the whole room can be filled with smoke.

In the same way you can enlighten the water. This I'm going to tell you later on, all about it. First of all you get your enlightenment then whatever you touch becomes enlightened because your heart has been enlightened. This is your own, this is your own power built in within you, potential within you.

Now for this subject as I've told you tomorrow I'm going to tell you more about after realisation what is to be done, but for today I think that should do and you can also read through the all the [UNCLEAR] for yourself what I've said. Not a word is false in there. You can yourself verify it.

Through your own enlightenment you can enlighten another people, but apart from that you can cure them mentally, physically, emotionally. You can give them realisation means you can make them prophets as you are but you have to have assiduity for that and I'm sure it will work out very well.

As I told you yesterday that a farmer in Maharashtra in India has given realisation to ten thousand people. [UNCLEAR]. But now I have many of them who have got realisation European disciples. At last thousand are there who are really, really good all over England, so let us see what we do in Paris.

May God bless you! Also you can get tapes from England I've got three hundred or four. I don't know how many lectures which are in English but they can be all translated and you can hear about all the aspects of life. There are any questions? Translator [repeating a question]: He says: “What is the correct attitude to meditate?"

Shri Mataji: Have you got your realisation, My child? Not yet. Now, attitude should be cheerful, very cheerful. You are going to enter into the Kingdom of God. You are going to fulfil your seeking of the ages, of expectation and no [UNCLEAR] about it. Sit very freely and know that you are just facing your Mother. Feel relaxed and secured and it will work out.

Translator: She wants to know because she says Kuṇḍalinī is an energy which [UNCLEAR shows effect] in the spinal cord and...

Shri Mataji: Is the triangular bone, at the triangular bone which is called as sacrum. There's a triangle. Now sacrum word means [UNCLEAR] it is sacred.

Translator: She says while meditating it feels a vibration in the body under the navel and she wants to know what it is...

Shri Mataji: What meditation she has done? Translator: She says some sort of meditation which doesn't have a name...

Shri Mataji: You cannot meditate; you have to be in meditation. It happens to you that you become.

It's a question of becoming. If you try anything else then you are actually using your sympathetic activity.

Translator: She says she doesn't do anything, she wants to know where it is...

Shri Mataji: The Kuṇḍalinī is there at the triangular bone as I told you, on the triangular bone, but you see people try to do something about it. For example some people concentrate here is absolutely wrong because this is not the way the Kuṇḍalinī is going to come out, is going to come out here. You should not concentrate or do anything, just keep quiet, that's all. You should be in the center.

It is like just sprouting a seed. You can't put in any effort. You cannot pull out the [UNCLEAR] from the seed [UNCLEAR] But it sprouts like that, it's spontaneous, effortless. Only the one who knows can do it. Once you are realised you can do it yourself. All right? Absolutely spontaneous.

Translator: It doesn't answers what she's asking [UNCLEAR]. She says she feels a pulsation under the navel...

Shri Mataji: That's not good. That's not good. [UNCLEAR]. But that can be cured, that can be corrected. You don't have to worry about it. Everything is to be corrected. That's the job I have to do, then you have to do.

Translator: He says, “What about vibrations in the whole body?"

Shri Mataji: Vibrations are not the thing. You have to feel Cool Breeze in your hands. Cool Breeze.

You see vibrations can be wrong. Only you should feel a Cool Breeze of the Holy Ghost. Just Cool Breeze, not vibrations. You see, when the car goes out it vibrates, tuk, tuk, tuk, or if there is any heat or anything it comes out of the, uh... you can see that if there is no water you can see lot of smoke coming out and heat coming out. But these vibrations are also misleading to understand that it's not [UNCLEAR] you shake. You should not shake at all.

On the contrary, Cool Breeze flows within from Me, if you take it, or from any realised Souls or you emit Cool Breeze. You see, that is the best car or the aeroplane which does not vibrate at all.

Question: I have something to ask you currently, a question. What is the difference between Kuṇḍalinī Yoga and other kinds of Yoga? The reason I ask is [UNCLEAR] other types of Yoga are concerned with raising Kuṇḍalinī with different methods, I don't understand.

Shri Mataji: Now, I'll tell you that. Please be seated. See it was in the ancient times in India we had a system called as Chatur Varna –‘four stages’. There were four periods of life. The small children after five years of age were sent to these schools called as universities that you call them were Gurukulas, called as Gurukula and then these Gurus were all realised Souls, specially the head Guru by which the university was named.

And the universities were called as Gotras –'families'. Till the age of twenty five years for boys and twenty years for girls. They used to lead an absolutely celibate like, absolutely, absolutely, in the past.

And it was so much that anybody belonged to the same Gotra, for example My Gotra is Chandilya, now, I can't marry a man who comes from the same Gotra. Even today, like brothers and sisters.

Now these students were trained by those Gurus and they were chosen, some of the chosen students whom they wanted to give realisation were taken up and were given realisation. Now Patanjali has written Ashtanga, eight Yoga [UNCLEAR sama] at the same time, eight aspects.

The first aspect is Īshwara Pranidhan meaning realisation, Īshwara means God; Pranidhan means...

Pranidhan is established. To establish God within you is realisation. After that, they had to go into the training of Yama-Niyama means rules and regulations of how to lead a righteous life and also they were given physical exercises according to the need of the centers [UNCLEAR properly].

We are doing the same in Sahaja Yoga. Then all the mantras, the whole science of mantras is taught to Sahaja Yogis. But now, what has happened is some of the people who tried to go to some Gurus in Himālayas, specially Shivananda and when the Gurus found them unsuitable they came out from there, in recent times, I'd say. And when they had just learned some few uh... few exercises, they started teaching the people.

And those who know these exercises we have found in Sahaja Yoga mostly catch on the heart center [UNCLEAR] because the attention has to be on the Spirit but the attention comes to the physical side.

So the Spirit is angry with such people who are so much worried about their physical body.

Modern time is such an enslavement, you can't imagine. They have got even measurement for the body that you should have so much inches and so much inches and so many inches. If they are left to themselves they will even have measurements for noses and eyes I tell you.

Everybody's competing in that kind of a nonsense. They all want to become cinema actors I don't know what sort. Whatever it is I don't understand is how they get into any competition you put it to.

Even if you tell them that “You have to rub your noses and let's see how many times you rub your noses on the wall” they will go into any competition. What is there to compete? You are all individuals beautifully created so different. You have to be different otherwise you will be so boring.

In this universe not even one leaf is like the other leaf. If they do their measurements match? But here the human beings like mad they're having a kind of an idea of measurement. And then what you get? The human beings or they are like pantomimes? So that is how Haṭha Yoga is nothing but standing on your head. We also may use that exercise for certain people, never for French or English. It is meant for people who are mentally defficient not for people who have thoughts who grow like horns. Already you don't know how to stop your thinking.

So, like a complete medicine box people take the Haṭha Yoga into their body.

Sahaja Yoga is a systematic training of understanding, logical understanding. You have to know about Mantras, you have to know about physical exercises, you have to know about everything. You must know about emotional side also. Main thing is that you have to become integrated. Sahaja Yoga synthesizes, does not analyze. It synthesizes all the Yogas.

For example Rāja Yoga. Now in Rāja Yoga actually the thing is when the Kuṇḍalinī rises all these things happen inside automatically. For example the bandhas you see that take place. Bandhas means closing down. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises above the stomach then the bandhas take place, doesn't allow it to come down.

Then your tongue is little bit pulled inside. Then your eyes are dilated; then your fontanelle bone area becomes soft. Now, what the people do is like this: Kuṇḍalinī is not rising. They pull their stomach inside.

They'll cut their tongue here, put it back. That's how they believe that their Kuṇḍalinī has risen because can put the tongue back.

Some of them might ask you to make this soft by beating here [Brahmarandhra according to translator].

These are all artificial Yoga. The real is the Kuṇḍalinī Yoga where you become one with the Spirit, you know that you are becoming close to you.

It is like this: There was a man who went to the King and told “I can make a huge, big palace for you.

Give me lots of money." He's name was [UNCLEAR]. After six month the King sent [UNCLEAR]. He said, “No, yet not ready." Like this for about three years he was saying, “It's not ready." So King went down there. And he asked, “Where is the palace?" There was nothing it was just the ground.

So he started telling him a story, “See, such a big, can't you see a big, huge door here? And now you walk into the palace and this is the palace..." and he gave a big description. “And see the big darbar of people sitting down, all the court [UNCLEAR]. And here is your throne where you are going to sit." And the King rubbed his eyes; he could not see anything. He wondered, “What's the matter with my brain, something wrong?" The brain was sick. And the King said, “Oh! I can see it's done." So the fellow was very happy, he has befooled.

So, very quietly the King says, “Now, I want to bestow the greatest honour upon you. Please come and sit on the throne." And he made him sit like this. In the pose as if he's sitting. And, can you believe, he could only sit like that for two minutes and he got tired.

So he stood up.

He said: “No, be comfortable, I want you to sit like this for at least an hour." That's how it [UNCLEAR takes place]. All these artificialities and falsehood will be seen very soon by all of you.

Yoga means union with God, which is spontaneous. That's why it is called Sahaja, means born with you. But now we call it Mahā Yoga because not only that you become one with God, but you can give this to others and masses and masses can get realisation.

This is the time when many flowers for blossoming are going to become one with their Spirit. This is how all the Yogas are. They also have something like Kuṇḍalinī Yoga in India, you don't know. They also have Sahaja Yoga also. They even use My lectures. Ho, that's [UNCLEAR] Ra, uh, Ra... What's his name Za... Za... Zararsu... There's one fellow, he's using My lectures and he calls it Sahaja Yoga.

So, what can I do about that? You should judge whether you get your realisation or not, whether your realisation is working it out or not. You have to see yourself with complete alertness. Thank you.

So, I've told about all the Yogas but I have in details given lectures in London. You can get the tapes and see for yourself. It's very interesting.

You'll laugh a lot. A very good question, I'm very happy. May God bless you! Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: TM? That's the one I was saying. One of them. [UNCLEAR] I'm going to send somebody who was the director of their academy in Scotland. His wife got epilepsy. She was [UNCLEAR with him] for sixteen years and he himself was epileptic who is now a [UNCLEAR broke]. And what a fool he has made of everyone, really!
Translator: He says: “What do you think about Zazen?"

Shri Mataji: Zen? Oh! Great! But you cannot practice without realisation. Zen means realisation first. The same thing with us, you cannot follow... Zen is Sahaja Yoga. What Zen has taught is Sahaja Yoga. Lao Tze, same thing. It's the same. What Mohammad has taught is the same. What Christ has said is the same. It's the same but still, also, the head of the Zen today in Japan is not a realised Soul.

They are just organizing buildings, houses, foreign tours, [UNCLEAR], I don't know.

I've also given one lecture on Zen, completely. I've been to Japan Myself and I know Zen means Sahaja, absolutely the same. They are all just the same. They were true people but their followers were like that, what to do? The followers made a mess out of them.

In Japan I gave realisation to somebody who started an organization called Mahikari. They know that and this, his own daughter starting twisting it. She was not realised. But you'll be amazed and there are thousands and thousands of Mahikari all over the world, maybe in millions. And how many Sahaja Yogis there are? Because in Sahaja Yoga you have be, you cannot be member of an organization, just hang something round your neck and say that `I am a Sahaja Yogi.' You cannot. You have to be.

You see, it is easy to make artificial flowers. To make a real flower it takes time. It's just like that.

These are all plastic Gurus and plastic disciples but poor disciples. They are seekers. Very sad. All right? Translator: How can we know that there is a realised Soul?

Shri Mataji: Once you get your realisation yourself, you [UNCLEAR start] the Cool Breeze flowing from your hand. This is described in the Bible and is very well described in a book written by Ādi Shañkarāchārya. Now, when you see a person wants to know whether the other person is realised or not you put your hands towards that person and you start getting the Cool Breeze from him. You can also get Cool Breeze from ether, you can see Cool Breeze. Like, I've not met many people, many Gurus, sorry, good people and the other day in Spain one boy came up, just said, “My Guru has sent me, Mother, to help You." Uh, I've never met him before. He lives in the Himālayas somewhere. I asked him, “Who is your Guru?" He told Me the name. And as soon as I heard the name everybody started getting vibrations, cool vibrations.

We had a priest here the other day who wouldn't get his realisation because he was not married. Then he wrote a letter to Me with a friend that “I have a Guru in Rameshwaram, maybe because of him I'm not getting realisation?" I read the name and I said, “He is a realised Soul." And he then told Me that “Yes, he has told me that Mother has come. It's You." And he told him about Me, with whom I've never seen before. We just know it.

In Rangun one lady, her name is... uh... she's an American lady I think. She went down there and there is a big saint living somewhere who doesn't meet anyone. She came back and she said, “The Guru not only called me but he made me sit in his feet, saying that `You have met with Mother. I've not met Her.' " They know. This lady is in Kuwait, I'll send you the address you can ask her.

They know Me and I know them and you will know them too. This is the knowledge of the Self. Only through Self you will know God and you will know God's people. Not through rationality. How will John the Baptist know that Christ is the One because he was a realised Soul. It's very simple.

Let's have it now. Please put your hands like this straight, just straight like this.

Contents: 1980-12-01*, Public Program, You Are All Part of the Divine Being, Caxton Hall, London, UK

I could not accommodate all of you in My house; then I thought better to come here all of you, sit here.

And today is the last day for our Sahaja Yogis. We have to understand certain very, very important things about ourselves and our organization that is Divine. Now, in broad lines I can tell you, not individual problems and individual things because you are no more individuals now. You have become part and parcel of the Divine Being and you are awakened cells. And so in a broad way we must understand what we have to do about it. First thing: we have to know that we are realised Souls and that you have got realisation and that you are saints, that you have all the powers that a saint could have. No saint ever had more powers than you have, as it is, which is manifesting. No saint had any knowledge that you have today.

You'll be amazed, none of the books which have been written so far have been able to tell you about the spiritual being that is within you as you have come to know through Sahaja Yoga. One has to accept it. It is so. Anyone of them whosoever has written any books, even, I would say, Ādi Shañkarāchārya, he could not explain so many things which you know. But the quality of Ādi Shañkarāchārya is very great, or people of his type, Mārkandeya or Buddha, the quality is very high, because they are extremely pure people, purity. They have achieved individual salvation of a very high degree while you have achieved your collective salvation better, but individually they are of a very, very high quality. I mean, they had no doubts about Divine Power, they had no doubts about God. They never had any doubts and they were very dignified. And they never bothered as to their petty problems of life. For them this was too petty to think about. Anything which is so petty, we spend so much time over it. I know we had to do it because after all we are human beings and are being into Sahaja Yoga with our human awareness and then we got our realisation so the purification time is very, very short. And while they had such a lot of time to purify themselves.

Now, for example, Moses was an incarnation, a very pure form of a personality or, you can say, Jesus was an incarnation, absolutely purest form of incarnation. But they are there to be our ideals while what we have done is to become from human beings a prophet.

So you understand both the things very well, what the weaknesses human beings have, what are their problems, how they get away from reality, how they are deluded. But still we do not use our vibratory power as we should use. And this is one point I want to tell you that you all have vibratory powers. When we start using our vibratory powers also we do not know what dignity, protocol we should have for using this power. It is the power of the deities within us and it's a ritual by which we get their power working in it, in us. As you know that people of ancient times did lot of miracles through this power but they were very dignified people. There was no frivolousness in their character and not useless problems within them, absolutely of no spiritual value.

When you use your vibratory awareness you should not use them for useless powers like, say, for example: going to a cinema and there's a traffic and you think that, `There's a traffic' so you must use your vibratory powers to reach that place. Because it's frivolous; it does not matter. In Sahaja Yoga it does not matter whether you go to a cinema or not. What matters is: what are your spiritual powers, how far you have come in your spirituality. It does not matter at all. You are a saint and what saintliness you are achieving within you is the main problem. Otherwise, all the rest of the things that you have has no meaning. Or all these problems have no meaning in spirituality.

So all the Sahaja Yogis must realise that you are now newly born and you are people of new awareness and you have to have that dignity.

For example, people... I'll just give an example because I was discussing with someone today: that when you give somebody a sort of a bandhan you just turn your hand like this or like that. This is not the way it should be done. Your hands itself are to be respected because these are the hands of a saint. And all the deities reside on your hands and fingers so when you have to give them bandhan or anything, you have to use them properly. Use them in such a way that is dignified to do it. Anything indignity or cheap behaviour should be absolutely avoided. Then dealing with each other you have to know that you are all now in the circulation of Divine Power. You have to respect each other and really love each other. You must respect because you are all saints. Every saint must respect another saint. That's the minimum of minimum. And if you do not respect each other, your Chakras will go out of order, especially Viśhuddhi because it's the collective thing. And also Mother's Chakra will go out because your sense of security is your collectivity. And the love between each other has to be not only looked after but is to be nourished and to be worshiped and to be... it should be a virtue.

You should not treat each other as human beings treat each other. No, it's a precious thing. And even while talking to anyone very close, your brother, sister, husband, wife, you must respect, you must respect. Otherwise, it has no meaning. You must respect your parents much more than you ever respected because they are Sahaja Yogis, because they are saints and they are your parents. Respect is the keynote of relationship with each other to begin with. And respect without love has no meaning. Respect and love for each other. For somebody is highly placed in life, somebody is lowly placed in life, in Sahaja Yoga it does not matter. How much you earn, what is your position in life, where you live is not important. The main important thing is that we are one and we are the people who have become now prophets and we are the ones who have got the powers to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others and such a power has come into us because our Mother loves us very much and it is our duty that we should love each other. And how I respect you? I need not because you know that there's a big gap between you and Me. But I respect you because you are saints. And where the saints are not respected that country goes to dogs.

So first of all you must learn how to respect each other. And that is a very, very important training we should have. Whether he's your husband or wife, whether he's your brother or sister, father, mother or child, because he's a saint, respect. But I do not know how you will react to this one that immediately you start thinking about people who do not respect you. Think how many people you do not respect. It's a typical ego-oriented reaction that immediately we start thinking, “Oh, that man does not respect me, that man does not recognize me." But just think how many people you have not respected yourself.

When I'm not here, I'm here much more. I've not been to Australia and you know how tremendously these people have come up: so pure and so good and so fantastic. But that has not happened so much here because I had to work, really labor here. Not that England is that bad. But all the time to feel that Mother is around, we put all our problems to Her and She can solve them. Even small, small problems you bring to Me, it's all right. But now you are capable of solving your problems as well as solving the problems of others. Unless it is something fundamental you need not bother about Me and you need not also ask Me about it. You can go ahead with it. But you must think everything in the terms of Sahaja Yoga by which... `How much by that you are doing for Sahaja Yoga, how much you are working out for Sahaja Yoga?' This was the meeting of the Sahaja Yogis today.

And fundamental... we have to understand one thing: that we have to grow and we have to let others grow with our growth, not by carving our growth but with our growth. You'll only grow if you make others grow with you. Otherwise, there will be no growth. Now, whatever I say goes into the books, sometimes into the brains of the people; it has to go into the heart.

Whole Sahaja Yoga system works on the heart that is the Spirit. Spirit is the thing I'm talking about: if the Spirit is happy by that.

Some people, I'm told, are using their hands like a weapon and all that.

This is very dangerous. You are not supposed to do all this for yourself. You are still saints; you are not yet Gods.

So don't try such things.

Some people have a habit of also hitting a person with the hand like that. In My presence, if I say, is all right but otherwise you should not. You have to respect. Use all tender and gentle methods, never anything by which you show any disrespect to a saint. Of course, you are hitting the negativity in another person. I know that. But you have no business to do that or to discard anyone or to put somebody out of this thing. You'll go down very much. This is a serious thing one must understand. You have all the powers. You know how far to go. You must keep to your Maryādās. Don't go beyond because these things give you ego and ego is the most dangerous thing which we face always.

Try to improve your language. Be gentle, be very gentle with each other. I expect that you'll have many more people by the time I come.

I expect fantastic things from you. I don't know if I should but I've given you something so fantastic, so tremendous. It is unbelievable. I expect it from you, no doubt, because you are specially selected and I have worked with you for years together. And you have got the tapes in English. French people, poor things, they don't have tapes in French and they have to be translated. They haven't got a book in French and they have big problems of understanding Me. But how dedicated they were, how deep they are. Each one of them came and said, “Mother, I love You very much. I love You. I have many defects and I offer myself to You. Will you accept me?" All of them said this way. Just imagine. I mean, I was surprised how they were saying all these things to Me and the way they were understanding their defects within themselves.

Now we have to change our mode of behaviour towards financial, material, emotional, physical and all these things. For example, say, one is married. Marriages should be successful. If your marriage is not successful and happy, you are not going to be blessed, not at all. Try to make your marriage very happy and successful. That's very important. Marriage is the institution established by Ādi Shakti. You cannot dishonour it. Do not play frivolously with your marriages. Then you must also allow the children to be born to you so that you get great souls coming down on this earth by which we are giving them chance, a very good chance to lead a very happy life. But if husbands, wives are not happy and even if realised Souls are born, they have a trouble with you and they do not prosper well and they have problems.

So first of all, create a family of happiness and joy.

Some people think if they get away from Sahaja Yogis, they'll make a good, happy married life. It's absolutely wrong, absolutely wrong.

If you cannot make a happy married life in the ashram, you cannot make it anywhere else. First try in the ashram, worth trying. Otherwise, you cannot make it. Because then you understand how you share your life with others and your married life. Any such thing, like any material thing, like getting a house or getting this thing, that thing is not so important. Your house should be clean within yourself, your temple of your heart. We are not here to build houses, not to accumulate money. We are here to build our temples within ourselves, the real temples which are growing, which are the living temples of living God within us.

So these material things are important up to a point, not more than that. Most important is not how you are substantiated by Sahaja Yoga but how much you have substantiated Sahaja Yoga through you. Many people think, “We should get a good house because we have come to Mātājī." Yes, you do get. You get good jobs, all right. You get it. You get your financial conditions improved, all right. Everything happens to you. But how much have you given to Sahaja Yoga? In the way, how much have you substantiated? People think sometimes that if they donate money that's sufficient. Is not. To enrich it with your heart, with your lovingness, with your friendship, with your sweet understanding of each other, enjoyment of each other's company in the purest form, not with any purpose or with any intention of getting any low type of joy or low type of happiness from someone ego-oriented or sex-oriented. But it's pure joy, pure joy. Purity is the thing we have to take to and try to be purer and purer. And the purity will be shown brilliantly on your faces, in your behaviour, in the whole being as you would be. Your presence itself will show that you are Sahaja Yogis. You won't have to certify. You won't have to wear some special dresses to say, but people will know from your faces that you are saints, from your behaviour. You have to stand back in the last queue. You should be the people who should look at things, should not be the first [UNCLEAR unique] to get into the thing first, to get into the queue first. No, you are the last because you are with yourself. They are not. They have not their own securities. They are trying to find securities in these things. You have your own securities.

Change according to the Spirit all your priorities and then joy is your own. I really expect fantastic things from you and I hope you all will join together and work it out and create something fantastic. I don't know how to tell individually about things but as it is I have already spoken to these Sahaja Yogis in Paris and I have told them that Sahaja Yoga is a very speedy thing. And it's very speedy. It's such a speed and if you do not keep with the speed of Sahaja Yoga you'll be thrown out. You have to keep to the speed of Sahaja Yoga. Those who cannot keep by some method or other or get locked up by something or some misidentifications will drop out. You'll only grow when you will keep to the speed of Sahaja Yoga.

It is going to be tremendous in India. I know these five years are going to be tremendous in Australia.

England may be depending on your people putting up the speed. It's going to be tremendously speedy and you have to understand that drop out all your shackles and drop out all your misidentifications, all nonsenses of fanaticism or, say, of misidentifications as that you are British, this, that, all this and just become Sahaja Yogis and universal beings. It's very important. That time has come now. From next year it will start.

So I wish you a very Happy New Year and a very, very happy and cheerful Christmas.

May God bless you! Now we have to await for other people who'll be coming now but any Sahaja Yogis have any problems or any questions should ask now till other program will start. Ask Me questions, very important, on to small, small things, you see. Later on, `Mother said so' or, `Mother said so' should not. Sahaja Yogis should ask because new people who have come, who have not got yet realisation should wait for a while because I'm just dealing with the Sahaja Yogis. And then we'll start our program after, let's say, ten minutes. Is it all right for new people? Now, I want Sahaja Yogis to ask Me questions. It's important.

Sahaja Yogis should ask Me questions. Please. You have to do everything with consultation with each other. No group should be formed. Separately. Ask Me questions. Come along. What's the matter? Don? You are getting thoughtless. Then, “Mother said like this" and “Mother says like this" and “Mother has told", this should be stopped. You see, actually we think outside going, outside doing is the way. No, inside, grow inside.

Certain things I'm going to write it down so that there's no confusion about things but till I come back the ashram system should go as it is today. Then when I come back we'll change it. But just now it's all right as it is. Nobody should take new steps. If you get a house or something, all right, you take a house but better thing is to stick on to ashram for the time being, look after it and substantiate. I mean, somebody is allotting you a house: it's all right. But you need not take a house on rent or something to get out of ashram. That's the escape.

So those who are...

Question: [UNCLEAR] [this is not Yoga]? [UNCLEAR]. [This is they want to know?] [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: No, no, no you should be very discreet. You see, as I have told you in one of My lectures that there are three groups of Sahaja Yogis. One are the people who are in the inner circle. They are... most of you are here. You need not tell them many things. Everything need not be told. That is being not dishonest but that you are discreet. I mean, you need not tell everything. That's a wrong thing.

Discretion is to be used. Then the second type are the people who are Sahaja Yogis but yet not there, you see, still are doubting and this and still are not so developed. Their Kuṇḍalinī is not up there. They are still funny type. These are the people you have to be careful about. You need not tell them everything because they can't bear the truth, you see. They are not yet ready. Unless and until the Kuṇḍalinī has reached a certain stage they cannot bear. The sooner you start doing that, the worse they will become.

Their doubts will be more, you see, because this is too much for them to bear.

So you have to wait, wait and see for yourself. That should [UNCLEAR work]. Just talk about Sahaja Yoga [UNCLEAR]. You need not talk about Me. Now how will they understand Me? I mean, you cannot understand Me. How can they understand? See, the other day somebody asked Me that, “Kuṇḍalinī rises with such difficulties and [UNCLEAR they have] to purify yourself and all that and here how my Kuṇḍalinī has risen like this. Mother, how could it be?" I said, “It has risen or not?" He said, “Yes." “You feel it?" “Yes, yes, I have [UNCLEAR felt the breeze]." Then I said, “There must be something with Me. All right?" He said, “That's what I was wondering that must be something about Mother. How is it that She's done it?" I said, “There is something. All right.

So just now you need not find out. Just now you find out about yourself. Let it grow. Because I do not want to shock you. There is something about Me, no doubt." [MISSING.] And one of them was saying that, “It's such a miraculous thing that my sinus has gone, I'm feeling so much better, my drugs I have given up. I'm so much better and so fantastic that I can't believe it. How can it be? I tried all kinds of medicines, I went to the hospital, I did this, I did that, I had an operation. Nothing worked out. And how is it this simple thing like Sahaja Yoga has worked out?" I said, “It is too simple but it is to the point.

It's so precise. It acts. It is something that acts." “But how is it?" I said, “It does." Like we were going to Paris. They announced that the temperature of Paris is zero degrees.

So, Christine was sitting next to Me rather worried. I said, “Don't you worry, it is going to improve." Within fifteen days they said suddenly the temperature has gone up five degrees. Today London's temperature has gone after My coming. It works but they are surprised how it is working.

After all, all these things are promised. Time has come. But you need not tell them. No, don't shock.

It's correct, Ray, what you say is very discreet. Ray is a very discreet person, no doubt about it. There's tremendous discretion and that's what you should use what to say to anyone and how far to say. Is a very, very discreet method. And you must know how to compromise also. You should not be something like a cynic. You must learn to compromise. You must learn to compromise and understand. They are people who are not yet realised. You are realised, you are grown into it, you are much more matured.

So you have to be much more gentle with them and not to show off to them. You know they feel small. Like somebody is asking a question, maybe stupid, may be possibly. Doesn't matter, he's not realised. And if you laugh at him sarcastically or make fun of him, naturally you lose him. You are not to lose these people.

You have to get them in and that is their right. They are seekers. They are seekers. We have to really understand this with great compassion and love for them. They are seekers. We have to work it on them, not to just laugh at them or make fun of them or in any way to put them down. On the contrary, show them due respect because they are seekers as you were. Before that what we were? What sort of people we were? How many arguments we have had with Mother? How stupid we have been? We just forget all that. And suddenly we become very wise. No, wisdom lies in understanding that they have to have their enlightenment. They haven't got it as yet. They have to grow in that light. This is the problem.

Now you have to use your discretion. There's no need to ask Me. Have you learned from your mistakes? Where you have done mistakes? But consult each other, consult each other. Talk to each other absolutely freely. There's nothing to be hidden among Sahaja Yogis, nothing to be hidden among Sahaja Yogis. But with elders, with other people, be respectful. Maybe you being young are more active in Sahaja Yoga.

Maybe children are still not so developed in it. We have to take all of them together, not to be unkind by any kind of sarcasm because I have told you a hundred times and hundred and eight times now: sarcasm has no place in Sahaja Yoga. This is no way of joking; it's a very sly method. Nobody should beat also, in the same way: it's just the same, other side of the coin. Beating or shouting or putting up your head like this on other people, like this. Many people have a habit of putting their heads like this when they talk to others. Or French people have a very bad habit of putting their face like this. I was surprised. Anybody you talk to... means nothing goes into his head. I said, “What's happening here?" Is like a [UNCLEAR duck]. And you say anything, again they will say another thing. I mean, everything has a tale coming out.

So these are our tales. We should understand that we should not put up ourselves to such barriers but accept things as they are. And those who have... who come to you, don't get angry with them because by talking or argument you are not going to convince them but by only by Sahaja Yoga. Try to give them realisation. Do not argue.

Some people think, “If you talk to them sweetly, if you are sympathetic..." No, also that doesn't work out. You go on wasting your time with them and they'll go away. They [UNCLEAR can't do it]. Where is their Kuṇḍalinī? How far is it rising? That's the point you should see. Instead of just trying to be very nice with them, then discussion, then this. No use, waste of time. In the same way if you are angry with that person and argue; it's also wrong. Both are waste of time. But be gentle and kind and see where is the Kuṇḍalinī. Best is to use photographs. And please do not start curing people. Otherwise, I'll find all the sick patients in Sahaja Yoga. They are not to cure; it's finished now. Better not do it. What's the use of curing these people? They are so ungrateful. They have no sense at all and they don't want to do Sahaja Yoga. We are not interested in such useless people. Those who come to Sahaja Yoga will improve in their health automatically. You don't have to give them any treatment. They can work it out on the photograph. That's all; that's the end of it.

Now, what any other? Mary, Mark, ask some sensible questions. You are good. They have been very good husband and wife, I must say. Very happy with them. They are a good, ideal couple and I hope they keep it up. But now there should not be... also there are some people I know who are very much interested in getting everyone married. Now stop it. Till I come back you don't have all these things.

Otherwise the mind, it becomes a marriage bureau.

Some people have special specialty about it. Instead of loving others' children, also create your own children.

Some people like to play with others' children.

It's also not good. Better have your own children. That doesn't mean you just love your own children.

But that's how, you see, they get that thing satisfied and they don't want to have children and then who's going to bear the children who want to come on this earth? That's a big responsibility.

What else? Baba, it's clear, ask one or two questions. Gavin, please ask some questions, you see. It's two minutes more.

Question: How do we prevent Sahaja Yoga from becoming a cult?

Shri Mataji: What is it? Question: How do we prevent Sahaja Yoga from becoming a cult? [UNCLEAR] compromise [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes, it's possible. Because, you see, you think, “I'm catching. I'm catching." This madness has come also in Sahaja Yogis. This will become really cultish stuff, you see. It will really become a cult. Nonsense! What are you catching? You have pure vibrations. You give realisation to anyone.

None of your Chakras catch anybody else. Everybody thinks, “I'm pure", what it is they say?, “Holier than holy." What is catching, what? All such dainty darlings are no good. “I'm catching. I don't want to catch." All this nonsense will be definitely cultish. You have to be brave warriors. What is catching? “I don't want to give vibrations with this catching. I don't want to do it." All right, use the photograph to begin with. But if you have to do it, you should not be frightened. You are swords.

It is true, Gavin, what you said. It's very true. But you look after that part, that none of them should become that, “I'm catching this and I'm catching that andI don't like this and I don't like Sahaja Yogis doing this." This is all wrong. This will make a big cult out of it, you see. Of course, that's not possible.

You try such tricks and you will know what it means. That won't be possible though. But be careful; you'll go out of gear. Nobody has to form a cult. Everybody who is coming to Sahaja Yoga has to be absolutely with full... both the arms stretched out, “Come along” just like your Mother. I should be the greatest cult myself. Why should I bother about anybody else, you see? This catching business should drop out from your mouth. Everybody comes and says, “I caught it from him. I caught up from them." I'm amazed. How can you catch up from anyone? What are you? A dainty darling or what? Now no more it is going to be tolerated, “I caught up from that." Go and beat yourself with shoes. You are such a dainty darling. That's what you need then. You know how to do it. Nobody should say, “I'm catching." Also neglect these things completely. The more your attention you pay them, the more they sit on your head. Just neglect. Go ahead.

What Paul has pointed out is true. This is very common in England, not in India. Nobody says that, nobody. I've not heard one person saying, “I'm catching from that person." Never. They say, “This is my weakness so I must have felt for that." They never say like that. You see, this is specialty, you see, putting the blame on others. This is typical ego style business. Put the blame on others as if you are pure and you have caught up from another. It's your weakness. That's all what you should think about.

You are brave people. You have to be very, very brave. Without bravery how are we going to do Sahaja Yoga? Just tell Me. You have to love with bravery. In love you don't think and consider and all these things. Just go ahead. Such a powerful thing to love someone. “Such person should not be there and such person should not do that", nothing. Now those people who come for the first time, all are not so much... they may not have proper protocol. That doesn't mean that you get after their heads. Otherwise, it will become a cult. First thing is consideration of others. And understanding that they are not realised, they are not enlightened. This is very important. You must understand this. They are not enlightened as yet, they have not got their vibrations, they haven't got their vibratory awareness. To get angry with them is wrong, absolutely wrong. What else? Now, that's a good point. One more point you can ask Me.

Some people are coming. Also do not allow your weaknesses to sit on your heads. For example, some people have a habit of telling Me, “Mother I had this, I was this, I went there and still that is lingering into Me." Then you are absolutely useless. Why don't you take it out? Finish off. Like that. “Still I've been to this yogi, I've been to that yogi, I've done this, I've done that." Done, finished. In the present time you are pure Spirit. Become that. What is there to be proud of these nonsensical things? They are not parallel to Spirit. When the Spirit shines then darkness has to go away. If there is still darkness that means something wrong with you and if you are wrong, then what are you boasting about? I mean, people have a habit of boasting. Try to be alert and loving. Loving and alert. You have to be really alert.

What else? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It's a little personal question, isn't it? I'll tell you separately, all right? Because this is not the problem of many, all right? General problems should be solved. This is very personal. It's pertaining to you. What else? Question: If I follow You, do I have to give up parents?

Shri Mataji: Give up what? Question: If I follow You, do I have to give up parents, to give up friends, to...?

Shri Mataji: No, no, no, not at all. Why should you? On the contrary, we want all your friends to come and join us. You don't follow Me; you follow yourself only. It's a question of not giving up but your priorities change, you see, because your awareness changes, you see. Like I could say that if you take a, say, a horse, through the streets of Paris, he would not notice anything. For him any dirty place, filthy place is the same as the any street. If you take a man or a woman, she will notice prostitutes standing on the street. He may be repelled towards them, may not be repelled also, possibly. Mostly he will not be repelled. But if you take a saint or a Sahaja Yogi, he'll have compassion for a prostitute but he will know that she has to learn herself and he won't go near her. When she will come to him, he can pardon her and look after her. But there is no involvement in her, in no way.

So the awareness changes, you see. You start giving up things which are not spontaneous, which are not living, which are dead, start living a living life. It automatically works out. You don't give up. On the contrary you get new friends, lots of. They are all your friends and brothers once you get it. Because the language changes, the style changes. You have the light; they are dark and black. They are still in darkness.

So they are fumbling, while you see the things straight. You can help them. But if they are fumbling and trying pull you down, you'll say, “No, I can't come that way. Now I'm changed." You are changed and they are not yet changed, you see. That's the point. It's transformation actual that happens within us. You don't have to give up, not at all. On the contrary, you must meet other people, you must talk to other people, you must... But, you see, like for example, if you have other friends who are anti-God, you won't be able to tolerate their company. They won't be any friends anymore. I will think they are not my friends. They are anti-God. They are anti-love. You would not like to waste your time with them, you see, having a whisky party or something. You would not like. What a waste! You would not like. But I mean, you may be with them but you may not like. Many people do like that, I've seen.

Many people even after coming to Sahaja Yoga try to spend their time with other people.

Some of them do it because they have to do it. I mean, I know, I have a double life Myself. But My life is such that wherever I am, I am with Myself. But Sahaja Yogis try to change, I've seen. They spend more time with Sahaja Yogis than with other people like brothers, sisters, cousins. They start changing that. Either the brothers, sisters, cousins try taking more interest in Sahaja Yoga, or they don't enjoy their company. It's just they may go just to visit or to see someone but they don't like their [UNCLEAR]. They don't enjoy their company so much. It happens like that because you are enlightened people. Like drunkards, you see, they don't like non-drinking people. And non-drinking people don't like drunkards. You see, if you go with the drunkards, you are frightened. Mad people like mad people. It's like that.

So then the company changes. And if you don't change, you really don't enjoy Sahaja Yoga really into its [UNCLEAR fuller step]. But there's no contest as such. You are saintly people. You are saints.

So saints talk in different language. Yes, I mean, they are much more congenial and happy with the saints. But they would like to meet people and talk to them and try to bring... because we have to bring such a lot of people to Sahaja Yoga. But you should not waste your energies with people who are not, who do not matter in God's work.

You don't feel like. I mean, I don't say that `You don't' I mean, if you have to go to see somebody, I don't say, `You don't.' But it happens with some people. And such people can go down because they have influences on these people and it happens like that. Your priority is changed itself. You only then start enjoying whatever is God's style. You don't like something which is anti-God. Like I don't say, `Don't drink.' I don't say, `Ten commandments.' Nothing. But it happens to you.

There were so many people who were drug addicts who came to Sahaja Yoga. They gave up drugs.

Now, how can they be with people who are taking drugs? So they started going to them and talking to them and they said, “We have given up drugs." All right? There's somebody in Paris whose husband is drinking such a lot. He is still drug addict and she is a Sahaja Yogini and... But he comes to My program and I told that she should be very kind to him and gentle because he wants to give up. But a person who is dragging her, “You must also take a drug” then you don't like that aggression. I mean, you should be allowed to be non-smoking also, if you don't want to smoke. But they don't allow, you see. For them it is difficult. They'll force you, “You must drink. You must smoke." I mean, you must be knowing this that if you go to any party, if you don't drink, they think you are mad. And they'll go on asking, “Why don't you drink? At least take this, at least take this." If you tell them even once, “Why do you drink?" “Oh, you don't drink", finished. Then you are the most anti-social person, you have no manners, nothing. I mean you are telling something nice but they'll go on forcing on you. [UNCLEAR You tell them], “We don't drink. I don't drink. I don't like it. Doctor has told me." All sorts of lies you tell them but they'll go on forcing you. But even if you say once that, “Why do you drink?" or “Please don't drink", finished.

You are the worst person in the whole world. This is such an aggression, you know, such an aggression.

It's a very subtle aggression of these people who are licentious.

It's funny sometimes, I tell you. Like we went to a party and at that party there was a funny couple came in, you see, that was a woman who was a keep and this and that and it was a party of married women and married men. And the way the woman was on with everyone, I mean, nobody liked, neither the women nor the men. And we didn't like that the man... Why should he bring his keep there because it was not a party of keeps? But it's aggression and she was so aggressive with... She was saying, “What's the use of being married to a man after..." She was just saying all kinds of things against us, you see, those who were married women. “There's no use marrying men. I'm very happy, you see. I'm a keep.

He looks after me better. You better give up your husbands and live as a keep with them." She was just giving us a lecture on her status, you see. And we could not say anything to her. But if we say that it's nice to be a married woman and to be virtuous, “Oh, they are the worst women. You are victorian, you are” what do you call, “the old-fashioned hag and all sorts of things will come on you." There's a very big aggression on saints. They can't talk. They can't say anything. While even your own brothers and sisters and mother and father and children will do that: “Oh, you are very old-fashioned. It's nonsense” things like that. It's not easy to exist with virtue in this country, in this country specially and all the Western countries because now I know what it is.

My husband also doesn't drink so they tell him, “Oh, is it your wife who's forced you not to drink?" I mean, he said, “She doesn't say anything like that. Why do you blame Her?" Immediately, I mean, there's no shame about it of saying such a dirty thing. I mean, there is shamelessness, complete shamelessness about it. And not only drinking. All sorts of shamelessness goes about. You ask a lady, “Are you married?" “No, why should I? I'm not a fool like you." This is typical answer. I mean, because you are married you have to look like a criminal, you know. Because you are virtuous you should be crucified immediately.

Then you change that; with these people you give up. You naturally, I mean, you don't want to meet such people. And then they might say that you are cultish but doesn't matter. I mean, we have to save ourselves. I mean, we do not want certificates from them. Certificate has to come from God, not from these people. They are incapable of giving us certificates. That you know very well.

So should we start? Something else? Who are the new people today, for the first time? You? I'm sorry I had to say all these things because today was the meeting of the Sahaja Yogis in the beginning. And we are all going to enter into the same realm and it will be handy for you to know what is expected of Sahaja Yogis and with that expectation I request you not to pay attention to what I've said, much. You should not be frightened. It's not that frightening. You'll like it later on very much, what I've said it, you see.

So come forward. Those who have come for the first time, please come forward. You come for the first time? All right. Come forward. It will be better idea.

Actually, it happens that your religion gets enlightened. You become that. Then you can't help it, what to do. I mean you don't have to tell, `Don't do, don't do.' It just happens. You just can't do it, you see. It's so helpful, isn't it? You just can't do it. You don't feel like doing it because if you are enjoying your Spirit, you don't feel like doing nonsensical things. It is better to get it and see for yourself what happens. All right? That's the best way to give it a [UNCLEAR].

Now this is a system which is built within us. That's why it is called as Sahaja. This is what is the system within us that exists. Sahaja means `born with you'. This is all born with you. You have achieved it. It's all within you. It's the system that is, say, built into this or built into that. In the same way it's the system built into you. You are just ready. You are to be put to the mains. That's all is the job is.

For putting to the mains also you raise something built into you. If you see the triangular bone called as sacrum, means sacred bone, this Kuṇḍalinī is this. This is the one that gives you your rebirth. By rebirth what happens that your awareness which is human awareness becomes enlightened by your Spirit. Your Spirit comes into your awareness.

So far your Spirit is not. Your Spirit knows all about you. It is in your heart. But you do not know about it.

So what happens: this Spirit which is enjoying itself enlightens your awareness and you get a new awareness by which you start feeling a Cool Breeze in your hand, a Cool Breeze in your hand. And this Cool Breeze for the first time on your central nervous system starts flowing so you feel it, actually you feel it.

Now the enlightenment takes place of all these centers which are within you, which are there because of our evolutionary process. And these enlightened centers are on your fingers; they get enlightened too.

And you start feeling them within you. You start feeling your own centers and you start feeling the centers of others. Now this happening takes place within you of the Kuṇḍalinī awakening just to attract your attention inside. Because your attention is outside, you cannot take it in. You know many people think, “You put your attention here, you put your attention there." Is all wrong. It has to be spontaneously attracted inside and it's done by this Kuṇḍalinī and Kuṇḍalinī is just like a germinating primule within us, a seed. It just rises spontaneously. And when it rises it breaks through here. And this is what is the real baptism. You really feel it here coming out. You can feel the Cool Breeze coming out. You can feel the Cool Breeze from your hands. This is real baptism that John the Baptist wanted people to have and that Christ talked about.

All the religions have taught us to be in the center. When they say, “Don't do this, don't do that” they did not want to condition us but to tell us that how we are going to be in the center. And when we are in the center then what happens to us that you get the desire to know your Spirit.

And this desire is fulfilled through the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī. Now the Sahaja Yoga at this stage is really a Mahā Yoga in the sense it is the `Great Yoga' because many people can get realisation. Thousands of people can get it because the Blossom Time has come. But even if they get realisation, they have to be looked after, they have to be nourished, they have to be told about it. Everything should be decoded. You'll be amazed; everything becomes so logical. Gradually you start understanding it. Your complete freedom is established. Nobody says that, `Don't do this.' Nothing is said. But you just don't do it, yourselves. I will not tell you as Moses had to tell, poor thing. He had to face all the mad people. But no, after realisation it just happens. You just don't do it. You will not do it; it just happens to you. It is nothing to be told.

In the beginning you have to be really ardent Sahaja Yogis. In the beginning you have to be. It's the beginning of Sahaja Yoga still in England, I would say. Really ardently attached to it by which you develop yourself very well and develop this tree of Sahaja Yoga in your own country because you have to save so many. The Last Judgment has started. It's started. Through Kuṇḍalinī awakening only you judge yourself. You know what are the centers you are catching, what are your problems. You know what are the centers others are catching. You judge yourself. Supposing a person comes and tell Me, “Mother, my Āgñyā is very bad", you know what it means, that, “My ego has developed." But you tell somebody, “You have got an ego", you'll have a punch on your head. But the person himself comes and says, “Mother, I see my ego." You start seeing yourself. You start seeing your problems, because you are out of it. And then you can cure it also and make it better. You improve it and you are better. You judge yourself and you judge yourself with love and understanding. You don't hate yourself by that. It's only you yourself; you are going to judge. Within you is the power of God that judges you, is the Spirit which tells you. A rapport is established with the Spirit. The Spirit itself will tell you: this is the mistake, this is the problem. We don't need anybody to tell us. It's only you who will know, it's only you who will judge yourself, it's only you who will grow yourself. It's your own freedom, it's your own self.

Your entire personality changes, entire personality changes. I've never told anybody not take drugs as such except for one or two people who were still carrying on. But also very [UNCLEAR minor/minutely] and I told them how to get rid of it. But you just don't want to take, just don't like it. You find it very filthy, feel like vomiting. Just like that, the religion is enlightened in your stomach. That the time has come now for you to do it. Anciently that was the time when it was not, so they taught you how to do it. But today the time has come, it can work out. You are all just there. The completion of the whole creation has to come this way. It has to work out. But you cannot reason it out. But once you get it...

Because beyond reason, it happens beyond reason; the Kuṇḍalinī awakens not by reason, spontaneously, by master only. Once it happens then the whole thing becomes logical. You see, there's a microscope, then you can see through it. But if there is not a microscope, you cannot understand. “Microscope" is your Spirit. It's very simple.

Now I do not want to go into details about it. I think these people have been given... Gavin have you given them the papers, something? Let them see for themselves, if they have. You sit little erect, all right? Straight, sit little straight. All right. You have to sit little erect; not much but little erect. Not slouchy.

Neither like this. Just sit straight. Put your hands like this, all of you. Just put your hands. Now close your eyes. Put your feet like this, little straight, on the ground. Not pressing much but they should be on the ground properly.

After realisation you have to go very fast and try to understand it, otherwise you may lose your vibrations. That happens with some people.

So be careful. It's a very, very delicate thing; it's very subtle.

And because we are gross... suddenly we become subtle, if we do not catch up to it we lose it also.

So for one month after realisation you have to be very, very careful and get hold of another Sahaja Yogis here and we also have an ashram here. You have to work it out.

Close your eyes. Just close your eyes. It just works. Just close your eyes. Don't think about it. Don't think. It will work out without thinking. Put both the hands towards Me, please, both the hands like this.

One of the centers that is catching in most of you is that you all feel guilty for nothing at all, for nothing at all. It's a fashion to feel guilty.

So everybody starts feeling guilty for nothing at all. Or maybe we confess and this and that. Now I have to tell you that not to feel guilty at all. Say that, `I am not guilty.' Thrice you say, `Mother, I am not guilty.' This is also a myth that you feel guilty. That will help you a lot. Once you get your realisation you have to also have this spiritual education to know how to handle this, how to handle this power. You are getting it because this is your own right but you must know what you are getting. They've got it, all of them.

All the Sahaja Yogis should receive vibrations and expose completely with their heart, absolutely. Just put to it. Be meditative today. And you have to promise in your heart. You have to be much more active and ardent about Sahaja Yoga if you have to save your brothers and sisters. Only your heart can be binding, nothing else. Nothing else. It's only your heart. As you are attached to someone you love, you should be attached to your Spirit. Spirit you should love the most. Nobody is more important than your Spirit.

Are you feeling any Cool Breeze in the hands? Not yet? Close your eyes. Have patience with yourself.

One has to have patience. Close your eyes. Have patience. Just don't think. It will work out. Have patience with yourself. You put both the hands towards Me, not meeting each other but towards Me, separate.

Put both the hands separately, not towards each other but towards Me. Please put them towards Me.

Yes. Close your eyes. Close your eyes. And just leave it. Don't think about it. Don't worry about it. It will work. It's like just a flower becoming a fruit spontaneously. Just close your eyes and put your hands towards Me. Put your attention to your heart. Catch the joy part of it. Just heart. Just put your both the hands towards Me only and just pay attention to your heart. It will work out. Are you feeling Cool Breeze? It's good. Great. Just enjoy it. Just enjoy. Do not pay attention in one particular direction. Just leave it free. Just leave it free. Do not fix your attention anywhere. Just leave it free. It will work out.

Keep your eyes shut. All new people please keep your eyes shut. They are going to check you.

Those Sahaja Yogis who want to get themselves also checked up ask other Sahaja Yogis to do it. Yes, let everybody be checked, better is. Better to get it done once for all. Everybody should get themselves rechecked. Everybody should get yourself checked. That's the best way. And we should be thankful to people for checking us and giving us vibrations instead of getting angry and upset.

Never let the sun go down on a quarrel.

Contents: 1980-12-05 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Marriage and Collectivity, Marriage of Patrick and Grazyna Anslow, Chelsham Road, London, UK

... Marriage where you marry and next day you are running away with another man. It should be genuinely done. That means you must respect but genuineness should be there, there should be no deception nothing.

You are partners for life. Now one more point I want to tell you, that always I have seen in Sahaja Yoga marriages fail on one point, which is very important, is the point where collectivity clashes. When there is a clash of collectivity, Sahaja Yoga marriages fail.

Now you are marrying under Sahaja Yoga you are not marrying in a way that others marry. And that's why one must understand that collectivity comes first. But you must love each other, you must understand each other, be sweet to each other, be kind, considerate, be conscious and aware that you have a wife or a husband. But first thing is collectivity.

Now I have specially given presents to Jane and to Linda because they have produced two Sahaja Yogis of a very high value. In the same way I am going to give you presents when you do that. But, but this is a beginning from the child that you develop you must learn [UNCLEAR]... it's not that my child, my husband, my house what should I do about this house, my house, my children, my house, my children.

You have got a child to expand, the love that you get for your child or feel for your child you should feel for all others. You have to be mothers of all the children not of your own child. For both of them, especially, I have to say they have to be collective very much more than they are today. That's the first thing; they should expand themselves. Nobody can have respect for any woman who is not like that. You have to be just like a mother to everyone.

The second point is that there are certain systems, which are built in, in a society where marriages become conditioning. And one of them is a very handy and a good system. The system is like this that the wife becomes the mother and even the brothers of the husband are mostly with the wife, with the bhabi, who's the sister-in-law.

So they go and tell all their problems because they can't face their elder brother directly.

So they go and tell the sister-in-law. Then sister-in-law, in her own clever way, tells the husband and gets the permission. And this relationship has to be established when you are married.

When you are married say there's a sister-in-law who is younger who is not married she doesn't understand about love and things. If she has a problem say she's going to get married or anything she will not consult her mother she'll not come and consult Me but she'll consult her sister-in-law. It is a very sweet relationship that exists between the brother-in-law and the sister-in-law is a very, very sweet relationship and all the time they joke and laugh and they are one. With the mother you have certain limitations; it's a little formal with the mother. But with the sister-in-law it is such a blessing to have somebody slightly older than you with whom you can say and that person goes and tells. I would say Chaya has been doing that very well and I am very happy with her. Give her a hand. [Applause.] But she has to keep her husband also pleased. If she does not get her husband pleased, if he is not easily pleased, still he should be made to be pleased. May be the most difficult man. It is the art of the woman, is the beauty of the woman, how she manages her husband. Because she is there for that kind of a job. And if she cannot do that, then she is failing in that part.

So she has to do both the things; you have to strike a balance between the two.

Sometimes the husband wants that he should have the company; all right, give him the company as much as possible. But you should also know that unless and until your husband gives you the authority, you are no one with others because it is he who has given you the authority to talk to others. If he says no you have to be with me all the time, then you cannot say no.

He has a right to have your company.

So one must understand and strike a balance. Do not do anything to the extremes. We have to be very normal people. This is the second point I wanted to tell you.

The third point, very important for all the parents who have children, Sahaja Yoga children have to be extremely well disciplined. If you do not know how to discipline your children, you are sadly mistaken.

Your children must know how to behave themselves; they must know how to answer, how much they must talk. Do not spoil them with presents; give them presents at the right time. And tell them how they should behave. You have to discipline your children. This is your duty to discipline them; it is the time they should be disciplined. The condition here is that people don't say anything to their children. They don't even scold them; they don't even teach them anything. And by the time they are sixteen, seventeen the children are absolutely like vagabonds. And they have no sense; they have no sense of despair. They answer you back. No child should be allowed to answer the parents back. If they answer back, give them two slaps. That's allowed. Teach them to be respectful. If you do not teach them, they'll be disrespectful to other people and other people will smack them. Then you won't like it. But they have every right to smack if a child misbehaves, because children must know how to behave themselves. If they do not know behaviour, you have to teach them; that is your duty.

But here everybody wants to shirk the responsibility. Want to shirk it. It's really easy to love your children and not say anything. Let them go up to sixteen and then throw them into the winds. No, you have to be extremely strict with your children when they are growing up. The grand parents can spoil them not you. You are not their grandparents; you are parents. You have to discipline them; you have to tell them how to behave, how to. And sit down with them for one hour and talk to them, not in the presence of others. Tell them that you are like queens and kings. Put self esteem in them so they behave themselves and they learn how to go above. If they do not do that, means you have unnecessarily produced a problem for yourself and others. It is necessary, if necessary. I've never beaten My children and I don't like to. But if you don't know how to teach them and how to control them, you may use sometimes a slap, doesn't matter for boys especially once in a while doesn't matter. If they don't understand, what to do? So you have to discipline.

You see, discipline is one thing lacking in Western countries. Children don't know how to behave, how to be respectful. And they misbehave and they will start tomorrow answering you back and ill treating you. And now the whole society is [UNCLEAR aware]. It is very important. No use spoiling your children. Here they will see something on the TV you get it back for them. No. You must tell, no, what you want is not what the TV tells you but what you need is this and keep it. If they break the toys and all that, tell them that if you are breaking toys you are not going to get any. Keep them, properly arrange them; let them organize. This is how you train. I've seen My grand children. They have got things that I bought for them when they were little babies, still just the same, kept very carefully. Who has given them what, what is where; they know everything not like a mess of toys, plastic toys that you give them. Give them few toys but know where they are. Where are they? Give them the list. Ask them to keep a list to understand.

Respect, respect is the thing; we do not respect our possessions we just indulge in them. Do we respect? We throw our cloths here and there. That's why the children are born when they grow up they have no discipline; they throw all their cloths here untidiness then you shout at them. Another habit the children must form is to get up early in the morning. The parents must get up in the morning; give them bath; get them ready; give them tea. If the children do not do that, it is because of the parents do not discipline them. And also the parents must be ideal about it. If the parents do not have that, then the children are not going to.

So the whole responsibility of spoiling the children resides with the parents and no one else.

Even Sahaja Yogis should not spoil the children. I can spoil because I am the Grandma. You must take your responsibility. I did not spoil My children. You have to tell your children till they are sixteen years of age. Everything that is good, righteous, how to behave and how to live you have to tell. Otherwise they become vagabonds and they, you see, they take the whole thing upon themselves. They think, “Oh we can do what ever they [we] want, `What's wrong?', `What's wrong?' " If they say, “What's wrong?" don't give them money. Don't spoil them. Make them starve one night; they will be all right next day.

Let them do the work. Of course you should never pay for children's work. If they work then they are working for themselves It is a very bad habit to pay them for doing some work. They are not laborers.

All this training must be given. That's a very good training because our social side is very weak. You do not know how to discipline. Too much interest in children is also not allowed. That all the time run after your children, do this for your children. It's all right. Because once they know they are dominating you they will sit on your heads. They should know where they stand with you. Gradually they will learn and behave. See children are still not human beings. Either you make them human beings or you make them devils. It is in your hands; they are raw. You should not be unkind by any chance. But you should not be in any way dominated by them. It is not the parents who should take instructions from their children. In Sahaja Yoga it is necessary to understand parenting.

So up to the as you said that you must have children and don't hurry up. That's very true. Think it over properly and then have children. When you have a proper place to live in and all that, then have children. Will be a good idea. Now as far as the ashram is concerned, I would suggest that as the present position is, keep it up till I come back. Do not change anything. As it is Linda is managing her affairs as far as the money is concerned. What ever is her charges she paid that. Let Chaya handle the money and everything and Pūjā because she knows that. You also all learn from her; she can teach you something about Hindi and all that.

The most important thing is that Sahaja Yoga is not a cult. You have to be absolutely normal people.

Don't have to behave, like in the ears you put in five pounds of cotton and walk about. You should look very normal people. Do not behave in a manner that you look absurd. You see, maybe, some people told Me they do it because they want to show off they are different. This is not punk rocks here. We are not punk rock. You have to be very normal, balanced, good people, respecting our elders, very normal people.

Nothing abnormal should be done. And that is the person who is the most normal is the person who is the real Sahaja Yogi. Because you normalise by Sahaja Yoga all abnormal things.

[Aside related to a child crying:] She is feeling cold and stomach pain... is there a fire? Just put some fire.

This is what it is to be done about Sahaj Yoga. That in Ashram you have to have ideal way of life.

You have Linda here she is very good and also Peter Pierce is a very good man no doubt. But he goes off because of certain problems he has had before. See? So you can beat him with shoes, not directly, indirectly and also Linda and also Chaya, if you want. Or like this anybody who is doing anything in the ashram is all right. But as far as possible elders should not be beaten with shoes. You can ask somebody older than them to beat them with shoes. But I am sure gradually they will all become responsible, sensible and respectable. If they do not if they are not respectable how can people respect you? And lastly I have to tell you that Linda was telling Me that she is feeling very different. Now the reason is...

[Aside related to a child crying:] Can you take her out. She is very hot I think or cold whatever.

... the problem is this way. Now I am going away physically and that's why you are depressed. You think Mummy, Mother is going away.

[Child crying.] What happened? Why? Come along. What is there to cry? Yes you are going to break it for everyone like that. I don't know, how do you break it? Show Me. Show Me.

Now I would suggest that the whole thing comes up because you think, physically, I am going to India.

And that's why you are disturbed. And you are thinking that Mother is going so what will happen? If something happens to me who will cure me? Or something goes wrong what will happen? Now you are grown up children, you are not that small. And I am not gone; I am much more here when I am not here.

You will see.

So now you should decide one thing that Mother is gone doesn't matter. We are going to show Her something special. By the time She comes back, She is going to see what we can do. What we have done in Sahaja Yoga, how we have become normal good people and how we are getting other people to Sahaja Yoga. By Gods grace now so many things have happened that about Sahaja Yoga now it might be published in seven hundred papers already. It is all done through Gods grace only. But you have to desire and it will work out.

So first of all improve yourself; improve your collectivity. Try to be nice to each other. We are human beings. We are not donkeys or dogs. But we are not only human beings; we are Sahaja Yogis, we are saints.

So develop that dignity and that love and that understanding, that etiquette, etiquette of a Divine person, that sweetness, that gentleness of a Divine person. Of course that does not mean that men should walk like women. You see I've told it correctly. If I said gentlemen, then gents would start behaving like women. Or if I say you have to be come manly, the women become manly and the rest [UNCLEAR]. It always goes the other way round. Ladies should try to be more ladylike. They have to be more ladylike and men have to be manly. Like just now I said that you have to follow the man that has to be. It looks decent, you see, for a man to be ahead of you and the woman to be behind; she is the Shakti. She is the Shakti behind the husband. And she need not walk in front and show off and argue with him and put him down and put his hand like that and all that. She should not do. Doesn't, it's not graceful. It is disgraceful to behave like that. And then only with understanding and love we have good children.

And that my wife says so, this is a very wrong idea. I mean, some people are that if the wife says go to the north, they'll go to the north. They say go to the south, they'll go to the south. I mean that should not be so. It doesn't look nice. One should behave in a way that a man is. And let him, let them be men and you have to be women. To be a woman is a very big thing. Your mother is a woman. You know how great it is to be a woman. It's very great to be a woman because women have such powers. We have really by competing with men, we have finished ourselves completely.

So the two roles of men and woman is like the, I would say, the flower and the fragrance. Which is higher flower or the fragrance? If there is no flower, there is no fragrance. But without fragrance what is a flower? Or a beauty? It is so much inseparable fragrance and beauty and flower. In the same way the flower shows, but who is the beauty and who is the fragrance is the wife. That is how it should be. And then only people will respect you and your husband. And it is going to be much more easy. That's the way it works out very easy. If it is other way round it will never work so let it be worked out this way.

And there is nothing like domination who can dominate your spirit? Nobody can dominate your spirit.

But it is an adjustment because in the society the man has to do all the outside work. And he is the kinetic person and you are the potential energy.

So the woman has to listen to man, because she preserves her energy much more by that. And there is nothing like domination. Nobody can dominate you. On the contrary there is such domination on the man that he just can't exist without you. He comes back home straight from the work, that's how you should control your husband. Control of love, as I control you with love, you should control with love. It is a question of how much you love, how gracious you are, how beautiful you are. Next time I come I'm sure I'm going to meet great ladies and gentlemen, which I expected in England. And we are going to be on that level, very nice dignified, sweet, very serene and not frivolous. Frivolousness is a very big curse, you see, should not be frivolous. Neither you should be so serious that everybody gets bored of you. But you should be in the center. You must talk little more those who do not talk. Those who talk too much should talk little less.

So normalise yourself. Now any questions please ask Me because today is the last day and I am going tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock from My house and I don't want to trouble you.

All those who are coming to India; there are some things I am taking for the Sahaja Yogis.

So Malcolm you come along with Me. I'll show you all the things I brought and I'll mark them. And Christine My cloths are there also in one of the boxes, two boxes, one small, one big. Are you taking too many things with you?

Very few things? So then it's all right you can take them and you can bring them back if you like later on the same boxes if you have to carry things.

So this is what it is. Don't carry too many things to India. Because I know you will be overloaded there things are so much cheaper and better. But whatever things you carry you must know they should be elegant, because in India if you do not have elegant dresses, they are never impressed by you. For example hippie dress they don't like. They should be elegant but it should not be dandy either like a bow tie and a red coat. That is also not good. In the center, wear decent dresses and they prefer suits or combination or something as an English man dresses.

They are shocked, you see, to see hippies walking with a small little loin cloth or something, it is too much.

So you should not also shock them or come with translucent dresses. You see? They can't bear all that.

You see, you should be decently dressed. And if you want you can take your sarīs from here or you can buy some nice sarīs there. What ever you want they will be very helpful.

Those who are coming last time you know how much they spent money on you. On everything they paid for your taxis, for your food and lots of things. I mean they did such a lot of expense. About fifty thousand they spent last time. You can imagine, they are poor people there, you are affluent. And before that nobody paid not a single pie was paid by any Sahaja Yogi who went to India. They just had everything free. Nobody paid for anything before. It was all right. Why? Because they wanted they have a gesture of great generosity and they don't mind it. But I think it's not proper. Even today you see they telephoned to Me the other day they said “let them come, what is there? We will look after them. Why should they pay." It's not proper because they are not rich people.

So we have calculated and we have come to the conclusion that, those who are going there, should pay 151 pounds as soon as they come there. And they have to pay it to Me and then I'll pay it to them wherever they want. And if there is more money needed they will provide it.

So 151 pounds directly you have to pay the day you come. Nobody who does not have that money should not come because it is very embarrassing. Only My bank balance is going down. I don't mind, but it's not good. We have done that before. The people who have gone before can say that, that all the expense and everything was borne by them. It's not good and you know. You must spend your money you must that's not proper that's not good. Even one person came from South Africa and he paid for his food and everything, even one person.

We did not pay for him. While so many people went there and they paid for food, stay everything they did. It's not good that has happened so we have to be very generous.

I think we have got sufficient things for them not more than that will not be required, photographs, I was saying and tapes and all those things. Have you made the list of things? Gentleman: Yes, we made the list we will distribute to everyone who goes there. We have a few names.

Who is taking the photograph album being prepared by?

Shri Mataji: Only one photograph album you will take? You have to at least give two of them, one more. Why should one person give it? All of you put together should give it. There should be not such a thing. All of you should provide for it. Have two photographs, at least two minimum you should have.

So that one can leave in Maharashtra and one can leave in anywhere someplace [UNCLEAR]. There should be two. And tapes should be also two.

Gentleman: I don't know yet how many there are.

Shri Mataji: We can afford to pay that, there's no problem, as it is God has saved your money for the gifts. Peter was telling that he got it much cheaper for this. It's very surprising you see and I am really surprised how you've done it in such a short time. It's very nice. It's really we would not have done it in our house. It's remarkable. Only the one who knows what it is can understand. It's a tremendous work.

Give a hand. [Applause.] Now any more questions? I am going now. You must take, all of you must take, addresses of Bombay [Mumbai] and Delhi people. Two, three, four numbers you must take.

Gentleman: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: I mean I'll see the situation as it is. But in any case I have purchased it.

So you put on glass and everything. I've packed it very well. Tape recorders we have got and we have got also watches.

There are five watches.

Ah children thank you very much. What is that? Ah good, good, beautiful, beautiful. From you? What? I'm very happy. You just sent Me a card that's all.

Lady: [It's the Merchant of Venice to read on the train].

[Shri Mataji talking to attendants about luggage and food.] Lady: Mother would you please send all our love to the Indian Sahaja Yogis that I so wish I was going again.

Shri Mataji: I will. I will tell them, all your best wishes everything, all your love.

Lady: I wish I was with them.

[Hindi.]

Shri Mataji: All of them come along. I should just tell them we are going to look after them, tour lots of places, this Gaṇeśhwar they can stay. Then poor Modi wrote to Me: Mother you have to live with the nature there, there's no bathroom nothing.

Gentleman: Warren also wrote specially to say that he has prepared all the Australians and they won't have problems with the Indian living conditions.

Shri Mataji: No it's not going to be that bad like that. See we've got all these Gurus also the idea of ashrams has been spoilt. When you go there you've got an air-conditioned room with a big bathroom attached where you can sleep the whole day. But it is not like that. You have to learn to be detached and little self sufficient. Not to depend on other things to give you comfort but your own spirit should give you comfort. Now I can tell you neither My spirit nor My body [UNCLEAR].

So what is it? Flowers. How are you? Lady: I am very well thank you.

Shri Mataji: The children are so much all right now.

Lady: Yes very much.

Shri Mataji: Not you, you are perfectly all right. She's a very normal person. You have to be normal.

Very good.

Contents: 1980-12-26 Tribute to Sir C.P. on his appointment as the Secretary General of IMCO (International Maritime Consultative Organization) successively for the third time, Ashoka Hall, Mumbai, India

[Talk of Sir C.P.:]

Dear Members of the Universal Sahaj Yoga, I am very greatly honoured and very overwhelmingly touched by the most generous observations which have been made about me and about my work. [UNCLEAR] whatever I can to deserve the love and affection that you have chosen to shower upon me. You have mentioned that I have been sacrificing in order that my wife, who is Mātājī to you, should be able to devote Her time to Sahaja Yoga. What I want to tell you is that it is not a sacrifice, it's a great privilege. When we got married and that was more than a third of a century ago, thirty-four years ago, we had our family, little family and we agreed among ourselves that our first duty would be to bring up our two daughters. But we also agreed that once the daughters got married, she would be free to devote her time as much as possible to the service of humanity. And so while Her children were growing up, the two children we had, She gave all Her time to them, to bring them up and She gave me tremendous support. Without Her support, it would have been impossible for me to apply myself to the responsibilities which the government of the country entrusted to me. I'm deeply grateful to Her.

But today what I want to tell you that I'm not only grateful to Her but also I'm very proud of Her.

And why am I proud? I'm proud because at a time when the world is conflicted everywhere, whether you are in the east, you are in the east, whether you are in the north or in the south, everywhere you find a certain feeling of unease, of unhappiness, of a little frustration and people all over the world are wanting to know how can we all, members of this universal world community, live together in happiness and in peace.

This is the question before every thinking individual in the world today. And there must be some answer to that; after all we have to live together. And the answer really is that: all of us, whether we belong to one country or another, we are members of one great universal family. After all, if we just remember that in the whole of universe that we know and indeed the universes that we know, there's only one planet on which there is life, such as we have and that we are the most fortunate persons to be those created by the Almighty, to be the best of creation, for that itself is a very great privilege. And the least that we should somehow learn to do is to live together as brothers and sisters genuinely, not merely through lips but through hearts. It's most important for us to come to that stage.

Now, I have a feeling that the world is now ready for a new revolution. There was this industrial revolution in the nineteenth century which brought economic prosperity to many parts of the world, it's bringing prosperity to other parts, but that is not enough. For human beings material prosperity is important but it's not the ultimate aim. There's much more in a human being than mere desire for material well-being, the spiritual part. It is only through spiritual attainment, through spiritual satisfaction that genuine happiness can be attained. And there must be some spark which has to be lighted and the source of that spark is before you, this Lady.

So when I say, “I'm not sacrificing at all” indeed I'm feeling a part of you, feeling a part of this great endeavour and I'm proud of Her, the work She's doing. I might tell you something more. Very recently I had a unique experience. She's a very busy person and if I may say so without being immodest, I'm also very busy with my work, but one evening She invited me very kindly to a function like this in London and there I saw another family, Sahaja Yoga family, Sahaja Yogis and Yoginis. What wonderful expression they had, what feeling of internal peace and calm they had, what feeling of togetherness they had. And that gave me a very deep impression, a feeling that, that family had been transformed from disparate individuals coming from different parts of countries and worlds into a family welded together, knitted together, with a common purpose, namely realizing that we are members of one family. They all wanted to assist each other, to help each other, to grow together and to develop spiritually. Now this is a marvelous task, I think the world needs this more than anything else, this country even needs this more than anything else.

It is the transformation, it is the uplifting of the individual from within which is most important. If that uplifting does not come, you would have conflict, you would not have the kind of homogeneity, goodwill which is so essential, for us all to be able to live together in peace.

So, She's giving you spiritual leadership, spiritual guidance and I have no doubts that I am one of those thousands and thousands who admire Her, respect Her. And my fullest support is available to Her in any way for the work that She is doing. When I say support, it is not the right word because She doesn't need any support from anybody, right. But you see, you must forgive me because I have a dichotomy; It's very difficult for me to forget that I'm Her husband.

So, please do forgive the expression that I use, but it was in my capacity as a consort and I want you to know that the work She is doing is, to my way of thinking, very, very important for humanity, in fact I feel that it's only by uplifting men and women everywhere, throughout the world, that we can really become worthy of the creation of the Almighty God, who have created us all.

Now, in the IMCO, the organization that I'm privileged to serve and I'm very grateful for the kind words about my re-election, it was most gratifying. Perhaps you know that this was unanimous. When I mentioned this only for one reason, namely that you would hear that there are many issues that divide the world. On very few issues would the governments of the world agree. Now if they agreed upon re-election, whether it was Soviet Union or United States or United Kingdom or developing countries or China or Pakistan, well, they agreed to uphold a certain principle. And in some way, perhaps, the message of Sahaja Yoga was been given to them through me, coming from Her. And the message that I always give to member countries of the organization is: we are not divided into groups, I do not believe in groupism, I do not believe in confrontation, I do not believe that by fighting the world can get along. I do not believe that the developing world can develop by fighting the developed world. I believe, I believe very sincerely, genuinely, that all of us can get together only by way of togetherness, by cooperation and this is the message that I give continuously. Now this is only one aspect of Sahaja Yoga, is not complete aspect, is just one aspect. But this is a message that I give to the organization that I'm privileged to serve and I'm most gratified and delighted that the governments, as they are represented in this Maritime Organization of United Nations system, accept that philosophy and they accept that by working together the people of the world engaged in maritime activity can make progress which would be satisfactory from the point of view of everybody. And if they re-elected me unanimously, they did not only greatly honoured me and my country, but to my way of thinking, they honoured the principle of one world, one people, one humanity and this is the principle which needs to guide the whole ofUnited Nations system.

So, in some ways, there has been action and interactions between Sahaja Yoga on one side and United Nations activity on the other. I have only a small responsibility within the United Nations system, but to the extent that I can, it is my duty and it has been my endeavour, always to serve the world community in the same way as Sahaja Yogis are trying to serve world community in a far more elevated sphere, the spiritual sphere.

Now to friends who have come from abroad, as an Indian, I would like to extend a very hearty and a very warm welcome. Which I feel very greatly honoured and privileged, that you should be here at this time, that you should your New Year Day in our country and I want to take this opportunity to wish you the very, very best for 1981. And the best that I can do is to say: let Sahaja Yoga, which is universal, grow and grow and develop and really lift up the world to a new level of awareness, new level of human relationship based on love, affection, realisation that human beings are born for great purposes, they are not born merely to live a routine life, but the purposes are spiritual, much higher, elevated. For your success and for your well-being and your happiness I'll pray and with these few words I do want to thank you once again for the very, very kind words in which all speakers referred me today and may I also thank Her for all that She's doing for me by supporting me really. [UNCLEAR].

Thank you very much. [Laughter and claps.] [Shri Mataji talks:]:... and My children. It is very heartening to see all this drama. I just can watch with sudden spark, a sudden blowup which is opening a new dimension into the hearts of all the people who are thinking about the future of humanity. It's a very dramatic movement [UNCLEAR for them]. And how it works out its beauty is even more dramatic. As [UNCLEAR many of] you can see that it's very delicate and very beautiful.

The words My husband has said about Me, I heard them many a times in the bedroom, but to hear them in the public is most embarrassing. He's been a very, very kind husband to Me, extremely kind. And as you know I'm bit too independent and all My ideas are based on a very independent experience of My own; he's always tried to understand that and to encourage Me. Though it's rather difficult, as you know, to understand your Mother is not an easy thing, but he has tried to very much understand Me and My work, which is just My nature. He knows that it's My nature and that I can't help it.

The first and the foremost thing I wanted to do was to establish the married life. It's the most important thing; unless and until married life is accepted as the base of human evolution, it cannot go further with it. One has to understand it very, very deeply. You have to sacrifice, you have to have patience, you have to have very deep, penetrating knowledge of the benefits of a good married life, which is lacking very much now in the West as you know. And also we Indians are trying to copy the Western people thinking that they are very advanced. It's most amazing how after Sahaja Yoga the Western people have suddenly taken up the values of eternal joy. It's most amazing to Me, how they have given up so many things so suddenly, it's most surprising. As Gregoire has said in his book that the sin against the Mother... and they have really given up that, absolutely. Without My asking them, they have understood that this is the life of a saint and that's how they have to live and they have accepted it blindfolded. And they know what is the gain out of that is, but in the same manner I would request Indians also to accept the other side of it: is the sin against the Father which Indians commit. We are all the time disturbed about our material well-being and our material advancement, all the time we are thinking about our own poverty and so-called material defficiency.

I would request all the Indians also to know that if you have to come to Sahaja Yoga, collectively we have to accept, collectively again I say, accept the values of Sahaja Yoga and that is: we have our Father God Almighty who has provided us with everything. We should not be disturbed about our poverty and about our [UNCLEAR] and things like that but leave it to Him to protect us. Many Sahaja Yogis have accepted this righteous path in India despite the fact there are hardships, but in the same way there are hardships in the West they have accepted.

To Me the support comes from Mister Srivastava in a way that is very important that I could establish that married life is possible. Even one person is doing one kind of work at a different level and another person is doing at a different level. This sometimes surprises Me, how he understands My whimsical nature and how he has accepted sometimes My own understanding about things. His understanding is very practical, pragmatic according to human type. Mine is little bit, you can say, some people might call it poetic, but for Sahaja Yogis it is different. In the same way in My family also, My daughters and My son-in-laws, My grandchildren, as you know, are tremendous Sahaja Yogis. All of them have understood the beauty of Sahaja Yoga.

But last of all, I would like to say about his organization. We have some people from his organization.

Shipping Corporation when he was here and it's [UNCLEAR] line, [UNCLEAR which did...] and all that. All these shipping people have been so much attached to Me and I've been so much attached to them, really another family. You won't believe that it's just the same like being with Sahaja Yogis; they are extremely attached to Me, all of them. This is also thanks to Mister Srivastava's wisdom that he has put Me in contact with them with proper understanding. Of course I also need lot of understanding about how to deal with people who are with the government service because I've never done any government service all My life. And it has been very beautiful relationship. I know that all these people from down below level to the topmost, the highest have always been able to understand Me through the light which he has given them.

Today is a day, really very auspicious because it's a Thanks Giving Day, I think for everything. And it's not done that you thank your husband, because the wife has to take everything for granted I believe.

But whatever is [UNCLEAR not said] is such a lot that you cannot say. Because it is too much, very deep, it's too sacred and you can't speak about it. I'm happy from our married life Sahaja Yogis will realise how important it is for Sahaja Yoga to have very sensible, wise married relationships and to pay attention to their children and to their grandchildren because this is the nest of human life. The nest of human life is even more important than the whole ocean of God's love. Because that nest, in it's own delicate way, preserves the very, very delicate aspirations of God's desire. And that's why it has to be looked after and respected and worshipped as something sacred.

I'm very happy today and the whole thing looks like a big [UNCLEAR Chamatkar], like a magical [UNCLEAR]. I'm happy that today I'm meeting so many people from Australia. They say I have not met them, but I have met them. They are all My children, who have come to see Me. And that Mister Srivastava should come and speak to you all and you should see the other side of Mother's life also, to feel very happy. And as you have thanked him very much for looking after Me and being very sweet to Me, I have to thank you for all this that you have done to feel Me so very proud of you.

May God bless you!

[Shri Mataji takes the central stage and opens Her bun.] [Version 1:] You think this is the fist time you have met Me, but I have met you all before and you have been with Me for many lifetimes.

Shri Mataji: [mentions that Her forefathers ruled in Rahuri and that the Nath Panthis worked there].

Mr. Dhumal: [asks who were the Nath Panthis].

Shri Mataji: I have so far told you how the evolution was led by Viṣhṇu and his Incarnations on the earth. Apart from this there was a unique incarnation of the Primordial Master, Ādi Guru, in the void or Bhava-sāgara. He incarnated many a times to guide humanity to cross the void. These Masters evolved new personalities endowed with the principles of disciples or shishya Tattwa, who manifested as great disciples of this Ādi Guru. The disciples created by Ādi Guru were human beings but they achieved salvation with the help of their Gurus or their own efforts. They were not Divine Incarnations and are known as Avadhuts.

They incarnated on this earth as other personalities; Solomon, David, Guru Vasistha, John the Baptist, second and third Zoroaster, Mārkandeya, Gagan Gadh Mahārāj and the nine Naths. The Nav Naths knew that Kuṇḍalinī awakening is the only way you can get your Self-realisation. Their attention was enlightened and they could just put it on matter or anything and it would work. For instance, ChangDev would put his attention on heat and cook on it! They had the True Knowledge of the Kuṇḍalinī and went as far as Bolivia and Ukraine to bestow Kuṇḍalinī awakening.

Mr. Dhumal: Are they to be worshipped?

Shri Mataji: Only Deities are to be worshipped.

Mr. Dhumal: Are there any Avadhuts born in India?

Shri Mataji: Now Sahaja Yoga has created the environment for many great souls t take their birth.

Shri Mataji answers with pain in Her voice:] Oh My child, do not talk like that for she is the widow of one of My dearest sons.

Mr. Dhumal: Where is the beauty? The hills are so dry; there are not even any trees.

Contents: 1980-12-31 Talk to Sahaja Yogis (Marathi), The Meaning of Nirmalā, Rahuri, Maharashtra, India

[Version 1:] It is good that all Sahaja Yogis have come together. When we meet like this, we can discuss many things of mutual interest and tell even small details about them to each other. The other day I told you how to clean yourself as your Mother's name itself is Nirmalā and it contains many powers.

The first word is `Nih' which means not.

Something that actually does not exist but appears to exist, is called Mahāmāyā [illusion] and the whole world is like that. It is seen but it is not true: if we are involved into it we feel that it is the only thing we have to live for. Then we feel that economic conditions are unsatisfactory, social and domestic conditions are bad, everything around us is bad and we are not happy about anything.

Water on the sea surface is very dirty and turbid. Many objects are seen floating on it. But if we go deep into the sea there is so much beauty, wealth and power that we forget that on the surface the water is so bad.

The point is that everything that you see around is illusion. You must remember first of all it is all nothing. If you have to establish `Nih' you have to tell yourself, whenever a thought comes, say it is not there, another thought comes, say it is not there. You have to feel this again and again. Then you will understand the meaning of word `Nih'. The illusion that you see is not just the illusion, but there is something beyond that.

However, we have wasted so many years of lives in it that we give importance to all that actually does not exist and in doing that we have made heaps of sins. We have tried to derive the pleasure from many things. We have received nothing from whatever we have tried to enjoy. Essentially, it is all nothing.

So, the outlook should be, it is all that nothing, it is all false. Only Brahma is real the rest all is false.

You have to adopt this view point everywhere in life. Then you will know what Sahaja Yoga is. What happens with most of the Sahaja Yogis after realisation, is that they think, “Now that we are realised [and] we have Mātājī's blessings, then why are we not prosperous?" That means they think God is in the prosperity. If you find out why your nature does not change even after realisation you will know that our `Swabhav' the nature of our spirit, does not change. See, how beautiful is this word `Swabhav', `Swa' is Ātman i.e. the spirit and bhav is the nature. Have you become the nature of your Self? If you become your self there is so much beauty within, that all that goes on outside would appear like drama.

So long as this witness state is not fully awakened within you, you have not followed the word `Nih' and also you have not practiced it. Suppose you are aware that you have not established `Nih' within you and even now you become sometime emotional or egoistical, coercive or submissive and feel sad about it, then the state of being on `Nih' is at the center of these extremes. You are neither in this state nor in that. This state can be best achieved in the meditation. Just by following the idea of `Nih' in your life you will become thoughtless (Nirvichar).

First of all you should become thoughtless. Once you start jumping on a thought however good or bad it may be, you go into some sort of inertia and in that state you jump from one thought to another.

So some people have said that a bad thought should be opposed by a good thought. In other words if a vehicle or train coming from one direction, is pushed back by another one, both will stop somewhere at the center. It is good but occasionally it can become harmful. A bad thought when put down by a good thought remains suppressed but it can suddenly come up and it happens with many people. They press down their normal thoughts and always tell themselves that they must be good to others and must be well behaved etc. These people can sometimes be in trouble. Suddenly they get exasperated and others cannot understand, why these well behaved people are annoyed. Also they lose their inner peace.

All the beauty within them is destroyed.

So we should be always thoughtless. Ban all thoughts from your mind and then you would automatically remain at the center.

You must make all efforts. Now you would ask “Mother how can we do anything without thinking?" But what are thoughts? They are hollow. In thoughtless state you are one with the God's power that is, the drop, which is you, comes in the ocean which is God. Hence His power also comes to you. Does this finger think? Is it not still moving? Give your thoughts to God and ask Him to think about you. But it is rather difficult, because you are not thoughtless.

Many people say “we have surrendered everything” but it does not happen because they do it only in talking. Surrendering is not talking. You have to surrender to attain thoughtlessness. That is you have stopped thinking. When you stop thinking you come to the center. When at the center, immediately you go into thoughtless awareness, i.e. become one with God's power and when you are one with the God's power, He looks after you. He takes care of your small things also. You will be amazed. It is worth trying and after that you will realise that what you were doing earlier was wrong.

So once you are in thoughtlessness you will get all inspirations, all powers and everything.

The idea that you get in thoughtlessness is an inspiration. You will be surprised. Everything will come to you as if on a plate. You are standing to give a speech. Just be thoughtless and start. Although you have never given a speech earlier or do not even know how to do it or have no special knowledge of any subject, you will speak so well that others will be astonished how you know so much. But once you are deep in the thoughtless state all comes from there and not from your brain. I tell you about Me. You pray `Mother kindly see that such and such happens to me' and I do not think about that. It is amazing. I put all that in the thoughtlessness. All machinery is working there. Just put it to that machinery and it is all ready. Allow that machinery, you can call it silent machinery, to work. You should put all your problems to it. But it is very difficult for intellectuals because their habit is to go on thinking about everything.

You should be able to go into thoughtlessness while trying to understand a subject. All becomes clear automatically. Research that you are doing should also be in thoughtless state. Let your hands work while you are thoughtless.

You can do your research extremely well in this way. I tell you many things.

I have never read science in My life and know nothing about it. Still I tell you all that. Where does all the knowledge come from? From the thoughtlessness; I only speak and see all that is going on. It was all kept ready in that computer which is speaking. If you are not in the thoughtless state you do not use your computer and put your brain on top of it. It is such on old computer and lot of accurate work has been done on it. You are bound to make mistakes if you use your own brain and do not consult the computer.

All that happens in the thoughtless state is enlightened. Whenever sufix `Pra' is used it means enlightened. Light never talks. If you switch on the light in the room, the light won't speak or give you any ideas. It would just make everything visible. Same is about the light of thoughtlessness. That `Nih' is common in all such words like `Nirvichar' [thoughtless], `Nirahaṁkāra' [egoless], you establish it and then you come into doubtless state. First become thoughtless and then doubtless (Nirvikalpa). Then all your doubts go and you know that there is some power that works. It works very fast and is all subtle. You will be amazed how it happens. This is also about time. I never see watch.

Sometimes it stops and shows, when the time is three or 4. But My real watch is in the thoughtlessness.

It is permanently stopped. If anything is to be done, it takes place at the right time. Then there are no regrets whether it is late or not. Whatever it may be I am not bothered.

Yesterday My car failed but I was relaxing because I wanted to see the stars. That beauty is not visible in London and I wanted to see it. Its splendor was spread all over the sky. The sky thought Mātājī should see it.

Sometimes I must look at that also I was enjoying it. In short, you should not be a slave of anything.

If you are thoughtless God takes you everywhere as if on his hands. He makes all arrangements. He knows everything and there is no need to tell him about anything. But you must see whether you are in the main stream or not. If you are not in it then you are stuck up somewhere on the bank; then current comes and takes you in, twice or thrice but again you are on the bank. Then you say “Mātājī, nothing goes smoothly for me." It won't. Because you are entangled.

Śhrī Gaṇeśha's praise that you sing is excellent. It says, “Flowing in the main stream (Pravaha)" which means enlightened main stream. You should not bring your own separate, current in it. The Arti of Śhrī Gaṇeśha also says “Nirvani Rakshave” i.e. protect me when I am dying. You also pray “Raksha Raksha Parameshwara” “O God protect me” but you want to protect yourself. Why should, then, God protect you? He says, `Let him protect himself.' What I want to emphasize is that you must learn to go deep and realise all this in the thoughtlessness then you can become Nirvikalpa [doubtless]. You must have no attachment (Nirasakta). We have here [in] India `my son, my daughter'.

In England, it is just the opposite. There, they are not attached to son or daughter. They are worried only about themselves. Here you have this attachment; my son, my daughter, my house etc., everything is mine and at the end you are left only with mine! You should say `Nothing is mine and everything is yours.' Kabīr says “so long as a goat is alive it is bleating `main, main' [I, I] but when it is cut the taut strings of its guts sound on an instrument, `Toohie, toohie' [You alone are, you alone are]." You must become like that.

Once you are established in the idea I am nought, I have no existence, then only you will understand the word `Nih'.

Let us consider the word `La'. It is Lalitā's word. My second name is Lalitā. It is the blessing of Devī.

It is Her weapon. When La i.e. Goddess becomes Lalit or when the Shakti becomes La it which means active that is when the vibrations rise within Her the vibrations which you are feeling on your palms that Shakti is Lalitā Shakti. It is full of beauty and love. When the power of love becomes active, it becomes La Shakti. She envelops you from all sides. When she is active, what is the worry? What is your power? Can you make even one fruit from tree? Leave, fruit, you cannot make even a leaf or a root! Only `La Shakti' does all the work. The realisation that you have got is also from this power. From this Shakti have come `Ma Shakti' and `Nih Shakti'. `Nih Shakti' is Śhrī Brahmadeva's Power Śhrī Saraswatī Shakti.

And in Saraswatī Shakti you must attain the qualities of `Nih'. Attaining `Nih' is becoming completely unattached. You must become completely unattached.

`La Shakti' has love in it. She relates us to others. Word La comes in `Lalam', `Lavanya'. Word La has a sweetness of its own and you should impress others with it. You should use this Shakti while speaking to others. What should you do when this Shakti the power of love, is spread everywhere in moving and non-moving things? You should leave all thoughts to the first power because thoughts come from the first power. What should you do in the last power, i.e. La Shakti? You should enjoy the bliss of love. How? By forgetting yourself. Has anyone measured how much one loves others? It should grow. How you enjoy it? Does it occur to you, how much you love others? I always enjoy loving others; feel, how the love is flowing everywhere. I do not know whether you feel or not. I cannot understand much about human beings. But I feel how the love is flowing all over. Like a musician who forgets himself in his own melodies and feels how his music is flowing everywhere. Similarly love must flow without any interruption. That is, you should achieve Lalam Shakti, which is the power of vibrations, i.e. Lalitā Shakti. Therefore, you should first achieve Lalitā Shakti.

You must first find out how you view others.

Some people of low category look at others with an idea to steal something or to get some benefit. There are some, who are interested in finding other people's faults.

I do not know what pleasure they get, but they keep looking for other's shortcomings. This way they become aloof and then suffer. Only man can teach how to invite troubles. It is not possible for Me. How glad am I to meet alt. You should use Lalam Shakti in such a way that you should go into thoughtlessness while looking at other person. That person also will then become thoughtless.

Hence I ask you to do `bandhan'. It is helpful to do `bandhan' to `Nih Shakti' and `La Shakti' which is transferring `La Shakti' into `Nih Shakti'.

I have to tell many people to raise their left sides. I tell those people to raise their left sides, who are very proud or think they are working very hard or are very busy. It is filling our own love into own five elements.

Love in our hearts or the power of that love from our hearts should be filled into the power of action as if you are painting with colours on a canvas. When the power of love is filled in the power of action in a person, he becomes extremely loving and that love gradually shines through his behaviours and in his personality and flows to others. It makes his every action enjoyable to others. Such person becomes so alluring that you feel relaxed and happy in his company for hours.

So, your love should become enjoyable and winning other people's hearts. This becomes useful in such a way that we get friends and the affection for each other grows. Everyone feels that there is a place where one can get all love and affection. Hence we must cultivate the God's power of Love.

If we get any thought we must tell ourselves that we are throwing dirty things in the Ganges of God's power. With this attitude of mind our `La Shakti' the power of love will remain absolutely clean and we will enjoy that cleanliness.

You should never be critical of others. If you ask Me about some person, I can only tell you regarding his Kuṇḍalinī and on which Chakra he is caught at present or gets frequently caught. I cannot understand anything beyond that; how he is or how his nature is etc. If I am asked, I say “What is nature?" It is so changing! River is flowing here. Who can tell where it will be in future? You have to see where you stand. If you are on this side, you are bound to feel it unusual that the river is flowing here. I see from the side of the ocean so I know where it comes from.

So never brand anybody as useless. Every person changes and he must change. The work of Sahaja Yoga is to bring about the change. Those who believe in Sahaja Yoga should never say that such and such person has become useless. Everybody must be given the freedom. You all know how we stand now! If you think this way you will not only respect yourself but will also respect others. One who has no regard for himself never gives regards to others.

We must develop `Lalam Shakti'. I cannot adequately describe the joy of it even by writing a book, because it cannot be expressed through words they are very much inadequate. In other words if you have to describe smile you can only tell how the muscles move but you cannot tell the effects of the smiles. You should allow this power to be effective and develop it.

Man gets a kind of beauty, an elegance and good nature from `Lalam Shakti'.

You must see that this power grows through your speech, behaviour and other activities.

Some person's annoyance is also pleasant. That sweet and pleasant power is called Lalitā Shakti. People have completely distorted its idea. They say that it is the power of destruction. But it is not at all correct. This power is extremely beautiful, creative and artistic. Suppose you sow a seed, then some of its parts get destroyed this is `Lalitā Shakti'. But the destruction is very gentle and easy. The seed then grows into a tree that has leaves. Those leaves also fall, which is again very simple and easy. Then come the flowers. When the flowers become fruits some of its components fall and then come the fruits. Those fruits are also cut for eating. The taste that you get after eating is also this power. In this way these two powers work. You should understand that you cannot make any statue without cutting and chopping. If you understand that this chip-chopping is of the same kind, you should not feel bad, if you have to do it sometimes. That is also necessary. But an artist does it artistically whereas an artless person does it bluntly.

So this power depends on how much art is in you.

Some times you look at a picture and you want to keep looking. If someone asks you what is so nice in that picture, you cannot express it in words.

You only look at the picture.

Some pictures are such that you become thoughtless just by looking at them. In that thoughtless state you are enjoying the whole pleasure of it and this state is the very best.

Instead of comparing it with something or describing it with similes you should enjoy the bliss of this state, to your hearts' content. There are no words or no expression to describe it. You have to experience it from within. All should have this experience.

Word `Ma' which is between `Nih' and `La' is very interesting. `Ma' is the word of Mahālakṣhmī. `Ma' is the power of Dharma [Righteousness] and also the power of our evolution. In `Ma Shakti' you have to comprehend, assimilate and get Mastery. For example, an artist conceives the idea of his creation with his `La Shakti', he makes it with `Nih Shakti' and then uses `Ma Shakti' to bring it in conformity with his idea. At every stage he checks whether it agrees with his idea and tries to improve, if it does not.

He does that again and again. This is `Ma Shakti'. That is, if something is not good do it again, once, twice and so on. This job of improving involves efforts. We have to improve ourselves also.

But for this, the evolution would have been impossible. God has to make enormous efforts. We have to accomplish `Ma Shakti' and preserve it. If it is not done, other two powers fall off, because this power is the center of gravity.

So you should be at the center of gravity and the center of gravity is `Ma Shakti' of our evolution. Other two powers will become active in you only when you grow along the power of evolution. But you must fully understand and develop `Ma Shakti'.

So long as you are not realised, it is alright to say that if God loves you He should come to you, but thereafter you cannot say so. For with `Ma Shakti' you have to balance other two powers. In melody you balance the tunes; while painting a picture you bring about the balance of different colours. Similarly you have to achieve the balance of `Nih Shakti' and `La Shakti'. You have to work for attaining this balance.

On many occasions you lose it. That Sahaja Yogi who can maintain it, rises to a very high level.

Very emotional Sahaja Yogi is not good. Similarly very busy Sahaja Yogi is also not very good. One should activate one's power of love and see how it has worked so far. Suppose I follow certain method but even in that every time I do something different. You must have seen that every time, I come out with something new, some new method. If this does not work, try some other thing. If that also does not work, do something else. Nobody should fix his method. You rise in the morning apply vermilion, pay obeisance to Mātājī; this is all mechanical. It is not living process. In living process you should find out different new methods. I always give the example of the root of a tree. It penetrates deeper and deeper into the soil circumventing the obstacles. It does not fight with them and it would not have been able to hold the tree without the obstacles. Hence the problems are necessary because you cannot progress without the problems. The power that teaches you how to overcome these problems is `Ma Shakti'. Therefore it is `Ma Shakti' i.e. Mother's power. For that first thing required is wisdom.

Suppose a person is very mild natured and says, “Mother I am very soft what can I do?" I tell him to change himself and become a lion. If some other person is a lion I tell him to become a goat. Otherwise it won't work. You have to change your methods. Person who cannot change his methods cannot spread Sahaja Yoga because he sticks to only one way, with which people get bored. You should find new ways.

This is how `Ma Shakti' works.

Ladies are expert in it. They make different recipes everyday and the husbands are eager to know the menu.

This is the Shakti with which you accomplish your balance and concentration.

When you take it to the highest state, you get the vibrations flow from your balance and wisdom and will not flow if you do not have wisdom. Person from whom the maximum vibrations are flowing is a wise person; in fact it is his wisdom that is flowing. On this basis, it can be assessed how great Sahaja Yogi you are. You will naturally be caught on your Chakras. You should know when you are caught that you have lost your balance. The imbalance shows that `Ma Shakti' is weak in you. The first letter from any real name Mātājī is `Ma' that is mother and this work has been done only by `Ma Shakti' within Me. This was not possible if only `La Shakti' and `Nih Shakti' were there. I have come with all the three powers but `Ma Shakti' is on top. You have seen that `Ma Shakti' is Mother's power. It must be proved that She is our Mother.

Will you accept if someone comes and says `I am your Mother.' You won't.

Mother must be proved. What is Mother? We have a place in Her heart. We have every right on Her and She has on us, because She loves us very much. Her love is absolutely disinterested. She always wishes well of us and has nothing in Her heart except love for us.

You will have faith in the Mother only if you understand that all that decorates you i.e. your Spirit, is in Her. You should prove all these to others. Sahaja Yogi should be able to do that. Other people should know that he is a wise person. For that you need the balance; the balance between the powers of love and action and it should be so beautiful that people are influenced by such person without their knowledge.

Sahaja Yogi should accomplish it.

You think at home how to activate these three powers and use them. `Nih Shakti' should give all beauty and gravity to your homes. You should device new ways and means of contacting the people. These powers should be used to propagate Sahaja Yoga. For their proper use your `Nih Shakti' i.e. the power of action should be very strong. Albeit, you must have main `La Shakti' that is the power of love. But La Shakti is to be activated with `Nih Shakti'.

But if one way does not work, find some other way, try first red and yellow if it does not suit, take red and green and if that also does not help do something else. It would be wise not to be adamant. An adamant man cannot do anything in Sahaja Yoga. All that you want to do is to spread Sahaja Yoga, then try different ways. I agree to do what you insist on because I know that human beings are not like Me.

You can never tell what an obstinate person will do, you should not allow him to go to an extremity. I know all this from `Ma Shakti'. But you should not insist on particular things.

Mātājī does not insist. Whatever is there, you should accept. Whatever you do you should have in mind that you are doing an important work. I have no desire. There is no `La Shakti' or `Nih Shakti' or `Ma Shakti' within Me.

There is nothing. I even do not know that I am these powers. I only witness all the play.

When the life is changed like this there will be `Siddha' Sahaja Yogis [i.e. those who have complete mastery over Sahaja Yoga] among human beings.

So far they have not become siddhas. You have to achieve the mastery. Siddha Sahaja Yogi is the one who becomes completely one with God and wins Him over. He has to do everything for that. I am now going. After that, it is to be seen how and where you use your mastery.

Sometimes I tell you not to do certain things. You should not feel bad about that. You should not feel sorry in `Ma Shakti' because I must tell you all that.

Some people feel sorry. You must remember that you have to become master (Siddha). All others must accept that you are Siddha. It should be clear to them the very moment they see you that you are Siddha. You must ensure this. If it happens everything will be fine.

One day I told you that you should invite your friends and relations for lunch or dinner or for some function or tell them that you are arranging a big Pūjā. Also call some Sahaja Yogis on that day and give realisation to all your guests. If you do this for one year it will be very benefficial.

May God bless you! [Version 2:] It is a matter of joy to see all these Sahaj Yogis gathered together. When we all gather together in such a way, it is possible to exchange views on matters of mutual well-being. On such an occasion we can also tell each other things we have ourselves learned in Sahaja. One-two days ago I told you about a way to make ourselves pure and guilt-free. Your Mother's name itself is Nirmalā and it has many powers [In Hindi “Nirmal" means pure].

The first word in this name is `Nih' which means `No'.

Something that has no meaning but which appears to have a very subtle meaning is known as `Mahāmāyā' or `deception'. The whole Universe is full of such things. What we see is, in fact, not there. If we become engrossed in it, it becomes everything. Then only we start feeling that our financial position is not good or our social or family lives are unsatisfactory.

Everything around us seems to be bad and we don't seem to feel satisfied about anything whatsoever! The surface of the ocean is very dirty and a lot of things float on the top. However, when we go deeper we see that there is so much beauty, riches and powers. We then forget what we saw on the surface. What I mean is that everything that we see around us is actually just `Māyā' or deception. First of all, we must remember that our impressions of the things around us are not reality the real thing. If we really want to indicate this `Nih' feeling within ourselves then we must do one thing. Whenever thoughts come into our minds, we must say to ourselves that it is nothing but deception and is thus useless. You will have to do this over and over again. Only then will you all understand the true meaning of the word `Nih' ! All these forms of `Māyā' that you see is, in fact, not totally deception. It is something else too. But we have wasted so many valuable years of our lives looking for happiness in useless things and in the process, committed so many sins against our spirits. And still we have not found the true happiness that we thrive for all our lives.

Therefore, your outlook should be that everything is `Nih' or nothing. The only truth is `Brahma' or The Spirit. All else is but a facade. You must develop this outlook in every field of mundane life! Only then will you understand Sahaja Yoga. After Realisation, many people feel that “Oh, we are realised Souls and we have Mother's blessings too. Why then are we not financially stable?" To them the meaning of God is prosperity and a so-called position in Society! If you introspect as to what are the reasons for your unchanging attitude towards life, you will see that it is because the `Swabhav' nature of your spirit hasn't changed even after realisation. You see, `Swa' or `Spirit' and `Bhav' or `appearance' together make the word `Swabhav'. Tell Me, have you really found the true nature of your Spirit? If you really become one with your Spirit, You will see so much beauty inside that the whole Universe will seem but a mere drama.

Until you awaken this philosophy of being but a mere witness? completely inside yourselves; You have not really understood the real meaning of `Nih'. And until you instill it in every activity, in fact, every aspect of your being, you will be emotional, egoistic and depressed with life. Being trapped in these extremes has a lot to do with the incorrect indication of Nih. You are neither here nor there, neither in this situation or that and are just hanging in limbo! The easiest path to achieving this is through meditation. Making `Nih' a way of life will also help you to reach the `Nirvicharita' state very easily.

First of all, you must always be in the state of `Nirvicharita'. Only one thought, whether good or bad, is enough to bring a whole series of thoughts one after the other. It then becomes a never-ending process where each thought gives rise to another.

Some people say that we should fight the negative thoughts with positive ones. In other words, if we try to stop a train coming from one side with another one coming from the other they will both stop at some point in the middle. To some extend this is correct but sometimes this too can be very harmful. When a negative thought is suppressed by a positive one it has not actually gone away. And it can, at some point, manifest itself again and in a much more violent manner. This has happened to many people in the past. They usually hide their actual thoughts and keep telling themselves that they must be humble, keep a good character and so forth. These people sometimes get very frustrated and then face problems. All of a sudden they may become so engulfed by anger that people ask themselves how someone so quiet could act in such an egoistic manner. These people also are prone to losing their peace of mind and all their inner beauty. Therefore it is important to always be in die `Nirvicharita' state and thus have total control over these destructive and worthless thoughts. Doing this will automatically keep you in the center! You must always try to achieve the very best. Now, you may ask, “Mother, how can we possibly work without thinking about it?" What are your thoughts right now? They are in fact merely hollow! In the Nirvicharita state, you become one with the power of God. In other words, the drop [the self] becomes part of the ocean [of God]. All the powers of God also enter your inner being. Does your finger think? No! But does it not do its duty? Give all your thoughts and doubts to Him and leave all the thinking on your part to Him. But that may initially seem difficult because you are yourself, not in the Nirvichar state! Many people come and say that we have surrendered everything to God. However it is usually just vocal and very far from the truth. Surrender is not merely a vocal expression. To attain Nirvicharita which means the complete absence of thought we must undergo complete surrender. When your thought process stops then you come into the center. Being in the center makes you Nirvichar which, consequently, makes you one with God. And when this happens, He takes all your burdens upon Himself, He takes care of even your smallest needs. It is surprising. But try it and you will see that it is true and your earlier path was indeed wrong. Once you reach this state you will indeed start getting all the inspirations, powers and riches that you desire. Every thought that comes in your mind in the state of `Nirvicharita' is actually an Inspiration in itself. Anything that you so much as desire will be brought to you on a silver plate. You may get up to give a lecture and even though you may never have given one, all you would have to do is to enter the `Nirvichar' state; And when you finish you yourself will be surprised by the response of the spellbound audience! People will feel awed by the sudden outburst of extraordinary knowledge that you display. The deeper you go into `Nirvicharita', the more convinced you will become that everything is actually coming from this state and not from your mind! Now, I will tell you a secret about Myself. You will be surprised to know that when you pray to Me for something, I don't really think about it! Simply dedicate it to My `Nirvicharita'. The whole process starts from there. It is like a machine where your thoughts and prayers go into as raw material and the machine itself [Nirvicharita] acts on them to produce the final product! But you must let it work on its own and give it all your problems. But for intellectuals this is a very difficult task indeed. And it is because they have a tendency to think about every single thing. Try to enter the `Nirvicharita' state whenever you are trying to understand a new subject. Try to develop this ability and you'll see that everything becomes obvious and logical all by itself. Whatever research work you are engaged in, try to perform in this state.

In this way you will always be able to perform it in the best possible manner. I Talk about a very wide range of topics. I have never studied all the intricacies of Science in My life. Then how is it possible for Me to talk with knowledge about all these fields? By virtue of `Nirvicharita', of course. I keep on talking and continue to observe the goings-on around Me, both at the same time.

It is almost as if everything was ready-made in My formless vocal computer. If, however, you are not in this state, you are not using this inbuilt computer called `Nirvicharita' and probably place more value on your own mind. In other words, this enormous power within you remains dormant and all your work is done through the power of the human mind, which in itself is very limited. Nirvicharita' is an ancient computer which has helped people make the right decisions even in the worst circumstances. If you always use your own mind without ever taking its support then, it is but natural that you will commit mistakes.

All that happens in the Nirvicharita state is like a ray of light, a blessing. If you turn on the light in a room it will not talk and it will not give you any thoughts. It will, however, light up everything in the room. The same thing can be said about this form of light called `Nirvicharita', `Nirvichar', `Nirahaṁkār' [free from Ego] and others all start with the same `Nih'. Establish this within yourselves and then only will you be able to reach the state of `Nirvikalpa'. First `Nirvichara' and then `Nirvikalpa'. At this point all your doubts and fears will themselves vanish and you will feel within yourselves that the power is works all on its own without need for any stimulus from your own conscious mind! And you will be surprised at how it is all happening.

The same thing applies to time. I never need to look at a watch. It can also be false and sometimes it stops altogether. But My real watch is Nirvicharita. Even though it is always constant, all My jobs get done at just the right time. And there is never any form of guilt for something that didn't get done at the right time I never have to worry about it because I know it will get done at just the right time. Yesterday My car broke down. But I was lost in the beauty of the starry sky. This kind of beauty is hard to find in London. Therefore, I wanted to enjoy it. It was the desire of the sky that I watch it.

Sometimes it is necessary for Me to put My attention there too. In short, you must never be a slave to anything. In the state of `Nirvichara', God Himself takes you everywhere as if in His own hands. He arranges for everything.

He knows everything and there is no need to tell Him anything. All you have to worry about is whether or not you are in `Nirvicharita'. If you are not there then you are standing on the shore. A wave may then come and join you with the mainstream. This may happen once, twice or even three times, but if you are still stuck at the shores then you say, “Mother, nothing really works out for me in totality!" In fact it will never work out to its full extent! The reason: Because you are still stuck at the shores of the vast ocean of God's love! The Śhrī Gaṇeśh stuti that you sing is really beautiful. In it you say “To join with the mainstream (Pra + Vah)..." which means the enlightened mainstream. Please do not join your own inherent waves [emotions] into it. Another thing that comes in the Ār.ti is “Nirvane Rakshave" or “Save me in my time of death." You also say “Raksh Raksh Parmashwari" or “Dear God, please save me." But in reality, you yourself want to save yourself! Then why do you need God to save you? And God says, `When he can save himself let him do so!' What I want to stress is that you must learn to go in deeper so that you can get everything you want through Nirvicharita'. Only then will you be able to reach the `Nirvikalpa' state! You must remain detached at all cost. Here in India, people say “My son or my daughter." In England, it is exactly the opposite and none has such attachments. They only think about themselves. Here everything is mine, mine; my son, my house and in the end, all that is left in the thoughts is me and mine! Nothing else stays apart from that. You should really be saying, `Nothing is mine, everything is yours!' Sant Kabīr says that till the day it dies, all that a sheep ever says is `Main, main' [Me, me]. But when it dies, cotton is made from its intestines and the only sound that comes during the process is `Tu hi, Tu hi' which means `Only you, only you'. You too should have the same feeling of `only you, only you'. Only when you let this feeling of `I am nothing and I have no personal standing of my own!' ingulf your whole being, will you truly be able to comprehend the real meaning behind `Nih'.

Let us now discuss the last letter of the word `Nirmalā': `Lā'. My second name is `Lalitā'. This is the blessing of The Devī [Goddess]. It is Her weapon. When `Lā' or the Devī takes the human form, She is known as `Lalitā Shakti [Power]' [in Hindi, `Lalit' means `the working' or the `operational' and the whole word `Lalitā' means `the working form' or here, `the incarnation'.] This is the same power that you are, at this very moment, feeling on your palms. It is filled with beauty and love. When the power of love is awakened it becomes the Lā' power. It surrounds you from all sides. When it has become operational then, what do you have to worry about? In comparison to that what is your own power? Can you even make a fruit from a tree? Forget the fruit. Can you even make one leaf or root on your own standing? Only the `Lā Shakti' performs all these jobs! The realisation that you have got is also the work of this same power. This is the real Shakti that has given birth to the powers of `Nih' and `Ma' or the first two parts of the name `Nirmalā'. `Nih' is the power of Śhrī Brahmadev and Śhrī Saraswatī. You should inculcate the qualities of `Nih' from the Powers of Saraswatī. The real essence behind all the qualities of `Nih' is total and utter detachment! You should all strive to achieve just that.

`Lā' comes from love and it helps us form relationships with others The word `Lā' has its own special beauty you should try to [UNCLEAR imoress/impress] others with that beauty. You should use this power whenever you talk to others. This power of love is omnipresent in even the smallest particle of this Universe. If that is so, what then is your duty? You should surrender all your thoughts to the power of `Nih' because all thoughts are born from this very first power. The last or the Lā power should be used for enjoying the power of your Mother's Love. How should you do that? You should forget yourself in the love for others and become totally encompassed by this love. Has anyone of you really thought seriously about how much you love others? It should keep on increasing. How much do you enjoy yourselves in the company of other Yogis? I cannot talk for others but in My own case, I can say that I get great joy in loving others. Try to feel for yourselves how this love is flowing all around you like the river Ganga! It is such a beautiful sensation. Look at the singer who forgets his whole self in his Rāg [Rhythm] and senses his whole surrounding changing as if in response to the music. In the same way, you too will be able to see the whole Universe engulfing you in response to your love! But, firstly you must awaken this power of `Lā' which manifests itself within you as The Chaitanya Laharis [Cool Breeze]. In what way do you look at others around you? The lowest types look so as to steal something or at least to make some form of profit from others.

Some look for faults in others. I don't know what they gain from it and, in reality, they themselves get isolated and then, face great pains. They themselves invite problems. I, however, like to meet all types of people, whatever they may be like inside. You should constantly be using this `Lā' or `Lalām' power of holy love.

You should automatically go into the `Nirvichar' state as soon as you see another person. In this way the other person will also become `Nirvichar'. Thus, you should give yourself and others this `bandhan' of holy Love. Let the powers of `Nih' and `Lā' work together. You must thus strive to bring the power of Lā' or love which is felt in the Cool Breeze, into the realms of the `Nih' or `Nirvicharita'. It is also benefficial to give a bandhan to both of them. Many people are very egoistic and think that they are great workers. I always tell them to raise their left sides. In this way we combine and circulate our own five parts [the earth, water, light, wind and sky] with our Love which comes from the Lā Shakti. The love in our hearts (our left sides) should be merged with our power of `Karma' or the right side. In exactly the same way that we paint on a piece of cloth. If in this way, the `Karma Shakti' is merged with the power of love, a person becomes extremely quiet and understanding. And ultimately, this lights up his or her whole character. It also impresses others and everything he does becomes a beautiful offering to God. That person becomes so attractive that you can enjoy his company for hours and hours. Your love should be enjoyable to others and at the same time, be able to win their hearts. Consequently, everyone becomes your friend giving rise to mutual love. Everyone feels about you, that there is one place where he will always receive love and encouragement without any judgement. Thus you must awaken this power of Godly love within yourselves.

We should always stay in the state of `Nirvicharita'. Whenever a thought comes, ask yourself why such dirt has invaded the beautiful Ganga of God's pure Love. In this way, our attention will always be focussed on the power of `Lā' and we will always feel the presence of `Nirmal Prem' [Pure Love] in our hearts! Please do not criticise others. If you ask Me about a particular person then, all I can tell you about him is the state of his Kuṇḍalinī or which Chakra is catching at that very moment. I can tell you nothing else apart from that, in fact, nothing about his character, nature and so on. If I am asked about this, I will ask you what exactly is a person's nature? It is continuously changing. The river is flowing here right now but who can say where the flow will be after some time! You are standing on this side of the river so you find it strange. I am standing in the direction of the ocean so I know which part is quiet and subtle.

Therefore, You should never call anyone hopeless or worthless. Changes occur constantly and it is a fact of life. The job of Sahaj Yoga is to bring change. Believers of Sahaj Yoga should never tell anyone that they have become worthless. Everyone should have their freedom. You all know what your own position is right now. If you all think on these lines you will not only be able to respect your own integrity but also that of others.

Someone that has no self-respect of his own can never really respect others no matter how hard he may try! He will always waste his life passing judgements on others! We must develop the power of `Lā' or `Lalām'. I will be unable to completely explain its joys even if I write a whole book. This is because just words are insufficient to explain its beauty. In just the same way, if you want to analyze a `smile' all you can do is explain the mechanism by which it works. You cannot say anything about its effects. Because it is something that has to be felt to be truly understood. On your own part, all you need to do is to awaken this power and let it grow and flourish! `Lalām Shakti' gives a person a kind of beauty, magnificence and an extremely humble character. Try to establish it in both your words and your deeds.

Some people seem attractive even in anger. This is what is known as the `Lalit' power. People have totally misconstrued its real meaning. They say that it is the power of destruction. But, this is totally false. It is very great power. Suppose a seed is sown.

Some of its parts get destroyed by virtue of this `Lalit' power. But this destruction is very subtle and softly done. Then the seed grows to become a tree which has leaves. Then the leaves fall which is also a very subtle process. Next the flowers come and when they become fruits some of their parts automatically fall off. The fruits too, are cut to be eaten. On eating them, You too feel a certain taste. This is done by the same power. You know that without cutting and moulding you cannot create an idol. It is, in fact, essential. The only difference is that an artist does it in an artistic manner and a non-artist would do it in a haphazardly manner. This power thus depends on how artistic you yourself are.

Sometimes, you see a painting and you just can't take your eyes off it. If somebody asks you what is so special about it, you will be unable to explain in words. All you do is to bask in its beauty. There are some paintings that you may only need to look at and you feel yourself immediately going into the `Nirvichar' state. You then enjoy it much more. This is the supreme state. There are no words, nor any human expressions to describe its joy! You must try to feel it inside yourselves. It is very interesting that between `Nih' and `Lā' is the word `Ma'. `Ma' is the first letter of `Mahālakṣhmī'. `Ma' is the power of `Dharma' or `Pure Conduct' and also that of our ascent. You must first understand it, then establish it and finally master it! As an example consider an artist. The power of `Lā' is responsible for the seed of desire (idea) that becomes sown within him. With the power of Nih' he develops that seed into the tree that it will finally become. Finally, with the help of the `Ma Shakti' he puts everything into practice and thus gives it the physical form that he had conceived! At every point in its development he continually asks himself whether it is according to his conception and if not, what are the changes he must make to it. He does this over and over again. This is the `Ma Shakti'. In other words, if something is not right, the desire to do it once, twice or as many times as it may take to set it right! One must work very hard to achieve this improvement and we must work just as much to achieve this in ourselves. If this was not so then the process of evolution would have been practically impossible! And God must work very hard to do this. We must awaken this `Ma' power within us prevent it from going away by our deeds. If this is not done then the other two powers will also surely leave us because this is the one that provides the balance and is the center of gravity. We must stay in this balance and this balance is the `Ma' power. The other two powers will become firmly established only when you perform every deed in relation to this balance.

But, for that, you must completely understand this `Ma Shakti' and develop it within yourselves.

Until you are realised it is possible for you to say that when God really loves you He should come to you, But when you become realised it will not be possible for you to say that. This is because with the power of `Ma' you must balance the other two powers inside yourselves Even when you are painting you must establish the same type of balance between the colours. In the same way it is essential that you establish a balance between the `Nih' and `Lā' powers. You will have to work hard to achieve this balance. Many times you might also lose this balance. The Sahaja Yogi that is always able to keep this balance reaches the highest possible stage. Sahaj Yogis should never be too emotional. In the same way one that wants to do too many things at the same time is also not good. You must activate your powers of love and always take care that it never becomes idle or dormant. For example, I work in one particular way but even in that I sometimes make changes. You must have seen that each time there is at least something that is new. If one way doesn't work then try another. Even if that fails then look for something else. One must not become obstinate about any one thing. You get up in the mornings, apply `tika' to your foreheads and say `Namas-kār' to the Mother. It is a mechanical thing. It is not a living reality. You should really look for newer and newer ways. I always give the example of the root of a tree. Avoiding obstacles it is continuously trying to go deeper and deeper into the earth. It does not fight with the obstacles. In fact, without these very obstacles the roots themselves would not have been able to hold the mighty tree.

Thus, problems and obstacles are also essential. Without them you would not have been able to rise and would have become stagnant! The power that teaches you to achieve victory over these problems is the `Ma Shakti'. Therefore this `Ma Shakti' is in fact, the power of the Mother. Discretion is the quality that it requires, in you, the most! Suppose that a person is very timid and he asks Me what to do about it. I tell him to change and become like a lion. Another one that is very aggressive, I tell him to become like a sheep! Or else life cannot go on. You will have to change your ways! A person that is not willing to change cannot spread Sahaj Yoga because he is always stuck on any one method which can eventually bore people! You must keep on searching for new ways. `Ma Shakti' works in just the same way. Women are usually experts in this. They make newer and newer foods everyday and are always searching for new recipes. In this way the husband is always curious as to what they are cooking today! This is the power through which you can establish your balance and steadfastness. When you are able to establish this power within you in the highest possible manner then you can feel the Cool Breeze even from your balance and mind. If you do not have wisdom then these qualities will remain un-effected and you will not be able to feel this flow of `Chaitanya'. Usually a person with vibrations is also a wise person in fact, it is your wisdom that you are feeling in the form of the Cool Breeze. Using this as a measure, you will be able to see how deep a Sahaj Yogi you really are. When you lose your balance and your sense of mind then naturally, your Chakras will start to catch. Whenever your Chakras start to catch, you can be sure that you have in some way started to lose your balance. Unbalance indicates that the `Ma' power is becoming weak. `Mātājī' or any other auspicious name begins with `Ma' and this quality is also provided by the `Ma Shakti'. This was not possible if there were just the `Nih' and `Lā' powers. I have come with all three powers but the `Ma' power is the highest of them. You have seen that the `Ma Shakti' is the power of the Mother. It must be proved that it is really your mother. If anyone comes and tells you that she is your mother will you believe her? You will not accept it Motherhood must be proved! What really is Mother? Mother has given us a place in her heart. We have a full right over each other because She loves us immensely. Her love for us is totally selfless. She always prays for our well-being and She has nothing but compassion for us in Her heart. You will believe in the Mother only when you truly understand that your real being or your `Ātmā' [Spirit] resides in Her. Go ahead and prove this to others by virtue of your deeds. A Sahaj Yogi should have such a capability! People should know that they are talking to a very wise person. For that you must have a total balance between love and the desire to work for Sahaj' Your character should be so beautiful that people feel attracted without even knowing you. A Sahaj Yogi should learn to instill all these qualities within him or herself.

When you go home try to think about how you can establish these three powers and how you can use them for the upliftment of yourselves and of Sahaj Yog and the `Nih Shakti' will bring the qualities of utter joy, seriousness and deepness into your family life. You will start searching for newer and newer ways to bring people together in collectivity. Use these powers for the spreading of Sahaj Yoga. For their proper use your `Nih' or the `Karma Shakti' should be very strong indeed! Even though you should also have the `Lā Shakti' or the power of love, it should always be working alongside the `Nih' power. If one method does not work look for another. In the same way that a painter first tries for example, to mix red and yellow and when that is unable to portray his emotions he tries red and green! And even when that does not seem to work he tries many more combinations. To be abstinent, to be stuck on one particular thing is not a sign of wisdom. An abstinent person can do nothing in Sahaj Yoga! Your duty lies in the spreading of Sahaja Yoga. The try to make newer ways. Whatever you desire from Me, I accept because I know that normal beings are not like Me. You never know what an abstinent person may do and when he may do it. It is up to you to see that he does not reach these limits. I know this through the `Ma Shakti'.

But you, as Sahaj Yogis should not be abstinent about any one thing. Is your mother abstinent about anything? Whatever the situation may be, accept it. You must always keep in mind that you are doing a very important work. I have no desire of My own. I do not have the `Nih', `Lā' or the `Ma Shaktis'. I do not have anything inside Me. I do not even know that I am, in fact, the personification of these powers. I am a mere observer to this whole game! When this change takes place will you really be called realised in the true sense of the word. Only then will you be expert Sahaj Yogis. When you really achieve that you will be one with God and you will have total control over him. To do that you must surrender and dedicate everything to Him. I am going now but afterwards, see for yourselves, how you are using your realisation and in which field you are using it.

Sometimes, I tell you not to do certain things You should not feel bad about that. According to the principle of the `Ma Shakti' you shouldn't feel depressed about anything because it is My duty to guide you! Some people however, do become depressed. Always remember that you are realised Souls. You must accept it as a fact! Others should accept it too as soon as they set eyes on you. You must make the efforts for that to happen. And when that happens all else will also be auspicious! One day I asked you to invite all your friends and relatives for meals or for any other program. At the same time, invite some Sahaj Yogis too and give Self-realisation to all your guests at the same time. If you continue to do that for one whole year, it will be very benefficial for all of you.

My blessings to all of you.

Contents: 1980-12-31 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Nirmalā Vidyā, Rahuri, Maharashtra, India

It is the special power by which we do All Divine work, even forgiving. When you say, `Mother, forgive us,' the technique by which I forgive you is Nirmalā Vidyā. The technique by which I love you is also Nirmalā Vidyā. The technique by which all the Mantras are manifesting themselves and are effective is also Nirmalā Vidyā, Nirmalā means pure, Vidyā means knowledge, Nirmalā Vidyā is purest knowledge or the knowledge of this technique. It creates loops, the energy creates loops and creates also different formations by which it acts and draws all that is unwanted, impure and fills it up with its power. It is a technique, a Divine technique which I may not be able to explain to you fully because your instrument does not do that, you don't have that instrument.

But now you see, how subtle it is. Only by saying `Nirmalā Vidyā', you just invite that power, the whole thing, the whole technique to attend to you and it attends to you. You don't have to worry. It never happens in any government or anywhere in the world. You just address the Government and the whole thing goes into work, in the whole the entire universe, every creation. That technique is called Nirmalā Vidyā. That technique once mastered, by surrendering into it; it completely obeys, absolutely. But it is Gaṇeśh Shakti, the Shakti of Innocence is the power called Innocence. The whole power because it is Innocence.

So the Innocence takes over, which manages. That's how it works out.

Then It goes on rising and called Para Shakti, beyond power, then becomes Madhyama and all that.

It comes up to the Viśhuddhi at the left. There you become guilty. Because of your guilty nature you say things that are harsh.

Left Viśhuddhi is the catch of the Gaṇeśh Shakti. Gaṇeśh is sweetest thing you can think of, even when you look at Gaṇeśha; this Kautuk this innocent admiration starts flowing. Just think of him, you feel so happy.

So to overcome your left Viśhuddhi all of you are to use sweet words. Your language should be sweet to everyone, especially [men] must speak sweetly to their wives. Know, that sweetness will cure your left Viśhuddhi. Always speak very sweetly, try to find out all the sweet words. The sweet methods of addressing is the best way to cure your guilt because if you say anything harsh to anyone; you may say so as a matter of habit or may be because just you feel happy by saying that, but as soon as you say it, you say, “Oh God, what did I say” that is the biggest guilt. One has always, to try to find out sweet words now, the birds are chirping. In the same way you have to learn all the sounds of everything by which you make people happy by your sweetness, it is very important.

Otherwise, if your left Viśhuddhi grows too much, you will develop a way of talking by which your lips will get distorted towards left side.

Then the flow starts higher, in the Āgñyā Chakra, where the Gaṇeśh Shakti becomes the Greatest Power of Forgiveness. Then it rises higher into the limbic area where Gaṇeśh Shakti goes above the Sūrya, the superego comes up and this power is that of the Moon and this Moon is Spirit, this becomes Spirit and it sits on the head of Sadāśhiva, that is the same. The whole Gaṇeśh Shakti's evolution, you see, it is so beautiful.

So this way our desire itself becomes the spirit, your desire and Spirit become one, but this hurdle can be very bad sometimes. You have seen, that all of you who have left Viśhuddhi; when you speak harshly you must know it is not you, who is speaking. No, because you are the Spirit, Spirit cannot say anything harsh or destructive. It only will say harsh, when it is necessary to little bit remold. But that you don't take over. That will be done by somebody else.

As She was giving a program in London only a few days later, together with James and Hillary Thomas goes down to London in a train.] [As the program ended, Sahaja Yogis begin to walk down the long winding staircase and to their surprise they see Shri Mataji walking just behind them, without anyone else within twenty feet of Her and completely out of earshot of anyone else. She glares at John.] [Loud and powerfully:] What are you doing here? Get outside right now! [James, Hillary and John are speechless and stop on the stairs as Shri Mataji continues down the stairs, followed by a large contingent of Sahaja Yogis.] [After Shri Mataji had departed, James looks at John and is embarrassed by what had transpired.] John [recognizing James' confusion]: Oh, no it's alright, actually throughout the entire program I was painfully aware of a very grotesque goblin sitting on my left shoulder. It was terrible. It stayed there until the very moment Shri Mataji told it to get outside!

[Coming out from the temple, Shri Mataji sits outside and has tea and starts telling Sahaja Yogis about the neem tree that was shading everyone. Shri Mataji breaks branches off and gives them to Sahaja Yogis to chew.] This is how the Indians clean their teeth. They never have tooth problems because they just chew on branches of the neem tree.

Mr. Dhumal [hands out the branches to Sahaja Yogis and jokes]: Chew on it. It's really sweet.

[Shri Mataji laughs as in fact it is really bitter.]

Establish your innocence. Put your eyes to Mother Earth.

Cleanse your void. If you went to a false Guru beat him with shoes.

Put your attention more to Nature than to other people.

Be careful when organizing; stop organizing if you are catching on this centre and don't speak in public.

Obstinacy catches here.

A half-hearted commitment to Sahaja Yoga can cause a problem with the Ekādaśha Rudra.

The Ekādaśha Rudra collects from the left and the right sympathetics. Therefore the combination of a left catch with a right catch will particularly affect it.

So we are now to thank them that you have been here and the marriage has been successful.

In Sahaja Yoga we are going to break all the barriers which make religions and people separate. All fanatical nonsense, old ideas which have propped up to make money out of religion, all these we are going to completely abolish and make one religion for all the humanity, which is religion of God, the religion of our evolution.

May God bless you all.

Contents: 1981-01-14 Makarsankranti Pūjā, Pune, Maharashtra, India

[Shri Mataji talks in Marathi: MISSING.] [Shri Mataji talks in English:] I'm sorry I've not been able to speak to you in English language and I've spoken sometimes. This special day today is a day of Sankranti. Sankri, you know `San' means good, holy and `krant' means if the, when I speak Marathi I forget English, revolution. Holy revolution. Holy.

That's what I'm telling them what is the Holy Revolution is that your own Dharma is established now through Sahaja Yoga. You know what is your Dharma. Because if you don't do your own Dharma you'll be lost. Your vibrations will be lost. You'll immediately know that in your seeking you have lost something.

You'll be affected so you have to correct. That's not so difficult.

But to make it a Sankrant, Holy Revolution, you have to take to new, new religion, new steps.

First of all, your own step should be enlightened and then you must establish new steps to go ahead. And these are the new steps which are different for the Westerners and different for the Easterners. Just now I told them about the Eastern style and then I'll tell you later on about the Western.

We have to have new ideals, new styles because we are the courageous people, we are the valiant people.

We'll have to fight the war of love, through love. And it's a very delicate thing. When the moon moves, the sun moves, from the left to the right that means your desire becomes your action.

Today is the day they give you a sweet thing to say that you must speak sweetly which is very important for Western people that when you are doing and organizing you become heated up, there's tension and you develop a temperament which is dry, emotionless. You know the heart goes into a tension. At that time they say that you take the sweet. This sweet is a heated thing because now the sun is moving towards the other side. That time also they, to give it a balance, they say: “Speak very sweetly. Use sweet words, use sweetness. Bring sweetness in your language." Which is very important, you understand that. And this is one of the religions we have to accept that we will not use harsh words to each other and then later on to others. First of all to each other. There are many people who'll be kind to others because others will eat them off but unkind to their own Sahaja Yogis. Because it is a universal happening. It's the whole thing is working out universally. Even if you organize, you organize for the whole. Those who are organizing have no business to be harsh and those who are not organizing have no business to be slow.

We must move with the same speed, with the same understanding.

There's a story in Marathi language which is a very good story that a... [Marathi] the bird catcher has put lots of temptations of good grains for some birds, pigeons and the pigeons didn't see the nets, uh the trap and they all came down to eat that. And there was a net there. In the net their feet were entangled.

So the solution was found out that: `If all of us with the same speed take off, we'll take away the whole of the net and then he cannot catch us.' So, one person said: “Alright, as soon as I say `yes', [UNCLEAR all of us] all start with the same speed." If somebody increases his speed he is brought down.

In the same way Sahaja Yoga has to be worked out and that's why to keep up the speed keep yourself peaceful, loving, affectionate. Peace is the way we are going to achieve it. This is an explosive peace. By giving contrasts you bring the balance in: explosive.

You have read also about the Goddess, the different aspects of Goddess. Always: “Ati saumya, Ati Raudra" [“Gentle like the Moon and also terrible like Rudra", from `Devī Sūktam' in `Devī Māhātmyam'].

To give the two contrasts by which [it] bring the balance in the middle.

That's how you must understand that Sahaja Yoga is a very unique revolution. I told them also politically and also socially, in every way how we are going to improve every country. Thus the whole world, the whole universe. Later on I'll translate the whole thing for you.

So today's a special day, a very great day. Let us ask that, when you are doing this Pūjā, ask for new religions within you to be enshrined, to be sustained within ourselves and try to imbibe them. They will be permeating but you have to accept them and you should know it's a big fight and it's a very different type of a fight of peace and love. That's why they say: “Speak sweetly." Be sweet. Not to be sarcastic by any chance nor to be harsh but be sweet. Sweetness which is genuine, not outward, un-showing, un-formal but genuine sweetness.

May God bless you all.

[On 1980-12-31, during the New Year Eve talk in Rahuri, Shri Mataji referred to a light in the sky (star) as a symbol that a new age is starting. This was later seen by several Sahaja Yogis as they drove Her home at around 1 a.m. and it grew in intensity for many minutes. It was this phenomena which gave rise to Shri Mataji's announcement that Satya Yuga had begun and that 1981 would be a most dynamic year for Sahaja Yoga.] [When Warren Reeves was at the Australian High Commission in New Delhi, he notices in a news bulletin from Australia an item Birth of a Star reproduced here: Australian, British and American scientists say they have witnessed the birth of a star, 150 light years from the earth. The Protostar, as it is known, is in the Magellanic Cloud, a galaxy beyond the Milky Way. Working at two observatories near Canberra the astronomers used infrared equipment to cut through the shroud of gas and dust around the Protostar. The scientists say it is the first time the birth of a star has been observed. A member of the scientific team, Dr. Harry Hayland, of the Australian National University, said the discovery was a major breakthrough for astronomy. He said the birth could take as long as one million years and it might be thousands of years before the star become visible in telescopes.] [When Shri Mataji sees the article:] See, you have your sign [laughs]. And you people could see it, but the scientists needed a great telescope [and laughs again].

Contents: 1981-02-05*, Public Program, Day 1, Introduction toMūlādhāra Chakra, Constitution Club, New Delhi, India

Today I am going to speak in general, about Sahaja Yoga and Kuṇḍalinī awakening. Sahaja as you know means `saha' means with and `ja', born with you, but perhaps people do not realise what Sahaja actually means. It is spontaneous, but what is spontaneous. Spontaneous is not that supposing I am going in the car suddenly I meet somebody I say spontaneously I met that person Spontaneous means that happening is a living happening. It has to be a living thing which is spontaneous it's a very mysterious word, that cannot be explained and that happens without any understanding about it, which is not possible for a human being to understand that is Sahaja, Sahaja may mean it's very simple it's very easy, it is, it has to be. For example God has given us these eyes these wonderful eyes that these human beings have got that not that they can see the colour but can also appreciate it, God has given them a nose, which is so well developed that it can feel the filth animals cannot feel it.

You have become a human being I have become human being and everybody has become a human being, become from a amoeba stage spontaneously can you explain that how it has happened further we can see everyday we see so many spontaneous things happening today you go in the forest you will see lots of flowers there, in the forest in the wilderness and tomorrow you will find lots of fruits produced by these flowers, Who has done it? Effortlessly the nature has done it. It's a living happening it won't happen in a dead thing for example this hall I have been visiting now every year is just the same. The size is just the same except that some people have put some other colour or put some appendages that's all. Dead cannot grow by itself there is no growth it is not a spontaneous growth it is a growth of effort that you have to put in things on top of all dead things to make it look bigger.

In all the living things whatever has been the living work by the living God has been miraculous you cannot explain but we have taken everything for granted for else it doesn't surprise us that today we see a flower tomorrow a fruit we see a little seed growing into a huge big tree and we are not surprised at it not at all it's being taken for granted. This is the living work. See the system, the whole system of nature is in such a balance, such a balance is maintained it creates different types of seasons one after the another.

The sun moves from one tropic to another it creates seasons the trees are laden with leaves and suddenly the trees are left without them. The all the leaves fall off automatically because the sun is going on the other tropic but the leaves have to fall down on the ground why because the nutrition of nitrogen has to go to the Mother Earth to be re-sucked by the tree. All this circle has been built up you see in the universe how things are happening we never even bother to see we all have been taking full advantage of Gods love for us out of His spontaneity He has created us and also He has created us in such a way that we can enjoy His spontaneous love all around us but we try to see God, try to see God in dead things.

If somebody has a big house people think God has blessed him, if somebody gets a bid position they think God has blessed him but we never realise that these things which are not spontaneous which are through effort have been achieved are of no consequence as far as the joy is concerned. You give some money to a person, who is not used to money, immediately you will find he will go to the race course or he will start drinking, he can't bear it. When the riches grow too much you see what happens. Aūence crates such a problem you have known that now you are very aware of it, how affluence has ruined the spontaneity of Western people, how their society has become malignant, how they are unhappy there is no love. This spontaneity within us is worked through the living force that is within us and not through the dead. Whatever dies within us, is pushed aside. Sahaja Yoga is the culmination of that living work by which you have become a human being and now the time has come for you to become a Self-realised personality, the time has come.

Many people asked Me today in the press conference, “What is Your purpose, what is Your mission?" It's most surprising as they asked all the political leaders they were asking Me. The time has come, the time has come for you to get your Self-realisation. You are ready for it now. This is the time when the chaos is at its maximum level, where people understand that these pursuits of wealth, of power, another emotional possessions are of no value, where the pressures and tensions are so great that man is seeking.

In every country I find thousands and thousands and thousands of people seeking, even in our country there are people who are seekers, that's a category now developed, it's a category, like a flower is a category on the trees, different from other parts of the tree, in the same way a seeker is a category which is different from the other parts of the world. He is not satisfied with what he has and he has started seeing through that there must be something beyond this is not the end of it, only such people are welcome in Sahaja Yoga, those who are not seekers cannot be forced into it, it's a spontaneous thing.

Now, this has been promised in various scriptures that this has to happen, as old as Nala Purāna, I don't know if you have read it or not because these modern people don't read all these Purānas you see, we think it's all too ancient for us to read, it was said that when Kali Yuga will at its worst, harass [UNCLEAR] the human beings at that time those people who are seeking God today in the hills and dales will be born again and they will get their Self-realisation, you will be amazed that in England which we don't think in any way spiritually rich country Indians at least don't think so at least they feel that they are very spiritually rich, I wonder if they are really, but if they are I am not surprised at it because you have such a great heritage if you have not forgotten it, you are the best to get your realisation, you are the best suited for that you have that sukrut [good deeds] behind you, you have that big right to get it, how far Indians are seekers, that's what one has to see [Marathi].

Now the problem is,...

[Aside:] Let it be.

... when you are a seeker when you are seeking God which is the way to do it, how to do it, because your parents told you that you are Muslim or a Christian or a Parsee or Sikh or something you just become that but by doing any of the rituals or any one of the things that your parents have told, you still feel that there is something more that has to happen and what is that, which is the missing point, that we have to know within ourselves. Today I am happy we heard such a great song, by such a great poet, Kabīra and that as he has said it and as everybody has said it, Christ has said it, Mohammad Sāhab has said it, all of them has have said it, that it is inside you is the lord, is the Rāma, is the Shiva, is the paigambara or is the what they call the Allah, then seek it.

Now, we start singing the songs, we better seek and you better seek and we must seek. By singing the song are you going to seek? Now “How do you seek then, Mother?", they ask Me, “How are we to seek God?" Is there a way and method, how did you become human beings? Effortlessly without any effort! Only thing was that you exposed yourself to nature and nature created you, you call it nature or God it's just the same, in the same way it is the job of God almighty who has created you, to give you your meaning, if I make an instrument like this, it is My job to tell the person, what to do with it, how to put it to the mains and how, it is to be used, in the same way it is the job of God almighty to do it and He knows how to do it.

So one may say, what should we do about it? What is the way to achieve that? Again we are on the effort, actually, what we have to do is to be in the center. You must lead a moderate life, you should not go to extremes, if you go to extremes too much, then you are taking your attention away from the spirit.

You have to keep in the center, you have to lead a very normal life.

As Kabīra has very clearly said that I do not go anywhere. He was a married man, he keeps in the center, don't have to use any extreme or exterior things, to express your spirituality, it is within yourself that you will find it, keep to the center. It is absolutely practical, it's common sense, think of a car which it's not having its center of gravity at its center but is moving at a tilt, think of a boat that is tilted, anything that is tilted too much gives an imbalance, so to keep a balanced life, to keep a moderate life in the center, be very, very normal, that's what everyone has said, because that's what it is. By keeping in the center only we have achieved our evolution Always if you see the tree you will find the sap of the tree three rises in the center, all living work takes place in the center, even your social and economic activities takes place in the center, even as we call it Delhi as the central government.

So you have to keep to the center of your behaviour, of your living, of your styles, of your thinking, do not go to extremes, this is the first thing they have told us. Today they asked Me a question that Mother you have cured so many cancer patients, I have no doubt and cancer can be easily cured so many diseases can be cured by Kuṇḍalinī awakening but how do you get cancer is the question they asked Me I said, by going to extremes by going to extremes only you develop all the problems. Even in your religious duties you go to extremes when you go to extremes you go away from the center path, that's how you get caught up on the left or the right hand side which is shown here, I don't know if you can see it, which is very important to see.

Sahaja Yoga has been described by all the saints especially after Ādi Shañkarāchārya. Has very clearly talked about it Before that it was kept as a very sacred and a secret science because there were very few people who could be given realisation but today it is not that I am talking to only Arjuna or to few people here and there to selected but it is open invitation to all the people to open their eyes to this subtler knowledge, to this the real power of yourself that is with in you.

Now when we have become human beings, we have gone through various stages. All these stages are built within us at centers. These various centers lie within us within our spinal cord, one out of the spinal cord and two of them in the brain. These centers are there, who are the milestones of our evolution. When we were just a carbon atom we were at the first center, Carbon.

I wonder how many people who know chemistry, know the beauty of Carbon.

Carbon is made by Mother Earth and that is very important because it has a balance. Carbon has four valences plus and minus both. I know if you know chemistry you will know about carbon very well so it can give four or take four, it's such a balanced thing just in the center of the periodic table this carbon.

Without the carbon life could not come on this earth so carbon was to be created first and when we were carbon we were innocent, complete innocent people Innocence is the first thing that was created on this earth and this innocence is represented with in us at a material level or a matter level as carbon in the first center about which I will tell you tomorrow. What more things this center has and which is a very important center.

Luckily in our country this center is very, very strong basically we are innocent people. Is a fact, you might think that Mother is trying to pamper our ego, we are innocent, but we have taken to ways of other people who came here and we thought that material development is the only way our country can improve and then we took to so many ways and methods by which our innocence is lost or is at least at stake. This innocence is within us.

That's the beginning of our evolution, now while evolving gradually, we have got so many qualities within us, also we have something very special compared to other animals and that thing is the ego.

First of all, if you see the left side, from the right to the left side, is the power within us which you can call as the power of desire, by which we desire, Icchā Shakti. You may desire anything, we desire so many things but we have to put in concrete action to achieve the results, so the other power we have on the left hand side going to the right hand side is the power of action. The left hand side channel, which carries the power of desire is called as Iḍā Nāḍī and the right hand side one which you see which actually starts from the left goes to the right is called as the Piñgalā Nāḍī. The first one is called as the Chandra Nāḍī the second one as Sūrya Nāḍī. The first one creates your mana, Sanskrit it's better to say Manas you understand what mana is and the second one crates Ahaṁkāra.

So the second one which is the ahaṁkāra which has come to us through our efforts, through our kriya, is like a balloon on our heads and that is the problem of today, the human beings have to face, of which they are not aware.

The first power of mana is very simple. You desire something, you go on desiring and panning for it, desiring and panning for it, thus, you harm yourself, you start harming yourself and when you start desiring when you start using this power of desire. When you desire too much, you become affected by it.

When you get affected you get all kinds of problems like depression and other mental problems I mean, people can become mad and all the psychological problems, which is described by Freud the great.

Now Freud being a scientist I would say a human being, he was a blind man, so he found something he said this is the thing, is the truth, that a person who suffered from any mental trouble is suffering because of his conditioning is a fact, but he only dealt with mad people, he never dealt with normal people. If you meet mad people that doesn't mean, that all the rest of the world is mad. The mad people are mad because of too much of conditioning is agreed, but for that another extreme could be that you should have no conditioning at all you go ahead with whatever you like. Thank God in India he never settled down. Many people tried to settle down here they did not somehow this country has a method by which it throws away all the nonsensical things, so Freud was not so much accepted except for some so-called pseudo intellectuals who call themselves westernized.

But in the West they are so naive they accepted him, they accepted Freud out and out.

So the question is “what's wrong?" Supposing you do this, “What's wrong?" This is the question they will ask “what's wrong in this? What's wrong in that?" In doing anything “what's wrong?" They cannot even understand what's wrong if there is bad relationship between brother and sister. Can you imagine? Indian persons can understand it, when you tell to an Indian man he will just laugh at this, its stupidity, so what has happened when they say “what's wrong in it and what's wrong in it" they started developing their right side, their ego side, so if you neglect your conditioning or if you try that there should be no conditioning at all, people can become extremely ego-oriented and all the West is drowned into it. They are so ego-oriented that you cannot talk to him them, they really bark, they do not talk. Only when it is the matter of money they talk softly otherwise they just bark. They are so ego-oriented you can't imagine and you will be amazed we think that they are very united and that they are No they fight all the time.

Husband will fight with the wife, wife will fight with the children, children will fight with the parents, parents will fight with the parents, it's all going on, they are all the time fighting, quarreling and arguing.

You see any picture or drama that they make these days they only quarrel between husband and wives, you get fed up. The whole system work how to fight each other, no wonder they start wars also.

So, this ego orientation has gone to another extreme now, we had to develop our ego to a point when it came up to this point where the Kuṇḍalinī can be easily pierced through, because first the superego was too much, so the ego developed and they have to meet in the center like this.

If you keep a moderate life, then you develop your ego properly and a superego you are in the center and traditionally thank God Indians are better of, that's why I say they are innocent, but, there are people in India I have seen who are in charge of affairs who are supposed to be very educated and learned and professors and this and that they say the same thing “what's wrong?" Now, in India, we know what is suSaṁskāra is, suSaṁskāra there is a word like su which I don't know even in English language if it is but su, is good, we must have good Saṁskāras we must have discipline of our mind.

The concept of Indian life is Chitta-Nirodh, you must control your attention, shouldn't allow your attention to pass out, shouldn't allow your attention to spill out, from childhood we ask our children [UNCLEAR] “Where is your attention? Where is your attention? Where are you lost?" Then Indian personality knows that your attention is not to be fettered.

For example in India no body will boast of something wrong as like a theft, will anybody boast of that? But I have seen with My own eyes you won’t believe, that in Paris there was a relay of a man who did a burglary in a big bank, see he burgled the whole bank and this fellow was on the TV and he was trying to show off as if he is a big hero, he was saying “yes I went there like this and I did like that" and he was explaining all this to the magistrate and while talking to the magistrate you saw it happening also with your own eyes because the TV was on him that he said how did you go to the window he just went to the window and jumped out and disappeared.

Now I was surprised that he is made a hero there, people wear, the children wear his photograph as a hero, can you imagine we wearing somebody's thing as a hero who is a thug well known, who has taken away the money of the people who have put it there, the hard earned money of the people that's what's happening there.

Now we are also trying to develop ourselves, develop, we are getting sophisticated you see, so we may take to their ways may one day land up in the same situation where they do not recognize or realise, where have they gone, where have they reached. At that time I would say, that you must see that you must have your suSaṁskāras and the suSaṁskāras come to you by listening to people like Kabīra and Nanaka, listening to people like TukāRāma and Gñyāneśhwara but not extreme people who teach something of extreme. They were all married people, they all have led a very simple life. Gñyāneśhwara was not married he died very young and we have got the greatest thing is Ādi Shañkarāchārya, who has said it, that you reach a certain stage where you do not need anything but the grace of Mother, the grace is of Mother is only possible if you are a moderate person, if you are an extremist, you are away from Her and that's how it does not work out.

Christ has said that a rich man cannot enter into the kingdom of God because he is an extremist.

He said a camel can pass through the eye of a needle but a rich man cannot enter into the kingdom of God. Why He said so? Because they are extremes, they will go to wrong type of people, where they can purchase a Guru, then they can show off their money or they can use the Guru as the lesion officer or some sort of a thing like that gives them ego orientation. Among them there will be some, few, of course who will realise the futility of money and will come to God and I feel now the modern generation in the West is that type, are the saints born there, these are the saints born in that country who are seeking God but we have exported all our thugs from here and also we are trying to enjoy the money that they lavish on our Gurus, because we think we are earning foreign exchange but this is the kamai of Adharma and unless and until we check this our country can never progress we are not to be soft on this point, this is the thugai of other nations.

They did it to us doesn't matter but we shouldn't do it if the whole world tries to cheat us doesn't matter we should not cheat and we know for definite that this is cheating still we are soft on this point because we think that's how we can earn foreign exchange, you don't know with such a kamai what can happen to our country.

Now in Sahaja Yoga which is described by all the great saints, today the time has come for it to become a Mahā Yoga. It has to has to become a Mahā Yoga Gñyāneśhwara has described it, that a day will come that Sahaja will become maha, means you will have a mass realisation, a mass thousands will get realisation which I have seen happening in the villages, in a Kadus village, there is a place called Kadus near Satara, where people gathered, they were about six thousand, above six thousand and there were news paper people also and all of them got Self-realisation most surprisingly, all of them got their realisation, it's most surprising it is going to happen in thousands especially in the villages because city people are westernized, difficult people. They think no end of themselves too much of ego, when I came here I found, the whole of Delhi is suffering from ego, tremendous ego the Āgnyā ChakraChakra. I had to ask people to take out their vibrations to put that down. I don't know from where this kind of a myth is working, but we have to face ourselves as we are. We have to get ourselves corrected through Kuṇḍalinī awakening.

Now this Sahaja Yoga is a spontaneous growth is a living growth, the Kuṇḍalinī raises by it self and pierces the Brahmarandhra, as described by all these people, shunya shikhar par anhad baji re, it's all described, I mean I don't have to tell you because you do not read these things you see you just sing this is what they have said I am doing today, I am doing the job of Kabīra, Nanaka, of Gñyāneśhwara, all the nathapanthis who have preached that you have to get your realisation of Christ, of Mohammad of all these people put together, of Buddha, of Mahāvīra of all these people this work has to be finished today.

This is the time that has come Most surprising that in a place like England which I say you don't consider to be very spiritual about hundred years back a great poet was born I must say he was very great because he was such a prophet and he has said that this mahaYoga time is going to come, the most remarkable thing is that he has mentioned the place where I will was staying.

What's the matter with you sir why don't you sit down disturbing everybody else please sit down you shouldn't do like, this you see you cannot come to this place and disturb is a question of your Kuṇḍalinī I am trying to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of the people and suddenly you shoot off there is no need to do it you see it's a very delicate work it's the Brahma Shakti and I have to take it through the brahman Nāḍī when I am talking it's not talking I am raising your Kuṇḍalinī and please don't disturb if you have to go you should go before it is not a cinema it's not a show, it is a living work, so please help Me don't disturb each other please it's a very serious thing and one has to understand ones own value that I am here to give you what is the most precious thing within you is your spirit, so please do not just walk off or because you are not entertained or something try to put your attention it's not such a difficult subject I am telling you, but try to understand that this is a very important time if you have come here, it's a great chance you better get your realisation. As a mother I have to tell you that this is the thing you have been seeking.

I was talking about William Blake hundred years back he has written about this mahaYoga he said that the men of God, the seekers, I am saying it's a category seekers will become prophets they'll get realisation but these prophets, these prophets will have a special quality in them and what is the quality, that they will be transforming others into prophet state There will be many prophets which will be created on this earth.

But most surprising is that he has written it in such details that he has even mentioned the place where I lived. He said that the first peak that will be lit will be Surrey Hills where I lived first and about the ashram that we are having that Lambeth vale is the place where foundations will be laid in the ruins we bought a place which was all ruins to that extent he has said and he has said that London will be a Jerusalem, England will be a Jerusalem means [UNCLEAR] a kshetra means a pilgrimage. Imagine in hundred years back an Englishman has written about it, that means it's something is going to work out in that country, no doubt, but what about this great country of ours, which is a Yoga Bhūmī you are born in a Yoga Bhūmī do you know that you have a responsibility towards God where are you? Wasting your attention? The whole world is looking at you for guidance you are not interested, you are not bothered.

Now people might say Mother if it is a Yoga Bhūmī why it's a poor country it is better that it is poor than to be rich like these stupid people, abroad.

Kṛiṣhṇa has said that “Yogakshemam vahāmyaham" first have the Yoga and then the kshema. He didn't say kshemaYoga. He said “Yogakshemam" first you must get

Yoga, you first get your realisation then the kshema that is the way it looks nice, it glorifies you, in Hindi we can say rajta hai, other wise it's odd, it's funny, you look as if two horns have come out of you, you elect somebody as a member of parliament immediately you know he must be something the way is nose is the way he walks the way he talks brushing everyone.

Make him a minister, had it never see his face again The cursed man would go there it is like that a very good man can be ruined with power, a very good man can be ruined with money, you have seen people who get money suddenly they forget their parents, they forget their country, they forget about everything.

All kinds of horrible things done in the name of money. Bribery, corruption everything is done because we are not realised Souls if you are realised Souls you will not just do it at any cost all your efforts to improve honesty of this country is not possible unless and until you get your Self-realisation through Kuṇḍalinī awakening by which your transformation takes place and person develops his own personality then he has no such temptations and his whole being changes and he becomes samarth, sa ma artha. He becomes the meaning of what he is he is, is no more misidentified with anything, he is not bothered and then the Lakṣhmī Tattwa is also enlightened and his material problems also gets solved an extent not too much again you do not become a lakhopati because that's foolishness and [UNCLEAR].

But you become so well off that you are absolutely satisfied with yourself with your material being and you do not ask for anything The whole thing changes completely when you are sitting before Me you are asking then you are change your form you are here you are giving like the light when it is enlightened what does it do, it just gives light. Till it is enlightened it is the seeking once it gets the light it gives the light. Like all the great saints have done it, the only difference is that the saints were born at such a great height but whenever they talked nobody listened nobody recognized them everyone tortured them when they died we have big big organizations, big big religious cults and religious things and big big churches and temples and all things that we have built in their names when they died when they lived nobody bothered, nobody.

So today the time has come for you to get this absolute within you by which you will recognize the real and the unreal Not only that but your powers of your spirit will manifest by which you can do wonders and wonders about which I will tell you later on in other programs which you are going to have I hope you will continue to come and bring more people for it every time I try to raise your Kuṇḍalinī and try to establish.

After realisation when the germination has taken place when the seed has sprouted you have to be careful at least for seven days you have to be really careful about it so that you do not get into your mess again and after that if you are you follow it properly there is a education you need for it The effort you may not need it before afterwards you have to little bit educate about yourself to understand what does the Chakras mean where they go what are the points, where they catch, what diseases are caused by this, by what problems are caused by this, how to get rid of them all this knowledge you should have now we have you see her we have lots of beautiful people from Australia, England and from France and other places they all have got their realisation and they have established it. Many people have got realisation last time also we had people who got realisation. I meet some of them on the street they say Mother “we are alright but the vibrations are lost." We do not have the values its amulya it is invaluable that is one thing you must know you cannot pay for God. It's an insult, can you pay for your mother's love? It's an insult, all those who have erected huge building places taking money for God. Alright if you want to build a house you can build it call it ashram call it anything it's a dead stuff but you cannot pay for your realisation. You cannot pay for your realisation that is one thing which is definite now what all the things happened to you I will tell you from tomorrow onwards and I am here for some time please little bit, try to have yourself esteem you are not ordinary people who were born in this country and that you have to achieve your depth if you when you go deep into it suddenly you will find that within you lies the great power of your Puṇyas that you have achieved in last lives you have to just go up to that point for Self-realisation and then your own depth you have seek once you get into it, you just get it you are there and you start manifesting it. You will become the Guru yourself. You will know everything by yourself this is the promise of this Mahā Yoga I hope Delhi people will understand it and all will be able to achieve their Self-realisation in this visit of Mine it is very important time is very important, it is very short I think and people have to realise it this is the last judgment that is being promised.

Only through Kuṇḍalinī you are going to be judged otherwise there is no way out. This is the last judgment and don't mess it the time is running short I am telling all the people that please be careful, bring all your friends tell all your people, get it for yourself and be established and enjoy the beauty of the spirit and enter into the kingdom of God who is your very very loving father who want to give you this.

May God bless you.

The Kuṇḍalinī will rise by itself don't believe in people who say that it cannot be done of course it cannot be done it's a very difficult accepted but maybe I know the job very well or I have the authority perhaps might be and tomorrow you will have the authority to raise the Kuṇḍalinī you all will have the same.

Hān ā raha hai nā ab āp jā rahe thee hān, put your hands like this, don't disturb others alright, please put just your hands now I would say that on collective being I find that your right side is over over active so you have to put it down first of all before doing anything else please put your left hands towards Me, left is frozen but right is put left hand towards Me like this, left only now you take from the left raise your right hand like this put it up on the head and put it this side throw it out again do it twice throw it away again do it thrice and throw it away four times and throw it away five times six time and seventh time... theek hai [OK].

Now put your hands towards Me. It's much better.

[Part translated from Hindi:] In this there is no questions and there is no answer. It happens when it has to happen and it does not happen when it does not have to happen. There is no discussions about it. It is something which belongs to Param'ātmā. When it has to happen it will happen to whom it should happen and it happened today for the persons who were deserving. The people to whom it happened must understand that one should ask Param'ātmā for it.

In this you cannot fight. There is no fighting of any kind. By discussing you will no get it. This way you are only wasting the time and there is no meaning in wasting the time.

Above all people, here don't know anything about Kuṇḍalinī and that's the big problem, because for you we have to start from the beginning. Like in Maharashtra, everybody knows where is the Kuṇḍalinī!, what is the Chakra? etc. They know who is Dattātreya! But here people don't know anything. It is very difficult job.

So first you get your realisation, then I will explain. Like that in the room when you entered you were in the dark, so first put on the light, after we will discuss. Is it ok?

Contents: 1981-02-06*, Public Program, Day 2, Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, Constitution Club, New Delhi, India

Yesterday I talked to you about the subtle centers, which exist within our being. The knowledge of this was known to Indians, to many Indians thousands of years back but, they did not disclose it. There were two types of people who became aware of the higher powers of Nature. One of them were the people who thought we may be able to excite, the Nature itself, so they started worshipping all the five elements, through the Veda mantras and all that. They tried to awaken the five mantras the result of which we see today is the manifestation of science, that they have been able to harness the energy of those five elements.

The second type of people, who became aware that there must be some force which is giving us evolution, they started singing the praise of God in Bhakti and requesting God to Incarnate on this Earth. These were the Bhakti margis. That is how in the Virāta in the Primordial Being there are two forces as there are in the human beings I told you yesterday. One is the emotional force, which is the Bhakti , which gives us existence. This is the force through which the whole universal was conceived, was desired and in our Sahaja Yoga terminology it is called as the Mahākālī Shakti.

On the right side of the Virāta, as we have in the human beings, is the power of action where He uses all the five elements to create, is the power of Mahāsaraswatī according to Sahaja Yoga terminology. The third force, that did not operate so openly, started thousands and thousands of years back in this country, where people started giving ishwara pranidha is the basic of Haṭha Yoga. That is to establish ishwara within you. First the ishwara must be established. The light of your Spirit your Ātmā must be awakened and then, the cleansing must be done and people must be established into their Self-realisation. This line of action was taken for very very few people extremely few, so much so that after Buddha, when Viditama His one of Disciples went to Japan He started a cult called as Zen which is the same as Sahaja Yoga and there, they have mentioned that in six centuries they had only twenty-six Kaśhyap as means the ones who were realised. Even Indra was given Realisation, even Brahmadeva was given Realisation.

So it extends up to the date when Brahmadeva was created out of Śhrī Naranayana Śhrī Viṣhṇu.

To us all these Deities are mythological things. Actually they became mythological, because when people started talking about the flower in which the honey was, people started worrying about the flower.

They are more worried about the flower than the honey.

So then the people came up, like Buddha and Mahāvīra who said better not talk about the flower at all. If you talk about the flower people get stuck up at that point. They go discussing arguing and also getting into rituals which were dead. Just trying to do some kind of a dead work and the progress of their being was completely, obliterated and they could not go any further with it. It was then desired that something should be done to overcome this hurdle of human beings by which they get stuck up to forms.

So many people on this earth came as Gurus as real Gurus the, manifestation of this great Principle of Primordial Master, as I told you yesterday is called as Dattātreya, came on this earth many a times and, they tried to establish within us our sustenance our Dharma with this, central force of evolution. Only through establishment of sustenance that we can evolve. As I told you yesterday about carbon, has its own sustenance, gold has its own sustenance that gold is not tarnishable, in the same way human beings have their own sustenance, these Gurus came on this earth to establish that sustenance within us.

All of them are the Incarnation of the same Spirit, like Rāja Janaka He came as Nanaka also Mohammed Sahib was the same personality, absolutely the same personality as Guru Nanak. There is no difference in their personality. Just the same. That's why Guru Nanaka came on this earth to tell people that you should not find on this basis of Hindu and Muslims. Because He realised as Mohammed Sahib that He had done a mistake to tell people that all human beings are just the same and one should not, force things in this manner. Actually the whole thing gets perverted as soon as the disciples take the place of the Gurus.

Thus we had the middle path built in by the Gurus in the center of our being as called as the void.

The first Chakra I told you about is the center of innocence. It is bestowed upon by the Deity of Śhrī Gaṇeśh. These Gurus did not talk of the Deities too much because, as I told you people were talking more about the flower than about the honey so they said: “Talk about the nirākāra talk about the formless by which people will pay their attention to the formless." But still it became talk and talk and talk. When they talked about the flower, people got stuck up with the talk about the flower. And when they talked about the nirākāra and formless, they got stuck up with that.

So human beings are such that they get stuck up with, their thoughts which are limited, coming from a limited area of their intelligence and their rationality.

So what was rational became a problem for Saints to give Realisation so there again was a revival, at the time of Shañkarāchārya. Again Nanaka came and talked of nirākāra. Like that they were trying to bring the people closer to reality by telling them: “Now forget this, now take to this, forget this, take to this." Somehow that by giving up things they might be able to reach the reality.

Now the center of Mūlādhāra is a center, is the Mūlādhāra Chakra. One has to understand the importance of this center being separated from Mūlādhāra itself. Mūlādhāra is the place where the Kuṇḍalinī sits. Is in the sacrum. Is in the bone called sacrum, sacrum means sacred. That means even in Latin language it was called as a sacred bone. That means they knew that there was something sacred holy about this bone. It is said that when the body burns the whole body burns seldom does this bone burns and if it burns it required very tremendous heat. This triangular bone had this power within us which is the power of Kuṇḍalinī, which creates the whole being still it remains the whole, that's why it is called as a residual power of Kuṇḍalinī. Now this Kuṇḍalinī resides there for ages together and it comes back with you whenever you are born again. She's your Mother. She has been your eternal Mother. She is your individual Mother. You do not share Her Motherhood with anybody else. She is the one who has loved you all your life and She's anxiously waiting for a moment when She can give your second birth your punarjanama.

Now such a Kuṇḍalinī how can She be dangerous? Many people have told Me that they have read some books, which says that Kuṇḍalinī awakening is a very dangerous thing. I have also seen some of the very very old books written so big as that with such ignorance, saying that Kuṇḍalinī is in the stomach, I was surprised that when you don't know anything about it, why should you write? Kuṇḍalinī is not there.

She is in the Mūlādhāra and the Mūlādhāra Chakra is protecting the Mūlādhāra. You can see with the naked eye when you come to Sahaja Yoga the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī in the triangular bone, if there is an obstruction above. But if there is no obstruction the Kuṇḍalinī just shoots up.

Now this Gaṇeśha Chakra is very important as I told you yesterday because the first thing that God created was innocence and this innocence is Śhrī Gaṇeśh. It's so delicate, it's like a flower, if you try to play about with your innocence Gaṇeśha just gets angry with you or He sleeps off. Now these people who have described the Kuṇḍalinī being troublesome or coming up as a lightning or giving you kriyas as I told you yesterday, are the people who are naive. They don't know how to handle the Kuṇḍalinī and that's how they have made mistakes. By committing these mistakes they have been so popular people like people who have committed mistakes and telling something wrong. All these things happen because you have no idea as to how to handle the Kuṇḍalinī. It is Gaṇeśha who gets angry not the Kuṇḍalinī. It is He sitting down there informs the Kuṇḍalinī that now

You can rise because there is somebody who has the authority to raise You.

Now Śhrī Gaṇeśha is a very important Deity within us. Śhrī Gaṇeśha is made by Mother Earth.

Mother Earth has created Him. Mother Earth has got the power within Itself as magnetism. Magnetism is the power of Mother Earth. This magnetism within us, resides as Śhrī Gaṇeśh. We too have this magnetism within us. The birds have this magnetism within them. The fishes have this magnetism within them. When the birds fly all the way from Siberia to India, how do they do it, how do they know the direction which way to y? They have this magnet within themselves and that's how they can fly, they are innocent. Animals are innocent. Only the human beings have the freedom to completely destroy his or hers innocence. A person who is absolutely innocent has a great sense of direction. As soon as he is misdirected immediately he knows where it is wrong. But once the Kuṇḍalinī awakens he gets a direction, so enlightened within him that immediately he knows within himself that this man is not a religious person, this man is a thug, this man is a good person or this man is a realised Soul.

This center is very important for all of us. By God's grace India has got a specialty as far as Śhrī Gaṇeśha is concerned. As I told you yesterday that Indians on the whole are innocent people, on the whole they are innocent. But we have really tried to destroy it by getting sophisticated and overintelligent.

This center is to preserve and to be maintained through Sahaja Yoga practice after Realisation. There are certain asanas which are to be done. There are certain mantras that are to be recited, to keep this center all right.

Now the second center that we have within us is the Nābhī, which is placed inside the void. It is the second in creation that's why I call it the second. Through it arises the third center called as Swādhiṣhṭhāna center. Now the Nābhī center has got ten petals, it has got ten petals. In the same way the solar plexus which is a gross expression of this subtle center also has got ten petals or ten sub plexuses. Now this center controls most of our digestion on the grosser level and basically it gives us evolutionary power by which we have evolved. Only through this center we have evolved to be human beings. In the animals or in the very very small animals even in the unicellular animals like amoeba it acts like a seeking. They seek food.

Basically they seek food. As they grow better and better in their evolutionary process then their seeking changes from one to another.

Even in the human beings the seeking has been first, say to overpower the nature then overpower the human beings then, affluence, money, possessions, emotional possessions all these seekings have been in human beings they all came to you through Nābhī Chakra. But as I told you yesterday anybody who gives up the path of moderation, falls into the trap of left and right goes into the two areas which are built within us. One on the left is called as the collective subconscious and the another one on the right hand side is called as the collective supra conscious.

So all the extremes of the Nābhī Chakra can be very very difficult for example, those people who fast, just for fasting sake. Is all right sometimes one should fast.

In the name of God if you fast it is all wrong because God never wants you to fast. This is something wrong that you want to torture your body, for what? Like people who want to call God would like to sort of stand on their heads, stand on your one leg and do all kinds of torturing things.

This is the way; we deny God's existence and His love and His affection. If He is there we are going to meet Him. What is there to fast and put him into trouble by making Him unhappy? If you want to make your mother unhappy you do it this way: “I will not eat my food." And that's how the mother gets very upset.

So there is no need for anybody to fast in the name of God. If you have to fast then you can fast it for your health, or for your stomach trouble because you have eaten too much is a different point. But there is no need to believe that fasting for God is a good thing.

The fasting takes you more to the right hand side of the Nābhī Chakra by which a person might become a very dry personality, extremely dry. The more you fast the drier you become. Such a person the day he fasts actually they fast, thinking all the time about food. What thing are we going to eat while fasting what after are we going to eat.

So the attention is all towards food, no doubt. But this kind of a, pressure or zabardasti as you call it on yourself pushes your attention to the right hand side. By that you enter into the area of collective supra conscious. Fasting people become emotionally dried up, their emotions become dried up, because only the right hand side is the action towards it takes place, but the desire is not fulfilled and that's why the left hand side is frozen.

You must have heard of so many, seers we have had so-called rishis who were very hot tempered. They used to curse people they used to just bhasmisa just make them into basmas and they used to just curse such people. These were the people who developed the power of the Sūrya as they said. Like Sūrya they became because this was the Sūrya Nāḍī and they could by their power could just kill anybody they liked.

Now this is a power which is extremely destructive. It does not give any kalyana to anyone. It is of no use you become such a person that you look at someone and the person becomes ashes. Imagine, you have been made human beings, with such difficulty, from amoeba you have come to this stage, now anybody who tries to do such tricks is absolutely anti-God. He doesn't understand the purpose of God, he doesn't know where does he play his role, he becomes a destructive force.

So these are not powers but these are negative forces and how they work out, how these forces come into us that I will tell you later on.

Now on the left hand side the people who are too indulgent into food, they eat too much they are lethargic and they are all the time thinking about eating eating and eating. Such people pass into the left hand side. This is also a very dangerous state. When they go on to the left hand side much they are again attacked by the collective subconscious and you may develop any disease accordingly.

But the third Chakra which is Swādhiṣhṭhāna, is very important, because this is the center which revolves round the Nābhī Chakra and the main work it has to do is to convert the fat cells from your stomach for the use of your brain. When you think, you have the use of the brain cells but they are to be replaced and this replacement is only done through the help of the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra in the stomach.

I think the medicine people do not know about it if they had known about it they would have cured many diseases. Because it has to do this important work and when you start thinking too much planning too much, then the work of this poor Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra increases, to such an extent that it neglects other centers, other, you can say the other functions that it has to perform.

The other functions are that it has to look after the liver. Now liver is a very very important organ within us. By liver we sort out all our poisons, all kinds of poisons are sorted out by liver and the poisons are liberated in the blood stream as heat. When you have too many poisons in the body, then you get your temperature and it is evaporated from your skin. That is a natural way the liver throws out all the poisons within your body. But, when the liver is out of gear it does not.

Those people who suffer from liver do not get temperature. Cirrhosis of liver, even cancer has the same principle. In cancer also you do not get temperature. The heat of the body is not eliminated because cancer cannot be cured with the people who have such a bad liver. It cannot be sorted out because the poison of the body cannot be taken out and these people never get temperature. That's why one can never know if one has cancer till it reaches absolutely a galloping stage. There you might get a pressure because of other reasons. But the first indication that a man gets from his body is the temperature which never rises with cancer.

Now this same center Swādhiṣhṭhāna is to do other jobs like looking after your spleen and your pancreas, your kidneys and your uterus. Now spleen is a very important organ again which we neglect in these modern times. One has to understand what is the specialty of spleen. Spleen is the speedometer within us. It controls our speed. These days if you find people speak so speedily that you don't know how they are speaking it goes telescopically. They walk so fast that if they have to go to the station you'll find them in the other station. They are so ahead of time that it is impossible to connect them with the reality.

Now this speedometer is the spleen. Supposing when you are having your food we used to have a very good system even, in Bengal the husband would be sitting eating his food and the wife would be fanning him and the fanning would determine the speed of the person's eating. Now, she used to control. And the another thing is that, say even in Maharashtra people are eating they say saukash slowly, slowly, have the food slowly. They go on saying. It may look little funny to some people but it is so that saukash saukash go on slowly, there's time, there's time, don't be in hurry. But these days the way we eat our food is responsible for creating problems like blood cancer within us. We do not realise how blood cancer is created within us because I told you yesterday I will let you know how cancer is created.

Now this spleen has to work out all the emergencies within us. Supposing we are eating our food and suddenly we have to run out. It is already producing more blood cells for the consumption of the food we are having. Then suddenly we want to run, we want to run then it has to produce more blood cells. Supposing at the time, many people have a habit of reading the newspaper at the time of eating the food, it's very wrong idea. Absolutely. Because you know newspaper are the most ashuba things that you can think of in this world. One should not read any newspaper in the morning if you listen to Me.

They're absolutely inauspicious, because they always give something horrible on the front page. It's all so sensational that they don't want to give anything that is good.

And once I had a interview with one of the journalists and I said: “Why don't you give something about Sahaja Yoga, because we are doing good work. People are getting out of their drugs and they are getting cured and all that." He said: “This is doing good, you see it's good but this is no sensation see." They said that when the plane arrives in time in London nobody announces it but if there is a mishap then only we announce, otherwise we don't.

So if you read such horrible news at that time or open the TV at that time where you see a horrid face or some sort of a horrid idea immediately your speedometer being sensitive thing starts producing more blood cells for the emergency God knows what emergency has come up.

With this the speedometer becomes really crazy becomes mad it doesn't know what to produce when to produce. It loses its control with the whole and it starts producing blood cells which are crazy blood cells. These blood cells like mad start attacking other blood cells and that's how the blood cancer is produced. It is triggered as I told you by the attack from the left collective subconscious. As I told you yesterday it happens like that.

So one has to realise that this kind of madness of speeding up yourself is not needed. What is the need? I have seen people, they'll be all right, but before the plane has to leave about three hours before that suddenly goes wrong in them, suddenly. They go mad. They forget this forget that forget everything land up there without passport without their money without anything. Till three hours they're all right. Suddenly the idea that they have to go they go crazy. This is also the work of speedometer which spoils your sense of judgment sense of stability and you start behaving as if you have gone mad and anybody who sees people at the airport I get really frightened the way they are. They don't know where they are going what's happening to them there's nothing to be so frightened about. What is there to be so much worried? I mean I have never worried about time all My life. I have never missed a plane; I've never missed a train. I don't know why to worry. After all if you have to miss it you'll miss it.

Mostly I have seen people plan out to miss to leave things at home.

Most of those people who plan out too much always miss things at home and also miss the plane. Is a common thing or they will not find out if the plane is out, or is not coming or something like that. This is one of the examples I have told you because these days people try to save the time. You are trying to save the time. Everybody seems to be trying to save the time.

Somebody said that: “I must go to London can you arrange my passage?" I said: “I don't know anybody in this airlines people I don't know how will I help?" “No no no you must arrange a relation of mine." I said: “Why what is the need for you to go to London fast? After all you can go tomorrow it's all right doesn't matter whenever you get the seat you can go what is such a hurry? I mean at least the government of Britain is not going to fall down. Maybe Indian government, many government servants think that the Indian government is there because of them.

It's all right. I don't mind they admit but even English government is not going to fall out because of you what is such a hurry?" He said: “No no no I have to go there because I have to attend a ball." So you can imagine all this time saving and all this horrible thing is to waste time there.

People try to save their time just to go for a discotheque or for a drinking party. Just imagine they must go in right time for a drinking party. What is for a drunkard whether you go earlier or later. In any case you'll get drunk, no problem and others who are drunk will not know when you came or when you went away.

So there is no need to hurry up so much. That doesn't mean that you should be always late at a place, I don't mean that but one should not hurry up. You'll be much more in time if you do not hurry up. You'll be just in time if you do not hurry up. It is better not to hurry than to be such a slave of your watches because the time that is to be saved, is not for all these nonsensical things but is an urge from within to save the time for meditation.

The time has come for us, to get our Realisation and to meditate within ourselves and to grow within ourselves and to transform into the new awareness of God's Realisation. This is why we are seeking the time. That's why we have to have the watch to know how many hours are there left for us to meditate.

This urge has been misunderstood by human beings and they are misusing it for some another purpose.

I'm sure after sometime they will realise because this kind of madness leads to horrible diseases.

Another disease that people normally suffer from specially in Delhi is very common, is diabetes. Diabetes is caused because the same center, which is using it's power to supply the cells the fat cells for your brain has to look after also the pancreas. Now the pancreas is the one which digests your sugars. Now if all the time you are thinking all the time you're planning then what can the poor one center do? It cannot work out the pancreas and that's how only the so-called educated and planners get diabetes. It's a balancing. Because they use too much of their right side and the left side is completely frozen, what happens that all their left side problems start. The nature takes its respite. It tries to teach you through these methods. If you do not understand that you have to lead a balanced life the other problems can crop up like kidney troubles.

But the worst of all is the heart attack. Only a person who works very hard, thinks too much of himself and thinks that he's the one who is the support of the whole kingdom and the one who stands like Girdhariji with the finger in his hand, all such people are apt to get heart attacks. Absolutely no doubt about it. Because they work so hard. They work out their right side and don't worry about their left side.

The another type is the type which worries too much about their physical body physical health, like Haṭha Yoga, now so-called Haṭha Yoga of the modern times. If you do too much of exercises and too much of physical exercises you neglect your Spirit which is your heart. There's no balance between your heart and the Spirit. The heart is all the time working for giving you more blood for these horrible exercises that you are doing. There's no need for you to take out all your intestines and put them back.

Some people do such horrible these exercises, I don't know for what. What is the need to do such exercises indiscriminating? Of course in Sahaja Yoga also after Realisation you have to do certain asanas according to the need of the Chakras. If the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra is caught up on the left side or right side, there are certain asanas one has to do. But if you do at that time some other Chakra, other exercise you'll spoil it first, because you spoil that center which is all right because it is all right why are you bending it. And the another one which is spoilt is not attended to. There's a big knowledge about it. I should say there's a big science about all these things. If you do not know that and if you just do it indiscriminately it would be that you just have a little cold and you are taking all the medicines right from cancer up to TB. This is so indiscriminate, doing all the asanas all the time and then end up your life with a heart attack.

Those who pay too much attention also outside get a heart attack. Actually these are all ego-oriented people. You see on the right hand side when you think too much, when you use the right side you develop your ego. It can be very subtle. It can go very subtler. If you hear of a person he's a great gentleman know that there's a very cunning ego there, because he knows that you have to be very polite with your ego otherwise people will know that you are egoistical, so they are extremely humble. Ego can only disappear when you get Realisation. Before that ego exists in a subtler and a subtlest form. After Realisation when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, She sucks in both the ego and superego and you become the Self. This happening has to take place; otherwise we live with ego all the time.

Kṛiṣhṇa realised it long time back. Six thousand years back Kṛiṣhṇa realised it that people cannot give up ego easily, [UNCLEAR tere kire], it's not simple to explain to them that you have ego. Because if you tell somebody you will have it, so is better to do it in a way that they would understand and that's how the whole Gītā is nothing but a great diplomacy of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, the great Incarnation the complete Incarnation of diplomacy. He has played tricks with Arjuna and you are all still playing the tricks, you are still with it. When He said that: “Get the Gñyāna” means that your awareness must be enlightened you must get your enlightenment. That is the first thing He said. He's not a shopkeeper so He said the direct thing that you get your enlightenment; get your Gñyāna, that's the first thing He said.

Gñyāna means not reading the books but Gñyāna means, your attention must be enlightened, your awareness must be enlightened. You should become a Gñyāni means you know, just by feeling on your fingers you can know what is the problem with you and what is the problem of others. You become. It's not question of just giving a lecture to people that: `Do this and do that and do this.' But it just happens to you that you just become and this is what He has said that: “You become the Gñyāna." Now, Arjuna asked that: “You are saying that you become a Sākshī and a Gñyāni and here You are saying that you go and fight in the war." You see when you are realised you fight in the war you don't fight. You just see as a Sākshī. You are just used as a instrument of God to fight the horrible people.

But he did not understand. He did not understand this subtle point, so Kṛiṣhṇa tried a trick on him. He said: “All right. What you do is to do your Karma and put it at the Lotus Feet of the Lord” which is an impossible situation, is an absurd condition. This is the best way of diplomacy, to put an absurd condition so they fall into their own traps. He said: “You do all the Karmas of the world and put it at the Lotus Feet of God Almighty." Now it's an absurd condition can never happen. But many people believe in this Brahma, that: “Mother we'll do all the work and put it at the Lotus Feet of the Lord." You cannot. In a subtler way you may say, rationally you may say with your mouth you may say but you cannot because the ego exists within you. It is there.

Now how to get rid of the ego? If you fight with it it will become even bigger, just like a balloon if you fight with it it goes bigger and bigger and bigger and some people have a ego so big that if looking at them I sometimes find that it might grow into a horn. It can be horribly bad. You see people have, ego in the places, like India most surprisingly when we get the idea of getting developed we should know the people who have done that job in the west have got such a ego-oriented personality that they want to run away from this ego morning till evening. They are so fed up with it that when we are trying to develop ourselves we are just doing it by increasing our ego.

When we work out our right side our ego develops as a by-product and this surrounds our heart. It surrounds our heart. A man who gets egoistical becomes so much dry he cannot talk to anyone properly.

As I told you they bark. They suddenly become so dry that if they have to talk to someone they think that it is too much to talk to someone who is so low. They start feeling that they are very high people; they are of very great positions. They are very rich and these are all low people. All such nonsensical ideas start cropping into their heart and their heart becomes all enveloped with ego. Then it goes to a point where the ego becomes too much then you get a heart attack. All those people who say Gāyatrī mantra without any authority, working on the right hand side also. If you say your Gāyatrī mantra without any authority you will get a very weak heart. All such people will get heart troubles.

Now it is important for all of us to know what is the problem with us and how to look after ourselves.

We should not try to put our attention outside to such an extent that we neglect our heart. If God has given us say some position must know that you must love. Must have your emotions. For example I've seen Government servants in Delhi, because My husband has been a Government servant all his life I know.

They have no time for their wives and no time for their children. They are so busy you know you never see their faces in the daytime. You have to always put the light on and if you see them in the daytime you don't recognize them. Once they wear their pants they are out of gear. You can't talk to them except for five-year plan which has failed many a times.

So these people should know that you must spend some time with your emotions, with your family with your children, with other people. Have some loving rapport with other people of the society. Look after that side also. Those people who do not do such things are in for trouble. I have told so many people that be careful, that you should not get a heart attack. There are some Gurus who are very good at giving heart attacks. There are many Gurus who just give a heart attack to the husband whose wife is his devotee.

Is very common feature of many Gurus who gave a heart attack to the partner of his devotees so that he gets all the money, all the property and the wife of the husband at his lotus feet. All such things should be avoided.

We have to be affectionate, we have to be kind, we have to control our tongue and be sweet to others and nice to others. Not that thinking if you are nice to anyone you are doing something great. We have to be generous people. We have to give as much as we can we should give. What is there to feel we are doing anything for anyone. This is the greatest subtlest ego that people think: “We are serving the nation, or we are serving the poor." Who is serving who, who is the other? If this finger is serving this finger do you say that: `I am serving this finger?' Who is the other? If they are all the part and parcel of the whole of One Primordial Being then you are just helping yourself, you are not helping anybody else. But this is only possible when you get your Realisation. Without Realisation all this talk is talk talk talk and talk and talk. If you have to have any such idea that by just telling yourself you'll forget it you cannot. You have to have your Realisation by which you become another person.

Then how you talk. What Kṛiṣhṇa has said that you become akarma. The akarma becomes in. Then you just don't feel you are doing anything. For example now if you have a Sahaja Yogi here and if you ask him to awaken your Kuṇḍalinī he'll just tell Me: “Mother it doesn't come up. It doesn't come up. It doesn't go. It doesn't..." He doesn't say: `I am not doing it.' He doesn't say so. It becomes a akarma. He doesn't have to say that: “I have done this Realisation. I have cured this person." No. He said: “She's not getting cured. The Kuṇḍalinī is not rising. The Realisation could not be established. This is going wrong." Because the whole concept of doing the work is finished as soon as you become a hollow personality.

There's a beautiful story of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and Rādhā. Once Rādhāji felt jealous of the murali and She said that: “Oh Lord why do have this murali all the time at your lips, what is so special about her?" She went and asked murali about it. Murali smiled and she said: “Don't You know that my speciality is that I have no speciality. I am a hollow person. He plays and the whole thing flows through me, I see that.

People say the murali is playing. I laugh at it. It is He who is playing through me. I become a hollow personality." In the same way, when the akarma is established, you become That.

Same about the Bhakti . When people start singing too much like mad you see: “Unless and until I see You I'll cut my throat, or jump before the, fast-moving train” and all those things when you try such tricks you must know that you'll be attacked by some possession.

Some people dance like mad thinking that they have got God in them. God doesn't dance that way.

Some people get bhoots into themselves and they say that Devī has come into me. Devī, to be borne in the body is not a easy thing. It needs a special type of a body to have thirty-five crores of Gods to be settled in the body, to manage the thirty-five crores of Chakras. Is not easy for the Devī to enter into any Dick Tom and Harry and to make the person dance.

Moreover one has to know that if you have got the Devī Tattwa or if you are a realised Soul, you become completely controlled with yourself. You do not dance as the so-called Devī or so-called bhoot comes into you and makes you dance.

Anybody who does anything out of control or anything that happens out of control one must know is not done by you but by somebody else because you have lost your possession and somebody else has possessed you. It's a very very common practice of all these fake Gurus. They'll give you a mantra. Now this is another thing I'll have to talk about because today somebody requested Me is a very common practice of people giving Nama. I don't know from where they get this idea. This is something I just can't understand. Nama was given to people at the time when they had a particular Chakra's catch. For example say Nahbi Chakra say is caught. Then they would say that: “Take the name of Viṣhṇu or Lakṣhmī Nārāyaṇwhatever may be the case. Or supposing your void is, then they may say: `Say MahāGuru or say Guru's Name and all that." But that's a different thing when the Guru is a realised Soul He knows where is your problem. But how can you give that name permanently to someone? It is impossible because the Kuṇḍalinī moves. As soon as you take the Name of the Guru the Kuṇḍalinī will move upward. If there is an obstruction you have to take the Name of the Deity that is here. If there is no obstruction It will move here. If there is an obstruction here you have to take the Name here. It's a living Force. I told you it's a living God and it's a living Force. It doesn't stay. It's not static permanently at a place that you go on saying the same thing again and again. Maybe your Kuṇḍalinī is just here to burst out and you are just taking the Name of something much lower. That's how we spoil our Chakras.

You'll be amazed, those people who do Shiva Pūjā in the hand, I've seen people who do Shiva Pūjā in the hand. They'll put the linga; turn on one head I don't know what else they'll do. Must be tying up their shendi somewhere and I don't know what else they do. But whatever they do they worship God.

They say: “Oh we have done this." Then they put so much of belapatras and thousands of belapatras and they'll make people take out the belapatras with the bhāt and everything so that all of them will have doing this Pūjā will have self get into great sickness. All this nonsense they will do just to say: “Oh I have put one lakh of belapatra to Shiva." Now this kind of nonsense is taking you away not only from God but from good health also. All these rituals are of no value to you unless and until you know what is to be done in your case. There is no light supposing in this room. Now you have come to put a curtain here. Now you don't know where is the window you don't know where is the rail. Where will you put the curtain? You may put it there and it may be all spoilt. It is like that. You must know where is the problem. You must know how far to go with it. You must know how to correct it. It's a knowledge. It's not a blind man's work. It has to be done with light within you to understand where is the problem.

And that is how these people just give names. It is to such an extent that some people are charging three hundred pounds for one name and the name given is tinga and Inga. There are some foreigners here who have had this kind of a name also and they were told that it should be without any meaning so it is even better. And then some of them have been told that if you pay three thousand pounds then you can fly in the air. I said put your Guru on this leaning tower of Pisa and throw him down. Let us see if he can fly. If he can fly then you can fly. At least make the Guru fly for a change. All such nonsensical ideas are given with this kind of a basic ignorance of people, that name cannot be given by anyone. Only thing is when the Kuṇḍalinī is rising, you yourself should know where is the Kuṇḍalinī and you should be able to raise it.

Of course at the time of Gñyāneśhwara we can say He gave a name to His sister, to a point. Because He knew she had a problem at a particular Chakra He said: “Now you take this name." Only once. He didn't give it to every Dick Tom and Harry. Here if you go to a place there is a big box kept, seva. For seva there's a big box first of all, with a big slit. Supposing you have a big cheque or a big dollar note or something, it must go in straight.

So there is a big box of seva kept, you go and put the money there.

You go there the Guru is sitting at the seventh floor, who doesn't know how to talk now who has had three heart attacks with sitting with a lumpy face and you go there and you get a name.

Somebody comes and tells you in the name: “I've got the name." Then you can drink you can smoke you can smuggle you can do what you like. Doesn't matter. There's no transformation nothing. They are just the same as nonsensical people they are. This is not religion.

The religion that doesn't give you transformation doesn't give you a personality has no meaning at all.

It means your sustenance. And that is what is happening in also in so-called temples. I would say there are many places where we have, the Deities which are realised, which give vibrations there are but I don't want to tell you in Delhi because when I told them the fellow was sitting there made all the money.

So the thing is you cannot make money out of God. These vibrations are flowing free just like sunshine. You cannot make money. Money and God doesn't go hand in hand. God doesn't know any money business.

You must know that He does not know that there is a way of creating money by just painting papers. This is impossible for anybody to get God through money. This is your own problem, this is human problem, this is human beings have created. You better deal with it.

God has created this universe. How much money did you pay to become a human being from a monkey? How much money do you pay for sowing a seed in the soil, to the Mother Earth? Do you pay any money? How much money are we going to pay for our Realisation? What do you have, what is your, wealth, what can you pay? It is something so invaluable you can pay anything you like; you cannot pay what you have got in your Realisation. It is all God has given you. He has given you a beautiful Kuṇḍalinī. He has given you your old yantra. He has given you your Spirit. Now what can you pay Him except for complete gratitude, for what He has done. Just to sing His Mahima to sing His glory that's all you can do. But just to think that you can buy Him and purchase Him and also organize Him, is another foolishness and stupidity. You have to be sensible enough. Everything should be logically understood that how can you purchase God in the market.

People asked Me the other day the question: “Mother You have a ashram in London?" Of course surprising I could not establish in India, because they all wanted black money black money black money.

I said: “Baba I have no black money and I do not want to pay any black money. I want to do it straight at least there should be one place without black money can't you do it?" At the last minute they would say: “Give us a bribe or give us a black money." And I could not establish a center till today in your great Yoga country Yoga Bhūmi India.

But in London we have a center for which I don't know these people have collected their own money, because they are paying for the rent of the house. They were paying the rent. They all paying the rent.

They have combined together taken a house and they are paying the rent, finished. What money do you need for what money do you need? You need, for this hall supposing you need a money, all right little bit you can arrange a money and you do it. What is there to have the money for the Guru? A Guru if he's poor he lives like a poor. Christ was a carpenter's son. Did he collect any money for himself? If he is a rich man all right he can enjoy his wealth or he need not. If he's a rich man it's better that he should pay some money for this work, which I have to pay Myself sometimes.

In the same way one has to understand that money cannot buy God. It is too valuable, it is so, great it is so prem and the one who wants God should not ask anything that is material, should not. Should ask for the parama ask for the highest, the central thing the Tattwa the Principle of it, from which everything flows as I told you yesterday Kṛiṣhṇa has said: “Yogakshemam vahāmyaham." He did not say kshemaYoga.

You have to get your Yoga by which your kshema will be worked out. All your problems, all your material problems all these things will be worked out and how they work out I'll tell you tomorrow. How the Lakṣhmī Tattwa is enlightened within you through the Nābhī Chakra.

But today I have talked to you about Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra. Now you must know that Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra is like a lotus and the Deity of the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra is Brahmadeva and Saraswatī. It moves on both the sides, it can go in the inner areas also. It can move everywhere because it's a very flexible stock, with which it moves so it manifests outside. In the gross the aortic plexus and it supplies all these areas with blood, but, the real energy comes from the subtle Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra which is placed in the spinal cord around the Nābhī Chakra as you've seen.

Now this Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra is to be looked after. In Delhi Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra is the first problem. Firstly because you think too much. Secondly you think you are running the show. Thirdly the water of Delhi is not good. I've requested all the people, all the Sahaja Yogis to boil their water and drink it and never drink water outside. At the most if you have to drink then you can drink something bottled.

But try to boil the water all the time to keep your Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra all right. It causes jaundice and all kinds of problems because water is the basis of Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra.

So if you try to spoil the Nābhī, Nābhī is the basis and if Nābhī gets spoiled then Swādhiṣhṭhāna also gets spoiled. Because from Nābhī the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra has arisen. Moreover, one has to know how to give balance to oneself, when the Swādhiṣhṭhāna is out.

Now on the Photograph or towards Me if you put your left hand like this, you have to move from left to the right, all right. By moving left, what you are doing you are awakening your left side, you are awakening your left side. You can do it now. Raise it from your left. Go higher and bring it down, you see? Now what you are doing is you are awakening your frozen left side.

So for your heart attack and all that it is very good, like that.

Now from the top you are bringing down the power of Saraswatī. By this you are giving power to the Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra which is absolutely tired. You do it seven times; you'll feel very much better. By that your ego will come down also because it moves downward and it creates a space for superego to come in and a balance is established, do it seven times you'll feel very much better, very much better you'll feel.

All of you should try. Because after that you'll say: “Mother we have not got Realisation." Then I'm not going to listen to that. Please do it. It's very simple. Now, now put your hands towards Me.

Some of you will start feeling the Cool Breeze as it is.

Contents: 1981-02-07*, Public Program, Day 3, Introduction to Nābhī and Void, Constitution Club, New Delhi, India

Please sit very comfortably that's very important. There should be no strain on a particular part of the body for example when you are sitting sometimes your feet might feel little bit numbed down you can change the posture you need not carry on with any extreme effort or any discomfort to yourself, that's first thing you must remember. Moreover some of the people go into tense postures also by stretching their hands too straight or sometimes going very straight or pushing their head behind, sometimes they bend their heads also bit too much also, sit very comfortably with both the hands on your lap in a very comfortable way, there should be nothing extreme to be done from outside.

We have to understand the principle of living process then you will know that why I say. No use doing any such extreme thing to achieve your goal. The principle is like this that this room is all dirty supposing or it's in a chaos, or maybe it's in darkness completely, you can't see anything, so you enter inside the room your goal is to achieve the enlightenment.

Some people will say that let us clean the room in darkness with blindness, you start cleaning your body you don't know what you are cleaning so there is no need to bother about cleaning when you are blind, some people think if you clear your mind before realisation you will be better off.

You have tried all those things but in doing so you have gone to extremes. It's all blindness, all your work is done in darkness, there is no enlightenment. You have to get your enlightenment here first this is what I have realised that unless and until human beings are enlightened they cannot cleanse themselves properly. They cannot understand Sahaja Yoga, they cannot understand God, they cannot understand feel their spirit, nothing is possible unless and until they are enlightened. It is possible that when you get the enlightenment you might find that the light is not coming through properly, there is some shaking in the bulb or may be there is some shaking in the shade or maybe that the room is dirty that you cannot see things clearly, that you cannot see your image in the mirror your eyes are weak, for all this you need a bright light.

But without getting the light itself, without knowing, something about what you have got within yourself, how are you going to cleanse yourself? Of course the light may be dim but still you can see what is the problem, what is to be done, what is to be cleared? That's why enlightenment is the first thing.

Now for this, even if you clean the whole room, even if you do all that, you have not done the perfect job on the contrary you might break some things, spoil some things, you may slip down anything can happen in darkness that's what happens to people when they do any sadhana blindly. After your enlightenment you know your way through, you know how to go about it and you understand everything.

The another myth we have is that if we cleanse our mind we can achieve our spirituality You cannot even if this room may be clean unless and until there is light there cannot be enlightenment so the main thing is you have to have an enlightenment.

I have known people who lead very clean and a good life when they get enlightenment they get it very fast and have it nicely established, very easily and it is there, but some of the people who lead a very clean and a good life have over-done it to such an extent that they have an ego about it, they think “I don't want anything, I am perfect, I do no wrong, I am committing no problem, I am a very happy person" such people also get stuck because they do not want the higher things of life. They d not want their spirit to be enlightened so that also sometimes become a very sticky point.

Now in Sahaja Yoga you have to know that you have the power within yourself. It is there, it exists there and it is to be just awakened in some people. It takes time to be awakened in thousands I have seen it takes no time, the only thing that I would suggest is to keep your mind open not to become obstinate about things. If you are an obstinate person the Kuṇḍalinī is even an greater obstinate thing, do not be obstinate, just keep yourself open, do not argue it out by argument or by thinking about it. The Kuṇḍalinī is not going to be awakened, on the contrary when the Kuṇḍalinī is awakened your thoughts settle down to such an extent that you feel there is no thought coming to you from your sub conscious or from your supra conscious so try to keep yourself absolutely open and don't worry even if your vibrations are not fine.

The principle is that light is light and the room is room, the light has nothing to do with the room only thing when the light is enlightened it enlightens the room the room has something to do with the light but the light has nothing to do with the room. Whether the room is there or not light exists in the same way, we must understand that the relationship with the Ātman and our body our spirit and our this body mind and our ego, superego.

So many of you must have done lot of tapasyas and lot of things which were not really wanted thinking that you have done such a lot. You have been to so many places, you have done so much teerath yatra, you have been to so many pilgrimages and those pilgrimages and all these places, you think according to you should be blissful to you, but actually while going there you did not know how to get the bliss from those temple and those places which are holy actually in nature but are surrounded by people who are actually negative because of that that mixture was there sometimes instead of getting the bliss you get the headaches.

Today we are going to discuss the void what we call void in Sahaja Yoga is different from the way people talk of void is the complete visceral [UNCLEAR] cavity which is called in Sahaja Yoga language as Bhava-sāgara mainer times you must have heard people singing songs poets singing songs saying Bhava-sāgara se pār utaroo." What is this Bhava-sāgara? This is the symbol or this is the reflection of the whole entire universe that is created. This all universe is created by Brahman deva, he is the one who is the creator... rachiyata of this world who created this beautiful universe, in that especially he created the Mother Earth, he has placed the moon and the sun on both the sides of this Mother Earth, they represented to you of the Mother Earth within us is the Kuṇḍalinī the Mūlādhāra. Now this universe is exist within us that is the Bhava-sāgara, this Bhava-sāgara exists in many stages in its evolutionary form and today it is Kali Yuga in this Bhava-sāgara, I would say it is a dawn of Satyay Yuga at the end of Kali Yuga in this Bhava-sāgara is placed in the center of Nābhī. Nābhī Chakra and around it moves the center of Swādhiṣhṭhāna, Nābhī Chakra as you know is governed by Śhrī Lakṣhmī as the power of Śhrī Viṣhṇu and the Swādhiṣhṭhāna moves around it, which delimits our own personality and which creates all these different stars within us or the planets within us.

In these spaces, Void, are born the incarnations of the primordial master who is called as Dattātreya.

Dattātreya is the innocence of Shiva of...

[Aside:] Vibrations itne hai.

... of Brahmadeva and of Śhrī Viṣhṇu, Brahmā, Viṣhṇu, Maheśh, the essence of these, the innocence of these is embodied in the form of Dattātreya, who is the primordial master.

So these masters who are born on this Earth are innocence at its best, all integrated together. These masters have incarnated on this Earth mainly ten times, but there have been many others incarnations also, there have been repetitions just to correct themselves. As I told you yesterday that Mohammad Sāb and Nanaka are both the same personalities of Dattātreya. The instance is given, in the life of Guru Nanaka, when he was sleeping people told him that your feet are towards Mecca, Kāba towards Kāba he said, alright I'll remove my feet and put wherever you say, then they put his feet towards the other side and again they found that his feet were facing towards Kāba then he said tell me the place where there is no Kāba I'll put my feet, but they couldn't arrange it at all, because wherever he placed his feet it was such a Māyā that always they found that the feet were towards Kāba. Now Kāba is a place where you have a beautiful Shivlinga, which is called as Mekkaeshwar Shiva in our Purānas, from ancient times it is mentioned that, there is a Piṇḍa which is absolutely Vibrating and which is there.

Now Mohammad Sāb religiously avoided talking about that. He only said, “If this stone can be so godly, why not human beings be?" But he did not explained much as it is whatever he tried to explain the people were so insensitive so cruel that they tried to kill him many a times, they to gave him poison, ultimately he died in a very, very bad state, they tortured his life, they were lunatic people, they used to live in tribes a very tribal by nature. And they [UNCLEAR] he tried his level best to propagate that there is God and God is above all and I am the messenger of God, but they would not listen to him.

Then came, you know Nanaka who preached that there should be no enmity between Hindus and Muslims, he preached that, because he saw the Muslims behaving in such a manner, they were such fanatics and they had become so funny that he could not understand how is it? These are the people whom I have made Muslims and what are they doing here? Actually Mussulman means the person who is realised and Peer is a person whose realisation is established so much so that he said that those who have become Mussulman should be buried and not burnt, because he thought they are all realised Souls, but realisation finished off with his son-in-law and his daughter, after that he had two sons who were great souls who are really the reincarnations of Lov and Kush.

Now perhaps we do not know what happened to Lov and Kush when they were born. Lov and Kush when their mother disappeared in the Mother Earth and the father, they were little annoyed with them, went in the north one went to Caucasus and another went to China. Lov went to Kokacious and from there he became a very powerful king in Russia. Russians always use Sanskrit language; we do not know how much Sanskrit they use; for example they will say kharoshou means Harushivaye the Pravada itself the word Pravada vda is to say pra means enlightened. You see their language, it's full of Sanskrit words, practically it is absolutely based on Sanskrit and you'd say slaws people... slaws, so lov sla... Lov ruled there for years together and about four hundred years back, his very descendants flew away from there, went to Iran, where there is a Goddess, Goddess Hindolika's temple is there which is all described in the Purānas, where they used to worship Goddess Hindolika, from there they came down and spread all over, it's a big story. Then Kush went to China, that's how you have Kushan in China and Chinese language is very much near Sanskrit and quite close to Marathi language, it's more surprising if you hear them talking, for example they say; Ma tza tum, tza is only there in Marathi language they use this word tza, we never say in Hindi tza or in any other language you won’t find it, tza, but only in Chinese and in Marathi language they have this word, tza.

It's very interesting to see, how the spirituality has spread into these countries and then how it died out. All these things happened, but then they were born again and again, they were born as Mahāvīra and Buddha, they are the same, they are born as Mārkandeya, they are born as Kabīra, as Ādi Shañkarāchārya, it was Buddha who was born as Ādi Shañkarāchārya just to correct himself, Buddha was shocked the way people were going, there was Nirākāra that he had be born as Shañkarāchārya to tell people, oh God, what are you doing? It was only Buddha who came to correct himself as Shañkarāchārya, it is so surprising, that people are fighting, Buddhist and Hindus are great enemies of each other, but they do not know that the person who really re-established Hinduism was the same who established Buddhism.

So imagine the same personality coming again and again on this Earth tries to correct his disciples again finds that there are two groups he has created, it's a big problem.

Now Mahāvīra also was one of them, who was born again and again and he was Mārkandeya and he was Kabīra, the way Kabīra lashes people you can see that he is tremendous, he is like Bhairava and the power of Bhairava, Kabīra has used in his language, but for Hindi poets it is Sadhukadi and they have made fun of it. The best thing of a person who doesn't want to face reality, is to make fun of everyone, that is the best way, they said what is this talk Iḍā, Piñgalā, Suṣhumnā? Who is he? What does he think of himself? But he was appreciated very much, by the saints and especially by Guru Nanaka, who included all his poetry in his Grantha Sahib; he's included so many of these poetry from all the realised Souls from Maharashtra, also. But I wonder how many Sikhs know that this was for getting realisation, he thought, if you write an Upanishad, [UNCLEAR] they try to correct everything just to make people understand that you have to get to it. First, they thought that if you write Gītā, they go on remembering Gītā by heart. Then, they thought it is better, that you write something from the realised Souls only together, so that it is a powerful Grantha by which people when they read it they get Vibrations and they'll stick to it, but it is not so, even there people are just reading it. I don't know how? Gradually as we were revolving, we were losing our sensitivity. At least in the time of Rāma, people knew he was an incarnation. At the time of Kṛiṣhṇa they knew he was an incarnation. Many people know, of course, Rākshasa knew also that they were incarnations; Rākshasa's even today know who the incarnation they are very sure of it and they are just frightened of, but in those days, even common people knew who is an incarnation. Now the sensitivity among human beings started getting reduced and reduced as they got involved into fanaticism, all kinds of Tantrism that developed in this country of ours, in other countries also, tremendous movement was there to create fanatics and these fanatics are diseased people, they are diseased, they are actually the people who are possessed absolutely possessed, they are not normal people when they talk, you are surprised, how can they talk like that? When they do not know anything about it, but thank God today, fanaticism has reached such a stage that the younger people are understanding the nonsense of it.

It's a very good chance for Sahaja Yoga to come up. In Sahaja Yoga, the beauty is this, that you cannot now form a cult as soon as you try to do such a thing, you loose your vibrations, you try any such tricks, you try to be fanatic you will be losing all your vibrations, any tricks you try with Sahaja Yoga first thing you will loose your vibrations, you won’t like it, you won't be happy with it, you would like to keep your vibrations going, smooth, smoothly and nicely so that you feel absolutely happy about it and joyous, but anybody who tries any tricks with Sahaja Yoga, you get into problem.

Now these Gurus came on this Earth to remove fanaticism, the last of them came as Shirdi Sāi Nāth, he was the one who had said very clearly, in Marathi he had said it, that to speak ill of any other religion is sin, is sin, nothing can be more powerful than that. There are many people who worship Sāi Nāth, many people, but they drink, he was against drinking, all of them were against drinking, why were they against drinking because the awareness is spread in your void. The awareness, the Chitta, the attention is in your void and is nourished by your liver. The liver takes out all the poison from your awareness, due to bad health, due to bad mind, due to anything from bad effects or negativity and then it clears out as I told you yesterday.

So this awareness within us gets, you know that our awareness, human awareness goes down through drinking, these people preach that you should not drink. I mean that the one thing that they all preached together, that you should not drink. At the time of Mohammad Sāb there was no smoking, so Guru Nanaka also [UNCLEAR] this time you found people smoking with big big hookah's, he said that now for heaven sake do not smoke, because they said that you just said that don't drink, so we will smoke now.

Like in England, people say what's wrong in drugs? Drugs were not approached by saints, so we can take drugs, so it is in My lot, to tell them, now drugs are the same; anything that goes against awareness is not good. I mean, it is not something that you have said no because they were mad people, whatever they said, they said because it was the truth. If you take drinks of any kind, alcoholics or any these kinds, anything that takes you away from your awareness is wrong because your awareness is to be enlightened as it is your awareness is like that and on top of that if this awareness is to be enlightened and is full of alcoholism, how to raise it? How to do it? But these days to talk against alcoholism, one person asked Me, “Mother are you going to be minister of permission?" I mean, it is impossible to talk to people about anything sensible. Even in a party you go, they say why don't you drink? You should drink, you are missing such a great thing, you have missed such a lot in your life, I said I have drunk from my childhood, don't give Me anything I don't need it, no, they'll go on forcing, you must drink. You see, this is a special thing, that is thing and all that. They have no shame about it, no shame. They think they are trying to be nice and you tell them even once if you say. Why do you drink? Gone, you are the gone case, you have no manners. You are the most unmannerly person. How dare you say such a thing to anyone? Look at these human beings, such [UNCLEAR], I don't know how to deal with them? They think that they should be told, “Alright go ahead drink, kill your self." How can you be saints allowed you to drink? Tell Me, when they know that it goes against your awareness, of course these thugs will say “alright drink as much as you like, do what you please, you have ten wives or you do what you please, only give me your purse to me” because that is their interest in you.

They are only interested in your purse, how much money you have got in your purse? What job you are doing? Or at times they can be, officers, saying that, give job to my son or give job to someone. One has to understand that saint is not afraid of anyone, he cannot be, it's a fearless entity absolutely fearless, it's not afraid of anyone because it is standing on truth, truth itself gives you that strength to say the truth, but I have learnt certain lessons, in My past lives that human beings don't like truth, don't tell them, if you tell them they will crucify you, immediately. You have to go round and round and put them into problem so that they come along. If you tell them straight forward don't do something, they will put you, I mean, people may crucify Me after sometime, if I tell them don't drink, it is that bad these days.

The drinking in England is so bad now that English, who used to drink so little, is now nothing but a bottle, since morning he starts it. In third generation you go down, what about our Indians who have gone there? Even the Sikhs, who are told not to drink, drink more than Scotch people can drink. It's a shameful thing and they will fight that we'll not put a helmet on our head, to save our head from going on a motorbike.

Is it written in any Grantha Sahib like this to be foolish and stupid? But they will fight for that, but not fight for this, that no Sikh should drink. If you are wearing that pagadi, you have no business to drink.

They don't think that the essence of religion is more important, than all these nonsensical things that you think you are doing.

Such a great religion, Islam, such a great religion is Sikhism, such a great religion is Hinduism, such a great religion is Christianity. Everything gone to dogs because the dogs have come into it. They have no sense of proportion; they do not know how to respect their Guru's... in the right way putting their Guru's in their heart and in their behaviour. That's all they should have done. They should have just obeyed their Guru's. There was no need to stand on your heads and take mantras from these thugs paying them. There was no need at all to do all these things, but no they thought that here we are doing black market money, let us make some big temples so there are great Hindus, big temples are built, black market money going on. Here they are killing so many people the Muslims, so they must say that we are doing it in the name of God, very nice. Where Mohammad Sāb has talked of nothing but Rehmat and Rahim, all the time Rehmat and Rahim he has talked of, see they were about to kill him every moment wherever he went, it was such a dangerous situation, so vicariously he was living and he had to defend himself.

So now we have to defend ourselves from these people, instead of these people defending themselves.

It's not in defense; it is in aggression, these people are killing others and they think they are doing a great very great service to the people. Then the Christians, they are one of the worst fanatics worst fanatics are the Christians There cannot be worst fanatics than Christianity. Christianity is one religion which is very clever and cunning, nobody can beat them all. For example they will do all missionary work.

You'll say ha a ha a ha what nice people. The missionary work, they are looking after our poor people here, very nice people very great generous people and they will be converting people. What are you converting them for? Have you got the power of realisation? Have you got the power to call yourself Christian? Are you baptized in the real sense? That is how the Christians have been behaving throughout.

They have put up such a big show, this is not God's work, to get some people from the street who are dying put them in the room and look after them. Is this the work of God? This the work of human beings? Work of God is just to raise the Kuṇḍalinī that is the work of God. Not the work of God is to have Hospitals and Schools and things. This is not the work of God, this is your job, this is you are doing it, but they are taking the name of God to earn money. In the name of God give me money. Such beggars I tell you of the first waters. Begging a man, who believes in God, will never do. Why to beg? Why to ask for money? On the streets they will stand, nowadays our Hare Rāma and Hare Kṛiṣhṇa in Oxford Street and beg money, in the name of God.

Can there be greater sinners than these who beg in the name of God and get money from others and live on other people's money? All the time like parasites. This is they have done out of religion, or ritualism go to the temples, there's a priest standing there he gives you ghanta, he makes something, puts something on your head, God knows he spoils the Āgñyā Chakra or what he does and you think “oh I have been to this temple, I have been to that temple, I have been to this Teerath and that teerath and that teerath and I have been a very religious man." I tell you these extreme ideas about God has really blinded us completely from reality.

If you want the reality, you must know that God is to be found within your heart and not in those places. Once you have found it in your heart then you will know that where is the real God in which temple and how to approach. Now if I ask you, In Delhi how many temples are really jāgrut, except for Sahaja Yogis nobody can say, you see a stone Namaste another stone might have been brought from some bathroom Namaste. Is that a real jāgrut one? It is said in the Bible that whatever is produced, created by mother Earth and by the Sky should not be reproduced, now what is that is created? What is that is created by Mother Earth? We Indians know these are the jāgrut deities which are created by Mother Earth, these are the jāgrut deities and that is to be worshipped and not to get a Gaṇapati somewhere for two rupees, my forefathers have given me so I am carrying on. I must do their Pūjā, maybe the forefathers are sitting on that. You won't believe, there is a gentleman in Bombay [Mumbai], who came to Me, to meet Me, his name is Mister Shah, he said “Mother Lot's of things are happening, I don't know how?" I said “what happened?" “In my house I am getting some old deities from somewhere, just coming into my house from somewhere, I don't know where from where it comes? Sometimes I keep my windows open in the night and I find in the morning there is a deity of silver sometimes diamonds are there in the nose of the Lakṣhmī and I am surprised how am I getting it?" And the man is not so rich to have all these things; he showed Me and said now what to do? I told him; “throw them all of them in the sea” that's what they deserve. He said “from where have they come?" These are the people who have habit of very seriously worshipping those deities, without understanding that these deities have got vibrations or not, whether they are jāgrut or not, they are alright or not. Even a plastic they'll make, they'll make of aluminum. I don't know now what they are going to use next to make a deity and they will be carrying it on, have no value, have no understanding, have no respect.

So the people who own those, they must be bringing it, the old people and putting in your house, so better put them in the sea, otherwise they will not have their Mukti and this fellow is having greediness.

He is always having a chakkar with these things. He said “what is happening to me?" His child is getting into problem; his wife has run away from the house. All kinds of problems coming up, lost all his money, every sort of problem coming up and this deity is coming in he said, should I sell them and get some money. I said please don't do it, to whomsoever you will sell, you will sell asubah. These are coming by some dead person using this bhanawati; they are bringing this down here. But there where he told Me thousands of people wanting just to touch the feet of these bhootas. They thought such a bhoot cannot bring these deities and that must be God who is coming in the form. If in the thing was written also, made in near Mumbadevī and this and that. You mean God is sitting there and making those statues? We don't use our brains also, when it comes to God. I mean faith is necessary no doubt, but this is after realisation, before realisation it's a blind faith, which can be any nonsense.

I have seen such mad people that they just go on pulling out their hair and they say that we are doing it in the name of God, really? Why did God give you these hairs? If he wanted you to pull it out like that morning till evening sitting and pulling it out and they develop such nervousness that if they are not properly aware they will start pulling out from your hair also. It is such a dangerous situation in this blind faith, that you form some habits. You know people have an idea of using the mala, that's why Kabīra has said “kar kamana ka chade de manna ka manna ka pher." So they will also say, they will have it “kar kamana man ka chade de manna ka manna ka pher" finished. Even the children have understood the joke, this is what we are doing, that when it is told that you have to have God in your heart and don't do these rituals, you will find these people using that rosary to such an extent, that if they are talking they don't have that, they cannot sit tight, it's like a nervousness in them, it's a nervousness by which they must go on...

[Aside:] Aur main to hamesha mala jappti houn 108 and falāna.

... and you feel that the person is about to land up in some lunatic asylum with the number 108.

The way people are mad in religion makes people really atheist they see these mad people what are they doing is the religion? Is this the religion, where people sell it, you go to any temple? Once we had bought some Am rood, Guavas and we went to the temple we were thinking that we will get out of, then we were very young, [UNCLEAR] and we were lots of brothers and sisters we went down to a temple and we thought that after seeing the temple we will go outside behind the temple and we will eat the thing as soon as we reached there, the Pūjāri took out the packets from our hands, you know, all the children poor things were carrying three, four packets we had and they took out everything from [UNCLEAR], we were looking at them why did they took out everything and gave us one each you see, wah wah! and we were about to cry, but My younger sister couldn't bare it, she said “why did you take away my, all my Guavas? Please return it to me” but this is sort of a right they have got to live on your money, these parasites.

In the name of God these parasites, you are the people who are nurturing them, you just giving them money, it is better to give to a beggar, then to give to these horrible sophisticated beggars sitting on the temples and churches. You are the people who are responsible for creating such a mess because half of the people are indifferent; those who are not indifferent bhagvān ke nām pe, half of them are like that who go to one Sidhhi Vinayak mandir and Mangalwār day [Tuesday], you will find that queue of sometimes two miles in that Bombay [Mumbai], where people have no time for anything. People are moving with the pace of an Ant, one inch in one hour, there are some people who start in the night and they move on, they go with their nāriyal and the nāriyals, come from the other side and sold again next month.

They know this; still they say we have done it with Bhakti and Gaṇeśha will give us what we like.

Gaṇeśha will only give you wisdom, I wish he could, I wish he could give you wisdom and understanding about religion. This is a mess we have done out of our religion, every religion, every religion is not only Hinduism, Islam or Christianity or Sikhism. We have really killed the religion by our indifference, or by too much of indulgence, blind fold, faith in all these horrible people, who claim that they are religious people, by what means are they? Go and see their lifestyle. Go and see what sort of a people they are.

They are Rākshasas some of them I can tell you, when I went to Vrindavan I felt all the anucharās of Kansa are their fundas. All of them not one I found as a human being, they are such horrible people and the way they torture you still you go about religion.

One has to understand that God stands in His purity He is a pure being and He likes our wisdom. He doesn't like people who are stupid and foolish. He likes wise people, wise people... like, Prahlad, Prahlad was an eight year old boy, when his father Hiranyakaship challenged him, Śhrī Viṣhṇu appeared in a pillar, you know in a Narasimha Avatār and he killed his father and then he asked this little boy of eight years Prahllad, he said, “My child, my devotee, what do you want?" He could have asked for anything, Sakshāt Viṣhṇu was there, but what does he say, “Tav charna arvinde prīti." Give me love at your lotus feet, oh my lord that's all what I want. To love you at your lotus feet. If you have your pure love for God He will give you wisdom. If you do not have your purity you go there to ask for this thing and that thing; Give me a transfer, specially government servants, they are never satisfied, they want to have transfers all the time, give me a promotion, give me a son, when you get a son, give me a job for my son. When he gets a job, get him a wife, poor Gaṇeśha must be tired. This is what it is, this is not religion, this is not God, this has nothing to do with spirituality, you have to ask for one thing, “Tav charna arvinde prīti." Oh lord let me be at your lotus feet so that one day my Kuṇḍalinī would be awakened and that my Ātmā would be enlightened within my awareness. Let me keep my life so beautiful, “Ye chādar rishi muni jann odhi, Odhi ke meli kini chadariya, Dās Kabīr jatan se odhi, Jaisi ki taisi rakh dini chadariya." This is what we should have done, instead of that we go to this Tan trick, that bhajji, that Punditji, that Pandeyji, or some other Pādriji or what you call them other sorts of people those Mullahji's and all sorts of Mau Lanaji's and Pir's and all sorts of things and what do you get? A bad Āgñyā. They have no right to be there, they are there because they want to make a business out of God.

Today I spoke about it, because it is important to understand, what is religion? In India especially I have seen people go out of the way to do penances in the name of God, which is a great thing, but why do you do penance, what is there to suffer? Why do you make your body suffer so much? Keep your body alright, don't over-do things, keep a moderate life, lead a normal life, that's what Buddha has told you, there is no need to go to extremes for anything, but even Buddhist, they have gone to another extreme so he had to come on this Earth as Shañkarāchārya to tell people what are you doing? When did I say this? Then they were born as the son of Fātimabai who was herself nothing else but Janaki and they were her sons Hassan and Hussein, who had preached non-violence and they saw that people were trying to save bugs and mosquitoes.

You know there are some funny cults where we are so particular of bugs mosquitoes and all the worms, we are not at all particular about human beings, they, I don't know what am I going to do with bugs? Am I going to give them realisation? Even chicken's... am I going to give them realisation? I have to give realisation to human beings. What is the need to pay so much attention to these nonsensical things? To save the bugs and save the mosquitoes and make them bite the Brahmin and pay them money, because they think they have done a great kalyana on the bugs. Perhaps they might have been bugs, in last lives, the way they are interested in all these mosquitoes. Now, these two were born as Hassan and Hussein and to get rid of these ideas of non-violence they had this Karbala, in which they fought and died like great shuras [warriors].

This is a story of great incarnations on this Earth. There are so many of them who were born, I have no time to tell you, but Socrates was the same, his disciple was one of these two. Abraham, Moses, who are propagating Jews their religion, [UNCLEAR] people are another mad, another mad people I can tell you, these Jews, God save them from their madness, they will make a sum that their books are, say called as, [UNCLEAR todhat], they make it microscopic, the more microscopic it is, the more spiritual you are and they tie it up here you see, you can't even read it, you have to use a nice magnifying glass to read that, they never read, it's tied up here. According to them, if it is studded with diamonds, then you are a greater spiritual person, they are very rich people you see, so they tie it up there and before a wailing wall they go and like mad they are beating their heads there and weeping for what they have done. I mean there is no end to the madness of people.

You can understand that this is not religion. Now the other day there was one Arya samaji fellow who came to Me, he could not get his realisation; I must tell you these are another fanatic types we have, Arya samaji, have they been able to get to their spirit? They are only bothered about reconverting the people, marrying the people or building the buildings and saying that, no we don't believe in God, we don't believe in this kind of a God. We don't believe in. Who cares whether you believe or not, who are you? What right have you got to say anything? It's like any monkey standing up and saying, “I don't believe in this government, I don't believe in that government." Who is bothered about these people who talk like this.

Who are they? What authority have they got to say what is good and what is bad. Do they know what is good and what is bad? To say like these things about, we don't believe in this and we don't believe in that. For us it is essential to know that, first let us know ourselves, let us get our light enlightened and in that light let us see the truth as it is you cannot ask the truth to be like this. You cannot organize God. He is what He is, He remain as He is, you cannot transform Him. Only thing you can do is become one with Him. What you can do is to perceive Him, to feel Him, to be, that is the thing you can be, but you cannot make God as you like Him, He is what He is as I have told you. And the best thing will be that you be humble like Prahllad, to say, “Tav charna arvinde prīti." Who are we to criticise these incarnations of Primordial master? What have we done? Like, once somebody started criticising Me, so one of My disciples, Bardarf [UNCLEAR] called him, “Come here, come here, how many people have you given realisation to?" He said “none” He said, “How many people have you cured? What good have you done to people?" He said “none” “What do you do?" He said “I am a barber” he said “you better become a barber." What are you talking here? What right have you got? What is your position to talk? But in this Kali Yuga, even a person who does not even know a word about religion, about God, who is not awakened, who is not realised, then talk about God. This is ghore Kali Yuga, they are not afraid, they are not afraid, to make money in the name of God is the greatest sin, is the greatest sin, I tell you, to make money like that in the name of God and to spoil somebody's Kuṇḍalinī, as these, all these fake Guru's are doing. Using there bhoot Vidyā, they do not know they will go to hell permanently; absolutely permanently they will be there and there will be no return from there. They have been given many chances before, but no more chances for them.

We are the people who have to correct them, we have to stand together and tell them, nothing doing, we had some people in Bombay [Mumbai] who are Brahmins, who are Brahmins, who are Brahmins of the high order as we can call, [UNCLEAR] they are called as and they got their realisation. Now they had to be taken up upon yourself to put down all these horrible fake people who are making money out of the public.

So one of them is a teacher and he told a Brahmin in his family, because he was permanently stuck, you see us Brahmins stuck to the families. He said that, “My” “I have to do the Shard of my father, when can you come, within the Pitrupaksh?" He said “I can only come on Wednesday" or something like that. He said “are you sure that there is a Muhrata for that?" “Yes” he said, “yes very I am sure of it." So he went to another fellow, got the Pañchanga, Maharashtrians, that way know a lot about these things like Pañchanga and all that and he opened the Pañchanga he studied there and he found out that there was no muhrata, in any Pañchanga whatsoever.

There are three Pañchangas which we use, I don't know if we know here about it, he saw all of them, then accordingly the muhrata was on Tuesday, he celebrated it. Then the fellow came, “Rehne dijiye, rehne dijiye, bād mein le lenge rehne do." Then the fellow came and he said that “I have come now come along let us have the shard." He said that “I will not even give you a cup of tea to you today." He said “how?" “You call me for the Shard I am suppose to eat at your place” he says “no, we have not cooked anything and I am not going to give you a cup of tea, if there is no muhrata today” he said “according to Tilak Pañchanga it is” he said “I have studied also Tilak Pañchanga, I have studied all this, you get out of here." The mother was poor thing you know, she said “how you can this, he is our old thing” he said “this is the only chance I have to get rid of this old fool" and he just told him, “get out you will not stay in this house and I am not going to give a cup of tea." Then in Panduranga's temple, in..., Panduranga's temple is there you know about Vitthalla's in Pandharpur [UNCLEAR] we have people going down there and when I saw these people I was surprised, they were all crazy people for a month poor things are singing songs eat little take that nasha of tambacco and go singing songs for months together they go to see Panduranga there and these people who live there are called as Badwe, their names are absolutely suited you see, like in Kolhapur they are called as Bhūtis, can you imagine? The Brahmins are called as Bhūtis and these are called as Badwe's. And these people ask them, “How is it, you have got cracks in your heads?" He said that “this Naral, this nāriyal or you can call the coconut was broken at the lotus feet of Panduranga” I said, “How?" I couldn't understand, these Badwe's were doing this job and when I said that these Badwe's should know if they don't behave, they are going to have a very bad time, you see everybody was shocked but you'll be amazed within eight days the government took over that place and it's working out, but now their language has changed, but this is how these people have been troubling us, but now we have got four Brahmins, four Brahmins living in Panderpur who are after their throat and they go to the temple and tell people that don't listen to the [UNCLEAR] and they are propagating and they said that if you want anything you ask us, but don't give a single Pai to these Badwa's, good for nothing, useless, whatever you want to do, you do it to the deity and don't touch these people, treat them as untouchables and these are the people who have started it. It is we who can change the people.

Once we get realisation, the transformation starts taking place within us. When the transformation takes place a person becomes fearless. He is not tempted easily by things, for example I have known people, who use to take a lot of bribes, have given up taking up bribe, because their financial condition also improves, their Lakṣhmī Tattwa is awakened and they do not take any bribes, their Dharma is jāgrut, they do not drink, many people who were drunkards have given up drinking, because the Dharma is awakened within us, you just can't bare it. Just like a human being cannot bear dirt but an animal can.

In the same way, it happens to you, you just don't bear it, you don't want to have it anymore. In the same way, your political situation will improve, because what is the problem today, what is the problem? if you have went down to Maharashtra and there the people said that we have a problem of sugar, I said why, you produce a lot of sugar, he said there is one fellow known as Sugar king, he has hoarded all the Sugar. I said really, then why don't you inform the police about it? They said, when Janta government was there he gave them money, now this government is here, he gives them money, he gives money to all police officers, he is driving all of them and he also bribed us and made us vote for certain people, who are under his control. I said, then you are responsible for this.

You get your realisation and next time only vote for or stand with a realised Soul. Do not vote for anyone who is not a realised Soul and you will see this country will change just like this, the whole situation will change. It is you who are misusing your votes, in the villages even for one time need they give votes.

How are you going to improve your people? How this deterioration is going to stop by only, by your parivartan, by your transformation, that's only possible through Kuṇḍalinī awakening.

When the Kuṇḍalinī awakening takes place the man knows his esteem, he stands up like a human being and he doesn't behave like a dog, who runs after every position you get, every money you get, “Give me, give me." It's not like that. He stands in his dignity and in his [UNCLEAR] and nobody can put him down. This is what it is; the Sahaja Yoga is such a blessing, for all of us, in all the world, wherever there is a chaos, it is everywhere now and so many angles it is going to it, for Samaj Karya also, now in Samaj specially in the north, you see the condition is very bad, the woman are treated very shabbily, they say it's the influence of the Muslim religion and whatever it is. But if you go to Turkey, you will be surprised that the people treat woman with such respect and such understanding.

In our own scriptures it is written that, “Yatra nāriya pujyante, Tatra ram ante Devatā." Means, where the woman is respected, there resides the Gods, but the woman has to be respectable also, if she is not a respectable, no use respecting her. It is both ways, but the way we treat our woman, in the villages, specially in the North [India], like Bihar, U.P., Punjab, Punjab is now better, woman have taken over quite a lot. But that should not be the case, woman should remain woman but men must respect them. What I mean, that woman must be respected as they are and men must be respected as they are. They don't have to change their places but in these places, all Bengal all of them you now how [UNCLEAR].

Women commit suicides in that country because they cannot get married and they are put down. If you cannot get married what does it matter? You have to give dowry, if you don't give dowry you cannot get married.

All kinds of problems a husband will come drunkard, he will beat his wife because he is fallen in love with another woman, he is going to some other person. The wife has to come as out and she becomes a woman who has no husband, everybody ill treats the woman. All sorts of things are here, why? Because we do not understand that woman is the Shakti. In her lies the Shakti we have to respect the women.

When the women are not respected that country goes to dogs and the women must know that they are Shakti and they are to be respectable and not to be frivolous and cheap.

The way Indian women are now taking toWestern life I am really shocked that means that our tradition has no depth in it. That the way we have accepted all these nonsensical values of the West, where the West has gone to dogs and we are going to dogs for this I will hold the woman responsible who behave so cheaply on the streets and in the offices and in the houses. It is the women who have to keep the Dharma going.

Now with this. It is very remarkable, what is happening, if the mother of the house is not respected, is treated like a servant, she has no place in the family, husband comes from the office and shouts at her, children cannot respect her, they cannot be disciplined, if the mother is not respected. Your children can never be disciplined. You see now, you talk of indiscipline, indiscipline everywhere.

I remember, when I was young, we could not do even a thing without asking our mother. If we had our father we wanted to, he'd say, “Did you ask your mother? Go and ask your mother." In the family, in the house she was the Gṛuhalakṣhmī, she was given all the keys all the money, not a single pie was spent without asking her. But these days, the woman have become so either very miserly or so extravagant that men do not know what to do with them. It was [works] both ways. Women have to be wise, they are the axis the Dhuri of the society.

That's only possible when they are realised. Suddenly I find very rebellious woman become so, so beautiful, so beautiful and so women like, so sweet, their, their tongue, their whole behaviour everything changes so beautifully, it's surprising, even Western women I have seen, who walk like horses normally. If you see them they really walk like horses, but they change their dresses and their whole thing they become so feminine, so sweet, in their talks and everything, then what will happen to Indian women? But men must know they have to respect women, if they try to dominate their women, they will become the same as the Western woman and you will not know what to do with yourself. If the woman decides to be bad, there's no end to miseries that should not be done.

So, please make it a short circuit and let us understand that for Sahaja Yogi it is important to respect the wife.

So, that there is discipline, still I must give all My respect to the Indian women, despite all these things, despite the, all the men have changed their dresses, all the men have become English, Indian women have still kept their dresses and their discipline. Our men still think, they are great English people, but our Indian women are not willing to accept that situation.

I am not saying that there is something wrong with English, but if we are Indians we should be Indians, if they are English they should be English and in the same way with our life, when there is realisation, a woman becomes a complete woman and a man becomes a complete man.

And a complete man we have before us is Śhrī Rāma, how he loved his wife, in separation and in meeting, how he loved and how they despite all their love, how they suffered. We have before us Śhrī Rāma where he respected his wife. It is a Seashell for men to understand that you are Indians and you have to behave like them. You do not know the greatness of our Indian women. If you do not treat them well I can assure you a day will come only very cheap and nasty and what you call demonic women will be born here and you will be able to enter even your homes. You will be standing outside on your streets.

So be careful about it and also you has brought us before, the way you treat your wife the same way your daughters will be treated even worse, then you will know what you did, so be kind to her because she has married to you she is not your slave. It is very important. In northern India more because they think that southern India, Maharashtra and southern India women, men are henpecked unless and until they beat their wives they are henpecked according to them.

These ideas must be given up but this is only possible when you get your realisation real joy of leading a very happy married life extremely beautiful married life of mutual love and mutual understanding develops I have seen this happening to so many people the relationship improving the relationship between parents and children improving the whole thing becoming so joyous and so beautiful and the children becoming so obedient and so sweet.

It's a beautiful thing so when the atmosphere is fragrant with your spirituality the whole aroma, the whole atmosphere we can say completely charmed, absolutely charmed by your peaceful life. This is the bliss we have to see.

Today I talked about these things because void is very important thing for us where all our social, samajic, political, rajkiya and also our spiritual problems can be solved.

Apart from that I had told you yesterday about our physical problems tomorrow I will talk about other Chakras to you I hope you have understood today's lecture. I spoke in a very entertaining manner but you have to know that all this entertainment has to go within yourself, you have to take within your self, it's not meant for others as soon as you say it is for other, the women will look at the husbands and the husbands will look at the wives. They do not know it is meant for you and not for others. All of you should take it up, that am I doing this, am I doing this, try to correct yourself, you have to be decent husbands and decent wives and I would like to see very happy married couples amongst Sahaja Yogis, when this will happen then the great souls will take birth on this earth, you will see great people will be born.

Already so many Sahaja Yogis have given birth to very, very great souls. You will be amazed they know Kuṇḍalinī from their very childhood this will happen I am sure one day it will come and that all the souls who want to take birth will be born on this earth, especially in India.

Already lots of great souls I have seen also in England, let Me go I see in Australia I am sure it's happening everywhere. But if you are realised Souls you really become perfect parents and you really invite the great souls on this earth to work it out.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1981-02-09*, Public Program, Day 4, Heart, Viśhuddhi, Āgñyā, Sahasrāra, Constitution Club, New Delhi, India

I talked to you about the Void in our body, which is called as Bhava-sāgara, Bhava-sāgara in our Sahaja Yoga language. Today we have to understand the other Chakras, which are above the Bhava-sāgara. Last time I told you how by following wrong Gurus and spoiling your Guru principle you get problems in your stomach. Also your extreme behaviour towards religion, your fanaticism, creates problems which may go up to something like cancer. Also, the another extreme behaviour of people who become very dry by their over-activity on the right side and have no feelings for the family and neglect the family, have no relationship with their wives of a normal nature, also may develop problems of the stomach. This Chakra I didn't talk to you before about the speedometer within us, which is the Nābhī. I think I did mention something about it. This is one of the most important Chakras within us and I think before going over to other Chakras I must say that how our spleen gets spoilt and how we get into problems like blood cancer, which is a very common disease today in west and is also invading our country, with such a speed.

This is a... I didn't talk to you about it but I have talked about this to other people.

Now this spleen is the one, which creates blood cells for our emergencies. Any emergency comes in, it has to produce new blood cells to fight the emergency or to face the emergency or to solve the problems of the emergency. In the modern times, we have lost the idea of controlling our speed. We talks telescopically, we walk telescopically, we arrive at a point so telescopically that the point is left behind before we arrive.

Now this spleen is the one, when you are eating your food, is also producing blood corpuscles to fight or you can say to digest the food. At the same time if you are listening to some horrid news and horrible emergencies that suddenly, come up or if you are reading newspapers, or if you are running away to your office, this is a very common thing with government servants that they have no time for their breakfast.

They will take one hour in the bathroom and in five minutes, they want to finish their breakfast. All such persons face the problem of getting into some sort of a complication of the spleen because when you eat your food and suddenly try to run the poor spleen has to go with the double speed to cope up with your additional activities.

It used to be a style in olden days that all the people would sit for food very comfortably and the food was served with great care and everybody was given sufficient time to eat the food. And there would be a lady to fan the gentleman who would keep the pace of the man's eating process at a proper level and the food would be eaten with little leisure. But nowadays I find that people have no sense that we are human beings and we are not machines.

In Delhi, I feel the schools are really very cruel people. I find even in this winter season the children have to go to school at 6:30 or 6 o'clock in the morning and somebody must bring some legal procedure against these schools. It's absolutely essential, your children are going to be in great difficulties if you do not pay attention to this fact. To get up early in the morning at that time, then walk in the cold season, take their bath, many people take their bath, also with hot water and then suddenly go out in that cold, take your breakfast just in a standing manner, in a very rushing manner, the mother is running with a bottle in the hand and pouring the milk for the child and the child is some or other trying to gulp it down and taking a bread in the hand and rushing about. This is even worse than military, I can tell you.

For such small children who are growing, it is essential that they must have their breakfast when they are quiet and tuned with the atmosphere, not at the early in the morning at 6:30 to get up and rush them with their breakfast is something extremely cruel that we are doing to our children. This will not only spoil their Viśhuddhi according to, I think modern people, Viśhuddhi trouble is to be accepted all the time, means all cold, coughs, all that are a part of life, you can't complain about it, somehow it has to go hand in hand with you. They do not want to find solutions for that.

People might say that people in the olden day's people used to get up at 4 o'clock, all right they are good but they never used to get out of their houses so fast and the style of life was very different in those days. People had very good food to eat, they had things full of vitamins and the pressures on their lives were much less, much less. As, it is we have no time to pay any attention to our children. On top of that, the way we hurried them up is so dangerous, that I don't know, I have never known that children go so early in Delhi which is so freezingly cold so early and come back home at about 2:30 in the afternoon. To come back at 2:30 in the afternoon, after eating that hurried meal at home, or whatever you call a breakfast or whatever you may call it, so-called and then come back at 2:30 and what are they going to eat? There's timing for everything. The food digestion takes about three hours and children feel hungry. As it is there is no food and this is how for about five and a half hours, you keep them away in the schools without any food for what? What knowledge are you giving to your children? What is the special knowledge that you are giving to your children? What is such a great thing that the world has achieved by having these institutions of educations, so-called? First of all you are creating children who will be very sick. It is not going to give them longevity.

Secondly, the way people rush about for their work. In the morning time, there is no need to rush about. If you can get up early in the morning, sleep early and get up in the morning, take your time and eat your breakfast properly and go to office, have something in the afternoon and then in the evening, you'll be amazed, you'll get over fifty percent of your sickness because at the right time, if you give a proper practice to your stomach, you get your juices oozing out at the right time. You don't make your stomach crazy by that. But, by this kind of emergency all the time arising, listening to horrible things at the time, when you are eating your food or doing something important, your spleen goes crazy. It does not know. It loses its power to produce proper blood cells. It does not know how to produce it, it really becomes crazy and in that craziness, it starts producing blood cells, at odd hours, wrong hours, it does not know when to produce, it is always in emergency, it is never stationed in its normal state. At this stage, if there is an attack from your collective subconscious area, about which now doctors are now talking in England, that there is an attack, of some proteins unknown to them, they call them as protein 58 and all that, you are very much prone to get blood cancer.

Moreover, if your attention is too much on the left or to the right to the extreme, you are even more prone. For example, you are a planner, you plan morning till evening, so your attention is more on the future, that means that your attention is on the right hand side, it's like a clot you can say, there is a tension in the stomach, is protruding to the right or to the left. Now, if your attention is too much on the right, means you are planning all the time, as I told you, doctors may not accept it but, it is a fact that when you think too much and plan too much, your Nābhī or your Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, is converting the fats cells for the use of the brain. At that time, if you put more pressure into it, by over-activity of the right hand side, which is your kriya Shakti, it happens that you may enter into it such an extent that at that time, if you are having any such problem, you are easy to get some problem with your liver because it is on the right hand side and the poor liver suffers, you get sclerosis of the liver or just like cancer of the liver.

Now, in Sahaja Yoga, what happens really is this, your attention spreads like a cloth and when the Kuṇḍalinī, rises, She pushes your attention upward and the attention is a sheath around the Kuṇḍalinī.

When She pierces the Brahmarandhra, then your attention starts oozing out, into the Supreme or Super, what we call the Super Consciousness, which is here, which is the sukshma which is the subtle consciousness.

Your whole attention is pulled up there and that is how you cure your blood cancer, your liver cancer and all the cancer that is connected with this kind of attention. Not only cancer but many other diseases, like kidney trouble, liver trouble and all other you can say diabetes, intestinal troubles and even you might get relief to your diaphragm, sometimes which is very much in tension, with people who are agitated all the time.

Those people who think they are important, I think are really not aware, of what importance they have to themselves. We must understand our own esteem; we must know that we are human beings and that we are very important to God if not to anybody else. As human beings, we have to also realise that we have come on this earth, from amoeba stage to this stage and God has worked so hard for us that we have no business to go on slashing ourselves into absolutely ridiculous sick people who are no good for God and no good for anyone whatsoever.

Now, this attention is, how it is diverted from this to that can be seen that when people, are very much right handed or ego-oriented, as we call it, they try to take their attention, away from their ego.

Actually those people who are very ego-oriented, always take to some kind of intoxication because they just can't sleep in the night. Their attention is so much on the future that they cannot sleep. By sleep, they might go into the left side so they have to drink a lot. They will have more alcohols than normal people do. They'll have drugs or they will have some sort of a thing, ultimately they have to take sleeping pills, without sleeping pills they cannot sleep. The reason is, the attention in the man is so disturbed and he does not know how to give it a proper chance to lead a normal existence that this attention is always thinking, thinking, thinking like mad and he does not know how to stop that thing. I n Sahaja Yoga, it happens automatically because your attention goes beyond thinking. You develop your thoughtless awareness, without any difficulties, but you do not establish it. You have to establish your thoughtless awareness and for that, you have to work it out and that working out takes little time.

If people can really work it out properly, they can never get into these troubles. On the contrary, even if they may not be doctors, or may not be physicians, they may be able to cure other people who have this problem. But in Sahaja Yoga, you must know that this is a new knowledge for you. It was a secret knowledge before this, very much a secret. Of course, I must say Kabīr das and Guru Nanaka and Ādi Shañkarāchārya and all these people talked of Kuṇḍalinī. Gñyāneśhwara talked of Kuṇḍalinī and he said that this is this and this is that. But they did not give a full detailed idea about Sahaja Yog because it was useless to tell them all about it when they were not realised. But they did inform because they knew that this time was going to come when they will be told about it and if they had not said about this, they would have come up and said, “From where are you getting word Kuṇḍalinī? It is not written anywhere." Because as I told yesterday in My lecture that people have more faith in My photograph that than in Myself.

Human beings are so funny that they believe into something that is printed than what is said. Just now, I am saying something to you. I am standing before you. But when I am in the present, you do not want to accept Me. But if I've said something and is printed and you'll say, “Yes." I've seen also people who have My tapes, they believe into My tapes than into My speeches when I am speaking to them. It's more surprising how a human mind rushes off to the past or to the future. This is a human nature, which is always going out and it is the attention, which is going out because of a particular problem within human beings.

Now that problem that I just cannot discuss because I need little drawings for that which we don't have. But I have got in some of My speeches I've explained, why the attention of man goes out because of his prismatic nature of his brain. But that is not prismatic nature and the, I should say, the dual density of his brain creates a problem, by which the attention of man goes out, so the attention of the man has to be sucked in. If I tell you, “You pay attention to Me” you can, if I tell these children, “Pay attention to Me." They may for a while, but again they start playing.

So, if I tell them that “pay attention to Me” they'll see Me and they'll start paying attention to Me. But if I say, “Pay attention to yourself” you cannot pay.

You may say that, “All right, we are praying inside, we are doing antara Yoga, this that." These all are myth, it's not there. When the attention is inside, you are in the present, you don't think, you are in the present. When the attention is outside, then either you are on the left side or the right side, by which you are paying attention to your past or to the future. All your thoughts are coming from the past and from the future. At this present moment, there is no thought. But this to, stop this, is very difficult. You say now, you cannot do that. There's a space in between, which is called Vilamba, which is achieved through Kuṇḍalinī awakening, it passes through the left and right side of ego and superego and in the center you achieve your thoughtless awareness.

Now, this process of Kuṇḍalinī rising upward can be hampered at a level. Another Chakra which is at the heart level, in the center in the spinal cord. It is expressed outside in the sternum and we can say that till the boy or the girl is about twelve years of age, from the sternum the antibodies are created, they go in the whole body and spread there and fight the diseases. Now, these antibodies, in Sahaja Yoga language, are the armies of the Jagadambā, of Durgā, of the Mother of this world. She resides in this center according to Sahaja Yoga language. But it may be that people will not believe into it, “How can that be that Durgā resides there?" Somebody told Me that it's not written in the book. I said, “Thank God, it is not written." Otherwise you'd have never understood it and you'd have a mess of everything, as you have done it, of whatever was written has been made into a enigma of your own.

So now, this Goddess is in this center. When this center is out of gear, first of all your antibodies are reduced. There are so many medicines, which reduce your antibodies. But people take it because it gives them a little relief for the time being. But they become then prone to other diseases because if the antibodies are reduced, then you cannot find the other, other diseases and the strength is reduced.

Now, in all our medicines, we forget that we are a complete being, we are not just the physical being, but emotional being and also a mental being and above all, a spiritual being. Now when we forget this, we are only worried about the physical side of it. And when our physical side is in trouble, we want to do everything under the sun. But we do not know that by doing so we are spoiling our emotional side. By spoiling our emotional side, it can be very dangerous, that medicines, which reduce the antibodies in the body, can lead you to madness, ultimately. First, they give you giddiness, you sleep a lot and after that too much sleeping, too much of these medicines, can cause madness because you are thrown into the left side and you can be attacked and and you can become a mad person.

So this medicines are so dangerous that people without understanding the complete nature of man just try to treat part of it. In Sahaja Yoga we, as he said, I do not take any medicines My... as Kabīra has said I do not take any medicines for Me Parabrahma is the one who is My Vaidhya, He treats Me. And is a fact, now the time has come to prove what Kabīra has said, what Nanaka has said, what Ādi Shañkarāchārya has said, what Christ has said.

There is no need to take medicine to cure this center.

We spoil this center by other means also. For example, if you... there can be very simple reasons for spoiling this. You take your bath with hot water. Normally to take a hot bath or... hot bath is all right but that should be done in the night when you don't go out at all. Then you sleep off, you are in the room and there cannot be a problem. But I've seen in England most of the Indians who come and see Me have got trouble with their lungs. They have a problem with their lungs and sometimes they get lung cancer very easily and what I found out that they take a very hot bath like English people. Actually English people take seldom their baths.

So and it is very common to see in English homes sixty bedrooms with a bath you see because they don't require it much. But even if they have to take they take in the night. They don't take it early in the morning like Indians do you see you have to live in England the way English are and not that you cannot live like that is bit too much but still you can sometimes understand that if you have to take the bath early in the morning and then go to office you are definite to catch this center or the center next to that which is called as right Heart in our Sahaja Yoga language.

Now this Center Heart is caught or the right Heart is caught because you suddenly expose yourself to cold weather. In the same way in Delhi you may catch it, that you just have your hot bath and you get out into the cold. Now best thing is that you take your hot bath always and then allow the water to be mixed with cold water make the tap run and then you take your bath end up with cool water. You will be amazed you will never catch cold. Is a very simple thing to do. Once you practice this, you will never catch cold. I have seen people living very near Himālayas where it's absolutely very, very cold twelve months.

They always take their baths early in the morning sitting outside with cold water. They never take bath with hot water. They never have hot water to take their bath and I have not seen any person suffering from this cold in the hills. They keep very good health as far as the cold is concerned despite the fact it is very cold. It's a matter of little habit, if the Sahaja Yogis who are realised Souls, if they practice this I tell you all your Viśhuddhis which are so horribly caught up will be alright and I will have less trouble.

Because today I was clearing everybody's Viśhuddhis there.

Now this right side heart is caught up is more surprising that it is caught up because it is the, it is bestowed upon by the deity of Śhrī Rāma. Śhrī Rāma is the father deity. He is the father, he is the father king and he is the father of this world, is the father head. Supposing you, you are a bad father, you will catch this. Ultimately, with this center you always get asthma, always. All asthma patients who came to Me have been cured so far. I have cured most of the ailments of the right Heart. There is another cause of this is supposing somebody's father is dead in the early years, very early years when the child was not yet properly settled down or he died at a time with an accident or may be with a... with a worry about the child. Then he haunts the child. This is true. At that time if you just tell your father that I am alright don't worry you take your birth I will be alright, you will be amazed, this asthma can go. There was a governor of Kashmir, who was a very, very respectable man and we had gone to him as state guests.

One morning he came walking bare feet in Kashmir to our guesthouse. I was amazed why he was walking down.

So went down to see him.

He said, “Today I have come to see You as a Mother and not as Mrs. Srivastava. And I have come to ask You for one boon that I have had this asthma for twenty-five years and can You cure me?" And it was cured in five minutes at. It's that simple. If you take the name of Śhrī Rāma, if, if Nanaka says is alright or if Kabīra does is alright but if you unauthorized way you go on pestering Śhrī Rām for everything then also this Chakra can be caught. Those people who believe in Hanumāna also if they go on too much with it, it can be caught. Hanumāna is the deity for your air, for your breathing and when you try to suffocate Hanumāna within you, you get the trouble of His disappearing from that center or you can say He sleeps and you get these two troubles of one is asthma and also sometimes you might get choking. Suddenly, people, some people when they are talking they suddenly choke.

Now this, this is very easy to cure, very, very easy to cure asthma can be cured very easily. But the Center Heart when it is in problem it can be with anything. We have here a patient who was doing this Santoshi Mata's brath and she got this trouble. Now this Santoshi Mata, there's nothing like that. It's absurd. This Santoshi Mata is created by some cinema fellow and all the women are doing this and they are fasting on Friday. If you fast on Friday in the name of Goddess, you can fast if you want to, but not in the name of Goddess. You are definite to catch this thing because that is the day when She was born.

Friday is the day as regarded as the day of the Goddess. And that day one has to celebrate it instead of fasting. Apart from that when you start taking Her name morning till evening every time She gets fed up of you and She disappears from them. She just doesn't like you and you might develop a big problem. She is the one who gives you sense of security. She is the one she gives you sense of security. When your sense of security is disturbed then you get the catch on this one.

For example, the women who suffer from say breast cancer are only doing so because of this because she is the great mother and as a mother, you suffer. Supposing your husband is a bad man and is a flirt and the woman thinks he is not all right. It is important for man to console his wife and see that she has complete faith in her security. But specially in India we try to make our women extremely insecure by the way we talk to them, the way we treat them. I mean we are extremely cruel people as far as our wives are concerned. Because I've seen people here, we have such a big dowry system and all sorts of systems in all our horrible customs and castes. If a daughter is there then there's all weakness for her but the wife is also daughter of somebody else, nobody thinks. They will say if the wife asks for anything, go and ask your father. Why didn't he give it in the marriage? There is no fondness for the wife. There is no understanding that she is the one who is to be loved. She is to be given all the security. And we put all kinds of insecurities into her. We shout at her, some...

So many people also beat their wives. In England, invariably men beat their wives, surprisingly supposed to be very educated sophisticated people. The more sophisticated they are the worse they are.

Not only they beat their wives but they kill their children. Every week two children are killed in England. And we are going the same way. I tell you I had never known people who used to beat their wives when I was a child or when I was grown up. I have seen My father that he always respected My mother very much. But now a days I find that husbands have no respect for the wife at all. They think they are very great people even if they are clerks or anything they think the wife is a peon. If the... if the husband is a peon he thinks the wife is a jamadar. If he is the jamadar I don't know what he must be thinking his wife to be. And this kind of mythical complexes that human beings have developed, women develop this style, kind of trouble, especially when men are flirts.

You see when men start looking out for other women it upsets women; it upsets their sense of security.

She is the mother of future. She feels that any day she is challenged and any days she will be insulted she is a mother and as your children's mother, she must be respected. If she is not respected, then she is absolutely prone to this kind of a sense of insecurity in which she might develop this breast cancer.

And this breast cancer is a very serious disease, as you know. We have cured many people from breast cancer; many people have been cured of breast cancer and the relationship between husband and wife has improved afterwards. But once she get breast cancer, then you should see the husband. He gets absolutely upset, he doesn't know what to do because Indian husbands do not know how to cook even, they do not know even how to buy a vegetable, they don't know what are different dhals are. They don't know any work whatsoever in the house. They are not like English husbands or any Western husbands and some of the Western people told Me that Indian men are cowards. They cannot take a divorce because they do not know how to cook.

So, this is the condition of our Indian men, they are entirely dependent on their wives for everything, still they try to dominate their women so much and I am speaking in English, I am sorry I have to say this but it's the case. And when, you see, the women, when they find men behaving like this, they become tigresses.

Some of them become such horrible tigresses that they can ruin not only the family but families after families and nations after nations.

You are creating a woman who is challenging you and then once she starts challenging and the result of that I have seen in England or in any such country, France, Germany, Germany specially. In Germany women are hitlerish, absolutely hitlerish, men shake before them. Absolutely, they are just like [UNCLEAR heartese], you see working in the [UNCLEAR hamals] house. The woman stands with both hand on her hips and she says, “You haven't cleaned this. You haven't done this, what have you been doing? This is not clean." They have to clean all the utensils in the house, everything they have to keep the kitchen, absolutely sparklingly clean otherwise the men would be scolded on, “You don't know how to keep it clean? Better go and learn from your neighbour." And poor neighbours consult each other and do their homework.

Moreover the laws are such that, they have passed such laws that when the wife divorces a husband, she gets half of the property, half of the income of the husband, as long as she does not get married. For example, a man is living in a huge big place. Suddenly his wife decides to divorce him, decides, there's no reason needed for that, if she decides to divorce, then they get a divorce and the house is to be sold and the money is to be given half, half. Then if such a wife marries twice, thrice she's a rich lady while this man is a pauper. This is a very common sight. I've seen this very common in America, specially, that, she says that he was my husband, he looks like a chauffeur. And this lady is going in such big Cadillas and all that, with a, I wouldn't say cigarette, it's more than that and with a stick in the hand, you see, very smart.

And while the husband is all tattered and torn and working as a chauffeur somewhere.

So, that another extreme is also horrid. A woman is not to be like that, she has to be a decent gracious personality and she is not to take up this challenge, it is not wise to take these challenges from men. At least, Indian women know that, most of them know, I hope so, they'll keep it up. But the men must understand now that they have to respect women. If they do not respect their women, then the daughters that they have, will becoming out like that and they'll show such results that you'll be shocked. One day they may even slap their father on the face. It is quite possible all such things can happen in this country also.

So one has to be careful. [Now I have] said it because these two centers are very important, Śhrī Rāma, who is the deity of Maryādās, of boundaries, how a human being must live. All His life, He never showed any special interest in giving realisation to people. But, of course, He destroyed Rāvaṇa and He destroyed many Rākshasas. But main message of His life is a life of a dedicated husband, who loved His wife very much and a man who sacrificed His beloved for the sake of His being a good king. But just the other way round you find, in this country where we think love is great. Here, I've known of many Ministers whose wives rule the family. Take, sacrifice is not there, on the contrary, their wives are so important that they can make the husbands just sit in the corner and nobody says anything about it.

But I've also known even worst cases where the whole country is sold, in the name of their children.

It is such a serious thing. We do not understand that these children are not something that are going to carry your name but what is going to carry your name is your own worth, is your own style, is in your own character and your own leadership. Nobody is going to be bothered who is your son or who is your daughter or who is who.

So those people who try such things to think that their children and their children or children are so important, then they should realise that it was Śhrī Rāma who sacrificed His beloved, when She was pregnant and He led a life of an ascetic remembering His wife. This sacrifice was too much for Śhrī Rām because He really loved Her, really, would not exist without Her, it was too much and then at a time when it comes to Sītā also left Him. And She left Him in Her own grace and in Her own grandeur. She didn't allow Him to touch His body and She just disappeared, like a woman has to do.

While in the modern times, it is not so? If the husband has harmed you, then the women will go to the courts, she'll put him in the jail and she'll see that he's punished nicely. Why? Because he was busy with other women. Now, what I am saying if you think that you love your husband and that's why you are angry that he should have nothing to do with other women. Why should you put him in the jail? Why should you trouble him and torture him? So we have to realise that husband and wife relationship is extremely important for Sahaja Yogis. You are the complements of each other. If the relationship is not all right, Sahaja Yoga does not work out. It is not that a woman becomes so dominant but it is the compliment, the love between the two, the beauty of love and the understanding.

You need not even smile at your husband, you need not even, when he is going, you see in England I've seen or anywhere else I've seen, people will be all the time kissing each other and doing all kinds of gestures to show that they love. And if you ask them, “Where are you going?" Even on an escalator you'll find them like that and if you ask them where are they going they'll say that” Just now we are going for a divorce case." The show is not important, but from the heart, you must feel that oneness with your husband and that love for him and the husband must feel that love and it's the only relationship, it's the only, believe Me which is most beautiful.

The relationship with your children, you'll understand when they'll earn, with your daughter she'll understand when they are married, with your parents also, when they are grown up.

You are grown up you have your wife, fine you'll find there'll be a conceit coming up. But the relationship with your wife is the most private and the most treasured relationship and that's why people have sung so many poems about it and so many things. In Indian language, there we have a certain law about even writing. Whatever is not hitakāri is not accepted because it is called as Sāhitya, Sāhitya means Saha Hit, the one which gives Hita to your Ātmā is the only Sāhitya. The literature is Sāhitya, whichever is not is not literature, it's trash. And in Sanskrit language Sringara, which is not with your wife, is not a Sringār, is ashing. It has to be with your wife or to whom you are engaged to and it is such a pure thing, is such a pure thing. And if people can understand how to enjoy that purity, they'll become themselves pure and they'll have the best essence of it.

You see when it comes to buying something, we want pure silk, we want pure diamond, we want pure gold. But when it comes to our love, we want to have all kinds of mixed up impurities, perversions and then we say, “O I got tired. I cannot enjoy" because it is not pure. Purity of that relationship must be enjoyed. In Sahaja Yoga we don't believe in Sannyāsa, as I told you and there should be no Sannyāsa now, because there are many great souls who want to be born on this earth and we have to make arrangements for them. We have to have people who are happily married, who respect each other, love each other, so that the great saints can be born here.

In this relation, I would say a very interesting talk that I had with a BBC fellow who came to interview Me. And he was, as usual, they are very sarcastic and they think they are very smart. They did not know that they're meeting a smarter person. First he said to Me that “How is it that You are here and doing so much for us but why don't You go and help Indians who are so poor?" I said, “I am sorry Sir, I am in England and I am on your soil, I shouldn't say this, it's not gracious for Me to say but you've asked such a question, I must answer it. With full apologies, I must say who is responsible for the poverty of India?" And he kept quiet. Then he came out with second question, you see, very smart fellow. He said that “But, what do You think of the population problem of India? We are so much worried about it. Why don't You look after the population problem of Your India?" “Of course I am in England, I would have never been there, I am only there because My husband is there." But I said, “Really, I am sorry that this is in India, what to do? There's no solution for it." He said, “Are we also responsible for that?" I said, “I am sorry to say, but very much so." He said, “How are we responsible for Your population problem?" I said, “The trouble is, you see, the people who are taking birth have to decide, who will take birth in this England?" The two children every week are killed by the parents for nothing at all, where the children are legal, everything, who, which foolish man will take birth here except for people who are of very high grade? Spirituality, you don't bother about these things, or only the Rākshasas who will come and hit their parents and that's what they are doing today. They are treating you well, the way your parents you don't know what to do with them. And this is what it is I have to tell you that unless and until we really respect our wives and give them proper attention and proper help, the discipline of this country is not going to improve. It is she who disciplines the children. It's important to give her a complete sense of security and the conceit of man has to go away, that he thinks he's very important, is not. It is both, if they are together, then the whole unit is important, you can't live with one eye, you have to have both the eyes. If one eye thinks that it's more important, that means one eye should disappear to see what happens without it.

After these, we come to another center, which is extremely important, in Sahaja Yoga called as Viśhuddhi Chakra, which is placed behind this part. Now this is not on exact position in every human being, it's little lower, higher, so one should not say that this is at this point. Because you have to understand, this I am talking about the living process. You can put dead things at exact positions, at the exact date.

But can you say that the tree will grow in this form, can you say before the trees grown, it'll take its own form. Can you say the roots will grow like that? Can you say so many exactly so many flowers will be there? Or exactly so many flowers will become fruits? You cannot say. Can you say at this time, at this hour, at this moment, the flower is going to become the fruit? So, in the same way, you cannot say exactly about Sahaja Yoga that where is this particular center is placed? It's above that. You have to feel it, the vibrations and you can make it out that is some person, it's slightly higher, in some person, it is lower.

But why it is so important is this center is that this denotes our real evolution into a human being.

When the man raised his head up like that, this center developed into us by which we developed this ego and superego within us. How this has happened is another big lecture for which I would request you to read something on Advent or something like that where it is a little bit explained. How the awareness of man when he raised his head like this that his ego started developing and when he raised it like that it started dominating its superego or its mana. This development within human beings is so important because at this time, here, resides Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is sampūrn. It's called as sixteen-petalled, sampūrna, complete incarnation and sixteen petals are expressed as sixteen sub-plexuses in cervical plexus.

The cervical plexus looks after the gross side of the face and the nose and the eyes and the ears and the throat. And, but the subtler side of this center is very important, which is the left side is the subconscious side. And in the left side is the person who feels very guilty or a person who has not proper understanding of pure relationships of other women or other men. Such a person develops this, in his left side.

Now one may say that what's wrong in all these perverted relationships with others? And what goes wrong with us? You see in the west specially, people believe that you can have any kind of relationships with anyone, no age nothing and they quite boast of it. I mean it's such a funny thing, sometimes when I first went there, I had no idea that they were in that extent, they were mad. Because the first thing, in those days, when I reached there was the first thing on the page was love letter by an eighty-year-old lady to an eighteen year old boy. And it was written and every his love letter was there. And this love letter became such a headache to Me, I could not understand how could these people think of such horrible things and write such letters and publish them in the papers? And this kind of madness, if you have, if you do not have the sense of purity about the relationship with others, you develop this left Viśhuddhi.

With the left Viśhuddhi, you develop lots of problems. With your tobacco and smoking also you can develop sometimes left Viśhuddhi and also right Viśhuddhi. When left Viśhuddhi is developed too much, then you'll find a man when he speaks, he stammers, his face is always going to contortions, his body is doing like this, noses, you'll find all the Americans do like that. Like this they will be moving, there'll be nervousness on the face and they would not be normal people. The thing is their left Viśhuddhi is in a problem. As we say the pishani, this forehead is absolutely wrinkled up and they have big, big furrows at the very young age because I was amazed that some woman who was only just thirty years of age, half of My age, had such furrows and I thought that she was an old lady, I was very respectful to her, I got up, gave her My seat and all that and I was standing up.

And after sometime, she said, “Thank You very much." And “very kind of You" and all that and eventually asked Me.

Somehow I asked her, “What are you doing?" She said, “I am studying, doing Ph.D." I said, “What? Still studying? What's your age?" She said, “Thirty." I said, “Really? Will you please get up? I have to sit down." I mean there, the criteria of health, is to be just like mosquitoes, you see the trouble is they have to be like mosquitoes. And as it is, they must remain very, thin just like as we call in Hindi, haddimarka. And on top of that they wear high heels, you see and walk just like, what you call, like spiders you see, from here to there and you don't know where they'll put their foot onto you? And that is regarded as a beauty there. And so surprising that at a very young age they start looking so very old that this mistake can be done by many of us.

Moreover, the another problem comes of left Viśhuddhi, when people do not have proper sense of womanhood and manhood. It's very common in England and other countries, Western countries, like America is much worse, you cannot make out a man from a woman. You see, the woman dress up just like horses, they walk like horses, I mean, the whole thing is so funny that, you see, this is big problem for us how to address? And sometimes it happens like this that in a meeting, I forget all the time that this is a man, I always was saying “She." Then they say, “No this is a man." Then this is a man, this is such a problem.

One day, we were going by a car, My husband and Myself we asked ourselves, “Do you think the person who is going in the other car is a man or a woman?" I said, “Now." Then our car went ahead still we looked back, He said, “I can't see." I said, “I can't [UNCLEAR say/see?]." So, I asked our driver, who is an Englishman, he looked back and said, “Madam, “We are sorry, I am also sorry I am a foreigner, I don't know." So this kind of perverted attitude, to behave like this, you see, you are a man behave like a man, if you are a woman, behave like a woman. If you start behaving like a man, or woman behaving like a man and a man behaving like a woman, you see, you must understand your muscles are made the way you are. For example, a man can do lot of work that women cannot do. There's no need to be like Russian women who are doing the, what you call, road rollers there, driving or whatever it is. You see, they say that Russian women can do this, but I tell you Russians, I do not want to say much, but only thing I know that when they shake hands, you know all your hand goes out. [UNCLEAR Faulād]. That's all I know, I know from the shake hands, you see, we have to shake hands with many people and when Australians also are quite capable. When Australians shake your hands, it can be sure that, at least, if not much, some, some ounces are lost.

Now, this is the thing is that men have to be men and women have to be women. When the women become very arrogant and become very aggressive, then men also to overpower them, become even more and a sort of a competition starts and then they become, first become like donkeys, then become like horses, then they'll become like mares then become like lions, then tigers and you get lost among them, you don't know what's that matter? You see any film, anything you find anything. Nothing going on except fighting going on between husband and wife, as if they are married just to fight, they have no place to fight, so they are married. All the time, this kind of a struggle, this kind of a competition, that goes about gives you a very bad Viśhuddhi. And that men are smoking, “What's wrong if we smoke?" “What's wrong?" This is a very common thing.

And now, another madness is the liberation of women has started. God knows what is going to happen to these women? What sort of left Viśhuddhi they will be having. They'll be having a head just like this, they might have a cancer in this part, maybe and they might have trouble because they are doing some kind of things which are unnatural, which is not suitable. It's possible also in our Indian life, we can get cancer of our left Viśhuddhi, how do you get cancer of the left Viśhuddhi in Indian life is by taking the mantras, by taking the name of God for hours together. For example, if you start singing the song is all right. But if you go on saying Rām, Rām, Rām, Rām, Rām, morning till evening, you might develop a cancer.

I had a patient who came to see Me who had a cancer of the left side.

I asked him, “What do you do? How did you get this?" He told Me that he is working for a firm, which supplies people to chant God's name.

I said, “What?" He said, “Yes, there is a firm which has people trained how to chant God's name and they are supplied to all the Marvadis. Whenever they have a program, they put up this there who go on chanting names for hours together." They go on chanting this name all the time and this chanting has created a problem for that man because he had a job just “Rām, Rām, Rām, Rām." I don't know whatever it is and they sit down there and they go on chanting these, the money is paid for them.

And also, you see, in this country we have all funny types of institutions. It's nice to laugh at the Western people, but if we see ourselves, we'll be amazed, that we have people here in this country who go for crying also. If somebody's dead and there are few people to cry, they have people on hire, for crying and they cry so loudly I mean that they have given a special, I did not know but then we had a friend who is our neighbour and he said the best crying people are in this particular agency and if you call them, they'll be very good. Then also we have people who are all the time shouting slogans, you see, this country is known for slogans, you won't find better sloganists people than Indians are. And the slogans they have is such a, such a business, they make business out of, that's typically Indian is to make business out of everything.

So the slogan now, all right, “We'll supply slogan people. You want this slogans, all right, we'll give you." Now in Delhi, perhaps, you do not know, I know this because I was with Lal Bahadur Shashtri, with My husband and I've seen this that one day people came to shout for something with the slogans, you see, near his place, there was a round about, where people came and started shouting, slogans. And when they started shouting slogans, they were supposed to represent a particular party and they had other banners in their hands and other caps and they were shouting something else, while they were supposed to represent something.

So, people asked them, “Are you shouting for them? We have paid you for this and why are you shouting for our opposite party?" So they said, “No, no, there must be a mistake, you see, they just informed us this and we have sets of caps and sets of slogans and sets of banners.

So, they gave us and we came here, what to do now? Whatever they have given us, now you go and change it and we'll start shouting for another one." So all this kind of shouting, too much talking or keeping quiet unnecessarily, that is very common in India that is to talk. We talk too much and maybe we talk too much and we can catch on the right Viśhuddhi very badly. While in England, they won't talk much, they just won't talk, you see, they just stare to you with their eyes you see and you can be quite frightened the way they look at you. They don't believe in talking much, but they believe in drinking much more. And I have seen that the people do not realise what a strain it is for your throat to talk.

Actually, I have seen it Myself, I have to talk such a lot everyday, I mean if there is one center which really gives Me troubles is My throat, because I have to speak, unless and until I speak, people are not very happy. For example, today was one day, I never wanted to speak, you know what's the matter with Me. I am so full of vibrations; I did not want to speak. But without speech, Indians won't be happy, I thought, “I better speak." And same with the other people. They'd love to hear Me talk, talk, talk. And when we do that we can on our Viśhuddhi and we have problems on our Viśhuddhi and is rather difficult to cure a throat where this strain is there to talk. All our leaders have to do the same and we have so many leaders that I think we can patent some sort of a medicine for their over talking.

Now, after that we have a very, very important center, here, of which you all know, is Āgñyā Chakra and this center is very important because this center is placed between the pituitary and the pineal body, is a very subtle center. And this center controls both your ego and superego so that it controls your thought.

A person whose this center is out of gear, loses power over his thoughts. A person who is possessed, will be all the time talking, he cannot stop. I've seen in Paris, when you get into a bus, you see, some old people will come up and they'll be talking all the time, they're all the time talking.

I asked, “What are they talking?" So My disciple told Me there, Marie, “Mother, they are talking about the last war." I said, “What? People don't say anything?" At least in Indian buses, I have not seen, every bus stops there are three or four people coming and talking loudly and they are regarded as mad people, they get down again they start talking. This kind of a disease can come in a person who is hit by a possession on the right or on the left hand side, but is more with the Āgñyā. If you are hit at the back, it's a possession from outside, but if you are hit in the front, it is a possession from the inside, autohypnosis. For a man who is egoistical, you might get a very bad Āgñyā here and such a bad Āgñyā, it's like a balloon, it goes, you feel, you should be away from that person as soon as possible. There are people who develop ego with all kind of misidentifications. For example, if somebody gets a promotion, or if he gets a little more money than others or has a little better life than others, he develops this, special type of a ego. Ego-oriented people are normally grow taller and superego people become dwarfs. But ego-oriented people also have a certain type of a nose, you see, very straight nose if they are born with the ego. Now for such people, it is important to see their ego and watch it and laugh at it, make a fun out of it and then only they can get rid of it. After realisation, ego starts troubling you, you can feel the pain of ego here. You come to Me, “Mother, I am catching on my right Āgñyā. Please take it away, please take it away." Ego is more a cultural problem also. In a culture where competition and is very struggling and all the suggestions come to you that you have to stand first, you have to be a unique personality, you start developing your ego. Because your action line moves very fast, by that, by that Kriya Shakti, you create ego within you. People pamper you that by this, your ego will be all right, but they do not know, they say, “Oh you look very nice." It's pampering. It's the pampering of your ego from your childhood, the whole society works it out, by which you think, `Oh, I must be unique person, I should be something special. I should be something great.' Any uniqueness is against God's laws, it's malignancy. If such a cell can become malignant, you may start eating upon. What happened to Hitler was nothing but he became malignant. He could not see why he was destroying others. The thing is, when you have ego, you destroy others, you are not harmed and you cannot see it.

The people who are superego or mana or which we call the possessions of the left side, such people, do not destroy others but they are destroyed themselves.

So the ego in front and ego at the back is only felt after realisation and can only be corrected after realisation. Back ego, you might feel as madness, or lunacy or some sort of a pain in the body, the whole body is in pain, it moves, it comes here, goes there, it's definitely, it's a possession. But the right ego, [UNCLEAR few] people, very few people are aware of it because it doesn't give trouble to you, it troubles others. Now this is also a curse of, I would say, so-called advancement and development and sophistication, is a curse of that.

So, if you go to the right too much, you develop your ego, you go too much to the left, you develop your superego. The best thing for you, is to be in your Dharma, to be in the center, be moderate. To be moderate, with yourself, don't try to show off. Do not think, you have to be unique. You need not, who is bothered about you? It is you, who should respect yourself. It's not the others. If supposing, you have a big car, or anything nobody respects you, on the contrary they must be saying, “This must be a black marketer who got a big car." But ego can develop in a subtle way when people talk of their comforts. When we talk about comforts, we always say that we must have our comforts, we must be comfortable. This is a very, very subtle way, secret way, we develop our ego.

Bernard Shaw was saying that “After all, what is the difference between me and an ordinary coolie, an ordinary laborer? It's just the same. Why should I have more comfort and he should have less comfort?" Of course, one can understand also that a man who is doing work as a laborer does not have to use his brain too much so he thinks he can put up with little exertions. While the man who is sitting on the chair is not used to the, the exertions or you can say the hard way of life so he finds it difficult. But it is such a vicious circle that when you do this brain activity, you develop you ego then you want more comfort and then you want to do more mental activity, then you want more comfort and it's a very vicious circle.

When you try to break through with that, I mean, I must say the Western young people are doing it because they have accepted hippism. Now hippism is a reaction of that ego. They say, “No, we live in a very Spartan way. We want to have uncomfortable. We must rough it out." This is a very good idea but when they are doing it, they have taken to another thing, horrible thing like drugs to go to superego.

When you get your realisation, you start seeing this ego so clearly, ego, superego both so clearly and you know how to take them out. You know how to balance yourself, how to reduce the pressure of ego or superego and you know how to establish your attention in the limbic area.

Now the last of all is the limbic area. I must tell you; this really subtle center is governed by Lord Jesus Christ. Beyond is the limbic area is the area, which is the Kingdom of God within us. Here, when we enter, we have no thoughts, you are without thoughts but still the Kuṇḍalinī has to pierce to be born again. In the limbic area, all the seven centers are there. I mean there are so many centers we have got that all the brain cells can be called as centers, but specially these seven centers can be easily located in your limbic area. Now, you have seen that when you are realised, even if you put your fingers into your ears, you can hear the minutest of notes and music because you start hearing through this. Limbic area is a very important thing, but I think the medical science does not know much about it. After realisation, you know this Sahasrāra, what it is, how it works out and how the deity at Sahasrāra gives you realisation, how it works it out. It's a important thing that you must get realisation before I talk to you about Sahasrāra. In all the ancient books, nothing has been written about Sahasrāra. Nobody has written anything much about it, except that it has this colour, there are this many petals, but not has been described about Sahasrār because it has been left to My lot to explain to you about what Sahasrāra is.

These are all the centers we have tried to cover in a very short time, whatever it is in a very fast way I should say but to digest it, you must get the book, we have got Advent and another books, go through it, read it, understand it. It's a regular knowledge; it's the absolute knowledge which you should have.

Now, tomorrow, we have a program here and that's very important because this I told you what we have got, what are the centers are, how the Kuṇḍalinī is. Tomorrow I'll tell you what is to be done after realisation. It's very important, you must all come here and get your realisation established, we are going to work more on realisation than on all these knowledge. You see, you all being intellectuals, you always want to know the engineering of it. But the engineering is not so important as the happening. You see, I may tell you about the whole engineering about electricity and all that but if there is no light here, it has no meaning so one has to realise that engineering is the headache without the light. It's better to know that you are the Spirit. Tomorrow, for a short time, I'll tell you what is the Spirit. And then I'll tell you, what is to be done after Realisation.

May God bless you all.

Thank you for waiting for Me.

15-02-1981, Talk on Tattwas, Delhi University (translated from Hindi)

Mantras in Sahaj Yoga

In Sahaj Yog there are thousands of people who are accomplished/established (translation for Siddha) with mantras.

So many mantras are established by them, that if they sit in their place and recite the mantra then whatever work they need done gets done - as in bad things/work you cannot do in Sahaj Yog, but can do good mantras. such such kind of people have come to Sahaj Yog - not so many in Delhi, in Delhi few people are highly evolved (translation for Pohonche), but not too many people are there - but rest i have seen many such people who have completely accomplished/established with mantras. And for that accomplishment/establishment, the mantra needs to be worked hard on, by sitting down the mantra has to be taken, it needs to be spoken, attention needs to go to our chakras and its accomplishment/establishment should be achieved. If anybody has accomplished/established with the mantra of Ganesh then that person can achieve so many feats (Kamal translation) that it does not have any limits. But, till now there are very few people who put attention in this direction. And whoever has put attention, many such people i have seen, who have accomplished/established the mantra so quickly that i am surprised, that with just one mantra of theirs such big work happens.

Press the button and the light will start coming. If I tell you what is its history and how it came into being, what is this electricity, then you will get a headache specially... [UNCLEAR].

If you are ready to break your heads, I am even ready to do that. If you want to discuss your intellect, let's do that. I know that also, but you won't be able to find God. I have to ask you, we have read and debated a lot but you do want to find Him or not. Of course you did a lot, you reached as far as your intellect could guide you, now think of yourself and think of the meaning of yourself, you would think Wah! Wah! What miracle Shri Mataji has done, She has raised it. Do you have to follow it or not, first decide that because we have big pundits and intellectuals otherwise I can also unlayer their intellectual conditionings [Literally: that She could take of their (intellectuals) peepal leaves]. But I do not have time for these sort of people [intellectuals]. Those who want, they should acquire their own powers in a humble and totally dedicated manner, because the secret of the secrets has never been told until now. You will be told everything, but before that you must get your Self-realisation, otherwise it will be like... you don't have the eyesight and I am telling you which one is red colour and which one is green. You get the Self-realisation, once you start seeing, then I will tell you everything, which colour is this and which colour is that. Please seek it with humbleness and faith, but faith does not mean blind faith, you have to seek a very big think from Me, but if you are sitting on the road, then Gods also see you and you must know that they know everything about you. There [in God's world] you cannot get Self-realisation. Keep in mind even while giving the lecture I am playing My game, because I am Mahāmāyā. I say some things like that, that is someone has to get stuck, then they are just stucked, but please don't fall into these games, get Self-realisation, these are all [UNCLEAR dramas/games]. Those who have studied and read a lot and are very egoistical, I get them stucked for sometime and they are left handing in there, When their ego goes down they come around.

So you tell your ego, “Mister, a lot had been done for you, but now you stay put and let us get Self-realisation and Self-realisation only is `the ultimate.' " [UNCLEAR That's the duty, that is the aim, that only should be in your attention, that's everything and that's our goal, until you get your Self-realisation, your life has no meaning].

Today is the last day, so if you have any questions, please do ask, but I am very clever and very smart, so please be careful. Please ask, 5minutes or more, ask ask and please stand up, what is it. What gift have you got, what have you brought? Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Son, I don't eat pān. OK I will take green cardamom.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: These people disgraced Me. There was one lady who had come to interview Me and she said, “Mother was eating a lot of pān." So I said, “I don't eat in this birth, but I do not know in which birth of Mine did you see." She wrote, “Shri Mataji was eating a lot of pāns." But I don't even touch them. Yes, previous birth, [and] no the birth previous to that I used to take them [UNCLEAR then./.

Then] I asked her, “Which birth of Mine did you see. How could you see I was eating pān, when I don't even eat it."

These are dramas, so please be careful. [Pān is a betel leaf covered with some paste, betel nut pieces, tobacco and rose jam. It is eaten widely in India. It is a major cause of mouth and throat cancer in middle part of India.] However, Goddess Chandika who is the destroyer of demons is offered pān by her devotees, traditionally.

Question: [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: What question do you have? What son...

No no no no no, not all these things, you cannot take alcohol. I will not tell everything now, otherwise half of the crowd will run away. Nothing first get your Self-realisation. If I tell you not to take alcohol, half the crowd will run away and if I say don't take cigarettes, probably everyone will run away. If I tell the ladies, don't talk, they will all get up and walk away. I am not going to say anything. I have understood a lot now.

But the issue of vegetarism is not in Sahaj, but please make the issue of eating is less important. In our country from morning till evening we think of food and nothing else. We think we will find God by eating. The kind of understanding we have about food, the rest of the world hasn't got it.

You will be surprised I had gone to Japan and the people of Japan are [UNCLEAR]. I was surprised that a boy was sitting near a spring and was eating his food and I asked, “What are you eating? He replied that there are small fishes in the water, I catch then break them and eat them." Then I asked him if he eats them uncooked and he replied yes, everybody eats like that. I thought they take these poor creatures out of the water and eat them.

Whereas at our place [India] there is no dearth of Tantrums, eating is the prime most thing. The first thing in the day is what is to be cooked, i.e. Indian mentality understands this. Then the women started the drama that “today I am cooking this for you." If the lady is a Punjabi, she will say, “I am cooking sarson-ka-sāg" [spinach cooked with spices, a delicacy eating during winters].

Some of the women are very clever here; they keep their men wrapped into these games. These men do not know how to cook, so they can't leave their wives, even if they hit them. [Laughs.] Now she's playing the game, that I am cooking this dish, ok, if they are from UP [Uttar Pradesh, India] then methi aloo [UNCLEAR] will be cooked. There are really small potatoes, which I have bought then will cook them. The men who are supposed to leave wok by 6:00 p.m. reach home by 5:00 p.m. [Audience laughs.] The whole day we spend thinking what did we eat today and what we ate the previous day and what's going to happen to that food.

Now it is fasting, the whole house is in chaos because the grandmother is fasting today. A big storm in the house, like Śhrī Hanumānji has arrived [UNCLEAR]. No body can go near the grandmother today.

She could throw anything on anyone and hit someone just because she is fasting.

What's the point of fasting is she [grandmother] the God today. The desire of fasting is so prevalent in our country but nothing is achieved our of fasting, every time the thought is “what do I eat while fasting" all thoughts are around what we eat today. There is no other thought.

Fasting is just for namesake, it is an excuse. To think if I am going to eat some delicious food today, like buckwheat our, trying to find if buckwheat our is available today or not, everybody is worried, if buckwheat is available. The fasting was created because by eating some kind of food, there's no balance. Therefore the food should be balanced.

Now about vegetarism, in our country, we have plenty of fruits and vegetables, so we should eat plenty of fruits and vegetables. This is a warm tropical country; other foods generate heat in our body.

So we must eat more of this. But in vegetarism there are many people who do not eat garlic and onion. If you show them garlic, they will just run away, but if you want to scare someone, first show them garlic, so scared of garlic.

Now a German Doctor has told that you don't eat garlic and onion, you can get heart attack. Arteries in the heart get hardened just like as in alcoholism. If you drink alcohol, your heart will have some conditions, as you don't eat onion and garlic. Now we have a lot of people here who are staunch vegetarians. Now there is someone who visits us, listen to her description. It is her condition that nobody can serve her milk with a think film of cream settled on the surface. What will you do? She would drink it. Who are you? Nobody can serve her with garlic, whatever suits you and you should eat. What you eat or drink is not important. I don't remember what I ate in morning or evening. I don't want to know even I hadn't eaten for four days is someone gave Me food or not. It's not for God. Food has to be balanced.

Contents: 1981-03-11*, Public Program (English+Hindi), The Power of Brahma and About Self-control, Dedication and Behavior, New Delhi, India

[Shri Mataji talks in English:] I have told you, the other day that these vibrations are nothing but the Brahma Shakti, the power of Brahma. The power of Brahma is the power that creates, that desires, that evolves and it gives the living force also. It is the power which is giving us the living force. Now, it is not easy to understand what is a dead force and what is a living force. Living force is very simple to understand. An animal, say a little worm, is a living force. It can turn itself the way it likes. It can save itself from danger. It may be a small little thing, but because it is living it can save itself. But something which is dead cannot move by itself.

So, the `Self' part does not remain in it, as far as it is concerned.

Now, being a living force we should try to find out, `Are we going to be the living force or the dead one?' Now, when we live in the world, we start thinking about our comforts; where we have to live, what we have to do. When we think of all these things, you see, we are thinking of the dead. But when we think of having a place or a house or an Ashram from the angle that you Will be doing some living work, then you are giving life to that place. That atmosphere should be created from all that is dead to create the living force.

Now, this is very very subtle thing, which very few people understand, for example, somebody brings Me a photograph of Śhrī Gaṇeśh and says, “Should I worship this Śhrī Gaṇeśh's photograph or not?" First of all we should sea if vibrations are coming from it or not. Supposing you take a house You must see that the house is giving good vibrations. We see the comfort, we see other things. We might even see if it is good for other people to come in or not, but we do not see the house from vibrations point of view. For anything that we do, we have, now, to think in terms of vibratory awareness which means awareness that is working upon living things. As in the, say, a cell at the tip of a the root of a tree is a living thing. Of course, it does not think, it is guided by the living force itself.

So, it knows how to move with the living force, to live with it and how to understand the plan of the living force to get along with it and how to merge with it.

But, we human beings have got the freedom to decide. Now, once you are realised, you have got that living force within you. This is the living force you feel.

So, you have to know how to use this living force to keep your body, mind, ego, superego and everything in the enlightened state, by understanding the planning of the living force.

It gives you all the ideas regarding most of the problems. For example, here in this country and specially in Delhi, I find that you catch on the left Nābhī, also right Swādhiṣhṭhāna and then on the Heart and also on your Āgñyā. These are the Chakras which deal with our being.

So, let us try from the left side. What happens? On the left side the problem starts from left Swādhiṣhṭhāna, because that is the first Chakra that starts emitting the negativity within us. Now, left Swādhiṣhṭhāna is actually under control only of Śhrī Gaṇeśh because Śhrī Gaṇeśh is the beginning of life and also the link between the life and the death.

So Gaṇeśh is one who gives the balance, the `Vivek' the understanding to you by which you know how far to go with things. Now, when left Swādhiṣhṭhāna catches, you start going to other people who promise you such things, like “I will give you this and that, this will happen, that will happen to you." But this left-sided thing can also come from your own desire for wrong things. For example, we might be desiring something very wrong; we might be thinking that let us have this kind of a dead thing or that kind of dead thing or some sort of a special thing. Suppose, somebody wants a refrigerator and keeps on thinking of it.

He thinks that he must have a fridge. He must go to the fridge, because he wants a fringe and he must get it. Why he wants a fridge? Because he thinks it will give him more comfort. But, when he brings the fridge, he knows that it is not so.

So, the best way to look at all dead things is not to go too far with them.

If you have, well and good. If you do not have, well and good. You can live with minimum of minimum or you can live with maximum of maximum of these. But when we start expanding our dead possessions, it is very much bad. Then our attention goes into the dead. That's how we move into our subconscious then over to collective subconscious. Then it moves higher to the left Nābhī and at left Nābhī, we start becoming crazy about these dead things. For example, the watch, the Time. Time is a dead thing, it is not a living things. It has nothing to do with living thing. For example, you cannot say exactly at what time the flower will become a fruit.

So this watch or time has nothing to do with the living force at all.

It is human or man-made like the watch; particularly time is also man made. For example, today, time here is something, but in England it is different. If you say it is 4 o'clock in India, it is not the same in England.

So, the timing is not important. What time you arrive what time you go, how many times you do it, is not important.

Because living force is infinite, it has no time limit or space limit, you cannot count it, the way it moves, the way it works out. Once we understand that it is a living force which is spontaneous, which is not bothered about our dead ideas, we come out of the dead. We were first stones, then we became amoebae, then we gradually became human beings.

So, our attention is all the time towards the dead.

What should we get, what should we have, what are the needs? We have of this body which is going to die.

We do not see to the needs of the Spirit. By seeing to the needs of the spirit, you can overcome the left side. You start looking after your spirit from which you know that you get your vibrations. If your Spirit is happy, you get your vibrations, if it is unhappy, you do not get the vibrations. Such a common thing! If you have any disease or a problem on left hand side, to give it a balance, you put your attention to the future. But then people get stuck up on the future, if I say you look to the future. As dead is dead and is `Mithya' [illusion], same way future is also Mithya, is also not there. Both the things are just the same.

Whether you go to left or right, whether you go to the subconscious or the supraconscious mind, both the thing are just the same.

So, no use going to the past, but if you are too much in the past, it is better to think of the future, so that you are pushed a little bit to the center. But, it is difficult with you, human beings.

Now, the other problem starts, when we start feeling guilty about something, when left Viśhuddhi catches. We start feeling guilty. “I should have not done this thing or that thing." Then you start saying, “I am very miserable, I am very guilty" etc., you just start cursing yourself. This is another nonsense.

That is how once you start doing that, then what happens is that you again become dead. Because living force will never condemn. No, it will Never. It goes on progressing itself. It sees, which side to move, this side or that side. It is not going to condemn itself. It is not going to aggress anything. It has the wisdom to be in the center. That is how people should overcome their left side, by putting their attention away from the dead things. You should watch from the center, when you are on the left side. What you want to see, you don't see. But then ultimately to escape ail this, what you do is to start blaming yourself all the time and feeling miserable. Now, this is the way you start ending up with your left side into a very miserable state, that is the culmination of all these attachments to the left side.

So, ultimately you start thinking that you are good for nothing, you are useless, you should have done this, you should have done that.

Now, at this time to overcome it, you have to count your blessings. Count your Blessings one by one.

You have got your Realisation. During thousands of years how many people got realisation? You have got your vibrations. In so many centuries, how many people got them? It is written in Zen system that in eight centuries there were altogether twenty-six Kaśhyapas [realised Souls].

So, even after Buddha, how many got their realisation? You must think also that there are so many realised people, who talk the same language, who talk the same tongue. You must thank yourself also, that every thing can be known to you.

But, when you start catching on the left, you go in the past and you start saying, “Oh God, I am so useless, I am good for nothing. I am so useless, that I am still catching." As you know, those who catch on the left hand side, are always complaining, always grudging type because of poor things, they suffer.

Now, to match with that is the other side.

So, if I tell you that you go to the other side also, it is a very dangerous game. For example, we have so many conditionings in our lives. You see, first of all our desire.

Our desire is to become excellent Sahaja Yogis, to become Master Gurus and something great and this and that. That there should be many disciples that we should have who should touch our feet and we should be called Great Gurus etc.

So, in Sahaja Yoga some things are prohibited that nobody should touch anybody's feet and no Sahaja Yogi should allow anyone to touch his or her feet. This is one of the great Bandhans for all Sahaja Yogis.

No one should touch other's Feet and nobody should ask to touch his or her feet, whatever may be your quality. Those who will touch will lose vibrations and those who will get salutations will also catch on the heart.

So, such conditions, which we have about Sahaja Yoga also, should be removed.

We are all of us growing together. We are part and parcel of one personality. Nobody is higher or lower. One who thinks the slightest like this will go down faster. This is the left side conditioning, where people falter very much.

So, such desires must be given up in Sahaja Yoga.

You must have very wider desires in Sahaja Yoga that all of us must get Realisation, say as many as possible. We should try to save as many people as possible. We should try to improve ourselves as far as we can and we are nothing yet we can improve and have so many blessings.

Now, the thoughts can come from the left side also. Like, if you have some bhoots in your head, they can give you the thought that, “Oh, you are useless or good for nothing." Now, raise your right side and put down the left with your left hand. Now why do we do this? Because from your right side, you get the Grace and put down the left side. Such people who suffer from the left side should try this. One more thing, is, that when these ideas come to you or such thoughts come to you, that you are good for nothing etc., it is better to beat yourself with shoes. Go and sing the praise of the Lord and say `that I am so happy. I have got everything around me.' Now, the second thing is about the right side. On the right side, mostly you catch on the Swādhiṣhṭhān.

That is because you think. This is another kind of thinking that gives you catch at right Swādhiṣhṭhān.

Thinking, whether it comes from right or the left will first give problem to your liver. The worst comes when both the sides are involved. There are some bhoots which give you ideas that you are good for nothing etc. while the other thing is when you start thinking that you are so great. In this such a wobbling starts coming and the confusion starts setting in.

So, one must understand that in Sahaja Yoga, you are developing that sharp edge, that central point from which you do not deviate to the right or to the left. This is something so subtle that you are left-sided, you are not going to remain left-sided. You can become right-sided tomorrow. Exactly, tomorrow you can come with a right-sided problem.

So, you must learn that Balancing, just like you start learning a bicycle.

You might fall on this side or that side.

Now, when do you learn cycling? If you ask Me, I will say, “When you learn." I mean when you cycle down, that's the point when you learn.

So, in Sahaja Yoga, to balance it, you have to watch yourself carefully. Now, where is it going? To the left side, then come to the right side. If going to the right side, come to the left side. Now, come to the center, you just separate yourself, you detach yourself all the time. Not to criticise yourself nor to aggress anyone or to criticise others. But use this point just to see yourself, just to see and guide yourself. Guidance is very different from getting lost. Now that is what it is. Supposing the dead thing is there. Say this is a dead thing. When I throw it, it exactly will fall there.

Living thing, if I throw it will not fall there exactly.

So, the living force knows how to guide itself. In the same way you will learn to guide yourself. If you have learnt it, you have mastered Sahaja Yoga.

No use condemning yourself, in any way or thinking that you are great or small. But watch now, where the horse is going. You are sitting on the top of the horse; now you are no more the horse. Before, Realisation you are the horse. Wherever it takes you, you go there. It may stand there, when it sees the grass and eat. Then the horse wants to kick somebody, it will do so, But, now, you have come out of the horse and sitting on the horse as a Rider. Now you are the Rider and you must know how you are befouled by these things. These desires are all ancient age old things within you. See, also the aggression, the Karma that you are doing are also ancient. By doing this you will get this, you will get that. Many people will say, “Mother, we are doing this, we are doing so much for Sahaja Yoga; we have still not achieved anything." Now, what to do. Just can't help it. Now, you must find out, what is the matter with you.

Now, if the Heart is catching, such people can never progress. The Heart is the source of Light, it is the source of Brahma Shakti. Heart is the seat of Ātmā. If in the Heart there is no living force, then how can you progress? You must know what to choose. This is what Sahaja Yoga should make out of you. You should grow mature to that point where you know what to choose. This is Growth. Then you don't ask of Mother.

You don't ask anyone.

This development should come to you. That, `What I do, I should know what I am doing. I should know what is correct. I should know how to correct it.' I should know `I', here is the Spirit and not the Ego. No more the Ego exists or the Superego exist. It is the Spirit which guides you. You see the realised children. They don't ask such questions. They know who is foolish, who is stupid. They know who is caught up. They know whom to shut up and whom to argue. They do not sympathize with the people, who are caught up. They just watch. If somebody comes, they will tell Me, “Mātājī, this fellow is caught." That's ail.

Somebody else comes. They promptly tell Me, “He is alright." That's all. They just certify.

They do not hate anyone, they do not get worried about anything. If some body comes with a very bad Badha, they say, “Better please, go away” without any malice about the person.

Once, you are at the top of the hill, you have not to worry about the traffic. But, you are not yet on the top, that's why you are worried that, “I am climbing and falling, climbing and failing." This is just a Myth, just a mental shadow on your mind. This is a fact that you are at the top of the hill. But you have not asserted, the assertion is not there.

The God is the enjoyer. You cannot enjoy. You can only enjoy God and it is the greatest enjoyment, to feels what God has created for you, what a beautiful life He has given you in human awareness, by which you can know how much He has loved you, how much He has worked for you. He has brought you to this level. What He has given you, you can give to others and make others happy. If you think like that immediately both of your sides will be settled and you yourself will be filled with Divine Vibrations.

[Shri Mataji talks in Hindi:] Now I will tell you in Hindi.

[Second Paragraph, Version 1:] You should be like a king sitting on his throne. Instead, you are sitting on the throne and weeping and begging! What should be done to such foolish people? You are a king and you should order your five organs that you have been tolerating them and now they should behave. When you command yourself like this, bring yourself under control like this, then only you have become a good Sahaja Yogi. Otherwise, your mind goes somewhere and you say, “Mother, what to do, I control my mind so much but still it goes there." Then, what is mind? It is a living force, it will go. Our organs will be awakened and we will never like to wander there and we will give up many things.

[Second Paragraph, Version 2 from Gīta Enlightened (2014) by Yogi Mahajan, pp.127,128:] One should be like a king sitting on his throne. Instead one behaves like a beggar. What should be done to such people? You are a king and your organs are your servants. You should tell your five organs that you have been tolerating them and now they had better behave themselves. When you command your organs you bring yourself under your control, then only you become a real yogi. Otherwise, your mind goes somewhere and you say “I control my mind so much but still it goes here and there." Then what is mind? It is a living force, but take the reins in your hands with discipline. Then it will go only at the place where it should go. When our organs will be awakened by Spirit, we will never like to wander here and there and we will give up many things spontaneously.

[The remaining paragraphs:] Among all the things we must remember only one; keep our hearts clean. Those people whose hearts are clean have very few problems. That does not mean that you are thinking of bad things. Clean heart means dedication. You cannot grow in Sahaj Yoga, if you lack in dedication, or if you think that you are some special kind of person. There is no need for someone special or being some learned person. You say, “Mother, I have not felt anything, I have no experience." It's due to your fault and not that of Sahaj Yoga.

Sometimes, people talk to Me as if I have taken some contract or they have paid money to Me, “Mother we are coming to you for very long time." However long you may come, you may come till you may become old, still you won’t get anything. That's why, if you have not got anything, it shows that you are lacking in something. The moment you are separate from yourself, your faults will be immediately seen to you and as they are seen, you will feel as if you are a King on throne. If you find your subjects [senses and organs, ego and superego etc.] are creating disturbances, order them, `Be quiet, you will not do it' and not just in persuading way like, `Don't do it.' Only that person is powerful, who is keeping himself in full command! Let us take an example of how people talk. When they talk, even to Me, they forget whom they are talking to. What they say is really surprising. They do not at all understand what should be said and what should not be. We must control even our tongue. It becomes possible, only after you become separate from yourself and watch. You have to be careful of what you say and see that it is all right.

Slowly you will form new habits, new ways, you will make new judgments and then you will be able to order yourself, always as third person. A realised person never talks in first person. He tells himself, “Please go there, please sit down” etc. generally children speak in third person, they say, “Nirmalā will not go now. She will stay here itself." Sahaj Yogis should also speak in this fashion.

Slowly, you should become separate from yourself. Leaving aside your desires, your materialistic ideas, or some other ideas, say, your ideas regarding power etc, you should only think as to what you are doing for Sahaj Yoga and what you should do.

This dedication is very less in India, even now. It is much more in the West. They never come and request Me to cure their relations. They never tell Me their material difficulties and problems. You [Indians] get the realisation very quickly and those people [Westerners], poor things, they take long time because of their mistakes.

You get realisation very fast but you don't value it much. They are realised late, but they have great value for it. They know it's worth. Just see in their eyes, their concentration. They listen to Me attentively, even though I am speaking in Hindi language. Though they don't understand the language, their attention is fully on how the vibrations are coming with it, how they are felt on the palms and what is happening, etc. Now, they have dedicated their lives to Sahaj Yoga. They never think that they will do this as well as that. Only then you will go deep. You must understand that you will only grow by dedicating your life in Sahaj Yoga. You don't loose anything by doing that, on the other hand, all well being comes in you.

You should devote whole life to Sahaj Yoga. You should give every moment to Sahaj Yoga. That means living spontaneously. Where will the spontaneity come from? It comes from the living force. It comes from that living force which is ever present within you. You should not think of anything else.

Even otherwise you cannot enjoy. Only God is the enjoyer. You are under wrong impression that you are enjoying. God is the enjoyer and he alone is the creator. You are just in between. You are just like pipes. If at all you enjoy something, it is God who has unending love for you. This is the truth, with which you can remain ever, blissful! You can never get joy from anything else. Whatever, may be the thing, He is the enjoyer.

So, the point is, today you get something you want, but you are not happy. Tomorrow, you would like something else and even though that is given to you still you will not be happy. Thus, you will never become happy with worldly things and material.

Param'ātmā [God] is the enjoyer! And therefore all should desire Him. We should enjoy the God, who is the enjoyer of everything. If we start enjoying Him, what else do we need to enjoy? We should enjoy His Bliss! What is God's creation; what a beautiful world He has made; how many things He has given to us; now we have become Sahaja Yogis, God has given this Shakti in us; now we can know our Ātmā [Spirit] and can recognize the Spirit in others! How much unending `grace' God is showering on us; with these thoughts you should grow in inner happiness. If you start enjoying the God and His love like this, then you will find that your heart is growing and still more growing and you feel as if it is encompassing entire creation! Today, My message to you is; start enjoying the Param'ātmā, leaving aside all other things... Enjoy God, have that joy everywhere, of what God has given to you, what are the things he has given to you, be joyous about them. Then you will find that your attention has stabilized. In this way you will progress in Sahaj Yoga.

Every minute you should appreciate, `I have received this! I have received such and such blessings etc...' Otherwise your complaints will never end and your aggression will also not stop.

from Nirmalā Yoga, Issue 4 (July August 1981), pp.10,11 Dear Sahaja Yogis and Yoginis and dear little children, dear members of what I call this beautiful universal family. For me this is a very memorable moment, a moment that I will cherish and this is a moment which fills me with feelings which I may find difficult to describe to you. I'm here amidst members of this universal family and it is marvelous that in keeping with our desire, both of us should be celebrating, as is appropriate, our birthdays with the members of this universal family in this city of Sydney. I want to say how joyous I am and delighted. I'm delighted because as I mentioned, perhaps in Bombay [Mumbai], you represent to me the symbol of a new hope. I am concerned with the United Nations. The U. N. is concerned with world peace, world safety, world cooperation and yet whenever you open a page in the daily newspapers, you see how disasters are taking place, tensions are rising. There are very few areas in the World where there is real peace and joy and what is needed by mankind at this time is a new evolution, a new force, which would be, which must be spiritual in character. The world has seen the growth of materialism. The world has seen some of the evils which come from that. The industrial revolution was very good in many ways, daily life has been facilitated, at the same time things have gone too far in a particular direction and human beings have within themselves dichotomies and tensions and questions and all of this is now finding its expression in many parts of this World with tensions, through fears and what can mankind do? There must be some way, there must be some hope and there is hope and that hope is Sahaja Yaga. What the World needs is really, some spark somewhere. As even in my little field with the U. N. System, the maritime field, I find that if you promote cooperation, if you are sincere, if you are honest and truthful, if you really believe in one human family, then people around you begin to believe in that and you see glorious moments of cooperation, of happiness, of joy. But my field is very limited.

Her [Shri Mataji's] field is immense, it is the universe itself and I cannot tell you how proud I am of Her because

She doesn't want anything for Herself. What She wants is this human family, which must be one family, should really grow up spiritually and become a new family for the World where tensions no longer exist, where mutual love is giving more than taking. It is a new spiritual attainment that must be there.

It is not a particular view or a particular group or a particular thesis but the universality of Sahaja Yoga that is what appeals tome. I honestly believe that there can be peace and glory in this world, if from our hearts, not from just lips, not in a formal sense, but from our hearts, if we begin to believe that we are all creations of one almighty. There cannot be two All-mighties, there can only be one.

Contents: 1981-03-22*, Public Program, Cycle 1, Day 1, To all the Seekers of Truth, Einfeld Lounge, Jewish Community Center, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

To all the seekers of truth. It's such a pleasure to come to this great country where there are so many seekers.

So many seekers are born in these modern times. There were never born so many, any time before.

For example at the time of Christ, He had to gather crowds of people but they had no seeking; they just listened to Him because they felt it was something new. Today, the time has come where many seekers have taken their birth all over the world and they are seeking. This is a fact one has to accept, there's no hypocrisy about it.

Some people don't understand that the seeking is there and that whatever they're doing, right or wrong, actually they are seeking within themselves.

Today, in the beginning, I will give you a broad line of Sahaja Yoga, the one that means: a spontaneous happening within us, of union with God. It's easy to talk about it, any one can talk about it. First, when I went to America, people said, you must get a patent on your lectures, Mother. I just smiled at them.

I said, what's the matter? They said, they might use your words and use the same things for their own purpose and may be that they all do a lot of harm to you, I said, no, it's nice, let them talk about because that's what has to happen, people have to know about it, what is there to take a patent for it. We don't take patent for the light of the sun and the beauty of the stars. That's meant for everyone. The main thing is that these lecturing and all such ventures are of no use at all unless and until the happening takes place.

It should happen to you. It's an actualisation, it is the Becoming which is important. It's not reading about it; it's a living force which is going to make us a higher personality: a prophet. As William Blake has very clearly said, that men of God will become prophets and the day will come when these prophets will have special capacity to transform other people as prophets; that time has come today. William Blake could see hundred years back the working of Sahaja Yoga and today you can see the actualisation.

Before you today they have placed the diagram of our being. It's a very complicated stuff; they are trying to make it a simple diagram for you though it looks still complicated. For example when you are sitting in this room supposing there was no light, one has to just tell you that, just push the button and all the lights will be on. But behind this happening there is a big mechanism and a great organization that does it. It's not just the pushing of a button. Now My situation is such that I can push the button, alright but people want to know the history and all the headache about it; so I have to explain to you what is it about. Here you see the subtle force, the subtle being within us. This is a human being which has evolved to this stage of awareness and that he has to become that dynamic awareness. If you try to make any instrument, say for example you try to make this microphone; people would definitely ask, what is the purpose? Until it is connected to the mains it has no purpose at all. In the same way you are created to be beautiful human beings and you are to be connected to the mains, otherwise you do not find your absolute value.

Now the Kuṇḍalinī about which many people have talked. I mean they have written books after books and I was shocked for they do not know anything about it and how could they write such big books; from where did they get the knowledge? This Kuṇḍalinī is a very simple thing. It is the pure desire within us, that one has to become one with the Spirit, is the pure desire.

So that through the Spirit, we know God.

This pure desire, this power of pure desire exists within us as Kuṇḍalinī. The whole being manifested, but still it is sleeping. It's completely there, after creating the whole being as a human being, still it is sleeping, because that power of desire, has not got the chance to manifest itself. Now for this desire of power, people think that you can excite it or something.

Some people have started enterprises of Kuṇḍalinī Yoga, of Kuṇḍalinī awakening; it is not a commercial stuff, it is not! It's a living process. You cannot commercialise it. You cannot pay for it.

We have got brains, we are human beings, we must understand that we cannot pay for the Divine Love.

On the contrary, you insult it, if you talk of money. God does not understand money, it's your myth, human beings have created it; He does not know what money is. You cannot pay for it! You cannot put in any effort for it. For becoming a fruit, a flower does not put in any effort or pay any money. How much money did you pay to become a human being from a monkey? What effort did you put in to do that? It is spontaneous. Like a seed which sprouts through its primule and the same primule becomes the root and the shoot and a little cell at the tip of the root works out all the digging by itself, spontaneously. Only living things can be spontaneous! And then the shoot rises by itself, becomes the leaves and becomes the flowers and then the fruit: the whole map of its being is microscopically placed in that seed. In the same way within us is placed the primule, the germinating force, called as Kuṇḍalinī. And this force which exists within us in three and a half coils; there's a big mathematics about it, which I think I cannot discuss it today, but sometime we'll discuss it. Now it is very important to see the position of Kuṇḍalinī: it is placed in the triangular bone, this bone is called sacrum; the sacrum word comes from the Greek language. Greeks must have known this that this is the sacred bone, so they called it sacrum, it's most surprising. When they came to Australia, some Greeks, they must have felt the vibrations of your river, so they called it Parramatta. Have you ever thought of what does that mean? It means the Holy Ghost. `Para' is beyond, supreme, `Mātā' is the Mother.

Some realised Soul must have felt the vibrations of this river and they must have named it. In the same way they must have felt that this bone is something special and this is the last bone that gets burnt up, when the body is completely burnt under electrical pressure. Now this force resides in this bone and you can see with your own eyes; today in the University many students saw it: the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī in the bone. Now can you do that, any one of you, by jumping or by shouting or by screaming or by chanting or by paying. Whatever you can do cannot be Divine. Divine has to be something that is beyond human endeavour. You can jump, you can shout, you can do this, you can do that, but you cannot transform a flower into a fruit. And this miracle you see every day, billions and billions of these, we take it for granted. We have taken our human awareness also for granted, it's a good thing, otherwise we start thinking about it, we go into another tension mounting upon our heads. Now this force lies above the first center.

The first center is called as Mūlādhāra Chakra. Now this is a very big confusion, one of the biggest in the modern times. As it is, modern times are known to be full of confusions only. Only in confusions we have to find the truth, unless and until there is confusion, there cannot be that seeking. And this confusion has reached such a stage, that we are confused even about Kuṇḍalinī. And there are people who have worked hard to confuse us also. This important point, that the first center within us which is the center of innocence is placed below the Kuṇḍalinī, is extremely important to understand. And that Kuṇḍalinī resides in the triangular bone which is Mūlādhāra.

So the center of this power lies below the Kuṇḍalinī.

This is a very important point which I am going to tell you today. The last center within us, the seventh center within us, manifests the pelvic plexus, that's the subtle center within us, which is below the sacrum bone, is a subtle center. It looks after the prostrate gland. Now this is the center of innocence, innocence is the first thing God has created on this earth: is holiness, is beauty of God, is love. And this innocence resides within us below the Kuṇḍalinī and in My next lecture in the same hall I will be speaking in details about it, how it manifests other aspects in our life. But why this is an important point, that it is placed lower than the Kuṇḍalinī because it says that our excretion is done by pelvic plexus which is manifested by this particular center called as Mūlādhāra Chakra, has nothing to do with Kuṇḍalinī. It is very important to know this fact, that sex has nothing to do with Kuṇḍalinī. If sexual manifestation is going to take you to God, animals would be much faster in their evolution than you are.

We have nothing to learn from animals. We are human beings. Those who want to learn from animals will become animals. Are we to become the frogs and earthworms now, or we have to become a superior personality? A personality who is completely in command, who is the master. Or are we to be slaves of our problems? How can we become masters of ourselves if we give in to our own being, to things that destroy us.

So one has to understand this point very very clearly, that sex has nothing to do with Kuṇḍalinī.

It cannot. Before us is placed Christ. I'm surprised that people who have known Christ, how can they accept such an absurd thing, like by doing sex in a perverted manner you will reach God. Are we now going to become just sex points? Have we no self-esteem left in ourselves, to understand that we are much more than a sex point, a mere sex point? This is the best way of ruining people. This is the best way of enticing people, but I tell you, you are seekers, out and out you are seekers! You must not listen until you have found out your spirit. You are not going to be satisfied with all these nonsensical ideas. You will come back, I know, one day all of you will have to come back. But that time you will be so ruined, that I may not be able to help you. It's a very clear-cut thing to understand, that sex has nothing to do with Kuṇḍalinī awakening. She is your pure Mother, She is the Mother who is individually with you. Forget your concepts and forget your identifications. Please try to understand. She is your Mother, waiting for ages to give you your real birth. She is the Holy Ghost within you. She has to give you your realisation and She's just waiting and waiting to do it. I have seen some people, who have a Kuṇḍalinī, which just, like a wounded serpent is bending Her head all sides and just breaking Her body; I have seen people with holes in the Kuṇḍalinī; how much we have harmed ourselves by foolish ideas, by listening to those people who are just trying to make money out of us and befool us. There are some destroying forces that have come on this earth. Not some, but many and they are very speedy. It's very easy to destroy something, but to construct is such a difficult thing and to construct something, living is even more difficult Just we are enamoured because we think it's easy. There are people who think that if you enroll yourself as somebody's disciple you'll be saved. How can you be saved? You have to grow yourself. You have to become. You must know what powers have you got from any one of them. Those who say that you should have sexual freedom, 0! the animals have all that, what is so special about getting a sexual freedom. I can't understand. I mean in India you know how much people are producing children without going to any one of these Gurus. On the contrary these Gurus make you impotent and they teach you about the sex so that you feel as if the sexual act is a very big thing to be achieved; it's such a simple thing to do and for people who are impotent it is a great thing, no doubt, but for people who are normal and natural it's so simple, just like going to the bathroom. Why make such an ado about things which are so simple. This has gone too far now. They have also suggested that, you can raise the Kuṇḍalinī by sex. It's like the Mother being connected to the child in a very dirty manner. People might say the Freud talked about it. Freud was another half-baked fellow, I must say. Absolutely half-baked without any wisdom about him. He must have had some problems like that himself, he was an abnormal personality to begin with. Apart from that all these, psychologists meet only abnormal people. Do they meet ever a normal personality? Who will go to a psychologist who is normal? Always mad people go to them. And these psychologists catch from the mad and become mad. And then they start teaching you something which is really maddening. Now he was so half-baked that he just saw one side of our life. He didn't know that there was another side and another side. And for him sex became so important, he could see perversions and things and we are really flabbergasted at that. Those who are simple people, say in Indian villages, if you tell them like this they'll say what's wrong with the fellow? He must go to lunatic asylum.

Now we have to see what have we achieved so far as a human being? What are we as a human being and what we have to achieve? If you see in this diagram, of course you should not take Me for granted either. Today as in the TV they asked Me a question, that, do you mind if we doubt, I said no, on the contrary, I'm very happy, it shows that you are so very free, You have to ask Me questions, but when it comes to these fake Gurus, you just go headlong. You are so mesmerized you do not even think what you are doing! And you don't even see what others have achieved. You see some people jumping on the street, you also join them. You don't want to find out what power they have achieved, what is their situation, are they better off than us or not if they have been cured of their troubles or not. On the contrary if you find them you'll find that they're recluses. They're even afraid sometimes, I've seen, of vegetables. If you show them a garlic, they'll be frightened.

Some of the Gurus have this problem also. They are told that you should not take any garlic, so, if you show them a garlic, they'll start jumping. What is this? Are we going to be frightened of garlic? Are we going to be that kind of a horrible human beings who are frightened of this and that.

Now, within us lies on the left hand side, if you see, is the power of desire which comes more from the right. In Sanskrit it is called as Icchā Shakti. This is the psyche about which Mister Freud has talked, part of it. You see he's a blind man leading everyone into doom, like him. Now this one is our past, is our conditioning, is the one that is our subconscious mind and we have a subconscious mind no doubt. But that's not everything that we have, we have many other things. Now this subconscious mind within us has an area beyond it as the collective subconscious and that's a dangerous area when you enter into that area, you contract diseases like cancer. You know that in Sahaja Yoga, we have definitely cured cancer.

And I was amazed that those people who have got cancer and who came to Me have got cured, were all affected more by the left side than the right side. And that you can find out yourself once you get your enlightenment and you become a realised Soul. On the right band side there is another power, which is called as the power of action. You desire something and you have to act is Kriya Shakti. This is the future.

Beyond the future lies the supraconscious area, or the collective supraconscious. People have talked about it without telling you where is it within us. They have talked about Christ. Where is Christ within us? They have talked about Kṛiṣhṇa, where is Kṛiṣhṇa within us? What is the proof that He exists at that particular center within us? In the center lies another power by which we have become human beings. The evolutionary power, the sustenance power, the Religo, the religion, not the religion that we see but `the religion'. Carbon has four valencies, gold has a quality that it is untarnishable, in the same way a human being has got ten sustenances within it. And this sustenance which sustains it, which says he's a human being, is the quality of a human being.

So, we have three powers within us, in Sahaja Yoga language we call it differently, to make it simpler. These three powers exist within us. But the central power is a little cut off, if you see, there's a gap. This central power by which we evolve, has not yet been connected with the mains and the cord is the Kuṇḍalinī. In our heart resides the spirit. In our heart it resides. It is the reflection of God Almighty. Unless and until you have got your Self-realisation, unless and until you are connected with it, every religion, everything that you do has no meaning, it's like telephoning a person without any connection. You spoil it.

So you have to get connected. As today they asked Me another question, which was interesting, about Haṭha Yoga. I said nobody's doing Haṭha Yoga, they are doing some exercises most indiscriminately. Because attention is on the body and that's why they're just doing something without understanding why certain exercises have to be done. Actually the real Haṭha Yoga of Patanjali, you have to have Īshwara Pranidhan; that means first your God must be established! First you must be connected. Let the Kuṇḍalinī rise and then know what Chakras are catching, what exercises are needed? What mantra is needed? We have a great organizations in this country and everywhere else where they give a mantra, Now just think of it! There are six centers; these are the basic centers, there are many more, I don't want to tell you the number, otherwise you'll be surprised. But six main centers and two on the left and the right are sun and the moon. And at the bottom is the seventh one.

So you can see there are nine centers, basically we have to know and there are nine deities on these nine centers. How can you give somebody one mantra? Supposing you have to pass through six gates and you have only one pass, of the fifth one and you are at the first gate, how will you pass through? These people have no idea! And they have given such horrible mantras I was shocked, If you tell Indians they'll be surprised. One of them means `tinga' means [thumb]. Can you imagine this could be a mantra, like this. It's such a ridiculous thing to say. Horrible things like `inga binga dinga', these are no mantras, this is nonsense! And it's a Mafiā going on. They come and tell you in your ears, you see you are not to tell it to anybody, I was most surprised that at the end it was the `fallopian tubes'. I said what? Fallopian tubes how can that be a mantra. And we take it We take it, we pay for it; people had paid $3; and they are given to eat for one week for $3; 000, the boiled soup of the boiled potatoes. Just that water, for five days! and one day the rind and one day the potatoes, to make them weak so that they could become completely out of their minds and then they can be mesmerized very well. Be careful about these horrible people! They know that you are seekers and ardently you are seeking. They know that you have money and they want to play upon your ego by saying that you can pay, you must pay, how much money have you got? These are all parasites, of the worst type! These are all parasites, remember and the day will come when you recognize them, when you'll be falling on the streets with epilepsy and all kinds of diseases and then you'll be coming to Me. There are already so many people who are coming to Me in that condition. I have to warn you again, be careful and understand that these people give no knowledge whatsoever, they are just mesmerizing you, not only because they want to make money but they are bent upon destroying the Kingdom of God. They are bent upon destroying you all because they are Satanic people and they want to establish the kingdom of Satan. For us, it is easy to take to these things, it's very easy to fall, as I told you. But to rise is difficult. It's not so difficult also, spontaneity is so simple, if you know the job you can do it. If there's a beautiful garden you can easily find out that there must be a gardener behind it who has done the job. If somebody knows the job he can do it.

Now this central path is the path through which one has to rise. The Kuṇḍalinī rises through a very thin line of Brahma Nāḍī. In the beginning only a hair like thing rises, it pierces through; in some people, of course, in a big way it rises also. And then it pierces this fontanelle bone area which is a real baptism, real. Today only, people felt the Cool Breeze coming out of their heads. Can you do that by jumping, or by paying money? They felt the Cool Breeze in the hand. It's written in the Bible, even in the Bible very clearly, that it's the Cool Breeze, Cool Breeze is the sign of the Holy Ghost. You start feeling the Cool Breeze in your hands and you start feeling the Cool Breeze on your head. This is the actualisation. Of course, you people don't read other books which are very good, like Ādi Shañkarāchārya, People don't even like the mention of his name who has really and clearly said that it is the Cool Breeze; the Chaitanya is to be felt like Cool Breeze in the hands. They do not want that you should know the truth. And this is the truth that when you get your realisation, you have to feel the Cool Breeze in your hands yourself.

You have to judge yourself. I'm not going to tell you, it is you who has to see, it is you who has to feel and then you have to grow and you have to know all and everything, all the secrets of Divine Science. You become the master then, you are the Guru. You are the Spirit and you should get it, it's your own which is given to you. I have nothing to do about it, I'm just a catalyst. I should say, you can do it yourself, once you get realisation you can give realisation. Actually Warren came to Me and Terence and they had been really lynched by all these Gurus and they were so unhappy. Just before leaving for India he telephoned to Me from Australia: “Mother, we have got your telephone, can we come and see you?" and I knew they were seekers.

So first, I caught hold of them. You see, I don't work much in the cities, I work in the villages because villagers are easier to get realisation; the other day we were in a village called Kadus, where six thousand people got realisation, it was announced in the paper.

So, in the cities these Gurus work out because they want money and the purse, you see, it's there in the cities. I work in the villages. Poor things had to go to the villages where they don't even have proper bathrooms, you have to go to the rivers to have your bath and things and it was very spartan for comfortable Australians. But they managed it somehow. And they got their realisation and when they got it, when they came back here they have given realisation in the first shot to 300 people. And now they know such a lot about Kuṇḍalinī, about awakening, about enlightenment. It's all logical after realisation, before that it is blind rationality, which doesn't understand anything, This Kuṇḍalinī is there, your own, Sahaja. `Saha' means with, `ja' means born; it's born with you, it's within you! It has to only rise with authority, with a person who knows how to do it, One should not feel hurt about it, because I'm doing it, you better do it, I'll be very happy. You see, I'm a very happily married woman, you know, I don't need anything. My husband has permitted Me to go about doing this because he knows nobody can do it. I'll be very happy if you can do it, really I would like to retire. Moreover why should you feel bad if I do it? After all there are so many things I can't do. I can't drive, I can't type, I don't know even how to open your tins, I'm so hopelessly bad.

So what is there to feel bad about it if I know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī and when it is your right to know yourself and to get it within yourself so that you achieve your real baptism, your real force and once you have achieved it, first thing that happens is that you become a different personality. You become something so different.

The other day a gentleman, old man, who met Me in Singapore long time back, he told Me that: “Mother, after realisation, actually I've not even touched it fully, but one thing happened to me I just gave up gambling, smoking and drinking, just like that. What happened to me?" I said, “When you have found out the real, you give up." When you have found the real diamond, of course, you give up the artificial ones. Because you are bored stiff, because you find life so boring, human beings so boring, life so boring, so uninteresting, full of tensions, full of cruelty, full of problems, you want to take to these things. But once you've found out your absolute, your sense of security is absolutely established. And the joy and happiness, the bliss that is promised to you, starts pouring down into you. You feel so relaxed. Apart from that, so many things happen to you that it is hard to tell you in this one lecture. I'm going to have many other lectures for you. Now first thing that happens is that physically you get fit, It's not that I'm going to go to the hospital to find out who are physically unfit and start an enterprise alright, pay so much money to cure this disease and all that. No, I do not know how many people I've cured, really I do not know, believe Me. And I do not know how many of My disciples have cured. It's like the sun shining, it does not know how many leaves have become green. You do not keep notes of people whom you love and whom you feed... Do you write down how many morsels you have fed the person, do you? This is love. Why do you need the proof? Why do you need, you are not paying Me anything? Do you want to have any proof of the sun? You are not giving Me anything! I'm not selling anything! There's no shop on! You have to get this gift. You have to get it.

So why do you want to judge Me? If you don't get it, better try for it. What are you going to gain by knowing about Me, it's not easy to know about Me.

It's very very difficult. I'm such a camouflage. It's a very difficult thing to know. Better thing is, you know yourself, then you'll learn. Unless and until you know yourself, you won't know Me, so no use asking Me questions which are rather embarrassing, I won't be able to tell you; because I've become very clever now. Kṛiṣhṇa, just told one person, Arjuna. He said, give up everything and follow me. He said that after Yoga you'll get the Kshema, means, well-being. Not before. You get the well-being, physically, mentally, emotionally, materially, socially, in every way. And spiritually! He said “after Yoga it will happen", not before that. And that's what is going to happen to you, when you get it. If you don't get it today, don't get disappointed. In that great England, the Jerusalem, according to William Blake, I have to work very very hard. I've worked on only six people for four years, can you believe it? Very difficult nuts to be cracked, you see. But once they were cracked it has blown up like anything. And now we have thousands of people who are realised. Of course. I do not keep any records of them, there is no organization, nothing, You know them through your vibrations by which you know that they are realised or not. Because you become collectively conscious, you become; again and again I say, it's the becoming. You start feeling others and you start feeling yourself. It is important, vital, absolutely the thing for you to do. You have to get it, if not today then tomorrow. Why not do it today, it's a good idea. But after getting it one has to know that, as Christ has described, some seed fell on the rock, in the same way it happens, you have to look after it, you have to make it grow, you have to master it and you have to become the Guru yourself. And as I told you this morning, you better go and ask ail these Gurus to pay back the money. This is best way we can understand that it is beyond rationality. I'm talking about the unlimited; our rationality is limited, our brains are limited. But many, things can be understood.

So many people reached the conclusion that it is the Kuṇḍalinī awakening, is the one which is going to give us Self-realisation. Through their limited brain only, they reached it. They also reached so many conclusions, that like persons like Jung, the disciple of Mister Freud the great, was such a sensible man that he said you must get your realisation, you must get your Self-realisation and he prepared the ground for Sahaja Yoga, for he said, when you get your Self-realisation, you will become collectively conscious. He talked about it.

So, one has to understand that this is not only what I'm saying, this has been said by all the great saints, by all the incarnations, by all the great prophets. Mohammad said, you have to become the Peer.

But you know what they're doing about religion now. I do not want to fall into controversies but you can yourself judge, what have they done out, of these incarnations. You give them the best thing, the highest, they know how to spoil it. Like, I would say that Hindus were told, that Ātmā, the spirit resides in everybody. They had no business to start the different caste system, which depends on the birth. Actually Jati [caste] means a person born with certain aptitudes. For example you are Brahmins, because you are Seekers, you are seeking the Brahma, so you are Brahmins. Those who are seeking the power say, we seek in elections are Kṣhatriyas. Like that, these are the aptitudes of personalities which determine a person's birth. Actually the one who has written Gītā himself, was Vyāsa, was an illegitimate child of a fisherwoman and how could he say that you are born in a Brahmin family. It's a capacity, a category.

You are in the category of those Seekers. You are the ones who are going to get realisation, that's why you are the Brahmins and this category can be anywhere. It can be in Islamic world, it can be in China and it can be in Russia, it can be in England and it is in Australia. I have, through My husband's job, been to all these countries. I was amazed. I've given realisation even to Russians, they're very good for realisation. But they'll take time to understand it to that extent. Because you are really free people; you are the people who are free, democratic, can have more open mind, to understand Sahaja Yoga, to achieve it to much greater heights. But still I would like to say that freedom doesn't mean abandonment. It doesn't mean that. Say in a plane if all the parts of the plane want to have freedom, what will happen to the plane, ultimately? We are part and parcel of one whole being. One primordial Being, the macrocosm and we are cells. We have to relate ourselves to the whole and so we have to find out our relationship, the coordination between different cells, the love, the love between.

Last of all I would like to say it is the Divine Love of God, is the grace of God which has made you a human being and it is His grace which is going to make you a supreme human being. Because He wants to have that power to flow through you, to make you a hollow personality; like the flute of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, so that you might feel His power and you manoeuvre it. And you enter into the Kingdom of God, because He's the Ocean of Love. He forgives all your so-called guilts; what guilts can we have, what sins can we commit, only you are like little birds who sometimes feel guilty for bringing a little straw from outside in the house.

He is a loving Father, He is a Father who is the Ocean of Forgiveness. He cleanses us completely and He grants His beauty to us and you become His own children, who have been granted all His powers, in their own beauty and its glory.

May God bless you!

[It refers to explanations “on Her arrival in Sydney yesterday."]

Kuṇḍalinī is a growing process within you.

You cannot pay for it, for God does not understand money and he will not accept payment from people who want to become higher beings.

I am not part of a Guru shop like others. If there is imitation and falseness in religions, then there has to be something real, there has to be a real rose if there arc imitation flowers.

Such a joyous moment to be with seekers, to be with young people who are seeking.

I have come for the first time to Australia, I should have come much earlier I think sometimes, the way some of the seekers are ruined by some of these horrible people who are around. One has to know that you cannot pay for God's love, you cannot pay for it, you cannot organize it, it is something that God has given you already, that is within you.

You cannot manufacture it, you cannot copy it. What happened to you when you become a human being from amoeba? How much did you pay for that? Who organized that for you? If there is living God, if he exists and if there is his living love, then whatever has happened to you or will happen to you and has to happen to you, has to be absolutely living, it cannot be some sensational thing or some sort of funny gesture or contortions in your body which you cannot control.

You have to have complete control over yourself, that's the first thing that should happen to you that you should be master of yourself. But, we are deluded very much and impressed by the sophistication.

Those who are true seekers will have to come to Sahaja Yoga.

Now Sahaja Yoga means spontaneous happening within you it's not a rational thing, you cannot put in any effort for it.

Some people will not get it what ever I may try or you may try, they just can't get it, but most of them should get it's a spontaneous happening that takes place within you. Because now we have reached a stage of our evolution where we have to have the break through into the absolute, otherwise the chaos of this world is not going to die! That's your due, that's your right.

Yoga means union with God. It means union with your spirit. It's no other nonsense that people talk, Sahaja means: Saha means `with', Ja means `born'.

It's within you, it's spontaneous, like every seed has a primule in it, you too have that power within you, just placed there in the sacrum, the triangular bone.

So many people who are real scholars, who are seekers, have reached the conclusion that it is the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī only that gives you your second birth, your baptism, but they do not know how it will work out because it is a living force. You cannot pull our the primule out of the seed, you cannot not force a flower to become a fruit, you cannot pay money for it, you cannot rationalise it or mock at it or laugh at it or if you doubt it whatever it is. It will work out when it has to work out. In the same way today we are at the junction of a great happening, en masse realisation has to take place, evolution has to take place, otherwise this creation will have no meaning, you will have no meaning either.

So don't worry for cheap sensations and sensational stuff that is around, you have to ask for the real and that real you will only ask for if you have self esteem, that you understand that you have to get the real and not something that you can purchase on the market! Whatever you can do is not Divine, so, because you are doing no living work whatsoever! But after realisation you can do, living work because your awareness itself becomes dynamic as it is meant. I had a very long interview just now with lots of journalists and TV people and radio people and I was surprised, they were very, very wise and extremely deeply interested in the real seeking and the questions they asked.

The first and foremost question that they asked was “What is this Kuṇḍalinī?" Was very good because they didn't ask any mundane questions. Do you play this, do you do this, all this nonsense they didn't ask Me. They said, “What is this Kuṇḍalinī?" which is a very sensible and a wise question. This won't come to a stupid man! What is Kuṇḍalinī? One should know what it is! If you have come here with a curiosity about it, at least you must ask such a question as to what is Kuṇḍalinī? Because nothing is telling you.

You should ask Me questions... and if you go to a Shakti there's something what we call a gift, if you want to have, you can have it. If you don't want to have I cannot force it down your throat! You have to choose it in all your freedom and understanding.

Now this Kuṇḍalinī is the pure desire, the power of desire within us which is placed in the triangular bone called Sacrum. Which remains the whole even after creating the whole of you as you look like a human being. It's just the same, till you get your Realisation, till you get your absolute, it will remain.

You may go to thousands of Gurus, do what you like.

There are people I have seen who are so identified with their Guru's that they don't even realise that they haven't any powers within them, nothing and still they are identified with them.

Unless and until you get your spirit you are not going to be satisfied, you try anything else because you are a category and category of a seeker. There may be some who are not, who are just posing, they can be discovered very easily, the Kuṇḍalinī rises only in the presence of a holy person who is a realised Soul, that's why they say you must get a Sat Guru, which is a Guru who is a realised Soul, but how many there are.

They are shocking enterprises, they are mesmerizing, they have given you no powers whatsoever except to dance according to their whim and pay them their bills, now, the time has come for you to know that you are going to be your own Gurus you have to achieve your spirit and you have to become that, but stupidly won't understand. I understand that why people go to such Gurus sometimes are extremely stupid that they can't see that we haven't got the real thing. If they are real seekers they would not accept something that is not real. They will deny and defy all and will say that we must have the power of our spirit.

Have we got the power to know what is wrong with us and what's wrong with others. This is what you have to ask, this Kuṇḍalinī rises and gives you your baptism in the fontanelle area. The time is so short that I can't describe the whole lot to you.

There are seven centers within us and the Kuṇḍalinī is placed about the lowest. It's very important to know this point about which I'll tell you later on. It's here you can see the lowest center is placed which is your innocence. They never talk of innocence do they? Where is your innocence placed is this point which manifests outside the pelvic plexus and which has got the Kuṇḍalinī above it.

And above the Kuṇḍalinī are six centers which are manifesting in your other plexuses in the gross.

These are the subtle centers within you. When the Kuṇḍalinī rises She enlightens all these centers. She enlightens Herself. You have to become, it is the becoming that is important, not that I give you a lecture and say `Oh, this is this and that is that.' It is a happening that should happen to your personality in your awareness you should be able to feel the centers of others and you should be able to awaken the Kuṇḍalinī of others.

If one candle has enlightened another candle, the other candle should be capable of enlightening another candle, otherwise it has no meaning. It takes hardly any time for the Kuṇḍalinī to rise, but there are obstructions in many people because we are very complicated. Doesn't matter, whatever it is it can be cured. It can be improved and you have to have it because you are seekers born for this purpose only, you are not here to sell somebody's pockets and make them parasites on your society. You are not here to just become sex points, just to be lost as alcoholics and druggists and chemists! You are human beings, created out of thousands and thousands of species being discarded and placed at such a pivotal point. And now the time has come for you to enter into the Kingdom of God. At this time don't listen to these people be careful I'll give you a small story about how things work out in the hell.

There was a gentlemen who was a very good man and a very great seeker and he went to heaven because he died, he was a good man so God have him a key to heaven, but he said, “What, here the people are so sober, enjoying themselves, they are in complete joy, but there is no fun, I don't have any fun before this, I didn't go to any one of these horrible places of sex nonsense and all that." So they said alright you go to hell and see for yourself and if you choose hell you can go to hell, so he came in and he found all kinds of funny things happening and people doing all kinds of things. Ego being pampered, go ahead, go ahead, do like this, very good for you, come along, be more fast, you must kill your ego, you must kill your super ego, this and that and he says very good idea, you see it's such an ego pampering thing that he liked the place and a very good thing going on, so the people who are doing that said, “What are you doing here?" He said, “I want... I have come to hell." He said, “This is not hell." “Where is it?" Peep out from there, he started seeing from different peep holes and he was amazed. People were put into burning fire, some were in the boiling oil and all sorts of things, he got the shock of his life. He says, “What's that!" He turned around and said, “Is that hell?" They said “That's it. The smoke."... Then they said, “What are you doing here?" They said, “We are publicity department!" That's what they are! Don't listen to them. You will develop cancers you will go mad, you will have all kinds of problems.

You'll be broke. I have go now people in England, who were heads of some of those so-called academics, they are paupers on the street, while these people have diamonds in their beds, attached to the bed-heads.

Those people who didn't even have a bicycle have Mercedes! They themselves are handicapped, they are sick people, but they are professing such big things and how can you cut it down, all this nonsense.

People develop diseases all kinds of problems with them. You must see the people who go. What do they have, have they any quality... do they understand anything? Are they looking alright? Is their health alright? At least minimum of minimum their health should be alright. Are they sane people? Have they conquered themselves and are on top of the world, are they, or are they still slaves of so many things? If they are enjoying themselves there is no need to have any addictions you just give up overnight.

I don't say `don't do this and don't do that!' I never say that. It's not necessary to say it because you haven't found the real, that's why it's a problem. But once you find it you just jump there. You start enjoying life without it, because the Spirit is the one that is the source of joy and happiness. Nothing else I think the time is very, very short and I cannot cover the full subject but I would like to have some good questions from you. Not silly questions because I'm very clever and I can avoid it.

Thank you very much. [Self-realisation experience.] But don't be frivolous, it won't work out, you are the loser. I am not the loser, I don't have to gain any thing! Now, how will it work out? First you will find there is not thought in you mind, thoughtless awareness, many people talk about it, thoughtless awareness... and talk of Self-realisation. But have they done it? Of course, it is needless to say that once you get your realisation you get your [UNCLEAR khamsha].

That Kṛiṣhṇa has said once you get your realisation your problems are solved, physical, emotional, mental, all problems are solved and you become absolutely relaxed. That goes without saying. But I'm not here to sort of cure people and go to hospitals. Nothing of the kind. It's just who are the seekers will be blessed because this is the reward of this last judgement.

Just close your eyes.

And the first thing you will feel will be thoughtless awareness, you won't find any thought in your mind, if you try to see your mind you'll find there is no thought. Just close your eyes and see if there is any thought there.

Ask your mind, what are you thinking? When there is Kuṇḍalinī crosses over the Āgñyā Chakra which is the center of Christ, you become thoughtlessly aware, you become, again I say it's the becoming; then it crosses the Fontanelle bone area which is called as [UNCLEAR]... in Sanskrit language. This is the real baptism one can say, you can feel the Cool Breeze on the hands from the All-pervading Power around; but that's not the end of it, it's just the beginning.

It's just that your seed has been germinated but as Christ has said, some seeds got lost because they're places on the rock.

So do not have a heart of a rock, just keep it open, keep it open. You'll feel very relaxed also, extremely relaxed. You have to ask for it.

You have to say, `Mother give us our Self-realisation please,' you have to knock on the door. If you if you are arrogant about it, it's rather difficult for Me. You are asking for such a great thing which you have been seeking for ages, for many lives.

In humility you have to ask, if it works it's your own gain, if it doesn't, we'll work it out later.

Not to condemn yourself for that, you've no way to feel guilty please don't feel guilty about any thing, whatever you've done forget it, don't feel guilty, that's one of the diseases people have, when I say something, they start feeling guilty about it. Not to feel guilty about because what guilt can have with what wrong can you do, in the presence of God who is the ocean of love. He's ocean of love. Kuṇḍalinī is universally there, exists in everyone, She is your Mother, She is you individual Mother. Mother, that is the desire. The pure desire which is waiting for a chance to give you your second birth.

And when She rises, She touches the seat of Spirit on the fontanelle bone area and the Spirit, which enjoys itself by itself, shines in your awareness and you get collectively conscious, please put your hands out.

It's like one flower becomes the fruit, then five, then ten. It has to happen, just it has to happen. If not now, it'll happen later, you have to have sometime to do this kind of thing it's such a fast running train that you don't know where to catch it.

Please don't doubt Me for the time being because I'm not selling anything, I've spent My own money for Sahaja. I have come here to give you a gift which you desire. There is no organization that we are running, you have to become. Just feel it if you are feeling the Cool Breeze, it's a subtle thing. It's very subtle, so be careful.

Our attention is on the gross and if it has to achieve that dimension of subtleness.

Try to still yourself, try to still yourself.

[Long pause.] Now see for yourself. All those who are getting Cool Breeze raise you hands, now all of you who are getting Cool Breeze raise your hands higher.

Great! Alright again work it out, for all of you it will work out, I'm sure. Quite a number, at least 50% got it. Keep your eyes shut, that's very important because when the Kuṇḍalinī rises she directs the pupil, so please keep your eyes shut, that's very important.

Contents: 1981-03-24 Quote from an article in `Daily Telegraph', Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

I want to give people Self-realisation and save all the millions of people who have been hurt by fake Gurus.

Contents: 1981-03-24*, Public Program, Cycle 2, University 2, Sydney University, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

It was very kind of you to have invited Me here to speak to the university students. The word university is itself very suggestive, that you come here to become a universal being. Perhaps you may not have realised that when you joined the university. Many must have been to the university before and must have gone out of it. They might have been somewhere, in something, but if we ask them, “What have you gained through university education?" They can tell you that because of university education they have been able to get this job or maybe this special position in politics, maybe that they have gained lots of money, of business.

Also they may say that they have gotten knowledge. All these things, through this university. But not that they have become universal beings. And whatever is universal is now bing analyzed. When you are not the universal being how can you analyze whatever is universal? For example if you go to any university, same way as in this university, I found, there is a science section, there is a chemistry section, then the physics section and sections and sections and sections.

So an analytical method is developed. In a different... we put different people to tell us different aspects of life. Like human beings too, we study them as if they are different beings within themselves, like we may have a doctor for one ear and another for the other ear.

So much specialisation that to get the... whole of your body you might have to go hundreds of doctors and end up with some sort of a complete execution of money and energy.

When you become a universal being, in the real sense of the word, it's a becoming, I'm saying actualisation.

It is not something for which you can pay. It is a very different thing. It is the living force within you. The living force that works out your body. Now think of your own body how it works. There are so many things which are reflex action within us. If somebody draws on you, sucks on you, it immediately reflects in your activity. It's all built within you, your digestion is going on without your understanding, so many things are going on in your body which are called as autonomous nervous system, you do not know how they are worked out, what attention you have to pay to them.

It's just done by itself because the whole being is aware of your body. It knows what are the functions, when to cooperate, when to coordinate, when you want to run your hands, don't move you legs, start moving, when you want to fetch something your hands out stretched.

So the being within us knows that when we have to work out something it has to be a synthesis and not the analysis. It's the synthesis that's going to help us and this is the basic problem with our knowledge.

We have to work it out synthetic way.

So that synthetic now means, of course you know, it's artificial.

It sounded so funny, sometimes I find that there's a synthetic material means it is artificial. Actually the synthesis of the being can only be achieved by finding out our absolute. If your absolutely not available, you're relative, you are living relatively, your body is moving relatively, if there is no absolute. But there has to be something absolute that works out this synthesis within your body without your knowledge and they call it as Autonomous Nervous System. Now... is the honesty of human kings that they call it by names.

When they don't know how to explain it. Because they do not know how to explain what works about this autonomous, but what is the auto, who is the auto. They don't ask such questions. That's why human beings have become human beings from this autonomous, but what is the auto, who is the auto? They don't ask such questions. That's why human beings have become human beings from amoeba. What is the purpose? Why are we here on this earth? These questions are shut off also. Because to be honest is their job and honesty can be a very relative terminology if you do not have the absolute within you. For example, what ever you see is honest, whatever you don't see is dishonest, is a wrong idea.

What ever you see is honest up to that point, up to that awareness, up to that limit of awareness where you see human beings as they are. But there is something beyond, you should discover even the science has hypothesis. They have got their laws and they refuse it. Now Newton's law has been challenged, now another theory has come up. You know that Einstein has said that “I do not know how far we have to go in the unknown." He has accepted the theory of unknown.

Apart from that, a person like Jung has said that in psychology, there is universal unconscious, he recognized that. Despite the fact that they were not universal beings, or perhaps they were, according to Me they were, they saw the point that there is something beyond which is universal, which is working it out.

There is some sort of coordinating force outside us which works out coordination, obviously. Nobody can explain why. Example, you see SO2, sulphur dioxide, if you see under the microscope you will see there is asymmetrical vibrations, but they cannot say from where it comes. What's the purpose of that? Who has done it? Lucky they are asymmetric, co-symmetric. They do not know how. They cannot explain. “I only know" they say “this is what we see, that's what it is." For example, in the darkness, if I see there is a table, I can call it that, it is something like a horse because I cannot see clearly. Moreover I take hold of only the length and then a tail and then I start saying that it was just the hard staff or something and now imagine, the whole thing is very different.

When you know a level it can be much more dangerous than to know not at all, because you just continue as something very honest and you become glued to that idea and that conception becomes a part of your spiritual being. That is why you know so many scientists themselves have suffered in that whenever they tried to propound what they say more than the others they were crucified and tortured.

You know about all the scientists, the history of it. And how the scientists of the Divine about which so many have said and talked. When I was born My father said the same thing. He said that the people are born on the first floor. They don't want to know what you see on the tenth floor. That's the problem.

That's how they crucified Christ. Why did they crucify Christ? What was the reason? Because of their ego? No. I would say it was stupidity. It was ignorance. It was their, some sort of complete blindness that they could not see what he was and that they crucified him and he said it will continue. That's what My father told Me and it's a fact.

Then I realised about human beings, they are really very, very blind. They can't see beyond. They perceive through their imaginations. Imagination doesn't become reality unless and until you have something else which is reality. Just now whatever you see, whatever you do, you do not. You have to rise to that awareness, where reality which is the truth, which is the absolute, must become one with you. You will never understand what you are studying, where you are heading to, what you are going to do about it.

Now, you do not know by what power within you, you study, by what power you remember, by what power you can improve yourself. It is a science beyond, beyond our awareness, so you have to tune to it.

For example, if somebody said that under the skin there are many cells, nobody would have believed it if there wasn't a microscope. You have to accept that we have to develop it, but in our own ego we do not want to do it.

And now for an example, Sahaja Yoga has cured cancer. Definitely it has cured cancer of very, very eminent people and when they went and told to the doctor and said that Sahaja Yoga has cured us, they said “You have gone mad." If you are dead lucky then they say you are all right. If you are not like that then they say “you are naive." Now even then they can produce it as, say this was the case... and this was the thing, this was the case history. Now believe Me Sahaja Yoga has cured cancer. But they do not want to believe Me because they have their warrant they take out their oath. All this we have known so far, is all going to be wasted. Now all this is not going to be wasted at all.

Whatever knowledge you have now gets enlightened after realisation for example now, look at Doctor Warren he is a very well educated economist and he knows a lot about the body and everything. He is such a good Sahaja Yogi because once he got enlightened he knew the answers to many questions which are not yet answered and he can communicate much better than anybody else who is not an educated person, who knows everything about say...

I Myself studied medicine because I know I will have to face the doctors and it will be difficult because human beings have given names to everything and I would not be able to communicate with them at all.

Second I had to also study a dictionary I should say the dictionary of Psychology to understand what they call this and what they call that.

So this knowledge is not going to be wasted. But this knowledge is not enlightened unless you see the complete work. It is going to be of no use to you. First Self-realisation is where we are standing. We are, all of us have to have our Self-realisation. In our evolution we have grown through all these various Chakras up to the point where it's at this point in the limbic area. If you are a doctor you will understand My words. You do not know anything about auto you do not know anything about parasympathetic and you do not know how the parasympathetic works out. Now this portion is the one which is called as the baptism in you.

This is the real baptism. It is the living desire within us which resides in the triangular bone called the sacrum. Now as you know the sacrum means sacred.

So the Greeks from the unconscious knew it. Like the way (Derek came to have this university) [UNCLEAR].

This has come from the unconscious that tomorrow these young people who are studying here are going to be the universal beings, that's why it's a university.

Otherwise there is no need to call it university and this Kuṇḍalinī which is there if you see in the triangular bone is coiled into three and a half coils is a desire within us, you. Pure desire within you, to become the absolute, to become the spirit. It resides there for ages. It resides there from many lives.

It resides there and comes back and comes back. That's your own authority from Divine not from some theological college. From a Divine realised Soul like Christ. If someone comes up he can raise the Kuṇḍalinī.

The one who knows the job can do it and for this you cannot pay. It's an insult. You have to think of money. Money has nothing to do with it. It's a very simple thing.

It's Love. How can you pay for Love? Whatever love you have to pay for is not Love. It just flows, just acts and you can see with your naked eyes. For scientists, you should see we have a film in which they have been able to see that the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī in the triangular bone is the rising of it and the breaking. Many saints have described about it, know it rises, how it goes up.

For example Christ has said that “I'll appear before you like tongues of flame." How many people have tried to understand this sentence or they may give you some explanations or something. These are the centers which really look like tongues of flames, beautiful they are, in different colours in different areas.

And they look extremely alive and extremely gentle and the flame is glowing like this. What is said “I will appear before you like tongues of flames." You also do not know anything about Christ because he was not allowed to be more than four years in the real sense of the word because most of the time he was missing from here. Now today I would like to know how many of you students will recognize Christ with all your knowledge, with all your Ph.D.'s and everything. You cannot recognize Christ, that's a fact. Why? Because you have not felt your absolute.

Unless and until you have felt your absolute you can't recognize yourself? So you must get it. You have to have it and it's a very simple thing, absolutely simple. Because it is living. Whatever is vital, whatever is vital has to be simple.

Supposing for your breathing you have to come to the university and learn how to breathe and how to have your lungs contracted how many of us would have survived? I mean whatever is vital we know very well how to do it. We know how to breathe in and we know how to breathe out. We don't have to learn that anywhere. In the same way this happens without any learning but only the educated have a better advantage in these modern times because those who are lost in the jungles you also get lost in the jungles so you can communicate with them because you have been there. It's a better idea that an educated man talks to an uneducated man.

Sometimes an uneducated man also impresses. I have seen some people are also impressed by an uneducated man and he is a realised Soul but when it comes back to them they start rationalizing and thinking how can that be? Everything that is written in the scriptures is the truth no doubt but the people who try to teach them are very hard natured. They have deviated. The only thing that they had to do was to seek themselves. To be born again. None of them...? They have built big temples and churches and mosques and this and that and big fanaticism around you all.

Your aura is covered with that fanatic suffocating force which does not allow you to see that whatever is God has to be universal. It's like many flowers on the same tree and they have plucked them and they say, “This is my flower. This is my flower" and the flowers are dead, ugly, horrid. And they cannot grow.

They cannot grow, they cannot create a fruit. This is the condition of our so-called religions. Now I do not want to have any confrontations. If they even now excite that you have to do God's work which you have to do, definitely you have, no doubt. But you have to decide.

Christ has said very clearly in the second chapter of Matthew 2nd verse “You'll be calling me `Christ! Christ!' I won't recognize you." That's very true. It is not a question of who recognizes Him, but He should recognize you because the advent of Christ is going to be absolutely terrible. He is not going to talk to you, convince you or comfort you or give you any council as I am trying My level best, but He will just come for the last sorting out. Because I declare that the last judgement has started. The last judgement takes place only through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. There is no other way out. God is going to do it through living process.

That's why en masse realisation is coming and see now in the university you could not even find the people to fill this hall. I would have given Realisation to all of them. But they're not interested. This is not the fault of God. It is the fault of the people who do not want to see the truth and meet Me. You cannot help because of their ego, their possessions and their conditionings, they have so much lost now that I find that we will have to have selection and this selection will go on to a point and after that you have been given all the chances, all the knowledge as how to correct yourself and how to be in the kingdom of God. But later on this last has to come and that time there will be no arguments, no talking nothing, just the last sorting out. That's what it is.

It is very hard for people to believe in Christ when it comes from ego. There are many people who think how could there be Christ? How could be anyone? Now I will prove not only his existence, but the existence of the prophets and of all the great incarnations on this earth and to show what is their correction. As Christ himself has said, “Those who are not against me, are with me." All those who are with Me is a big family and I want you to get introduced to that family and to know for definite that they are there. How do we do it? How do we believe it? You should not believe any other way. If you are free, you should not believe Me, because I am not here to entice you or to give you any kind of a charm or what you call a mesmerism, but you are absolutely free. Now, in your freedom, how do you know what I say is true? First of all you must get your realisation. For that you don't have to do anything, it's very simple, I'll work it out. But after that you ask any fundamental question and you will find that you are like a computer. You are now connected to the absolute and you are getting informed with the answers from the absolute. You ask any questions, for example, you can ask `Is there a God?' Immediately you get strong vibrations. You can ask another question, `Was Christ the son of God?' Immediately you get it. Now, supposing you have some fake Guru, you ask about it, your vibrations will stop and stop for quite some time. It's so obvious. Now this is one thing nobody can do.

Now you've talked about the fake Gurus and all that, I'm really ashamed of them, really, I'm ashamed of them, they come from such a great country like India. India is a yogi's home, no doubt, it's a country of great people and a country of saints, where great people lived. But you see, the market was created by seekers of God and the demand came. I'm sorry for that, that this should come from India. But as that country is such a powerfully spiritual country, hypocrisy goes around and there is no hypocrisy. But there are thugs, lots of thugs and Satanic forces that have come up in that country, they are born there to kill the spirituality.

So if there is some sort of misunderstanding about these people, I should say it's an understanding.

I can quite understand that you suspect Me, you should! Because I'm Indian you should suspect Me. I have to just tell you that I'm not here to sell anything, nothing to sell. It's just to give you, just for you to have, nothing to sell. It's love and love and love. I do not know because I see some students are chatting.

Something, I must tell you something and there are some law students here. Now, for the law students I have to tell, you must know the Divine laws, if you know the Divine laws that is the basis of your, that is the basis of all your human laws. If you learn the science is Divine, then you will know the science is Divine, is based on I should say, the whole of this science is based on Divine laws of science, of God. All these things one must know, because, whatever you see, now is not sufficiently there. We have to go a little beyond to see.

If the room is dark, you cannot see anything, whatever you see is very limited. But if there is light, we can see everything and retain everything, everything. I will be happy to stop if you will ask Me questions, I would like to, but don't do too much, because yesterday when I told them, they went one by one and there were at least fifty questions, see and the people were fed up, because most of them were seekers, 90% were seekers and they wanted to feel the realisation, because too much and I had to say that “now stop, it's too much, you are not interested in getting realisation, but just having fun." It's very easy to make fun of Her, you know. It's very easy.

But to understand something deep you have to be a deep personality. If you are not a deep personality you cannot get near Sahaja Yoga, never.

So please understand, it is for your good, it is for your need, this I do not need anything. I have come here because of you're seekers.

So don't be driven away by frivolous ideas and frivolity. Please try and take it for yourself and you will see how remarkably you will get it.

Only for university students, just as Mother would like to give castor oil, with a cover of some chocolate, I would like to tell you, what nice things that can happen to you. We have many students with us, who have found themselves very difficult to the studies and all that and couldn't go ahead, some of them really broke down. They had problems, nervous problems, things like that and some of the students were very backward in the class and they failed every year and it was a big problem for them, but when they got realisation their depression went away and some of them have finished first. Actually, most are first class, first with us in Bombay [Mumbai] University and also in the minor school examinations that we have... and all that they were Sahaja Yogis, special first class.

It's most surprising that these students should shoot up so much, we were just talking about, there's a boy who was very backward and they thought he was mentally retarded, they were going to put him in the mentally retarded school, because in the school if you could not pass for three years in class.

So they brought him to Me and he got a first class. A very good first class and now he is doing very well.

So you see what happens, when your awareness is changed. When your awareness gets that light, you definitely become relaxed and you can be much better. But this is just an encouragement for you. Main thing is that you must ask for the real.

May God bless you!

Contents: 1981-03-24 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Burwood Ashram, 10 Clarence Street, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia (date not sure)

Shri Mataji: So now some questions would be good idea.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, they say that Lord Buddha died of eating excessive pork, is it true?

Shri Mataji: Who says that?

Sahaja Yogi: I've heard this, I just wondered Warren: One of his disciplines was vegetarianism.

Shri Mataji: They don't eat pork now, the Chinese? Warren: They do, they do.

Shri Mataji: They should not. You see pork, people who are dealing with the center, I mean the void, have a little against the pork always. Like the reason was it is very heating giving. It gives a lot of heat, pork gives a lot of heat.

So they were not for it because there is already fire in the void you see and adding to that, say liver patients taking pork really is not so good. But I would say fish is just the same.

Fish has so much of phosphorus, that it can create problems for the liver people. Allergies to fish. I mean pork proteins, protein because that is pork, is... can cause lots of problems.

Warren: It's got a much higher parasitic action than most meats.

Shri Mataji: But that could not have died because he is not such an eater. This is all their ideas.

But he was not a person who did not eat meat. Neither was Mohammed. It was later on, see these people started all this nonsense of vegetarianism.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother what sort of meats should we avoid eating, other that just pork and fish? Should we eat beef for example.

Shri Mataji: You see as I said, that you should know what sort of personality you are. Supposing if you are liverish personality, then chicken is the only meat you can eat, because all meats I think are very heat giving.

So other meats should be avoided. More vegetables, citrus juice and things like that. They ush out, you see. Now let us see what happens to liver. Liver is an organ in our body that sorts out all kind of poisons within us.

Whatever, we eat wrong, create heat in the body. I mean heat creating things are not good for liver.

Why? Because it emits it. The poison is emitted as heat, but how does it emit heat and where does it go? It goes to the blood vessels and then the blood is carried to the skin. Then the blood emits the heat as perspiration and other things and temperature. What happens that when the liver is not alright, something wrong with the liver, then this H_2O, that is water, when oxygen is 1 and hydrogen is two, so oxygen is placed in the center, hydrogen is here and on the other side. This is a normal thing of oxygen and hydrogen, alright? But when you take the alcohol or anything like that, then the structure of water becomes like this.

That these two oxygens here, I'm sorry, two hydrogens and oxygen. Now when this goes near the liver like that, see, then the emissions of heat is impossible because there's no entrance to it, cannot be carried and that's how the heat remains in the liver. Moreover, you take alcohol or anything like that and stronger things like fish with phosphorus, all these things and the heat is more accumulated. Now with alcohol added to it is not possible for liver to emit that heat.

So the liver gets spoiled, too much of heat all the time and cells get corrupted and it's too much because heat gets expanded too much, then they get corrupted and they cannot function any more.

So it's a vicious circle you get in.

A person who gets cancer also the same things happen to water. Water element becomes like this and it cannot get any heat into it. But the heat cannot be transferred into the water, you do not get any temperature.

So you may get a cancer but you do not get a temperature, is most surprising. You may get some infection but with cancer pure cancer it doesn't give you any temperature. Same with alcohol.

You take alcohol, you'll find you will fall down. I don't know all the symptoms you get, but I have seen people falling into gutters and all that sort of a thing. But they have no temperature.

Because alcohol takes you to the left side, first of all and moreover, it transforms, the water into disuse.

So it refuses to take any heat into it, there is no temperature. And without temperature you will think that you are perfectly alright, till you get into real serious trouble. But with other troubles when the liver is alright, you get, everybody knows that there is a problem and immediately temperature people are looked after. Moreover, those who are very bad liver also, if they get an infection. Say they get a throat trouble, the temperature goes up so high because all of the water is available otherwise you see.

So, such people have very high temperatures within themselves and with liver they have nothing.

So, this is a very interesting thing about liver, that all heated things, whatever you get is very dangerous for liver.

But, cancer is caused for the left side also.

So your liver does not have to play much part as far as cancer is concerned, it cannot solve the problems, of cancer, except that when it is in danger itself. You see when you get liver cancer, then only it starts working on that. Because, it cannot sort out. The reason is the right side is for all the five elements.

So whatever is from the five elements it can sort out. But whatever is from the supernatural from the subconscious that liver cannot sort out. Now, it cannot. Now what can fight this? Only the spleen. And if your spleen is also in jeopardy, it cannot fight that.

So, those people who have a bad spleen are much more in danger of getting cancer than people who have bad livers. But bad livers, will always get a heart, always, goes hand in hand.

You'll find the right Nābhī and Āgñyā, goes hand in hand and this is a combination in a patient.

Ego-oriented people have got bad livers, they'll be tall thin. They have to be tolerant people. They'll have Āgñyā, they are ego-oriented and they'll have heart. They die more of heart than of cancers and they are very aggressive people also. They cause others cancers, themselves heart. But, the people who have this left-sided attitude towards life get cancer more.

Because, I have not yet come across anyone who is attacked from the right. Mostly the left-sided black magic, this that, some Guru, blood cancers, mostly such people get it on the left side.

So those who are left-sided people have to be careful about their spleen. Very important this. They should never get speedy.

You see they are not speedy on their own, there is sort of a bhoot I think, who makes a speed. Suddenly, I have seen, if you are going by aeroplane, as the time comes suddenly the bhoot comes in. The person becomes different. Suddenly, “What's the matter?" “I have to go, I have to go." That's a bhoot.

So one should know if you are to go you'd better go, quickly, quietly.

There's no need to hurry up or need to play into the bhoot. But after sometime ego-oriented people also get possessed, very badly.

In the beginning they are possessed by the ego people only and they become even more ego-oriented.

The trouble is the ego in the beginning you do not feel anything wrong because you see it doesn't give you pain, you feel very successful, you are here, you are forward, you are talking, you are a very assertive person. But later on you find that you start seeing your ego and you get a fright. And also you are possessed by so many ego-oriented people. Because ego-oriented people always take to something like alcohol, things, drugs and try to go to the left side.

So any such person enters into you, you can polish off one neat whisky bottle into your stomach, you won't feel it at all. Say “What's wrong I can do it, why not? I can. I can do this, I can do that." Once they start doing this, they can also get cancer. But you see they take time to take to cancer, they're easier to get paralysis. They get paralysis and they go `ga-ga' in the head. See, those people who are left-sided do not get so ga-ga as the people who are right-sided, surprisingly.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother just when you were talking about heat generated in the body, it reminded Me that sometimes when I give vibrations to people, if I touch them sometimes my whole body becomes very, very hot and I start sweating and the sweat pours down. That's if the person is in bad condition. If I touch them with one hand and I put one hand out towards your photo. Is this to be expected as normal?

Shri Mataji: You have to cleanse yourself a little more that means, you see. If it is already there's a spark, it catches fire, isn't it? And so it is better to cleanse yourself more and ask them to put hands on the photograph first time a little bit, immune you yourself, it will work out. If there's too much perspiration coming that means it's a left Heart. You put your hand, ask for forgiveness. Say, `I'm not doing it Mother, you are doing it,' which it will shift immediately. Even if there's the slightest consciousness that, `I am doing it,' is very dangerous. Ego-oriented people take more time to understand this. They should just go on saying, `No I am not doing it, it's Mother is doing it; Mother you are doing it,' you see and that will work out. And also tell the person that, `I am not doing anything, it's Mother who is doing it.' So that then you don't have the problems.

Sahaja Yogi: So if that happens, know I'm doing something wrong, is that correct? If I start to feel that heat in the body.

Shri Mataji: When you just start saying, `Mother I am not doing it, you are doing it. I am your perspire there!'

Sahaja Yogi: Mother sometimes when I meditate, it's happened two or three times now, it seems to be a very deep meditation and it seems as though my awareness is very much up here, but then it seems to go further up...

Shri Mataji: That's not good.

Sahaja Yogi: That's what I thought, I was wondering if that was a bhoot.

Shri Mataji: No, no, no. That's something funny experience that you just avoid all that nonsense.

Warren: That reminds me a little bit of supraconscious experiences.

Shri Mataji: Absolutely, I'm worried. You have to bring down your... With autosuggestion, you can bring down our ego, very much down. See when ego expands like this it can go like that, it can go up like that, like a balloon it shoots off like that. It's just shooting off like that.

So that should not. Awareness should not go up there, should be just in here. Awareness position is here. Only it opens new dimensions in the brain. This is our awareness, you see. Why should you be there?

Sahaja Yogi: It sort of feels as though I know that I'm there but the experience seems as though it's much wider.

Shri Mataji: No, no. This all ideas. Like some people told Me I feel I'm in the tree, in the walls, in the... this is wrong. You see, now you are not to expand outside, one must understand. To expand inside.

Expansion outside is a sign that you are going to matter. Expansion has to be absolutely inside. This is absolutely supraconscious. Be careful, I am rather worried. Put your hands towards Me. Raise them, higher. They're shaking. Better beat yourself with shoes every morning.

Sahaja Yogi: I do.

Shri Mataji: Shoe beat. Be careful, I have this little thing about you, always a worry.

Somehow this is an ego problem quite a lot. Superego is much less. You have to condition yourself go on telling yourself, `Now you, sit down, keep quite and don't know this and then.' Because in progress you must have a balance. You see in the hand, also, this is such a small little hand of a lady and this one is such a big thing, this is supraconscious, be careful. It happens to Rajneesh, it happened. He felt his awareness has gone on the tree he was looking at himself on the tree and that is suppose to enlightenment, you see! This is what is written his book, nonsense you know? Someone should write that this means you became a bhoot.

It is nice, not very high so it's alright you can bring it down, back, alright? Do something about it, it is very important. Now, the best way to do it is to become collective, spread out you see. Try to do for others, work for others, in very humble way.

Sahaja Yogi: Yes, Mother.

Shri Mataji: You see, you should talk less also and maybe some German, can it's not all.

Warren: But don't get a left Viśhuddhi!

Shri Mataji: That's one thing. But she won't just now, she won't for sometime because [UNCLEAR] left side is very [UNCLEAR] you see.

Sahaja Yogi: Sometimes when I feel sensations, I can feel that one much stronger that I can feel that one.

Shri Mataji: That's it. That's it, that you see you have used too much it's numbed out you see it's numbed out. If the ego is too much then you just don't feel it. You have surpassed Buddha. This is the point where you see the Buddha. The Buddha point is here, you see? And if you are attached to this point it is alright, up to that point. But sometimes you could so much that it might come out from here, there, there somewhere. Like that. You see if it's too much. But this one is still not affected so you get vibrations there. But this is very much affected, so you be careful.

It is very dangerous to play with it. You know what happened to Hitler? Nothing, but this. Started going on and on and on. He thought he was successful, he was this. He could not compromise with himself, somehow. Then he became mad. You must understand, that we are here to grow, to become something superior.

So if you have too much superego, try to reduce it. If you have ego try to reduce it. Because it's for our good only. All of us must understand. There's nothing to feel hurt about it. But I've seen if you, if you start thinking that you have an ego then you feel hurt... ego, but superego people, don't you see, they're quite proud of it.

Yes, yes, superego people are very proud of it. They say no I'm just the same, still crying, weeping.

Yes, they always say like that, “Oh I'm just the same." Very happy about it, you see. As if everybody should sympathy with them and pity them and ah, ah, ah. And poor ego people who still feel how should I admit. They feel hurt. It's as if. You know it's funny. That some of those blind people have pity on them. But somebody is deaf they laugh at it.

So a deaf man finds it difficult to say that I'm deaf. But a blind person doesn't mind saying I'm blind, because everybody will hear come along, come along, come along. You see it's like that only with an ego person if person knows that person has an ego so the person who has ego himself feels hurt. “Oh I have ego, I'm so bad." And everybody says, “Oh ego, ego, ego." Horrible.

But the superego's are much worst, you see. They're like scorpions, horrible, horrible. And sometimes they, they give Me blisters you see. These superego are. They are horrible and sometimes they start scratching you, you know? They're just like mosquitoes, horrible things.

So they still go, “I'm still very unhappy." Very difficult to cure a superego, that's all. You find many women do that and men do that.

“Oh I'm very upset, I'm very unhappy, I'm depressed." They take pride in saying such things. They should be ashamed. This what happens and they don't bother about it.

So with such people you should show no sympathies and they'll come back. If you start showing sympathies, they are finished. You'll also become the same you'll also stand.

Even ego's, you see they become successful sometimes, some egotistical fellow becomes successful in Sahaja Yoga, somehow. You see, can assert. Others take cue. But no one likes it. You can see a normal person won't like it. If you get into ego then try to get out of it. See that temper and all these things are there. Controlling your temper too much, it's not good. But it comes with many things.

Some frustrations in life, some sort of a problem, can be cured. See, if you're possessed sometimes you can get into these things, you see.

So, be careful you have to be normal persons. You're not your ego or superego. You are you're spirit. You have to become that. And sometimes, you know, if you lead too much you get an ego, “Oh, I understand everything” this that. Then, Mother sees to it that it goes down. She punctures it, you see? So it's better, that we should forget all of our past and become as a humble child. You have to be like children to enter into the kingdom of God. Just like children, have no ego or superego. They're so natural and so balanced and so, so just be careful, alright? No one should try to get an uniqueness in Sahaja Yoga, that's one thing I've said. Have you got that tape with you? On uniqueness.

Warren: That's the tape at the seminar, is it Mother?

Shri Mataji: In London.

Warren: We've heard it, yes.

Shri Mataji: Oh, that's good. You see somebody says, “I'm much better than..." definitely there's some sort of ego. No body is better in Sahaja Yoga. You are all part and parcel of the same body. If this finger says, `I'm better' it will start increasing in size. It's malignancy. Try to be careful, alright?

Sahaja Yogi: Thank you, Mother.

Shri Mataji: What's another? Don't play to much attention to yourself, also. What's happening to me, where am I catching, what am I happening. You see if you are a that's a concede, then what sort of a concede, also you see becomes so self-centred that you do not grow. You have to go out, you see where do we expand? In the way that you do not disturb anyone. But you start seeing that how you nourish others by your love. Because if you, you see ego-oriented person becomes very self-indulgent, selfish for himself. Like this is my bathroom, this is my house this is my, my, my, my, my sort of a thing.

So try to avoid all these things. If you sometimes... now say for example, if you have a house, if you are proud of that better give that up and go and stay in some dungeon and then come back. That's how you treat yourself. It's all the right idea. Now you come along, what as you think of yourself? Then this ego can be corrected. All the time tell yourself that you better be alright. You think this is your Ashram? Alright you sleep on the street. Then it works out. You see it is easy to teach other like this. You can go on, but to teach yourself is very difficult and that what it is needed. That's needed for ego people that why for ego people it's rather difficult to come up, because they won't say, like that, you see? It must go that side before doing that.

Sahaja Yogi: Someone pointed out to me once that was very interesting, every time you point at somebody the one finger, there are three fingers pointing back at you, this way?

Shri Mataji: What's this? Warren: Like this, when one finger goes this way there are three coming back at you.

Shri Mataji: Like that? You see it's in an elliptical, you see like that it moves you see, whatever you give, it comes to you. Whatever you give it comes to you. Try to give something that is joy. Very easy.

It's very, very easy you see to tell yourself, off after Sahaja Yoga. I've seen people becoming very much transformed. Especially English people. You know how ego-oriented they are and they are not ashamed of it?

They think if you are not an ego-oriented person you are a weak personality, Just imagine? They think like that. And for them to become you see, a weak personality is very difficult. But after Sahaja Yoga, they'll manage that, they'll manage that. In the same way you should try to do it. But, I think yours a German one, you see. Better give nice shoes to the Germans. You're much better in London but now, your much better in. But that you have any unique experiences, please give them up. Any kind of unique experiences.

Sahaja Yogi: I was very suspicious of it when it was happening.

Shri Mataji: Now, that is very suspicious but you better give it up it's a very seriously thing. One yogi, you see, in the beginning he got realisation, he was giving realisation and everything working out but he still use to take that tabac. You know? Not only he, also this fellow the one who got blood cancer and... all of them use to take it. And I know they were taking it, because whenever I walked they use to come at the back, you see. I know it was them. After 4, five months he came, “I'm getting a very great experience now." I said “what?" “When I meditate, I became like a Hanumāna." I said, “What happened?" “My mouth starts expanding like this... I said and I see in the mirror. I don't see that way but I feel it going here and here and here like Hanumāna. Then I feel I'm lifted up in the body and the whole body becoming very big and all that." I said, “... you must know that I know that you still take tobacco." He said, “Yes, I do." He was so ashamed of himself. I said, “Will you now please vow that I will not take, I will look after it, but you have to decide that you'll will give it up. You think that you can carry on with things and it will have no effect, when my attention is there, when you have got realisation?" After realisation you have to be very much self disciplined. You see, you have given a chance, a big long rope, but then you really hang yourself, very badly. He said, “How to get rid of this phase going." First he use to think he was becoming Hanumāna in a big way and then when, I told him, he promised Me and the whole thing disappeared completely.

It's a nice thing that even ego bhoots and superego bhoots when they face My photograph they come in their own realities and they start showing their effects.

Something's so interesting to see them, that way.

Then, then the people realise, what's this happening to me. Is he going?... It happens.

But try to understand what ever has to happen will happen inside not outside. In the program also you might find some people do some sort of gestures, like this. There was one person was sitting like this.

I said was this matter with this fellow? Some people will just stand up, put their heads down, all sorts of things. Just to attract attention. Ego people have this tendency to attention of others. Do something to attract the attention of others. Like hawks they're watching.

Some of the egos you can make out they're watching the break and the other side is like that.

So these are two types of people. Never that purely that. They're mixtures sometimes, they jump form this to that all that is there. It's worth seeing all the drama as Sahaja Yogis, you'll enjoy that. Never get into that. One has to be careful about it.

Sometimes you have to take really drastic steps. Because you are seekers, isn't it? To improve that. What else?

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, to help attention, a liver diet helps, is that right? A liver diet to help attention.

What else can we do?

Shri Mataji: You see, put you eyes onto the Mother Earth, as far as possible. In the morning also, if you can walk, in the morning time, not during..... I don't know, it's not very cold session. In the dews, dews that fallen on the grass, you see, will help you. Also, put your eyes onto the thing. Try to fix your eyes on the Mother Earth, as far as possible. Don't look at Me. And don't try to become attractive sort of a personality, you see. Then, what happens you always see who is looking at you, you see. That's a very bad thing. I've seen the people who flirt. I've seen the bhoots getting out of their eyes going into another persons. Even the person is standing like that, you see, has a bhoot in his eye and a person comes at the back you see, is trying to attract. Both are dressed up very well, to attract the whole world. There's a competition on, you see.

And this person comes here and stands here and another bhoots stands at the back.

So, without even seeing the person, you see the bhoot informs, `Hello,' and the other bhoots says, `Hello' and the person turns right about turn and starts looking. And you see them going on like that. And sometimes the bhoots pick on friends you know, I've seen them. Say, there's a group of say, a party of something like that.

Receptions I see them enjoy.

So one person will stand like a hawk. They'll put his eyes onto one person, you see. Now that person is picked out and the bhoots are having a nice time.

And these poor things are just doing all that for nothing at all. For no joy. It's a joyless nonsense going on. And these two they are just don't know, they are just playing. Just like this. Like hawks. It's a very funny situation you know, for a person like Me. I don't know how to control My laughter. It's a silly thing isn't it? And it's never happened before. I tell you fifty years back nobody did all this nonsense, to that extent. I don't know about Western Society so much fifty years back. It could not be that bad. Only one or two persons might be like that. But now days everybody has become that king, you see. What was that king who killed seven wives? They all are Henry the 8th nowadays.

In a democracy, everybody has become a demon. The reason is demono-cracy, not democracy but demono-cracy. Because everybody is equal to a king. What's wrong? We are... what's wrong with us? We are great. If he's a king, I'm also a king. If he had seven wives, I can have eight, what's the matter? He did. If he eat filth, I can also eat filth. How can anybody stop me? It's like that. It's competition, nonsense, stupidity and foolishness. That is how ego is. Ego makes you nothing but a stupid fool. That was it does. Absolutely. Ego is such a thing. It makes such a stupid fool out of you, that you don't even realise. Have you heard the story of Nārada? I must tell you.

I think I'll have some tea before I do.

Nārada was man who was bitten by this ego once. And she started talking, saying “Look at me, I'm such a powerful God that nothing can touch me. Even Shiva was enticed by cupid and that, he had to marry Pārvatī. Who was Satī actually because he was bitten by cupid. But I'm such a great ascetic Brahmachari that no one can touch me." And then Viṣhṇu always plays tricks you see, he is the one who tricks people.

So he sent two of this Ganaharvas, two of his celestial singers to attend to this Nārada. And when he was going in the jungle they met him just by chance, Sahaja.

They said that, “Oh Nārada, you are so great, we were sent in search of you; such a handsome man, so beautiful and this and that” and his Ego started accepting all that. “Really?", he said. “We were searching for you." “Why?" “There is a very beautiful Queen, Princess, who is to be married and there is a Swayamwara” swayam, means yourself and wara means the husband to be chosen. “So we will all go that Swayamwara” like Sītā had the Swayamwara, you see. “And I am sure you will be chosen, because there cannot be a more handsome and attractive man that anybody else in this whole world." Now this Nārada was bitten by Ego you see he was a stupid fellow that he believed all their stories and he went there they said, “You must dress up very well and you must have this and that and we'll get you all the clothes, everything and we will attend on to you and we have always admired you."... and you see admiration and adoration they love.

He said, “Really? Then I must dress up well." You see. “Am I that handsome!" They said, “You are the most handsome person and she is going to fall for you and this is something and she is a lady known for her beauty and there are people from all over the world and you will be there unique. She is going to garland and you're going to marry her." He forgot about cupid story and about his asceticism, everything.

He said, “Alright, I'm going to do that." So they dressed up him very well and he went and sat among all the other great princes.

And then actually it was Viṣhṇu who created this Māyā city, Māyānagari. Just an illusion. And when this illusion was created she walked with the garland and this lady was also an illusion you see. And she walked like this and she looked at him and she smiled. She could not control her laughter, as if she thought, what a mockery it is. He was surprised at himself. You see he thought this garland was going to...

When she smiled, he thought she is appreciated, but when she couldn't help laughing loud, you see? Then he was rather surprised and then she went away and still she was laughing and giggling at him.

So he was surprised.

So he said, “What's the matter, why didn't she garland me, she should have garlanded me?" They said, “Don't worry she'll come back." And she never came back and then they said she has already garlanded somebody and she is married and all.

So they came back to their places he said, “Oh it's horrible." And he was perspiring with anger and he was very angry and he went. There was a lake, so he went to wash his face and he saw his face. It was like a monkey's face, absolutely he was like a monkey. “Oh God” he said. “I was like a monkey there and how these people were saying, then he cursed them” and said, “You two have befooled me" and all that, he cursed them. But whatever it is, he had become, then he realised, “That I am such a stupid fool because this ego went into me." It's stupid, I mean such people are extremely stupid and that's why we must be pulling ears all the time... “Oh Mother, don't make us stupid, make anything, but don't make us stupid” that's one thing one has to do. Because, really one becomes stupid with ego, so be careful.

When this wind blows, you see, from My mouth, it takes away, dries up My throat, you see? From My nose also there is a Cool Breeze blowing, ears, imagine from everywhere a Cool Breeze blowing, what must be the condition inside.

After realisation we cannot do the same mistakes as we have been doing before realisation, isn't it? At least that much we must do, because now we are enlightened and we have a new light in our eyes. And it's much easier now to do anything, you see. Because the whole Divine force is there to help you. If you don't do that what is good for you, then you're going against the force that is trying to help you, you see? It is something like a double force is coming to help you.

Warren: Mother, left Nābhī is a very bad catch in Australia, perhaps you could talk a little bit about left Nābhī?

Shri Mataji: I think there is a tape on left Nābhī, about the spleen.

As I told it's a speedometer within us which creates a balanced atmosphere for us, that we keep to the speed in which things have to be moved. You see, you must understand that Mother Earth Herself, moves with such a tremendous speed, Herself is moving. And there are so many planets which are moving with a speed, relatively could be higher or lower. And the whole thing is managed so well that nothing collides with anything. We have never thought of it, you see. How it must be worked out that all these planets, which are so many, are going in all directions with a particular speed, with different speeds and all that is so well managed that they do not collide with each other. You must have seen those planes of the Air Force, when they rise, they show these acrobats. There are ten aeroplanes or may be twenty-one, or could be more; they all go with a tremendous speed but maintain a certain distance all the time, so they do not collide. Because they can collide in no time if they are not alert.

Now, in the same way, our spleen keeps the speed of all the organs in relation with each other, first thing and secondly it creates blood cells to supply for any emergency in any part of any other organ. Now, we have also got this machinery of blood cell production in the bones, inside the marrow of the bones.

So there are two places where they have kept this emergency that, if this one fails, that will take over certain things. But this speedy business can spoil both of them.

Now, this one is placed on the left hand side, why? Because, with the heat on the right hand side, God knows what will happen, so it is placed on the left hand side to keep the pace alright. Now, what happens, when we are doing any work. Say, for example; eating our food. At that time, soon emergency comes up. Once in a while is alright, but everyday if you have news at night and dinner at night and you like to read your newspaper as well early in the morning when you are having your breakfast, you are in for trouble. Because, when you read the newspaper, you react, you being after all sensitive people. You see for those who die and newspaper will never give you anything; they are not supposed to give, I think.

If the planes lands alright, then they will say, “Today the plane landed alright." But they will say there was an accident and so many people died there. You start saying “What's the name, is my friend there, is my this one there? He went yesterday!", Emergency started.

Now, that time you are having your breakfast; we are doing something very important and the blood cells are created.

So this poor spleen becomes really crazy and she doesn't know what to do with herself.

She produces certain cells to supply here and then she produces some more to supply there; she really goes, it goes haywire, absolutely and it becomes crazy and when it becomes crazy, the whole nature is crazy. The food goes to the stomach. The speedometer is wrong then, at that time, the food is not digested in the stomach, but the juices start flowing. Say, in the lower part of the intestine. What's the use? The juices must be secreted in the stomach. Because the speed of the whole thing is so mismanaged that there is no supply of proper blood to all these various places and people, whosoever, does that kind of thing becomes a person suffering from bad digestion, gases, this, that and a very speedy temperament.

When he talks, he talks telescopically. You see, he always thinks, is worried, is so speedy, so worried that anything starts like, as I told that, if I tell someone you have to go, you have to fly. You should see people when they have to fly. Suddenly, just, before going, they become so mad, so crazy, because they don't know what to do with themselves. Because their poor speedometer starts excreting some cells which are crazy and they become so very crazy. And sometimes they arrive much earlier, or sometimes they forget their passports at home, I mean, they do all kinds of things.

Warren: Sometimes they get anxious about the traffic.

Shri Mataji: Trafic! Warren: And it happens like that, but the other way round, people say that, “If you don't do it who is going to do it?"

Shri Mataji: I said, “But what's the need to get upset about it?" Say, for example; I'll tell you a very simple example, a very nice story.

When I went to England and while coming back I wanted to go to Paris but I had a through ticket and I could get down at Paris or wherever I felt like. It was a ticket like that, you see? And there was no need to hurry or anything because I knew where I had to go. I was staying in a hotel and the gentleman who was in charge, one of the shipping corporation fellows, supposed to be very bright and brilliant, enterprising, this, that, all the stories about him. He telephoned Me at least four times. You see, they think women have no sense of time and women have so, they must tell Me four times, you see.

So he told Me that, “Please send your luggage down at 11 o'clock!" I said, “Alright!" “Please send your luggage down at 11 o'clock." Again and “Please send your luggage down at 11 o'clock." Four times! “Alright, I'll do it." “And I'll be there exactly at 11 o'clock and I must see you." My husband is supposed to be his boss you see, but the way he was ordering Me about was surprising.

He thought I didn't know time or what ideas he had, I said, “I will be there exactly at 11 o'clock." “What is the colour of your bags?" I said, “It's white. Everything's white." “Alright, I will see you. Have you written the label? Have you written your name?" I said, “I have, it's all there." “And then we will take the luggage in the car and you should arrive within five minutes." I said, “Alright, I'll be there don't worry!" “I will give you a call from down below and then you arrive. First, I will put your luggage inside the car." All these connections he made and I sent the luggage down.

He said, “Put it at this point." And all that he told Me. I said, “Alright!" I put the luggage in there and I came up, waiting for him to come. It was eleven, eleven-thirty, twelve o'clock; the fellow was not there. He was not to be seen. Now he came about 12:15 p.m. [gasping]. I said what happened? He said, “I'm sorry Mrs. Srivastava, very sorry." I said, “But, what happened?" “You see, it was such a bad jam, I just couldn't reach you. I'm sorry." I said, “It's alright, but I've sent the luggage down. Did you find it?" “No, it's missing." I said, “Missing? Now, let it be, what is got to do now, it's missing." We came down, there was no luggage, nothing.

Somebody had picked it up.

I said, “It's alright, don't you worry, we'll find the luggage, don't you worry, it's alright." He said, “but we'll miss the plane." I said, “We are not going to miss the plane, there are many planes going, why should you worry?" “No, no, no, no, we have to go on this plane. You are booked on that and there is a seat for you." I said, “I'm going from London to Paris. What was the need to worry so much. I would have sat anywhere.

What is the need to fix My seat and everything, on a first class? There's nothing to worry so much I can sit in front, or backwards, or anything." But still, he was so much worried.

So we were supposed to go there one hour earlier or something, whatever it is. The plane was late as usual. And as soon as we reached the airport, where he stopped the car to drop Me, there was the luggage! You see, one of those people, tourists and all that, they had carried the luggage with them and they had put them there, so that whosoever it belonged they would pick it up.

I said, “See, the luggage!" “How?" I said, “It is there, now go and put Me Paris." So he took My tickets and everything and went there. And would you believe it? He booked Me for Bombay [Mumbai]. That is only the half part of it. I'll tell you the rest. He booked for Bombay [Mumbai].

I didn't know he booked Me for Bombay [Mumbai]. He gave Me back the ticket, he gave Me the... what you call that? Warren: The luggage check.

Shri Mataji: The baggage check and...

Warren: Boarding.

Shri Mataji: Boarding card and everything I got into the plane.

He said, “Thank God the plane is late an hour." “But" I said, “I was quite ready when you told Me." “But what to do? There was a jam." I said, “You would have started three hours earlier out of the house." “Really, but how could I know? There was such a... there was never... this was historical!" I said, “Everything is historical with Me. Don't you worry." So I got into the plane.

I got down at Paris, nobody checked Me, I just walked out. And there was another one, his true copy standing there, a Frenchman. All the time the other goes on like that and this one goes on.

I said, “What's the matter?" He said, “Nothing. Oh! You've come very late, you've come very late." I said, “I'm sorry, but it's not My mistake." “But his Nebi” he called him Nebi, “You see, don't mention my name to Sir, this fellow should gave informed me. He never informed. He's supposed to be very efficient he's this, that." There was no chance, you see, because by the time I come there My luggage was missing. He didn't think of you, he just thought of the luggage, was more worried about the luggage and we went to the airport and from the airport he saw Me off. I told him you better give a ring. By that time you had come to the aeroplane.

He said, “Yes, I came here, because, I should have enquired what time the plane was coming, the plane was late, so I came quite early here." I said, “Very nice." He was sitting there for two hours already.

Now this fellow was another speedy one.

So he said, “Alright, now what about your luggage?" I gave him the baggage thing, we waited and waited and waited. No baggage came, it had gone to Bombay [Mumbai]! So he went to the counter and he said, “What about this?" He said, “Oh God, this is marked for Bombay [Mumbai]." He said, “Really?" “Yes, this is marked for Bombay [Mumbai], it's gone to Bombay [Mumbai]." He's got such a temper for the fellow in London. He said, “Look at him, his efficiency, he's not seen this, he's not, he's done it like that and all sorts of things." I said, “But why do you worry? My luggage has gone. Why are you worried? I have to be here for four days, it's alright because I'll manage." “How will you manage?" I had that vanity case, I said, “I have a small change with Me and I don't need anything, I'm alright." He said, “With one sarī it's alright, one sarī you wear for four days or five days in Paris who knows?" To see? Here people wear one dress for one year also, nobody looks at that, only in India it's a problem, if you wear the same sarī people will notice. Not here, nobody's going to notice here.

I said, “I have to see the museum, that's all. You don't have to worry." I said, “You tell Me where you've booked Me, hotel and all." The hotel where I stayed there, I managed Myself very well. And the day I was going back, you see, he came to see Me off with his wife, you see and his wife said, “All the time he was blaming Neb for this and he should not have done this and should not have done" that I said, then, “Now what to do?" He said now, “Thank God it's settled down. Now you're going back, but what will you do without the luggage?" I was going to Teheran to My brother's place. I said, “It's alright, don't you worry, I have to travel, why do you worry so much for Me?" So he said, “One has to worry for people who do not worry." I said, “If you want to fine any excuse to worry you can worry about anything, anything you can worry about, but there's no need to worry at all for Me." So, as soon as we reached the airport, there we find My luggage again, back. My baggage had come from Bombay [Mumbai] to Paris. He said, “This is surprising, the luggage has come." Now, the best part was, I said, “Now you get Me booked." You see, he had already booked Me and when he took the ticket, they said, “No, there's no ticket. The ticket had been cut because she was booked for Bombay [Mumbai]." Now, that was too much. His wife got after him, “You were saying such and such was so efficient and this and that, he's done this, what about you, the great efficient? All the time you're on my head. You get ready, you get ready, you get ready, you get ready." She gave him a big lecture. I said, “Don't you worry, I'll be going if I have to go, I'll not go if I don't have to go and you don't have to pay the hotel bill, I'm going to pay it so just don't worry." He said, “What to do?" I said, “You just don't worry." Then we discovered the plane was late by two hours, I said, “Alright” I trunk called to Air India people. “It's alright, give her a ticket." I got a ticket and I went. Nothing happened. But this was these two persons really, they were so nervous and I'm sure their speedometers were out.

So this is one of the simple stories of how things happen and how we are bothered.

After all, one must know that your are not lost are you lost? That's all. As long as you are not lost, you are there. But every time if you think you are lost, then nobody can help. There is a joke that a boy who was roaming about in an exhibition, his name was called. “Again” he said, “this am I lost again?" It's like that, it's like that all the time if somebody thinks you're lost, you've lost. It's their mistake. But the boy was not lost. Every time the parents used to call his name, you see, so he said, “Oh God, am I lost again?" Others think you are lost, but you are not, but sometimes, you start thinking the same. What is there to be upset? Nothing, nothing is dangerous that much as you own fears.

Warren: What is the Gṛuhalakṣhmī quality of the left Nābhī?

Shri Mataji: You see, it is called as Gṛuhalakṣhmī because she is the one who fixes the speed in the household, she's the one who knows how to fix if she's a Gṛuhalakṣhmī, if she's the one who is really a housewife. But housewife has interest outside then she cannot feel it. She has to have interest in the house.

She has to have interest in her own children. She has to be a good housewife and she should know as a housewife, she's very important. When once she realises her importance, then only this speedometer is alright.

Even for children, she doesn't hurry them. She fixes up everything for the children. For example the children have to go to school tomorrow. Now, she gets up in the morning, early in the morning, she sees that their clothes are alright, everything is alright.

When there is time to wake up the children, she goes, sings something nicely or kisses them and gradually she gets them up, so they are not in a hurry to get up. She gives them sufficient time to get up and get ready and then, husband, she tackles a later on. But the main thing in India, it was a custom that never the women used to eat before the husband had eaten. And there are two reasons, but one of them is this Gṛuhalakṣhmī. And they would sit with the husband when he's eating. They used to fan the husband you see, when he's eating the food and would... and.

So people may say it's slavery. That's no slavery. That's how you handle them back. You make them absolutely dependent on you. You ask My husband, he will tell you that story. Once they are absolutely dependent, they just do not go anywhere else, even if they try some tricks they're back today. Because they cannot leave them.

The speed you see, is controlled with the fan.

So, the person is eating and the wife tells everyone, “Now don't disturb him, let him eat his food." He's not supposed to read the newspaper, there's a fight about the newspaper and she throws away the newspaper. “No. no, just eat your food, eat slowly, eat slowly nothing to bother, it's alright." But, that's not so, I've seen many women on the breakfast table.

They'll fight with their husbands, “What about the money? You haven't given me this." So the husband gets angry. “Alright, I will not have my breakfast today." That's not they way I mean, I'm not saying there are no cruel husbands, they are so. Exceptions, are there. But the wives can be also cruel. But if they are normal people and good people and if they want to understand how to put up their own speed and the speed of their husband. Alright, first of all they must know they should be very balanced, very balanced and solid women. They should not be jumpy. If they are jumpy they can make everyone jump. Imagine this Mother Earth being jumpy, we would have been jumping like that all over.

So you have to be solid, not only that, but you should be able to bear up many things of the men. You see, it is no criteria that if somebody dominated you, then that person becomes more sort of something higher than you. Only those who can bear up can bear up. For this Mother Earth can bear up our weight.

That's why we can stand on her. Does that mean that she's anywhere less than us? The woman has got a special capacity to bear up because she is made like that. She's a solid personality.

Oh, She can take in so much inside herself and digest it and just finish it off. She is a person who does not get disturbed by so many things the husband has to say to wife. He is sometimes harsh on her because he has, after all to face the outside like and he has to face everything and then he comes home and he says everything to his wife. You see, I've seen sometimes even the photograph they say, “You are like that, you are this you're that, you're like this, you're this" and take out everything on the wife and then they are satisfied. Because, they know for definite that because my wife is not going to be embittered, she understands. She loves Me and she understands why I'm shouting at her. But this kind of Gṛuhalakṣhmī temperament is gone now. Because, now women are possessed by men and they are even worse than men once they are possessed by men.

Imagine a woman possessed by a man and the man who possesses must be a horrible fellow.

So the men become like women and women become like men. I don't know what to do with such perverted people.

So, a woman has to be a woman and a man has to be a man and they should not try to compete each other but supplement each other. A man must realise that he can't live without the wife and the wife must realise that she cannot live without the husband. But it should not be anyway one dominating the other.

Because, when the people are possessed they have methods of dominating. For example, they can become extra sweet, nice and charming. They can become extremely reasonable. They'll give you a proper answer for everything. They'll reason it out, they'll sound very logical, but all that logic is nothing but absolutely a kind of a damnation for you. Because, they're becoming so dominating that you don't even see. Also, that you are being pushed down into something which is very tight corner for you, from where you cannot get out.

So, the housewife has to be a housewife and she has to be a proud housewife. Now, Sahaja Yoginis, should know, specially, that I'm housewife and if you ask My husband, he'll tell you how much I've done for him, always and he has been such a busy man, that everybody else thinks that he has always neglected Me and he's been very horrid to Me and all that. They think that he has never bothered about Me and things like that. But that's not the point. I understand that he's very busy and I'm very proud of him.

Because, he's working very hard. My Job is to soothe him, to relax him, to make him feel happy.

But here the problem is that it is not easy for the women to see that men are just like children. Really, they are just children. Men should not hear this part. You should know how to handle them. You see.

You can please them with small, small things and they can be so very sweet. I'll tell you one thing. One day, you see, we wanted to buy this house and this and that, he said, “It's too much, it's too much money” and all that, “I don't know if we can afford it." Now you tell Me, with all this talking you see, we were about to sleep on our bed you see, when he was asking Me, “Now you just tell me one thing, how much money do you think we will require in India?" So you see, I thought it was too much and I said, “Can I tell you tomorrow after calculation?" and immediately he smiled and the whole thing went off his head.

You see, little things here and there, turning of a wife. You see, husband is soothed and he understands that it's too much, I'm paying too much attention to this and I'm too much worried for nothing, at all and all that.

So, she's a supplement and he's a supplement to her life also. If these things work out this way, it's so beautiful. I do not say, you would not work. If you have to work, you have to work, but you should not work so that you have to have a hairdress, so that you waste your money in just self-indulgence. It is not that way. It is work because you need money, if you need money you should work. Otherwise there is no need to work, also to work for women.

So many women need not work at all. Because, if the husband is sufficiently earning and if the husband is good and if the money, that he knows belongs to both of them, then it is better that women should look after the children and look after the household and make the house a beautiful nest for the children. But in the case, you see in case there is need, they should work.

But understanding that if they have children, their first duty is to their children. They have to look after their children, that's the very foremost thing. Otherwise, you don't have any children. If you have your children, you have to look after them. But it has gone so far in the west now, that people don't want to have children. Women don't want to have children. Women just don't want to have children. Just they do want to have children. Because after children is a problem. Why to have children? And even the children are born, they are so angry with the children. I've seen in England, educated mothers beat their children. Can you imagine? I've seen in the trains, I've seen beating their children, I mean, out of question for us. You see, our children are equally naughty, they trouble us, they do all kinds of things but they tease us, we don't punish them so much. In childhood, if you allow them to do what they like then when they grow up you'll find that they are beautiful disciplined children. And if you allow them to do it in the house, outside when they are with us they're so disciplined and so quiet you have seen Indian children how quiet they are. But at home they are not.

At home they'll do every sort of thing, you see, but when they go out, then they are very well behaved.

Then when they come home also, they will learn. Not that you don't discipline them, you also tell them.

If you are a neat person, if you are a person who believes in beautifying your house and all that, no children will disturb it. I'll tell you, My both daughters if you ask them, I've never told them `don't,' but they know that I was very aesthetically tempered and I used to do My house very well and all that. If I leave anything there then they would see that it is there and they would again keep it. Just to please Me and they would bring things that were beautiful. You see, they developed very aesthetic tastes by understanding that I am so much that.

But you see, we have so many weak weaknesses. We tell lies, the children see that. We do all kinds of things, they see that and then they become like that. We husband wife quarrel in the presence of the children, then the children pick up from us and they learn it and they start many abuses, they pick up from us you see. A husband thinks that quarreling before, there's no curtain between the children and the parents they'll fight, argue out, or the husband won't say anything, he becomes sulky and the wife will go on saying something or the husband would be saying something and the wife would be keeping quiet. All these things are not good in the presence of your children. In the presence of you children, you have to behave in such a manner that they imbibe your good sides and not your bad sides. Because, one may call it hypocrisy children you should be honest with them. There's no need to have such honesty with them.

You see, there are certain things in the household like you have a drawing room and you have a dining room and you have a bathroom. Now, you don't bring your bathroom in your drawing room, do you? So be honest, do you do that? So this kind of honesty, of having everything mixed up, is not honesty.

So, before the children, you must behave in such a manner that they themselves imbibe the qualities which you relish, which you think is better and gradually, you'll be surprised. You will give up so many things for the sake of children, so many things you will learn when you will be with children. Because they really tell so many things and then they correct you in their own sweet ways and their ways, specially the realised Souls, the way they talk, you see will interest you. You must listen to them and then we realise how many foolish things we have been doing, which we would have avoided if we had this wisdom. That's what they are, but we must have interest in our children. We must look after them, love them. You see. I find in the West, this husband is the babysitter and the wife is the one who is everything in the house.

So she stands up like this, “clean this, sweep this, so that", I used to wonder what's the matter with this woman? As if all of them have become servants or what, these men? While My husband is so... man that he can't even sweep anything. He said, “Look at these people, what will they think? I'm such a lazy lump, they'll say, nobody works." I said, “Your work in the office, why should you work in the house?" “No, no, you must teach me how to sweep." I said, “I don't want to do that, because your sister will say I gave you a broom in your house and hand that she's not going to forgive Me for that." He said, “Who's going to tell her? Better tell me how to do it." I said, “Alright." So we went to the backyard you see, front yard, how to teach…

So he took such a big broom, you see, that English broom and he started sweeping all the filth. There was all these, what you call leaves and all that, he swept them like that again pulled it back again swept it pulled it back and all that he was... After five minutes I came, I said, “What are you doing?" He said, “How do you take it on one side?" “See, once you put the broom that side it comes back with the broom.

What to do?" He had never seen how to do because he never had to do. I said, “Now will you please give it up that? You can't do, it's very difficult." “Let me practice." He could not do it. The main thing was, for eight days I had to rub his hand with some lotion or something, just to get it alright; because it was paining so much in his hand.

So it was added work for Me, doesn't matter.

So you see, it should be such that they are entirely dependent on us. There's no work, us work is low. Like washing the things or doing any work is not low. But we have to do the work for which we are meant. You see, no use when, your men really have become very gentle, but our men, if you give them anything to wash it will break definitely, 100% be sure. If you want to have a bull in a China shop ask an Indian man to enter into the kitchen! But it's very interesting that ways isn't it? To understand them in their true nature, to make them men as they are.

It is the women who are the Shakti, behind the men and when they are the Shakti they have to work it out that way.

So we have to understand that we are women, are the ones who determine the speed of men and we control the speedometer of men.

So we should not be speedy, we should not hurry them up.

Like in India, only the men will say, “Come along, now it's getting late, now it's getting late!" They are the ones. But here I find the women say that, “What are you doing? Oh! Come along, John!" The John is rushing, “Oh and yes!" His carrying the luggage. I'd seen a picture he went on a holiday you see, poor man had to carry even friend's luggage up and down.

Warren: Dinner is ready everyone. So Mother should have dinner now.

Shri Mataji: It has been a lovely evening, just chatting. And from Sahaja Yoga how do you cure? It is very simple. Put your left hand towards the photograph and put your right hand on your spleen and turn it and say, “Mother, you are the Gṛuhalakṣhmī." Now GṛuhaLakṣhmī was Fātimabi, who was the daughter of Mohammed Saheb and She was... She never went out, she never went out. She kept inside the house and she made her children so great, two children who fought their way and the husband also and they died in that big war of Grabala. And She stayed at home.

The whole power was inside. She never went out. She used always that, what you call, completely covered, `burkha', you see. She is the one who is the complete Gṛuhalakṣhmī among all the Lakṣhmīs.

Like you can say Sītā was Mahālakṣhmī, but she was Gṛuhalakṣhmī; just kept Herself. Nobody knows much about Her, but She is the one who created this Shia, Shia you see. Surprising, that Sītājī is called is called as Shia in the villages and some people who do not pronounce, say Shia.

So the pure Gṛuhalakṣhmī was Fātimabi. But men should not understand this way that they have right to dominate women, not at all. They have only right to love them. They have no right to dominate. You see, if they try to dominate women, you see the result of that. You see, one foot will be on this foot and then another will come on that one.

So you see, it's companionship and love. Right wheel of a chariot has to be on the right and the left wheel has to be on the left, but both of them have to be equally. If they are not equal, they need to be similar, but they have to be equal, if they are not equal then the whole chariot will be going round and round and round, this way or that way. There won't be any progress.

So one has to understand and one must glorify that you're born as a woman to play a role fully as a woman and not as a man. When a motor car decides to fly, can y? But only a bhoot can do that.

Sahaja Yogi: But, Mother, in our society, then how should the man act, because the man has also lost the ability to play his role well?

Shri Mataji: Over here the men are too good. That I'll have to tell to Indian men. You see, man, what happens I think in the West what you have studied in Western people. You see, they are not the people who are quarreling and nagging as we women do, you see, you must understand that. I'm just telling this for the Western men and not the Indian men. Modi you close your eyes! You see, Indian men are very different, but I'm telling you about the Western men are..... what they do, they don't know how to cope with the women, you see, they don't understand, you see, because they're men, you are women.

They'll not quarrel with you, discuss with you, or anything, “Why did you do that? Why did you go there?" They say, “Alright, your have it." They may slap you, throw something at you or do something like that. You see, they, they just have direct methods of dealing with you. You see, even if they have a fight, they say, “Come along, have it." You see, there's a fight about something which has nothing to do with the fight. They'll fight with each other, hit each other and sit down. It's done, finished. The fight is over. Women are not like that, when they fight they'll be going inside and..... “Oh she's so very bad; she was carrying on with this, this was this, like that." We are different type, they are different type. Now, what happens if with men if you go on nagging them all the time? “What did you do about my necklace?" “Did you bring it?" “Have you got the money? I would like to see it." And pry on them and do things like that and they get very angry. You see.

So you leave them alone, but if you just handle them the way they should be handled, like children, you see, then they are very good, excellent.

So, the trouble is the handling of men is very important. Even if a man is told how to behave, it won't happen, because it is you who really controls him. It is not he who can control himself. It is you control him. He doesn't control you at all, in a way. But in a way you see for Western woman she thinks that unless and until she controls in a way like that she doesn't actually control. Actually, you control the man, out and out; absolutely, but it should be done in such a way that he doesn't feel it. If he feels it he will go on drinking, will take drugs, naturally, a man who takes to alcohol is mostly a man who is dominated by his wife or a man who is very soft outside.... Say to a everyone, he's very nice, “Hello, how are you?" He goes home and boxes his wife.

But you must understand he has to do it, he has to box someone because that's there in their nature to box people, so they have to box someone. Either they will box others or they'll box their wives.

So the second part is better that they come home. You can have a pillow pufied up and make a fun out of it, like a little child who comes home, he gets angry with his mother, he goes on hitting her, “Oh! Why did you do it? Why did you do it?" Like that. Alright, because they think they have a right to do it. But once you deny that right, then they go mad, then they take to alcoholism. They go to so many thing. Most of the men take to all these vices only because the wife doesn't give them that satisfaction and love. It is you who control the men, not that they control you. It's very simple to handle men, very simple. There are some tricks to be played of course, but a woman is quite tricky, she knows how to do it; but it should be done sweetly, so sweetly, suggestive of your love, suggestive of you love.

You see, now. My husband was with the Prime Minister, so busy with the five-year plans and the ten-year plans and the fifteen-year plans and I had immediate things to be done. I was building a house for him and I did not know how to talk to him, because I knew if I talk to him he'll come on Me like a... “Oh for you this is such a great thing and for me that is such a great thing” and relatively he would blame Me.

So I used to discuss five-year plans to begin with and then we discussed the two-year plans and then one-year plans and then the household. And it so developed that anything in the office, he must discuss with Me, he must talk to Me.

Even if he was in England or something, something happened, he must talk to Me first of all, he must discuss with Me if it is so or not. Everybody would think that I'm such a great government official that he has to discuss with Me. But sort of you see, he had an outlet and sort of a thing and felt that I gave him the right advice; what ever it was but it was so always so, it was so. And even Lal Bahadur Shastri, was the Prime Minister; he had such faith in Me and he used to talk to Me as if I was a great woman.

One day, he came and asked Me, “Now tell me what are You[r] priorities as far as the country is concerned?" I said, “Why are you asking Me? I'm just a housewife?" He said, “Now listen You're a good Housewife, a successful Housewife. I would like to know what are Your priorities." I said, “The first priority is food, agriculture that is the first priority." “Then what is the second priority?" I said, “Is clothing, housing. That's very important. Unless and until you have these three things, what's the use of anything else? The fourth thing is education, so the priorities must go like that. What's the use of having plastic factories here? You are importing plastic factories, rubber factories for all this we don't need. What's the use of creating another plastic mountain for ourselves?" He was quite happy with what I said. I said, “Now, don't go in for things like they have in the West. That's not going to suit us.

They themselves are getting into ditches and we'll get into the same ditch." So whatever we have, try to use pure things made of human from hands, not from machines. See, you can have one plate or you have ten plates.

Now, for example, we went to England and in India I had see to it that in My house we don't serve any drinks in our house whatsoever. But in England he said, “Even an English crow won't come into your house if you don't have drinks” he said, “No even a frog won't." So I said, “If that is the case, you'd better have it." Can you imagine, at that time, we spent in the beginning, only to open, I mean we never had a bar in the house you see, but to sort of start drinks, only for the tumblers made of wood, Czechoslovakian, this crystal we spent nine hundred pounds, this, this for liquor, this is for this, that is for that. I said, “One is sufficient” that is how we have exhausted all our Mother Earth. This another mistake we have committed by having and why? This is industrial development, we can say, that English have only whisky and their crystal. They had to sell their crystal so they started that you should have another one for this, another one for this, another one for this. Because their crystal must sell and their whisky must sell. How do you do that? By having all these permutations and combinations.

So this is what it is, you see. That when you start spending money like this, you have no money for your real things and that what you need is very little. You can live with very little. Of course, I like to have things, I like to buy things for what? For giving away, for giving away presents, for having things around to make the house beautiful.

So that when people come in and see and they feel happy about it, but when they like something, I said, “Alright take it." I just put it at them as an exhibition, so that people can like it and I can like it and I can give them away.

I've given away even heavy furniture to people if they like it. And My daughters were so much worried about this part that, one day, you see they went opened My locker and put all My ornaments into some other.....

So that I don't give away all that. But I enjoy it and once I give I get more.

So you see, to please men, you should live in a very big way. Small-minded women can never appeal to men. They have to be big. They must like if the guests come in the house, the guests of the friends of the man come in the house and all that.

Sort of you merge into him completely and you start enjoying and people have respect for you. Otherwise, you see men do not enter into some houses. I said, “Why? His wife is horrible, she looks at Me like this. I do not want to go into that house." Then you are not a Gṛuhalakṣhmī.

So many qualities one has to learn of the Gṛuhalakṣhmī.

But if the Gṛuhalakṣhmī is alright, the speedometer can be kept alright. And some women have the idea of sulking and misbehaving and going into some sort of a nonsensical impression. That all is... You have to be there, you have to be joy giving. But men themselves must look after their speedometer very much, very important it is, if they do not get with all this they can defy their wives and they can spoil their health and become absolutely sort of ego-oriented and they can absolutely can be caught up so much so that they can get blood cancer. Now, about blood cancer I'll tell you tomorrow.

May God bless you.

Contents: 1981-03-25*, Public Program, Cycle 1, Day 2, Mūlādhāra and Swādhiṣhṭhān, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

I bow to all the seekers of Truth.

The other day I told you a little bit about the first center, called as Mūlādhāra Chakra and Kuṇḍalinī which is the resident consciousness in the triangular bone called as sacrum. As I told you that this is the pure desire power which has not yet been awakened and is not yet manifested within you, which resides here waiting for a moment to arise and to give you your second birth, your baptism it makes you at peace.

It gives you your Self-realisation.

This pure desire is to be one with your spirit. This, unless and until it is fulfilled those who are seeking will never be satisfied whatever, they may do. Now, this center is very important because this was the first center that was created when the Pyramidal Being started doing the job. This is the center of innocence that is holiness. First thing that was created was the holiness on this earth. This center is very important in all human beings, because animals have innocence, they have not lost it while we have... or we can say we have a freedom to abandon it. We can do it, we can somehow or rather destroy it by our so-called ideas of freedom.

Now this center has a power to give us wisdom. Now wisdom is such, such a word that cannot explained.

Wisdom is the balance between your understanding of what is good and what is bad. Where you really understand what is good for you, for your spirit, is wisdom and when this center is alive and is not destroyed then you really know is wisdom is. For example, the person who has got this center very well doubled up can tell you whether it is the north or the south, because the magnetism that is in the Mother Earth this center is made by the element of Mother Earth.

So the magnetism that is in the Mother Earth is there present in this center. When the birds fly all the way from Siberia to Australia they do it with the help of this center, because they know whether they are moving northward or southward. They have an innate wisdom to know which way to move and that's why one should know that this center is also within us but have lost our sense of judgement because we have lost that magnetism within us.

An innocent person is really like a magnet and it attracts, he attracts the people towards himself, just like a flower attracts a bee towards itself. There are some fishes in which they have found actual magnetic field and in some of them they have even found a regular magnet placed in certain fishes by which they know, whether they are going north, south, east or west. This center in us can be destroyed by various ways as I told you, last time. Now if you see on from the top there is a blue line coming down. This is the power of our desire by which we desire, is the emotional side of a human being. When a person neglects his emotional side or does not respect his emotional side, then this center gets lost. It gets very much destroyed. The emotional side in these modern times is not well understood by human beings. I'm sorry to say but it is very true that when you destroy this center, first thing that sets in is impotency or over activity like the rapist and all that are created because this center is neglected.

Both things are just the same in the eyes of God, any extreme is wrong. Now, those people who say that you can be enlightened through sex are really, I don't know what to call them, because She is your Mother sitting down there She is only your Mother, She has no other child and She is holiest of holy. She is the holy Ghost within you and if want to sex on your Mother, I don't know if people understand that here. In India it's impossible we cannot understand this nonsense.

So is the same insult to your Mother.

Like some people try to insult Mother Mary by putting Christ in a very awkward situation with Her. It's something like that we can say happens when you start talking like this. It's a very great sin to do such thing to your own Mother, which is the Kuṇḍalinī and that why the other day I told you, I have seen some people have Kuṇḍalinī which is all the time tossing her head and breaking Her whole body and just feeling so helpless because She's made so weak because the holiness from a person is vanished. Our idea of holiness has become so perverted, so perverted and to add up to that we have now Gurus to tell us that it's a very good thing to do, you'll go to heaven. Actually they are very honest they say you'll go to bottomless pit and bottomless pit means hell.

Why do you need a Guru for this, actually you have mastered this art. I mean, in England when I went I was amazed that they have sex about, I mean they talk of sex and sex and sex, morning till evening I don't understand. Like all important people talk, you see. That's how they go on talking about sex, all the time, it's nothing but sex it's so filthy, so filthy. They talk sex with the animals, sex with the children.

I don't know what's happening to human beings, how can be that filthy? I wouldn't be surprised after sometime we will have our bathrooms inside our drawing rooms, you see there's something like our privacy, something like our drawing room where we meet people. How can you talk of these things, how can you discuss these things which are so private and so sacred and that's how you lose them or you, lose over them.

This is one of the things that's happening to us because God has given us freedom within, we can do what we like. But we have lost our wisdom, we have lost. I don't why this Industrial Revolution, or I don't know whom to blame, but we have lost our wisdom to understand that these things are injurious. If it is not we logically then, we can say, why do we develop diseases. With free sex, all the sailors you know under law have to have in every port arrangements for getting injections for all kinds of complications that they have from sex life. Why is it you do not feel healthy every minute? You'll lose all your health, all your charm is gone from your face, sunken and look so horrid. Is a very good sign, just now to see how nature reacts with it.

So one has to be wise to understand that God has given us this thing to us not to be insulted but for us to lead a good, normal, good married life and not to waste our energies in this kind of thing.

But when people start thinking about it then it's even worse. Then what happens, that this shifts from there the attention onto the other side and it goes to the yellow side, goes to the brain. When you start thinking about it, definite it is that you'll become umpteen definite no doubt at a very early stage.

Because it is spontaneous. And when you start thinking about it, when your eyes starts roving here and there be sure your attention is gone to something which is so localised which is so different and which takes place only at a time when you are at a certain emotional spontaneity. It's very out of date, talk of these things to people but if you are not careful about it you have to find out the statistics of American young people and you will be amazed how many of them are suffering from horrible diseases. When I went to America, I found that nine out of ten young people who came to Me were suffering from these horrible diseases and most of them were impotent. It's a shocking truth. One has to face as it is and not to say, `Oh I'm alright, I'm alright,' this is not the way to look at things, we have to see the statistics, that are being placed before us and to know that there is something wrong about it and with your wisdom you have reach certain conclusions about it.

Now the second center, which I call as a Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra, is also a very important center within us. The first center looks after all our excretion, it has got four petals in the same way in the pelvic plexus which is manifested by that, which is a gross plexus within us, has also got four sub-plexuses. Another one that we have is the Swādhiṣhṭhān center, which is the second center. Second center has got six petals and it supplies or it manifests in the gross, the Aortic Plexus, which also has got six sub-plexuses. Now this center is very important for us in the modern times, it is extremely important and I think neglect of this center can create lots of problems.

Now this center if you see is connected with the brain and this center is responsible for our action, is the center of our creativity. Where we think of the future, when we do any physical work, we use this center for that purpose and one has to understand that these days we are developing lots of diseases because we have not understood what is the function of this center.

The foremost function of this center is to convert the fat cells for the use of the grey matter in the head. When we think too much all the time about the future we plan, we go on planning into all details what happens is that this poor center has to work very hard to produce new cells one after another for the use of your brain.

Apart from that it has to do many other functions. It has to look after you liver, it has to look after you spleen, it has to look after you pancreas, your kidneys and also uterus among women. If you start thinking too much all the time thinking, if you cannot stop your thinking, all the time your brain goes on thinking a sort of a thinking process starts without your control, then this poor center has to work all that, your liver goes out.

When your liver goes out you must know that liver is one of the most important things within us because it nourishes our attention, Chitta. It nourishes our Chitta, now this attention whenever it is spoiled it is spoiled because there are certain poisons within us. Any, it can be physical poisons it can be mental poisons, it can be emotional poisons, any kind of poisons there are especially the physical and the emotional ones they go to this liver, which sorts it out. This is the function of this liver is to sort it out.

But when you are not giving it sufficient energy you are losing through thinking then poor this center is left behind, it has no nourishment nobody looks after it it becomes sluggish. When it becomes sluggish all the heat accumulates in the liver and such a person doesn't get any temperature till he gets cirrhosis and he dies. Now when thinking goes on too much, people get tired of thinking, thinking too much, thinking too much.

So they think, “Let's have something that will take us away from thinking, which will give us a kick outside." So they take some sort of a drug, or a drink, or alcohol and all that.

All the saints in the world have said that alcohol is very dangerous for life. The reason is that it goes against our awareness, this is a fact, you know that after taking a drink our awareness becomes blurred or excited, it's not normal, that's the reason they said no. In Sahaja Yoga I do not say don't do this and don't do that. I only want you to come to Sahaja Yoga, get your Realisation and then you'll not ask for it. That's a much better way to do it. But why they asked for example, if you read Moses, Moses has clearly said that these are strong drinks, very clearly, I don't know if people read that and they should be avoided. I don't if the Jews do that. They should not be taken, he has very clearly said it. Abraham said the same thing that drinks are not good.

Why all these prophets talk about it? Because they are all born in that green patch of ours, they are all placed in this green patch where we get our sustenance, which is

ten. We have got ten sustenances within us, like the gold has a sustenance that it does not tarnish in the same way human beings have got ten sustenances.

And these ten sustenances are represented by great prophets. The principle is called as Ādi Guru, in Sanskrit language, the Primordial Master. He has incarnated on this earth as Abraham, Moses, as Lao Tze, as Confucius, as Socrates, recently he has been as Sāi Nāth of Shirdi, not the other fellow and other great people have been like Nanaka, Janaka. All these great saints came on this earth to tell us how to keep in the center, how to keep in the center, how to keep our sustenance, how to be human beings. As carbon has got four valances, we too have got ten valances. We have to maintain those ten valances within us, that's what they came to tell us.

But you see if anybody says now don't drink, half of the hall will be empty. If you say you cannot have free sex and five people will walk out. That's the problem, here nobody likes to know anything about it, but it's a dangerous thing to do. Whatever it is that you have to keep in the center. You have to be in the center and how to keep in the center is not to go to extremes, be moderate and moderate life is the best way. But even if you have not been, doesn't matter. Kuṇḍalinī is at this point in such a force that whatever you might have done, you get your realisation quite alright.

So is a different point, but what I am trying to tell you is this that why these people said so.

Now Mohammed Sahib is another who said don't drink, he's one of them, he's just the same, there's no difference, there's no difference between Moses and Mohammed Sahib I can prove it to you on vibrations, you can yourself know through vibrations that they were the same people, saying the same thing there's no difference of any kind. It's only people are fighting, I don't know why, I just can't understand what is there to fight between these two. They were just the same, preached the same thing and when Moses crossed the river and the bridge was made that bridge is the bridge which is symbolic of the Kuṇḍalinī that creates for you, to cross this void within us.

Is very symbolic, they have worked so hard to tell you what is sustenance, where we have to be in the center because if you are in sustenance as he said that only a thread of this Kuṇḍalinī rises. It is not one thread that should rise, actually I've seen in people the whole of it goes up like that and it stays there in many people but the trouble is it rises because there's no space to rise. We are finished off with the Swādhiṣhṭhāna and with another Chakra which is in the center, which is the center called as Nābhī Chakra means the navel center.

So when you have an obstruction in the center, naturally the Kuṇḍalinī, though it rises with full force all the things, all the threads fall down and only one somehow or other goes up and opens up the Sahasrāra, thinking that at least if I open up there then the others, the grace will fall and maybe it will open out more.

So this is the problem, that's why they said that you lead a life which is moderate and temperate and this is what they preached too. Now let us see what happens when we go to extremes. In the center as we have seen is the sustenance within us. Now if you try to go beyond this side or that side what happens, let us see.

Beyond this side is the subconscious, if you go you enter into the collective subconscious. On the other side if you move that is the supraconscious you enter into collective supraconscious. Now into this side are all the people on the left side are the people who are still dissatisfied very sly, sinister, horrible people who are dead, who do not want to take rebirth and who still want to torture people absolutely. These are busy bodies, they can possess you, they do possess you and on the right hand side there are people like Hitler who are very ambitious, who have died out of their ambitions and things like that, they still exist there.

Either you enter into this side or either you enter into that side when you go to extremes and you just get possessed. It's a very dangerous area you are entering into.

Recently I was seeing a BBC program and some doctors had discovered a very interesting thing they said that cancer is triggered, listen to this very carefully, cancer is triggered by some proteins they call it protein 56, protein 56 or something like that. When these proteins attack us from some unknown areas within us which are built within us since our creation. What are these areas I mean this I've been telling for so many years is the left side and the right side the two extremes.

Now what do we do when we go to the right side, the right side is the area where you think too much where you project yourself in the future. Now like that you go on then you start becoming a person who is more interested in the future than the present. The center is the present. Now you start projecting your mind into that [future], you start moving into that side, with that, anybody who is an austere person, they think that if you are a very austere person, you lead the life of celibacy and all this nonsensical things you see, all this is absolutely nonsensical. If you lead a life of celibacy it's not going to help you at all on the contrary such a person becomes an extremely dry personality and ultimately dies of heart attack and such a person is so hard headed, so hot tempered that you must take a barge pole before you meet such a person. There are so cursing type. I mean so unaware of other people's health or anything that they can curse anyone and this is their job is to curse this one and curse that one and curse that one. They are extremely dry people, they might take to social work in the name of God or they'll work like hell for the poor they're thinking they're saving the poor and doing this and that and while if you see them any other time you'll be sure that such a person is absolutely burning with fire.

They have a horrible liver, very hot temper there is no sweetness about them there is no magnetism about them, all the people run away from them they are like boiled sprouts, you see, sitting on everybody's head. Do this, do that, you haven't done this, what are you doing, they will not sleep themselves and not allow anybody to sleep, they think that everybody is supposed to work under their thumb and these are the people who are very ego-oriented as shown there are the people who move onto the right hand side.

Any austere ideas about religion can take you to this side and this austerity is very dangerous for human beings because it cuts you off from the whole. Such a person may be entrapped or possessed by some sort of a personality on the right hand side. I know of a lady who is very well known in India and whose got a big prize and this and that for her social work. I happened to see her first time on an aeroplane when she had no prizes and all that, she came with some sort of an odd stuff with her and she wanted to sit in the front seat.

So air hostess said, “I'm sorry this is reserved for some children who are sick and they have to go by this plane and we can't give you this” and the mother is there. She started fighting no matter how many time she told them and this and that and she was just jumping from here to there and there to there and she wouldn't allow the plane to leave and for half an hour she was fighting to sit down there and the amount of abuses she used for the air hostess I was amazed.

And she's supposed to be a woman who should be given a peace prize or something like that, I don't know, there was no peace on her face neither around her and everybody was so disturbed with the way she was on about it, it was really shocking to see this personality who was so hot tempered and so meticulous about things and she was arguing with her this was my seat and this was my seat and this was this and this was that. Thank God then they got her out and the plane left the place, but I'm telling you such people can be frantically hot tempered and can be so unaware of your presence there that you have to be very, very careful with them.

Such people may look to be very, very successful in life you see and when they walk they have an upper lip and all sorts of things you see but it takes no time for them to realise that it's all tom-foolery going on.

This kind of ego orientation can lead you to nothing but stupidity. A person can be extremely stupid and he doesn't know he has been, how stupid he has been, because this is what's wrong. You see a gentleman came to see us and he had a wife, she was a mere sixteen years of age and the fellow was eighty years of age. You see naturally I thought he must be the grandfather you see so I said “Is she your granddaughter?" So My husband pinched Me said “That's his wife." I said “Really?" I said, “I'm sorry, I didn't know she was your wife” “What's wrong I can have a wife who is too young, what's wrong in it?" I said “Nothing wrong, only thing is people will laugh at you, that's all." All sorts of stupid things people do in this world and they think “what's wrong?" This is the best way to get along with your stupidity, till they discover that you are the greatest stupid person ever. Now this stupidity comes from the ego, coming up and surrounding your brain completely, you cannot see anything else, you just see yourself, my room, my house, my, my, my. You cannot see that there are others, that you flowe some sort of relationship to others, that you have to be kind to them, that you have to share things with them, you all the time think of yourself and such people get possessed by the supraconscious style.

What happens in spirituality in such people, they start feeling their body is lying here and they go and sit in a tree, they think it is realisation or enlightenment, just imagine. This is nothing but a supraconscious spirit has entered and taken the body away and put it there.

I had, I told you three Americans coming from America and they were known to be very big scientists.

They came to see Me and said “Mother you have to teach us one thing” I said “What?" “We want to fly." I said “Flying you're already flying, what do you want to flying." They said “No, but we want to fly with ESP” I said “You should not do that because if you do that then you are enslaved by these spirits and you do want to do that, to be enslaved by these spirits." “Yes, whatever it is, enslavement or anything, we want to have this by which we will y” I said “Why?" They said “Because Russia is doing it and Russians are doing experiments with ESP.

So we should also do it." I said “If they are going to hell, are you also going to hell?" They said, “Yes, what's wrong?" I said, “Nothing is wrong, go with two running jumps, you can go very fast there, but as far as I am concerned I am not for it, I am not going to doom your life forever." So I asked “Who has sent you to Me?" And they said “One Patanjali." You see there is a fellow called Patanjali who is a journalist, I said, “This Patanjali has sent you?" “Yes, he has sent us to you." He was the man who used to leave his body and run all over the places. He was a journalist you see, so he used to get the news before anybody else knows and he used to run out of his house and the wife was so surprised that one day he brought some sand and he said, “Yesterday do you know where I was, I was on the beach, from there I brought the sand for you." She got such a fright and he used to shake before any photograph of God or Christ or anyone, he used to shake like that, so she brought to Me, she said, “This fellow is shaking I don't know what is happening, he is rattling, this Parkinson's thing. I don't know what is happening and in the night he disappears, I lock up everything and still he disappears, I don't know what to do, it's very shocking." He said, “Sometimes I go and sit on a tree." I said, “Really?" So I told him that, “You are possessed." He said, “Mother, please take it away. I don't want this nonsense, you don't know where I will land up tomorrow. I could be anywhere, hanging in the air, I don't want to do that anymore, maybe my body won't come back." This is what people are doing now they take out the spirits. When they take out the spirit from a person they keep it with them. Like the children, small children die in their sleep. If a mother is here and she has a child in America and she say's I want to talk to my child through a medium, is a very dangerous thing, never play with these mediums, very dangerous. And such a mother I know in Switzerland, she did that to a child and the child died in America, in the sleep. Because the distance is such that, where is day there is night, she was doing this in the daytime and the child was sleeping. She talked to the child, she heard his voice, everything she did... and the child died.

Never go near these people who deal with spirits, is said by all the great people of the world, but we are not bothered, you see. “What's wrong?" We go to spirits, to ESP to our elders who are dead, to our brothers and sisters, why bother them now they are dead, let them be free. As it is you tortured their lives when they lived on this earth. Why don't you leave them be? Let them go and take their births. But we are not satisfied. We say no, we must talk to them. We have to hold hands, call spirits, do this.

But do you know what happens with them. First of all no realisation. Very difficult for such people.

Even if you get realisation and all that you have lots of problems, I've seen people go mad, because these spirits are dirty things. Supposing you have called Me, I am an Indian, so now you are exposed to India.

You must know you are exposed to Indian and you have no control over people coming down from these areas and you are just being possessed. They possess you, your family everything and is a fact that these horrible things that act or that call or that try to show that they are helping you, are the people who are just taking money from you.

But they are going to be condemned much worse than you. The people who are the mediums who are clairvoyants have used these things and all this we'll call these Guru's from Tibet, there's nothing like that.

Anybody who's a realised Soul will never come into anybody. No Guru can come into anybody, take it from Me because they know the value of freedom. They will never do it. It's a very mean thing to do.

To them who are dead and to yourself who is living and is such a beautiful thing created by God. You get possessed by all these nonsensical things and black magic and I don't know how you educated people can take to it, perhaps you are very naive, I would say that, you are naive. Because in India we know this, we know all this, we know all this materialisation and all business, we know very well.

Of course, I mean all the young people do not know now, because I am an ancient person, we all knew about it, we call it branumati Vidyā, Pret Shmashān Vidyā, bhoot Vidyā, there are books and books about it, what these things are done. There are black magic, voodoo and all sorts of things that you call it, but you have no knowledge about it. Now for example we put all our dead bodies in the church, I don't know who told, where is it written in the Bible, I don't understand, why should you put your dead bodies in the church. Alright, if you want to have a church for the dead bodies, let them be along with the dead bodies, you are living people, why do you sit on top of dead bodies and have all the bhoots and devils coming on you and sitting on your heads? Only a realised Soul is a the person who should be buried in a church, only a realised Soul. In India, it is a custom that all people are burned except for a realised Soul, because they never try to possess anyone, they never try to disturb, on the contrary, they help us in so many ways, they are not the people who will just come to disturb your life or give you some encouragement, sometimes you feel very happy also with that because you feel that your responsibility is taken over, they have taken your responsibility and you feel quite relieved, in the beginning you feel quite nice, in the beginning it's a good sensation, “Oh I feel peace” you think, because somebody else has come into your house and he is going to use all your house and you'll be left behind. And then you become ridiculous. Such people you'll find put the cloth in the mouth like this, look like that and they are very much frightened and afraid.

Of course before Me they shake like this, all sorts of things happen. Now there is another trend about it, that if you say that these are possessed people and this and that, so the left side ones are even worse.

Left side ones are the ones who go into the spirit business, very much, but there are two types of spirit business, one can give supraconscious and one can give even subconscious and the subconscious is very easily available because they are busy bodies all these spirits and in the subconscious area they are busy bodies and very mean and sly and dirty people.

For example a woman dies young without marriage, she would like to trouble a married woman, she's jealous. And that's why there are certain rules and regulations in our life. One should understand by which you should avoid all these things. Take your psychologists. Psychologists do not know what they're facing. They treat mad people. I told you about Freud, he was half baked because he only knew about this desire. Power of desire which he called conditioning and all that. But he did not know there was another one which is our ego, so he said you take out all your conditioning, you don't have any conditioning whatsoever.

So where do you go, you land up in “What's wrong?" Ego orientated. Then you form another cult by saying we must destroy our cult. You go on saying that to yourself “Oh you are good for nothing, you are useless” all the time kill your ego, you become a recluse, these two things happen with extremes of this movement of this center. Through this center you either go to the left or the right.

Now what is the real thing, this is the center of creativity. Creativity and the knowledge of the Divine.

Knowledge of the Divine is when you get your realisation, you get the cool vibrations of the Holy Ghost and you have to know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī of others and you have to know how to correct yourself.

You have to know how to know all of these centers and also you have to find out all the absolute questions you have got within your mind.

This has to happen to you. This realisation has to happen because this is in your own right you are having. Now you are a human being and you have to become a super human being. I'm not doing anything about it as I said, I'm just cashing your bank accounts. But if bank accounts are so much on the left or right it's rather difficult, you have to give lots of grace marks and sort of over-drafts are there.

So one has to understand that better be in the center. Not to go to these things. Why, why, for what? What are you going to gain out of these things? Are you going to go to your spirit? Are you going to become yourself? Why just for a little game here a little game there? Why are you going to these horrible people? They will take you to such a horrible extreme that maybe you will not be able to return. In London I was surprised there was a doctor whom I knew by relationship and he came to see Me and he said, “I've lost all my jobs, everything because I'm very depressed I can't work. I don't know what happens to me. I'm extremely depressed. I've lost zest to work. I do not feel anything I'm just gone. I'm very depressed. And every time I try to work I get again depressed. I'm very tired." I asked him did he go to anyone of these Tantriks and this type of person and he said “Never"! But my grandfather was Tantriks. He used to do this black magic business and now see the grandson is suffering because of it. Later on he was cured.

We have one Australian here who was a Russian doctor, his grandmother had a habit of taking the child to the cemetrey in the early ages of his life. He remembers that very well and after some time he became so depressed he lost his job, I mean he couldn't work. He used to get a headache and all sorts of things use to happen. Cramps use to come in his hands. When he came to Me he got cured but it took some time because in childhood all the impressions of these spirits were there.

So one has to understand how to keep dead away from you. You have to be in the present and not in the dead. Whosoever is dead is finished. Have you ever noticed a monkey, if a child of a monkey dies, before the death the monkey will be shouting and screaming and doing all sorts of things. As soon as the thing dies it leaves. It's not bothered. The same with dogs and so many things, not bothered about it, it knows it's gone. That's why it's said that if somebody is dead, think of God and you sing songs and things like that, do not indulge into it too much. But we have forgotten all those things and the way we do about dead things sometimes, it is so far, that actually most of us live that when doing all this, we live in the past. We live in the past and such people see some ghosts and things and some of them who are like this have seen My past and have been shaking before Me, they all shake before Me like this. They all shake, they cannot sit straight they go on shaking like this, they go on shaking like that, all the time their bodies shaking, they have no control over their body.

So one has to understand that these things are absolutely dangerous for human beings. We are human beings we are not dead bodies, we are that. But the worst thing is that those who indulge into these things are caught up by the proteins which doctors have said are nothing but these dead spirits. They are saying proteins because they don't understand. These are the dead spirits, cancer is caused only by the attack of the dead spirits. I have not come across a single case whom I have treated, I have treated many, who has not got the affectation of the spirit. Now in realisation when you get your realisation you catch up on this or this, these are the two Swādhiṣhṭhāna which were marked.

Now I hope you put your hands like this, you will get your realisation as well when I'm talking to you. Like this please and put both the feet straight on the ground, just like this. Now I was telling you that when you put your hands like this first the Cool Breeze starts flowing in. But when you have your realisation you put your hand on somebody to test it, you catch on this one. That means it is unauthorized.

Unauthorized working of the Divine can be subconscious area, can be supraconscious, the psychologist or anyone can catch on this. When you work on your mind. Your mind is the superego, there, the blue one is the mind and when you have somehow or other, gone to some person or had something to do with black magic yourself, then you catch on this finger [left thumb].

Is left Swādhiṣhṭhāna, as we call it and when you catch on this you have to say that you believe in the Divine working, in the pure working of the Divine and that's called as Nirmalā Vidyā. Nirmalā Vidyā means the Pure Knowledge of the technique of how to raise your Kuṇḍalinī. When you say that, this gets alright and the spirits leave you. There are many people who have come to Me who have been mad and they say, “How by Kuṇḍalinī do you cure mad people?" What do you do about it. Nothing, I just give them Kuṇḍalinī awakening. Then when the Kuṇḍalinī awakens, when She goes to this center, the second center within us, the enlightenment takes place. The deity there of creativity gets awakened and with the light this darkness within you just disappears. Just goes away.

Epilepsy can be cured. If somebody is suffering from Epilepsy there's a very simple method of curing that person. Extremely simple. When you come next I'll tell you how to get such a person cured. Very simple.

Sahaja Yoga is a spontaneous living method by which you can cure people as a by product of Kuṇḍalinī awakening. It's not that I'm here as a healer and I going about, “Give me ten dollars for healing." It's not that, it's just when Kuṇḍalinī is awakened you get cured. You get a good health because the Kuṇḍalinī passes through this center which is responsible for the physical side. If your physical side is alright then your health is alright. But there are other things within you. There is your emotional side and also there is your mental side and also you have got above all is the spiritual. All these things are to be enlightened through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. The first thing that happens to you is that your health improves, no doubt.

All kinds of things like paralysis, cancer, diabetes, diabetes is curable by Sahaja Yoga. This I must explain to you how diabetes is cured.

Diabetes is caused by people who think too much.

So this, the center has to work very hard and it cannot give sufficient attention to the pancreas which is on the left hand side. Because of that the left hand side becomes frozen and the right hand side is working very hard. Now how do you cure your diabetes.

Only way is if you are a realised Soul you give vibrations to the pancreas and give a balance to a person.

There's a way of balancing it. If you can balance the thing people get rid of their diabetes permanently.

Arthritis also can be cured, but now I must tell you about the spleen. It is a very important thing within us and I think everyone of us must understand it in a full way.

Spleen, we do not know how important it is within us. It is the speedometer. It looks after the speed we have. The way we are speedy these days. We are really telescoping it. We talk telescopically. We walk telescopically. We are very speedy people. And this speed comes to us when the spleen has gone crazy? How does the spleen go crazy. It's very simple. Now spleen is there to create new blood corpuscles, red corpuscles to beat all the emergencies you go through! For example: you are eating your food and it's an emergency. You are needing more of the red blood corpuscles.

So this spleen starts emitting these red blood corpuscles and now you have the 9 o'clock news and you hear something horrid and this creates another emergency. Then suddenly you eat your food and run. Third emergency is created.

Poor spleen gets absolutely crazy. It does not know when to produce what blood cells. It doesn't know what to do with you because suddenly you have three or four, things together, having your breakfast, putting one foot in the car, talking to somebody. That's how, somebody saying “Get in, get in!" And all this going on simultaneously. Poor this spleen doesn't know which way to move. It goes crazy. And then the attack comes somehow. Blood cancer is set in. Blood cancer is the result of speediness.

So one has to be very careful that our spleen must be alright. I am warning you as a Mother. I know these problems.

We have cured blood cancer but it's a horrible disease and once it gets over, within one week they say it finishes. We have cured many cases of blood cancer which were declared to dead after eight days. You see that's all they give a certificate. After eight days or after one month, this certificate you get in the hospital, you will die.

But in Sahaja Yoga one can try to cure them. They have been cured and when they went to the doctors they say, “Oh I know it was very remarkable but we can't believe it was Sahaja Yoga." Even if a doctor is cured they say, “Oh this doctor has gone mad now. He's talking like this how can that be?" They have certified the person is going to die in eight days and there he is going strong after two years or so. They'll say there must be something, they do not want to accept because this challenges their knowledge. But I am not here to take away their profession. They can have lots of patients. I am not here to cure people.

It's just the seekers who come to Me for realisation are blessed. By Divine grace and they get very good health. They get cured because they are seekers. They are the men of God, they have to become the prophets. And when they become the prophets in this era, they have to convert others in the same way and they will make them prophets.

Is said by William Blake about a hundred years back. He has described all these things in his book `Milton'. You will be surprised. He has gone to such a limit of prophecy, he was such a seer that he has even described where I lived, in Surrey Hills. The first beacons will be lit in Surrey Hills and also he has said where our ashram is going to be in the ruins because we had no money so they purchased a ruined place in the ruins, the foundations will be laid in Lambeth Way and there it is. Our ashram it has come to Lambeth Way and here is the [UNCLEAR] this is going to become the Jerusalem. Just imagine a person one hundred years back could see. He was such a seer. He has written all about it but human beings are not sensitive to things. I went to see his exhibition. He was a great artist. I was amazed they were just seeing how he has shown nude women in hell, just imagine. You went there to see this? I mean this is like we went to see a flower show and there you are picking up all the filth and dirt. Is this the way to look at beautiful things? See for beauty and think of beauty and then you are beauty. Why should you desire these ugly things in life? Why should you not desire something that is so beautiful and that's your Spirit.

This the second center I have told you. This is the one which limits, which limits our religion in the sense of our sustenance. Not the religion in the way you understand. Because all these religions are just like flowers on one living tree. They have been plucked by people and they say “This is mine. This is mine. This is mine!" And they have made these flowers very ugly and such flowers are decayed.

The whole attention should be on becoming the Spirit. If it is not so the rest of it is not God's work.

God's work is just to awaken your Kuṇḍalinī. Is the living work because if He is the living God He has to do the living work. His work is to transform a little flower into a fruit, which you cannot do. In the same way you cannot pulsate the Kuṇḍalinī but it will pulsate when you come to Sahaja Yoga. You will see with your naked eyes the pulsation rising over here and you can see your Baptism taking place. It is written by so many people, like Kālidāsa has said, we had a great poet Kālidāsa who has described Sahaja Yoga about three to four hundred years back.

And we had Ādi Shañkarāchārya who has very clearly said all these things I am telling you, But this was a knowledge limited to a few people. Even Kṛiṣhṇa talked to one, Arjuna. Christ talked to some multitudes and they crucified Him because they couldn't understand Him, what He was talking. What was there to crucify Him. They did not recognize Him. Moses, how many people recognized him? Abraham, how many people recognized him? They were never recognized, never understood, that was the problem and this is what one has to understand. The time has come now to recognize, to understand. Recognize yourself that you are the Spirit, not this body, not this mind, not this ego, nothing, but you are the Spirit. And not the Guru's, so-called. The one who does not give you spiritual realisation is not a Guru, is not a Guru. You must understand. You must understand this is the thing of Guru.

The Primordial Master who tells you to be in the center, who tells you all things that are to be done in the name of religion, in the name of religion everyone has said the same thing. Now I don't say anything like that because I know how to handle the situation. We had a doctor in London who was an alcoholic who came to Me. He got his Realisation and the next day he gave up. He just didn't want to have it. He said “Now I am enjoying myself. I'm not bored I don't even remember it." But he went to Germany and he said that after two to three months, he said I used to like one wine, let me try how it is.

So he went and had that wine. When he had it he felt like vomiting, absolutely he said it was smelling.

And I don't have to tell you don't steal, don't talk filthy don't do this, nothing. Like My own daughter has a daughter, I have a granddaughter, who is a realised Soul. Two children, two granddaughters are realised Souls and one of them came, later on she said, “Grandmother, did you have to read this stupid thing called as moral science?" I said, “No, why?" “Foolish isn't it, they tell us not to tell lies, not to steal, I mean why should we tell lies, why should they tell us all these things. I don't like it." So the little one says, “Oh these are stupid people, how can they say like this, why should we do it." There is no temptation there. We don't have to sell you that type of temptation you are awakened. Your Dharma is there, your sustenance is awakened.

We are human beings, if we have to pass through a dirty lane then we cannot do it. Horrible, we close our noses, we feel the smell of the dirt and the filth. But you take a horse, he'll go off very nicely, he's not bothered, he doesn't get disturbed. In the same way your awareness gets enlightened. Then whatever is sinful, you do not like. You just don't like it. Whatever takes you away from Spirit you don't like because you lose your vibrations. Lose your vibrations. Now another center is also very important. It is for our well-being, it's called as Nābhī Chakra. About which I'll tell you next time because already I've told you quite elaborately. Moreover I would like to have questions from you today also, but like last time, don't go on asking questions and the same person asking. One person should ask only one question and a sensible question because you are seekers don't waste your time and don't waste time of others. Alright? Thank you very much.

Contents: 1981-03-25 Talk to Sahaja Yogis, Burwood Ashram, 10 Clarence Street, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia (date not sure)

Even if you are silent you do very much, you don't know your powers. You really don't know your power. You can even stop the sun. You have got such powers you can't believe it. I have made you after the pattern of Christ, after the pattern of Gaṇeśha. You are very powerful people. On your hands the Kuṇḍalinī moves. What more powers do you want? How many saints there are who have been blessed with such great powers? You have no self esteem as it should be. If you really develop your self-esteem you see the whole balance will come to your spirit. Self-esteem is the only way really you are going to be Self-realised. And then one should not pass sarcastic remarks about each other, you must respect, all of you must respect each other.

Somebody is like this, somebody is like that, I don't like it at all, passing remarks about anyone. I don't like it at all. And you should not also pass remarks. And a person who might be considered selfish or something like that, it will stand out. It will be corrected I Myself will find out, so you just don't pass remarks. Even in the public [UNCLEAR sometimes I hear it/we sometimes do that/we can do that]. It's very bad. Anything, I mean any gesture or anything. Should not do in the public. I mean we are all one in the public.

Question: So Mother, we'll get our self-esteem by preserving our collectivity and make that stronger?

Shri Mataji: Yes and also that collectively about yourself. You see if you get “Oh, I'm shaking, I'm frightened. This person has come and said something to me” finished. What are you therefore, you see among yourselves also one person should not dominate another, but if one tries to dominate you should not be dominated but work things out. Self-esteem means that. If you allow somebody to dominate you are good for nothing, you are useless. Tomorrow you have to hold swords in your hands you must know and here you are you, shake, shake. Just think of such swordsman. The only fright will be if the swords will fall out of the hands. Instead of doing any work.

Question: That's it you know. You've just described my problem because on the one hand you know, I really want to help my eldest boy. I really do Mother. And you've given me all the tools and everything.

Next minute plop! I'm frightened. But what about? What if? And I go back into the past and think about the mess that was and I think I can't do it! No.

So what is this? Is it a bhoot that comes in and gives me the fear or...

Shri Mataji: Maybe all your own. Because you see the past is there is tying up you. You see that's dead, that's finished, forgotten. Now I've become a fruit. I'm no more a flower I'm a fruit. This is the selfesteem that has to be established. In humility also! `I'm not that arrogant person, I'm not a dominating person. I'm not going to enjoy dominating others. I'm not that lazy person. I'm not that, I'm another personality. I'm a saint. I am a prophet and I have a right to make others prophets!' What more do you want. But sometimes if you make a beggar sometimes a king when they come in the beginning sometimes he just puts his hands like this to get something. Forgets that he is the king, he is asking and begging, that's what it is.

Forget your past. Completely! You are sitting on the throne like dignified personalities. Sit on the throne and enjoy the beauty and the glory. This is what it is. Called assumption. Viraj, in Sanskrit the word is Rājana, means, I don't know, to permeate, the kingdom within you. Allow it to settle, to sustain within you the kingdom, the kingship. That's Virajiea, when you sit down on this throne and have all the glory and all the heights of this throne emitted through you and enjoy it. Such a big word is Viraj.

You see like a bride comes in the house. And then the mother-in-law gives the keys to her. And this is your house, Virajiea and you are the owner of this house, come along and enjoy.

So she feels it. Now she is the owner. How should she behave? How should she be humble. How she should be kind, respectful and how she receives respect from others. That's what is the whole thing with Viraj now.

So we have to be that and then you'll be surprised at how you can solve the problems. Think that you have to become the king alright. A king has to know when to use which power. A king doesn't come all the time and hit persons who come to his feet, nor does he touch anybody else's feet. You see it's like that. Alright any more questions? [GAP] Everybody sat comfortably and how there was no competition. And he was amazed that there was no competition. Because competition is a part of human nature he used to think. And there was no competition except with everybody being good and nice. That's all. He being very intelligent, he saw to it and that the ladies were dressed very well, I mean not, in any informal way, that they had made it a formal thing. And he liked it! When we are formal, we are respected. We have to be formal because we are respected. We are very formal. As to what thing we give what whisky and what gin. But we are not formal when we present ourselves to others. You have to be formal when you are with the public. Very formal. In every respect and that helps because you respect them. They know. They respect. You go to church properly dressed because you respect God. In India when women go to temples they will wear their best dresses, their best sarīs and they wear all their ornaments and they go to temples, because you respect, out of respect. And now we go to church. You take out your hat. Out of respect and women put on a hat to respect.

In the same way in Sahaja Yoga you have to respect the public because there may be many seekers among them. Talk to them with great respect. Know that they are seekers. They may be horribly funny sometimes. Then do not try to be harsh with them. You should say `If you are seekers you will come. If you are a true seeker you will find it here. No use arguing with you.

So many of us were like you. For nothing at all, why are you quarreling? What have you found so far? Please find it out. Don't delay,' like that in a very cajoling, very patronizing manner you should talk to them. They should feel that, these people are concerned with their well being and also their respect. Respect is the first thing that we must give to these people. Talk to them in a very respectful way. Make them sit down. Because now you are much higher.

So this consciousness is also there you see, so you have to be more compassionate and more congenial to them when you are so high. This is the problem with all the human beings. All pay complete disregard for others when they evolve. Has been with all the great saints I have seen so far now those who are, they throw stones at them, they hit them, they abuse them, they beat them. They do all kinds of things, can you imagine? Because you see they are not yet evolved. You must understand it much more.

That they are not yet evolved.

So how you must treat them like children. And once they are treated like that you'll see they'll be very happy with you because they'll see what change has come into you.

Arrogance and all these things are horrible things which should not be done in Sahaja Yoga at all.

You should never combine in fighting. If somebody's fighting, forget it, forget it, forget it! If someone is arguing you should say `No! No!, no arguing can do it.' You cannot argue a flower into a fruit. You are losing your time. It is better do not argue. Like that you see. Be at a higher pedestal and pull them out, very delicately. Not to push them down. They will go down much more.

They have to come up, know that they have to come up and when you have to come up and when you have this knowledge you be very soft with them. Among yourselves different but dealing with others you must understand. This is the key note and the rest of it you know very well and as far as establishing a rapport is concerned you do not.

I would say that this Yogi here is quite good at talking to people. But otherwise as a person I would say she is more left handed so she should be a little more right-handed. It's sort of indulging sometimes into a little left-sided stuff sometimes. But she's more appreciated than a person who's aggressive because people like sometimes a little [gentleness]...

So in the room I will tell her “you should be more right handed, now don't try to get into things where you'll be dominated." That's nonsense, can never be dominated. But as far as the dealing with others is concerned such a person is more appreciated who takes you see others aggressions upon oneself you see. That's the way it should be. That how she has been quite successful organizing things and talking to people nicely.

So it's a different thing what we do here among ourselves but with outsiders you have to become extremely subdued, very humble. They don't expect a saint even to say anything you see. They expect what Christ has said if they slap one face turn the other face. They forget the other one “Don't throw pearls before swines" and also that he took a handle in his hands and started beating all those. You are on that level, but still take to another style.

Question: They tend sometimes in Australia, Mother, to underestimate their knowledge of Sahaja Yoga and say “Really I don't know very much about it, but, but" and they begin with an apology and this is not a good system.

Shri Mataji: No, No. Just be in the center. Apologeticness is not. That's what I said. Should not be apologetic by any chance. Humble. Apologeticness is very different and humbleness is very different.

Apologeticness is left-sided. No. You don't say that. It's the Viśhuddhi. `You have no idea. I would just like to show you...' In this way if you talk they'll not feel bad. Instead of, “I tell you this, this, this." The style in which you talk never be apologetic. Never be apologetic. Whatever you say, say it with complete confidence. Absolute confidence. If there's no confidence, ah, ah! But how you express your confidence is a different point. There should not be overconfidence in asserting it, but there should be confidence in yourself and in Sahaja Yoga. Those who are negative should have nothing to do with Sahaja Yoga. There's nothing apologetic in Sahaja Yoga. No. No apologies. It's great to be Sahaja Yogis. Really to be that high. You must have that dignity and naturalness.

It is said that, that the higher you go the humbler you become.

Now there's a story in India that once a saint was meditating and he was blind and a King came to him and he said “Have you seen any men going by here” in a very polite manner and he touched his feet.

He said “Yes, yes my king, your, servant came here first, then your minister and now you have come” and the King said, “You are blind, how did you see them?" And he said, “By the manner they addressed me.

The servant came and he said `Eh, you!', I knew it was a servant, then the Minister said, not in the way you said it but a better way than the servant. When you came, you respected Me in such a manner as you are respected.

And I knew you are the King." The one who gets respect will give also respect because if you are not respected by your parents you don't respect others. If you are respected in a family, you respect others. Respect is different from apologies. Why should you apologize, why should you talk like that. Now you ask Me a question.

Sahaja Yogi: You have answered everything Mother.

Shri Mataji: Ask! Ask! Question: Some people are little concerned about for tomorrow about the strings we are wearing, from the Pūjā, Mother.

Shri Mataji: No look this you should remove. Second day there is no need to have, just remove.

These are material things. Just tie it for the day, next day just thrown in the sea that's all. There should be no tie.

Question: The ring?

Shri Mataji: The ring you should wear. It's alright. If you want, tomorrow you need not take it.

Depends on, there's no need to have the ring around just now. Just now you don't need any protection from them out there. If you want you can take it. You see people don't like it. They think you are branded.

They think your freedom has been taken over. It's for your pleasure you are wearing it. Better not wear this. Just take it out. We have to be Publicity Department. Publicity Departments for Sahaja Yoga. Do lots of things just to make them come in, come in, come in! And then we'll have it. I have to try so many tricks you know.

First time we went to Bordi, I had taken over twenty-five of them. And gave realisation, the first realisation to one of them. Of course I had given one to one lady at home.

But the second one of this twenty-five was a fellow who got it. And all the Maharashtrians were very unhappy. They don't deserve this, Mother, because they are this, that. Nobody told Me this but I knew it was going on. The lady who started murmuring is nowhere near Sahaja Yoga now. But half-baked, they joined hands and they were very unhappy. Modi was there. He was one of the first ones.

And that day I really put up a show of anger. After ages and even since then I have never had and I just lashed. I said, “You people are good for nothing, useless. I don't know my fate is bad I got such horrible people. If you are thinking of... and Marathi and all this nonsense here better get out. I've nothing to do with you." I was really angry. I was really so angry that I don't think I've put up that show anywhere. I've tried to. But not to that extent. And for about one hour I shouted at the top of My voice.

Really screamed at them. All the bhoots ran away from Me, so frightened and twelve of them got realisation.

So the first trick I tried twelve of them got realisation. One of them is Modi. twelve of them got realisation that day. You can imagine. First I really screamed and shouted and all the bhoots ran away and all these ideas got out. When I get angry also it's against the bhoots you see. But I really shouted. “Get out from here. I don't want to see your faces. Just go. I'll have nothing to do with you! I'm not going to give you realisation." So frightened. And a gentleman whispered, “Mother please forgive us." “No"! He didn't know what to do you see. And two years I worked them, two years. I used to cure them alright. And I was so angry with them. I said, “You wretched people, you don't deserve it." And that woman has gone out of circulation. That one, she's the one who started this talk.

Someone comes and starts saying something like that you people get gathered. And then after that she really got first class.

All twelve of them are here except for one she was the first who got it at home.

Question: Mother, talking about Sahaja Yoga there's often a great interest and sometimes the first move from people even going through to Self-realisation is often fairly straight forward. After that, after Realisation, I find it difficult to know quite what to do. With some people you don't see them again.

Other people it might be, well on one occasion I'm thinking of, two months later he started to come back again and became reasonably regular. Should that be left. Should the next move after.

Shri Mataji: No. You better tell this to those people. That you see people are so caught up.

Some of them just drop out like that. That's why, you should say that Christ said some seeds fell on the rock you see. And then they come afterwards and we find them lagging behind, so they'll be warned. You better warn them. It's very common.

They are very much there when Mother is there. And also when I go away one more problem may come up, so better tell them. Which I am going to tell them. That they start doubting because the bhoots come back you see, like bad pennies. Then they start getting ideas. It happens always. Once I go away they start doubting. Ten people meet together and they say and yes, yes, I did feel and now I don't know. This is not the last word, there must be something else. Like that. For some personal reason maybe, for any reason they do it. They gather people around them and they start going against Sahaja Yoga, they do.

I've seen it. And then they come back. You see what happens is they are losers, great losers. No doubt.

So you tell them. Doubting starts always. Always it is there because the bhoots you see. For example, there are two friends. One gets more sort of vibrations and things like that.

So the one who doesn't get so much of it you see goes back and says, “Oh I don't know", you see it's a jealousy or some sort of a thing starts. See these human feelings are there so one has to be very careful. If another one hasn't got it why shouldn't I get it? In every other thing we behave like that, but in Sahaja Yoga they're absolutely fooled. If they want they can take two running jumps and go to hell. Much faster than they could ever do because really it settles you down very fast.

Question: Mother is there a risk of losing contact with Sahaja Yoga if supposing you might be married to somebody and because of their job which is a job worth keeping and everything you have to live a considerable distance from the mainstream of Sahaja Yoga. Supposing for example I was very much established in Sahaja Yoga but physically I was separated from the ashram. You wouldn't lose it?

Shri Mataji: It's alright. But what I would suggest that for about two months or so when you have holidays come and stay with them. You see it's alright. You must do your job. Nobody has to sit idle.

You have to do your job. Nobody has to give up jobs like that. Except for one or two persons who can afford it. Those who are busy with Sahaja Yoga can do it. But all of you need not. You all should do the jobs and there you meet people and talk to them about it and there you are doing the job of Sahaja Yoga.

Question: Because ultimately that's where the strength lies?

Shri Mataji: Bring some people from there. You don't have to live in the ashram but sometimes you must come for the training of your mind. You should learn how to live with others. That's why. Because ultimately we are all going to live together isn't it. In India. Or in Australia.

Question: Always keep us guessing Mother?

Shri Mataji: Maybe six months in Australia, six months in India is alright. But what about London.

That's the rainy season. Permanent. May is good. They're nice scholarly people I must say. Their contribution to Sahaja Yoga is very valuable. They have gone through all the books, honoured all that is supporting to Sahaja Yoga. See that Chinddwara's book, they said “I didn't do much Mother, I just saw it here" but I know, Gavin and all those people they worked very hard to find out quotations and things like that. Very scholarly, very scholarly. Their scholarship has come in very handy.

You see people want some support all the time. The other fellow was asking “What is your authority?" You see I could ask him, “What is the authority of Bible? Why would you accept Bible as the authority? What is the authority of Christ?" Because you are just born as a Christian and that's all. An Indian can't say that `Because Bible says so.' Why, what is Bible? For that to have authority of Bible to see that you get vibrations from the Bible. What is the authority of Koran? Why do you accept Koran? You should say there's no mention of Kuṇḍalinī in the Bible but how far could you go.

It is said that I shall appear before you like tongues of flames. In a way that you should be born again and if this is the method then this is to be done. It is written in so many others.

In Indian Scripture so clearly, Kuṇḍalinī awakening is the only way you can get your Self-realisation so you have to reach proper conclusions. You cannot have a narrow vision, you cannot judge the whole thing by this four years expression of Christ. It's very limited.

Question: Mother could you just explain the tongues of the flame again.

Shri Mataji: Tongues of flames are nothing but these Chakras. One flame is enlightened. Like these many tongues you see they come up like that. You will see them. Actually Sahasrāra is such a beautiful thing. It's like a lotus. Just like burning lotuses and you see the light, beautiful it is.

Question: I know of a couple of people who are most likely coming tomorrow who believe that they are working with clearing out Chakras who haven't got their realisation.

Warren: They haven't got their Realisation yet Mother or they've only just got it and they very arrogantly call themselves energy redistribution therapists and all this nonsense. This lady in particular that we are talking about came for, her Realisation and got the experience and promptly was initiated by a Buddhist monk and then said she got it all from the Buddhist monk anyway. Now she is going working on patients and saying it's Kuṇḍalinī and this and that. I mean I have no time for those people.

Shri Mataji: She'll lose it. She'll have a bad time. I'll tell her “you better look after yourself, you are not alright."

Sahaja Yogi: The Chakras cannot be cleared by an unrealised person? Warren: No! The Chakras cannot be cleared by an unrealised person.

Sahaja Yogi: Mother, may I make one more point? That even a realised man, excepting Mātājī, cannot clear the Chakras without Sadana, without meditation, penance. If I think I can clear all the Chakras, I should know that I cannot clear all the Chakras unless and until there is a definite correlation of Sadana with those Chakras and definite blessings for those Chakras. Then only will I clear those Chakras. The basic thing is that without surrender to Mother, nothing will work out.

Shri Mataji: One has to surrender to Mother that is the biggest point. You know any type of thing you see, doing, the lady will have a bad time, I'm sorry for it. Yes. She will have a very, very bad time, she will have all kinds of problems.... Those who try, break their hands, break their legs, do all sorts of things.

You see if you're sitting under this roof alright then you are not troubled by rain. But if you go out of this you are troubled, only difference is that after coming to this safety and all that, if you go, then you feel it more, but if you get it normally, you don't mind. You see even people become mad, they accept it, they become blind they accept it, but after coming to Sahaja Yoga when they do it, they feel it more because they have felt the goodness of it. Then they feel it much more and it looks very absurd and they say “Oh, I got Realisation, why did I break my hand?" Because you were not sincere, you were just playing games.

Sincerity is the essence, from your heart because here is the Heart Chakra. You have to put Me in your heart and I am there, got to put Me there, then only if you are insincere you can never progress, there's no doubt. With all humility I must say that. What to do? This is what it is, that's what Christ has said, “Anything against me will be forgiven but against the Holy Ghost will not." You can tell them like this, that in Indian scriptures it's written, it is only the Holy Ghost who can awaken Kuṇḍalinī like this en-mass. Only with Her Sankalpa even if She thinks and desires it can work out. Even by her Kataksha with Her one glance She can do it, you see this is Kataksha. Even without any Sankalpa, even in Her presence it happens and that's what it is.

So you should say `She is the Holy Ghost' you see, you have to find out about Holy Ghost. There's nothing about Holy Ghost in the Bible, what is it? They don't know what is Holy Ghost they say it's a bird, it's all imagination.

Question: Mother do you feel that it's alright to tell people who you are immediately now.

Shri Mataji: No. You see you must tell like this, if it comes to that. If you tell them that, now see they'll say it's very difficult, then: “There is something about Mother you should find out, what She is.

I found it out what She is. You have to read some other books to find out, you can find out by putting your hands towards her." You see they ask such a question.

Question: Mother a lot of these people that will be coming tomorrow have a lot of knowledge they have gathered through their seeking and they may try and lure us onto their grounds.

Shri Mataji: You should say very simple thing that `You didn't get your Self-realisation with this, you did not.

So forget it what ever it is. We've got our Realisation.' How do we say? Because we can tell about our own Chakras, tell about your Chakras. Can you tell about us? You cannot. With all that knowledge, forget it.

Warren: One thing that is being implied here is we find a lot of people come in with their own little `ism' or their own little idea and they try to tell us what we should believe.

Shri Mataji: No you listen to them you say we have listened to all this, we've gone through all this and we have had enough of it and I will not move but I've got out of it because it doesn't give you anything.

`Only through Sahaja Yoga, I found you see, that I could feel my own Chakras and Chakras of others.

There's no other way out. I want all these things myself.' That's the best way to tell them. You say `I don't want to argue, but only one simple thing I want to ask you.' I mean don't allow them to sit on your head, also that's not the way, otherwise, you have not delivered the goods.

We have to deliver the goods that's the main point. Is not our showing our humility there, we are not there to have a show of humility, we have to deliver the goods. I told you the tricks of the trade here. Now supposing they come out with them, you should say `Now this all I have read, I know all this and no use going into it. Only thing I will ask you, one thing, what did you get? Can you feel my Chakras? Can you say whether my Chakras are caught up? But I can tell about you, about many others and we always say the same thing.' So that's how you stop them, but you must deliver the goods. The main thing is don't have just a show of your humility and apologies and all that. No, No, not that. But you must deliver the goods, you must put this into their brains otherwise what's the use? All this show, is for what? For getting more in your net of love.

Question: Mother if they ask you questions and you're not confident of the answers you might give?

Shri Mataji: Then you better send them over to Me, to Mother, you see. What sort of questions they can ask, you see just put your attention when you sit down and another thing is don't give yourself bandhans and all that in their presence, like this you don't do it. Nothing of the kind, sit very dignified.

These things upset people, new people very much. Just talk to them, as professors do to students, just like that.

Question: When they ask questions, Mother about the various deities and I'm not really very familiar with them,

I mean who Viṣhṇumāyā is and all that, so then if they really want to know, do we send them over to you?

Sahaja Yogi: Another Sahaja Yogi can answer that.

Shri Mataji: That's alright, that's alright, you should just say that in thing you can see it, without having the books with you. You see the chart, moreover you should say, `Not so important just now, gradually you will know everything about it.' The whole knowledge is given to us by Mother free of charge, everything and you can tally it, you can verify it. You can verify it, you can see the Kuṇḍalinī pulsating, you can verify it, you have to insist on this point. This is a living process.

You get to see Kuṇḍalinī rising, you see in many people the Kuṇḍalinī rising and that you see that people start feeling this Cool Breeze. This is the living process there is no doubt about it. These others are just arguments and concepts which are dead. But this is a living process.

Question: Giving bandhans and similar things will be one of the things we'll be teaching them. Is that correct?

Shri Mataji: You should teach them later on, not in the beginning. If they ask for it or something, you see this can be done later when they come to us, or ask for it. Better is to be very discreet.

Question: Some people ask “What do you do a Sahaja Yoga Center?"

Shri Mataji: Should say that we have: One is collective meditation, where we sit down and meditate and be thoughtlessly aware. And vibrations.

We put on Mothers tapes and listen to it and understand what She has to say because She has talked about all the Chakras. There are 300 tapes like that, every tape gives so much knowledge about ourselves.

Because now we have got the power, but we must learn how to manoeuvre it how to take it round. Like once you have got the electricity then you have to know how to use it. What to do about it, all these things we work it out, learn and master it. And you don't pay anything for it. And then we sing songs and things and enjoy ourselves. And when you come closer and closer to us we will let you know what we do. Because there are certain things, we do not tell to people, because if you tell them, they can't bear the truth about Mother, then you find out about Mother and who She is. What is Her incarnation and what is She doing. You come there gradually because you should be able to bear the truth. You see where as people could not bear the truth, what Christ was and crucified him, but now you are going to crucify yourself if you can't bear the truth, not Mother. Is other way round, alright.

Firstly, I'll make them thoughtless so they won't ask anyone questions.

The little bees [laughs]. I'll make your task very simple. [Laughter.] But you give a good presentation, that's all.

Warren: Publicity dept.

Shri Mataji: That's a big joke, eh, publicity dept.

Warren: Look good and leave it to Mother.

Shri Mataji: Better smiling also, never laugh. You know, you people laugh in My presence, but if you otherwise laugh, at others, you see, they feel very misled. Don't laugh at them. They should not get a feeling there is an understanding between you making a joke of them. That's another thing can work out, that someone will come with an inferiority complex. You see, there are some people who suffer from a feeling that “Everyone is smiling at me and they are laughing at me, they are making fun” sort of people like that, so just learn to be nice to them, be concerned with them and don't laugh at them at all, or at anything, don't laugh too much, because this laughing can be misunderstood at that level, alright? I think laughing should be avoided as far as possible if you just see happiness and all that and sometimes, at the sky you can see and laugh, but not make fun of them in any way which is sadistic.

Please see to that; that also happened very common in England. Many people ran away because of that, you see, they ran away more because of Sahaja Yogis than because of Sahaja Yoga. This is a new arrangement for you, suddenly you have to be Public Relations Officer.

Question: Mother, when I have been reading about the Indian epics, something that's puzzled me is that sometimes, `asuras' can perform `tapas' to a deity and gain powers which they then use for evil purposes.

Shri Mataji: That's what Sahaja Yogis do also and then they have a fall. You see, God is a very simple being. At the slightest...

Question: Mother, some people that you talk to and explain to them the collective consciousness and the way you become connected, if they are following some doctrine of their own before Sahaja Yoga and they accept what you say to a degree, but they don't fully accept, should we be persistent with them over a few days, to help them?

Shri Mataji: The proof of the pudding will be the eating. Put their attention to their Chakras. If there is no Cool Breeze coming, then it is a very good chance for you to say something. If you find that there are some centers, you should say `Are you doubting? Don't doubt,' and find that catch. You see, that's how on the Chakras, if you talk in relation to Chakras, they will not know. Because everybody wants Chakras to be cleared out. You see, how this knowledge has come, when I went to America, they got all these things about Chakras and vibrations. The word `vibration' started through that. Imagine! They did not know a word about it and Kuṇḍalinī and everything, then Muktananda took a cue from there and started talking about it. They never talked about it.

Question: And even though You didn't spread it directly, it got spread all over the world, anyway.

Shri Mataji: And now I knew that, that later on they would come to Me alone because none of them can do it. I was so confident and people said, “You should have a patent. You shouldn't allow anybody to use the tapes for it, they should not tape You or anything." I said, “Let it be, doesn't matter. They are doing free advertisement, why not do it?" They started this twice born, all these things started with that, born again and they never thought of it.

Question: Mother, somebody asked me last night if it would be dangerous for them to come and get their Realisation and then leave it. After they are realised is it dangerous to leave it to them?

Shri Mataji: As you say, it would be like asking if it was raining outside, would it be dangerous to be inside the room. You see? There isn't... if you are inside the room you enjoy the protection of the room.

If you are outside you get all the problems there. There is nothing dangerous, you go ahead whatever way you like. But then you feel more getting out, because what happens is that you have felt the security and the beauty of yourself and to be without it you feel bad. Supposing a rich man becomes poor, it's difficult, but a poor man becomes rich and it's not difficult for him. But for a rich man to become poor it's very difficult, he cannot adjust. And the same way when you are enriched, you find it difficult to live like a pauper. You see? That's the point.

Question: A very common egoistical trick though Mother, is they get their Realisation, then they take it away and they think they can establish it in their own way, using their old methods.

Shri Mataji: You see, you should say that, `Just now you are, when you come to Sahaja Yoga you will know that you are still at the foothill. Absolutely, just now, this is just the beginning and you don't know how to handle it, really. This is the fact.

So you come at the foothill of it. Now, to learn how to go further, you have to know about it. Like somebody with electricity and the sun, or fire. You also know how to handle it. It's better to know through the experienced people how to handle it, what to do.

Because you come into mistakes and this advice is available. Of course you may learn gradually, but very slow and steady. But with this it starts, it can move.' That's all.

Question: In relation to our development in Sahaja Yoga, I noticed that in two of your recent lectures You've mentioned the flames of the Chakras and You have said, you can see the flames. Now, if someone was to ask me, if they would come to see this in Sahaja Yoga, what should I say?

Shri Mataji: Well, you don't, you don't say anything in Sahaja Yoga. You should say, people have seen it from outside, we don't want to see flames, we want to become flames ourselves. Alright?

Sahaja Yogi: Right.

Shri Mataji: You should say, you see it from outside. These people use to see from outside. They were not realised Souls, some of them. And Christ has said it because he himself was there. You see? It is a position that he said so. But you see.

Sometimes, flames around Me, auras and things.

Question: When you give somebody realisation, like when we were in Melbourne we gave realisation to a friend and we were not able to follow it up with her and now she's become quite confused about it.

Should we give realisation to everybody if we can't follow it up with them? Because they can...

Warren: If you give realisation to somebody but you don't have the opportunity to follow it up and in this case it's created confusion in the mind of this person, should we therefore, give realisation to people even if we can't follow it up?

Shri Mataji: I'll manage, leave it to Me, it's all-pervading, it's all-pervading, despite that, so many get it and so many retain it, develop it, they come back. We have to go on giving realisation, that's very important, sprout it, let's see. You see, even if out of ten only two came out, it's alright. Let's first start giving Realisation, it's very important, otherwise nothing they can see.

Some are slow, some are fast, it's alright.

Question: Mother, is it possible, just by our presence for some tiny piece of awakening to become awakened in a person who otherwise refuses to come and get Realisation, or come and see Mother, or whatever?

Shri Mataji:... everywhere and now the time has come for you to take new rules in life of becoming prophets and making others prophets.

For Australia I see as a whole not a separate thing. As a part of the whole universe and also as a whole as Australia. One should never get the idea that you try to be separate entities anyway. Once you even think of such a thing cancer is set in. I am always afraid that even in the name of Sahaja Yoga, people start organizing.

Now to have an ashram is a very big thing. Very essential for Sahaja Yoga, like in previous lives you were in the ashrams, long time back, when we had the custom of chaturvar which is as the four periods of life. In the first period of life as children, the students have to live with the Guru. From 5 to twenty-five and they keep very clean relationship among themselves and that [innocence] is called as Gotra.

Luckily the land that we are going to get belongs to that era where the great rishi called Shandilya, who was My Gotra, had his ashram. Perhaps you do not know of him.

So, so much was purity maintained among the ashramites, that nobody could marry, even today nobody can marry, people of the same Guru of the same university.

So ashrams are like universities where you come not to make a convenience, but to educate yourself in Sahaja Yoga. All of you should make it a point to come and stay in an ashram but never, understand, that one ashram has anything another ashram [UNCLEAR hasn't/which is] coming up.

Now whatever is the mother ashram from where everything has started, all the other ashrams must understand the authority of that ashram which is the mother ashram. It is very important to understand this kind of matter.

I think this is the reason why the families also fail in Western countries, because we don't understand that we cannot have two heads. We have to have one head and one heart.

So we have to have one head and that head has to be today this ashram where people are living here and what ever you may start today, now there will be an ashram, maybe in Sydney, maybe in Melbourne, maybe Tasmania, anywhere it is an ashram which has to take instructions from this main ashram.

So I want to make it very clear to you that when I go away there should be no quarreling about it, no complaints about the ashrams must be made, the ashram is your Mothers temple. It is the place which is to be kept just like a temple.

Ashramites must look after it and others also who live here, for example you may bring your children but they should not be allowed to go to every room, must keep this place like a temple and those who live here also should know they are living here because they are getting a training, not to make a convenience out of it.

I have had a good experience of the ashram we had in London and in the beginning the first ashram, you know that I had to pay for everything to establish it. But it started, then the people lived there, they were just parasites on Me. For everything they were demanding even an ironing board. Such a funny type of thing started [with] the ashram, then they discovered that this was really wrong what they were doing here.

Because your Mother is very lenient but that means she gives you a long rope.

So you should not try to assert yourself on Me but try to assert yourself on yourself.

I am not the one to say anything because I want you to use your freedom. To use your freedom fully so that you benefit through your own discrimination power. You have to develop your discrimination power.

Now how do you do it. If I keep you in My pouch all the time like a kangaroo does you'll never grow.

So you have to make a decision yourself. Whatever you say, agreeable, but you have to take that decision, discriminate into what is good and what is bad.

So first thing one has to remember that this ashram as it has started will remain, for the time being, the first one. Now as Warren and Terence came first time to India and they got a good training, they will remain here as heads of this place till I tell them that you are not, there should be no competition in this logic, now I tell you how this works out.

It is a very simple method if you try to understand it, very simple. Have you ever seen how the butter is brought out of the curd, first the butter is churned, like this, with a churner. Now when it is done they find the butter is spread all over the surface like the children of God all coming, then a little butter from outside is put into the butter. That butter gathers all the other butter around it because it's a little more mature, it starts gathering all the butter around, but some of the particles of butter do not get into it, so the person who is churning tries to take out all that also when he takes out the butter.

But if you remain outside it is not possible. It goes with the butter milk and is thrown away.

So like that Terence and Warren had to come and especially Warren I must say was very much given lots things to work out.

So as long as you say something, we will not like it sometimes maybe, he's a human being, he may make mistakes. But somebody has to decide right or wrong and you have to follow it because if you start individually asserting yourself we will have again cancer in Sahaja Yoga, because you people are very individualistic, just like our London Sahaja Yogis.

But you don't have all these problems I hope, as they had. Like they would come and enter into the kitchen and polish off everything, not paying any money for it. And all sorts, they used to keep things very dirty and everybody had a problem, but as luck would have it, that I've seen that people are gathering round. The more you adhere together, together without challenging anybody's authority the better it will be. Those who will be left out, will be left out, without progress.

So I'm warning you, it's not to pamper the ego of Mr. Warren in any way. Which I know how to control. Because I can control his ego. I can control him sitting down there. But you are to be controlled through him. I have to have somebody here who controls you. Because you know that in the beginning you need a controller and somebody has to tell you.

It may look dictatorial in the beginning but that's how it works. Gradually when you grow, you form your Ashrams but you have to keep the decency.

Indians are very difficult for ashram life. Is practically impossible I think. It is going to be very difficult for us to have an ashram for Indians. Because they have never lived without their parents, without their family, without everything. But in any Indian family they have an upbringing while they live there, is very surprising.

See in My husband’s family we have got about a hundred people or two hundred or three and they become so alert when we are all gathered together, I mean they all go and analyze, My husband is out and everybody is out, I mean even if it's the fourth or fifth cousin they live together that's Indian style of life, I mean togetherness is like that and all of them eat together, live together but there is one head of the family. He has to sacrifice also quite a lot for the family, but there is only one head of the family and his wife is the other side of it, or somebody who is maybe [coughs] of the family, but there is only one head in the family and everyone has to obey.

Now there are systems and systems accordingly, we must accept the seniority of people in Sahaja Yoga.

Like, see now we have here Rahul Bai who is a very senior person. In India people accept seniority. We have Modi who is very senior, so if Modi says something, that goes, people respect him and obey. You see, it must come obedience and all those things come because the authority flows from Me to all of them, one by one. Unless and until you do like that, there is no other way out for us to be governed in the kingdom of God.

We are individuals, absolute individuals, great individuals, but the connection has to be properly understood. This is very important how to respect. Now first of all, I would ask Rahul Bai also to speak to you first of all. How to respect Me. Is very important to begin with. Then how to respect the persons who are in charge to begin with. Because it's not a question of giving up your freedom but to give up your ego.

It's ego to be given up. It the ego that says “No, why should I listen to him. Why should he say to me." Is the ego, nothing else but the ego. And try to understand that the more you love and work in harmony, always in any organization, where one person becomes the head, it works out.

Every state has one person. Now if the person is not benevolent or if he's cruel, he can ruin the whole thing. But you have got your Mother sitting on top of all of them. You understand that now. You have to love each other and respect each other. The elders have to sacrifice for the younger ones no doubt they have to, that doesn't mean the younger people should laze out and should find out all means of labour saving devices, the complaining nature is called as murmuring souls in the bible and that's the worst thing. If your mind is in anyway complaining about anything tell it to shut up. Must ask your mind to shut up immediately, because in Sahaja Yoga there should be no complaints.

Now try to understand it this way. We've got our realisation for no payment. We have entered into the kingdom of God for no payment. We are there to do God's work. He is going to look after us. He is going to give us joy and happiness. He is going to shower all the flowers, the choicest flowers upon us and our life is going to be fragrant and we are going to be very happy people together all of us.

But we must learn the matters of respect. In the west people don't know respect. This is what we have discovered. I have discovered as Mrs. C.P. Srivastava also they have no method of respect. They will respect you if it is a protocol or some sort of written down law that if some if a king visits India or if a king visits England then the Queen must go and see, it's all written down things but there's no respect, no sense of respect, no sense of respect, very little.

While in India, because of traditions and because of upbringing people have an innate sense of respect.

Now you have seen anybody in India, maybe anybody, but when he sees Me he touches My feet, anybody.

Yesterday you saw when I was with one Indian he came and touched My feet. To them even to say “Namaste" is too much, they touch My feet. In the crowds you saw, anywhere you go in India, I mean I have seen that even the president of India stands up for Me, he won't sit down, I have to force him to sit down. I am an Indian national... anyone like that will respect unless and until they are westernized, when they are westernized they think there should be no respect.

This is not individualism. People think if you do not respect others then you have been very individualist.

You have to respect elders, those who are elder by age, you must serve them. They sacrificed for you, it's very mutual.

Here the parents have to do a lot for their children and the children have to do a lot for their parents.

But if the parents do not do anything for the children they are not willing to sustain or give them complete love, then the children also become very irreverent and very, I should say, they don't know, they don't know what they are doing. They start saying what's wrong and all sorts of things they start. They are no more children. They start giving instructions to their parents. Here it is very funny, you get your instructions from your children, is never done in India. If your parents are old it is for God to decide, you don't go giving them instructions.

There are many parents in this country, who because of these kind of complications, have gone to the left or right side too much. They are horrid. No use quarreling with them or fighting with them. Leave them to God. Because you see they are hard boiled people no use spoiling your relations with them, just tell them alright, it's alright and you'll be surprised, gradually you can bring them around by telling your friends here “why don't you give a bandhan to my father?", shoe beating, everything can be done by others and that is how you are going to help each other, actually what you need is the help of each other, it's very important.

Now your left Nābhīs are catching, that means you are very speedy people, you are extremely speedy, you have to put down your speed and some of you are lethargic, that's an extreme. Two extreme work out, somebody is lethargic, somebody has to be speedy, so, some balance must be brought.

First of all the speediness must be brought under control by meditating more on My photograph, it will settle down the speed of it. Sit down before the photograph, not in a hurry but in a settled way, just take it easy, there is no need to speed up or do anything speedily.

There is one person you have to impress and please, is Me and I am the most pleased personality.

You don't have to hurry up, say something is not done, “Mother is coming, let's do this then." Is no need.

There is no need to speed up at all, in anything what so ever.

Keep yourself calm, try to calm down yourself. Try to tell yourselves that speediness is not good, it causes cancer, it causes horrible diseases.

So, this left Nābhī worried Me too much, throughout the whole time I was inside I was working on your left Nābhī. I am tired.

For left Nābhī you have to know the mantra that is to be said. It is Gṛuhalakṣhmī, but that shows that you also should understand that you must respect the Gṛuhalakṣhmī and the Gṛuhalakṣhmī also has to be respected. There is a Sanskrit saying [in `Manusmriti'] “Yatra narya[stu] pujyante tatra ramante Devatā." That where the women are respected and respectable, there resides the abode of [UNCLEAR] there resides the Gods, Devatā, all the Gods are Devatā, deities. They reside where the women are respected and are respectable.

So the women have to be respectable, for that one thing is definite. It is that dominating nature, if they are chatter boxes then they will never be respected. If they are selfish and conceited they will never be respected.

They have to be very much giving, dignified, sweet, good and [coughs] see, women have to be left-sided more than right-sided, if they are right-sided then there is a problem they are neither men nor woman.

I am going to talk about this more in My next lecture, but for you Sahaja Yogis I have to tell you that women have to be women, out and out.

Sahaja Yogini's should take to dressing that is more womanish. They should not dress up like men at all. Men should have that dignity of men, they should walk like men, they should change there ways, see some people make lots of gestures like women do and all that. All that should be given up, they should try to become men. Dress up like men, dress up like men, live like men and woman should be woman.

So gradually you will find, once you become absolutely what you are, you will be beautiful people. This differentiation must take place. This is also a problem at left Nābhī, is that you have not decided about your sex. Whether you want to be a man or a woman, this is a problem.

So man has to be a man and woman has to be a woman.

Now as I have told you in yesterday's lecture, that a wife should not dictate to the husband. There is also the head, is the man, head, not the heart and the head depends on the heart. If the heart stops, the head goes off.

So it is a mutual dependence. But people see the manifestation of the head, not of the heart. This is a very powerful personality, she is potent inside, but she is kind, she is loving, she is giving.

There is no need to compete with men. They can never compete with woman. I can tell you, if you are really woman, in sweetness, in greatness in visionary you see you can do a lot [coughs] and Sahaja Yogini's can show such great dimensions to man. That they could aspire to achieve that.

But you have to develop your womanhood within yourself, of being a little more on the shy side, or we can say which are receding, that's a receding type of thing. See I am your Mother, I am very dynamic otherwise, but you see how I behave, I am very receding type, before My husband or before other men who are not Sahaja Yogis, I just don't say anything, they don't know what I am. It's a trick I know. But you should also understand that other men or other people should find you to be very sweet, good woman, not interested in nonsensical things, but dignified.

And then the men have a great responsibility also they must respect only such women. Actually, the mistake lies with men much more than with women.

To begin with I find that men respected first of all women who were frivolous, it's their mistake, I will not blame woman for that. When we went to Bombay [Mumbai] in 1953 or 54, at that time all the girls who were educated were of My age, quite young. Where we used to meet at parties this and that and we were simple, very simple. We used to dress up in an very simple manner, never tried to put up any pretensions, no funny dresses, nothing. They never took to smoking, drinking or anything. For about three or four years. I found very good relationships with the husbands wives.

And one girl cadet came from England, lady, so-called and she was a big flirt. She used to smoke and dominate people and like she would take the floor first, she would talk and talk and jabber all the time.

The job of a woman is to listen and say one sentence, that's sufficient. Her one sentence should be equal to the hundred sentences of men.

So wise it should be. I mean women formerly have done all these sayings that we have. Like a stitch in time saves nine sort of thing. These have come all from women, never from men. And that shows that women were so wise, that they used to teach the right conclusion and the right point, to say the right thing. And it had to a meaning. All the time those who jabber they were never respected.

So I was telling you about this...

[Aside:] What did I say?... [murmuring... from audience a prompt about the woman who came from England].

... this woman who came from England she started smoking and drinking and flirting and talking to men in such an equal manner. And all the men liked her, they started turning to her and everybody used to try to be nice to her and be good to her and something. God knows what happened to her. She managed them very well. And they liked the women who flirted and this and that.

So all the woman said why should we sit, we are no less than her. We are equally educated. They also started, you see, wearing funny dresses. She used to come in a very funny dress. They also went and bought funny dresses. She used to wear like men. They also started wearing like men dresses. Within ten years I found most of them were finished. They were just like that. Because it is the men who make the women as well as their attitudes are concerned. The men run after prostitutes the women become prostitutes. I would not blame woman here her. You see they do not have their own spine, the woman to decide. They take decision after the husbands, always so it is the husbands who make them like that.

If a husband wants, the woman should dress up like this, she will try to please him. In the sense that she doesn't have her own spine is not a bad thing, means she doesn't have her own assertion in the beginning.

But when you start doing too much like this and she says “Yes alright to please you I'll become a prostitute" and she gives all that is prostitution with that.

And she knows her powers and the woman has been blessed by God. Because in case she has nothing in this world, she can earn her living. She can live without men. The man becomes useless after 60 years or so but the woman is alright until she dies.

So if woman takes to nonsense she can go to any extent. One has to respect her wisdom and her qualities. Otherwise the society goes to dogs. Because she can do whatever she likes. Once she becomes a shameless woman. Once the shine in her is disappeared she can do what she likes. She'll dress like she likes, she'll talk like what she wants, live like she wants. Who's going to look after the society.

So it is necessary for Sahaja Yoginis, is to understand their responsibilities. They have to take to methods of women. See like looking they must learn, must learn how to please people who come in the house. Talk to them nicely, look after them, if they need anything.

And the men have to see the outside thing more. That doesn't mean the women should not go, they should go.

And these women who are womanly only are appreciated. Any women are good organizers because they are womanly, if they become manly they can never organize. Because men can organize as men. But women have to organize as women.

So this is also very important, which is a very important point in this country and other countries of this kind, where the women are getting liberated. I don't know if they know what they want. Cannot be happy without men. Men cannot be happy without women. There will be nonsensical things going on, it's all perversion, this nonsense. But that's nothing, these are adjustments ad-hoc on day to day basis.

There is no joy giving. The main thing is that you must behave like a woman.

It's nice to be a woman to dress up like a women, seem to be fond of children like a woman. Sweet like a women. It's very nice to be like that. And men should be like men you see and now if women do not become like women, then what happens, the Nābhī Chakra goes out then the sense that they are responsible.

So the men also get very bad Nābhīs. They became speedy. The woman will determine the speed of the man. If the women are speedy, what will happen to men. The speedometer is speedy, what will happen to the man.

You see normally in a developing country, the men are like, they'll say “Oh you are getting very late, come along now." Two hours before time they'll reach the airport. And the women take their time to get ready, dress up, this that. She says “wait for a while I'm just getting ready, "“Oh take too much time” the men will all the time be saying woman will remain woman and men will remain men.

A very nice sweet little song, “Bindiya chamkegi, churi chankegi" the wife is teasing the husband. He says that when you sleep your bangles make a tingling sound.

Then this thing, when it is rubbed against my shirt or something it makes a red mark. Or when you...

So she said the bangles will have to make a tingling sound. This thing has to shine. And you are [to] treat me as a woman. I cannot be a man. And she teases him. She says I cannot be like you, without any sound around you and nothing. I have to be like that.

You should learn that song, you'll like it. It's very nicely sung, I liked it very much. Little naughty girl, married and she teases her husband. That now you don't tell me that. I am a woman with a man.

And the women never hurries up. See they may have a watch, just for a decoration. They have such little, little watches, the husband will be there “What are you doing? Why don't you get out it's very late? Why don't you get ready?" Like that, the man shouting at the woman. The woman says alright I'm just coming, just coming. But if the woman is the other way. “What you haven't got a [UNCLEAR] we have to go." Finished. Either the husband becomes a woman or there is a big clash. It's only possible when we remain what we are.

You see this is what is called as Swabhava `Swa' is self and `bhava' is the expression and manifestation.

Like a mango remains mango. Whether it goes to Australia or to America. If you put a mango, plant a mango tree, you will get mango out of it. You don't get peach.

But in human beings we have got freedom. We are born as women and we want to become men. Why? Why did you take birth as a woman. Then what happens, you become unisex. Unisex means no sex at all. You come impotent, become horrid people. I mean all the sweetness of life is gone.

As it is God has not made one person like another person.

So many people in this world. Even one leaf is not like another leaf. Just to create beautiful variety, so that you enjoy life. But here we are we are spoiling all his beautiful plans for us. By doing all these nonsensical things. Let us be one with Him.

And let us not assert ourselves and try to think of our ego or these things. Just be one with Him. In complete surrender.

This surrender [coughs] that's the source of real joy and happiness. Nothing you have to loose. You just loose you horrible ego, or your superego. And that's what one has to learn, that you do not surrender anything but your ego. That's the sacrifice you make. You do not sacrifice anything, that's very important, as your spirit is your spirit takes over.

And the spirit of a woman and the spirit of a man is just the same. But manifested through a, say there's a lamp which has a blue colour and a lamp which has a red colour.

So the colour is different. You'll have to have two colours. How can you do with one colour only at least minimum two colours there should be there. Isn't it, that why the permutations and combinations took place with these three Guṇas, that are within us. And all sorts of human beings were created.

Now if you have any questions you ask Me. I will make some rules and regulations for Ashram,! Hope you'll obey them. Very important, without any rules and regulations one doesn't profit. Abandonment should not be there. Then later on these rules and regulations will be a norm and I'll give you a very sweet example.

You see in India the custom is everybody touches My feet. Anybody. They know what it means touching My feet.

So hundred times if they get the chance they'll do it. Mr. Modi wrote down all the rules and regulations and there was nobody should touch Mātājī's feet unless and until she calls for it. All sorts of rules and regulations he read and then he put that reading to one side and touched My feet.

We went to Rahuri and they were touching My feet, 5,000 of them. My feet got swollen up and so at the Pūjā he said, Dhumal said that nobody is going to touch Mātājī's feet... [UNCLEAR unasked...

unannounced] and he touched My feet.

So everybody was very angry with him. They said you very nicely touched and you don't want us to touch. [Laughs.] Is very sweet, watched it, is said because your Mother should not be troubled.

I told you the other day [UNCLEAR] vibrations.....

If you don't hear Me this time please tell Me. I am sorry for being late for this lecture, but Doctor Warren had time to explain to you about this experience.

Sometimes it is easier to understand this from a person who has achieved it, than to understand from a person who is talking from some tenth story.

That's what My father told Me, that if somebody's born on the tenth story and the rest of them are on the first floor, if you start telling them from there they will first of all not listen, nor will they understand what you see.

It's not proper, that we should try to tell them something from a level, to a level, which is still there static, in their mind.

So one has to, raise their, consciousness, two three stories so they start seeing that there's something beyond.

But, in doing so, so many mistakes, have been there, before and some people have done it deliberately, some are misguided and some are doing it deliberately.

Net result is just the same. Even if you give poison to someone by mistake, or in a misguided way, the result is the same.

In the same way, whether you are misguided, or whether you do it deliberately, whatever is wrong has an effect on the Kuṇḍalinī.

Now the Aquarian Age, is the word I picked up from Doctor Warren, which is so true today. Aquarian means the water carrier and in Sanskrit language it is called as kumbha. Kumbha is the one what we call the Kuṇḍalinī, the Mūlādhāra is the kumbha, where the Kuṇḍalinī is there, the power of Kuṇḍalinī is there.

So to call it an Aquarian age was to be some work of some realised Soul who could see that, in this age the Kuṇḍalinī is going to be awakened and that, an age will start of people getting their Kuṇḍalinī awakened.

Now I have already talked to you the other day about this second center, which is called as Swādhiṣhṭhāna, which gives us our sustenance and also our power to create.

The sustenance is created inside, that green part, which is, represented by main ten Primordial Masters and these ten Primordial Masters had another series of masters who were called as, Disciple Principles.

Now about these people I have talked to you last time, but today I would like to speak to you about other centers, specially this Nābhī, which is the navel center which is very important in human beings.

This is the center by which we seek. When in amoeba stage we seek food, at a higher level we start seeking heights, like when they became mammoth and all these animals they wanted to have a height, to go over the trees to be able to master them and to eat the leaves, but they became so much outsized with their height, that they had to become smaller animals, like say intelligent animals, and, like say cats and things like that, cat family.

And this is how the evolution has been brought forth through our seeking as amoeba, then as animals and now as human beings. As we have evolved higher and higher, we have become subtler and subtler in our seeking.

For example the people who are seeking say power, are not so evolved as people who are seeking their spirit, no doubt about it. Because you have gone through that, you have had enough of it. Maybe last lives you might have been kings and queens and you must have seen all the jokes of it, so you said now, had enough of it, this power business, we don't want to have anymore, such a headache we don't want to have.

The people who are seeking money also, are the people who have had enough of it and they were fed up of it so they said now we have had it.

So now you are seekers of something beyond. It has been always so, something beyond we seek, but this seeking beyond is not described to so many people and they are not able to understand what is the beyond, that's why this center is very important, of your evolutionary process.

Now, first of all as I have told you that we have to be in balance, that's one thing we must have is the balance in life. I mean in commonsense also we can see, supposing there's a car going only on one wheel, how many would like to travel by that.

Anything that you do in life has to have a balance, otherwise, anything, even catching something, holding something or small, small things, even riding a bicycle you know that you have to have a balance.

So if the Kuṇḍalinī has to move, you have to be a balanced personality, a personality with a temperate nature and must have a balanced attitude towards life. That is very important, but in case it is [UNCLEAR].

... it is not, you can be sucked into the central path of the Suṣhumnā, in the central path of your evolution.

Now the evolution takes place by remaining in the central path. Those who go to the extremes fall out of this. Now the virus that we suffer from very commonly, is nothing but a kind of a vegetable which is fallen out of evolution. Now the vegetable that we call as tobacco, is going to fall out of complete evolution and you'll be surprised after some years you will not find any tobacco growing anywhere because it will go out of evolution, thanks to human beings that they misunderstood the role of tobacco. Tobacco is an insecticide, is to be used for killing the insects and not to kill yourself. But, we sometimes forget, that whatever God has created for the good, sometimes we can use it for our destruction.

Same is alcohol. Alcohol was created for polishing, it's very good, for example if you have to polish your crystal, you should use gin is very good, for diamonds or anything. Is just a polish, it's a polish for the, for anything, it gives a polish. You see alcohol is a polish and its composition is such that it gives a polish to a thing.

Now God wanted you to have polished surfaces and polished things and all the clean look of it so He gave you this polish. Now you started drinking it, now what to do. He never asked you to drink, but if you drink that, then it polishes your intestines also.

But it has its own nature. It doesn't have any idea of morality, poor thing what, we can't blame the alcohol, because it is supposed to polish, wherever you put it, it polishes, all right? So it polishes your liver also nicely.

And when the liver is nicely polished then what happens that the heat from the liver, which is for the expulsion from the body, it has to pass into the bloodstream, cannot because there's a, barrier and because of that barrier poor liver does not know what to do.

It just goes on accumulating all the heat within it and that's how your liver goes out of circulation of anything and you have liver problems and you feel very giddy, nauseated and liver is the one which really cleanses your attention.

Whatever you gather from your attention it cleanses.

So you become horrid I mean you are all the time angry, hot-tempered, you bark at people all the time, all that thing is typically liverish you see.

We grow tall, like that absolutely straight line and you become very hot-tempered.

Sometimes you could be hawk-like you know, people will be afraid of going nearer such a person, because such a person can be very dry personality and that's why you'll find, drunkard people if you they're over-drunk you go near them they'll just beat you for nothing at all.

I mean it sometimes happens that by chance if you go and ask some drunkard that: “What's the time?" in the night you will have it.

So, because it spoils your awareness and in that awareness a nice man also could be like that, but of course there could be a case where a person might become better.

That is also another thing that can happen when you get possessed by this left side movement because alcohol reduces your awareness and you go to the left side, movement to the left side, may give you, a feeling `Oh I'm very much better now' and sort of you get happy because your ego is subsided and everything is alright and `I'm really morbid now, I cannot hit anyone and let me have little bit and sleep off.' But next day there's a hangover and you feel so horrible with it, that you don't know what to do, I mean it's something, then again you want to have it in the night because you want to again go to the same realm into the left side.

Now this left side realm, apparently shows that there is reduction in the weight of the ego, but it does not, it wobbles. What happens that you go to the superego on the left hand side you see there and the ego then thinks that it has gone down because the superego increases in size. But when superego increases, the ego is pushed down and then when you come to your ego condition, then it pushes down so there's a big wobbling going on and such people get ultimately very much confused.

They might end up in a lunatic asylum I don't know what they do, but, when they are even sane you can find they lose the grip over life, for example such people can become very frivolous and cannot feel the joy of life without drinking. It's most amazing that people can't enjoy each other unless and until there's a glass in between.

I mean human beings are so beautiful and they have the capacity to enjoy each other, so much, they are the only ones who are blessed more than anybody else. But if there's a glass all the time in between then they can just bark at each other, they cannot enjoy each other. The enjoyment should be complete when there's nothing in between.

Now this is what I was telling you, this Nābhī Chakra. This Nābhī Chakra gets ruined also when we take to alcohols or serious things like that, drugs and, even I've seen certain medicines can spoil this. Then you get a problem with the other things like digestion, you get constipation, all sorts of things take place, by which you develop gas troubles and other troubles and then your heart troubles and it goes on one after another. I do not say that it's only alcohol that will cause. There are other causes also, but alcohol can never be helpful, in giving you good health.

Some people have a feeling that if you take alcohol then only you will keep good health. Is a wrong thing. Because health is not only physical health. It's also mental health. People think that physical health is the end of everything, is absolutely wrong because we are not only the physical being. We are also the mental being and the emotional being. And when you play too much with your Nābhī Chakra you have the biggest problem and that is that you can never be successful in life as far as enjoyment is concerned, of your achievements.

For example a person becomes rich, unduly rich he becomes, is a blessing I should say of Nābhī Chakra on the right hand side. Right hand side Nābhī Chakra can give you a lot of wealth, a lot of money and you'll have ten cars and fifteen people attending to you, everything you may have but, it cannot, it cannot give you the satisfaction of life. You will go on accumulating and end up with a suicide or something like that and you would not know why you are bent upon committing suicide.

That's why in all affluent countries you find people are planning to commit suicide and the more affluent they are the worse it is. But the left side gets completely dried.

Now the left side is the center of the family life, the Gṛuhalakṣhmī, the Goddess of the family, the household you see. A person who runs after money too much, forgets his family. He has no time for his family. The husband and wife may meet somewhere on the airport or may just wave at each other sometimes you see, crossing each other, or the children suffer the most.

And in that case the women also then take up with the men, they compete what's wrong, they start copying men and in so doing so, when they compete with each other, then what happens, that this family life gets disturbed. The woman of the household is dissatisfied, her ego is not satisfied.

In olden times the man used to go in the jungle and get all the wood cut, bring it home and give it to the wife and wife used to cook. There was no problem because there was barter system. He could see her working in the household.

Now the husband earns the money and the woman spends. I mean that also requires some work, isn't it to spend the money. But to man it looks like, that I'm the earning member and she's the spender.

So she said all right, I will also earn. But in this too much of competition, too much of competition like this, between the two, what happens, the family suffers, the children suffer and such a person will have problem with the wife, the wife will have problem with the husband and you can always feel that center on this finger, if that finger is catching, that means there's something wrong with your family relationship, that you have to adjust yourself, or he has to adjust. It's an important thing. Because you are like the flowers which have to produce a fruit. That's what nature wants. Nature wants that you are there to produce the fruit, that is your children. That's why you are men and women. That's the basics.

Now, if you think that with that responsibility if you can do something else you should do. But the main thing is that and if you don't do that, is to look after your children, to give them joy, have a beautiful nest for them, then I must say that you are neglecting your basic duty and your attention is on something else.

That's why so many divorces are taking place and problems are there, the women ask for their rights, they go beyond their limits, they became dominating here, the men become dominating. That's not the way we are going to solve it.

We have to know that we are two wheels, two wheels of one chariot, one on the left, another in the right. Now they are not similar, they're not similar they are two types one left side one right side. But they are equal. In their, whatever they do it's equal, they are to be respected equally in the same manner.

And it is always so for example, I had a girl who came to Me and she was a private secretary and she told Me: “Mother you say this, but I've seen that all these men come and flirt with their private secretaries." So I said: “All right, maybe so, but what does that matter." You see that shows that's something wrong with the man, he doesn't understand, he's off his head, he cannot enjoy his wife and he's running after other things. It's like having something in your house and you are looking at other things you see. Like in India if you go to some, somebody comes to your house be careful about your things, but in England I tell them, if somebody comes to your house be careful about your wife, see. Is just a little difference between, but the second one is a dangerous thing because fundamental, the wife is the fundamental thing, because you do not know what she will do, how she will react and you do not know how the guests because that is regarded as their freedom.

But if you take away something from somebody's house that's not freedom, because: “We can take away anything from somebody's house, why should anybody arrest us?" Because there is a free will for you to do what you like, is allowed to do what you like, but in that free will you are harming so many people and ultimately your society.

Now these two wheels, as I said, are very important to God, because so many great people want to take birth on this earth.

So many great souls want to take birth on this earth and if we behave in such a manner, that all the time this chariot is this way going up and that way going up, I can tell you no child would be willing to be born in this place who are great people. Only the people who are of the worst type will be born, they'll be hooligans, they'll be horrible people with a horrid nature and they'll spoil the whole atmosphere of the countries where husband wife have, do not have good relationship. The children will be such hooligans and such horrible things that you'll be surprised that at the age of eight years and five years they'll be committing murders and doing all kinds of such thing that you'll be shocked.

Now between you and Me, because you are also husbands and wife and, one thing it should be there that we should not quarrel before our children. We should have all decency of husband and wife, there are so many things we do not do in the presence of our children. In the same way we need not sit down and quarrel and say: `I hate you and I hate you.' I tell you this is something you have to change little bit in our language. In India if somebody says: “I hate you" it's regarded, that man regarded as a most unmannerly person. I mean it's very bad manners to say “I hate you" how, I mean it shows that you are very low type of person to say like that. But “I hate you" so what. If you hate so what, you are not God. If you hate Me what does it matter, actually, if somebody hates someone, so what. That shows that person is not a good person, just to hate someone.

“I hate you" is a way of expressing something that is I feel, is very wrong for the family system. It shocks children. Children look upon you as ideals.

When they are born you should see them, most of the children nowadays in Australia are born realised, I see them around when I went to the airport and I see they're born realised. And they watch you and they're surprised and they sulk and they feel very sad. They don't like, they don't take sides, they don't like the father to fight the mother, the mother to fight.

And one other thing which you must understand, that a certain gradation has to be there. A woman is the strongest point of the household. Like this Mother Earth is. She takes all the problems upon Herself.

She, because She's the strongest. Who else can withstand this kind of weight on Her? It's the Mother only can do that. In the same way a woman in the house is the mother and she has to bear up. You see it's nice to have a husband who comes home and says whatever he likes and takes out all the filth on you, than to have a husband who is very sweet, hello, hello and outside he goes like a bumptious tiger on everyone.

Such a man is, has to be, he has to, you see they're like children I would say, they are like children.

They have to take out their tensions on their wives only and you should be an absorber of that and that's the sign of a woman. A strong woman doesn't get easily disturbed by these things. She's not bothered.

She says all right, you little baby come along, now I have had four babies, now this is the fifth one which is the smallest has come.

Let him shout and scream, even with the children, you have to be patient, they'll hit you, they'll do anything. I would say that way in India, children are treated very kindly and they are special things. They will do what they like when they are children, but when they grow up we do not have teenage problem, we do not have problem where the children don't respect.

In that, this is very important aspect of our modern life that we have to understand, what is the relationship of husband and wife is. Husband is like say, a gentleman who is definitely is to be respected by the wife. But if she does not respect the husband she cannot get respect from her children. But the husband has to be a respectable man, that's very important.

If the man is not respectable, he cannot be respected easily. But the more is the woman has to be very respectable, if she doesn't give her respect, you can handle any kind of man if you are clever enough, drunkards, all sorts, they come round.

Because after all they're human beings, they're not bad people. But because of mishandling they just get out and the domination of men is just a myth. See, they cannot dominate, they're incapable of domination. They just do it because they want to feel that they are superior, that's all. But they cannot dominate. Whatever domination, what is their domination? Is little little things here and there. Just like children, that's what it is.

If women understand their maturity and their responsibility as women, because they are the Shakti, they are the power of the family and they are the potent Shakti for the husband as well as for the children, but if they get disturbed then the husband is disturbed and children are also disturbed. But they are potent, while the kinetics are these people. Like here is the electricity, all right, so we say very good, lamp and electricity and all that, but from where does it come. The source is somewhere quietly sending the source and enjoying itself by giving that source.

In the same way this is a very important center. Why I said it because today I went to Melbourne and all the time this finger was burning up to this point.

So that means there's something wrong with men and women as far as their family life is concerned. They're all very upset I felt. The husband is upset and the women.

Maybe the laws maybe against men, maybe here I don't know. But in America I found a husband and wife relationship is very queer. For example I met a lady, very queer people they are. I went and stayed with a lady she had a luxurious house with a swimming pool and this and a maid in coming to do everything up and five stories and this and she said: “You see my, one of my former husbands will come and see you in Los Angeles." I said: “All right very good idea." So he came, he was like a pauper you know walking like this and he says: “I have got a room on rents where I'm staying Mother, it's very difficult, I have to share it with someone." I said: “What? That lady who was there, she has a very big house, she's supposed to be your wife." He said: “That's mine, I tell you, I lost it to her in a case." I said: “How could you lose that in a case?" “Because she asked for a divorce and because she found guilty out of me something some, so she got it." And she married three husbands, all the three husbands are moving like paupers and this lady's very rich.

If you marry seven husbands, seven husbands are finished forever but the lady is so rich, seven times more than any one of them.

So this is kind of a law I don't understand. First of all why there should be a law, I don't understand, between husband and wife. I just don't understand. I mean we don't have such laws in India but everybody cares for the wife, because she is the nearest and the dearest person they have.

Who else to depend? If the woman is dedicated and devoted to husband, do you think he'll run after any other woman, he has to come back to her. You see he'll be so fed up with these women who just live for money or anything and he has to come back.

So you see one has to take a very wise decision, because you must understand you are born at a juncture, whether in, on which you will be destroyed completely, or you'll be saved completely. Is a very important thing. You have to save humanity. You are born at a time when you have to save humanity. It's not only Kuṇḍalinī awakening that will help, because you might be saved, but you have to save the whole society, the whole family, the whole, I should say the whole universe or the whole creation will have no meaning if you people are destroyed.

Now you, this is one of the way of destruction, by destroying the family. The children become mad, the husband becomes mad, they all end up in orphanages, that's what I've seen, they are mostly in orphanages in their old age, there's nobody to bother about you.

So it's a question of giving and giving and giving.

Now this Gṛuhalakṣhmī's center is on the left hand side and the another is Rājalakṣhmī center is on the right hand side. Now this center gives us the power to rule over people and we become very, in extremes you see we can become very arrogant and we can become very very, sort of authoritative and we might, sort of end up with a funeral with ten thousand people behind us, all bought from market and put there behind you without any feelings, that's all, finished. With such a man finished they'll say, oh thank God he died, he was a horrible terror for us.

So, that kind of a life can come with Rājalakṣhmī.

But in the center is the Lakṣhmī. Lakṣhmī is the Goddess, is the power within us, by which we balance, lead a very balanced life, by which we are satisfied.

Now they have made a beautiful picture of this Lakṣhmī also one should understand this power, is a Lady, is a Mother and She stands on a lotus. Now these are all symbols which suggest that these symbols are carved out with such deep significance. She stands on a lotus. Means imagine, who can stand on a lotus? And She's a very healthy woman, very healthy woman and She stands on a lotus. It means that, that She is never putting pressure on anyone.

A rich man comes in, he must honk his car, loudly, because he's rich so he thinks he must honk it higher and a rich man must go in a big limousine or some sort of a thing to show off that he's very rich.

If he comes to any program, or any he must sit in front, he should have the front seat and he makes him known everywhere everybody must feel the weight of the rich man.

He can run away with ten wives, of somebody and, he can have a big boat for himself and he can get any number of women there and he can spoil any families he likes because he's rich. This kind of thing comes in in people, but Lakṣhmī the One who has, stands on the lotus, is the beauty and the glory of the riches that God has given that person.

Then, it has got two red, pink flowers in the hand, that are lotus flowers again. Now the lotus is regarded as a very holy flower in India, because it is so receptive to everything that is crude and funny.

First of all it is born in the mud. Just think of it, in the mud, in the filth, where the horrible smell is coming out, the lotus is born. And the one lotus gives the fragrance, the beautiful fragrance to the whole atmosphere and kills all that's filth and everything and covers the whole pond with its big, big leaves so that it looks a beautiful pond. That's what is the lotus for. But this lotus is a pink lotus, means pink, you know is the sign of love. Pink is the sign of love.

So such a person has to have tremendous love and that softness of the lotus.

Now the inside of the lotus is very soft and nice and a, I don't know what do you call that, the bee, the black bee, a very big one which has got horrible, no, the black bee, it's like that, which has got angular legs and things like that, horrible, you cannot touch it. That one can find its place in the lotus. When it goes to the lotus, the lotus opens its petals and takes it inside and makes it sleep on the corona that it has, very soft one on the bed and covers it nicely and gives it a nice, you see, swinging feeling, that it feels it is in the lap of the mother and it sleeps off. Even such a animal, it gives a place to live. Now the man who is a Lakṣhmīpati the one who is blessed with Lakṣhmī, has to have a temperament like that. Anybody who comes to his house, anyone, should be very readily accepted. I've seen people like that, I've seen in My lifetime. Should be accepted and they should be very gratified to have such people in the house and should feel that oh God, what a blessing it is that we have a guest in the house. But in modern times, we find out devices and methods, how to avoid guests, guests are equal to pests.

I was in London, we were living on Surrey Hills and we had bungalows, separate bungalows, quite good bungalows I should say, there were seven bungalows. And poor husbands were taken to tasks for mowing the lawns and everything and the wife used to tell them now come along do it properly and the polishing of the brass, whatever was there and everything was done very well. But I didn't see even a rat enter those houses, even a rat, I mean leave alone human beings. Nothing entered those houses, only these two persons used to come out and go in. And I don't know they might be having some yearly, some sort of a get-together, maybe. But nobody, while My house was naturally, I am like this, so it was open all the time, people would come in and go out and this and that and I was just enjoying their company. And one day they asked Me, what's the matter in Your house, all the time people are coming and going and used to wonder what is it going on inside. I said nothing, just they come, have tea and go, that's all, just some talk together, some rapport of love.

But what is this, all the doors are closed, that way I must say Sydney people are very open hearted and they are, they like to be together, there is a togetherness in them. But with all this, if you cannot have togetherness, to enjoy your wealth with others, then what's the use of all the wealth. If you have wealth, you'll go for horse racing, that's also your own enjoyment. If you have wealth you will do something else which is so individualistic.

You cannot enjoy your wealth unless and until you share it. As I told you the other day that I am a capitalist in the sense I have all the powers within Myself. But, I cannot live without sharing it, so I am the greatest communist, because I just cannot enjoy, that's why I had to come all the way to Australia and today My husband was so insistent that I should come back soon, I said: “No, I have to meet all the Australians still and then I'll come." So unless and until you share this love after realisation, you do not enjoy. All isms drop out, because you become combination of both extremes and you just start enjoying yourself.

Now this lotus is in the hand and another hand that the Goddess has is like this. She has four hands and one hand like this. Now this hand that is like this means, you see with this we must give, we must give, we must be generous.

Miserly people cannot be the blessed ones, they cannot be. Miserly rich is the horridest thing that you could think of. Mean, if you see a miserly person, I mean, I don't know, I get a headache with a man like that, you see, who goes on counting each and every pi and measuring everything, you see miserly horrible things and ultimately when they die, their children take out all their money and just spend it over.

They have, miserly people have another way of getting their money looted. For example a thief might come in, if not thief then, their children will become very wayward or something will happen, they will get sick and they'll have hand brokens and feet broken or something and they will have to spend money.

So the miserly people are such a nuisance to the society. They give nothing to the society they are there for themselves and they are just malignant personalities. The people who give, not of course I don't believe into giving into somebody freely because that also can spoil people. If you give something to someone very freely, they can be completely spoilt and, they would not know how to use that money.

This is the trouble with human beings is, that they cannot bear anything. If you give them money, either they become miserly or they become wayward. If you give them power either they become dictatorial or they become destroyers. I mean, you cannot give anything to human beings without realisation. Anything they get extremes, they become mad. That's one word can explain.

Now Kṛiṣhṇa has said, “Yogakshemam vahāmyaham." He has said I give you Yoga, that is union with God, Self-realisation and then I look after your kshema and kshema means your well-being.

This well-being is brought forth with this Lakṣhmī, with one hand that is giving, the another is the protection. This hand which gives, should not, the other hand should not know. It should be so done so gracefully, graciously.

Today only I was telling the story to some people, about My Own father, who was a very generous man I've ever known. And he had a habit on a Sunday afternoon he used to go, he used to call all the people and say that I have to give away lots of things, I have too many things in the house. He'd take out all the blankets, sometimes all the utensils and sometimes food, anything that he felt like he used to give way.

So people would come and he would pass on and his head was bent like that and some people told him, what's the use, some people are taking three blankets, some are taking two blankets, you don't even see what's happening, you are just giving away, please at least raise your head.

So he said: “The problem is like this, because I don't give, it's God Who is giving, I'm just standing in between. And they all are saying that you are giving, you are giving, thank you, thank you, so I feel very shy, first of all. And secondly it is the lookout of God who is giving these things to see whether one gets two or one. Why should I bother. I'm just standing in between, I'm not supposed to see who takes two or one." Such generosity I've seen, in My Own lifetime. And I have seen, the more generous he was, the more generosity flew into Our house. I mean, that like if you open this door from the other side it starts flowing.

But some people have sixty shirts, but still they'll go to the market and buy shirts. And they'll say: “Oh I have a weakness for shirts." Now I don't understand this weakness of heaping up shirts after shirts.

It is ridiculous, isn't it.

Some of these things really are ridiculous, that I have a weakness for shoes, now you go and see the shoes are from top to bottom, you can open a shoe shop, or, it's like that, what's the use of getting so many shoes because your foot has got the same size for years now, it's not going to change, even after realisation.

So there is no need to, I mean if your shoes give way is all right but, I too have the same problem.

That I, My disciples know that they should give Me a shoe, I don't know why, they give Me a shoe, all the time I go there they give Me chappal or a shoe or something. I said now I've too many now what to do? They said: “Mother return it to us we'll keep it for vibrations." I said: “That's a good idea” because I have no place to keep all these shoes, I mean I am not a cobbler, I cannot do anything with it.

So it is useless. Best thing is to give flowers so that I can again send them back to some ocean or to some river.

So even in there, when we go on accumulating and I must have this, you go to the shop the people are like this like this, watching everything. What is there to watch. You see whatever you want to buy, you go in the shop, see what you like, you have it. But sort of I must have this, I must have that. I have known a person who had ten ironing boards and twenty iron in his house. All locked up. I said: “For whom?" So she said: “Maybe my children." I said: “You have only one child, God has been very miserly about you, you have only one child. And now what are you going to do with this? You'd better throw them away." And with the electrical I mean appliances you know they go off and all that. But she would not. She could not, she used [to] show [to] everyone: “See now I've got it." Not antiques, all modern stuff, you see. And this is how the things go on accumulating which has no value aesthetically or in any way.

Actually you should buy something only to give it to someone. That's the best way of enjoying it to the maximum, you see. And anybody likes it, have it. You see, that's the best way. It's a great thing, I mean I tell you it's rather difficult for you people to understand but I am One of them Who does that very often and My children and My husband are rather worried you know, God knows next time what She'll give away. But you'll be amazed I've so many things, so many things, despite all this, I mean the whole time thinking what to give to whom, still it's so many things in the house, now that we have to take a bigger house.

I don't know what to do with so many things and I try to thrust things on the people, Baba you take this you have liked it. But they say: “No no no how can you give me." But really that gives Me such a pleasure and one must learn how to do it. But I've have seen human beings are different. For themselves they'll buy diamonds and for others they'll buy artificial things. It's very common you know. They will buy for, they are wearing diamonds and when it is coming to giving to others they'll give artificial.

At least don't wear at that time the diamond, at least that much decency should be there.

So you see when it comes to giving, give it with your full heart. You just feel that love of giving and you feel so happy, because you feel so big about yourself, like an ocean that's giving so much of clouds and again it is receiving these rivers into it and again making it into clouds, a sort of a circle of beautiful conversion into beauty after beauty starts, it's so beautiful. And that's what we should try to become, a part of that circle, which is so beautiful and which is so joy giving, to yourself also. And this is what it is and this hand is for ashraya, means for the protection. You must protect the people who are your subordinates, who are dependent on you, your children. Like, it's a very common thing to insult your children from their childhood. Why did you spoil that carpet? Why did you do that? You should not have said this, why did you? This is a very wrong thing of discipline. Best discipline is to put dignity into children.

You see, a good home in India we'll say, is known by the way children are addressed in the family. Like, in a good family we address the children like sir. Little bit like that, ap, means sir. We never address the children with indignity and we put them on a dignified level. And it's a very nice thing.

I'll tell you about My own granddaughter, that, somebody was telling her one day that, there's a very, this boy and why don't you marry him. She said: “Why do you want to talk about marriage? I'm not yet grown at all to think about marriage and we have to be dignified about things, how can we think of marriage when we are not to think and my grandmother will marry me and I want to live, a dignified person." A little girl of seven years said this to this woman who was very, sort of pseudointellectual type and she tried to tease My granddaughter. She said: “It's not dignified." Just think of that. At the age of seven years they have their sense of dignity. If you tell them, you see they, you need not tell them don't spoil the carpet, but give them dignity they will never spoil it. You'll be surprised. Because we all the time cut them short, they become so bad. They want to, they think we are good for nothing, we don't know what to do, all the time they're telling us like this.

Or even if you have to tell them, tell about somebody else, like that boy, you know, he was absolutely useless, he didn't know what to do, he spoiled the whole carpet, I went to his house and slipped down.

The child immediately gets the thing.

But directly all the time hitting the child, you see gives him a personality which does not hold anything substantial within.

He might later on became a very arrogant person taking a cue from his parents and he may behave the same manner, but he would not be that dignity which just is silent and is expressing and manifesting. It should be a silent dignity which just manifests and when people see such a person, it happens, people see and say “Oh what a man, what a dignity." You see that's what and they become sort of ideals for society.

I think this correcting the children is not the way, it is not disciplining, but it is making them grow.

What we have to give to our children is the joy, is happiness of the family, is the complete security, a sense of complete security and you will see you'll never have teenage problems, never have teenage problem. You'll be surprised you put them anywhere, they'll be so dignified and so mature, that people will be amazed. You won't have to tell them. Even small little children I've seen, if you keep your house very clean and also always look after it, children themselves will keep it clean. They would like to do.

Because children are really the budding beauties.

When we cut them we cut them at the root. They expect so much from us you see, they lose all their dignity and I'll tell you try this with your children, give them dignity, you will be amazed how they behave.

We say they are spoilt, I've never see children being spoilt when they are dignified.

Like My own grandson is a realised Soul who's a very great person and all his friends are above twenty five years, you see he's just a five-six year old boy and he doesn't like to wear any dress which has got funny faces and all that He says: “This is like a clown, I'm not a clown, I don't want to wear." I found it very difficult in Singapore to buy a pant for him which didn't have any funny faces, because all of them had Mickey Mouse, this, that. And I've seen My grandchildren also, daughters, there these dolls with, you see this ducky what you call the duck sort of a face you see. They said: “What's wrong with these dolls, they should know how to put their lips. This is not good." I mean you see, they themselves know, that this is wrong. “She's going to go into Tantrums."

That's what they say. This duck is going to go into Tantrums that's why she is behaving like this, oh ho like that, you see they are great-grandmothers sometimes the way they do some things and the way they behave.

But we must give them real love and joy and happiness, that's the thing we can give to our children and you'll be amazed that this Australia is going to be blessed with children who are very great saints, very very great saints. I know that and you have to look after them with dignity. Very great saints are going to be born in this country, so I have to request to you, that forget your problems, husband-wife problem, is nothing. Look after your children, give them dignity, give them a nest where they could live, forget because I've seen in England I've seen in England even an eighty-year-old woman behaves like a bride I mean she doesn't get over her feeling that she was a bride.

Like one of the `Great Expectations' you must have read of Charles Dickens where there was a bride who was sitting all the time thinking she was a bride. I see that picture even today, all the time they are in bridal mood. You are a mother and you have to treat your children with that dignity and with that love that a mother should give. It is very difficult for some people to accept the position of a mother, they think “Why women should be the mothers?" I said this is the greatest thing, look at Me. Look at Me. This is the greatest thing to be the mother, to love everyone, that they depend on you for love and guidance, just for love.

Such a great thing to feel: `Oh God see how much I can give, how many cups I can fill,' it's such a great feeling, I wish you would know what a mother is. And the motherhood you have to learn from your children and grandchildren and expand it to the whole universe. It's such a great thing a woman has. In the same way the father has to do a lot of things about which I will tell you when we go to the other center.

I think I've talked at length on this center because all the time what I find these two centers are catching very much in Australia.

So we have to talk about the things that are catching on this and this. And today I saw there five six children with their both the fingers in, all realised children with those fingers they were sucking and they were showing Me again sucking like that.

So you can imagine how much it is and otherwise this one and this means that you have been going to some unauthorized personality. If you are going to some unauthorized personality this thumb will be caught up, that's why children put their things in their mouths and Freud has his own nonsensical theory, but actually it is the center that is catching with these born-realised children are showing you.

Now for today, I may not be able to cover other centers so much, but later on, what is the date we are having the program now? Next Monday Wednesday Friday, three days are there out of which I will cover all these centers and specially that of Christ I would like to speak, because I met some people, when I went to America I was telling the people there that you are to be born again, you are to be born again and you must have your realisation, so what I found whatever lecture I gave there were big big, much bigger than these you see, they had brought to tape all My speeches and the people who organized My program told Me that: “Mother you'd better get it patented or don't allow them to tape it." I said: “Why?" They said: “They will be publishing, these are all writers and this" I said: “Very good let them write." But some of them started an organization called `Born Again', imagine.

Now if I said you have to be, then you start an organization that we are already self-certificated. You see it's a thing one should understand you are to be born again. Now Christ has said that you will be born through Me. Is a fact. Where is Christ, is here. This is the gate, see the narrow gate and your Kuṇḍalinī has to pass through that.

Now in case it does not pass you have to say Lord's Prayer. You have to take the name of Christ and you have to adore Him, then only it passes through, shows that you have passed through Christ. You enter into the kingdom of God which is the, limbic area.

So it's a fact; when He said you have to pass through Me, He didn't mean that people who are self-certificated can say that: `All right this is Christ, this is Bible this is Christ,' as if Christ is somewhere lying there, you just have to turn a stone and you get Him there.

Christ is here. How do you approach Him is only through the Kuṇḍalinī awakening and it passes through Christ. This is the door. Now say, you are all Christians or maybe you are Jews or whatever it is, but in India for example they have a very antagonistic feelings towards Christianity.

Now even a Hindu, or a Muslim, if he denies he says all right I don't believe in Christ. He has to. I have to tell him that: “See, if you don't believe in Christ I cannot give you realisation. You have to ask for forgiveness and you have to request Christ, then only this will pass through." Now there may be Jews or Christians, any type, they have to know that all of them are here. For example there was a doctor who came from, Tehran to see Me, he had cancer and he came to see Me, he had this cancer of the stomach, so I told him that: “Do you believe that Mohammed Sahib was the same as Dattātreya or Nanaka?" He said: “No I don't even believe, when you say that He was Moses or Abraham." I said: “He was Moses, Abraham and they are very powerful personality. Unless and until you accept that He was Moses and Abraham, you are not going to get it." He said: “Ah, I cannot say that” because Jews and Muslims are like this. I said they both are the same they are very great personalities, you are just fighting for nothing at all. I know who is Moses and I know who is Abraham.

But he would not accept, for eight days, then his wife, you know she was wiser, she said you'd better get it, you are not well, you'll die, better get it, then they came. You see this is what happens, they are just compelled. He came: “All right Mother whatever you say I will accept." I said: “Not that, from your heart you have to say” and he was cured, for your information he was cured.

So do not have any extreme ideas, They are all in there and They are all One. Only we are fighting saying this is mine, that is mine.

So this is I have just hinted at this center because I think that's a very important center as I have discussed with the void, about all these Abraham, Moses and all the Old Testament, which is so important.

How and how Christ is the One Who stays there, Who crucified Himself, to make a path for us to pass through, why His crucifixion was necessary.

So I'll spend more time on that later on. I hope you'll make it convenient to come again and I hope you'll get a better hall, they are feeling very warm here.

[UNCLEAR May God bless you/Thank you very much].

Now, again we can have some questions if you want, for two minutes only. Not much because it goes on. Now some questions if you have. Because you see the questions now you ask I'll tell you one thing.

There are certain limitations because I have not talked about every Chakra and the whole thing, all right? So I've talked very little about the whole subject.

So you have to listen to the whole thing and then ask Me questions, is much better. But if you have any substantial thing you can ask Me and then I would like to give you realisation. That's very important.

Question: Mother I just want to know why, if alcohol is so bad for you, did Christ turn the water into wine?

Shri Mataji: Oh you see that's another big mistake. That time wine was not this kind of a wine.

You see people used to take wine which is grape juice. Even today if you go to Jerusalem, you get wine which is not fermented. It is prohibited, in the Bible if you read Moses or Abraham, to take these strong drinks, it is described very clearly but why Christ did not talk about alcohol, there's a difference between wine and alcohol, wine which is fermented and wine which is a real wine. You see otherwise He would have said fermented wine. And, that's a very common drink and I also enjoy it very much, grapes I love.

So ordinary grape juice was the wine but, about this alcohol He didn't talk much because you see now I am with you, I have to give you realisation so I'm talking about Kuṇḍalinī and realisation isn't it. Now Christ did not have to deal with Kuṇḍalinī at that time but He had to talk of eternal life so He talked about that and He showed with His Life that life is eternal by His Resurrection.

Now Abraham and Moses are, all these Primordial Masters are concerned with your attention and with your sustenance, so all of them, whether it was Mohammed or anyone, have talked against alcohol, you see. Whatever was their job was to look after the sustenance of the stomach and we can see clearly, that how can anybody who is of Christ's quality, give you wine to drink, which goes against your awareness.

Is impossible. But that's how it is. We do not, you see we mould everything according to our ideas but wine means ordinary wine. You go today even, if you ask for wine, even in Switzerland, you'll be surprised that ordinary grape juice is called as wine. Even the grape, that creeper is called as wine. The whole thing is called as wine here. Now there is no fermentation as far as wine is concerned, but this is what it was.

All right? Question: [UNCLEAR] what was there before them? Warren [repeats the question]:... in the Ādi Guru [UNCLEAR] Principle, before Moses, before Abraham, what was there before?

Shri Mataji: Very good question. Now you see, yes, yes, I would say...

Question: cont... and are there more to come, he said.

Shri Mataji: No that you forget, but about the past I will tell you something because, you see future you just open it because I want to put your attention to present. But still if you have asked the question is very good. That, you see, there are five dimensions in which this area remains within us also.

So the first is the Vaikuṇṭha area, is the stage where God just incarnated, that aspect of God just incarnated as, we can say the Viṣhṇu or that represents the sustenance. That Deity was. And that is at a, for example we know Christ's Birth on this Earth but how He was created in the Heavens we do not know.

So at this level also there are five dimensions into which these things happen and then ultimately He came to Earth.

All right? In the same way these things are projected, in the subtler level, at the Vaikuṇṭha stage and all that.

So all this is there and I think in one of My lectures on Creation I have described all these things.

I hope you'll get those lectures from England and you'll be able to listen to them, in which all these things I have described, quite a lot.

What question, is there? Person: You are... behind them, Mother.

Shri Mataji: Thank you. You are such a nice, loving son of Mine.

What question... is there? Question: Do you have to give up your own religion if you become a Sahaja Yogi?

Shri Mataji: Now, this is a question which is your own. Wherever you are born becomes your own religion. It's a misidentification. Supposing you are born a Hindu you become a Hindu. If you are born a Christian you become a Christian. If you are born a Muslim you become a Muslim. Now what is your religion? Say you are a Christian, Christ is very much there but in all His dimensions and you see all His relations with others. You cannot have just Christ isolated as: `My own.' Is wrong. This is a myth. You get over this.

Supposing you have a stomach trouble, you'll have to go to Moses, you have to become a Jew, or you have to become a Muslim. Now supposing you have a problem, you have a headache, you think too much, you have to become a Christian. Now, if you have a problem with your neck, which most of you have here, especially here, is to feeling guilty business, there's a Deity for that is called as Viṣhṇumāyā, you have to ask Her to help you.

Then if you haven't got the witness power properly exhibited then you have become Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, you have to go to Him.

And if your father has died or something is possessed you, you have to go to Rāma. It's like that.

So how can you, they are all within you, so how can you become only one. You have so many things within you, in the same way the Primordial Being is not just Rock of Gibraltar. These are different aspects of God which are expressed in One Personality. There's only One God but Who manifests, through many aspects this must be understood. About this also if I have time I will tell you how the God and His Power separated and how His Power created those manifestations of His aspect. Like we are a human being but we have a nose, we have eyes, we have a head, we have everything. Are we just like a rock? Even a rock is not the rock because it has divisions. Even this staircase if you see it has it's fibres and things, you can see.

So nothing is like a solid stuff. You see our idea about God is a solid stuff, He's Christ and He is our own. No. He is the aspect that is the Son. He is the Son of God. And there is God. And there is the Holy Ghost.

Already as Christians also you know, as Jews also you know, that Jehovah is there, Moses is there, Abraham is there. But the problem with all these is this, that all those people who were born in these Arabic countries had no chance to express themselves so clearly. Nobody was there willing to listen. Now see Mohammed Sahib, or say Abraham and Moses, they were all the time running away, running away, they are on the run, all the time on the run. There was no time like a Maccabean Hall where one could talk. Imagine what a life poor Moses had to face, Abraham had to face, just think of that. How could they tell all these things about.

So the knowledge that what, just see now the run. You are just telling people: `Now don't do this and don't do that,' that's all.

But today the time is such that you can see the whole, the whole picture, because the whole picture is there, you can see.

So you should not have a narrow vision, but see them in a bigger vision. You make them narrower by your own narrow vision.

There's nothing like your religion. There's only one religion and that is God's religion which is within you, which you transcend. When this religion gets enlightened you transcend. For example I have no temptations at all. I don't know what is a temptation. I don't know what is vanity. I try, you know sometimes to put up a show: “Now let Me be vain now how do I become. What muscles should I teach?" But I cannot do it. I haven't got that kind of a machinery inside, you see, you just become beyond this. Then you don't need religion because you become religion. Don't have to tell you anything. It just happens. It just happens, you become that.

And `my religion', whatever we think of, if you really believe in it then try to bring as many as possible who belong to that.

There are so many mistakes people are doing in the name of religion.

So many mistakes. One small mistake I have told you, put all the dead bodies in the churchyard. The Christians do.

So many mistakes the Jews do, you know that. We are making mistakes after mistakes and we should see what have we achieved? Our forefathers were going to church, they were going to synagogue and they were going to synagogue and they were going to, what have they achieved? Nothing.

So let us see the complete universal thing that is within us where all of Them are there and we have to understand that we do not exist alone. All of us are there as cells in the whole Primordial Being, the microcosm and the macrocosm.

We have to just be aware of that wholesomeness within us.

Anything that prohibits that, that makes you smaller and narrower, you must give it up and become the Whole. That's a living thing. If it narrows you, that religion is deadening. That's not the one that's allowing you to grow.

So there is no religion to be given up. On the contrary you have to enlighten the religion and enlighten others. All of you could be Sahaja Yogis and could be anything, because there's nothing like Christ hanging there somewhere and Mary hanging there. No, they are part and parcel of the Whole. They are there.

You cannot just take them out. And there cannot be many religions, there can be only one religion, that's a human religion which makes you higher personalities, makes you grow.

So you don't have to give up anything, but you yourself won't do many things, yourself won't do many things because you'll understand whatever is living is living, that's what you'll start following.

We have in our prayers all the prayers, Jew prayers and Christian prayers and Hindu prayers and all the prayers of all the religions because they are all mantras, they are all the chantings and they are so important for different Chakras.

So you see your universality also gets aware of your own being, expressed in different, these great Deities.

They are within us and They are awakened and you are surprised. The Kuṇḍalinī won't rise unless and until you break.

Some Christians catch on the Āgñyā. Imagine. They mostly catch on the Āgñyā. Āgñyā Chakra is the Chakra of Christ. Why? Because they have not understood Him.

So He Himself is angry.

So you have to ask a question that is Christ the Son of God? Yes. And then you have to ask My Relationship with Him and then you'll get your Kuṇḍalinī rising. I'm here to represent All of Them, to explain, to prove all the Scriptures of the world. That nothing was wrong, nobody was false and I'm here to prove All of Them to you, by not denouncing anybody or not possessing anything, in the same way you are going to become great people.

All right? [UNCLEAR Thank you very much. That's the proof of the pudding.] Warren: [MISSING.] There you will discover, there you will discover that your own powers are manifesting, which have not manifested so far. This is the thing. We have done everything under the sun, in the name of God and seeking but now for the first time you'll find your own powers manifesting. If your Mother has Powers what does it matter? Anybody has powers what does it matter. You have not manifested your own powers so far. If you have the spirit then you must manifest your powers isn't it. That's most important. And this is the religion of the spirit. Spirit is beyond any conformity or any sort of a narrowness. It is universal.

So this is the religion of spirit and in the realm of spirit you'll be amazed, the working of this power of All-pervading Love. You will find out that whatever you have been struggling with is nothing but a myth and everything will drop out and you'll be amazed at your own powers. Do come all of you. I'll be there waiting for you.

Could we have your hands towards Me. And close your eyes. I hope you are taking vibrations from the photograph and using it in the night. Please do it because that will really give you advancement.

Some of you will find from the photograph when you place your hands there will be a flickering in the flame. Just now also there's a flickering going on.

So do not get disturbed with that. If there is flickering, that means there's something wrong somewhere which is being corrected by the photograph's vibrations. Do not be upset if there is any flickering because it, you'll understand later on what it means and how to look at it.

So don't worry on that part.

Now put your hands towards Me just like this. Both the hands. He's putting the hands like this. On your lap. On your lap.

Please put your both the hands on your lap. And close your eyes. Just close your eyes. It works. It works. It is kept there for that. It manifests. It just manifests. It is very difficult as described in many books. It is a difficult thing. But maybe that I have something about Me that it happens.

It was to happen in My Presence so it is happening.

So please have it and get it properly established within yourselves. You are the seekers and I have to give your own rights.

So just have it. No obligations on Me or on you. Just have it because it's your own. I'm duty bound to give you that.

Close your eyes. Please close your eyes. Keep your eyes shut because if you do not close your eyes the Kuṇḍalinī doesn't rise above Āgñyā Chakra.

So please keep your eyes shut, absolutely shut.

Again the left Nābhī is catching. As I told you. Now you forgive your wife and forgive your husband.

Just imagine what a small thing is catching this evolutionary process. Just forgive your husband, forgive your wife, forgive your mother. Just forgive them.

Just forget them for the time being I would say and forgive them. Better. Left. Now don't feel guilty.

Please. Say Mother I am not guilty. Please. In your heart you should say, from your heart that: `I am not guilty Mother.' Say it at least thrice. You have to forgive yourself. Please forgive yourself. That's the main point is you must learn to forgive yourself. When I say you have to forgive others then you start cursing yourself. I mean to say forgive everyone, inclusive of yourself also.

Ah, just think of it. Will you please say within your heart that: `Mother I am not guilty.' Will you say that. Please say it again and again.

It is sometimes unbearable for Me to see how you people are angry with yourself. You should love yourself. After all you are the temple of God, isn't it. Isn't it your Kuṇḍalinī going to rise, isn't it. Is nothing of My manifestation, is your manifestation, so you have to be some special people isn't it.

Then you must respect yourself and do not feel guilty, I don't know from where does this come in.

Better. All right, say it loud: `Mother I am not guilty.' Let's see all of you saying that. Say it. Again.

Everyone.

Audience: Mother I am not guilty [several times].

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.]

Shri Mataji: Even for taking alcohol don't be guilty. It's all past it's past. God is the Ocean of Love and Compassion, so much so that these pangs of your so-called little, little bit of guilts are of no value, have no significance in the flow of His Love, so please do not find guilty because I have said it that alcohol goes against awareness.

Not for Me. Maybe for some people it does, but not for Me. It's all finished and gone. Do not feel guilty for anything that you have done. Please. Just know that you are the one who is going to become a temple of God. You are the one who has to enter into the Kingdom of God. The criminals do not enter.

Like the great children of God you have to enter, not with any guilt, but like proud people.

Better. I think there's a possession that tells you that you have done this wrong or that wrong. Just don't listen to anyone. Now ask for your realisation. It's your due. Just ask for it. In all dignity you ask for it.

Start feeling the Cool Breeze in the hand. Now see with your hands on your head if there's Cool Breeze coming in. Left hand. I think you'll feel there first in your hands, so many of you. Getting it? Yes, good.

Now ask forgiveness from Christ. All right. You feel very relaxed. Those who are not getting Cool Breeze have to learn to forgive first of all. Then your thoughts will stop. You must forgive. If you get thoughts you just say: `I forgive.' You watch Me and you can get thoughtless. Just say: `I forgive.' Then you have to ask for forgiveness.

So the heart opens out. Just forgiveness. Asking doesn't mean that I'm guilty. If you have asked for forgiveness it is given.

So then you don't sit down and say: `I'm guilty.' Once you are forgiven then why are you saying: `I am guilty'? Good. Are you getting it or not? This gentleman. Tingle, on the right? Heat on the right? Now put your left hand on your liver. If you have heat on the right. Now let's work out all the permutations and combinations. If you have heat on the right hand, then put your left hand on the liver. Here. Liver. Liver is here, under your rib, on the right hand side. Just see if you have. Then put your left hand, left hand.

Right hand towards Me and left hand here on the liver. Now if you have no breeze on the left and more on the right, put your right on the heart and left towards Me. Left towards Me. Heart is here. Little lower.

Little higher for you. Little lower for you. Little higher. For you little higher. Yes. Little higher. Little higher is the heart. Pushing. No, no, left. Right hand towards Me. Yes. Little higher. This side. Yes.

Left hand towards Me and right hand on the heart. Now, ask for forgiveness, at this point. That means your attention has not been towards your spirit, as it should have been so just for ask for forgiveness but then don't feel guilty because the next step is that, where we jump in. Just ask for forgiveness. Try it.

Better. Are you getting on the left or not? Getting right? All right then, you got it. That's the thing.

That is beyond reasoning, without any arguments. It's a happening. It's like a sprouting of the seed, which has taken place, which can be only achieved, because you have that within you. The seed which doesn't have the germinating power, cannot be germinated. But now you have to know how to use this power, this Divine power of Love for your betterment, for the betterment of others and for the betterment of the whole humanity, for the emancipation and evolution. Is it all right? Question: What did the heat in the right hand mean?

Shri Mataji: Means your liver is little, out of gear. All right? Put here. Or maybe you think too much. If you are living in the future, also you can get right hand. Live in the future. Planning. Planning department is liver. Those who live in the past have a left side problem.

Question: I've got tingling in the left hand.

Shri Mataji: Left hand. And the right hand? Both combinations are there? Answer: No the right hand's OK.

Shri Mataji: All right. Right is all right. Now you must have gone to some Guru or somebody or to some person like that. That means tingling. All right. Doesn't matter. You put your hand down below here, right hand, right hand. Down below. This is the left Swādhiṣhṭhāna and put down. And now ask for forgiveness that I'll never go to such unauthorized people. That's all.

You should say: `Mother are You my Guru?' now because you have been to Guru. I'm not a Guru but you can say that. Or you can ask a question: `Mother am I my Guru?' That will also help, because that Principle, the Principle of the Primordial Master within you is insulted. Because by mistake you went to other people. All right? Better now? Is improving, see. Just see that. Is so simple. It works. It's coming up.

Now don't think. If you start thinking it will again go down. Just don't think. You watch Me without thinking. Very good. You yourself can now turn your, tell them how to take bandhan. He'll show you how to do it and how to raise your Kuṇḍalinī and fix it up, which will make it possible. Put left hand towards Me. Put it seven times. Seven times, with your hand. Because from your hand the power is flowing. This is the first training in the power. Just give yourself a bandhan. Means you protect your aura, you won't be attacked. Maybe you are going out and some spirits might catch hold of you and now you will know, so before this you did not know till you ended up into lunatic asylum. But you'll know immediately you are caught up, because you'll lose your vibrations.

Now how to raise it, just see how to raise it, that's also important. With both the hands, push it up.

Go up like that. Once. Again you can roll it like that is also good idea. Twice. Now, ask for fixing our realisation. Just ask for fixing. Thrice. You move it and fix your realisation. You can.

Hah. See now, it's better? Much cooler now. You have to ask for it. That: `Please Mother, fix our realisation!' Then in the, then you'll grow. Then you are on your own and you become your own Guru and you can have your own big big, crowds and crowds of people whom you can give realisation.

I've one disciple who came to Me and got realisation, he has given realisation to ten thousand people.

Ten thousand people.

So, then you will know, what you have achieved and how many people you'll be curing, automatically. You are not a healer or anything. Automatically you'll be curing. You are not going to heal anyone or anything. It will just happen spontaneously. There are so many people who are born these days, who are seeking God and you have to give them help.

Thank you very much. I hope to see you again.

Contents: 1981-03-29*, Public Program, Workshop (morning), Garden, House of a Sahaja Yogi, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

Modi must have told you very clearly about how to grow in Sahaja Yog because he's one of them who has really taken very positive step to see that he grows. Now one has to understand one simple point about realisation is that, just mere awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī is not sufficient, that's just the beginning.

You get your realisation but you must become the tree, you have to grow, you have to become. If you cannot grow then you have not achieved what you wanted to be. And you grow very fast, very fast with meditation and with understanding about meditation. Now one of the few hurdles that we have, that I've seen it, that are innately built in Sahaja Yog itself. One of them is that you get it spontaneously so easily that you take it for granted. This is in the pattern of it, only innately built. You see what ever you get so easily you just take it for granted. But the another side of it is like that, that when you have your eyes you don't know the value of your eyes, you take it for granted. But when you don't have them then you know the value of eyes, it's like that.

So when you lose vibrations and when you get out of Sahaja Yog, then you start feeling much more lost and then you come back to Sahaja Yoga again. Like a person becomes rich, he enjoys the riches and then you make him poor then he feels it more.

So this is the correcting point.

But it is very true that Sahaja has this thing innately built in its self that it all happens very spontaneously and you get it for doing nothing at all.

So, may be so many of you may lose it because you might find that it is just you got it because of something. I've also known of people they get vibrations and they say, “Now it's all right I don't need Sahaja Yoga, I am on my own." Again they're back like bad pennies with some troubles and some problems and then they go out. Now I would say that Modi is one of those first twelve people who got realisation, after two years I've worked on them, while you got realisation in such a short time. Two years I've worked on twenty five people out of which twelve got realisation you can imagine, two years! As I've told you in London I've worked on six people for four years to give them realisation. But once a certain number of people of particular ideologies of permutations and combinations, once they get realisation I find the rate of realisation increases very fast. Like formally we never use to have anybody in the program who has been to any other Guru, just avoid them. Even up to the point that this Modi himself used to tell people there's no program today, no program. And they would ring Me up and find out that there was a program and why they were not allowed.

They said “Mother we get headaches you see. They break our necks and they just disturb us and they are good for nothing." But now, it's very different, once we have built up our strength of collectivity we have so many channels, things are working out very differently.

So the value that Modi would attach to his realisation is much more than you would attach normally. Because as you see, first even say to have a ordinary oil lamp was a problem.

So the oil lamp was very important for people. They would see to it that they would not use out all the oil and they were so careful. But today we have no problem, we have got electricity we take it for granted. Only when the electricity goes off we know what is electricity is. In the same way your realisation also, when it is lost you understand the value of it. But supposing you have just touched it and then you lose it, then you do not understand. But if you've got it you've enjoyed it then you lose it then you want it back again, so best thing is to be steadily moving towards your evolution. Now after I go away that's the fears people have here that people start doubting. They said, “It happened with people they started doubting." Doubting what? Your doubting yourself is the main point is. You cannot believe that you can get realisation. This is the basic. You see to Me, it seems that you feel that how can you get realisation? Only those who are very highly realised Souls know that you are realised, they know that you have been given realisation, but they also sometimes ask Me, “Why did you give them realisation. What have they've done?" Because you also think, I mean we still have to look forward to something else. How can we get realisation, this is the trouble.

You don't believe in yourself. That's what you have to have confidence in yourself and then you'll have confidence in Me also. Because there are so many ways, by which you can verify. First of all you can ask questions to the photograph or to Me in your heart, about Myself, My relationship what ever you think could be, what ever you think, put your imagination and see that what you think I could have been. Ask that question. Your vibrations will answer. Put your, stretch your imagination to the last, what could be the last word you could think of Me. You see, some people will put doubts saying that, “Kuṇḍalinī awakening is very difficult, it is not easy." Yes it's true, it's not easy, it's a very difficult things for human beings. You just can't do it, is a fact. You have to work for days with some Guru in some jungle all alone, seeing nobody, working out your Chakras by Chakras, sometimes you have to starve, sometimes you have to eat, sometimes you have to breathe, you have to do all kinds of things. And then the Guru can work out. But there could be someone who is somehow the master, could be someone. Kuṇḍalinī is the Holy Ghost with in you.

So there could be someone like that who can do the job and that is what it is. These things put you into doubts, because you can't believe it.

In relation to yourself you can't believe it. You can believe in God, you can believe in Holy Ghost, you can believe in Christ but you cannot believe that it has any relationship with you, that you could be that great, that you could get your realisation.

So just feel it and enjoy it. First of all, don't think, that's why I say, “Don't think." Because as soon as you start thinking, Mister Thomas in you will get up and say that “Hello, this cannot be Self-realisation." Mister Thomas was great, you see. Christ had all the disciples and I find all those types around, permutations and combinations and some how Judas also, but they're rarely to be found. But there are, no doubt and some are Thomas's and these Thomas' are described as murmuring souls by Christ Himself. He said, “These are murmuring souls” and they murmur and one murmuring souls comes to you, another murmuring soul in you joins hands and you start all murmuring together, start thinking. Now at that time what have you to do on rational grounds is very simple. What have I done so far? I've done everything, did I get Cool Breeze? Did I get my Self-realisation? Did I feel my own powers? Have I been able to feel myself and others? Because you see your still not fully realised, you may not be able to feel the vibrations of another person, neither you will be able to feel your own vibrations. But there are so many people here who are realised and they can feel yours and they can verify.

Supposing they ask you, “How is your father?" There was one gentleman in England he came and told Me, “Why is everybody asking me about my father?" I said, “Because there's one particular center that's catching” and I called a child I said now tell Me, “What is the center catching?" She pointed out this one and I said, “This is the center." Everybody is catching on this center, this is the father center so they're asking you about your father.

He said, “Yes he's dead and he died of cancer and he had this and that” and we had to treat him.

For example anorexia is a disease can be cured by curing this center. It's such a deep knowledge and it is such an all-pervading knowledge. Because once you know in a tree the sap that goes to all the leaves and all the ends of it and if you can move the sap, your attention can move with the sap, you can know the whole of the tree. You cannot know leaves and then know the tree. How many leaves can you count? But to know the tree the best thing is to get to the sap. To treat a tree is best is to get to its sap, isn't it? In the same way when you go from inside out then you find that you know yourself and others very well. It's very simple even small children can do it.

So the first doubt comes about yourself, “Oh this is one of them" because there's a Guru shopping going on, you see. There's a Guru shopping, there's a float, you go to one Guru to another, to ESPs and what you call them, all sorts of things, mediums and all sorts of things they do with the dead bodies or anything. All these things you have been to and you will have found it.

So now suddenly you have to come to a temple, where you don't pay anything and you just get the blessings.

So can't believe it, you just can't believe it, it's too much to believe. This is what happens you get confused. You are all ready confused, but confusion could be over by understanding that something is happening to you just wait and see, give it a chance. There's no way we can bind you to Sahaja Yoga, because there's no mesmerism.

This is another innately a problem with Sahaja Yoga.

Second problem I should say is that you're too free to do what you like, absolutely free, there's no binding force except that you feel the love of your Mother. Supposing you are not feeling the vibrations in your hand, there's no way of binding you down to Sahaja Yog, nothing. We just advise `Go ahead, it will work out, let it work out.' There is no fees, there's no registration, there's no compulsion, nothing.

It's your own free will. If you want to stick on you can stick on, if you want to go away you can go away.

There's no force on you of any kind. There's no registration of your names with some fees or anything, I mean you are not bound to pay anything. If you paid something then you feel, “All right I've paid for it, so go through it what ever it is, good or bad." Supposing you go to see a play and it's a horrid play but still you say, “All right I've paid for it so let me go through it." But that you cannot do with Sahaja Yog because you've not paid. There's nobody will force you down, nobody will go on telephoning to you, “Come along, please come along” and all that.

So the attitude has to be changed, it is I who has to gain. Say there's a beautiful spot somewhere.

Now that beautiful spot doesn't send an invitation card to anyone, everybody goes there. But if you have not yet discovered the beauty of Sahaja Yog in that way and have not enjoyed it fully, you'll have to go again and again and see for yourself. It is a deliberation on your side not on the side of the Sahaja Yogis or Sahaja Yoga. It's not going to fall at your feet. That please come to Sahaja Yoga, please donate something, nothing of the kind. If you come you are welcome, if you don't come, welcome. On the contrary, you will be surprised there's more rejection than acceptance in Sahaja Yog. That's also innately built. I've seen some people who are very insincere type they just go out from Sahaja Yoga like a tangent.

There was a gentleman who was very troublesome to us in Bombay [Mumbai] and we didn't know what to do with him and he just got transferred from there and we got rid of him.

So you just go out of Sahaja Yoga like a tangent and we are saved from the botheration. Because you must understand, if you have problems, if you are not all right it's a problem for Sahaja Yogis to correct you. It's just the other way round, if you understand this, then you will understand the thing, what works out. For example if I have to cure somebody it's a problem for Me and not the problem for the person who's sick. Now if the tree has to grow is the problem for the gardener not for the tree.

So the tree must see to it that it cooperates with the gardener and gets itself developed. If this understanding is developed, that it is I who has to gain, it is I who has to go forward, Mother has not to gain from me anything, She wants me to have all my powers manifested. She wants me to grow through it, if this attitude is developed then you'll work hard to grow and you'll work it out. But on the contrary you see at the slightest protest if you ego stands up and says, “Why, why should I do this?" To overcome this hurdle you see, we have to build up certain stages. That's what Modi was telling Me.

That you first become thoughtlessly aware, see that silence is established. There are certain things that you do much later, everybody is not allowed in there, because truth can be only born by people who are strong enough to bear it. That's why I'm not going to tell you who am I, till you reach a certain stage, because you cannot bear the light. That's what happened with Christ. They crucified Him because they could not bear Him. Human beings are like that, they can't even bear an incarnation of love. They can't even bear love, it's too much for them. Even if you give them too much love they get upset, they get disturbed, they just can't bear it.

So you have to build up yourself to come to a certain stage of understanding of Sahaja Yoga. It's a state, which you achieve. It's a state. You are not to be certified by anyone on the... But it's a state where you will start giving realisation to others and the whole way you'll be talking you will be in a very different manner as if you are completely detached. You'll say “It is going, it is coming." It happens. You will not say my mother must get, my father must get, you will never say like that. Because you'll understand that the problem of Sahaja Yoga is that it cannot give to anyone. Like the sunshine can shine it is for the trees to expose themselves to the sunshine and get the advantage of it. The sunshine is not going to run after you all over to see that you get it. This is the point here, it will shine the whole day and you take it. But it's not that it will run after you all the time requesting you, “Oh please get me, oh please get me, have it, have it” like that. And this is what one has to understand very clearly, that it is you who has to ask for it and not anybody is going to force on you anything. On the contrary if anybody tries to say something more your ego gets like that.

So try to be careful.

I am very happy to know that also, that in all the ego orientated societies I've seen that Sahaja Yoga works like wonders. Because first thing they see is their colossal ego. And that's a very positive point about it, because once you start seeing this horrible balloon in you, you just start watching yourself and enjoying, “Oh Mr.

So and so now get along with your ego." You see it's a very interesting life you start leading. If your ego you see, is a very good sign. If you cannot see your ego then there's danger. But some can even see their super ego if they're possessed. See people see how they get possessed suddenly because the frequency of possession becomes very little so that there's a big gap to see the time when you are normal and when you get abnormal also you can see clearly that you are abnormal. By seeing that you start judging, “Oh God I have again been caught up, I'm again lost” and you come back to normal.

The whole thing becomes a very beautiful understanding of the reality about yourself and you laugh at yourself all the time. All the time you laugh at your self and you laugh at everything and you find the whole joke going round how people are seriously indulging into nonsensical things and how it's such a big joke you've been yourself worrying about things which have no meaning, which has no significance.

Like I went first to Paris and people told Me, “Mother they are not going to like you very much, because they believe a person who is so happy is ignorant. You should not be a happy person. You should be a crying baby so they'll believe You." They're all la miserable, very unhappy people, extremely unhappy and if you tell them you are a happy person so they are going to be shocked at such a thing.

I said, “Really this `la miserable'“ let Me [UNCLEAR]. Let Me do something about them and I made them laugh so much at their miseries that they got all right and they understood that the joy is just there. You have to just peep in your heart and you'll find the source of your joy and then the whole thing vanishes into thin air. But it has to work, it has to happen. There is no quick way of doing it in the sense that I say, “All right you give me five rupees or five dollars, Australian dollars and you get it." No, no, no, you may give Me any amount it won't work out. It has not worked out with My own daughters you'll be surprised. I've never forced them or I've never asked them. I've only two daughters they're not realised I'm not bothered. When they'll ask for it they'll get it. But My four grandchildren are born realised.

And one of the eldest ones one day very seriously said, “As it is you cannot commit mistakes I know but it would have been nice if you have given them realisation when they were children." You see this is what it is. That you cannot force these things on anyone and you have to take a very detached view. You are a seeker, your mother and you are there but they are not your responsibility, you can tell them about Sahaja Yog. But if they are apposing you better have, let them be alone, they'll come round. When they see the transformation in within you, they'll definitely come.

So leave them alone.

Don't bother your heads. Just leave them alone and you'll be amazed that they will see you transforming so well and acting so well and they'll change themselves and they'll come to you and ask you, “How are you so much changed and transformed?" You see proof of the pudding is in seeing the pudding up there changing people. And this transformation you'll be amazed coming into you so suddenly that you'll be amazed.

But as I told you that on the left side is the desire or you can say the super ego, the desire to do something. And the right side is the ego which we try to sort of please and which feels happy and the one by which we have ambitions. But in the center is the will power to do this. And this will power has to be increased by you, “I have to do it, I have to do it." First you'll feel tired because your left Heart is weak, then I will tell you how to do it. `Then know how to raise your left Heart if you're tired.' See most of the people these days are very tired people. They talk, “Ah” they sit down “Ah." They can't, I mean they are very tired, absolutely fagged out people. Morning till evening what have you been doing, nothing. Just sitting in the sun you got tired, just lazing out you got tired. Why, why did you get tired? Firstly because you're not integrated you are fighting with in yourself. You're head is fighting your heart, your heart is fighting your liver. Secondly, you are thinking and wasting your energy.

So you have to learn how to settle your heart, what has to be done to raise your heart to make it peaceful and how to get the energy from your spirit. Once you start doing that your tired feeling will go away. Then your aggressiveness also will decrease and you'll be amazed that you will just watch the whole thing. Neither you'll aggress nor you'll take aggression and the whole reaction will be very different.

Then everything has a meaning, your feelings have a meaning. Supposing you have a feeling today for Poland, which is in trouble, all of you should ask just now, `Mother solve the problem of Poland.' Because I have no desires you see, I am desire less, you have to ask and it works, you'll be amazed because your attention is enlightened now, it just works. You have to desire for it and it works. You have to work for it and it works. And so many miraculous things people will tell you just believe them that's all true. Money problem solved, because of Lakṣhmī Tattwa within, financial problems solved, social problem solved, family problems solved because you are solved. See in relation to you all everything seems problematic. When your problems are solved everything is solved. It's so simple as that. We have to solve ourselves and it is solved through the awakening of the Kuṇḍalinī.

Now I would like to have some questions from you and then I would like you to go into groups with the Sahaja Yogis and talk to them on intimate level and also you must tell Me your problems. If you have any intimate problems, you can talk to Me also. But best is to talk to each other.

But I would love to have some questions from you about Sahaja Yoga now.

Question: How can one laugh at abortion.

Shri Mataji: I'm not saying you have to, I said you are not to laugh, means you laugh at silly stupid things I meant, you see. But at abortion as I can't understand you see. This is a very funny situation in this country. As it is the birth rate is minus and you are having abortions.

Question: Does it exist in India much abortion

Shri Mataji: Not much, people don't like it at all, they hate it. And you know the trouble is like this. You people are having no children so we have to have the load on us. You see what to do? Nobody to be born here, they don't want to be born here because there is no love in the heart. See the other day when somebody told Me about the doctors here some of them are butchers I couldn't believe it. Because in India at least, doctors are not butchers by any chance. I was surprised; this is because everything has become a butchery here, because the heart is covered with ego. There's no heart left. You have to raise the heart. That's important, once you raise the heart, you see you cannot stand all this nonsense, you know. Why do you want to have abortion I still can't understand? Question: Does it affect Swādhiṣhṭhān Chakra?

Shri Mataji: Oh, it affects many Chakras, I mean. There was someone I knew who always used to catch on right Heart, I must tell you this, very nice person, always on right Heart. His father was a good man everything was fine, asked him, “How are you catching on right Heart?" He was not married and when he came very close to Me then he confessed to Me that, “I lived with a woman and she was going to have a baby and she went in for an abortion and I conceded and since then I have been feeling very sad about the whole thing." But the whole view about life has to be changed then only you can avoid these things. You see it is a symptom of a disease. It's not the disease itself, abortion is not the disease, is a symptom of a disease.

Now what is the disease with in us is, is that, that we have allowed our sex to be let loose completely, talking too much about sex from childhood. What is the need to give education in sex, I've been failed to understand? Openly, there's no need to teach about, you see, do the animals need any sex education, they still produce. Then they told Me, “They tell about sex only because they think by telling about sex they can protect people from not going into sex." I said, “No, they create too much of curiosity in children." For example, in India we never talk about sex to children, they do not know, they are so innocent.

Even till the marriage takes place some of the girls do not know what sex actually is, how it works out and all. But they are told this is something filthy to do and all that and when the girl gets into puberty it is told and to the boys also, somehow or other it is a very different society. This question doesn't come, it never comes into the head of the boys and girls. You see if you keep them pure, like it doesn't come in the head of a sister and a brother even today, thank God. Many sisters and brothers I should say despite Freud's all efforts to spoil your minds, but still there are brothers and sisters relations today. In the same way it doesn't come into their heads at all. And when they get married they are to be told, this is what it is. And that's why they say these koarak and all these places were built where they could take young brides and young people to see that. This was called as Koomari Kar Temple, means the married women when they were not virgins could go there and see those places to understand what is sex is and they got so exhausted with this early sex life, I mean you go into all kinds of Tantrums then. Because you're so exhausted then you go into perversions. The basics are wrong. We are trying too hard to be sexologists.

There's no need to be sex points you are that already. But you don't want to be only sex points, do you? I don't know what makes you feel that that is the end of every, every endeavour, everything should end up there. May be that advertisement and all this is coming to you too much because they think that by exploiting these things they will help you. But it's such a perverted thing and...

Seeker: [interrupts and asks Shri Mataji about people in India being given a gift like a transistor radio for sterilization.]

Shri Mataji: That's what they try, this is also, you see Western ideas coming to India. Oh, they did all sorts just to sterilize them. Oh! That's how the lady lost her last election, last election she has now pulled her ears for that. You see, they are all westernized people you see, they try to try all these tricks.

People don't like it you see. There's a bridegroom who went for his wedding and poor thing saw that there was a team of people standing there for sterilization. He jumped out of the bus and he disappeared forever, nobody knows where he is, disappeared. And they even sterilized people who were very old and who were not even married you see. It's so funny, so indiscriminate, I think they were possessed by some bhoots I don't know what to call them.

You see population is a problem in India but what to do now, you should solve the problem. And there is something working out in a very funny way, I must tell you. I went to Colombia, I found lots of these Norwegians carrying Colombian children with them. And they looked so different from Norwegian children, Norwegian people and these Colombian children.

I asked them, “Why do you acquire these children where are you carrying them?" They said “We have adopted them." I said, “Why don't you produce your own? That would be better, to produce your own." No we don't want to go through the process of it, it's better to have ready made.

So the supply has started in having all this in developing countries to give you ready made children.

Isn't if funny, it's funny things going on, instant babies.

Question: If a Chakra is blocked and you clean the Chakras wouldn't you being undoing the karmic cycle?

Shri Mataji: Very good idea, I know the question is this, that he is saying that if you try to clean the Chakras you will be undoing the karmic cycle and all that you see this is the typical things that are being circulated in the west you see. That you have your own Karmas you see and we are the Gurus so you have to go through your Karmas, you must suffer for your Karmas you see like that is there. Now, this theory was all right before Christ came in, not after His coming. And why are they here then? Why are we paying them, for what? You better pickle them out. They're worth nothing because they just take money from you and we have to go through our Karmas. They make you dance, jump go into all kinds of things. Put spirits in us and say, “You are suffering your Karmas. Why should we suffer?" At least they should suffer for our Karma's minimum of minimum.

Now Christ has done that for you. He has taken all these Karmas, your Karmas upon Himself. He has made way for us, that's why you have to pass through Him. Once you pass through Him, through Āgñyā Chakra, your Karmas are sucked in by Him, that's you ego. It's the only ego that says you have done this wrong and that wrong. You see an animal doesn't think that way. It thinks it's it own swabhavah the way it has to be. But it's only the human beings who think I've done this wrong, I've done that wrong.

I've done this good, that bad because we have ego. But when your Kuṇḍalinī passes through your Āgñyā Chakra your ego is sucked in, your superego is sucked in. Christ has done double job in one shot you know, it's great. That's why He was crucified, it was to be. He took all your Karmas upon Himself and put it into hell.

So what ever Karmas you have done are all sucked in. But the door must open fully.

In the beginning it happens that only a thread comes up, you see and the ego is not fully sucked in so sometimes it still comes up and all that. The best weapon to get rid of them is to forgive others.

Forgiveness is the greatest weapon Christ has given us, which we have to use, forgive, forgive and forgive.

That's a very good way, Lords Prayer is the solution for your Āgñyā Chakra, you'll be amazed. You have to say Lords Prayer after realisation to open your Āgñyā. Then you become thoughtlessly aware. After realisation again I say, not before realisation, it has no meaning. Before realisation what ever you have said has gone into Karmas. Only after realisation you are baptized and get an opening here and all your Karmas pass through that. Also you will find when you get realisation lot of heat comes out these are the Karmas you see, that are coming out. Let the heat go out and all Karmas are finished. It's like that. This is what is Self-realisation.

Like an egg is in a egg shell is very different, but when it becomes a little chick and the mother breaks the tip of the egg a new bird comes out with out any Karmas or the smell of the egg.

So clean and nice, every thing converted into something beautiful. It's like that, this is the rebirth. This is how we become a new personality a new being.

So forget about your Karmas after your realisation, all right. He has said it that, “He died for your sins." Didn't He? And the wages of sin is fear. If you still have fear within you of your Karmas, you are still sinning. There should be no fear about it.

Do not have any guilt, I've been telling you not to have any guilt. What can you do? What sins can you commit? Do not have any fears. This is very common as I told you the other day left Viśhuddhi, I have to talk about it quite a lot. It's so common, in Australia, in America and in all the Western countries, to feel guilty. Everything collapses there and nobody can rise through the Āgñyā because it collapses down here onto left Viśhuddhi where you feel guilty. What are you feeling guilty about? And why did Christ come on this earth. You are just wasting His incarnation by feeling guilty yourself. He has taken all your guilt upon Himself. What do you thing He was? He was Omkāra, he was Praṇava, He was the word, He was that power. He's not attached to anything but He can take away everything that you think is sin, because He's sinless, He so pure, immaculate.

All right does that give you some hopes? Or still you are indulging into your own miseries? Question: Can You give us some guide about diet.

Shri Mataji: Diet? All right. This diet theory is also coming from some horrible Brahmins. Don't listen to them. They are the greatest Rākshasas ever born on this earth. Devils, Rākshasas are monsters.

They eat like hell, they eat such a lot and they always tell you, “Don't do this and don't do that." You can eat anything you like except don't eat the meat of animals which are bigger than you. I mean other wise you will develop muscles which will have funny contours and things. Eat animals which are smaller than you is the point is. And if you eat those animals they do not also have much sense of compassion and all that. It's all right they are just like vegetables sort of things, so it doesn't matter. You don't kill them, they are killed in the machine and all that, you have to eat that and you need it, you have to eat. But that doesn't mean that if you are vegetarians you should become non vegetarians. It doesn't mean that.

What ever you eat, you eat. Eating is not going to change your spirit. Spirit doesn't eat, it does not, makes no difference to the spirit except that, to your body which is the lamp.

So if you have to keep the wick all right, you have to keep the lamp all right and for that don't eat anything that is a very big animal compared to yourself. Cows meat for example in India they don't eat, because, “Have you ever seen Indian cows they're very gentle." And the cows are in the house, just like mother they start giving milk to the children they see. Every day they are taking the milk of the cows so they develop a feeling, you see. And that's why they don't drink, you see. But it doesn't mean that if your Australian cows are I don't think are like that. Because what I've seen they look like buffalos to Me sometimes. Like My granddaughter, she came to England and she asked Me, “Mother, Grandmother, why the buffalos in England are white?" Yes, so, it's all right. But you'll come down on diet. It will be different you see, you'll see gradually. But don't worry about it. Gradually everything drops out into very little things. But you allow yourself to develop.

Question: Eggs?

Shri Mataji: Oh, eggs you better have, lots of it. But if you have liver it's not good to have eggs.

Eggs is very heating, pork is otherwise good but not good for the people who have liver problem. See you must understand that every person is different. Now today I met a lady who is very left-sided.

So I had to tell her, “You eat pork, eggs everything." You see it is how you are. Even the Indian Ayurveda is like that. They want to know the prakruti, the character of a person how he is. We have evolved from different types of animals. I saw the nocturnal ones. You see the nocturnal ones must eat a lot of meats, those who have evolved from nocturnal side, you see. Left-sided, the ones who are afraid and frightened and who are not egoistical at all you see. Such types they should take more meats and things but those who are too much aggressive better take to vegetables, is better. All right now, what's the question? Question: Does forgiveness stop the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer?

Shri Mataji: It does absolutely, absolutely. Sahaja Yoga is the thing that balances the society. Those who are poor become richer and the rich understand that they must share. Willingly they start sharing their money. But you become really rich in a very miraculous manner. Now there's a girl here and I would like her to tell you what happened to her, it's miraculous. But she's an Australian and she doesn't tell lies you can see that very clearly and she'll tell you what happened to her. Where is she gone? No let her tell, is better, she's Australian they'll believe her more. But never trust an Indian that's even worse. You know some of the Gurus have introduced some Indian bhoots, Indian spirits into English people and Americans and also European and I find they behave just like Indians. They'll cheat, they embezzle, they'll take away things, not the women, they'll not touch the women you see. But they'll touch the things they take away the empty cans, is typical Indian you see. It's rather surprising, yes there are some, I've seen them like that. It's surprising to see such things happening to a Western person who behaves just like an Indian must be some possession of bhoots put by these Gurus.

So if you believe Me then I can tell you what she's told, it's really miraculous, very miraculous, you see.

Cheryl was telling Me that she wanted to come to India and she had no money.

So her daughter was very anxious to come to India and they didn't know what to do, they didn't have sufficient money.

So they just said, “Mother we want to come to India can you arrange it for us, that's all." And it so happened that this girl had taken a trinket she had in the house, a bracelet to the school for a sale, whenever they have the fetes all over.

So she took that for the fete and the teacher said, “I think this is gold." She couldn't believe it. She brought it home and they got it valued and they found that the price of the thing was equal to what they had to spend for both of them travels. But this is nothing. And then she got some money from somewhere in the house, somewhere I don't know how she got some money and she didn't sell even the bracelet. And that's still there she said, “For the next trip." I said, “I hope so, you sell it." “May not." Like that you see, things work out, because your Lakṣhmī Tattwa, your center of well being gets enlightened and then you are looked after.

So many things happen. Like today they told Me so many things of this kind happening to them and I too. You see when these people came in, I had told them all right, you give Me so much money may be required for your stay there. Very little it was, very little for them to be there in India after all, India is also now becoming very expensive. And when I went to India I had discovered it had become very expensive, doesn't matter I said, “I'll put it in the bank. Let it be there." And anybody ask Me, “Have it, you want it, have it, now spend go” and it was all right. I could manage, see that's what he did and so many of them have done it. It's looked after. You go to right places, you get right things, don't spend too much, you do not repent for spending and you feel happy for whatever you have. You feel very joyous, not worried about counting but if you make a budget you had it. You don't worry your head about budgeting, how much your going to spend, you'll be surprised. You won't go to things which are unnecessary, useless but you'll by something that is very good and ultimately these things will be very precious for you to sell.

Many things have happened like that. Many things have happened.

Question: Why is Australia important for the future?

Shri Mataji: Only thing I don't want to pamper the ego.

Question: Is Australia blessed?

Shri Mataji: Very much, very much blessed. It's a very much blessed place, specially created. Aus tralia was the first continent to be created and if I dare to answer this question, I hope you'll believe Me and not get into ego trips. Australia is a place which is described in the ancient Purānas that a great saint was sent to Australia and another heaven was created. And that saint is called as Trishaṅku which is your Southern Cross. That shows the Southern Cross and you can only see Southern Cross from Australia.

This is one of the Purānas, the Vedas have also mentioned this and even before that Australia is the place which has the Gaṇeśha. The first is the Mūlādhāra Chakra, the first center is in Australia. How much wise you should be. Did you hear Me? Question: She wanted your opinion about the Australian aboriginals.

Shri Mataji: Oh, they must have been good people to begin with, I am sure of it. They must have been very good and holy people and nice people but I think later on they deviated because of too much jungles and things you know, they started feeling the fear of nature too much. They must have worshiped things, which were good to begin with and later on to some things like spirits and this. More over the dead bodies the way they disposed of must have been something wrong.

So maybe they might have gone into a left-sided action into primitive ways of exciting these bhoots and things, spirits and spiritualism and all that. But in Australia must be the minimum, in Africa is horrible.

African countries have too much of it but it should be the minimum of minimum because you see, Gaṇeśha's Chakra is connected with the left side, you see is more on the left side isn't.

So also one can go drift more on to the left side that is what it is. And even today I feel there's kind of a lurking inferiority complex that works in Australians. They try to copy the west, there's nothing to copy there, they've nothing sensible. They have to learn from you. You see this is a little inferiority complex we have that all the best things are in the west. That's wrong, you are much better of in so many ways. At least you've not lost your moorings.

So I would not pass a general remark about a community as such but there is a possibility that they can come up very well too. I mean they can get out of all that left-sidedness.

In India also we have big communities in the south where people have lived with too much ritualism and all that and have taken to left-sided behaviour of attracting spirits and this and that and giving those [UNCLEAR tele-smart] and all that. They have done all that they are doing, like witchcraft, witch doctors and all that. They must be doing it, but it can be cured there's no problem. As the west, people are over developed and very ego orientated and right side. Both are extreme cases, but you can be correct.

The people who are left side it's easier because they have to move forward but it's difficult for ego orientated to move backwards. But if we can do that there why not here, so nothing is lost. One should not worry too much about these things. Human begins are just the same everybody has Kuṇḍalinī, finished. As long as you have Kuṇḍalinī I have no problem.

Question: Is there anything wrong with eating chilies?

Shri Mataji: No, it suits some people very much.

Some people should have, those who suffer from colds will be a good idea, suffer from constipation is a good idea. But don't eat too much of anything. But it's good for some people, something is good for some people, something is good for some people, you have to just find out. For people who get constipated it is better to have a little of green chilies all the time, it is very rich in vitamin C. It is very rich in vitamin C is good for people who catch colds very easily.

Question: Do you know anything about the teaching called Mahikari.

Shri Mataji: I know. You see Mahikari thing was, the person who started Mahikari was a realised Soul, though not so well equipped. I've met him before his realisation and he got realisation I think through Me only, what ever it was. I do not want to claim anything like that. But only thing is he was not equipped, well equipped. Like anybody here who gets realisation starts doing something. And his daughter I think, mislead the people because she's not a realised Soul. She became very money-orientated, she started putting it, it's happened with every one of them. But poor thing, this one was not, he just got realisation he was not an incarnation also, you see.

Even incarnations who came on this earth like Christ you see, like Mohammad Sāhab, like Rāma, Kṛiṣhṇa see such great incarnations were purest of pure. Even those people have been mishandled and people have raised organizations, which are just money making propositions. Everything some how man makes into money. I don't know how, it's something that happens to human beings you see. Then they start giving [UNCLEAR Tele-smart] then they start giving this, that, cross, this I mean it's a moneymaking proposition through out. You see this is the trouble. And you may lose lots of your powers, even ordinary, normal powers with this kind of a wrong attitude you see, or miss guidance, because it happens like that, you can make mistakes, you can do so many things. You know I've seen people, one girl whom I had given realisation she went to a lady who was a medium. She used to get “Ho, ho, ho, ho” like that and this thing. And she gave her a talisman and she became actually blind, actually blind. Now she's blind, her eyes are open, I mean I have to still cure her. This is the report I got about her.

Question: Would you say the same of the Hari Kṛiṣhṇa Organization?

Shri Mataji: Oh, now you are pulling Me into controversy. But I will tell you the other way round.

You see if you go on calling say the name of anybody, even your name would you like it? So then how can God like it? On the Oxford Street you stand up, you should see the site, they even sell those things see like wigs, they sell them like wigs in the market. They shave off and sometimes they wear wigs. See it's not show, it is something that has to happen within. It's not the show that you put up is something that has to happen. You see most of them end up with throat cancer and very violent, very violent people.

They are beggars' absolute parasites. You see this is very nice.

I met somebody in England and I told him, “What do you do here?" He said, “I deal in opium." I got a fright.

I said, “Opium, how do you deal in opium?" “Other people's money." I said, “That's very good, other people's money." You see you can float an enterprise. It's very easy because you are such seekers such great seekers of ages and you are so naive, very good. You go anywhere they'll take a square, sit there with saffron cloths with some circles on, another fellow will be fanning. Oh this one is very great, coming direct from Kashi.

Have nothing to do with horrible people. Kashi is one of the worst places now.

So you all go and prostrate.

This is what it is. I mean, why are you enamoured by these circuses, aren't you feed up with them? We had a lady from Norway, this one was very interesting. She came to My house stayed with Me, very badly caught up and she told Me the story of a lama who came to Norway.

First he told all these Norwegians, “You see, if I have to come to Norway you have to make a place with the floor which has got all marble." Look at that. They're such parasites these Lamas are. First they have sucked the blood of these poor Tibetans and now they were willing to suck the blood of these Norwegians. Now these poor young people you see, I should say the young people in the west are really not rich because they're parents do not give them money the way we give our children you see.

So they starve themselves, they ate only potatoes and this and that and for one year they starved themselves to create this floor for these horrible people. And this fellow came you see, with his shaved head and all that. He stayed there and this lady told Me that she had to go and just bow to him one thousand times for three months. One thousand times. Imagine, just to go, as it is he'll be finished, even three times is sufficient to finish you off. And three months she did it. And with Me she was arguing morning till evening.

I said, “Look at that, her arguing with Me, eating My head off and here your bowing to him." They would not allow anybody to go near the lama, the great was sitting on the seventh step somewhere hanging in the air. Is very common you know, the more you are missing from the scene the more you are difficult to be seen you see. Is something great, “Oh, ho! I've seen the glimpse of that horrible thing” that's what people think. You see this is what they play upon you emotional, what you call it emotional blackmail.

That's what it is.

They will tell you first of all they're, we call them chumchars, we call them spoons. They'll come and tell you, “Oh this is very difficult, you know." He may not give you any interview and you have to at least you should shell out five hundred rupees, see it is not easy, it's very difficult. Only you should send your photograph with five hundred” all this nonsense. If you are the river Ganges, what can malign you, what can dirty you, what can make you impure? If you are here for purification then nothing can impure you.

Question: Over the years it seems we have lost our power to believe in our self that we had in Egyptian times.

Shri Mataji: I don't know if at that time you had those powers very much. But Egyptians indulged more on the ego side you see, those who were rulers. And the slaves were on the left hand side too much because they obeyed the rulers you see.

So the sensitivity came to them from spirits, not directly from themselves. And some of them were really, very realised Souls and you'll be amazed if these extreme cases are there they understand an incarnation better.

Say if you are taking LSD too much, you will see only lights coming out of Me, you won't see Me.

There are many who must have seen that, auras and things, if you are on the right hand side to much.

If you are on the left had side you'll be awed, you'll be shaking before Me and you may see My previous births and you'll be quite frightened because you'll know what it is.

So they understood the incarnations better, but evolutionary you are much higher than they are. Though there's confusion because of so-called freedom you had which you misused. But as a whole I think this is the time for blossOm Only thing you must know that you're a seeker and you are a seeker then you must get it and if you get it why should you be surprised. But it's like a seeking has become like a fashion, seeking here, seeking there seeking there, seeking you stop no where you see. You see you go on fixing the bolts you see, you're just going with an inertia, even if you stop fixing you still go on like that. It's just like that, you see, it's a style you have developed going from this to that, that to that, that to that and you cannot stop it.

Question: I'd be interested in Your opinion of philosophy for Rudolf Steiner and secondly you concept of Papa tax sungar in India.

Shri Mataji: All these are all people playing on bhoots and things, that's all I can say.

[Śhrī Mother asks the seeker what does Steiner say and he says million words.]

Shri Mataji: Word, words, words and words, what does he say? Might be a realised Soul but what does he say? Seekers: [tries to tell Shri Mataji what he writes about].

Shri Mataji: He might be a realised Soul like Khalil Gibran is, you see his vibrations are good. He might be, but still you have to become realised Souls you see. Reading that even Zen is all that. Zen is everything is, nothing but his realisation. But you'll be amazed that the head of Zen himself reads all Zen without being realised and he's a hopeless fellow.

I just talked to him and he said, “Oh, he cannot get realisation." He's confirmed on that point. Imagine the head of the Zen saying that. We had Kaśhyapas only twentysix Kaśhyapas we had in six centuries can you believe it. And he wouldn't take his realisation and he was so frightened.

He accepted Me all right but he said, “I am nowhere, Mother, compared to You." “What is this? But I am telling you can get." So it's good to read somebody who is a realised Soul, but you better get it yourself. You become Steiner, all right. What I'm saying, you become a realised Soul. And you can write about your own experiences. Yes, please.

Question: [asks about opinion of Dadaji].

Shri Mataji: Dadaji, he's arrested. He's already in jail. No, he was in Pune where he was arrested, this Dadaji. This happened about I think, I don't know, but I heard about it. I don't know when it happened. No it was not because of any political thing. But they found some income tax things and all that and lots of, I don't know, I didn't pay much attention but he's arrested that I know. I don't all these sorts of things but the best part of the thing is that all that is untruth is exposed, gradually. Whatever things they may put out, whatever story they may put out, whatever they may try, they may entice you, you may be interested in them whatever it is. But they themselves meet their end. Because all that is falsehood has an end and truth is endless, it is Ānand, it is eternal. The truth is eternal.

Question: What do you see as the future of the United Nations?

Shri Mataji: That's a tricky question. My husband is one of the secretary generals. I better not speak all right. Let it be. We'll see about it, work it out.

Some tricks we have to play.

Question: Do you know of Kṛiṣhṇamurti?

Shri Mataji: Oh, very much, he's another one. Kṛiṣhṇamurti is another blah, blah, blah. I'll tell you about Kṛiṣhṇamurti very well. You see what Kṛiṣhṇamurti does? He says this part what I say that “There are false Gurus." But I don't say there are not real ones. If there is falsehood, if there's artificiality, there has to be real. If there are artificial flowers there has to be a real flower, too.

So he negates you from the other side completely and he puts up your ego by saying, “Oh you can find it” so you are finished. He's a blind leading others into blindness.

Sahaja Yogi: [relates the story of a seeker meeting with Kṛiṣhṇamurti: he saw him personally and asked him, “Why do you do what you do" and Kṛiṣhṇamurti said, “Does a rose ask why?"]

Shri Mataji: I mean it has no awareness, simple answer is as that. A rose has no awareness. By any chance he's not a rose. He's just thorns that's what I know. Those who have come from him have had a very bad time I must tell you. You see they are really so depressed and so horrid. We had one architect; I mean his life was finished.

So many of them are I've met, horrible they're very argumentative.

The best example I'll give you about this because you've brought forth. There was a fellow who came to see Me, he's the grandson of his Guru. His Guru was Yogananda, Yogananda, the Kriya yogis, you see.

He was the grandson of the Dadaji or something, Babaji, called Dadaji then Babaji are there. This Babaji, his grandson, you see, his Yogananda's Guru was somebody else and he was the son of this fellow, I mean the grandson of his Guru, so the great grandson of Babaji.

So the whole family was Kriya and he did all the Kriya Yoga and everything he did. He went there and he got so frightened. One day he happened to see this Kṛiṣhṇamurti that there should be no he said, “No Kriya and all that, you see, that you are your own Guru” and this and that.

So he said, “Oh God, what have I been doing?" So he gave up Kriya Yoga and came to Mister Kṛiṣhṇamurti.

He said, “I became such an expert that I spoke better than Kṛiṣhṇamurti did." And everybody was surprised and said, “Second Kṛiṣhṇamurti is coming and I ran away for there.

I said, “Now this is thing is happening to Me." And he came to Me, you'll be amazed I've not been able to give him realisation till today. I must tell you this, he comes to Me still often. Often, very often he comes to Me. I've not yet given him realisation.

Imagine the grandson of this Babaji has to bear I don't know what things, poor things has been done to him, I'm very sorry for him.

Question: Do you know Rajneesh?

Shri Mataji: He's another horrible one. Why do you need a Guru for such a thing? You are masters, he's a fool, he doesn't know compared to what you know. But you see what you thought of, that inside you are human beings, you feel guilty that you talk of sex with animals, sex with this, this, that. If there's something lurking in you, there's something wrong in all this perversion and homosexuality this that and all that.

So you thought it better to have a Guru at least he'll certify. But he is going to make you take two running jumps to go to hell, I tell you. And he talks, just there and he talks, “That you'll go to bottomless pit” in the bible a bottomless pit is the hell. You see he's very honest in a way, he says so.

He said, “You'll go to bottomless pit." He has criticised Christ to such an extent that he said that Christ had bad relations with his own Mother. Oh to that extent, he said about Mohammad having bad relation with his daughter. All sorts of things he is talking and you know people publish it. He's getting such a publicity. He pays money to people that they write against Me and doing all kinds of things. Indians don't like him at all, at all, they hate him, they want him to get out but he's so localised he cannot smell a flower and he calls himself Bhagawan, means God. In the book you see, anywhere you read, any Indian book where they have described God, the names of God, they're thousand names supposing, of Viṣhṇu or of the Goddess, anything. At least fifteen or twenty of them are that they are fond of flowers, they're fond of fragrance, they're fragrant. That they're fond of Kamalas, Champas they're fond this that all is there and this fellow cannot see, if you show a flower to him he'll run away. He cannot bear to have any incense being burnt anywhere. When you go there you they see and you can only put phenyl to go and see him. I think he's a bathroom cleaner, that's what he is. The way he's so much afraid. I don't know what he likes the bathroom smell. And he does very dirty things, very dirty fellow, is filthy I don't want to tell you what he does but I know what he does.

Question: Could you explain the meaning of satoori and Samādhi.

Shri Mataji: That's Zen. You see Zen satoori is the same as Samādhi but it's a, you see the Zen were as I told you in six centuries were twenty-six and whatever they wrote people never understood you see.

Because they were realised Souls, some of them were born realised, some got realisation. Now ever when you will talk people won't understand you, it's a very surprise thing. But it happens like that because your language changes. Now they call it satoori is a Samādhi but it's not so clearly given, they could not explain so clearly about it not properly to people, it's not so clear-cut.

Now in our Sahaja Yoga we have first of all Nirvichara Samādhi. Samādhi, dhi means awareness and Samādhi enlightened awareness. Nirvichara means thoughtless. Thoughtless enlightened awareness is first thing, is clear. Sahaja Yoga is very clear-cut practical, every word of it. You see it so clearly there's no vagueness about it. Even you'll understand Bible better, Zen better, everything better if you know Sahaja Yoga because your eyes are open to it, all right.

So the first thing is Nirvichara Samādhi. With Nirvichara Samādhi when it crosses your Āgñyā Chakra you get Nirvichara, means when your ego is pulled down.

With that you get powers. Like you see if you become a deputy governor you get powers if you become a governor you get powers. The first powers you get is curative powers. You get cured and you can cure others.

Many people whom I have cured are not Sahaja Yogis they're useless people actually. I've given up curing people for the same reason because they just come for cures they get cured and lost. What's the use of curing people who are not going to give the light? You see you don't repair lights which are not going to work out. It's a horrible stuff you see, curing people, but you do cure. You start curing people automatically with raising [UNCLEAR das] not with spirit. There are another faith healers and all that nonsense is not there.

Also Kuṇḍalinī can rise to a point with a person like that. But one should not stay at that point must go higher. Because the movement on right and left you start getting either supra conscious or your subconscious experiences which can be very alluring and you can be quite lost in them. You start seeing lights, you start seeing something different, you might see an aura around Me. I mean you see lots of things, you may see something else in My past, that should not be there. You should forget about it. You have to go to the airport to catch the plane isn't, so don't see all the things around, it's all not wanted.

Many people get lost at that point when they stop at Āgñyā, if you have concentrated here this can happen more because this is broken or if you have had this third eye business and all that you may go to the side. It can be quite dangerous. You see if you use these your Samādhi for some sort of a sensation.

So you should not. I mean all wise people should not use this movement at all, as far as possible say, `No we don't want to see that. We don't want to have any supra conscious sensation,' and all that. Then you rise higher and then you try to feel your silence in the limbic area and you have to feel your vibrations coming out from you head. It is the vibrations when they are flowing that's the best stage, when you have pierced through your Bramarundra.

So the second stage starts from Nirvikalpa Samādhi growing into, which many of the Sahaja Yogis have achieved in Australia, is called as Nirvikalpa, where the is no doubts. You have no doubts left about Sahaja Yoga, you have no doubts left about yourself. It's a state, it's not that by mentally or rationally but it's a state. Where you see it so clearly, white is white, you don't have to doubt that whether my eyes are showing white or black, you see. That state is reached is called as Nirvikalpa where the no vikalpa, you just go, move steadily and that's the best stage where you really grow faster because you're so steady and that stage must be achieved.

So try to achieve that stage through negating things, “Nethi, nethi, vachinay nigamoor” by saying, “Not this, not this, not this” and you reach that stage, is very clearly given. You see the trouble is, so many of these books which are so great are never translated, people do not know about them. Now after coming to Sahaja Yoga you will be exposed to them and you will see what truths there are and how Sahaja Yoga verifies it and proves it.

Question: What influence do You like to have on people who live with You who are not realised. What is the realised Soul have influence in that type of environment?

Shri Mataji: You see if you have stones and if you have living trees, stones do not receive anything from the sun but the leaves receive something isn't it, they are more sensitive, that's the difference. Then in Sahaja Yog there's a possibility that you can convert stones into living beings, can be done. Yes, because they see, you see they see you, they understand the value that you are, gradually, rationally they start understanding then they reach certain conclusions, then they come to Sahaja Yog, they get realised, it works out that way. But with seekers it's very different, seekers just jump into it. They do not think about it they just get it. They get it so fast that they don't think about it, just they get it.

So they are so sensitive that's the difference.

Question: Can we help our loved ones who do not want to listen to anything particularly about Sahaja Yoga?

Shri Mataji: You see there's nobody else that you help someone you see, they are all within yourself.

On the contrary, I would say better to have them together who are Sahaja Yogis because those who are not will trouble you, it will be a problem, leave them alone, they'll be all right, they'll come round. Let them come on their own you cannot force them, they're loved ones, you'll change now your priorities, you'll understand that those who are really loved ones are not really your brothers and sisters. As Christ has said, “Who are my brothers and sisters?" Now we have to ask that question. Because you speak another language, you are a different person, not that you give them up, but they exist. But they haven't got your awareness so is a different thing all together. But you help them in a way, gradually they see you but if you force them they'll run away. No use forcing or telling them anything about it but you show your satisfaction and happiness and your growth and others get impressed by it and they just come to you.

Question: Do You help them?

Shri Mataji: Yes, I do. But you should put them out of your minds and say, “Mother, You help. If You try to help, then I'll leave it to You." Question: He cannot understand why You say that Christ died for us. Why did He die for us?

Shri Mataji: What else could He have done with the stupid people? They crucified Him, He didn't say, `You come and crucify Me,' did He? They're stupid, horrible people, donkeys. They didn't understand Him, stones as they were what to do? They crucified Him, He didn't ask. But when He was crucified the sins that they committed in crucifying Him were to be forgiven. That's what it is. He was, what did He do? You see He died because of you because people like you only crucified Him. You represent them. When you are realised then you are different people, then you are resurrected. His message was resurrection not crucifixion but that shows the stupidity of these people, isn't it. I mean you may do that again I can't say, there are people.

Question: Is it possible to exercise love and acceptance when You're judging people as to whether they're right or wrong.

Shri Mataji: I am not judging, you are judging because when you get your vibrations you start judging yourself. You see I am not judging it's only your own judgment. It's your own judgment. Are you getting your Cool Breeze in the hands? No, then let it happen. I'm not judging you it's you are judging it yourself.

All right, then you will know yourself. Just now you are judging that you're not getting vibrations.

Question: Is it true that Indira Gandhi is worshiped as a Goddess?

Shri Mataji: That all political stuff, you see Indian people are like that.

Question: She's confused about the fact that You talked about love and forgiveness at the beginning but then when peoples names were brought up we often scofied at them.

Shri Mataji: About the Gurus? Ah, that's it. It's a very important point. That's very much with you people. You see all of you, you see have developed a philosophy where you say that nobody is evil, everything is fine. This is a very good philosophy to work with because you also fit into the thing. That nothing is evil about you also, isn't it? It happens like that. You remember when Christ was criticising these horrible people they asked Him, “How do You criticise them? They do not criticise You." Then He said, “Will the devil talk against its own house?" There is a negative force working, very much active and you have to not only scoff but get rid of these things because they are acting as your destroying forces and they destroy you, I see them very clearly and I have to tell you.

So love doesn't mean that I love a snake, will you go and love a snake, a snake must understand first of all. In the same way we have to understand there are evil people, that's true. That is what is very much in the West, I see, “Oh, you love everyone is all right. But you don't love a snake, do you? Go and have, ask snake, `I want to love you.' " He'll just finish you off.

So many of you are harmed so much by these people and I have to cure you. You don't know what I have to go through, such a lot of work to cure you when you are affected by these people. You don't know how much I've worked, morning till evening. This morning I started six o'clock till I came here just ten minutes I got to change My sarī and I was here. These are affected by other Gurus and things and I have to take it out. I know what harm they have done to you. You have no idea.

Question: What are Your objections to chanting and singing the holy scriptures?

Shri Mataji: Not at all, who told you I am, I'm not but you must understand that without understanding what chanting is needed it's like a medicine. Chanting is a mantra. Mantra means a thing that acts as a sound to correct a particular thing within you, all right. It's you can say sound therapy it is, all right. Now you have to know what medicine is needed for which Chakra, also you must know where is the problem with you, or with anybody else. I mean it would be chanting at random means sometimes it would be sort of an indiscriminate drinking of all the medicines, you see. Taking all the medicines bottles into your stomach emptying them without understanding. We do chant but we know where to chant, what.

You see, not indiscriminate, just like that. And it's very dangerous because when you go on chanting say, Rāma's name or Kṛiṣhṇa's name.

Now when you say Kṛiṣhṇa's name, Kṛiṣhṇa is here, if your Kuṇḍalinī has not reached there up to this point if you take Kṛiṣhṇa's name it's very, very annoying for Kṛiṣhṇa Himself and He recedes, sleeps off.

He freezes sometimes and by that you develop problems of the Chakras and sometimes you develop throat cancer, it's very serious.

So first, you must know where is your Kuṇḍalinī, where it has gone, where it has stopped. Then you should know what is the problem, then you must know what exactly is the chanting to be used, all right and then cure that part. You see so it's a big science, which has to be understood in Sahaja Yoga, it's not at random.

You are suffering from whatever trouble you are suffering from, you must know first of all. See many people who are Christians catch on Āgñyā I told you, they do, because it's unauthorized. Christ, we treat Him as if I don't know what, some passion fruit hanging in a tree. Do we know who He is? There is a protocol, great protocol. Even Brahmā, Viṣhṇu Maheśh could not reach Him.

So for us because we think we are born among Christian families and because the church has given us a certificate so-called do you think we are authorized to chant His name all the time and trouble Him? And what do we ask? Do we ask for our spirits? Do we ask to give our realisation? Do we ask that we have to be born again? No, what do we ask something nonsensical.

Question: What is Your opinion about practicing spiritualists.

Shri Mataji: Very dangerous, never go near them. Never touch them even with a barge pole, horrible things they are. You see it is very simple to understand that if you get connected with any area what so ever and somebody is connected to that area you are exposed to that and there can be any indiscriminate aggression on you from that area. You would not know who's coming on you.

So never go near them. May be you want to talk to your father say, whose dead, you want to talk to him. Why? Release him, free him, why do you want to talk to him? Now let him be alone, let him decide for himself what he wants to do.

Why do you want him to hang around? It's too much, it's too much of a load. Then you want to, when you use some medium for that you do not know he might get somebody else. It's very dangerous for your children also, so many children have died with this kind of a thing. I mean you develop especially cancer, this multiple scleroses or anything like that. All these come from spiritualists. These are all spiritualists, these Gurus are spiritualists only. They'll believe is spirits, they'll handle the spirits they're working out, these are very dangerous things I may be able to tell you some time how they work it out and how they master it. It's very dangerous. They're like vampires, what you call it, vampires. More surprising is that there are so many things in English language, which we don't have, like witchcraft and the witches were sort of punished, all sorts of things are there. In England, they talk of all these things supernatural and all this but still I don't know how they go into it.

Question: Is it wrong to be a medium?

Shri Mataji: Oh God, I need not tell, it's very, very wrong to play into the hands of the spirits. You are enslaved completely; you don't know what happens to you.

Horrible, it creates problems absolutely you're an abnormal personality. Never do it. It's sinful, sinful. If you accept My words really it's horrible, never do that.

Question: What is the difference between Western spirituality and Eastern spirituality?

Shri Mataji: Now this word spirituality means by these spiritualists you mean? Answer: No.

Shri Mataji: Is just the same, spirit is just the same. Is universal, there is no difference at all, I do not find any difference. Spirituality means the spirit that is the Ātmā, you mean the spirit that is the Ātmā, the one...

Question: I'm talking about the search for the spirit.

Shri Mataji: Search is just the same. But Indians you see now, modern Indians are sort of developing you see, they have to go to that height to see where you have landed yourself. See they can short circuit, they can short circuit if they want but if they want they may have to go to various types of problems you had with that affluence and they may come back. But it is better to short circuit it I tell them. While yours is a problem so easy because you have discovered now that matter is not sufficient. Matter doesn't give us joy, no use running after matter. But still some of them are running after sex you see and all that. They have to finish another circuit, once they are over with that also then things will be better.

But in all this kind of a quest you have lost something indefinitely, no doubt. Going through the matter, going through the sex and going through the power all these trips you see you have lost something, which requires correction. While Indians if they understand with their wisdom they better short circuit this need not go into plastics and nylons. You see I have to carry nylon sarīs from England for Indians while they have their silks they want to wear nylon.

So this is the difference in the basic development. But Indians if they take to Sahaja Yoga they're very good and easy, especially Indian villagers are excellent. They don't understand all this they have no mental problems you see. I don't have to discuss with them all this, they have not gone into all this nonsense so they suddenly become beautiful fruits, that's all.

So this is the difference of little degrees I would say that you are gone to other extreme and you still have to move to that extreme or they may finish off and we can achieve results. But your quest is much ardent, very sincere and truth. One more thing I always felt and today also I feel that really some great souls are born in the west, that's why is such a sincere desire, very sincere in their desire. Indians first they come to Me for curing, if not for curing for getting children if not for that for jobs or money all sorts of thing they come up. Or they'll say, “My mother is sick, my father is sick, my brother is this” all this goes on. But I have met many, many seekers in the west who just want realisation, very beautiful people no doubt. But you have lost something in your seeking, no doubt, doesn't matter. Kuṇḍalinī is that ardent desire within you, which works it out.

Question: It seems as though the simpler the life we lead the better we are, much easier. We get away from thinking and so on.

Shri Mataji: I agree is a good idea of simplicity but is a, you must understand that also very clearly because we had somebody who was a hippy I should say. He was a real hippy, such big grown, he had grown hair up to this much and all that. He came to Me and scarcely wearing anything in the horrible English cold you see.

I said, “What are you doing to yourself why don't you clad your self properly into proper cloths and better cover yourself” and I was really didn't understand him.

I said, “You are not living in Africa why are you dressed up like this, it's like a primitive dress." He said, “I want to be primitive." I said, “You cannot by dressing up. Your brain is so over developed how can you be primitive." You see by dressing up something do you become that. I mean it's just a drama you are playing with yourself, you do not become primitive. This is the point is that and then the problem is the brain is thinking the same way, that the same rate and everything the same, only by changing is something that is not good because you should accept as you are. Why should you do something like that? But simpler life means this way, that's another extreme. But you see too much of formality like having a tail coat or wearing morning dress, grey suit and then having a particular type of a glass for a thing and all that nonsense you see you better finish off. That's bit too much going too far with it and also caring for all these small, small things like matter that's something that's grown in you. Preservation of horrible things and useless things and all that it's [UNCLEAR really]. And then to think, think, think, think about everything, sit down and think how miserable I am and when there is no misery you just sit down and make miseries by thinking. I don't find any thing miserable here, what is there? You see in India these people where there people are so happy, chirping like birds enjoying themselves. They don't have all the things that you have.

So you see to get out of materialism is a better idea, to say that a simpler life means, but you must live beautifully. Beautiful doesn't mean that you should have ten types of things and all that. Beautifully means you should not be as a morbid stinking, you see. Clean and beautiful you can make beauty out of the soil anything; with love, you can do anything.

So you see it's alright I mean what ever way you dress up or anything makes no difference that's what I'm trying to say. That it is the inner thing that has to change not the outer. Again the Sahaja Yoga is this.

Contents: 1981-03-31 Interview, Australian Radio Broadcast, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

Interviewer: Well, hi and welcome once again to the program. And tonight, a program with a slight difference. In the past, on the forum we've talked in different ways about finding oneself; about knowing oneself and we've asked you at times to describe yourself in various ways, which has been interesting.

Tonight we look at a different aspect of that under the title of Self-realisation. In the past few years in Australia we have seen a succession of people come to Australia, with various titles, who lead what is generally regarded, I suppose, as cults. There have been people who have called themselves Mahārājis, or Mahārāji; there have been people who've called themselves yogis, there are people who will come up to you in the street and hand you literature who are followers of particular, mostly Indian based religious movements. I think that in general, is the way they describe them. And just lately I seem to be receiving more and more literature about these sort of people coming to Australia to speak to their followers. We've seen television films of them being greeted at the airport by devoted followers. And the other day I received a news release, guess you could call it that, about someone just a little bit different, because this time it's a woman. And that makes it interesting to start with.

Let me read you what came in the mail: “Mātājī Nirmalā Devī is a most remarkable person. Ten years ago, She perfected a technique by which people can free themselves from their physical, emotional and mental disorders caused by the stresses of modern life." Well that got me interested to begin with and I read a little further and I thought, “It's about time we talked to someone like this. And what better time than now and what better person than Mātājī Nirmalā Devī?" And She is in the studio here with me tonight.

Interviewer: Good evening. Welcome to the program. Mātājī, You are the leader of, or You are a practicer, I understand, of Sahaja Yoga. Can you explain what that is?

Shri Mataji: Sahaja means spontaneous. `Saha' means with, `ja' means born; it is born with you. It is spontaneous; it is the living force. A living force that has made you a human being from amoeba; is going to make you the higher being where you become the Self. It is all... in every scriptures you will find they have described that you have to be born again. Every prophet, every incarnation has said that you have to be born again. And there must be some thing within us, which does that job and this is known as Kuṇḍalinī and was known to people, very few people I should say, in the ancient times.

Then in the sixth century, Ādi Shañkarāchārya talked about it very clearly that it's only the Kuṇḍalinī awakening, the awakening of this Residual Power within us which lies in the triangular bone called as Sacrum, means sacred bone. Just imagine, that time they knew it was a sacred bone. That it rises and crosses all the subtle centers, pierces through the fontanelle bone area and gives you your real baptism, your real birth and you can also feel the softness of your fontanelle bone area on top of your head. And this is an actualisation. This is not that you can just pay some money or become a member, organize something.

It's an actualisation and you can see the pulsation of the Kuṇḍalinī at the base; the rising of the Kuṇḍalinī and the breaking of the fontanelle bone area which is called in Sanskrit as Brahmarandhra.

Interviewer: So you are saying this is what... Spirit inside us, which you call Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: No. Spirit, this is the Holy Ghost and the Spirit is in the Heart. Spirit is the reflection of God within us.

Interviewer: So it's not the Spirit. It is a live force?

Shri Mataji: This is the force that is the pure desire to be one with God; that is within us all the time, dormantly lying. It only manifests when it sees, or gets instruction, or is handled by a person who is authorized by God. Not by any institution or anything, but by God. Such a person Himself is a realised Soul. It is like one enlightened light can enlighten another light. It's very simple.

Interviewer: So that what you are trying to tell us is that we have within us a live force called...

Shri Mataji: A germinating, germinating force you can say.

Interviewer: Right. Called Kuṇḍalinī.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Interviewer: And this is generated in the...

Shri Mataji: It awakens. Actually, it moves like an energy.

Interviewer: In the bone, but around the eye?

Shri Mataji: No, no, no Sacrum is the bone at the base of the spinal cord, the triangular bone.

Interviewer: Right. At the base of the Spine and that is where this force awakens.

Shri Mataji: Yes. And it rises. You see the pulsation rising and it comes up to the top of the head, which is called the fontanelle bone area in the medical terms. But, here it is called as Tālu in Sanskrit language. And it pierces through. You can see the pulsation coming up here and after sometime the pulsation stops.

Interviewer: This is when you are meditating? You can see this in somebody meditating? Or...

Shri Mataji: It's like, you see, for this you have to just place your hand towards Me to begin with.

Then any other Sahaja Yogi can also do it. But to begin with, you have to place the hands towards Me just like this; like Namaz you see, as they do Namaz.

Interviewer: That's palms open...

Shri Mataji: Yes, just palms towards Me and you find that through your fingers... when it pierces through, you start feeling a Cool Breeze blowing in and that's the sign that you have got that Power flowing through. But with that you get many other manifestations. Like, first of all you feel absolutely relaxed. Secondly, you feel the Cool Breeze also coming out of the head, fontanelle bone area. First the heat comes out and then the Cool Breeze comes out.

Interviewer: Right. What is happening when that happens? What is happening to the body? Is one relaxing? Is one becoming more holy? Is one, what is happening when this... if you...

Shri Mataji: You are evolving; you evolve to a higher state of consciousness. Your consciousness as it is, is a human consciousness or human awareness. Now... but your Spirit is by itself; it is enjoying by itself.

It is not in your conscious mind. Means you do not feel in your central nervous system, its manifestation.

It is by itself. Now when Kuṇḍalinī rises, She takes your attention inside because the happening takes place and this attention gets enlightened by the Spirit which is actually placed in the Heart. But the seat is in the Tālu, in the fontanelle bone area on top of that.

So once you touch that, your attention becomes enlightened and the attention itself becomes collectively conscious. It becomes; it's a becoming. It's not just saying that they are all brothers and sisters, it just happens. You start feeling them on your fingertips.

All the centers; your own and that of others also.

Interviewer: So it's a, it's a method of, of coming to, to terms with forces within our own body, to put it bluntly.

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. That's why it is Sahaj, means born with you. Sahaja, born with you.

Yoga means Union with God.

So this right to be born again, to be, united with God is within you. But it has to work out spontaneously.

Interviewer: How is this different from practicing the sort of Yogas that we've seen over the years? This form of Yoga that we have of television in the morning, in women's magazines, the classes that people go to, which, I suppose, are relaxation exercises really. How does your Sahaja Yoga differ from that?

Shri Mataji: It's very different because, you see, in this the accent is only on physical side of life. You are not only your physical being, neither your emotional being nor only your religion; what you call... your sustenance. You are much more than that and unless and until you see all these three aspects properly in balanced way, it can be very dangerous. More over, the Haṭha Yoga that is done these days, perhaps, has no relation with what real Patanjali Yoga is. Because, Patanjali Yoga was practiced at the time when we had another type of system in our society where the children of five years used to go to the Gurus, stay with them and there the Gurus used to select people who were good for realisation. Then first thing they would do is Īshwara Pranidhan, means establishment of God within you, means realisation. There are eight simultaneous things, Ashtāngas. It's not only one physical exercises and physical exercise is only one tenth of one of them. But the first and foremost thing is the establishment of God, means Sahaja Yoga. First your God must be established, then you see the movement of the Kuṇḍalinī and you see the obstructions of the different centers and you know which center is to be activated; if there's a physical problem, then what exercise to be done. But today's modern Yoga is such that you take all the medicines in one, one shot all of them, whether they are required or not. You don't know what you are doing to yourself. This is absolutely absurd and this can relax you because may be that somebody else takes over from you. May be you get possessed or may be something like that that you feel relaxed but you are not in control of your relaxation. You are not in control of yourself at all. You have to become absolutely the master of your body, mind, everything.

Interviewer: Mātājī, you've come to Australia to speak to people and to Your followers and You are...

You do have followers. Why do You have followers? Who are these people who deify You and who call You Mother?

Shri Mataji: I mean, it is like the sun shining and the leaves are bathing in it. Now the time has come, to flowers to become fruits. Now, how... what can we can do? It's a relationship... exists because what they want, I have and I give them; that's all.

Interviewer: It's more than...

Shri Mataji: But it is not binding there. I mean, I do not try to sort of dominate them in any way. But I see to it that they grow into good citizens and grow into proper personalities with their Spirit completely manifesting in them.

Interviewer: Are You then their teacher?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. I have to teach them as a Mother; so many things Mother has to teach the children. But it's a sweet way of doing it. How you do it is the point. I mean, a Mother doesn't take any money for what She teaches and it's question of love and Divine Love is so remarkable that it just manifests Itself.

Interviewer: You don't take money from your followers?

Shri Mataji: No, no, no. How can you pay for God's Love? Can you? That's one thing one should know. When they have this market on and all these people are coming in, you must know one thing that you cannot pay for it. This is one of the things people must realise; they don't use their brains.

Interviewer: There are many cults where people give a lot of money to the Gurus. And there are Gurus... There's one... Well, I can't think of a number. But there is one who is riding around in Rolls-Royces and so on and living...

Shri Mataji: I know [laughs.] Interviewer: A very high life. As a matter of fact, a friend of mine is a follower of him. [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Just imagine.

Interviewer: And he has changed very much. I mean he is a very, well, holy person, I suppose, He certainly is at peace. He is a very happy man there since he is become a follower of this particular Guru.

And I've never been able to see why; he's never been able to explain why. And I wonder what you think, in general, of these cult movements.

Shri Mataji: You see, what these people do is that their main aim is to make some money. But there can be even more sinister people; they may be wanting to stop your evolution. They are Satanic; some of them are very Satanic forces because they give epilepsy and they give horrible diseases. They make people recluses; they just mesmerize them. People start thinking, “Oh, they're becoming very holy and they've become very good." But the first thing we should know, as Jung has put it, who was the disciple of Freud and I am happy, he is very popular in your country, that the next step has to be that you become collectively conscious. By becoming higher personality you start feeling the centers of other people and yours also. This was to be expected that you became collectively conscious. This is the point one should see. For example: Somebody says, “I am very happy” so what does it matter? I mean if you feel that he is happy, it's only his ego is pampered. If you pamper somebody's ego, the person feels very happy and if you condition somebody or give him a superego, he feels unhappy. Both happiness and unhappiness are the two sides of one coin. But joy is very different. Joy is a drama; joy is a beauty and that only you can get it if you... your attention gets enlightened by your Spirit. Because Spirit is the only source of joy which doesn't have duality; which just watches, which is a witness. And these people just play upon your ego or they play upon your superego. They can mesmerize you; they have all these methods.

Interviewer: They are very popular with young people.

Shri Mataji: Yes, poor young people. You see, they are real seekers I tell you. They are actually saints born because the last judgment has started now and the judgment is going to take place through the Kuṇḍalinī awakening only. How are we going... how anybody is going to judge anyone? I mean God, how is He going to judge?, Is only by awakening your Kuṇḍalinī and that's what has started.

So, so many saints have taken birth to be in the kingdom of God, as was promised and that's why these markets are aoat. You see when there's a demand, there's a market also for that and people are in the market.

And, naturally, in the market money is the main thing, to begin with. But it's very, very dangerous.

These people are so mesmerized, they don't want to see. It's not your happiness that is important; it's the happiness of the whole. What are you doing for that? Interviewer: Well, I think they are certainly interested in getting new members for their cults. They certainly go round and try to sell their cult on the streets, or wherever.

Shri Mataji: Yes, they are. For example: there was a Guru who was to come to England and he said, “I'll have a Rolls-Royce, otherwise I will not to come to England." So these young people starved themselves, ate potatoes and all that and they wanted to have the fellow there. And when some of the Sahaja Yogis went and talked to them, “Why should you give him a Rolls-Royce?" He says, “By giving Rolls-Royce what we are just giving metal; but he gives us Spirit." How can he exchange Spirit for metal? I can't understand that.

Interviewer: Are You holy?

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.] This you better find out yourself. [Laughs.] [Both laugh.] What's the sign of holiness is? Holiness is that which, which cleanses others automatically. Christ was touched by a lady and an energy flew into her and she got cured absolutely. This is what it is. You don't... you see, what do you ask the Sun? Will you ask the Sun, “Are you, are you the light?" I mean, What it does? It is the part and parcel of that, isn't it? Interviewer: Your followers say You are Holy.

Shri Mataji: Yes, they, they must have found it out. [Laughs.] Because, if holiness means cleansing, it means energy giving, then of course, it has worked with them.

Interviewer: I'd like to talk to You about the energy giving. We'll talk about that in a moment. Because You'd mentioned before, holding out your palms and some of them hold out their hands to You. You talked about holding ones hands up to You.

So, in just a moment we will take a break and I'll come back and talk to you about that...

[Talk specific to the radio station omitted as it is not relevant.] I am talking to Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She is a Guru... No? I am sorry.

Shri Mataji: I am a Divine Mother. Mātājī means Divine Mother. That's not My name. My name is Nirmalā. Nirmalā means Holy, Pure or Immaculata. My... they have given Me this title as Mātājī, which means Holy Mother.

Interviewer: Are you a Yogi?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. I mean yogi in the sense that if you are one with your Spirit, that I am.

Interviewer: There have been so many people passing through this country talking about offering all sorts of answers to today's problems in what is a basically, I suppose, Christian culture; although we can talk about that too tonight. People who come from various religious movements, based generally in India.

And tonight we have one of those people on the program... She is different...

Interviewer: Mātājī, we talked about Energy and that You have an Energy to give other people. How does, how does it happen that, You are the person who has that Energy? Why You?

Shri Mataji: I mean, as you are the one who is asking Me questions from the Radio, in the same way perhaps I am appointed to do this job you see, that's all. If anybody can do it, I will be very happy. As I told you, I am a married lady and My husband is very highly placed in life and I actually miss Him and He misses Me too and My children are there; I've got grandchildren. But this is something else that He thinks is very important and that's why I am doing it and if somebody else can do it, I will be very happy to retire. I will be really happy, I tell you. But some things you can do and some things I can do. That's what it is.

Interviewer: Is it a gift from God?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course it is. And you can have the same gift because you have to just get your realisation, that's all. You can also do the same thing.

Interviewer: Do I have to be in contact with You?

Shri Mataji: You have to be... not necessarily. People who are realised now in Sydney, only two persons came to India. They have given realisation to three hundred people.

So it is not necessary for you to be in contact with Me. But you have to get your realisation through somebody who is an enlightened person and who knows how to handle the Kuṇḍalinī.

Interviewer: Now, the Energy is the Kuṇḍalinī, this is what You offer to other people...

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes.

Interviewer: Is to put them in touch with their own Kuṇḍalinī?

Shri Mataji: That works faster when I am there, but even these people can do it; that's true.

Interviewer: So what's the Power of this as far as healing is concerned? I believe You are... or claim to be able to heal people?

Shri Mataji: That is... that happens spontaneously. I mean, I do not heal people as such. But it happens because when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, She enlightens your parasympathetic nervous system and the parasympathetic nervous system is like the storehouse of energy. But when it crosses the fontanelle bone area, it gets connected to the mains. It's like, supposing your petrol is finishing and you get connected to the mains and all the time petrol is flowing into you, then you get cured because all that energy which is being spent by sympathetic activity is replaced. And that's how people get all right. But I do not go about healing people or I do not have a healing center. I do not go in the hospitals. But those who are seekers get a spontaneous healing. Even blood cancer, cancer of any kind can be cured. But they have to be seekers to begin with and their Kuṇḍalinī must rise and when they get their realisation, as a byproduct they get healed. That's a different thing from healing people and just paying more attention to the body.

Because if you have to have the temple of God to be enlightened by His presence, then your temple has to be cleansed.

Interviewer: Let's talk about God, or Your concept about God. You were raised as a Christian, were You not? Or were You born as a Christian?

Shri Mataji: I was to be born something, either I was to be born Christian, Hindu, Muslim. Any where I could have been born. But I, I choose a father and a mother and a father [who] was an enlightened soul and a great man. It was He who told Me about human beings, how they are. I didn't know they were that complicated.

Interviewer: Where did you learn about Kuṇḍalinī and and the various techniques that You now teach?

Shri Mataji: I didn't learn anything at all because I knew all this from My very childhood. This is innately built within you, the whole knowledge. Like as you are born as a human being, you can see it is bad smell, isn't it? Nobody has to tell you it is bad smell. But a horse doesn't feel the bad smell. In the same way you are born at a higher stage, you see many more things and you know many more things. I knew that, I was like that from very childhood. As you know that you are a human being as soon as you are born.

Interviewer: Did the people around you recognize this in You very, very early in your life?

Shri Mataji: I mean, some people like My father did recognize. Not only that, but he knew the purpose of My life and all that. But some people, I mean there were different reactions, I should say, according to their understanding. But all of them knew that there is something unique about Me.

Interviewer: Does Your belief now... how does that connect to Christianity? If You were raised in a Christian family, have You risen beyond the Christian religion, or beyond all religions?

Shri Mataji: I am beyond all the religions, I should say. And you also rise above it because the religion that we know of now are... once upon a time were real flowers on the living tree of life. But they plucked it. They said, “This is mine, this is mine” and they took it away and these flowers have become now ugly and dead. They are not living any more.

So, all these religions are just giving you a lip service.

They are not giving you actualisation. Actually the attention from the Spirit is gone.

Interviewer: Do You believe that the Jesus Christ was Holy?

Shri Mataji: Of course, He was. Not only [that] but He was Holiness completely, that He was the Praṇava, He was the Omkāra. He was the Divine Power Himself when He came on this Earth. And through Him only we give realisation because He is settled in a center here which is the door. Door to the limbic area which is...

Interviewer: Which is the center of the forehead.

Shri Mataji: Beg your pardon? Interviewer: The center of the forehead.

Shri Mataji: No, it is not. It's shown here at the center but it is between the pituitary and the pineal body on the Optic Chiasma. There is a very subtle center of Christ which is the door and through which the Kuṇḍalinī has to pass. If the Kuṇḍalinī stops there, invariably in a Christian it does because Christians are not following Christ, they are following the church. They should follow the Christ as Christ has said I'll be calling you Christ, Christ... you will be calling Me, Christ, Christ and I wouldn't recognize. This is what exactly happened, that they do not recognize Christ. Christ has said the first and foremost thing a Christian has to do is to get rebirth. You, your Spirit has to come in your awareness. This is what He said and that attention is not there. We are organizing churches, we are organizing this, we are doing all other things. Living work is to be done. This is the living work and this is what it is. This is real true Christianity and true Islam and true everything because that is what they taught us, to be one with the Spirit. That's the main thing we are avoiding.

Interviewer: Can you describe what you believe is the purpose of us all being here? These days people seem to be searching more, seem to be more and more confused. I am sure there are many people who don't feel they are but there are an awful lot of people who do seem to be lost, do seem to be searching for some truth, some reason for being here. Can you explain, what You believe is a reason for being on Earth?

Shri Mataji: You see, they are seekers. Why? Because they have not found their own meaning; we have not found our meaning, we do not know. Even the science cannot explain why we have become human beings; Why the nature has taken so much trouble to discard so many animals and things and to make us as human beings; What is the purpose. They are trying to find out their purpose, Why are they here on this Earth? And they are here only for one purpose, is to become one with the Spirit so that they understand and enjoy the beauty of God's Kingdom.

Interviewer: We were created by God?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course. Who else you think could have created such a wonderful thing like a human being? Interviewer: Do you see the God being the same God that the Christians worship and the Muslims worship?

Shri Mataji: Yes, just the same.

Interviewer: It's all the same God?

Shri Mataji: That's not the Christians I would say, but that's what Bible has described is the same.

So there's a difference between what the Christians believe because they've put interpretations some times, you see.

Interviewer: Well, the Bible describes, for instance, in the first testament the very revengeful God, in many ways, a very angry God at times, that sort of stories. I am wondering how Your view of God fits into the Bible's description of God. Is it identical?

Shri Mataji: It is very much so. But you see, Bible was written at various places by various people and it was synchronized also. Christ's life was only for four years there and people didn't allow Him to talk much, you see. Just they just killed Him and crucified Him and He had His disciples who were just fishermen. How He could talk to them about Parasympathetic and Sympathetic and all those things? And they also did not believe Him till He got resurrection. It was a big problem at that time and that's why the whole thing becomes very narrow; though very deep.

So to understand Christianity, you must get your realisation, then you can go deep into it and see what He wanted to convey to us. There are many things you cannot explain like, “I will appear before you like tongues of flames. Those who are not against Me are with Me." Who are those people He is talking about? So all these things can be only explained once you get realisation. Now the concept of God is... the way people interpret is very funny, as if they think He is a rock of Gibraltar. One, God means that He doesn't have eyes, nose, everything, but He has aspects. God has many aspects and the aspect, that is, the witness act aspect of the God Almighty has another aspect, which is His Power. And this Power incarnates and this Power has three other Powers by which She creates, She desires and She wars. These three Powers are there and that's how there are many aspects of God out of which the God's aspect that they know of, is the God who is just a spectator. He is the spectator and His Power is the one that creates. He is the only spectator. Now, when He doesn't like [the] spectacle, when the people or whatever is created is no good, He takes out His attention and that's how it is destroyed and finished.

So He has to be punishing God also. Otherwise, human beings in their freedom do not know how far to go. They even challenge God. They do not believe in Him and then they have to learn it. Cancer is one of the things that's a punishment of God I think. Because we are too much occupied, preoccupied with our own problems and with our own understanding of life and we project ourselves too much into extremes, we go beyond human sustenance and we develop these diseases. And then a balance is needed. It's most surprising, even in nature you can see. When you work very hard, you get a Heart attack. When you work very hard with your brain, you get Heart attack. And when your work very hard with your Heart, means when you are say get very emotional and weep and cry, you get a brain damage.

Something so interesting, how the balance is even created by nature. It shows in the same way God also punishes us when we do not look after our sustenance, our human being, as He requires the different qualities to be maintained within us, like the gold has a quality that it is untarnishable.

In the same way human beings have these ten qualities described in the Ten Commandments and we, we just say, “What's wrong?" You see, this is all ego-oriented societies. They say, “What's wrong? What is wrong in it? Why should we condition ourselves?" But we forget that if we do not look after this right, our Ego develops and it becomes like a big balloon. We start seeing it, as if it is coming out like a horn and get you frightened. Then you take to drugs and alcohols, you want to run away and escape.

So can't bear your Ego. You just see the colours, all stuff coming on you.

So all these problems come because we do not understand that we have to keep a temperate mind, we have to be in moderation. We have to be in the center and not to go to extremes.

Interviewer: Mātājī, You mentioned a number of things that I wanted to question You about. One is Satan and You said that some of these people who have young followers in cults are Satanic and in just a moment we'll talk about that I think...

[Radio station specifics, advertisement.] My guest is a practicer of or teacher of Sahaja Yoga, Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She is in Australia to speak to Her followers and to speak to people who care [UNCLEAR] to listen about a method of discovering Self-realisation. I think that's the best way to put it...

Mātājī, we've talked about God, let's talk about Satan for a moment, You obviously believe there are evil forces?

Shri Mataji: Of course, there are evil forces, very many and they come to us from the left and the right side within us called as... left side is called the Collective Subconscious areas and the right side is called Collective Supraconscious area and these are the busy bodies.

Interviewer: To say that again, the Collective Subconscious area is the left hand side?

Shri Mataji: Yes, left hand side and Collective Supraconscious area on the right hand side. Now these are the areas, which are unknown areas as the doctors say, from where they get some attack of proteins, which like protein 58 and all that which attacks and triggers the cancer, you see. This I've said about ten-fifteen years back. But now the doctors have started seeing them and photographing them. Now these are the areas where all the dead spirits who were two types, one the sly type are on the left hand side and the ambitious type are on the right hand side.

Interviewer: Dead spirits?

Shri Mataji: Yes, spirits.

Interviewer: Inside the skull?

Shri Mataji: Inside us. You see we can approach them within ourselves. Now they are... that these areas are within us and we can get out of these areas also. Because if ours... we spread our attention side ways, we can go to these areas also. And once you go to these areas, those people who are sensible, who die sensibly or those who are realised Souls, they go to another areas where they are to be born again or they remain there. But those who are still dissatisfied or cruel people or Satanic forces, they remain around and these are the people actually manoeuvreed by people who try to mesmerize and they have their ways.

In Sanskrit language it is called as Preta Vidyā, means the knowledge of the dead. The knowledge of the Shmashāna, means the burial places. They go and practice these things there and try to overpower these spirits, those are evil ones and use them for mesmerizing and using them for their own purposes. It's a science known to India for many years, how people do these things. It's a evil science. Even in England, I was surprised, they had witchcraft and they knew about witches and all that. And still they are busy too much doing all these things. They...

Interviewer: Do these Spirits have a Power? Do You believe; these evil Spirits?

Shri Mataji: They, they have no Power. They are just like human beings who are dead, but they are evil people and they can enter into your psyche and they can affect you. They give you epilepsy.

So many of your emotional problems come from them; most of the lunacy I've seen. I mean all the lunatic people I have seen have this problem. Even the cancer people, I have seen, have the problem more from the...

Interviewer: How do you know they have this problem? Can you see a demon?

Shri Mataji: No, not by seeing, but you can feel them on their hands. For example, if you have a cancer patient facing you, you see, you find the left side, left hand starts shaking very much like a lunatic shakes and things and the heat starts coming from the left hand side. Not so much from the right hand side to begin with. That shows the affectation is from the subconscious area. I mean the collective subconscious area. Also epilepsy comes from the supraconscious area when the people start projecting themselves, say, they say that we want to fly in the air or they want to think too much ambitiously about things, to create gold out of something. All these nonsensical ideas you see. Then they project to the right side. And when they project to the right side, in the beginning, somebody who is on the right side can enter into the being and can posses and such a person can be very ego-oriented and can be successful for the time being. But then, riding two men or two human beings on one body, he becomes very tired and even at the sight of a thing like a garlic, that person starts racking. Even a church they see, they start racking.

Interviewer: A Church? Shri Mataji: Church even. Even a incense if they see, they start racking. Any temple they see, rattling; they cannot bear the name of God. They start rattling. All their nerves are finished; they become recluses after sometime. In the beginning they become very, sort of, active, over active and become very successful sort of people. But then they collapse and they collapse very badly.

Interviewer: Perhaps I should just ask You in that line, the whole idea of spirits and of evil spirits.

Does this come from an idea of reincarnation, of a sort of wheel of life? What do You believe happens after death?

Shri Mataji: You see, after death you would never die. Actually only there are five elements you are made of, out of which the earth element really falls off and the other four elements remain. And the water oozes out a little, little like that and you become a small entity, which is the Soul. The soul has got the Kuṇḍalinī on top of the head and the Spirit on top of the head and all the four elements are there intact.

So you, you can think you can do many things; you can materialise. For example, you can move any instrument that is here even without seeing the person. You can just move the things from here to there. But people must understand [that] this is not God's work. All these things are not God's work.

Like sitting down and talking to dead bodies and dead people is also very wrong, because there's no justice done to that. For example, if you say somebody loves the father or the mother; they want to talk to them.

Is very wrong because you must give them freedom, they belong to another area. And why do you want to entangle them with this present times, because they are in the past Now. You have to be in the present.

They have to be in the past. Leave them alone. Now, like, I would say...

Interviewer: Do they come back and are reborn, or not?

Shri Mataji: Yes, they come into you. I have seen now this disease anorexia, asthmas, can be cured.

Most of the people who get asthmas have a problem because their parents have died early.

Interviewer: This is asthma?

Shri Mataji: Asthma. Or may be that they have a bad father, or they have been bad fathers or something, now what we called the right Heart center and this can be cured. Today only I cured gentleman who had asthma trouble. Because of this, because he was pining for his father; his father died when he was twelve years of age, he was very much shocked. You have to just tell that, `Father you take your birth again,' thrice. It works out. Anorexia is another thing. Is the same thing...

Interviewer: Well, in the series of reincarnations, incarnation of the Spirit goes around and rises. It just comes back, is born again in another body and rises, becomes more and more knowledgeable or pure.

That's the theory of reincarnation, isn't it?... Is that what you believe?

Shri Mataji: Yes, I, I... not believe, but it is the truth because Christ didn't talk about it much.

Why Christ did not talk? Because it's a very, very controversial stuff. If you tell somebody that there is reincarnation, even today I find the same thing. Like Indians, the first thing they will ask, “What was My first birth?" Because you go into your past, you see. Christ wanted them to be in the present.

So He didn't discuss it. But He said, “I'll come again." How He will come if He cannot reincarnate? Interviewer: Well now, You believe the, the evil Spirits are people who have died and have not reincarnated?

Shri Mataji: Yes and some of them can be Satanic forces who have taken birth, [and] they have been doing always Satanic work. But people do not want to believe that there is something evil. They think that everything... that's very good of them to say that. But once Christ criticised others.

So they asked Him, “Why are you criticising? They do not criticise you." So He said, “The Satan is not going to speak against themselves." You see, is the only the holy person can see these two things. He is the only one who discriminates that these are Satanic.

Interviewer: I don't understand. I don't quite understand what you are saying. Could you repeat that?

Shri Mataji: You see, if the Satanic persons are there, they will always say that there's no Satan. How will they say there is a Satan? Because, then they will be found out.

So they always say there is no Satan; every thing is good, every thing is fine and that's how you enter into the lion's den, you see. To be really [UNCLEAR molested] to be tortured. But this is the only way one can say.

Interviewer: All right, we'll start after the break... [Announcement.] We will now take some calls...

Hello, yes good evening...

Gentleman: Hello, how are you? Interviewer: I am well. Thank you.

Gentleman: Look, can I ask Mātājī a question or...? Interviewer: Yes please, She's listening to you.

Gentleman: Right. Mātājī, how do we get the baptism as described by Christ? I think You said, “You must be baptized in the Holy Spirit."

Shri Mataji: You see, we have a center within us, as I told you before, between the pineal and pituitary body on the Optic Chiasma. A subtle center is there which is the center of Christ. Now, when you raise the Kuṇḍalinī you find that at this spot the Kuṇḍalinī stops if you have a little problem with Christ. For example, if you have been following Christ in a wrong way, in an unauthorized way without understanding Him or if you are not a forgiving person also, you might get this center blocked completely. This is the door, which leads to the limbic area, which is the kingdom of God. Now, when this center is blocked and you see the Kuṇḍalinī just pulsating there, then you have to take the name of Christ. A Sahaja Yogi has to take the name of Christ and request Christ that, `Please be awakened on this center.' When he says only Christ's name, no other name and that of Mary, then only this Kuṇḍalinī rises through that center.

Christ's other name in Sanskrit language is Mahāviṣhṇu.

So you can also take His name as Mahāviṣhṇu by which the Kuṇḍalinī rises; you see it. And the person becomes thoughtlessly aware. That's how you get your realisation through Christ only, as far as this center is concerned; because this is the last center where you enter into the realm of limbic area, which is actually the kingdom of God. But from there, you have to get realisation through another center, which is the last one.

Interviewer: Can I ask just here how, how this all comes about? Does one meditate? How does one start this all happening?

Shri Mataji: It's like, as I told you, that they... in the beginning they stretch their hands or you can say the palms towards Me as we do in the Namaz and then...

Interviewer: That's stretching the hands out?

Shri Mataji: Yes, stretching the hands. Yes, like that. And then from the fingers ends the energy flows inside and invites the Kuṇḍalinī; tells that there is somebody who is the authority. Then the Kuṇḍalinī starts rising. It's a very quick thing.

Some people get it in a split of a second, if their Kuṇḍalinī is all right; if they are simple people, not complicated; [UNCLEAR ia] they do not have any emotional problems and all that. They are very quick; they just get it in no time.

But those who have problems have these pulsations. You can see them going here and there. If you have a liver problem, you see the Kuṇḍalinī going to the liver and just sitting there and giving energy to sustain it. Like that. Then it rises gradually and you see the gradual progress of the Kuṇḍalinī. And those who have got anywhere obstruction, you have to say a mantra or a chanting or an awakening thing which awakens a particular Deity.

Interviewer: So, it is a sort of meditation?

Shri Mataji: You become in meditation. You cannot meditate, you become. It is the becoming; you cannot do meditation. There is no technique for it; it's a happening which is spontaneous. But afterwards when you have got realisation, when your Kuṇḍalinī is awakened, to increase its expansion, to have better Chakras and all that, you can repair it with a technique. But after realisation, not before it. You have to make your car start to see where there is mistake, you see.

Interviewer: Right.

So You are saying at this point once you've taken the Kuṇḍalinī into you or opened yourself up to the Kuṇḍalinī, that you can then call upon God or Christ to, into you?

Shri Mataji: No, Christ is within you. He resides in this point, as I told you, in the Āgñyā Chakra which is placed between the subtle center between the pituitary and the pineal body. He is there, but He is not yet awakened. In the sense, He is awakened by Himself but He is not come in our consciousness.

When the Kuṇḍalinī reaches there, She suggests that there is a... Christ is not allowing the Kuṇḍalinī to pass through. He is not allowing, He is not happy, so you have to request Him that, “Please allow the Kuṇḍalinī to pass." But this request must go from a realised Soul, from an authorized person or you can even sometimes manoeuvre it by giving some vibrations in that area through your hand, or may be through the photograph or something and then the Kuṇḍalinī rises. You have to take His name. That is what...

Interviewer: Now, how is this different from what Christians say when they say you should open up and let the Christ, let Christ into you? Is that the same thing?

Shri Mataji: No, because that's just a lip service. This is a real thing; if it doesn't happen, doesn't happen. It happens, it happens. It's just a lip service, nothing happens to your fontanelle bone area after baptism, nothing happens to your eyes. It should be dilated when it is opened out. Nothing happens to you, it's just a lip service. You do like this. It's all artificial like, I'd say that `You eat this food,' there is no food; `You take it in your hand,' there's no plate. You just imagine that there is plate, there is food and you eat, will you get the satisfaction? Interviewer: Interesting, I don't know whether the call of yours, the question, has been answered.

Gentleman: [UNCLEAR].

Interviewer: Thanks for calling. The caller mentioned “baptism as described by Christ." What did he mean by that?

Shri Mataji: This is the same thing He said. Every word that He said is to be proved today through realisation, because after realisation you are connected to the mains and a rapport is established.

Interviewer: What did He say? That follow me and you will... [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Yes He said, “you have to be born again." Again and again He said, “you have to be born again." But when I went to America and I said, “You have to be born again” so everybody was sitting with tape recorder and all that and they taped all My speeches. And people warned Me that they will publish books, these are writers.

So I said, “Let them publish." So they started also some cults saying, “Born again” you see. How can you have self-certification like that? If you are born again, you should be able to tell about the Chakras of another person in your own Chakras and about the Kuṇḍalinī. Isn't it? Interviewer: What's a Chakra?

Shri Mataji: Chakras are the subtle centers through which this Kuṇḍalinī rises. These are subtle centers within us placed in our backbone and also in the brain, which are the milestones of our evolution.

Interviewer: All right, well... As the caller said, it's a bit mind blowing but we'll keep talking about it. And let's talk about Self-realisation as Mātājī Nirmalā Devī sees it. She is indeed a remarkable person and has given us an awful lot to talk about.

Some of it is very difficult, I guess, to understand. It's a concept that I certainly have not heard about before. And all the talk about the energy within us, the life forces within us... And so many people have talked about the forces we are supposed to have within our Spirit or our soul or physical and spiritual bodies. Tonight we are talking to someone who has a definite concept of what that's all about and if you would like to talk to Her...

[Advertisement.] Interviewer: And tonight on the Forum, we are looking at the subject of Self-realisation and talking about Sahaja Yoga and its practice and my guest tonight is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī. And perhaps just to recap, I can read from the brochure about Sahaja Yoga and its practice. After many years of careful and tremendously successful experimentation we feel it is time to tell all genuine seekers that Sahaja Yoga, the discovery of Her Holiness Mātājī Nirmalā Devī, can definitely take one to the higher dimensions of consciousness, which has been promised by all the scriptures. It opens within us the central channel leading to the inner space of peace and joy, of complete integration and harmony; it happens. Sleeping within each of us there is a potential, spiritual energy called Kuṇḍalinī. This Shakti and a very complex mechanism relating to it, is not revealed before the happening of Self-realisation. At this blessed moment, Kuṇḍalinī rises within the spine and pierces the fontanelle membrane at the top of the head. The subject feels, then, pervaded by total silence and exquisite well-being. He is absolutely aware but without thoughts and He feels in his hands a kind of wind of vibrations. The experience can be weak or, on the contrary, very powerful depending upon the conditions of the inner mechanism of the subject at the time of the experience. The guidances of the great Sat Gurus, Sat Gurus of the past who taught us the rules of Dharma who are meant to keep this delicate mechanism fit for Kuṇḍalinī rising.

Well, that's part of this thing called Sahaja Yoga and that's what we've been talking about. My guest is the discoverer, is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She is here to talk to us tonight.

Interviewer: Can I ask you what these words Dharma and Karma… what do they mean?

Shri Mataji: Dharma is the sustenance, sustenance within us. A I told you before that human beings have ten sustenances as described, ten commandments in the Bible. This is the sustenance of human beings. If he has to be a human being, he has to have these sustenances within them. In the animals the sustenance is there with no free will for the animals to change it. For example, a lion remains a lion, a mango remains a mango; It cannot change itself. But human beings can become a lion or a scorpion or can become even a snake or can become a tiger.

So human beings only have the free will to change their sustenance. But to be human being is very important, so that you become a super human being. Unless and until you have Dharma within you, you cannot go beyond it. Because these sustenances then get enlightened, then you become. Then you have no temptations. Nobody has to tell you, `Do not get into temptation.' Nobody has to tell you then, `Don't tell lies'; nobody has to tell you that, `Don't steal.' You just don't do it because you become that. You become that light. This is what happens through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. The another word is Karma is very interesting. Karma is the fruit of the action that we have been doing, whether good or bad. Now, this was all said very long, long time back, much before Christ when people had all their sins and all their Karmas or good things or bad things stored in them and they had no way of getting out of it. They had to go through various circles of birth and rebirth, again and again, to overcome all those things. For example, a person, say, he is an ardent Muslim.

So he will be born an ardent Hindu next life. Like that he goes on choosing and ultimately he reaches certain conclusions that you have to be in the center, you don't have to go any extremes. You are not to be a fanatic or you are not to deny God. But you reach a stage where it is beyond you. Then Christ came on this Earth as the son of God and He died for our sins. Means He is the one who has created a door for us by which our Karmas can be absorbed.

So now, when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, when She crosses through this Āgñyā Chakra, the position I told you where Christ resides within us is a subtle center between the pituitary and pineal body on the Optic Chiasma is the one. That one gets opened up and that allows the Kuṇḍalinī to suck your ego and superego, both.

So taking out all that is supposed to be the Karma and that's how, when the Kuṇḍalinī awakens, She takes most of it. Your Karmas just dissolves, if the force is great, the whole of it can be dissolved. But...

Interviewer: So Karma is like your, your sins?

Shri Mataji: No, it is a myth. Actually it is a myth because for animals there is no, nothing like Karma because animals do not think they are doing anything. If a, if a tiger has to attack a man, He has to attack because he must eat. He doesn't think it's a sin. But human beings in their freedom start feeling they are doing it. You see, they think they are doing this. They are doing nothing.

They are just doing dead work. You see this is all dead, from dead to the dead. Can you ask anyone of them to transform a flower into fruit? Human beings do not do one living work. It's only dead work they do. Like some birds take some straws and make a nest; they don't think we have done something. But human beings, they say, “Oh, we have built this building, we have done this” and also they have harnessed some of the material powers, you see, like electricity, you can say and other things. And then they think we have done this and we have done that, is a myth. And this myth drops out because living work is very different from what is a dead work is.

So this myth that `I am doing,' just drops out.

Interviewer: Interesting. All right, let's take another call... Hello.

Gentleman: Good evening. There are a lot of things to say. I have to start off by asking, “Is the Christ the conscious contact between the human and the Divine and was this link recognized and protected by the man Jesus?"

Shri Mataji: No, He could not. You did not allow Him, He was crucified. I wish it could have been done that time but it was not. You just... it was very premature. You never... the people never gave Him any chance. I mean they just crucified Him for nothing at all. They never understood, they never recognized.

Interviewer: But is the Christ the link between man and the Divine?

Shri Mataji: Of course. He is the door.

Interviewer: The door?

Shri Mataji: Yes, but He is not the destination. Destination is the Spirit which is also Christ, in a way, which can be explained later on, if they come to our center; how Christ is everywhere. Because He is the embodiment of Divine Love; He is the embodiment of that Power which flows in your hand. He is the Spirit.

Interviewer: Well, the Man, the Man Jesus, if we had let Him live, would have been able to open this door for all of us?"

Shri Mataji: It should have happened, but they did not. One could have worked it out, but it's rather difficult.

Gentleman: He obviously did recognize the [UNCLEAR] else He wouldn't have been able to resurrect Himself?

Shri Mataji: Yes, He will.

Interviewer: The point the caller was making was, “Christ did realise this and He was able to resurrect Himself."

Shri Mataji: You see He was, He was the Divine Power. Nobody can kill Divine Power. That's what Kṛiṣhṇa had said that it cannot be killed and that's what He proved. What Kṛiṣhṇa said He proved it very well that He cannot be killed and that's how He was resurrected. And that resurrection is the message of Christianity that you all should be resurrected. You should become your Spirit and not this body.

Gentleman: That is He is saying to us, “Don't make Me an idol, make Me the Ideal." Interviewer: He is saying that Christ said, “Don't make Me an idol, make Me the ideal."

Shri Mataji: That's true. You see, if you now get your realisation you will understand Him much better. You will do full justice to Him and you'll recognize Him also and you'll recognize Me. You never recognize. None of you could recognized any one of the incarnations who came on this Earth and how we tortured them and troubled them. But now after realisation, through your vibrations you can recognize because if Christ comes, you will see, the vibrations in your hand will increase tremendously.

Interviewer: How many? Have there been any other, I am not just putting a question here, have there been any other men apart from Jesus, who have been as Holy as Jesus was?

Shri Mataji: There have been so many incarnations of different aspects of God on this Earth. Much before Christ was, the first one was that of Śhrī Rāma, we can say, as a human being who came and He lived like an ideal King. Because, He had to say what an ideal King and a ideal Man has to be. And His wife was the Holy Spirit with Him. Then came Kṛiṣhṇa, who was another incarnation of Śhrī Rāma, that aspect of a father and then came Christ. Also Abraham, Moses and Mohammed Sahib, Nanak, Janak, all these great people.

Interviewer: These are all Holy men?

Shri Mataji: These are, these are prophets and these prophets are actually the embodiment of a principle called as Primordial Master, Ādi Guru and they incarnated on this Earth. And the main of them are ten and they reside in the visceral cavity we have in the stomach.

Interviewer: Are you, are you a prophet? Are you an incarnation, yourself?

Shri Mataji: That you better find out. I am not going to say anything about Myself because whenever they try to say the truth even, we crucified, Christ only tried to say that. Kṛiṣhṇa told to one disciple only.

Rāma never told even to His father. And if I now do not take advantage of experiences, then it won't be good.

Interviewer: [Laughs.] [Both laugh.]... OK [laughs]...

Shri Mataji: I must be something. But if you had the knowledge of Hindu scriptures you would know what I must be. The way Kuṇḍalinī rises in My presence it has a definite significance and it is described very clearly what sort of a person can do that.

Gentleman: What is the spelling of this particular form of Yoga? Interviewer: S a h a j a.

Gentleman: What does the Mātājī think of, or what can She say about people called Siddha people? Interviewer: Are they in Australia? I think we have to be careful that we are not talking about any particular groups. I don't think we want to name any particular group...

Shri Mataji: No, No, No, No. There is no need to have any controversy. Only thing you should judge, one thing, what have they achieved; have they got their own powers? Those who are followers. This is the main thing. Have you got your own Powers? Are you Master of yourself? Do you know what you are doing? Do you know? Can you feel others, can you feel yourself? Can you say exactly, what's wrong with you? Exactly can you say what's wrong with others? This is what it is. Are you fully aware? That's how you judge yourself. Not by names and things, is not proper. Because, have you achieved it? Interviewer: I think that's the answer of the question.

Gentleman: I read a series of books called `Life's teachings of the Masters of the Far East' written by an American who was born in India and migrated...

Interviewer: What is it called? Gentleman: `The Life and teachings of the masters of the Far East'.

Interviewer: And who was it by? Gentleman: A man named [Baird T.] Spalding. He wrote them over a number of years. The first in 1924 and the last in 1955 and he is talking about a journey in India, in the Himālayas and he was quoting from ancient preachings and these preachings were attributed to these people called Siddha. And this name of course pops up in a lot of Indian literature and...

Interviewer: Siddha? Gentleman: Siddha. There's another word [UNCLEAR]. This word Siddha seems to pop up in a lot of reading that I have done.

Interviewer: I request Mātājī to comment. What is Siddha?

Shri Mataji: I'll tell you. Siddha means the one who has got realisation, who has been proved, who has got realisation. But not... you cannot have a self-certificate `I am a' by paying some money to some one, you see, or by doing something. It is a happening, which is living happening. Again I say that there is no effort. You cannot put in any effort. What effort did you put to become a human being from a monkey? You just became spontaneously. In the same way it is effortless. It should just happen effortlessly, that is first thing. And you cannot pay for it. Now, the books and books and books, they are to be written.

This is another kind of exploitation, is to write books about somebody. If an American goes to India, or anybody goes to India, did he have eyes to see? Did he have eyes to recognize? How can he say anything about somebody who is a Siddha or not? You cannot make out anybody who is a Siddha or not unless and until you are a realised Soul yourself. You must have eyes to see. In darkness if you walk and you are blind, what are you going to write? I mean, I have seen people writing huge books about Kuṇḍalinī and they don't know where the Kuṇḍalinī is. I mean, it's surprising such honest people how they indulge into this because somebody writes. How much does it take to write? You take... I mean you pay little money and you just can write any book you feel like. How many books did Christ read? There's no need to read any book. By reading if you are going to get realisation then it's a very surprising thing.

Interviewer: But Siddha is someone who has...

Shri Mataji: That means that. I mean this is self-certification, you see. Just say that you are a Siddha because you have paid so much money, fees or something like that. That's not the way. Siddha is a person who is a Self-realised person, who is, who is being proved. Siddha means the one who has been proved to be a realised person and that's a high state where you are collectively conscious; that you know how to raise the Kuṇḍalinī; that you can give realisation and that you understand everything. The whole technique of it is the Siddha; not the one who, who pays the money and becomes a something. It's not that way.

Interviewer: Does that answer your question? Gentleman: Oh, yes. I was aware that money should not be the object. The thing is in what direction you are going. When you see the cost, it's obviously not...

Interviewer: We've got people waiting with their questions.

Gentleman: All right.

Interviewer: Thanks for calling. [Radio station specifics.] My guest tonight is a yogi and a mother who is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī, who is here to give a program of public talks to Her followers and anybody who would like to come along. The dates for the talks for those who are interested, we had lot of people calling to find out, will be this Wednesday and this Friday night at Maccabean Hall, 146, Darlinghurst Road, Darlinghurst at 7:30 p.m. If you would like to hear Mātājī talk. Mātājī, You did say that this energy that we can get from You perhaps can be got through the Radio, from Your voice, by reaching out hands, palms facing upwards...

Shri Mataji: Yes and listening to Me. If you put your hands towards Me, facing towards Me as if you are asking for something. And if you listen to Me, I think it can work out. Because in big roofs like six thousand and seven thousand people in India where we don't have such good system of also broadcasting and I have seen people getting Realisation only through My voice and they don't even see Me so clearly.

Now what you have to do is to just stretch your hands towards Me thinking that I am there and close your eyes. Now...

Interviewer: Not if you are driving?

Shri Mataji: Not if you're driving. Then you have to stop your car for a while because your, your eyes might get dilated.

So it's better to stop your car and just stretch your hands and if you could loosen your feet from your shoes will be a better idea. Even to take out your feet out of your shoes will be good idea and a loosen little bit of your tie if you have any and sit in a relaxed manner. Now, for raising the Kuṇḍalinī I'll have to see the different centers, normally, that you catch, you see and in general I will be able to tell you what is to be done. Now, what I feel is [that] the first center that you are catching now is the center where you are feeling guilty; because when I talk to you, you must have picked up on some words which makes you feel guilty. And this again I have to tell you that you should not feel guilty any more. Because Christ has done the job for you.

So you should say, `I am not guilty.' It's a very big fashion, in Australia specially, to feel guilty all the time. I don't know what is the training is.

Interviewer: To be a sinner, original sinner.

Shri Mataji: No you are not. Your sins have been taken away. Why? What's the use of Christ coming on this Earth? If you are a originally sinner, all right. Now, why did He come on this Earth? So you should say, `I am not guilty.' Get over this feeling. `I am not guilty.' That's another thing the Christians are doing now is to ask people to confess. Why to confess? I mean Christ has done that for you. Whatever you have been committed, sins and all that, will be forgiven. If the Kuṇḍalinī rises, it's all forgiven.

So you have to go on saying that, `I am not guilty.' I can feel the center now, sitting down here. Most of you are having this very big center in you saying that you are guilty. First of all you have to go on saying thrice or four times that, `I am not guilty.' It's very important. Then the second center, which you are catching, is also very Australian style combination. What we call is the left navel center.

It comes from your spleen. That means you are a speedy person. You are extremely speedy and you talk telescopically, you walk telescopically. You have no time for breakfast, no time for lunch and you make your spleen absolutely crazy. And this crazy spleen is a very dangerous thing. It leads you ultimately to something very, very serious which I would not like to mention to frighten you. But this speediness must be brought down. Now, to bring the speediness down, what you have to say that, `I have all the time for Meditation. I have all the time for God. I have all the time for everything. I am not in a hurry at all.' Just say like that; it will help you a lot. `I am not in a hurry.' That's the thing. At this time, specially in such a relaxed program, at least at this time you can say, `Oh I am not in a hurry.' Just say that. This will bring down your speed. You are extremely speedy and that shows on My fingers and on My toes. I can feel it that you are speedy. Then, some of you have been to unauthorized Gurus and to unauthorized people. In that case you have to say, `Mother, am I my own Guru?' Just ask the question thrice; just say, `Mother, am I my own Guru?' If I say that, again you catch on the guilt. If I say anything you don't catch on the guilt because once you say, `I am not guilty,' you are not guilty for anything.

So when I say to you, you just say this what I am saying that `Am I my own Guru, Mother, after realisation?' Just ask the question. Now another thing we have to do is to forgive others. Really we should forgive. Go on saying, `I forgive everyone. Mother, I forgive everyone'; say it thrice. It will help you. It will relax you very much.

Go on saying, `I forgive.' Actually, Lord's Prayer is a mantra. Is a chanting on the same Āgñyā Chakra I told you, where Christ resides, on the Optic Chiasma. That's what you have to say. `I forgive. I forgive.

I forgive.' Moreover, when you don't forgive, what are you doing? It's a myth. You are just torturing yourself for others. You are not torturing them whom you are not forgiving. It is they who are torturing you and you are playing into their hands.

So you go on saying, `I forgive. I forgive. I forgive. I forgive all of them.' This will relax you very much. You'll have no thought in your mind. Close your eyes. Closing of the eyes is important because when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, there is dilatation of the pupil.

So better close your eyes. Now, you have to say that `Mother forgive us,' or you can say to God that, `Please forgive us if we have done anything knowingly or unknowingly against God.' This is to be said without feeling guilty, again. Without feeling guilty you should say that because once you say it, it is forgiven. It is forgiven.

Then there should be no guilt. If it is forgiven, why should there be a guilt? This is a big disease, I think, in the west to feel guilty about everything. You have to get over. This is a very bad disease and it gives you lots of problems starting from Spondylitis of the neck and then rest of them come after that.

So not to feel guilty at all. You have to love yourself and you must know that you are men of God and women of God, are to be made prophets. And once you are made prophets, you can make others prophets. This is what William Blake has said about the times of Sahaja Yoga. He has clearly said all these things. Not only He has said where we are going to have a Ashram in Lambethway, we have our Ashram in the Runes [UNCLEAR], the foundations will be laid. He has said also where I will first go to England, is the Surrey Hills. All these things He has so clearly said it. It's all going to happen to you because you deserve it. Now after saying, `Forgive me' thrice, you have to ask for your realisation. You say, `Mother, give me my Realisation.' Say twice, thrice and you start feeling the Cool Breeze in your hand. After sometime you'll find even the Cool Breeze coming out of your head, on top of your head on the fontanelle bone area. You will find there's Cool Breeze coming out like a jet. And if there is air conditioning, you better close it because it will quite cool now. You'll feel very relaxed, extremely relaxed, will be thoughtless. Now don't think about it, it has not happened to you by thinking.

So don't think about it; it is beyond thinking. And do come and see Me in Maccabean Hall, where you will have to grow more and understand more about it. It's like the sprouting of the seed, which has, which takes place without much difficulties. But as Christ Himself has said that “Some seeds fell on the rock and some fell in the waste in the same time” it happens with us also.

So it is better to know how to make this germination manifest itself into a big tree.

May God bless you all.

Interviewer: You are listening to the Forum and my guest to night is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She is talking tonight about Self-realisation and I hope you are enjoying the program. It is interesting to me; It is something quite different. Mātājī will be giving a program of talks this Wednesday and this Friday night at 7:30 at Maccabean Hall, Dunning Hurst road, Dunning Hurst.

Mother, I am not sure what to call You. I don't know what I should call You. How do I describe what You are?

Shri Mataji: Just call Me Mother. That's all, sufficient.

Interviewer: Does that describes what You are?

Shri Mataji: Yes, that describes everything.

Interviewer: All right. We have with us the Mother.

Lady: Hello Mother.

Shri Mataji: Yes.

Lady: I wanted to know, is the Cool Breeze that You have spoken about, you feel on the hands the cool wind of the Holy Spirit, as spoken about in the Bible?

Shri Mataji: Yes. Yes, yes, same thing, same thing. You have done the good job now, I must say.

Interviewer: Is it the Holy Spirit?

Shri Mataji: Yes, of course, is the Holy Spirit.

Lady: Aha... I am feeling it now on my hand through the [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: It's good.

Interviewer: Did you want to say anything more than that? Lady: No, I just... That's all I wanted to know because I...

Shri Mataji: Because you are thoughtless now. Enjoy yourself.

Lady: Thank you.

Interviewer: Hello.

Lady: Hello.

Interviewer: Yes, good evening.

Lady: Good evening and good evening Mother Mātājī.

Lady: Mother, when You began Your program, I think I heard You say that cancer invading the body could be an evil spirit. Is that what is understood?

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes. It comes through, you see, invasion of some of these things within you. Even a virus infection is coming from some vegetables who where out of circulation of evolution...

Lady: Yes...

Shri Mataji: are affecting virus. And also these other proteins they talk of are nothing but some sort of a infection from the collective subconscious area from the left hand side. That's what I have seen so far in the all the cancer patients that either they have been to black magic, or their parents have been to someone, or they've been to some sort of a clairvoyance or some sort of a thing like that, or one of these Gurus or some sort of like that, which is an unauthorized things to deal. Even psychologist can do that.

Interviewer: So you are saying, You believe that Cancer is an Evil Spirit?

Shri Mataji: No, I didn't say that. Cancer is triggered by an entry of some sort of an unauthorized handling of the left sympathetic nervous system, to put it very precisely and scientifically.

Lady: Yea, I tried to understand You Mother Mātājī, but not quite. My father had cancer and I developed it six years ago in exactly the same part of my body as my father had it.

Shri Mataji: Yes. May be your father is to be told that `I am all right. Don't worry about me. You get your birth and get your realisation.' Lady: Yes.

Shri Mataji: And he can leave you. And you can be perfectly all right if he leaves you, because he is worried about you.

Lady: Yes. And an another thing Mother. My daughter had a very serious car accident and she has epilepsy through the injury to her brain. I, I cannot accept her. It is over fifteen years ago. I haven't been able to accept this crippling of her body and I wonder if your Sahaja Yoga would help me.

Shri Mataji: It is still helping, but is she a seeker? Interviewer: She said her daughter. Her daughter had a car accident and developed epilepsy...

Lady: But I have not accepted to see that beautiful body of my daughter now so crippled and I cannot... I try very hard to accept it. But I can't, Mother.

Shri Mataji: See, you can cure her through Sahaja Yoga. You must come and see Me at the Maccabean Hall and I'll tell you how to do it. It's not difficult.

Lady: Yes.

Shri Mataji: But if the bones are been removed and if doctors have put some sort of a dead material, then I won't be able to work it out.

Lady: But the doctors have told me that there are so many cells of the brain that are absolutely dead and will never ever be regenerated.

Shri Mataji: Let us see, we might try.

Interviewer: I think, perhaps I should say that we are not in the business of healing people over the radio and it think it will lead to a lot of trouble if we pretend we are so that's not what we are suggesting.

Mother Mātājī is simply saying that she believes that this may work out.

So the best thing is perhaps to go and see Her.

Lady: Very well. Thank you.

Interviewer: It's an area we've got be careful with I think. [News break.]... [Advertisement.] My guest is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She is from... originally from India and is now living in England and She is touring Australia for a series of lectures. This week it'll be on Wednesday and Friday night at 7:30 at the Maccabean Hall.

Interviewer: Mātājī, I wondered if I can just ask you about the daily troubles that we have. For instance, I am generally worrying about my business and financial pressures and so on that I have in a business I set up it goes up and down all the time. How does this sort of approach help us sort out daily, daily worries like financial worries?

Shri Mataji: Within us we have a center which is called as the Navel center which is responsible for looking after our well being, financial, material all these day-to-day problems as you call it. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa has said that, “After Yoga I look after your well being, but after Yoga." First you must be united with the Divine Power, then you become a member, or you can say a citizen, of God's owned province and He looks after you. As your government, Australian Government looks after you, in the same way the Divine Power looks after you and your financial problems gets solved. They get completely solved. But you do not get over rich or extremely rich. If you are very poor you become all right. The main thing is the satisfaction that you get out of your endeavours and your financial things. For example: I will give you a simple example of this thing. They came and they asked Me, “Mother, what would you like to buy in Australia?" They told Me, “We import everything here, so what would you like to buy?" I said, “I would like to see a crockery shop." Now, they took Me. They wanted to take Me to a particular crockery shop.

But they took Me to another one saying that you cannot park the car here and there I met a lady who was given realisation a year back and is a great seeker. But she is lost because she started sort of getting more busy with other things of life, mundane life and I just met her there. And after meeting her, it was such a, such a satisfaction to her, she said “Mother, I couldn't come to your program so you have come all the way just to see me." And they couldn't understand why I wanted to go to a crockery shop, you see.

Now what happens that when you are realised, your dimensions are so much alert that you start seeing things in a much better perspective. Like a business, immediately you know how far to go with it, the acumen, the business acumen as they say, just start getting you that enlightenment. For example, there was a gentleman who had lost his job when he came to Me. He got his realisation and I told him, “All right, now you do some business." He said, “What should I do?" I said, “All right, start with carpentry” because, because of Christ I think I like carpentry very much. He said, “Carpentry, I am very bad at it." I said, “All right, take to interior decoration." He said, “I don't know what is the wood is. I don't know." Interviewer: Sorry, I did not quite follow... He said...

Shri Mataji: I don't know what wood is. I mean, I don't know what are the different styles of woods are, what is veneer, I don't know a word about it. I said, “You will know everything. Just try your vibratory awareness." And he started his decoration and he got lots of people coming to him and asking for him; and he just started arranging all the different woods and different styles of things and people were very happy with it; and he has made remarkable things. He has made lot of money out of it and people are still calling him for that work because he just suddenly developed that awareness by which he produced things, which were aesthetic and were appealing to people. Another thing is, those evil forces also bring you down. Like, we had a gentleman in Poona who was very bad at his business. Nobody would come to his shop and he was not selling anything. He said, “Mother, will you come to my shop one day?" I said, “It's rather difficult for Me. But one day I'll just... If I can, I'll just drop in." I went there. After that he started getting lots of people in his shop and now he's become a rich man. He couldn't understand why, how it has happened. Only My going there has worked so much.

[Second Part:] Lady:... Spirituality. Would Mātājī say any of these cults are valid, or is Sahaja Yoga the only true path? Interviewer: Is this Sahaja Yoga the only true path?

Shri Mataji: I wouldn't say so bluntly, because you'll be shocked. But I'll tell you the other way round that if you have to germinate the seed, what do you do? You have to sprout the germination. Isn't it? You have to germinate the primule of a seed. Isn't that... That's the only way you do it. Isn't it? There's no way, other way out.

So in the same way, if you have to get your realisation, it's only the Kuṇḍalinī awakening and it is done through Sahaja Yog only. But today it has taken a shape of Mahā Yog. Means a great happening by which there is en mass realisation. There are people who are getting realisation in a mass. It's not only one individual or two individual, but masses after masses have to get realisation. Now if you say, `Which is the way a flower has to become a fruit?' There's only one way. There are no two ways. Living things do not have two ways and five alternatives. These are all for human beings to take lots of decisions and do all these things. But for any living thing, it's only one way it works out and that's how it is. The germination within you, which is a living force of the living God, is the only way, is the Kuṇḍalinī awakening.

And that's why we can say Sahaja is the only way. It is; there's no other way out.

Lady: Well, Mātājī, for those people who are seeking and who don't want to come to Sahaja Yoga, what'll happen to them?

Shri Mataji: You see, they should come. Why not? They, they will all come and I can see your concern. Same concern I have. But they go after circuses; they go after people who are false; those who take money from them; those who befool them. They do not want to come to reality. What can you do about it? The choice is your own.

Lady: Thank you very much.

Interviewer: Thanks for calling. What happens if they don't come?

Shri Mataji: They just don't come because they don't like reality. See they crucified Christ, why? They didn't like Him, why? Interviewer: They were frightened?

Shri Mataji: They were frightened; they are just frightened for nothing at all. Perhaps they are possessed, some of them. They are ego-oriented? Interviewer: All right. It's three minutes to eleven... Hello...

Lady: [UNCLEAR] I would like to ask a few questions. You mentioned that diseases are only expressions of spiritual and emotional disarray.

Interviewer: You mentioned that diseases are expression of emotional and...

Shri Mataji: Physical imbalances.

Lady: That asthma could be caused by one of a person's parents dying young. I, I've always believed that diseases are caused by an expression of spiritual disarray because someone is not obeying their Karma.

I wonder if you would like to elaborate a bit on that? Is it the bad Karma not being obeyed or could have some result for instance. Or is a disease caused because of one's parents, a child's parents died young.

[UNCLEAR].

Interviewer: Mātājī is having difficulty in understanding you. If you could just speak a little more slowly.

Lady: You mentioned, in speaking, that diseases are caused by spiritual and emotional disarray in a person. I am interested to know, or to reconcile, how some diseases could be caused, you mentioned asthma for instance, could be caused in a person?

Shri Mataji: You see, first you mentioned about Karma. First thing I must tell you, what we understand in Karma is something very, very narrow also. You see, supposing you are in imbalance, all right? Now, if your father or anybody's father, for example, you are too attached to your father and if such a thing happens that your father leaves you or something happens like that, your principle of father in you is shaken. I mean this is not your Karmas, but this is your father's Karma that it shakes you. Or may be his death is not your Karma nor his Karma. But something like that happens while you have been so attached that, that portion is shaken up, because human beings are very delicate things. As they are very aware they have to be extremely delicate and very beautifully made. As you see any machinery, which is very sensitive, is extremely delicate. In the same way, human beings are extremely sensitive and delicate and we don't know how to handle ourselves. That's why the problems come in. But the Karma business is very gross stuff.

Interviewer: Mātājī, I would just stop you there and we will come back to this after the news. We must pause for the network news, we...

Lady: Yes, Thank you.

Interviewer: Thank you. Right and we'll be back after the news and we'll talk some more about Self-realisation and stay tuned with us... [News.] Tonight we are talking about Self-realisation and my guest is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She is here tonight to talk about the technique, perhaps, by which we can free ourselves from the physical and emotional and mental disorders that are caused by the stresses of modern life as they say, one way to put it. Just before the news we were talking to a caller and we were talking about Karma, which to put it in modern terms would be all pluses and minuses of your past life, of your life until now and this is within you and the caller was asking whether this is responsible for illness and Mātājī is answering. I think, if I've got it right, that we don't need to feel guilty and we don't need to get any poison out of ourselves and we don't need to try to clear ourselves of past deeds or past sins but we need to progress now to a higher state of consciousness of Self-realisation and let's ask the caller.

Are you there? Lady: Yes.

Interviewer: Mātājī was talking about Karma.

Lady: Right. She has answered the question. Can I ask another one? Interviewer: Sure.

Lady: About the Kuṇḍalinī... I have a friend who meditated for about six or eight hours. He has unfortunately gone through an awful, emotional experience. He did not experience the Cool Breeze but rather a burning fire.

Shri Mataji: That's very true. If you do not know how to do it, you get all these problems. Like villagers coming to the city, putting their hands into the plug and saying that the electricity only burns you. You see, it is to be done by a person who knows the job, who is authorized and such a person has to be a holy person. It cannot be done, everyone.

So somebody who knows the job, in the sense not scientifically but through the authority of God, should be able to do it.

So it is always the fire and all these business come because, not the Kuṇḍalinī that punishes you. Kuṇḍalinī is your own individual Mother. She does not punish. But there is a deity, sitting at the base of the Kuṇḍalinī. It gets very annoyed and it starts lashing you on the sympathetic nervous system. But it's not that only you feel fire.

Sometimes people even get blisters and things. Is a wrong way of doing a thing.

Interviewer: Just from meditation?

Shri Mataji: Yes. You see, if you try to do... there are certain nonsensical things they do, which I do not want to talk here. But all these nonsensical things can lead to problems.

Lady: Another question? Regards, I guess it regards Karma and Dharma once again. God said that we were all created equal and we are. But then, we are not born equal. And we're not born equal because of our past and our reincarnations. I was wondering if in the end whether we will all have been reincarnated the same number of times, every person on earth? Interviewer: Is there an end? Are we heading to an end where we will all be reincarnated the same number of times?

Shri Mataji: Yes, you are reincarnated again and again. Improved on to, like an instrument is always improved on one after another, isn't it? But now the time has come for you to manifest the purpose for which you have been made.

So you become that like a light is in the process of being made till it becomes a light. Then it is put to the mains. Then what is the job of the light? Is just to give the light; It has become that now.

Interviewer: Right, is there an end to... Is there an end for all of this at one point? Are we all heading to one end?

Shri Mataji: You see, first you get germinated, then you grow into a tree. Then you want to come back again to help others. It's out of compassion.

Interviewer: But there's no end; it keeps going?

Shri Mataji: And if you want to end it, you can end it. But you like it. You want to come back again and again to help people.

Interviewer: But for all of us, there's no end?

Shri Mataji: I mean it is, it is later on when you are realised Soul it is your own free will, if you want to continue or don't want to continue. You are not forced to come down.

Lady: Ma'm Mātājī, if you accomplish all your Karma in one life and you do good, why would you keep coming back continually?

Shri Mataji: You see, the Karma theory is now over as I told you. There's nothing like Karmas left any more. You see, Christ has opened that center for us in which the Chakras, you see, are all get completely enlightened and when the Kuṇḍalinī rises, She sucks in the ego within you which makes you feel that you have done this Karma and that Karma. Right? Interviewer: So, you are saying that Christ really has taken all the sins?

Shri Mataji: Yes, He has definitely. I mean He doesn't tell lies.

So He has done it. Now, the main thing is that when you die after realisation, if you want you can come back, because out of compassion.

You come on this Earth out of compassion, to help people because you are part and parcel of the whole.

Is a different thing, now you do not come to take anything but to give.

Lady: Good. I feel that there's this inner thing within us, or within some of us, any way, within us all wants the union with God. And if we achieve that Karma, I keep thinking we must want to have union with God and not keep coming back to Earth. I mean, even now if we come back to do good and for compassionate reason...

Shri Mataji: No. I would say that, you see, this is not what you feel or believe. It is what it is. Should be. Now you are thinking too much about the future. You have to think of the present, of this moment, of getting your realisation, to be in the present. You shouldn't think of the future so much, of this... Karma is the past. In the future coming and going is... you are not in the present. You are thinking either of the past or of the future because you've read a lot, I think, about these things and you just believe in it.

Your belief and your feelings are not the truth. You must face them as it is.

Interviewer: The caller was talking about the heaven, I think...

Shri Mataji: Yes. Thinking of heaven and all that. But see for yourself, keep your eyes open. I didn't have any conception of this place, where I'm sitting, this studio. When I came here, I saw it how it is to be worked out and then I decided. If I had decided before hand, it would have been all wrong.

Lady: Very true, Thank you.

Shri Mataji: My blessings.

Interviewer: Thanks for calling. It's twelve past eleven and my guest tonight Mātājī, Mother Mātājī is here to talk about Sahaja Yoga and its practice and Self-realisation and She'll be giving lectures, talks, on Wednesday night and Friday night at 7:30 at the Maccabean Hall, 146, Darlinghurst Road, Darling Hurst.

And is there any charge or...?

Shri Mataji: No charge. It's all free.

Interviewer: OK. There's no money involved. This is just something She wants to give to you and that might interest many… Hello. Hi, good evening.

Lady: I couldn't listen... [UNCLEAR] Mātājī. She did speak on Cancer. I could understand people could I have cancer from a... [UNCLEAR]... But I don't understand why the small children have cancer. Would She have an answer to this? Interviewer: Why do small children get cancer? Lady: That's right. Especially if they have healthy parents.

Shri Mataji: There are many other things, which gives cancer to children. One of them is very common is blood cancer. Now blood cancer we give to children ourselves, by our speedy nature, over conditioning. All the time, telling them when they are eating food, “You have to go to school; now get ready; now you have to do it; you should be on time." All the time putting watches on their heads. This is how we give them blood cancer.

Interviewer: We create stress?

Shri Mataji: Stress on them for nothing at all. Then the schools themselves are horrid.

Sometimes, the schools give them education which is not needed. They condition them. Then the sex knowledge is not needed to be given to children. It's just opening them to something that they need not know at all. They are innocent. We disturb their innocence by so many things. Then all your nonsensical pornographies and this and that and talk of sex to innocent children. We really play with their... we should blame our society for that, if not an individual parent. But everybody has to face it. Now this sex education is not needed for children at all. There's no need. When they grow up, the Mother's should tell the daughter and the father should tell the son, in a very private and a sacred way. Not to just tell them so openly that they become curious, they start experimenting with it. All that can be possible. Then also, there was a gentle man whose son got cancer at a very young age. They were surprised, how he got cancer, because the man was very good and the child was very small. And then we found out: the grand mother had a habit of taking the child to the, to the, what you call?, the burial grounds and things like that and she always had a great fascination for these places. Even churches have got these dead bodies. Now, what to say? We expose our children without understanding where we are taking them. We put them to stress.

So that is the result.

Lady: Thank you.

Interviewer: Thanks for your call. [Announcements.] Hello, good evening.

Gentleman: I would like to ask Mātājī a question and... Mātājī, I have heard you speak about negative forces and one, what are these forces? And two, are they causing and increasing problems facing society today?

Shri Mataji: Facing what? Interviewer: Society today.

Shri Mataji: Very much. Now...

Gentleman: First, what are these negative forces you talked about? Interviewer: What are these negative forces?

Shri Mataji: These are the forces that are built during evolutionary processes when people became ambitious or became very sly and they took to ways and methods which are anti God. They are punished many a times. But they are born now with a vengeance because they want that the last step now, by which human beings are going to get their realisation and they are going to solve their problem and the step where they will have a break through in their evolution, they want to stop it. That's why they are trying to destroy you in so many ways.

Interviewer: You are saying we getting very close as a race of human beings to a point where we will all get Self-realisation; that time is coming now.

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes very much. That last judgment has started.

Interviewer: How long will it last?

Shri Mataji: Depends on how long you take... [Laughs.]... [Both of them laugh.] You see, maximum time will be given for people to be resurrected.

Interviewer: That's hundreds of years or ten to...

Shri Mataji: Not hundreds. Should not be hundreds. But there should be sufficient time for many people to get realisation and then few are left there because already the hell is full of people there and there isn't much room for others to go in.

Interviewer: And those evil forces are massing too?

Shri Mataji: Yes, they are. They are very much in hands-in-hands and they are all joined together and they are working it out. Destroying our Spirit, destroying our attention from Spirit, they are taking us away from reality. They are doing all kinds of subtle things. It's all spirits, spirits, spirits; so many of them. But your Spirit, the Spirit that is God within you, is the most powerful thing and once it is enlightened in your awareness, they all run away. They're frightened.

Gentleman: How important is it for one to gain realisation?

Shri Mataji: That's vital for every one of us. If you are human being, we should know why we are human beings. It would be something a question that, `If you are a lamp, how vital it is for the lamp to be the light?' Gentleman: Yes. All right, thanks very much.

Interviewer: Thanks for your call. [Music.]... It's 21 past 11 a.m.; 929-5555 and the forum we're talking about Self-realisation and Sahaja Yoga. My guest is Mother Mātājī, who is here from England... In fact, You live in London; Your husband is a Diplomat. Is he not?

Shri Mataji: He is elected as the Secretary General of the International Maritime Organization, which is one of the U.N. agencies. There are fourteen or fifteen secretary generals. He is one of them elected by, I think, one hundred twenty nations. That's how I'm in England. But, this is temporary. He is reelected again; He has been elected thrice.

So we've been there for seven years now. Five years more we have to be there.

Interviewer: You will keep travelling the world and keep spreading the word?

Shri Mataji: Up to some time. Then I would like to retire. If somebody wants take over from Me, will be a good idea....

Interviewer: Are there people to take over?

Shri Mataji: Yes. There are very capable people; they can do it. I can stay in one place and they can do it.

Interviewer: Do you have any thoughts on the future on what's going to happen to the world and to all of us?

Shri Mataji: Very optimistic.

Interviewer: You are.

Shri Mataji: You are all going to be saved and we are going to have all the blessings of God and all His power is going to flow through us and we are going to enjoy ourselves in full bliss.

Interviewer: Sounds wonderful. Let's take the next call. Hello.

Lady: I would like to ask Mother, “Is She not in fact preaching a combination of Hinduism, Muslim and Christianity?" Interviewer: Are you preaching a combination of religions?

Shri Mataji: Complete integration. I asked... you have seen that through. I'm happy to know that.

It's complete integration. The relationship between different Incarnations and different Prophets is to be established and is to be proved. It can be proved also through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. You can prove it, how they are related to each other.

Lady: Yes, well I believe all religions...

Shri Mataji: That's very great. But the belief becomes the Truth and you can prove it to others also.

Lady: You were asking to know religions. Basically they are worshipping the same but they are just...

call this God by different names. But I find it confusing, you were talking about Karma, Dharma. There has been no mention of Nirvāṇa...

Shri Mataji: No mention about Nirvāṇa because you are not interested in Nirvāṇa so much as they were interested in Karma and Dharma. Nirvāṇa is the one where you get your freedom by becoming your Spirit. That's what I'm saying.

Lady: Yes. But then, if you follow the Christian teaching, one would believe we should all have this because that's why Christ died, to give it to us.

Shri Mataji: Yes, you should not have all these problems at all. I mean this is not... that's what I'm saying.

Interviewer: But the caller said we should have Nirvāṇa. If you follow Christ, you should have Nirvāṇa.

Shri Mataji: If you follow in the true sense. That you become a Sahaja Yogi then only you get it.

Isn't it? Not by going to some organized places, where they've organized Christ also.

Lady: Yes, I agree... You don't have to go to an organized...

Interviewer: You have to find Christ in yourself?

Shri Mataji: Yes, in yourself; through realisation. Not the way by just becoming members of something.

Lady: Who would You... [UNCLEAR] acquire in Him from Indian religion, the Goddess Kāli?

Shri Mataji: Goddess Kāli... I think you better come to My program and I'll tell you all about them. Goddess Kāli...

Lady: Who in the Christian teachings would you related to?

Shri Mataji: Goddess Kāli? You see, the Mother of Christ was Mahālakṣhmī. Did you hear about that point? She was Mahālakṣhmī and Goddess Kāli did not incarnate at the time of Christ.

Interviewer: Who is the, who is the equivalent in the Christian religion of the Goddess Kāli? Is there any equivalent in the Christian religion?

Shri Mataji: Is the power of Saint Michael.

Interviewer: Saint Michael? Hmm...

Lady: [UNCLEAR].

Interviewer: Why does Christian religion say, “All children are conceived in sin?" All children are born sinners. Why this? Why does the Christian religion say that?

Shri Mataji: I mean, you were... better go and ask the Christians. I don't know why they say all these things.

Lady: I've asked them and they can't...

Shri Mataji: They can't, you see, because there are so many ideas they have got in their heads. You see, they've... I don't know. They have grown horns out of Christianity. What am I to do? Lady: Something which is written in the Bible and they…

Shri Mataji: No, it is not said that you are born in sin." You see, you said that in the basic sin is there that a man has started thinking for himself. Is the basic thing, is that; he is free to think for himself.

By that, the Ego and Super ego develops in a human being and he develops his own independence, as `I'-ness and he is separated from God's desire; in the sense, he has his own desire exerting itself. This is the basic sin: of separation.

Lady: Yea, but then [UNCLEAR].

Shri Mataji: Then after Self-realisation, you become one with that power. Like all the animals are one with God's power, they have no free will. We through our free will reach certain conclusions of good and bad and after realisation, we are aware. The animals are not aware. But we are aware: what is God's will is.

Interviewer: I think, the caller was saying how do we, how do we reach Self-realisation?

Shri Mataji: Through Kuṇḍalinī awakening. It's a spontaneous thing. It would be a question like this, `How do we transform a flower into a fruit?' It's spontaneous. It's living.

Lady: Yes, but in on the one hand you are saying [UNCLEAR]... but how can one be expected to get Self-realisation without thinking for yourself?

Shri Mataji: Without...? Interviewer: Thinking for yourself.

Shri Mataji: No, because this is beyond thinking, it is spontaneous. By thinking you do not sprout a seed. Do you? It is a spontaneous thing. We must understand living processes first of all.

Lady: But then...

Shri Mataji: By thinking you do not, do not live. You see, living process is different from, thinking is dead.

Interviewer: Automatic.

Shri Mataji: It is automatic.

Interviewer: Like the heart beat?

Shri Mataji: Yes, but we can say spontaneous, Sahaja, is better because it has life in it; you see.

Lady: Yes, but you know thought also has life. Without life we can't think.

Interviewer: Thought also has life, without life we cannot think.

Shri Mataji: No, that's wrong.

Lady: Any thought...

Shri Mataji: No, you see inspiration is different. But thought is different and it has no life. It is beyond thought that you achieve this power. Actually...

Interviewer: It's not meditation that we are talking about...

Shri Mataji: No, no, no... you cannot do it. You have to become. It's a state of mind where you are beyond your mind. It just starts flowing through you and it relates to you beyond your thought.

Interviewer: Perhaps you should we explain to people who have joined the program?

Shri Mataji: Yes, it's better; it is not easy to continue with this on the Radio. But I will; definitely it can be explained very easily and can be proved also.

Interviewer: OK. Thanks for your call. Perhaps we could go over the process by which you say we awaken the Kuṇḍalinī, the energy within us. This is a matter of stretching out one's hands to someone who is authorized like Yourself, You say, someone who is holy...

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes. Even if I blow on this thing it will work out. Even blowing will help; My talking will help. Yes, it will help many people. If they are sensitive enough, it will help them.

Interviewer: Mother, why don't you do that?

Shri Mataji: All right. Now you stretch your hands, pleased, towards Me like you do it in the mass asking for your Self-realisation. Close your eyes; don't attach your attention anywhere, on any center.

Just keep it loose, absolutely free. And I'll now blow in the mike. It will have an effect on you and you will start feeling the Cool Breeze in the hand in a big way. Now try not to think, is better because this is beyond thinking. Thinking will stop it.

So please try not to think and you need not even try, it will just become that you'll become thoughtless.

[Shri Mataji blows into the microphone.] Now feel your fingers. You'll find a very slight movement of energy on your fingers. May be there may be tingling, may be some little burning, pins and needles, could be, because you are opening out and those who have got realisation will feel a cool wind blowing. These are the different stages that can take place. Ultimately, you all should get Cool Breeze in the hand and also the Cool Breeze jutting out of your fontanelle bone area on your head. You can put your right hand towards Me and the left hand on top of your head. You'll feel that there's a cool jet flowing upwards. Those who smoke may not feel so much because the Viśhuddhi Chakra, meaning the center that looks after the cervical plexus, is little bit numbed. The nerve, the cervical nerve, which has to carry the message of the Cool Breeze, is numbed and they cannot feel it. But they definitely feel first the smoke coming out of their head and then the Cool Breeze coming out of their heads. You can even smell the smoke.

Interviewer: So it's 28 to 12, my guest to night is Mātājī Nirmalā Devī and She's here... [Announcement in detail.]... [Music.]...

Gentleman: Hello.

Interviewer: Yes, good evening.

Gentleman: Good evening. Talked about Self-realisation. I think, possibly, my opinion would be that before we sort anybody else's problems out, the greatest thing we've got to sort out would be our mind.

Interviewer: Our own mind.

Gentleman: Yes, because I think that we are the ones we live with, if you can understand what I am saying. Twenty-four hours a day, when we are sleeping or whatever, dreams or working or whatever, we are the ones that we have to always fight or put up with or enjoy or not enjoy, apart from our partners, wives, husbands.

Interviewer: We have to sort our own mental processes.

Gentleman: I think this is the greatest problem and people will not accept the fact that the greatest sin in the world would be accepting defeat.

Shri Mataji:... [laughs]...

Interviewer: OK. Mātājī's comment on it...

Shri Mataji: Now, the word mind is very confusing. We have to understand our mind is... can be divided broadly into two halves. One, the mind which is conditioned, which we call as Superego or Mana in Sanskrit language. And the another mind is the Ego which is called as Ahaṁkāra, means the one by which we accumulate a kind of a idea that I do this and I do that and I like it. All those things come from that I, which is Mister Ego. And the another is the Superego by which we are conditioned and we accept the conditioning and we become a person full of these ideas like `I don't like that' and `I am afraid and I am frightened' and all sorts of things.

So these are the two things that are really in our mind.

Gentleman: But who...

Shri Mataji: Now, just a minute. Please listen...

Gentleman: Sorry.

Shri Mataji: I'll explain to you the whole thing. Now the, the Superego is the past that we have.

So we get our thoughts from the past, or the Ego is the thoughts about the future.

So we have two types of thoughts. One from your past and one from your future, because in the center, where it is present there are no thoughts. It's a thoughtless area. It's a very small area. For example: a thought wave starts within you. It rises and you see the rising of the thought, but not the falling of it. It falls and then another thought starts. It rises and falls again. Like that the thoughts start rising and falling and we jump on the cusps of these thoughts, sometimes in the future or sometimes in the past. We have no control over it. All right? Now, what happens with realisation? That when you, your Kuṇḍalinī rises, She goes in the center and She sucks in the Ego and the Superego and you become one with the present where you'll see the reality as it is. I'll give you a simple example that whatever we try to solve by our mind can be very defective because we never face the reality. What we think about is the future, which doesn't exist and the past, which is finished.

Gentleman: But this... doesn't this go back to accepting things?

Shri Mataji: Pardon? Interviewer: Doesn't this go back to accepting things?

Shri Mataji: No not... you need not accept; it is a happening. Unless and until this happens to you, you need not even accept Me. But should not also deny. What I am saying you keep an open mind about it and it works out.

So, when it works out, then you live in the present. You try to solve anything through your mind, you'll find it will have a relative value Always. It may be successful, it may not be successful.

It may be correct, it may be incorrect. It's all relative. That's why there is confusion. We have to find the absolute point. When your Kuṇḍalinī rises, She takes you into the realm when you are in the present and you see all the dimensions. For example: what is present and future and past? Is nothing but the two shadows of the present. For example, somehow by any chance if you can hang over the curve of the Earth, then you can see the future and the past, at one point, all the time and wherever you are is the present all the time. It's something like that happens to you. It's a new dimension of awareness where the mind takes a new dimension where you become the present. The problems get sorted out so easily when you are in the present. It is to be seen and felt and to be experienced. Then your mental activity becomes very little because it is such a waste of energy, just thinking, thinking, thinking, reaching nowhere.

Gentleman: OK. Can I just get a few words here? You missed my entire point. If I am brought up in India, I would speak Indian. If I am brought up in Greece, I would speak Greek. If I am brought up to preach to a God who is made of wood... [UNCLEAR]... Now, what the hell chance have I got, judging by any laws or... I mean it's relevant, no matter what anybody says, an actual fact if you want to admit, admit the whole thing. Nobody knows anything and you can think that I am...

Shri Mataji: All right. This is again Mister Ego speaking.

Gentleman: I beg your pardon?

Shri Mataji: It is the Ego that is saying that nobody knows, because Ego covers up everything. It covers up all the knowledge.

So you have to go beyond this realm to see. For example: you can say that there is nothing under your skin. But a doctor will say, “No, there is, there are cells and you can see them." But you have to have a microscope. Now, you must have the microscope to see. But if you deny, “I don't want to see the microscope” you will never see.

Gentleman: I agree with all...

Shri Mataji: All right.

So you must get your realisation. You must have your Spirit and then you can see if you cannot see or not. But just now to deny it is just to refuse to know. You will be adamant.

Gentleman: Now, look, I agree with it. Even if You said... all I am saying is that I think the biggest hassle that everyone has apart from being a millionaire or a puppet or a Mongol or a Cripple is the fact that they have to live within themselves everyday of their life and irrelevant of what you might say, or I might or God...

Shri Mataji: Now I follow.

Gentleman:... let me finish. Irrelevant of what anyone might say, we have to live with ourselves and until such time as we can solve that part out of it, we will not believe in anything that anybody says because we have to be happy within ourselves. And whether you call it God or whether you call it the Devil, or whether you call it Buddhism or Hinduism or whatever you want to call it, you will never ever achieve that.

Shri Mataji: May be now I understand what you want to say. All right, I'll explain. This is very simple. You see, when you are living with your mind, naturally you have to depend on it. Isn't it? Interviewer: Can you hear? Can you hear? Gentleman: Yes, I can.

Shri Mataji: Yes. When you live with your mind, you have to depend on it. But with Kuṇḍalinī awakening, you go beyond your mind and this power starts flowing through you. Then you have to judge it by asking questions. For example: you get this Cool Breeze flowing in your hands. You cannot explain through your mind. All right, then you just try to ask, ask questions. Supposing you are a computer and you are put to the mains. Now, is this the computer answering the question? Then you just ask the question, one simple question, `Is there God?' A simple question. Just now you ask the question in your heart, `Is there God?' and you'll see that these Cool Breeze forces will increase tremendously.

So what happens that through this you understand the powers of the beyond, the working of the beyond and the beyond of the mind things. Then you start using a new awareness. Not only of your limited mind, but that of the unlimited vibratory awareness that is within you. You become a different personality.

Interviewer: OK. I think we could answer that question. Thanks for your call. [Announcement in detail.]..... Hello.

Gentleman: I am most interested in the, sort of occurrence of, in... to me has been choice Interviewer: So, you mean about reincarnation? Gentleman: Well, Yea, in a way. It seems central to this Self-realisation, the state, that one did not have a choice. Now I was just wondering how we become more aware of these choices and what choices are Mother Mātājī's are. In fact, mine.

Interviewer: You... What choices have you made? Did You choose to return to earth or...

Shri Mataji: You see, about Me the less said the better. But of course, I did choose to come here and to give realisation, no doubt. I am here for that. But one has to understand, this is so important that an egg has to become a bird. Isn't it? In the same way, you are an egg and you have to be born again when you have become a bird. It's a different awareness. That's what has to happen. A mother bird has to lay the eggs and then create chicks out of that. Isn't it? Gentleman: Why did you make your choice? Interviewer: Why did you make your choice?

Shri Mataji: That's My job. What can I do? Interviewer: It had to be made?

Shri Mataji: Yes, it had to be. You see, it is My desire, or you can say that's My nature.

Gentleman: So we are... it was not a question of personal choice. It was...

Shri Mataji: Beg your pardon? Interviewer: It was your personal choice?

Shri Mataji: Of course. [Laughs.]...

Gentleman: I was just... Personally, the difficulty in my life would be just knowing, when the choice exist between one, two or among many forms of action.

Shri Mataji: You see the choices are changed. Your priorities are changed because your awareness is different. You see the... when your awareness is different, you start behaving in a different way. Your whole priorities change, your standards change, your values change.

Interviewer: And you choose differently?

Shri Mataji: You choose differently, you're... You see, because you choose through vibrations. You see you may choose to buy something because it has better vibrations than to buy something which has no vibration.

Interviewer: You're saying everyone chooses?

Shri Mataji: It goes on, you see.

Gentleman: But on... Now it boils down to how you become more aware.

Shri Mataji: Yes, of the living forces.

Gentleman: Yea, how you become more aware. Then you do have a choice because to me our society seems to [UNCLEAR]... What you have got at the moment is freedom from choice. I mean, how do we...

Shri Mataji: First of all, you become aware of people who may appear to be very humble, but are sinister, you get very bad vibrations from them, from people who are giving you food not with love, but with jealousy and anger. You become quite aware of it. You just vomit out. And you get aware of your Spirit; you give up smoking, drinking, gambling so many things which are there just because you feel so bored of life. But you enjoy yourself so much.

Interviewer: I think the caller was saying that perhaps we don't... we feel we don't have any choices.

Is that what you're saying? Gentleman: No. I was just wondering how to become more aware. People seem to be... Mother Mātājī said that people seem to be...

Shri Mataji: The accent is more on get... wherever you find the vibrations, because the vibrations give you the joy.

So you take to things which are vibratory, which are holy things, automatically. You do not get bored anymore because you feel your Spirit.

So you give up so many things. You just take them because you are bored.

Interviewer: Sorry, I couldn't quite follow what the caller was saying.

Gentleman: Well...

Shri Mataji: He's saying that what are your choices then? Afterwards, what happens to you? Gentleman: Yea. With these sort of negative influences from the...

Sort of force that you were talking about earlier...

Interviewer: I see. Well the caller is saying that where we, we can make choices but there are forces, there are negative influences that are preventing us from making...

Shri Mataji:... You stand on truth; you are not bothered.

Interviewer: Are there negative forces that are preventing us from making our choices?

Shri Mataji: Of course, there are. They, they do all kinds of things; they even create accidents for you. They create so many problems for you. They are the ones who are troublemakers; they are naggers; they are like mosquitoes; they are like bugs and they are like serpents and scorpions. [Laughs.] Gentleman: Are they in fact creating their own hell?

Shri Mataji: What was that? Interviewer: Are they creating their own hell?

Shri Mataji: Yes, they want to have that. What to do? They are used to it. They are used to filth.

They'll go to filth only. They want filth. They cannot even smell flowers. What to do with them? Gentleman: Is this then what you think is hell, is it? Interviewer: Is that what hell is?

Shri Mataji: Yes. Hell is the place where you enjoy all the filth.

Gentleman: Well, thanks very much. I'll try and come along to... Where is it? Interviewer: Maccabean Hall.

Shri Mataji: Thank you very much, thank you. May God bless you.

Gentleman: Thank you, bye.

Interviewer: Maccabean Hall... [Announcement.] Hello.

Gentleman: Yes, hello. Mother, I would like to ask you a question. If I come to the thing tomorrow night, would you be able to cure an addiction without any effects of withdrawals of this addiction? Interviewer: Caller wants to know, “Are you able to heel and cure addiction? Addiction to whatever drug?" Is it a drug?

Shri Mataji: Yes, yes.

Gentleman: Anything?

Shri Mataji: Yes it does. You see, all misidentifications fall off. Once you're identified with your Spirit, they fall off. You have to use a little bit of will power sometimes. But for some people, they've told Me... A gentle man in Singapore, who got his realisation, he's about 78 years of age and overnight he got rid of many of his addictions. He was surprised how it happened.

Gentleman: Right. Then you wouldn't get any painful, sort of, side effects?

Shri Mataji: No, not at all. On the contrary, it's very blissful.

Gentleman: All right. I got it...

Interviewer: Thank you very much... [Announcements.] Hello, good evening.

Gentleman: I just want to ask Mother about a quotation from the Bible.

Interviewer: Yes, what's that? Gentleman: It says, “But the comfort of the Holy Spirit that the father will send in My name would teach you all things." I would like to ask Her about that.

Interviewer: Could you just repeat the quotation again? Gentleman: “But the comforter, the Holy Spirit, [UNCLEAR whom] the father will send in My name, will teach you all things." Interviewer: And that's from where? Gentleman: John chapter 14, verse 26.

Shri Mataji: I think you should take your realisation and then you will know the answer to it.

Because, logically if it points out to one person, then you have to reach the conclusion, isn't it? That's a logical way of looking at things. But I am not going to say anything or claim anything. It is better you people find out yourself.

Interviewer: Does that answer your question? Gentleman: Is the, is the comforter on the Earth at the present time? Has the Comforter incarnated? Mātājī should be able to tell us this because She said that through these vibrations on Her hands, She...

Shri Mataji: Yes, He is very much here and He's talking to you now. Can you believe that? Gentleman: Well, I feel something cool on my hand. Is that some indication of the...

Shri Mataji: Yes, very much so.

So that's the proof of the thing. You've already started feeling it in your hands. [Laughs.] Gentleman: Can I...?

Shri Mataji: Ask the question, `Mother, are You the comforter?' Gentleman: Mother, are you the comforter?

Shri Mataji: Ask it thrice.

Gentleman: Mother, are you the comforter?

Shri Mataji: Again.

Gentleman: Mother, are you the comforter?

Shri Mataji: Now, what do you get? Gentleman: Oh, I feel this kind of cool tingling passing all through my body.

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.]... That's the answer now.

Interviewer: OK, thanks for your call.

Shri Mataji: Thank you.

Interviewer: Hello.

Lady: Good Evening.

Interviewer: Yes, good evening.

Gentleman: Now my question... Don't you think we all have a choice like love or hate, fight or fear, good or evil, positive thinking or negative thinking, a backbone or a wishbone and believe that we are...

I believe that we are all made in God's image and it is up to us and nobody else, whether we answer these things correctly? Therefore, Self-realisation that is love, good, positive thinking, backbone people with no fear, have acquired lives, they're able to absorb or discriminate without outside intervention or help and we are able to give, not take and feel ourself. Over to you.

Shri Mataji: [Laughs.] I wish you could do that; but without Self-realisation you cannot do it.

Lady: I am doing it.

Shri Mataji: You, you have to give. That doesn't mean it's a rational thing. Or giving is just flowing, it's emitting; that should happen.

Interviewer: I think the caller is saying that we can all make a decision to be strong and to be positive.

Shri Mataji: That's only mental activity. That's only a make believe. Is not the actual, actual thing. You can believe that you are very strong and you may be dominating. You believe you should not dominate, you should be humble and you could be sly. Unless and until you get your realisation, you will not know whether you have reached the absolute value of those things or not.

Lady: [UNCLEAR]...

Interviewer: Oh, dear... We always have one of those.

Shri Mataji: Always, they bring in someone. Now, what about these great philosophers? What have they done? Have they given you realisation? Why should you talk about them? Like when Christ came, they talked about somebody who died long time back. Why talk about them? Now I am facing you. Why do you want to talk about people who are dead? We always want to build temples for the people who are dead. Now the present is, I'm with you. Why do you want to talk about these people and bring a controversy? Don't you want to gain something yourself? All right? Interviewer: Mother, thank you for joining us tonight. I found it fascinating, really. [Announcement]... Mātājī will be speaking at the Maccabean Hall.

Shri Mataji: Also Melbourne, we are having a program.

Interviewer: Yes, but...

Shri Mataji: That we can announce later.

Interviewer: I don't know whether we've got any listeners from Melbourne. But, there would be a program in Melbourne also. But in Sydney, this Wednesday and Friday night at 7:30 at the Maccabean hall, 146, Darlinghurst Road, Darlinghurst. Thank you.

Shri Mataji: Thank you very much.

Interviewer: Thank you for joining us.

Contents: 1981-04-01 Quotes from the article `Indian marriage perfect formula' by Sue Arnold published under the rubric `IN TOUCH with... interesting people' in the newspaper `The Sun', Sydney, New South Wales, Australia

[I talked to this strangely tranquil woman as we looked over the waters of the Parramatta River.]

It's not unusual for a woman to be a spiritual leader. I'm proud I am a woman, but I feel for many women today. We live in an age of confusion. Women have lost confidence in themselves.

They no longer know what they want. The breakdown in marriage is not a good thing.

I see so many women become prostitutes and there is now so much homosexuality. Sex is a spontaneous thing, now it has been changed into something else.

Indians have successful marriages, they do not divorce. It's because men and women know what is expected of them.

[Shri Mataji says it does not behold a woman to have an ego.] One of our problems today is that men no longer respect women for these qualities.

I give him [Sir C.P.] the room, I never try to impress people.

In India, if you asked a woman to behave as your Western women are forced to, it would be too much for her to sacrifice.

Women there would commit suicide because their dignity and self-worth is more important.

My revolution is a sweet one, there will he no bloodshed, only love.

Contents: 1981-04-01*, Public Program, Cycle 1, Day 5, Viśhuddhi and Āgñyā Chakras, Maccabean Hall,

146, Darlinghurst Road, Darlinghurst (eastern suburb of Sydney), New South Wales, Australia

Today is very interesting topic before us, is to discuss the Viśhuddhi Chakra, which is placed here behind the base of the neck and which has got sixteen petals. It manifests outside the cervical plexus in the gross or physical action. As you know, for the emotional side you have got [UNCLEAR ductless] glands and thyroid is the gland which is placed here. This center in the evolution is of greatest importance for human beings, because this center developed its maximum growth when human beings raised their hands, heads from animal stage to become human beings. [UNCLEAR] animals the heads were at an angle towards the ground, first it was just touching, parallel, then it was raised higher and higher till it came to monkey stage where it was raised slightly higher and at the human stage only they raised their hands, heads in a straight line. Straight line was all right. In the straight line it was the balance between the superego and the ego. First there is superego in the animals when they are looked after by human beings. Animals developed certain conditionings from human beings. Like a dog has to be looked after by human beings.

Then the dog is told to do this or that and the conditioning starts. And when this conditioning starts in a dog, he starts developing his superego in a human way. But when a chimpanzee raised his head and tried to become a man, first the head of the first original man was bent like this. In the Rāmāyaṇa, there is a mention of such race, the missing race, where human beings were half monkeys and half human beings.

That's about eight thousand years back.

Now this center was really, fully enlightened by Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, who came on this earth in the era called as Dvāpara . Rāma was in Satya yuga and He came in Dvāpara . That is about six thousand years back. And Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa incarnated as one of the incarnations of Śhrī Viṣhṇu, who is responsible for our evolutionary process. It is only through Śhrī Viṣhṇu that we evolve. He is the aspect which gives us Dharma. Dharma is our sustenance. Through changing our sustenances or our capacities we have evolved. Like I can say Carbon was at Mūlādhāra Chakra. And this Carbon [UNCLEAR] matter got Prāṇa into it by which it started moving as a living thing. This living thing then grew into higher and higher awareness till it reached a stage where you were an animal and then you had to become a human being. The first human beings were short people. That incarnation of the short people is called as Vamana. Then there were people who became very conscious of the nature around and wanted to have the mastery over the nature. They started doing all kinds of yagñyas according to the Vedas. Vedas actually worked out right hand side growth of human beings. And they developed people who were good at reciting Veda mantras and all such things that would give us mastery over the five elements. These people when they mastered the five elements they became very ego-oriented and instead of only keeping the head in the center they started pulling it backwards. By pulling that backwards they started developing their pituitary and this pituitary was activated so much that they increased their [UNCLEAR] than normal, became [UNCLEAR] people, started thinking about the future and the idea of future started coming into the human beings.

It went on till today where the people have tried to master the five elements, they have developed ego to such an extent that they are extremely ego-oriented and this ego engulfs, pushes down the superego as you can see here, the ego that is over developed can push the superego down.

So then in addition to that, people like Freud said that “Why should we allow ourselves to be conditioned to anything?" It's only the human beings who can have good conditionings and who can have bad conditionings. But, as the basic wisdom was lacking, you see, gradually we started losing the basic wisdom and we denied all kinds of conditioning within us by saying “What's wrong?", “What's wrong?" And when we went on like this, saying “What's wrong?", “What's wrong?", what happened was that our ego developed so much that it pushed the superego. The superego was pushed to such an extent that it could not bear it anymore.

So in the modern times, say about fifty years back, you can say about twenty five years back, a new generation started showing its effects. Young generation came up and they felt that the ego is too much, we are too bound to material things. We are instead of enslaving the matter and material powers, we are enslaved by them. This realisation started coming into them. Actually it started I should say about sixty years back. But this grew up very well about twenty, twenty five years back very much, or little earlier, you can say about thirty years back, when people started seeing that this ego is no good, this matter is dominating us, it is falsehood. But another thing they felt very strongly was that they are bound, not integrated with their heart. There was no joy in anything. They did things without any emotions, they were very emotionless, there were no feelings for anything. It grew quite a lot this feeling, till the war came in, Hitler trying to destroy and at that time with the incoming of Hitler, people who see the ego of Hitler and they started seeing that reflection within themselves that how Hitler could destroy this world by pampering the ego of the people by saying that you belong to a higher race and all those things. And this gave them a big shock and this big shock made the young people of that time feel that this is not the proper way of our progress. And that's why there is a big disparity in the old people, say who ruled India and the people who are today Indian citizens or who are young people there.

The whole idea of ego became very subtle. They thought it was a show off, if it over did something it was too formal. They believed in casual life and they wouldn't accept anything that was over ego-oriented.

But once the ego has developed too much you cannot get out of it. The more you try to fight it the more it will sit on you. It's not possible. And the superego, which once suppressed can become so suppressed that you just become nothing but ego. And the ego then envelops the heart because one of the auras around the heart which I will be discussing later is also from your Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra. And the whole Swādhiṣhṭhāna Chakra can go round and can completely encompass your heart. And there is a dislocation between your heart and your head. There's a disintegration.

Sometimes with shocks in life also a person's ego is challenged. As I was telling you that we have to be very kind to our wife and to our husband. If their ego is challenged, gradually after three four shocks they get disintegrated. We give them diseases. We give them horrible things. We have no business to do these things. This is sinful. First of all to marry someone with all the show and with all the things and then to make somebody unhappy because you have a ego or hurt somebody's ego by which making that person emotionally dry. Then a society which is extremely dry develops. This dry society cannot even value the children. Matter becomes the most important thing.

Material possessions become more important. Then all human relationships are ended up and sacrificed at the altar of this ego.

When these people, after all, are human beings, they have an emotional being within them, which suffers.

So to be emotional, people take to drugs and things as I told you, to alcohols. Alcohol is a gross [UNCLEAR] of society. Just to escape the tortures of ego they become alcoholic. Once they become alcoholic the superego starts developing. It starts pushing the ego on one side and the wobbling starts and the confusion starts. This alcohol, which has been denounced by every primordial master, because they were supposed to look after your attention, because the attention, not only gets spoilt but your values go down. Values about your chastity, values about your own chastity, values about your own dignity, I mean you can do anything [UNCLEAR]. I mean, people do such in-dignified things that if you take a photograph or even a picture of such people, they would be shocked that they were behaving like this.

So first of all the dignity, the human dignity goes down, the sanctity of marriage is lost and all the values that are built up in your attention as the human being through all great blessings of these great saints and great prophets drops off. One by one you start [UNCLEAR] values for anything. You do not value anything but your ego. Even your material possessions are there to suggest your ego. That's how a person becomes a dry personality. In these circumstances he thinks that he must also overpower God's powers.

Sometimes such things came up, that people wanted to have powers like God. And they want to challenge God and they want to say, “There is no God. How are we to believe there is God?" Because the ego is such a blind thing that you just [UNCLEAR] to think about God and your relation to God. It's such a blinding thing. It makes you sometimes so stupid. As I had told you last time, I had said in the seminar we had, that it really makes you absolutely stupid.

Now the Viśhuddhi Chakra is the thing which has started the ego within us, in the sense that the superego, the conditioning that was in a society was challenged by Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa was a man who was a witness of the play. He is the one who is the primordial being, in the sense He is the one who rises to make the whole, He is the Virāt. And this [UNCLEAR being] Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is the one who taught us to witness through Gītā.

Now in short I will explain to you something about Gītā. And try to understand, because it is a very subtle thing to understand Gītā and to [UNCLEAR] Gītā. There are I don't know how many criticisms of Gītā written already, but nobody seems to have hit at the real points of Gītā. Kṛiṣhṇa was the incarnation of Divine diplomacy. Divine diplomacy is a thing by which I also play tricks on you. Because if I cannot give you Realisation, if you are too argumentative, you try to be a mediocre, then I put you into such situations that you start seeing the point that you are missing the real goal. Now Gītā is nothing but a complete exposition of His talent as a diplomat. For that one has to understand the tricks of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa.

First of all in the very beginning, at the very outset, in the second chapter in Gītā, He says that you become a sthitha Pragñyā, means that you become a realised Soul, you become a gñyani, means a person whose awareness is enlightened. Of course, in India, as everywhere, they think gñyani is a brahmin who has read many books. It means you should have your Realisation so that your awareness is enlightened.

This is first thing He said at the very outset because He thought [UNCLEAR] so He says the thing that is there. He only tells this to Arjuna [UNCLEAR to know the truth] because He is a diplomat and He knows how people were at that time, that He is not going to tell them that He is an incarnation and that He is not going to tell them what is the truth. Because if you tell them the truth they will hit you hard, He knew this very well.

So He [UNCLEAR] Arjuna, who is His bhakta, who is His devotee, that you achieve that.

But Arjuna at that time was [UNCLEAR]. He couldn't understand, because it is said that you are a saint, you become a witness to achieve your Self-realisation. And then you go for war to kill people. They couldn't understand, how can that be? I should kill them before; after the witness [UNCLEAR], how can I kill? Even if they are cruel, even if they are wrong, I cannot do it after Realisation, because after Realisation I will have to be compassionate. This is the mediocracy of Arjuna. It's a very subtle point, I think you catch the point.

So Kṛiṣhṇa says, He understands. He immediately understands. Oh, that diplomacy is needed now, it won't work out still [UNCLEAR]. Like, I would say a son is sitting out of the hut trying to drive a horse cart. Now the father comes out of the hut and the son says, “This cart is not moving out of it." So he said that, “First bring the horse in front of the cart. Unless and until it is connected through the horse, it won't move." You have to get connected to the horse, that is the Ātmā, to the spirit.

So he says that, “You are saying that I have to move the cart and now you are asking me to move the horse. How can that be?" Then father understands that this one is not going to be handled easily.

So he plays the trick on him. He says, “All right. Let it [UNCLEAR]. But you think, you believe that it is the horse which is pulling the cart. You believe it." Now how Kṛiṣhṇa has said beautifully, even more beautifully than this analogy. I gave this analogy to see the trick of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. And He had to play because people are so idiotic. Since the six thousand years they have been believing into something nonsensical, that you will see now.

He said that, “If I kill people, then I will have the Karmas within me. And after my Realisation; how will I get my Realisation? If I get my Realisation then I cannot kill." These were his ideas about Realisation.

What Kṛiṣhṇa said that, “You get your realisation and then whatever you do is in the name, is really in [UNCLEAR], fully in order of God. If you have to kill them kill. You have to kill the devils, you have to kill the Rākshasas." The idea that to kill somebody is something wrong, I mean, supposing today, Hitler was to come [UNCLEAR]. Will you spare a snake? You will have to kill. And He said, “Nobody is killed." Actually that's the fact. Nobody dies. As I told you that the spirits [UNCLEAR] only put them out of the stage just now.

So Kṛiṣhṇa says that, “You should first become realised, become a witness, then you are just an instrument in the hands of God. That [UNCLEAR] what He likes and you do whatever He says. If He says you have to kill, you have to kill. If He says don't kill, you don't kill." Because the power starts flowing through you now, [UNCLEAR] concept of compassion is wrong. How can you be compassionate to people, that one man can destroy the whole world? Are you to be compassionate to that man? For what? The greatest compassion is to kill him, put him out. [UNCLEAR] of his powers. This is the way of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. That's what Kṛiṣhṇa said.

But Arjuna [UNCLEAR]. He said, still how can it be, these Karmas and he had those theories. How to get rid of the Karmas.

So Kṛiṣhṇa played a trick again. He said ok. He put a very absurd condition.

This is what is the essence of diplomacy is to put an absurd condition and befool a person so that when he reaches a stage and understands that it's absurd, then he gives it up, otherwise he doesn't give up.

So He told Arjuna that, “Very good, you do not want Realisation, go ahead. You do all your Karmas. And you put the fruit of the Karmas at the lotus feet of the God. That's what you do, so you won’t have any Karmas upon yourself." This is an absurd thing. Before Realisation it cannot happen. Before Realisation your ego remains, as it is, as you see, it is not sucked in. Subtler it will become, you become very humble and very kind and this, but still the ego is there. Ego is there means, it's a state of your mind, which is covered with ego. It has to be sucked in by the actualisation and actual happening. Not just saying that oh you are very humble.

Some of the egoistical people are extremely humble because that suits them, extremely. But inside it's the ego there. Ego is there. Till it is sucked in you cannot fight it, you cannot drive it out, you cannot get out of it. It has to be sucked in. To suck that ego, Kuṇḍalinī has to rise, you have to get your Realisation. You have to become the Self and not the ego, your identification with ego must drop. That's only possible if you become the spirit. But you are not, doesn't matter. What you do, is to do your Karmas. Like go on hitting the cart. But put all your attention on the horse and your cart will move. It will never move is the point, [UNCLEAR the absurdity].

So He gave such a proposition by which the horse does not move. And after sometime you find, “What is it? The cart is just there. I am putting everything I am supposed to be putting everything on the horse.

Nothing doing. It's not connecting. It is just there." Once this confusion is reached then you take your Realisation and actualisation. This is the point. Unless and until this absurdity is dawned upon you, you will never accept. Because you are asking questions. “Why should you do it?" “Why should you do it?" “Why?" So He says, “All right, go ahead." So this is the Karma theory that started, that whatever Karmas you do, you put at the lotus feet of God.

So it's a [UNCLEAR]. He put you into a Rāmāyaṇa, into illusion. That was important. At that stage it was important to put you into illusion. Because you are not accepting otherwise.

See, if you have to take out the butter, you cannot do it with a straight finger, you have to make your finger bent a little, it's like that.

So Arjuna said, “What about Dharma? What about devotion to God? [UNCLEAR] organized religions, churches and our temples and all. What about that?" He says that also, He was very clever. He said in Sanskrit, “Pushpam phalam toyam [UNCLEAR]." “Whatever is the fruit, whatever is the flower, or whatever is the water you give me, I will take it. I'll take all that. If you give me a [UNCLEAR cup], I'll take it." But by giving, He is very clever, which I don't know if people have seen the point or not, He says by giving, by that you do ananya Bhakti , devotion that is ananya. Now the word ananya is the word, which is the real [UNCLEAR]. Ananya, it means when you are not the other, when you are realised. You can only do Bhakti when you are realised, ananya. The person who's ananya, means the one who is not the other, means you become one with God, then you do the Bhakti .

Very clearly said that you do ananya Bhakti , ananya devotion, means devotion when you are not the other, when you are realised. Before that what's the devotion? Very cleverly said, but nobody sees the point.

[UNCLEAR] asking people, the other day a gentleman came from a cult, [UNCLEAR] “Śhrī Rāma, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa, Śhrī Rāma, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa." This is not ananya Bhakti . Ananya Bhakti means when there is no other, means you become realised. This is the essence of this Bhakti yog. In Bhakti yog, He has said that, “You have to become one with your spirit." Also by saying ananya and by Karmas, Karma Yoga is also the same type, “Whatever work you do you put at the lotus feet of the lord." You cannot do it, absurd condition. But after Realisation, what happens to you that you do not say, `I do it,' you say, “It's moving” “It's coming” “It's rising” “It's starting." “It” [UNCLEAR third person] and you just say “it." `I am raising the Kuṇḍalinī,' you don't say, never. “It is coming” because you know you are not, you feel that. Because it's flowing from you, you have become a [UNCLEAR hollow] personality. You say, “It is going” “It is coming” “It is not coming." You don't say, `I am giving realisation to myself or to anybody.' Like a lady came with Me to America. And she told Me that, “Mother, You must give Realisation to my [UNCLEAR]." I said, “All right. Let him come." He came all the way from [UNCLEAR] and the Kuṇḍalinī was frozen, it won't rise. She said, “Mother please give him Realisation." I said, “You are realised Soul. You try it, [UNCLEAR]. Or give him a certificate that he is a realised Soul, [UNCLEAR]." I know he is not. And why not? [UNCLEAR] morning till evening, giving Realisation [UNCLEAR].

“Why don't you [UNCLEAR think] you are realised? If I were you, I would say Baba you are realised.

Now get out of here." Because I knew that he wouldn't get realised. It's a frozen Kuṇḍalinī. I said, “Why don't you do it?" I know she is not realised, she doesn't give vibrations. [UNCLEAR]. I said, “That's what it is." The Kuṇḍalinī has to rise. That means that you know it is beyond your ego. It is beyond your ego. You cannot reach. You must have that quality within you, then only you can reach. As long as this [UNCLEAR] you are doing it, that's why [UNCLEAR].

Ego means an illusion that you are doing something. Because you don't do anything. What do you do? As I told you, all dead work. Dead to the dead. You make a chair or a staircase, oh you are a great maṇ*[UNCLEAR]* from the mountain and make another mountain, oh you are a great architect. All these are dead energies you are handling, electricity, magnetism, [UNCLEAR]. All these are not living energies. Living energy is the synthesis energy of all the energies. It is Prāṇa on the right hand side, on the left hand side is the mana and in the center is the Dharma. All these three energies are synthesized by integrating [UNCLEAR]. You can get completely integrated when the light of the Spirit comes into you and this is the brahma, is the one that is flowing through your hands, is the Brahma Shakti, is the Brahman.

So this [UNCLEAR]. But in His childhood, what did He do? You have to understand. In His childhood, people say He did not [UNCLEAR]. No it was not. As I [UNCLEAR] from My very childhood, He [UNCLEAR] from His very childhood. He played with the Gopis when He was about four years of age. There's a Guru who says he is Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. That's why [UNCLEAR]. Imagine [UNCLEAR] four years of age and this Guru is, I think, fifty years of age. Is it the same? [UNCLEAR].

Like when He was a child He just [UNCLEAR] because He wanted to raise their Kuṇḍalinī as a child.

He could try. Imagine [UNCLEAR]. He climbs on the backs of the people and [UNCLEAR] to make the Kuṇḍalinī rise. He does that many a time, He uses that [UNCLEAR]. I think that's the best way.

And I told him, “Why don't you do it in your village?" He said [UNCLEAR]. [UNCLEAR] what's the use of [UNCLEAR] a car? So the child of four years, playing with the Gopis. When they were carrying the small pots with water on their heads, He would break the pot. Because ra dha, ra means energy, dha means the one who sustains it. Ra dha, She is the Mahālakṣhmī. Rādhā, the one who sustains the energy. She used to have Her bath in the river Jamuna and used to vibrate the water. And the Gopis, the ladies used to go and fill their pitchers with that water, which has the vibrated water. And He would just break that pitcher from the back, so the water would fall from the back. [UNCLEAR] see the trick of the child. In those days there was no [UNCLEAR] hall, nor such good seekers, one could not talk of seeking in a village of Gokul.

So He tried these tricks of breaking the pitcher, make the water fall on the back, so that the Kuṇḍalinī would rise.

[UNCLEAR] also His Gopis [UNCLEAR] used to hold their hands. It's called ra sa. Ra means energy sa means [UNCLEAR]. Rādhā used to do that. [UNCLEAR] used to hold their hands and they used to all dance and the energy is imparted to them. But She was the incarnation of the energy and He was the incarnation of the primordial being. That's different. Now a days you find people [UNCLEAR] your hands and passing [UNCLEAR] spirits. It's horrible. It is Satanic. Such a thing should never be done, it causes lots of problems. [UNCLEAR] do like this, holding hands and passing spirits. Or some sort of a [UNCLEAR] sitting in the Himālayas [UNCLEAR]. If they are realised Souls they'll never do it. Because they understand [UNCLEAR]. They will never trouble you, they'll never [UNCLEAR possess] you. Now when you understand that She was Rādhā and the energy was passing through them [UNCLEAR]. And He used to play another thing, very beautiful. He used to climb over [UNCLEAR] of the boys on top to get some butter [UNCLEAR]. [UNCLEAR]. First of all standing on [UNCLEAR] of their heads, [UNCLEAR] Sahasrāra.

There was a gentleman who got his Realisation in [UNCLEAR]. [UNCLEAR]. He had never heard about Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. He didn't know all that. And before getting Realisation he went into his subconscious areas and where he finds a very big Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa. And this scientist, he made like a pyramid in space and how he falls down.

And then he saw other things also there, which you can read the book and see for yourself.

But butter, Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is very fond of butter. Why? It is at this point you need butter for your Viśhuddhi. If you have got sinus trouble, you heat some butter and take a dropper and pour the heated butter in the nose [UNCLEAR] for 3-4 days. Your sinus will be all right. It's a very simple medicine.

You just try it. Your colds will be all right. Why? Because the inner membrane of the nose due to our breathing becomes very very dry, or we can say cracked. As our hands can get cracked. Now If the butter is put say even on the soup, we used to do before, now a days people have become so conscious that they don't put it. On soup, you see the butter on the soup, just goes and lines the trachea, these places and the throat and [UNCLEAR]. Even the [UNCLEAR] tissue is lined up.

So that the whole thing becomes very much soft. Even if you have any problem, you can rub hot butter in here. Now the butter has double quality. It is a soft milk fat, plus salt. Salt is the quality of the Guru.

So it's the combination of Guru and the butter. As we gargle with the salt, osmosis takes place. It has a very deep significance.

Now this center is manifested outside, as I told you as sixteen sub-plexuses, which govern our nose, eyes, throat, our neck, ears and also the outside of our eyes, the eye lids and also little muscles that control and so many things by this one center. Sixteen are the petals also of this center, Viśhuddhi Chakra. Viśhuddhi means without, Viśhuddhi, vi means absence of, I mean it is so shuddha, it's so holy that everything is absent, Vishuddha is the meaning of this center. Means it is absolutely holy and that's why He is a Sākshī, He is a witness.

He tried to break our conditionings in a different way from Freud. Our first conditioning we had in those days, that a wife and husband relationship was too conditioned. And the wife was dominated by husband and all family people and they used to torture everybody in His time. A woman was treated just like a slave in the house in those days.

Somehow it worked out. Because women had to be very chaste, to be very good, but the man was dominating and it was a big [UNCLEAR] system that developed. And with this, people started getting strangled in the family system and had become dead.

So He wanted to [UNCLEAR]. He said that there is no harm in mixing with men as brothers and sisters. We have to be pure in heart and they are our brothers and sisters and we should mix up and we should have proper relationship with each other, understand that this is my wife, this is my husband and these are my brothers and sisters. Because it was not allowed for any woman even to get out of houses in those days.

It was so much [UNCLEAR] because the mother-in-laws were very strong and they would not allow the daughters to go. The whole episode of Kṛiṣhṇa in Gokul is like this. And all the stories and songs are like that. That [UNCLEAR] wife says to the husband, “Oh my sister-in-law [UNCLEAR]." So all the story of love between husband and wife, He started. Now He didn't have Sahaja Yogis as I have today and disciples around. And He had to permeate His powers, the sixteen thousand powers He had, at this Chakra. This Chakra is represented here in the head in front. It's called as Virāta's Chakra, means [UNCLEAR] where you become the primordial being.

So to have those sixteen thousand conducting human beings He had to play a drama. He was a great dramatist. He made them take birth as women and he got them arrested by a king. Now a social problem was created. These women were with that man.

So according to Indian standards they are all finished. They have no value. They are all gone women. Though they were by forcing, not with their own will, but in India any woman, who is even taken by force, at the time of Sītā it has happened.

So she should be [UNCLEAR] as Rāma did, as I told you last time.

So He attacked this king and got all these sixteen thousand with Him.

So people said, “You have got these sixteen thousand women who are not to be accepted in the society, so what will you do? Nobody is going to marry." He said, “I will marry them." [UNCLEAR] you see, actually they were His powers and He married them. He said, “I will marry sixteen thousand." It's all a play, you see it's the play of the Virāt. He married those sixteen thousand.

Now the five elements that He wanted to control. He said now what to do, we have to have [UNCLEAR].

So He created five women and He married them also. Now many people say, “Oh Kṛiṣhṇa married sixteen thousand and had five queens and this and that." Are you Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa? Are you Virāt? Have you got even one power to flow through? If you have one [UNCLEAR]. He is the one with sixteen thousand powers and these powers permeated on this earth to give us an awareness by which we felt that there is God beyond, that there is a [UNCLEAR macro] force, that we have to achieve that through [UNCLEAR silence], that we have to become a witness of the play of the whole. He made us conscious of [UNCLEAR]. He said in Gītā that the spirit that is within you never dies. It again and again comes back to give you Realisation and when you die, the spirit does not die. “Ninam chidanti shastrani ninam dahati pavakah, [UNCLEAR]." You cannot kill it with a weapon, neither you can burn it with fire, neither wind can blow it off, neither anything can suck it. To prove this, Christ came on this earth. To prove what Kṛiṣhṇa had said, Christ came on this earth to show that spirit is eternal. They are all one together. We are the people who cannot see their [UNCLEAR] and sometimes it shocks people when I tell them about the relationship of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and Christ is so [UNCLEAR].

Christ, the name Christ came from the word Chris and Kṛish word means the farming. That means Kṛiṣhṇa came on this earth to sow the seed.

[GAP]... [UNCLEAR created] by Rādhā who was the energy, came on this earth as the mother of Christ.

Christ's mother was a lady who lived like a potent energy for Christ. Except for Him, nobody knew. That's why at the cross He says, “Behold the Mother." That's so important. And He was one of the greatest [UNCLEAR] to a mother. Rādhā incarnated on this earth and She brought this immaculate conception.

The whole story about it is in the Devī Māhātmyam. The Goddess created Mahālakṣhmī out of an egg and that's why on the ester you celebrate the egg. Egg is the suggestion of you being the egg and the next birth. It is suggestive of the second birth of human beings.

The name Jesus also comes from the word Yeshodā. Yeshodā was the foster mother of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and Rādhā thought that her name must be brought in because she was also another power. Yeshodā is called also as Jesoda in the northern parts where Kṛiṣhṇa lived. She was called actually like Jesoda and the small form of Jesoda is Jesu. And that's why He was called as Jesu or Yesu. In Indian languages He is called as Yesu [UNCLEAR] as Jesu. And even in [UNCLEAR Hebrew] He is called as Yesu, not as Jesu. You see this Y and J like Yugoslavians and all these people use, is a confusion between Y, ya and ja.

And these two words are confused in the world. Yesu or Jesu. He came with such powers according to the Devī Māhātmyam, that He became the supreme support. He is the support at the Mūlādhāra Chakra. He is the one who is Gaṇeśha at Mūlādhāra Chakra, is the support of the whole universe. And Kṛiṣhṇa placed Him higher than Himself because He incarnated higher than Him and Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa is [UNCLEAR].

[UNCLEAR] the vibrations yourself. Just see on the vibrations.

The crucifixion of Christ which I will tell you later on is another drama. It's another drama to be played. Now see the difference between the 6,000 years and 2,000 years of Christ.

So the 4,000 years passed in between. In that 4,000 years, lots of things were to be decided and it was decided that Christ should be born in Jerusalem, [UNCLEAR] these places that we can call [UNCLEAR]. Because that was the place which was to be attacked again by the Divine forces and always most of these primordial masters were born as Gurus, [UNCLEAR]. You see, most of these people like Mohammed Sahib, three masters, one after another came, three of them came. One personality [UNCLEAR]. Then Mohammad Sahib came in there, then Moses came in, Abraham came in, all these people were born in that area. And then Christ came in [UNCLEAR]. He thought that would be the best place where these great primordial masters have worked [UNCLEAR] and that they will be able to understand. But people as they are, they killed Mohammad Sahib, they also killed Christ. They never listened to Moses, never listened to Christ.

People are like that and today I find many people who call themselves Christians are the people who were there to enjoy His crucifixion, who like it, supported it and crucified Him. Today they are moving with a Bible in their hand saying that this is this, this is this.

So unauthorized.

So dangerous. Now it is better sometimes to read what Kṛiṣhṇa has said about Christ. But just now today as we are [UNCLEAR] in the Viśhuddhi Chakra, I'll talk about Christ later on.

Viśhuddhi Chakra has two other points, which are very important within us. I take this up because you people are suffering from left Viśhuddhi. Left Viśhuddhi is on the left hand side and right on the right hand side. Right hand side Viśhuddhi is the Viśhuddhi where He was the king and called as Viṭṭhala and His wife Rukminī [UNCLEAR]. This is the [UNCLEAR], or you can say the Rajasa, means the kingliness or the action, where you take to action as a king, is on the right hand side. The left hand side is the one where He was born and in His early life, when He has a sister. His sister was actually the daughter of Yesoda who was sacrificed, it's a big story, how Kṛiṣhṇa was born in a jail and was taken by His father and put it in a place called Gokul and the child in that place who was a girl was sent and She is the one who appears as the lightning in the air. And how She became the lightning when She was killed and announced that, “Your killer is still alive" to the horrible Rākshasa who was actually the brother of Kṛiṣhṇa's mother and it was announced that the eighth child of Devaki, his sister, Kamsa's sister, Kamsa is the Rākshasa, is a devil, will kill him. And this frightened him so much that he started killing all the children that were born to this Devaki, his sister, who was put in the jail. The last one was Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa and when He was born, everybody slept off and the doors opened up and His father carried Him in a basket, just like Moses story it is and crossed the river Yamuna and when the river touched Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa's feet it again went down, crossed over, went to Gokul, put the child there, took the child of Nand, Yeshodā and brought the child back and he placed it. When the child was replaced, you see, it was a girl. When Kamsa came, he said the eighth is girl, how can it be? So then he just [UNCLEAR] the girl and She went up and

She announced that, “The killer of you, Kamsa is born and is living very much and He is going to kill you, beware." And then the story is that how He tried to kill him, so that, we don't have to bother about that.

But the main thing [UNCLEAR] was this sister of Śhrī Kṛiṣhṇa.

Now the left Viśhuddhi problem starts when we get confused about sisters' relationship or the close relationships like mother, this is Mister Freud's business. All kinds of confusions. Problems about relationships with other men, other women, there's no understanding. Anyone who is married, unmarried, anything cast eyes towards other people [UNCLEAR]. That's why [UNCLEAR] Christ at this point [UNCLEAR] because He is [UNCLEAR] in the eyes, that's why He said that, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." But that's not possible without Realisation, I have seen, when we have [UNCLEAR].

So all these [UNCLEAR] ideas about men and women [UNCLEAR] are there and it is subconsciously built [UNCLEAR] guilt. You know it's wrong, you know at the base of your heart, you know that. But the ego has gone so much that, people say what's wrong? That's why I see at least people in the West are innocent. They know it is not wrong. But in the East, in India, people know it is wrong, still they do wrong, means they are not innocent people at all, they know this is wrong and still they do, then they are not innocent.

So all those Indians, who try to do these things knowingly that it is wrong, are the wrong type of people because they have lost their innocence. Now this is one of the things why we catch on left Viśhuddhi, very much in West.

But the second one is even, another thing is just to sit down and analyze yourself. This is basically a, some sort of a funny sort of a guilt that is built in us. Or sometimes it is the superego, some sort of a possession, you start analyzing and just murdering yourself morning till evening. “I should not have said this” “Why did I do it?", “I should not have gone there” “I should not." May be it is [UNCLEAR] could be anything. Jews also go and weep and they go on repenting things and when you have repented, finished. If you have repented then it is finished. Why are you go on, still carrying on with the guilt within you? And this left-sided is too much.

So much so that My hand gets really paralyzed with the vibrations flowing all the time, this left side. That's why I say, you go on saying one mantra. `I am not guilty,' `I am not guilty,' `I am not guilty.' You go on suggesting to yourself that you are not guilty. All the time sitting down and analyzing yourself. And also the society is like this, from the very beginning we are told, you should not have done this, you should have done this, this is you should not have done, this carpet is spoilt, that is spoilt.

So the whole thing builds like a guilt. For nothing at all you are guilty, I mean it's such a fake stuff. And you believe in that and the Gurus play on it. They say these are your Karmas, still you are doomed.

So on the left Viśhuddhi you have this guilt business and on the right Viśhuddhi you are extremely talkative and you are [UNCLEAR]. Such people can be great orators, they can shout at the top of their voices, they can control people with their oratory. The right side is [UNCLEAR] kind of an action [UNCLEAR]. There's so many things one has to say about [UNCLEAR] and all that but let it be, we'll not complicate it.

So now this is how you develop the complications on the left and the right. When the center is upset, then you take the responsibility of everything on yourself. You are running like a mad horse. You are like a Guru, I should say. And you do all the [UNCLEAR] job and you think, oh you are such a nice man, in your heart. [UNCLEAR] I'll get it, I'll do it. You take the responsibility of the whole world upon your head and you start saying, “Oh I feel so bad that I could not help in Vietnam." You cannot help, how are you connected? “It's so bad in Cambodia. I should have done something." You cannot do it. By just sitting in Australia, you look after Australian problems, Sydney problems, family problems and your own problems. Start it from there. Charity begins at home. People always try to see the problems of another. [UNCLEAR] why there's poverty in India? Very seriously they ask Me the question. I said who is responsible for our poverty is. Why don't you think of your own problems. When I am in Australia out and out. When I am in India, I am in India out and out. [UNCLEAR]. That's how you should be also. You need to face your problems, what are your problems? These are the problems, that you feel guilty for nothing at all, being conditioned like that. And then if you get out of the guilt, you become egoistical. You say, “I hate you" and when you quarrel, bap re, you really bark. There's no softness [UNCLEAR], such a horrible voice starts coming that I know [UNCLEAR] Australians fighting.

When you take to drinking, you go to the other [UNCLEAR]. I mean, when we were coming to Australia, they were blaming. They were drinking so much and talking so much after that, nobody could sleep even for a minute. And so loudly they were talking that I was thinking even fish market in Bombay [Mumbai] is better than that. And they had lost all capacity to understand that there are people who want to sleep and they are talking so loudly that like a there was a mouth piece near their lips, the way they were on and on and on, all of them talking very loudly. [UNCLEAR] in a meeting, you talk, all right. But the other one doesn't listen to you, you don't listen to him. You go on talk talk talk talk talk, very fast. You just don't know what they are talking, what you are talking. They say, “Yes, yes, yes." You nod your head and he nods his head and you don't know what they are talking, what they are saying and then you [UNCLEAR]. Then you go, you announce such and such, come along, shake hands, all right. [UNCLEAR]. What is the need? [UNCLEAR]. There's no rapport, there's no understanding and if there is it is flirting, that's all, which is another, as I told you, is nothing but the play of the spirits through your eyes. That's why Christ had [UNCLEAR], He said, “Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes." Thou shalt not have adulterous eyes. Any Christian who has adulterous eyes should know that first step to Christianity is not [UNCLEAR]. He said it so clearly.

So very clearly, emphatically he told to you, to understand that your eyes are very important and they have to be pure. They have to be honest and pure eyes.

I like the way people in Australia like My honesty of telling them [UNCLEAR] that is honest. It's so sweet of you because some things can be quite hard. To believe and to take it, though I speak softly about them, I am very clever to put it through. But the way you see it, because perhaps you see that honesty in Me. I am not here to please you or to displease you, but to tell you the truth in such a way that you will not get a shock and you start absorbing it. Because that is what you are asking for.

So at this stage the awareness becomes collectively conscious, started becoming collectively conscious.

This is the [UNCLEAR living work]. But now the incoming, the advent of Christ was specially important.

Thousands of years back it was [UNCLEAR]. It was created with three, [UNCLEAR Praṇava], the Omkāra, logos as we call it. The sound that is the complete energy, Omkar, as you can say, the word, you can say, the word. He is that energy embodied, because He had to prove that the spirit is eternal. He was the spirit. At all these centers He is there. These vibrations are nothing but a emission or manifestation of His being.

So He cannot be killed, because He is spirit. He cannot be dead, He cannot be destroyed.

Because He's just the energy of spirit. That was the embodiment of Christ, that He was brought on this earth and He was crucified suggestive of this gate here He had to penetrate. This very important gate here, which is the Āgñyā Chakra which He had to penetrate. By penetrating this, He created a space in the ego and the superego. This space is the space where they say that Christ is the one who has taken the sins of the human beings. He is the light of the sacrifice. In the olden periods they used to sacrifice [UNCLEAR]. If you have done anything bad, you take a lamb and sacrifice it at the altar of the cross.

Those who do not know about Christ are still doing it. And those who know about Christ also sacrifice [UNCLEAR].

So the Karma theory finishes off at the point where Christ came in. Because He is the one who is capable of sucking your ego and superego, both. On one side He sucks your ego, on the other side sucks your superego. He is the one who drove the spirits into the pits and the pits were dragged into the sea.

I mean He did so many such things, but because of these disciples it is not depicted fully. But He so clearly showed that there are spirits and you have nothing to do with the dead but the Christians, who call themselves Christians are just anti Christ [UNCLEAR]. They'll have all the dead bodies in the church and sitting on the layers of dead bodies, all the spirits hovering around, your children are attacked and your are attacked. I am not against the church. Church if it is for the realised Souls is a very [UNCLEAR good] thing. There is no [UNCLEAR quality] in a church where they do not have Christ in there. Christ is the spirit. If the church tries hard to be reborn then it is a church. Otherwise the rest of the things are just lip services.

Now another thing, all the Christians, all the Christian nations are very much interested in all kinds of these dead things and clairvoyances. Oh I am told that there are clairvoyances, they are very [UNCLEAR big], flourishing people. It is very dangerous to go near them. Cancer, blood cancer, epilepsy, heart attacks, accidents, financial
